Gift of Robbin Reynolds, 1988

This is a group of 181 cataloged letters, documents, and a manuscript, together with approximately 1,000 carbons and other related letters, about P.G. Wodehouse and his relationship with the Paul Reynolds and Son literary agency. Paul Reynolds handled serial rights and short stories for Wodehouse in the United States, as well as being a personal friend and advisor. These files begin in 1926 and run until the elder Reynolds' death in 1944. After World War II, all of Wodehouse's agency business was handled by A.P. Watt and Co. in London.

The correspondence deals with Reynold's handling of various rights, permissions, and personal finances. After 1932, Reynolds advised and helped with the increasingly complex tax problems of P.G. Wodehouse which were not resolved until 1948. Wodehouse, a resident of France, was interned by the invading German forces in 1940. Reynolds dealt with his blocked funds in this country, communications between wartime England and Germany, and the bad public reaction to Wodehouse's radio broadcasts from Germany. After the death of Paul R. Reynolds, Sr. in 1944, the agency had little business with Wodehouse. The files end in 1956.

There are also 35 cataloged letters from other Reynolds clients: Frances Hodgson Burnett, Willa Cather, Sir Winston Churchill, Havelock Ellis and his wife Edith Mary Oldham Lees Ellis, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, Joel Chandler Harris, Jack London, Edgar Lee Masters, Conrad Richter, Upton Sinclair, Lincoln Steffens, and Harry K. Thaw.
