DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence, manuscripts, and subject files of George Braxton Pegram(1876-1958), Professor of Physics and Dean of Graduate Faculties at Columbia University. Pegram, a prominent nuclear physicist, conducted a great deal of defense-related research and was responsible for the famous meeting between Franklin Delano Roosevelt and American nuclear scientists prior to World War II that eventually led to the establishment of the Manhattan Project. Materials on most aspects of Pegram's career are contained in this collection. In addition, a large quantity of research notes made by Lucy J. Hayner(1898-1971), Professor Emeritus of Physics at Columbia, who was writing a history of Columbia's Physics Department, 1905-1954, can be found in folders throughout the collection.
