

Columbia Chemistry Careers Committee

---

Medicinal Chemistry at Boehringer-Ingelheim

Dr. John Huber

Dr. Huber received his bachelor's degree in 2000 from Swarthmore College with a major in chemistry and a minor in sociology. He then began work at Merck Research Laboratories in Rahway, NJ as an associate chemist in the Medicinal Chemistry Department. Dr. Huber left Merck in 2002 to pursue his Ph. D. studies at Columbia University working in the lab of Professor James Leighton. Since graduating from Columbia in 2007 Dr. Huber has been a Senior Scientist in the Medicinal Chemistry Department at Boehringer-Ingelheim (BI) Pharmaceuticals in Danbury, CT. At BI he has worked on programs in heart failure, rheumatoid arthritis, and chronic kidney disease.

Monday, January 18th, 2010

4:00pm, 711 Havemeyer

Refreshments will be served.

For more information, please visit the web site at <http://www.columbia.edu/cu/chemistry/c4>