Correspondence, legal papers, and letterbooks of Edward Morse Shepard (1850-1911), a New York lawyer and a prominent reform Democrat from Brooklyn. The correspondence, which comprises the largest part of the collection, is rich in information about New York politics and social activities at the turn of the century. Letters for 1887, 1888, 1892, 1893, 1896, and 1900, however, are missing. The letterbooks cover the years 1890-1911, but some have been so severely damaged by water that they are largely illegible and must be handled with care. The collection also contains some legal papers, drafts of speeches, clippings, and memorabilia. Correspondents with Shepard include Felix Adler, Thomas Willing Balch, Frederic Bancroft, Bernard Baruch, Richard Rogers Bowker, William Jennings Bryan, Alfred Clark Chapin, Grover Cleveland, Hamlin Garland, Richard Watson Gilder, Edward Everett Hale, Fletcher Harper, Abram S. Hewitt, Charles Evans Hughes, John La Farge, Henry Cabot Lodge, Josephine Shaw Lowell, Hamilton Mabie, Walter H. Page, Alton B. Parker, George Foster Peabody, Bliss Perry, Joseph Pulitzer, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Franklin D. Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Carl Schurz, Kate Nichols Trask, Oswald Garrison Villard, and Booker T. Washington.
