DESCRIPTION: Correspondence, poetry manuscripts, diaries, notebooks, addressbooks, documents, photographs, and scrapbooks of clippings of Eugene Barry, 1843-ca.1928, a poet and leather manufacturer of Lynn, Massachusetts. The correspondence concerns his published poetry, the leather tanning business, and family affairs. The diaries reflect his active business life and travels from 1864 until 1926. There are photographs of members of the Barry, Clark, Wyman, and other related families, friends, and actresses. The four scrapbooks contain clippings of poetry, obituaries, local news of Lynn, MA, World War I, and other subjects. Among the correspondents are: Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Henry Cabot Lodge, Ellen Louise Chandler Moulton, Booker T. Washington, and John Greenleaf Whittier.

For list of collection, see other side.
