DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence, manuscripts, documents, memorabilia and scrapbooks of American author Charles Yale Harrison, 1898-1954. Correspondence covers a wide range from personal, family, literary and fan mail to political issues and public housing. Among the correspondents are Whittaker Chambers, Clarence Darrow, Ruby Darrow, John Dos Passos, Max Eastman, Joseph Freeman, Michael Gold, Upton Sinclair and Robert F. Wagner. There are manuscript versions for many of his novels and stories, some of which are unpublished. The memorabilia include tapes and recordings of Harrison's interviews and readings of his works. Scrapbooks consist primarily of newspaper clippings relating to his books, public housing, labor relations and socialism. There are also copies of some of his books in various editions and translations. See verso for folder list.
