Papers of Pavel P. Mendeleev (1863-1951), consisting of correspondence, manuscripts, documents, subject files, photographs, and printed materials. Mendeleev's government career included service in the Ministry of Justice, the Imperial Chancery, and the Council of Ministers; in 1904-06 he was a close associate of Sergei Witte. He was subsequently a member of the State Council and Marshal of the Tver' nobility. In the emigration he lived in France, was president of the Union of the Russian Nobility (Soluz Russkikh Dvorian), and representative of the Prague Russian Archive. Correspondence in the collection includes 1 item from Ivan Bunin, 2 from Vladimir Davydov, and many from G.A. Alekseev. Mendeleev's extensive memoirs, "Svet i teni v moei zhizni," discuss his childhood and youth, government service, World War I, the 1917 Revolution and the Civil War, and life in the emigration up to 1933. Subject files in this collection concern the Prague Russian Archive, the Union of the Russian Nobility, Vladimir Davydov, the Russian Imperial family in the emigration, and other topics. Printed materials include an almost complete set of the weekly Parizhskii Vestnik (1942-44).
