DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence of William J. Wilgus with officials of various railroads in the United States and Canada regarding a study undertaken by Dr. Wilgus at the instance of Dr. James T. Shotwell and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The study was of "the railway interrelations of the United States and Canada with a view to setting forth the extent to which they play a part in the unity and well-being of the two nations." Beside this correspondence the collection includes various statistical and other reports submitted to Dr. Wilgus, correspondence with Dr. Shotwell and others, notes taken while working on the project and galley and page proof of the published work Railway Interrelations of the United States and Canada by William J. Wilgus. New Haven, Yale University Press, 1937
