PREFACE TO THE SIXTH EDITION.

To render this publication more interesting to the general reader, we have procured from various authentic sources, brief genealogical and historical or biographical notices of some of the more remarkable men and families in this community, into whose hands wealth has concentrated. We have endeavored to do equal and exact justice to the parties, and have deemed that we have been rendering an especial service to those, more particularly, who by honest and laborious industry have raised themselves from the obscure and humble walks of life, to great wealth and consideration. If there be, by any possibility, any erroneous statements, we pledge ourselves to correct them in our next edition. Our aim has been to wound the feelings of no one, but to do strict justice to all, and to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth. This edition has been carefully revised, and almost every biographical notice entirely re-written so as to remove whatever errors and objectionable remarks had crept into the former editions. It has been found necessary to exclude several names, while new names to the amount of nearly one-third the whole number in the book have been added to this edition. There has been added also a large quantity of interesting biographical and historical matter, as derived from the consultation of books and living authorities; so that the work may now be regarded as complete and accurate as its nature and scope admits.

New York, January, 1845.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, By MOSES Y. BEACH, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the U S. for the Southern District of New York.
Abeel John H. $100,000

In partnership with Carrie A. Duncomb, constituting the firm of John H. Abeel & Co. iron merchants, one of the oldest houses in the city.

Adams John

300,000

Of Irish descent, who by industry and integrity as a merchant in the dry goods line, has acquired a respectable fortune, which he enjoys with the respect of all who know him. He is President of the Fulton Bank. He married a daughter of John Glover, deceased, some twenty years since, by whom he has received some property. See Mrs. Fisher.

Addison Thomas

150,000

A distinguished pencil-case maker; a pioneer in this, and made his money by industry. The present ever-pointed pencil-case was first made by him, and owes its form to his ingenuity.

Adee George

Son of William below, and a partner of the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co.

Adee William

200,000

An auctioneer, and formerly senior partner in the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co. From Westchester Co. Began life as a dry goods merchant, and has received from business. A very worthy man who has made all his money by active industry, and the most honorable and upright course in business.

Ansel Robert

100,000

Formerly a merchant, and worth this sum by his wife, a daughter of Robert Lennox, deceased.

Akerley S. Dr.

150,000

Formerly an eminent Physician, who distinguished himself when the yellow fever was raging. Now retired.

Allen Stephen

400,000

A man who without money, without family connections, and without education, has made his way to independence in fortune, and to high public stations. He began life as a poor tailor boy, afterwards was a sail maker, and finally kept one of the largest sail-roads in the city. In his business he was industrious, scrupulously exact, and rigid in justice. By his reputation for integrity, he procured large successions to his business. He was made Mayor of the city in 1821, and re-elected for two successive years, and afterwads a Senator of the State, and a State Commissioner of the Croton Water Works, in which capacity his powerful influence did much to forward the success of this great enterprise. Mr. Allen is an energetic and decided man, always adopting a policy of his own, and carrying it out with great self-reliance. He is just, but not generous; and in mind and manner pride and unpolish. At the time of difficulty in the New York Life Insurance and Trust Co., he was made the President.

Alley Saul

250,000

The intimate friend of S. Allen and the two consult each other on every matter of interest to each. He was born in Providence, R. I., where he learnt the trade of cabinet maker, and subsequently c.r.r. on the business at Charleston, S. C., where he failed through the sole fault of his partner. Mr. Alley came to this city and undertook a commission business in cotton and domestic goods. His creditors at Charleston having confidence in him were his first patrons, and among them Mordecai Cohen, a rich Jew, entifew years he paid his creditors, and by business tact, integrity, and industry, has amassed his wealth. He retired from business several years since. Mr. Alley is an example of a man of strong mind pushing his way through the world without the benefits of education and under many difficulties.

Alstyne John

200,000

Of the firm of Alstyn & Dykers, rich brokers in Wall street.

Ames Barret

100,000

Formerly of the firm of Ames & Witherell, iron-dealers. A new England man—made all his money and retired from business. He was in business at the South.

Amos

Estate of 200,000

Andariese Burnet

100,000

An excellent Tailor and a very amiable man.

Anderson Abel T.

200,000

A respectable lawyer, who inherited most of his property from his father, who acquired his fortune in the manufacture of boots and shoes.

Anderson Henry J.

100,000

The respected Professor of Mathematics in Columbia College.

Andrew Henry

100,000

Native of Scotland, made his fortune in the Carpet trade, was prominent in the Whig ranks, and sent to the Assembly of this state some years since; a very good citizen.

Anthon Charles

100,000

A brother of John, and professor of Latin language and literature in Columbia College. Mr. Anthon has published many works; the one most widely known is Anthon's Classical Dictionary. Mr. Anthon has a popular reputation as a scholar, and is a most learned man. In his Classical Dictionary, and other works, he has been charged with having made too free use of the labors of others.

Anthon John

300,000

His father was a very respectable and learned physician of this city, and born of German parents. The sons of Dr. Anthon have distinguished themselves; John as a lawyer, Henry as a divine, and Charles as a scholar, and professor of the Latin language and literature in Columbia College. They all received something from their father, but John by the adoption of a more lucrative profession, and especially by his marriage with the daughter of a rich auctioneer, John now possesses much the largest fortune.

Appleton Daniel

100,000

Of the firm of D. Appleton & Co., bookellers and publishers.

Appley Leonard

100,000

Arcarius George

300,000

Born of German parents, and, with his brother Phillip, obtained his wealth as a baker, in which business he has been famous for many years, and in which he still continues. He is a man much respectable for his unassuming good qualities. Gen. Henry A. late Commissary General of the state, is one of his sons.

Arnold Alon

250,000

An Englishman who brought money with him from England, and has been in the retail dry goods business in Canal street, and now in partnership with his son-in-law constable, an Englishman also.
Astor John Jacob

John Jacob Astor is classed, by those who know him, as not only the richest, but also one of the truest and most excellent of the great men of the world. The talent which, in another age, and in another state of society, was exercised in the art of war, is now to a great extent employed in the peaceful occupations of the counting-room. War has been a great field for the development of great talents. But commerce affords scope for the exercise of those great talents which the most gigantic genius, and the most soaring ambition may expend themselves in unlimited conquests.

In this department of human action Astor has displayed a great mind. Like the common seagoing passenger—a poor uneducated boy—a stranger to the language and the people—he has by the sole aid of his own industry, accumulated a fortune scarcely second to that of any individual on the globe, and has executed projects that have become identified with the history of his country, and which will be perpetuated in future ages. He was born in July, 1763, in the village of Waldorp, near Heidelberg, in the Duchy of Baden, Germany. His father was a very worthy man and held the office of bailiff. At the age of eighteen young Astor, on the death of his father, was compelled to give up his profession and go to sea. In March, 1781, he landed at Baltimore, a seagoing passenger, having sailed from London in November, and been detained by the ice three months. On his voyage to America he was detained by the British, and eventually released.

Astor has made a donation of $350,000 for a library establishment, in the city of New York, and a beautiful seat of Mr. Astor, Svansea, is to be erected in the fields in which his ancestors resided, and where they cultivated eminently the arts of peace, and produced much capital, and a vast revenue from their farms.

Astor possesses a large tract of land in the state of New York, from which he has purchased the property in which the city of New York now stands, for the sum of $300,000, and he has invested the small profit of $36,000, which he received from the purchase of the property, in the nation. He has made a donation of $3,500,000 for a library establishment, in the city of New York, and a beautiful seat of Mr. Astor, Svansea, is to be erected in the fields in which his ancestors resided, and where they cultivated eminently the arts of peace, and produced much capital, and a vast revenue from their farms.

The proprietor of the American Museum, and guardian of the celebrated Tom Thumb, was born in Danbury, Ct., where he was, at one time engaged as a lottery dealer, and, afterwards a draper and provisioner. He married the daughter of John Bard, and acquired all his property by industry and frugality. He received, no doubt, an accession to his fortune from his deceased uncle, Henry Bard, March 1st, 1788, and married a lady who kept a Boarding School for Girls. He has given him the Astor House, it has increased to this extraordinary amount.

Beach, M. Y.
- 250,000

Moses Yale Beach was born in Wallingford, Conn., a companion on his mother's side of Elihu Yale, Esq., founder of Yale College, and for many years Governor of the East India Company. At an early age he was apprenticed to the Gilmour building business, in Hartford, Connecticut, where, by over work, and working nights, managed to save, by the time he bad attained his eighteenth year, $400, with which he purchased his employer the remainder of his time, and commenced business on his own account in Massachusetts, after he got married and had since passed through the rough and varied scenes of a business life. On the commencement of the War of 1812, he purchased Mr. William Pierce, being one-half paying for the experiment $800. As soon as he found this to be a safe and permanent business, he bought out his partner, for which he paid $10,000. From this point, his star, or rather path, has been steadily in the ascendant, and now we find him the publisher of the most extensively circulated newspaper upon the globe, the principalstockholder in the New York Herald, and the principal proprietor of the New York Times.

Amount received from his uncle did not exceed half his property.

-Astor Wm. B.- 5,000,000

The son of John Jacob, and holding a power of attorney for the transaction of all his father's business, and exercising generally a superintendence over that immense property of which he undoubtedly expects to be the principal heir. Yet Wm. B. has received much of his property from his deceased uncle, Henry Astor, long celebrated as a butcher in the Bowery, in which business he accumulated his wealth. The amount received from his uncle did not exceed half a million, yet by fortunate investments, chiefly in real estate and mortgages from his fortune, he has given him the Astor House, it has increased to this extraordinary amount.

Austen David
- 400,000

A native of Germany, and agent of the Rothschilds, and a distinguished auctioneer, who made money at a time when auctioneers reaped their $50,000 a year profit. In marriage with a sister of John Bard, he received no dowry, and ascended to his fortune. Carmen Richard F.    . 250,000

Began life as a poor boy, making packing boxes for merchants, and laboring 'until ten or eleven o'clock every night. He commenced as a carpenter and builder, in which, by means of his untiring industry, integrity, and talent, he amassed means and reputation sufficient to enable him to make large contracts. In 1836, for rebuilding the "burnt district." At the time of taking his contracts, wages and materials were high, but long before the completion of his work, the price of labor and materials had depreciated to such an extent, that he realized an immense profit. He has continued building, and has invested his proceeds in real estate, the value of which has greatly risen since his purchase. He has a beautiful seat at Fort Washington, in the upper part of the island, where he resides in the summer. He is now building a village or two miles in the vicinity of Fort Washington, named Carmainville. In 1849 Alderman Carmain was elected by the assizes of the fourteenth ward, and held his seat for one year. Mr. Car- man is one of those strong-minded men, for whom nature has done more than education, and is, moreover, a very liberal and excellent man. No man is more respected.
Cousins Francis (estate of his daughters) 200,000

A gentleman, every inch of him—and but few such specimens of a highly educated merchant. Resided a long while in Paris, where he was held in great consideration both among his countrymen and the elite of French society, for his fine taste, classical acquirements, polished manners, and ready wit. He is Yankee born, of great respectability, and after many ups and downs of life, and locating himself with his accomplished second wife at New York, his two beautiful daughters, just grown and wise, have come into the above inheritance, through death of a maternal great uncle.

Clinton Mrs. H. (widow of Geo.) 100,000

Mrs. Hannah Clinton, daughter of Walter Franklin, Esq., an eminent Quaker merchant of this city, from L. Island. Her husband was nephew to Vice President Geo. Clinton, and brother of the great Governor, Dewitt Clinton—" Satis est" for Clinton a household name—but the rich Franklin brothers, merchants of New-York, deserve a monument for the noble way in which they through instruction with the Tory authority and Hessian troops, were enabled generously to dispose their wealth to their poor miserable, sufferer countrymen, the American prisoners confined in the Sugar House, Provost, &c. during the American Revolution. Mrs. Hannah C. is a sister also below. Dewitt Clinton's first wife, descended of the Bowens, by whom alone Gov. D. C. had issue.

Clinton Charles A. (Estate of his wife) 100,000

This oldest son of the ever to be lamented and never to be forgotten Governor Dewitt Clinton, every way worthy of that illustrious man, is happily placed beyond the reach of the pecuniary distress which that father heroically succumbed to for the sake of enriching ungrateful millions with the benefits of the magnificent works of internal improvement which immortalize his name. The estate of Mrs. Charles A. Clinton comes through his marriage with a daughter of Jno. Hone.

Colby Oliver 100,000

Coddington Jonathan I. 100,000

A merchant, and late worthy Postmaster, and from the first, upheld his parentage on this continent, two centuries since, in the person of the famous Wm. Coddington, Esq., of England, first of Boston, then the founder and first governor of Rhode Island, (1638.) He was the first merchant of New England, built the first brick house in Boston, and at his house at Newport was held the first Quaker meeting. Jonathan is a liberal descendant of Mr. C. C. and is one of the distinguished merchant of our city, and like his great progenitor, he is a very worthy man, and was the democratic candidate for Mayor at the last election.

A son of John G. who has cost his father much money, and has acquired this sum in mercantile business in which he is now engaged, and by his wife, a daughter of the late Edward Prime, the founder of the house of Prime, Ward & King.

Coster John G. (estate of) - - - 700,000

Two brothers, John G. and Henry A., the former lately deceased, and the latter twenty years ago, are of a respectable family in Amsterdam, and began here as merchants soon after the revolution, and by honest industry amassed a great fortune. While Napoleon held Holland, they, through confidential correspondence were enabled to know him far to push the trade thither, and thus in return importations of gin found so rich a harvest, that their wealth rapidly accumulated from that hour. They were gentlemen born and of irreproachable integrity. The millions the two brothers amassed is nearly all melted away before it has barely got into the hands of their children.

Henry A. Coster left about $1,000,000, yet but little of it is lost. John G. met with heavy losses through the instrumentality of his children who were un­ catholic in business. John H., a son, and Mr. Berryman, a son-in-law, went into business as importers, and lost a large sum. Berryman and his wife are dead.

A Scotchman, of the firm of David Hadden & Son, importers of Irish Linen. Thomas Crowe is a silent partner of this firm.

Of Irish descent; began business in this city as a Jobber—afterwards became the richest Auctioneer in the city, with David Austen, under the firm of Hagerty & Austen. Afterwards Austen retired, and the firm became Hagerty & Sons, which continued the largest house in the city until the summer of 1844, when Mr. Hagerty, at an advanced age, retired, and the firm was dissolved; two sons, John A. and Wm., retiring also, and the younger, Ogden, entering also, and the younger, Ogden, entering
Harmon Phillip
A Commission Merchant.

Harmony Peter
1,500,000

Born in the West Indies, whither he has lately retired from business. His name is not unknown within this city, a poor cabin box, and eventually became largely engaged in the shipping business with several partners. The ship Varazho, said on the 30th of October, 1844, made him $90,000 in the voyage from Cape Horn. He has been largely interested in the trade between Cuba and Spain, and some of his ships to Africa. It has cost him not a little to make those, that have paid a profit equal to the difference in price between negroes in Africa and in Cuba.

Harper & Brothers
500,000

This firm consists of four brothers, James, the present mayor, John, Joseph W. and Fletcher. They are of a respectable family on Long Island, and coming to this city, learned the printer's trade. Jan. 1, 1804, under the firm of J. & J. Harper, after their time was out, commenced doing job work, and printing for publishers. The distinguished house of Collins, Keese & Co. (now Collins, Brothers), large publishers of school books, gave them employment. Getting out of work, they applied to the Collins for advice as to what book they should print. The Collins gave them advice, and they printed a work which was successful, followed up by another, for a rival book, until at length they became publishers, and finally their firm having been added, they enlarged their business under the firm of Harper & Brothers. They are now the most extensive publishers in this city, and their names in the history of literature, with the exception of those of Duff, Constable, Murray, and Longman. They have in different parts of America, from twelve to fifteen hundred booksellers and publishers, and through a large number of travelling clerks and itinerants. So extensive is their business connection that should they dispose of but one or two copies to each agency, they would be sure to dispose of, on an average, more than two copies to each house with which they deal. They have a correspondence established not only with every considerable place in this country, but with cities abroad, where books are published, informing them of every work worthy of publication. They have besides in this city, and in other parts of the United States, many literary men in the employment of receiving and pronouncing their opinion of manuscripts submitted for publication, to revise those that are imperfect, and to write notices of the most important newspapers and magazines which they have either directly or indirectly subsidized to their interest.

Hart David
250,000

A worthy Jew, who went from this city to New Orleans, where he had gained the confidence of his employers, that they entrusted him with the charge of their business, which soon enabled him to J. Harper, after his time was out, commence doing job work, and printing for publishers. The distinguished house of Collins, Keese & Co., (now Collins, Brothers), large publishers of school books, gave them employment. Getting out of work, they applied to the Collins for advice as to what book they should print. Janeway Estate 400,000
Jay Peter A. (estate of) - - - 700,000

The first Jay on the records appears to have been John Jay, the Jacobus Burvond, squatter in the suite of Geo. Fox, in his journey through America in 1672-3, and who, meeting with a dislocation of his neck, was marvellously cured by the aforesaid George Fox. John Jay lived with his head on to become the head of an illusory house.

Kellogg Edward - - - $100,000
Born in Litchfield Co., Ct., and began life a foot- path, being educated in the schools of atheism, and other Yankee notions. Being man of genius, it was not long before he became a dry-goods jobber in Pearl street, making $20,000 per annum nett profit. In 1837, at a time when by a legitimate business he had become worth half a million or more, he fell in consequence of heavy losses ($200,000 almost in a day), and his bankrupt customers, and by an extensive speculation in Elizabethport lots. He has, however, paid all his creditors, leaving a snug fortune for himself. He is the projector and mover of the Elizabethport speculation, owning a large part of the village. These were first laid out and bought by a company of stockholders who intended to build up a manufacturing village to rival Newark. Most of the stockholders failing to pay their installments, Kellogg took their shares and became the chief shareholder. These lots cost him from $200 to $400 an acre. Some added to his estate in 200 acres. Mr. Kellogg is an owner in the two steamboats plying between that place and this city, and has real estate here and in black countries where he resides. He is now again engaged in the dry goods jobbing business in Pearl st. Mr. Kellogg is no ordinary man, having in addition to his attention to a large business, acquired an education superior to many, who in early life have received what is falsely styled "a liberal education."

Kelly Eli - - - 100,000
Kelly William - - - 150,000
Kelly Robert - - - 150,000
Kennedy David S - - - 200,000
A highly respectable Scotch merchant, who obtained some addition to his fortune through his wife, the daughter of Robert Lenox.

Kent James - - - 100,000
One of the most marked men of the times, the profound and long the celebrated Chancellor of this State, and whose opinions and commentaries, nay, mere words, are like pure gold, and law for all those who wished to know what law is. What a gratifying picture of a well spent life is that of this universally beloved man in a green old age, enjoying the respect of friends, the delights of domestic society, the enjoyment of various vices and the happiness of that mantood which once seemed and should still adorn if not purify that bench, which would more deplore his loss than be the most important judicial station of that a son for whose shoulders it would seem the father designed his spot less mantle.

Kernit Robert 300,000

Of a very old and most respectable New York family.

Kernochan Joseph 420,000

Of a poor Irish family, who were employed as Colic teamsters &c., at some of the large iron works in the Highland Mountains, on the west side of the Hudson. Made his money in the southern trade as partner in the house of Parish & Co.

Kingsland D. 100,000

Attorney at law—inherited his fortune from his father, D. Kingsland, deceased, a well known ship carpenter.

Kingsland Daniel C. 200,000

Kingsland R. 300,000

One of the oldest and richest firms in the hardware line, and a man of great respectability and high standing in this community, a modest gentleman that has calmly pursued "the even tenor of his way" with the sprightliness of a young child, undiminished by the stream of time, every where beloved and honored. Such families as unhke are they to the fluttering, buzzing things of fashion, whose grided wings collapse with the first shower that dins their sunshine, "and there are no more."... failed in 1837, but C. W. and J. backed out before the ship sunk—but Richard was wrecked. Richard’s wife, daughter of Jacob Drake, has a snug fortune of $300,000. C. W. first married a rich sister of David M. Prall, is second, daughter of Dr. Hicks, who is now poor, living with his son-in-law, Dr. Cleasman. C. W. has been Mayor of the city, and, of the firm of Chamberlain. He has been a large speculator in Cotton, and has lost immense sums.

Lawrence D. L. - 200,000
Lawrence Henry H. - 100,000

Of a Long Island Quaker family, and with his brother Richard, which in the Dry Goods Jobbing business in Pearl street. Men of great worth.

Lawrence John E. (estate of) - 300,000

A model-man of the old school gentlemen merchants is he. Of a very ancient house, of an old New York family, and though inheriting a large estate from his father, he pursued business with the ardor of youth, and doubled and trebled his property in the drug line, as the head of that celebrated firm, Lawrence, Keese & Co. But few such as he and the late Gen. Matthew C. Morrison, and men of that high stamp and tone are now left. The halls of our public charities tell of their benevolent deeds and the hours they have stolen from busy life to devote to their duties to the poor and suffering, to relieve the widow and the orphan, and to wipe the tear of sorrow from misery’s pallid cheek.

Lawrence Joseph - 250,000

A brother of Cornelius W., and once a partner, now of the firm Lawrence, Trimble & Co., a large Commission house. He married a rich heiress, daughter of Ald. Thomas S. Townsend.

Mott Dr. Valentine 250,000
This distinguished Surgeon and Physician, is a descendant of Adam Mott, wha coming from England, and residing first at Hingham, Mass., became an inhabitant of Hempstead, L. I., 1683. Henry, the father of Valentine, was a Physician, and married the daughter of Samuel Way at North Hempstead. At an advanced age he moved to this city, where he died in 1755, being the only surviving son. Dr. Valentine was born at Glen Cove, L. I., Aug. 20, 1785. He was a student in the office of his relative, Dr. Valentine Seaman, and attended the medical lectures at Columbia College in 1840. In the spring of 1860 he went to London and became a pupil of Sir Astley Cooper, and for two years attending the hospitals, and the lectures of the oldest Olive-Athersbee C. Bell, Astley Cooper, Bathston Currie and other distinguished teachers. He next visited Edinburgh and heard the lectures of Gregory, Cooper and Playfair, and then, having removed to the lecture rooms of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, returned to New York, where he arrived in the fall of 1863 and met with great success in his profession. The year after he was taken into partnership in Columbia College, and afterwards held the same position in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He soon afterwards gave up his connexion, devoted his time to the study of his art and continued to practice. In 1818 he performed the operation of tying the anterior inferior vena cava—within two inches of the heart. He was the original operator to exploit sufficient to make his name immortal. Sir Astley Cooper has said of him, that he has performed more great operations than any other man that ever lived. He began to so much favor of the College, but in 1840 his health failing, he returned to Europe, traveling in England, France, and Egypt. The result of the observations, he has given in a book entitled "Travels in Europe and the East." During his absence, the Medical School of the New York University was organized, and the professorship of sur cgy tendered to him, which he accepted on his arrival in 1840. The success of the school is unparalleled, and in, a great measure, owing to the influence and reputation of Dr. Valentine. He has accumulated a fortune mainly by his extensive and very lucrative practice, though his patronial inheritance was considerable. The family of Motts became Quakers in the time of George Fox.

Mott William F. 300,000
The brother of Samuel F., above.

Moulton Charles 200,000
Charles was an active shrewd little broker, some 14 years sin in Wall-street, and by some fortunate purchase of real estate became wealthy. He married for love a pretty little poor girl, the much accomplished daughter of a tailor of English parentage. Charles is the son of a French woman and a Welshman called Mouton. | The Rhinelander, for fifty years past, among the richest in the city, were but humble tailors and shoemakers in the revolution. The torches which shone in the city, gathered their stems under the protection of the British flag. Many of them engaged in taking shares in privateering on the rebel merchant ships, and thus were huge fortunes made by the native born enemies of our independence out of the hard earnings of suffering families of patriotic whigs thus reduced to ruin.

Ridgway John

As this gentleman has a branch of his establishment in this city, although not a resident, it is proper to give his place. Mr. Ridgway is a China and Earthen Ware Manufacturer, at Camden Town, Staffs., England. He succeeded, in company with his brother, to the business of his father, who, from small beginnings rose to great eminence. Few men in their sphere, are more worthy than Mr. R. to be ranked among the benefactors of their race. Just, benevolent and liberal, he has not only succeeded in elevating the character of the several hundred workmen he employs, but has rapidly increased his fortune, without oppressing the laborer.

Smith Cornelia 100,000

Smith Michael J. 100,000

Snowden Thomas 100,000

Of Irish descent, and a Dry Good merchant.

Solomon Hyman 100,000

If this man had received his just dues from the national Government, he would now be worth more than a million of dollars. There is now in the archives of the government, documentary evidence, that his father, a wealthy Jew of Philadelphia, loaned without security to the United States, a sum not less than $650,000. Mr. Madison, in his posthumous papers, says, that during our Revolutionary war, at a time when the government could not borrow on its own credit, and could not raise a dollar from the pur­chase of public drafts, Mr. Solomon came forward, and freely lent his aid in support of the government. The family of Mr. Solomon is highly distinguished. His mother was Rachel Frank, daughter of Moses B. Frank, of London, who, with his brother, the distin­guished Jacob Frank, of the Revolutionary war, died in 1860. Mr. Madison, in his paper, says, that before the time of Stevens' "Two Years before the Mast," or Dana's "Two Years before the Mast," the price of the Foreign article, besides giving a good article, and adding an excellent profit and encouragement to "Home" industry and perseverance.
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Mr. Solomon's brother died in 1823, in New Orleans. He was the captain of the United States Branch Bank in that city, and was distinguished for his talents and fidelity. Col. David Franklin is often mentioned honored on the Washington papers. The other son of David returned to England, and became a parliament. A son-in-law of Jacob was the distinguished British officer Gen. De Lancy, who, at the close of the Revolutionary War, owned an immense estate in the upper part of this city, which, in consequence of his devotion to his king, was confiscated to the Government. He was awarded the appointment of master of ordnance, and aid-de-camp to George the Third, with a salary of 30,000 pounds sterling. His daughter was married to a knight of both oaths, and governor of one of the East Indiana pro­cesses, and admiral in the Navy. Mr. Solomon has been an active and distinguished politician; he was a member of the celebrated Republican committee with Gen. Allen, Abram Laurens, John Campbell and Henry Meigs. He was a member of the convention that procured the nomination of the late Judge Thompson, of the U. S. Supreme Court, as Governor of the State. Mr. Solomon has often appealed to Congress in vain for an adjustment of his equitable claim. He has, too, been very unjustly refused office by the present administration.

Stevenson John B. 100,000

An old physician.

Stewart Alexander T. 800,000

The celebrated Dry Good Merchant of Broadway whose shop is the grand resort of the fashionable. He has lately bought a corner in Washington Hall, which is intended to fit up for stores. He married a Miss Mitchell, a lady of some property.

Stewart Robert 100,000

One of two Scotch brothers, who, by marriage inherits the great old Dutch estate of the Lispenards, near Canal street.

Steward John 300,000

But 30 years a resident here, and by the force of his own straightforward, clear-headed sagacity in the dry goods line, &c., has acquired near half a million.

Steward John Jr. 100,000

Stewart Lispenard 300,000

He is now possessed of the remains of the Lispenard estate, in addition to a large amount received by his wife, a daughter of Solomon, deceased, a native of France, who amassed a large fortune in this city, by cautious loans during great pressures, and by rigid economy.

Alexander Stewart, the father of Lispenard, came to this country with his elder brother, Robert, from Scotland. They commenced as brokers, and acquired some property when Robert failed, paying a penalty on a bond—that is one seventh, and put his property into possession of his brother, with the agreement that the survivor should receive the estate belonging to both. Previous to this, Alexander having married a daughter of Lispenard, of an old Dutch family, and owning a large tract of meadows and marshes in the vicinity of where Canal street now is. On the death of Lispenard, Alexander Stewart came into possession of a portion of this estate, by his wife, and also a good portion of that of her two brothers, Leonard and Anthony, who died, after having parted with the best part of their fortune; each leaving heirs. Mr. Stewart had also the entire possession of the estate of his uncle's sister-in-law, who is left heir to him, by will. Alexander dying, this estate came into the possession of his brother Robert, who, on his decease, left a son, since he was not married. One of his sons is the distinguished traveller Stephens.

Stewart John L. 100,000

John Lispenard Stewart, the only son of Alexander. James Watson Webb, his brother, an officer in the army, and M. Stewart, a chaplain in the navy, married daughters of Alexander Stewart. Since the death of Alexander S., there has been much legal controversy in regard to this estate, particularly between several of the heirs of the Lispenard and B retained by the Stewart on the one hand, and Robert and Lispenard Stewart on the other. Lispenard professes to hold the estate which, though immense, is incumbered, solely for the benefit of those having legal or equitable claims on it. Among his heirs is included "St. John the book and magazine pedlar," an industrious, honest, and worthy man, who has for some years pursued this calling, and is generally known. Has but one eye, having by accident been deprived of the other.

St. John Samuel (estate of) 300,000

Lately deceased in New Haven, Ct. He was early in life a Tailor, and made the bulk of his fortune by fortunate investments in real estate, and by loaning during pressures. He was once Alderman of the second ward.

Storm Isaac T. 200,000

Early in life he left the place of his nativity, somewhere in Dutchess Co, and came to this city. It is said of him, that when he came to this city, he was but 24 years of age, to which he embarked, was the purchasing of a keg of beeswax, the profits on which gave him a start, while a clerk in a grocery store, and undoubtedly formed the nucleus around which his present ample fortune has gathered. "Industry and economy" have always been his motto. He is now one of the very oldest grocers in this city.

Robert L. and John C., are sons of Col. Stevens, deceased, of Hoboken. The eminent ability of Robert, as one who alone has inherited the mantle of his friend Fulton, is too well known to need remark.

Stevenson John B. 100,000

An old physician.

Stewart Alexander T. 800,000

Storm Stephen  150,000

Stout Aguailla G.  200,000

Striker, James (estate of)  100,000

Mr. Striker died in the year 1831 at an advanced age. He is one of the oldest Knickerbocker families of our city. His estate has been handed down in regular succession from the year 1840, when his family emigrated to the country from Holland. Mr. Striker has held several civil offices of responsibility, and is the property of the splendid estate, known as "Striker's Bay," now leased by his widow, in whose possession the estate now is, as a partly broken-down vessel.

Suydam David L,  200,000
Son of John Suydam, deceased, of an old New York family, and of Dutch extract. John was a successful speculator in Cotton. He died some three or four years since, leaving an estate of $700,000 to his five sons, who all live in the same house in Waterloo Place, in good bachelor style. Of these, at present none are in business except David L., who bought the right of Goodyear's Elastic Shined Suspenders, and is manufacturing the article, and has a second grocery on Beaver street. Mr. Goodyear has realized $20,000 for his invention. It has been patented in England, and France also, and the entire right for the U. S. belongs to Mr. Suydam.

Suydam Ferdinand Sr.  500,000
A branch of the old Suydam family in this city, and the senior partner in the firm of Suydam, Sage & Co., the largest deal in the flour business in the city.

Tallmadge James  200,000

The "General," and once Lieut. Gov., and eminent as a jurist, senator, patron of American industry, &c. &c. "Good wine needs no bush."

Tuilman John H.  100,000

A Cotton Broker.

Targee John  130,000

A young French adventurer, silversmith by trade, emigrated, some fifty years ago, to this country, and by good conduct and industry, and great shrewdness as a politician in the democratic ranks, to which he, as it turned out, was, and by which he, was, rendered himself consistently conspicuous in that party, and for his untiring devotion to their interests, was richly rewarded with sundry profitable offices of honor. So distinguished had he become from the Jeffersonian triumph of 1800 onward, that Vice President Monroe made him his confidential friend, and he was everywhere looked upon for a time as the most influential leader of the party in this quarter of the state. Hence during the struggles to supplant Clinton, the poet Croaker wrote this:

"I'm sick of General Jackson's toast,
Ca'sals are nought to me;
I've heard the voice of the people who rule this coast,
Clinton o' John Targee."

Taylor Edward N.  100,000

Taylor Jacob B.  100,000

Taylor Moses  300,000

Both native men and grocers. His connection in business with the actors has brought gold to his coffers. Brought up with Howland and Aspinwall.
A native of Poland, of Jewish connection, of high standing—made his fortune by manufacturing Paper Hangings, and shrewd management of other kinds of business.

Thompson Jonathan 250,000
An apostle of the "old guard" of democracy, and comes from that vigorous nursery of such material, "Old Suffolk." He was a long time our respected Collector.

Thompson Orrin $300,000
Of an ancient respectable Connecticut family, and the architect of his own fortune. He commenced business in this city some thirty years ago as a carpet dealer, and in 1857 established the first carpet factory in the country, and in the following year built a second factory a few miles distant from the first—and the result has been two large villages, one named Thompsonville in Ct., and the largest carpet factory in the world. The first carpet made in this factory was sold in this city by Geo. W. Betts, in Pearl street. There are now several other factories in the neighborhood, and nine-tenths of the ingrain carpets sold here, are made in this country, and are equal and even superior to the English. The Thompsonville factory turns out a large amount of Brussels carpet of the best kind in the market, much of old Brussels is made in this country. Mr. Thompson, with his son Henry G. and J. Elizabth Smith, constituting the firm of Orrin Thompson & Co., have in the city the largest sales room in the United States, for carpets. Mr. Thompson is a self-made man of great capacity, and much esteemed for his virtues.

Thorne Jonathan 350,000
A leather dealer in the Swamp; married the daughter of the late Israel Corse; an unassuming substantial merchant, a Quaker.

Thorne Jonathan $1,000,000
This is the very pink and glass of fashion in the Puritan circles. His old quaker ancestors of Flushing and Cow Neck would open their eyes to enter his gorgeous private chapel at his imperial mansion in the French capital. What changes in the wheel of fortune, from an humble purser in the navy? But Herman can fall back to earliest English history for the high rank of his ancestry, whatever the world may think of his fashionable follies.

Thorne Thomas W. 100,000
Formerly engaged in the Lottery business, but at present President of the Jefferson Insurance Co.

Tilford F. R. 150,000
A self-made man in the law; his father being a long time in the humble capacity of one of the Mayor's police marshals. DEBT OF THE CITY.
In May 15th, 1844, the debt of the city amounted to $15,392,295 23
Of this debt 12,000,000 have been borrowed for the construction of the Croton Water Works, and before the completion of the aqueduct across the Harlem River, a million more will have been borrowed and expended, thus making the cost and the debt of the Croton Water Works amount to the sum of 13,000,000 dollars.
By an Act of this year this property is ordered to be sold and applied to the extinguishment of the city debt. The principal, and consequently the interest, will then have been so reduced, that the income of the Croton Water Works, (which, by an act of '43, is pledged to pay the interest, and the redemption of the principal,) will not only pay the interest, but will sink the principal before the time of its full redemption in 1880.
