Resolution to Create Student Senate Direct Constituencies

Proposed: October 5, 2009

Proponent: Andrew McCormick
Kahlil Williams

Whereas the Student Senate has a deep responsibility to the student body, and the execution of that responsibility is best facilitated through quality communication,

The Senate’s position as an advocate is strengthened if it is seen as representing the entire student body, and

Constituency issues have repeatedly been helpful in the development of a cohesive and positive vision for the law school,

Resolved by the Columbia Law School Student Senate, that the student body shall be apportioned among all senators as individual constituents. Senators shall be responsible for reporting issues arising to the Senate, and providing constituents with emails outlining the Senate’s activities with reasonable expediency after each general Senate meeting.

This resolution expires at the end of the 2009-10 academic year.
