DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence, manuscripts, notes, memoranda, teaching materials and printed materials of Albert Gailord Hart, 1909- , professor of economics at Columbia University since 1946 and a consultant at the U.N. and other organizations.

There are files of correspondence and papers of other economists and of his students, his research papers and professional publications, a group of published and unpublished papers dealing with the "Graham Plan" (Benjamin Graham, a securities analyst) for basing a monetary standard on a "basket" of primary commodities, and also the research notes of his work for the U.N. on Central America and tax reforms in Chile.

Among the correspondents are: Milton Friedman, J.K. Galbraith, Albert Bushnell Hart, J.M. Keynes, David Rockefeller, and F.W. Taussig.

HR - 9/82

rev ND - 7/86

See other side for the arrangement of the collection

See attached list of the collection

The teaching materials are accompanied by notes by Hart that describe the papers and relate them to the events of his life and thinking. The section headings in these notes correspond to the major divisions of the teaching materials.
