DESCRIPTION:

Papers of Semen K. Sazhin (1886- ). The collection consists primarily of Sazhin's manuscripts, though there is also a brief curriculum vitae and a photograph of Sazhin and his wife. Sazhin, who was a medical doctor, wrote on a number of medical issues as well as on the medical profession in Russia. There are also essays dealing with his service as a military doctor during the Civil War and with his arrest and imprisonment in China in the 1950s. Convicted of anti-Soviet agitation in 1954, Sazhin spent seven years as a prison doctor, and emigrated to Australia in 1961.
