

Columbia Chemistry Careers Committee

Ice Cream Social for 1st Year Students

The Columbia Chemistry Careers Committee (C4) is a student and post doc-run group dedicated to taking an active role in increasing awareness of career choices for Ph.D.s and preparing scientists to make informed career decisions. C4 events are meant to complement the traditional recruiting structure. Although C4 started in the Chemistry Department, most events are aimed at graduate students in all of the Physical Sciences.

Join us for Ice Cream Sundays with all the toppings and find out how C₄ can help you learn about your career choices.
