DESCRIPTION: The correspondence and manuscripts of Frederick Augustus Porter Barnard, 1809-1889, span his adult life from 1831 to 1889. The majority of the correspondence covers his positions as President of the University of Mississippi, 1856-1858, Chancellor of that institution, 1858-1861, and President of Columbia College, 1864-1889. Addressees prominent among Barnard's outgoing letters include Edward Claudius Herrick, Eugene and Julius Hilgard, and Simon Newcomb. The letters to the Hilgards, many of which are photostatic copies, deã with the University of Mississippi. There are several letters each to Barnard from: Alexander Dallas Bach, William Cullen Bryant, Howard Crosby, James D. Dana, Morgan Dix, Hugh McCulloch, John Greenleaf Whittier, and Theodore Dwight Woolsey. This collection also contains 5 volumes of Barnard's manuscript sermons, 2 volumes of miscellaneous addresses and speeches, and a manuscript volume of his autobiographical reminiscences with letters bound in, some originals, some typescript copies. There is also a photo album of the University of Mississippi Class of 1861, including several campus views. This collection is far from complete. Barnard letters and documents will be found in many other Columbia related collections such as Hamilton Fish, Gouverneur Morris Ogden and especially the Columbia College Papers.
