FORM OF GOVERNMENT—1981

Dear City Clerk:

The International City Management Association (ICMA) is currently updating its files of information on the characteristics of local governments throughout the country. I am writing to ask that you help us in assuring the success of this project by supplying the data needed for your government. Your cooperation will enable us to develop a data base on the current structure of local government, election procedures, and characteristics of mayors and council members, including terms and salaries.

The results of similar surveys, conducted in 1971, 1974, and 1977, were widely distributed to local officials, federal and state governments, public interest groups, and others interested in municipal management. This year's survey will contribute to our efforts to develop a time series study of local government structure and organization. The data will be published in the Urban Data Service Reports and the Municipal Year Book. All respondents will receive a synopsis of the survey results.

Will you please, therefore, complete the enclosed questionnaire and return it to ICMA at your earliest convenience? An addressed envelope, which requires no postage, is enclosed. If you have any questions concerning the form, you may call Ross Hoff at (202) 828-3645.

Your assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Mark E. Keane
Executive Director
1. Please indicate which of the following best describes your current legal form of government, as defined by your charter or ordinance. (Please read the definitions first and check only one form.)

- □ 1. An elected council or board (e.g., Council Members, Aldermen, Commissioners, Freeholders, Selectmen, etc.) serves as the legislative body; a separately elected head of government (e.g., mayor, president, chairman, etc.) has powers which may range from ceremonial duties to full-scale authority for the daily operation of the government—popularly known as the mayor-council form.
- □ 2. A legislative council or body (e.g., Council Members, Aldermen, Commissioners, Freeholders, Selectmen, etc.) is responsible for making policy; the mayor is a member of council and is recognized as the community’s political leader; the administration of the municipality is the responsibility of a chief administrator or manager appointed by the council—popularly known as the council-manager form.
- □ 3. A board of elected commissioners serves as the legislative body; individually, each commissioner heads one or more administrative department—popularly known as the commission form.
- □ 4. Qualified voters convene at an annual (or more if necessary) meeting to make basic policy and choose a board of selectmen; the selectmen and elected officers carry out the policies established by the community—popularly known as the town meeting form.
- □ 5. The voters select a large number of citizens to represent them at the town meeting; all citizens may attend meetings and participate in debates, but only representatives may vote—popularly known as the representative town meeting form.
