DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence, manuscripts, documents, printed material and photographs of Andrew Wellington Cordier, 1901-1975, President of Columbia University, Dean of the Columbia University School of International Affairs, and Executive Assistant to the Secretaries-General of the United Nations, 1946-1962. The papers cover three periods of Cordier's life: The early years, especially undergraduate and graduate school, as a professor at Manchester College in Indiana, and as a member of the U.S. State Department; the United Nations period, as a member of the Secretariat, and including the files of the Dag Hammarskjöld Foundation and working files for the publication of The Public Papers of the Secretaries-General of the United Nations; and the Columbia University period, containing Cordier's personal and working files during the time of his deanship and presidency. (Certain University related files are kept elsewhere in the University; see lists, Box 330) Among the prominent correspondents are Dag Hammarskjöld, Trygve Lie, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Chester W. Mimitz, Lester B. Pearson, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Carlos P. Romulo, Eleanor Roosevelt, Adlai E. Stevenson and Harry S. Truman.

CORDIER COLLECTION

Explanation of Restrictions

During March 1991, the status of all materials which had previously been closed to the public was reviewed with respect to the declassification policies outlined in the two attached letters from U.N. Chief Archivist Alf Erlandsson. Under these guidelines, code cables, items captioned "Top Secret" or "Strictly Confidential" and certain personal records remain closed.

In most cases, materials for which restrictions remain in force have been removed from the regular collection and placed in specially marked boxes at the end of the series. The only exception to this practice involves boxes which contain restricted materials exclusively. These have been sealed with red string and left in sequence with the rest of the collection.

On the boxlist, those subject folders from which restricted materials have been removed are marked with an asterisk. In addition, dummies have been placed in those folders explaining the nature and quantity of the restricted materials removed. Sealed boxes (containing only restricted materials) are indicated with a number sign.

-D Still in effect 8/13/93 acc. to Maril Gynth, UN
archivist

RESTRICTED MATERIALS ARE RESTRICTED INDEFINITELY

~~Note: Most of the items in Boxes 39 - 202 have been microfilmed by the United Nations. The UN has also placed restrictions on much of the material. The restrictions are of two types: 1) the UN's standard restriction on material less than twenty years old (files marked * on list) and 2) special restrictions on material which the Secretary General deems sensitive (marked  on list.) These latter restrictions will be reviewed by the UN in 1982 for possible opening.~~

~~20-YEAR RESTRICTION LIFTED, AUGUST 1983~~

Open files from otherwise restricted boxes will be found in unnumbered boxes at the end of the collection, in order of original box number. Similarly, restricted files from otherwise unrestricted boxes have been removed and placed at the end of the collection until they become open. (Boxes which are entirely restricted have been left in place in the collection and identified as closed.)

The arrangement and list of the material in Boxes 39 - 202 is adapted from the work done on the files in Cordier's office.

(1) Note: These files contain texts where available. However as many talks were given extemporaneously there is often no record on file. This does not mean that a transcript does not exist somewhere. (2) Unless otherwise specified the quotes in the following list indicate the topic of Mr. Cordier's talk. (3) In preparing this list I was not able to exhaustive research on each file so that there may be some gaps as to place, topic, etc. There may also be some errors as I did not proof read this list with anyone.
