DESCRIPTION: Letters (personal; business; legal), manuscripts (prose, poetry; diaries) and documents (deeds; receipts; invoices; account books) of two important New England families whose British ancestors settled in Massachusetts during the second quarter of the seventeenth century (John Gay, a founder of Dedham, Mass., 1635 and John Otis, a founder of Hingham, Mass., 1636). The eighteenth century materials focuses on the personal and business correspondence of Calvin, Jotham and Martin Gay (sons of Rev. Ebenezer Gay, 1696-1787) who were engaged in shipping between New England and the Maritime Provinces. There are occasional letters of Jotham and Martin referring to the American Revolution. The Otis family correspondence of this century, likewise, is of a purely routine and personal nature. For example, there are only four letters of Col. James Otis (1702-1778) and only two of his son, James, the patriot, (1725-1783). Gay and Otis family interests intertwine during the nineteenth century due to the marriage of Mary Allyne Otis to Ebenezer Gay (1771-1842), who are among the chief correspondents of this century, along with their children including Sidney Howard Gay, the journalist and author, and Winckworth Allan Gay, the landscape painter. The Otis correspondence centers around the business, real estate and personal interests of Mary A. Otis Gay's brothers: John, Joseph and William Otis.
