About the program
The BA/MA program allows selected undergraduate students from Johns Hopkins University, Columbia College and Barnard College to follow an intensive joint program in Public and International Affairs. Students generally apply to the BA/MA program during the second semester of their sophomore year. Selected students spend their junior year at JHU/CU/Barnard. During their senior year, students remain enrolled at JHU/CU/Barnard but study as Sciences Po Master's students. During their second year at Sciences Po, students are not enrolled at JHU/CU/Barnard anymore but continue working towards their Master's degree at Sciences Po. Upon completion of this joint program, students obtain both the Bachelor's Degree in Arts and Sciences awarded by JHU/CU/Barnard and the Master's Degree awarded by Sciences Po.
