Abel Sierra is an essayist, researcher and professor. He holds a PhD in Historical Sciences from the University of Havana. His work focuses on gender, sexuality and processes of nation-building. He is the author of Del otro lado del espejo. La sexualidad en la construcción de la nación cubana (The other side of the mirror. Sexuality in the construction of the Cuban nation) which was awarded the “Casa de las Americas” international prize in 2006.