

Russian and East Asian Institutes; and M.A., Russian language, Middlebury College Russian School.

We also want to congratulate Esmira Jafarova (Harriman Institute Visiting Scholar, 2014), on the publication of her book Conflict Resolution in South Caucasus: Challenges to International Efforts (Lexington Books, 2014), which she completed during her time at the Harriman Institute. Jafarova holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Vienna and an M.A. from the Central European University (Budapest). She has held diplomatic positions at the Permanent Missions of Azerbaijan to the OSCE (Vienna) and to the United Nations (New York).

Giving to Harriman

The Harriman Institute relies on the generosity of individuals like you who share a belief in our core mission to promote the study of Russia, Eurasia, and Eastern Europe in this ever more globalized era, and to train specialists who bring in-depth regional knowledge and understanding to a wide variety of career and life paths.
