THE WEALTH AND BIOGRAPHY

OF THE

WEALTHY CITIZENS

OF

THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

In presenting to the public the Tenth edition of a work which has commanded so much attention, we would call in mind the history of the Book itself. The first edition originated from figures, pencilled by several of our eminent business men, as the ground-work of a series of calculations upon the wealth of certain individuals, and interesting only to themselves; but conceiving that a more extended and published list would be both interesting and useful to their fellow-citizens, they communicated the idea to the Publisher of The Sun, by whom it was at once taken up, and a bare list, some seven or eight pages long, in coarse type, was made out. The first attempt so far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the originators, that improvements were from time to time suggested and carried out, until it now makes quite a respectable sized book, crowded to its utmost limits in the finest type with instruction and information of the most curious and interesting character. In order to render this publication more interesting to the general reader, we have procured from various authentic sources, brief genealogical and historical or biographical notices of some of the more remarkable men and families in this community, into whose hands wealth has concentrated, and by the endeavor to do equal and exact justice to the parties, have deemed ourselves rendering an especial service to those, more particularly, who by honest and laborious industry have raised themselves from the obscure and humble walks of life, to great wealth and consideration. Erroneous statements there may be, although neither labor nor pains have been spared for perfection, but a word from the interested parties will ensure the earliest correction. Our aim has been to injure the feelings of none, but to hold up to view some of the brightest examples of prosperity in this touch-stone land as beacons for those ambitious of fortune's favors. This edition has been carefully revised, and almost every biographical notice entirely re-written, so as to remove whatever errors and objectionable remarks had crept into the former editions, and is believed to be as complete and accurate as its nature and scope can admit. THE EDITOR.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year One thousand eight hundred and forty-six,

BY MOSES Y. BEACH,

In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York.

Abeel John H. — $100,000
In partnership with Garrick A. Duncomb, constituting the firm of Abeel, John H. Alley, & Co., merchants, one of the oldest houses in the city.

Adams John — $300,000
Of Irish descent, who by industry and integrity as a merchant, and afterwards engaged in the importing business, some fifteen years since, on a small borrowed capital, and was afterwards engaged in the importing business. For the last five years he has been the principal capitalist in the largest domestic commercial house in the city. The whole of his fortune has been accumulated by untiring industry and attention to legitimate business.

Addison Thomas — 150,000
A distinguished pencil-case maker; a pioneer in this line who made his industry by business. The present ever-pointed pencil-case was first made by him, and owes its form to his ingenuity.

Adee George — 150,000
Son of William below, and a partner in the firm of Adee & Co.

Adee William — 200,000
An auctioneer, and formerly senior partner in the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co. From Westchester Co. he received some property. See Mrs. Fisher.

Adearise Barnet — 100,000
John — 300,000
Andrew Henry — 100,000
Arthur John — 100,000
Arthur John Jacob — 25,000,000
Avery John — 200,000
He was in business at Wall street.

Avery John — 200,000
Of the firm of D. Appleton & Co., booksellers and publishers—natives of Massachusetts.

Appley Leonard — 100,000
Barnes, and formerly senior partner in the firm of Adee, Timpson & Co., merchants, one of the oldest houses in the city.

Avery Saul — 250,000
Mr. A. was bound, when a small boy, apprentice to a coach maker. During his apprenticeship his father died, and left him totally dependent on his own exertions. The very clothes he wore he was obliged to earn by toiling extra hours, after the regular time of leaving off work had passed. The foundation of his fortune he acquired by the exercise of frugality and prudence while a journeyman mechanic. Mr. Avery came to this city and undertook a commission business in cotton and domestic goods. His creditors at Charleston having confidence in him were his first patrons, and among them Mordacai Cohen, a rich Jew. In a few years he paid his creditors in full, and carried it on with a small capital, and without outside aid. Mr. Avery's success is a source of no little pride to many of his fellow countrymen.

Avery John — 200,000
A respectable lawyer, who inherited most of his property from his father, who acquired his fortune in the manufacture of boots and shoes.

Anderson Henry J. — 100,000
The Professor of Mathematics in Columbia College.

Andrew Henry — 100,000
Native of England, made his fortune in the Carpet trade, was prominent in the Whig ranks, and sent to the Assembly of this state some years since; a very good citizen.

Anthon Charles — 100,000
A brother of John, and professor of Latin language and literature in the college in which he was educated. He has published many works; the one most widely known is Anthon's Classical Dictionary. Mr. Anthon has a popular reputation as a scholar, and is a most learned man. In his Classical Dictionary, and other works, he has been charged with having made too free use of the labors of others.

Anthon John — 300,000
His father was a very respected and learned physician of this city, and born of German parents. The sons of Dr. Anthon have distinguished themselves; John a man of great business, and in business he has been famous for many years, and in which he still continues. He is a man much respected for his numerous good qualities. Gen. Henry A. late Commissary General of the state, is one of his sons.

Arnold Aaron — 250,000
An Englishman who brought money with him from England, and has been in the retail dry goods business in this city ever since, second to that of any individual in the city in business.

Aspinwall Wm. H. — 400,000
Of the firm of Howard & Aspinwall, shipping merchants. The father of Mr. Aspinwall has long been known to the public as a rich man; and of his son it may be said that he is of an ancient and honorable family. Mr. Aspinwall has a beautiful seat on Staten Island, and his residence in this city is very magnificent.

Astor John Jacob — 25,000,000
John Jacob Astor is classed, by those who know him best, not only among the richest but also among the truly great men of the world. The talent which has been exercised in the art of war, is now to a great extent engaged in the peaceful occupations of the counting-room. He is a man of great self-reliance. At the time of difficulty in the New York Life Insurance and Trust Co., he was made the President of the Board of Directors.

Austen Edward — 200,000
Of the firm of Austen & Dykers, rich brokers in Wall street, and now in partnership with his son-in-law, the Englishman also.

Austen Edward — 200,000

Mr. Astor paid a princely sum.

Notwithstanding the magnitude and success of Mr.
Astor's business operations, yet the greatest source of his wealth has resulted from the increased value of real estate consequent on the continued growth of the city. At an early day he foresaw the greatness of this commercial emporium of the Western Continent, and was wont to convert two-thirds of his annual gains into real estate, not one foot of which he never mortgaged.
It has been his policy to invest in mortgages on the best property offered, and in case of foreclosure, which has often happened, he has bought the property at much less than its real value. In this mode, together with the continually increasing value of real estate, in this city, which he had been the means of accumulating, by the ordinary interest, and hence the bulk of his property.
Mr. Astor has vast tracts of valuable landed property at some of our distant border posts, and extensive estates in Mississippi, Kentucky, and the Ohio Valley.

Clarkson Mathew
130,000

Mr. Clarkson is a most excellent man and pious Christian, lives in a showy but poorly constructed house, situated at Flatbush, in one of the most beautiful lawns in the State. Instead of a building of wood, this lawn, which is the property of Mrs. Clarkson, a lady of great taste, intelligence, and refinement, is entitled to a splendid mansion of marble or granite. This gentleman is a son of the 1st Gen. Clarkson of the city, and brother to the long broker of that name.

Mr. Clarkson erected, mostly at his own cost, St.
Paul's (Episcopal) Church, at Flatbush, where the elegant and Rev. Mr. Newman now officiates as Rector.

lin, and Mrs. Washington, daughter of John Lavender, of L. Island. Her husband was nephew to Vice President Geo. Clinton, and brother of the great Gover, De Witt Clinton. He sat on the &c., during the American Revolution. Mrs. Hannah C. is a sister also of Gov. Dewitt Clinton's first wife, descend­ and of the Bownes, by whom alone Gov. D. C. had issue.

Clinton Charles A
100,000

This oldest son of the ever to be lamented and never to be forgotten Governor Dewitt Clinton, every way worthy of that illustrious man, is happily placed at the reach of the pecuniary distress which that father heroically succumbed to for the sake of enriching ungrateful millions with the benefits of those magnificent works of internal improvement which immortalize his name. The estate of Mr. Charles A. Coddington through his marriage with a daughter of Jno. Hone.

Cutter John G. (estate of) 600,000

Two brothers, John G. and Henry A., the former lately deceased, and the latter twenty years ago, were chiefs, Impressors of Herbs, Amos, Indigo, &c., here as merchants soon after the revolution, and by honest industry amassed a great fortune. While Napoleon held Holland, they, through confidential correspondence were enabled to know how far to push the trade thither, and thus in return importations of gin found such a rich harvest, that their wealth rapidly accumulated from that hour. They were gentlemen born and of irreproachable integrity. The millions the two brothers amassed is nearly all melted away before their death. The majority of the children of their family were merchants. Dr. Hoscass, deceased, made a deep groove into that of Henry's widow, but where is it? Henry's fortune is about $8,000,000, yet but little of it is left. John G. met with heavy losses through the instrumentality of his children who were unsuccessful in business. John H., a son, and Mr. Berryman, a son-in-law, went into business as importers and lost a large sum. Berryman and his wife are dead.

Her husband, with his brother Peter, established the celebrated French and Italian Restaurant. No parallel case of an Italian reaping such a fortune, has ever occurred in the history of this city. But if the best of fames and the best of fortunes, and unceasing politeness of their guests merits fortune, they eminently deserve what they have earned. The Delmonicos are natives of that part of Switzerland which borders on Italy.
They may be said to have first introduced into this city a taste for those fashionable comforts which can no where else be found but in the cuisine of a French Restaurant. Mr. Delmonico bought a beautiful place on Long Island, where his widow and children resides. His paintings, mostly scripture pieces, are very extensive and valuable.

Harper & Brothers - 500,000

This firm consists of four brothers, James, formerly Mayor of this city, John, Joseph W. and Fletcher. They are of a respectable family on Long Island, and coming to this city, learned the Printer's trade. James and John, under the firm of J. & J. Harper, after their time was out, commenced doing job work, and printing for Publishers. The distinguished house of Constable, Murray, and Longman, now (Collins, brothers) large publishers of school books, gave them employment, getting out of work, they applied to the Collins for additional parts of book that they should print. The Collins gave them advice, and they printed a work which was successful, followed up by another fortunate book, until at length they became publishers, and finding their two other brothers being added, they enlarged their business under the firm of Harper & Brothers. They are now the most extensive publishers in America, from twelve to fifteen hundred bookstores acting as agents, besides a large number of travelling clerks, and other itinerants. So extensive is their business connection that should they dispose of but one or two copies to each agency, they would be sure to pay the expenses of publication, and no matter what work they may publish, and they have published several of the worst and most stupid books ever issued, they are sure to dispose of, on an average more than two copies to each house with which they deal. They have a correspondence established not only with every considerable printer in the city, but with all the booksellers, and with the most of the leading publishers abroad, where books are published, informing them of every work worthy of publication. They have besides this city, and other parts of the United States, many literary men in the employment, to pronounce their opinion of manuscripts submitted for publication, to revise those that are imperfect, and to write such an article in each as to make the most trifling papers and magazines which they have either directly or indirectly subscribed to their interest.

Harvey Frederick C. - 100,000

Havemeyer Frederick C. - 100,000

Bawdy, Wright & Hatch are the celebrated bank engravers. A couple of the most talented engravers, making for themselves a name and a fortune incomparably more to be prized than the wealth which has been acquired too often by mere mercantile gambling. There is substance, and truth, and reality—something tangible, and definite, and susceptible of ocular demonstration and utility in the fruits of mechanical labor, but what visible means of livelihood, and what direct and practical utility do we see in many other professions, to wit: swindling stock operators, and what direct and practical utility do we see in the walks of mechanist life. The time is gone by, however, when dreaming speculators and fancy operators can any longer sneer superciliously at the "brassy plumes and russet palms" of the honest mechanic, making for themselves a name and a fortune. The time is gone by, however, when dreaming speculators and fancy operators can any longer sneer superciliously at the "brassy plumes and russet palms" of the honest mechanist, making for themselves a name and a fortune.

The document contains a list of individuals along with their net worths. The text describes the backgrounds and achievements of these individuals, many of whom are connected through business or family ties. The net worths are given in dollars. The document also mentions various locations and professions, such as merchants, sailors, and currently a stage driver. The text is dense and detailed, providing a snapshot of the financial and social standing of these figures at a particular point in history.
Robert and Mary Watts. John Watt's sister was the daughter of Mr. Kennedy, Earl of Cassilis, was the source of his wealth. The Watts family well intermarried with respectable families, being of our English gentry, John Watts being grandson of Judah Rebeca, a young actress. Miss Wheatley, the daughter of Mrs. Jones Walter, a large oil merchant. Be- tal aa a dealer in oil, in the upper part of the city, and he holds a considerable interest in the Elizabthport speculation, owning a large part of the village. These were first laid out and bought by the late Mr. Johnson, who left an estate worth nearly a million. A son of John Mason married a charming lady, and uncle, Edward R. (above,) were Coopers, and still adorn if not purify the bench.

Johnson John — 500,000

Johnson, Rev. Evan M. — 150,000

Resides in Brooklyn, and is owner and Rector of St. John's Church; he has for fifteen years preached and discharged various duties of the parish, without saying a redundant word, but in the most benevolent lock than any other clergyman in the vicinity. The Rector and St. John's Church will well repay a stranger unacquainted with St. John, to come to the Episcopal Church for a visit upon any Sunday morning.

Johnson David — 100,000

Mr. Johnson resides at Flatbush, has no children but grandsons who, joined in the most benevolent lock, make his way up to be a large oil merchant. Being a man of genius, it was not long before he became a dry-good jobber in Pearl street, making $20,000 per annum from trade. In 1837, at a time when a legitimate business he had become worth half a million or more, he failed on account of heavy losses ($300,000 in stock, a lump) by his southern customers, and by an unfortunate speculation in Elizabthport lots. He has, however, paid all his creditors, leaving a snug fortune for himself. He is the projector and mover of the Elizabthport speculation, owning a large part of the village. These were first laid out and bought by a company of stockholders who intended to build up a manufacturing village to rival Newark. Most of the stockholders failing to pay their instalments, Mr. Johnson inherited shares and became a director in the Long Island Bank,—made his fortune as a dry good jobber in New York, and has real estate here and in Brooklyn where he resides. He is now again engaged in the dry good jobbing business in the city, and is one of the most opulent men, having in addition to his attention to a large business, acquired an education superior to many, who in early life have received what is falsely styled "a liberal education."

Kellogg Henry F. — 200,000

Kelley Eli — 100,000

Kelley William — 150,000

Kelley Robert — 150,000

Kennedy David S. — 300,000

A highly respectable Scotch merchant, who obtained a fortune through his wife, the daughter of Robert Lenox.

Kent James — 100,000

One of the most marked men of the times, the profound jurist, and long the celebrated Chancellor of this State, whose opinions and commentaries, however, are mere words, are like pure gold, and law for all those who wish to know what law is. What a gratifying sight it is to see wealth spent in that most universally beloved man in a green old age, enjoying the respect of friends, the delights of domestic society; and all the glorious visions and marvels of the rightness of which once adorned and could still adorn if not purified the bench.

Kermitt Robert — 200,000

Of a very old and most respectable New York family.

Kerrigan James — 150,000

Ketchum Morris — 300,000

A brother of Hiram, the lawyer, and now resides in Westport, Ct., cultivating one of the best farms in that State. He has been, and was an owner of the Iron Works at Elizabthport, N. Y.

Kettletas Eugene — 300,000

A descendant of the Rev. Abraham Kettletas, whose father came from Holland in 1729, and was a merchant in this city. Rev. Mr. Kettletas, was distinguished in a career, on Long Island, during the revolutionary war, and was a member of the Convention which formed the state constitution in 1777. Eugene was educated a lawyer, and married a lady of the highest character, of whom Mrs. Thos. McCarty, daughter of John Garden, deceased, and who was the source of his wealth. The Watts family are contemporaries with the most distinguished names of our English gentry. John Watts being grandson of Robert and Mary Watts. John Watt's sister was mother of the present Mr. Kennedy, Earl of Cassilis.
Kingsland R. 200,000
Large family of small children, to whom we believe a knife could be found anywhere. His forte was lithography, and "then are heard no more." butterflies, buzzing things of fashion, whose gilded wings collapse with the first shower that dims their luster, and "still are heard no more."

Kingsland D. 100,000
Attorney at law—acquired his fortune from his father. He, Kingsland, deceased, a well known ship carpenter.

Kingsland Daniel C. 300,000
Firm D. & A. Kingsland & Co.—in the sperm oil and shipping business.

Kingsland R. 300,000
One of the oldest and richest firms in the hardware line is that of Kingsland, R. & Co., who have been standing in this community, a modest gentleman that has calmly pursued "the even tenor of his way" without the parade, and thus silently passed down the stream of time, every where beloved and honored. Such families how unlike are they to the hack upon the bright and honorable career they have advanced into the future, and forsweat and become men of great worth. There were few lads within twenty miles of him that could now a wider swath or turn a neat furrow. He is now the President of the Bank of the City of New York.

Kissam Richard (Estate of) 200,000
Beautiful country seat at Weehawken, overlooking the Hudson.

Kissam William 100,000
The univeral consideration they enjoy in this community must be a comfort to them when they look back upon the bright and honorable career they have passed through, though neither, we hope, is yet too far advanced into the yellow leaf to forswear and become a Benjamin Button. They both know rich sister of David M. Prall, and afterwards a daughter of his partner, Mr. Hicks, who is now poor, living with his son-in-law, Dr. Prall, and his daughter, and is now the Chamberlain. He has been a large speculator in Cotton, and has lost immense sums.

Lawrence Abraham 300,000
Inherited his fortune, and with Cornelius W. and most of the other names of Lawrence, he, from three brothers from England, John, William and Thomas.

Lawrence Alex wanguest 150,000
Has been a Dry Good Jobber in Pearl street, in which business he has made his fortune, and from which he has justly retired. His pupil was himself, with very excellent paintings, the production of his accomplished daughter.

Lawrence Alexander M. 100,000
On of the New York family of Lawrence. Made his money in the shipping and importing businesses now retired.

Lawrence Cornelius W. 250,000
Of a highly respectable Quaker family on Long Island. He, with his brothers, Joseph and Richard M., made their fortunes in the old distinguished Aungioneer firm of Hicks, Lawrence & Co. This firm was the oldest in the city, having been built up by C. W. and J. Backed out before the ship sunk—and Richard was wrecked. Richard's wife, daughter of Jacob Drake, has a snug fortune of her own, besides the millions with which she both know rich sister of David M. Prall, and afterwards a daughter of his partner, Mr. Hicks, who is now poor, living with his son-in-law, Dr. Prall, and his daughter, and is now the Chamberlain. He has been a large speculator in Cotton, and has lost immense sums.

Lawrence D. L. 200,000

Lawrence Henry H. 100,000
Of a Long Island Quaker family, and with his brother Richard in the Dry Goods Jobbing business in Pennsylvania.

Lawrence John B. 500,000
A brother of Cornelius W., and once a partner; now of the firm of Lawrence, Trimble & Co., a large commission house. He married an heiress, daughter of Mr. Thomas Townsend.

Lawrence Richard M. 100,000
The brother of Henry H.

Leary James 100,000
A Frenchman, and formerly agent for Joseph Bonaparte during his residence in this country. He has made his money in Pennsylvania which he has invested at $1 an acre. Lafayette told him if he would survey and divide it, he could get for some lots $20 an acre, and for one lot, (originally from Scotland) and offer to very Bouneparte said, "You may buy it at $1 an acre and dispose of it as you please." "I have no money," replied Lafayette, "I will lend it to you," said Bouneparte. Lafayette bought the land and laid the foundation of his fortune. He afterwards invested in real estate in this city and the race in value has gone up to $10 an acre. He is then the owner of the large building at the corner of Reade and Broadway, and is elsewhere building to a great extent.

Laingle John 100,000
Has been a Coal dealer. Is now retired, giving his business to his partner, Lee & Brewster, the largest importers, and the largest dealers in the city; Mr. Randolph, senior, having retired likewise in the Dry Goods line.

Of the firm of Lee & Brewster, in the domestic Commission business.

Lee David 500,000
Lately retired from the Wholesale Grocery business, of the firm of Lee, Dater & Miller, one of the largest firms in the city. A very close, but upright man.
President of the Long Island Bank, and formerly County Judge. Resides at Bedford in a splendid mansion, is connected by marriage to the Benson family, and has an only daughter just looking into womanhood; the judge is a prominent supporter of the Dutch Church, and devotes much of his time to religious duty.

The Judge’s father was a very honest and worthy travelling shoemaker, who carried his pack from house to house to make and mend shoes for the farmers, and in this way he got acquainted with a Miss Conover, a woman of property, whom he married, and who was the mother of the Bank President.

Lefferts (widow of John) 100,000

This lady resided at Flatbush, and is the widow of John Lefferts, who was a member of the Legislature, but cannot marry on account of her husband’s will, made according to the Dutch rule.

Leggett Samuel 500,000

With his brother Thomas, made a great part of their money in Jobber and large Auctions in Pearl street. They have retired from business; are of an old Quaker family. Their father, Thomas, at an early age, died; and since, at his residence in East Chester, left them about half a million.

Leroy Jacob 1,500,000

Born in New York city, his place of residence. He was a Post Captain in the U. S. Navy, served with distinction throughout the war, and was on board the celebrated U. S. frigate Ingham into the hands of the enemy and was imprisoned two years in England. He was the first Captain to arrive at the south bank of the Hudson river and introduced military punishment. His popularity with the sailors is greater than that of any other commander. He was one of the first mayors of Philadelphia by birth. He became at the age of nine years, became a cabin boy, and rose rapidly to his present position, although companion of many of the heroes of the American Revolution. He is the present proprietor of Jefferson’s Mansion in Virginia, and a large holder of real estate in New York city, his place of residence. He was in the destructive gale of 1822 in Carolina, when 1,000 souls perished, and was the only man who braved the storm and swam out and rescued numbers of the perishing, for which heroic act the population voted him a civic wreath. He is a bachelor, but in 1823 married a beautiful and a happy wife, though he ought to be sent to sea again if he does not contemplate an immediate change in his estate.

Le Roy Jacob R. 350,000

Or an ancient and highly distinguished Huguenot family. Daniel Webster, the Sec. of State, married for his last and present wife a Miss Le Roy. Jacob Le Roy inherits a large estate from his father-in-law.

Morris Gouverneur    1,300,000
His father, the venerable and famous Gouverneur M., late in life married a Randolph, of Virginia, and left this, the only inheritor, rich. The Morris family of New York and New Jersey began on a large fortune, to which was added an immense fortune, and which was continued over a period of 160 years. Col. Lewis Morris, a celebrated English Quaker, merchant of Barbados, and friend of Wm. Penn, coming here to New York with his own ships and goods, and trading with his brother Richard M., made immediately purchases of large tracts on Long Island, at Harlem river, at Shrewsbury, N. J. &c., (hence Morriso-town and Morrisian estate, the last the estate of the younger above, etc.) and from this truly r. In his stock was all Morrisiana, and in New Jersey, and in their hands the patential estates still rest, together with the household jewelry and plate for many generations back, which few families can say. The grandfather of the present Gouverneur (whose name was also Gouverneur,) inherited in his will that his son should not be educated in C., for the reasons that these yankees were too ugly, and that his son, Col. Lewis Morris is a plain, unlettered farmer, who daily sends his milk to the city. Besides Morrisiana, and an immense fortune, the north of the Harlem river, at Morris has other land and stocks.

Van Buren John 100,000

Of an old Dutch root. Cornelius has evinced more energy and "go-aheadiveness" in building and driving steamboats, and other enterprises, than any one single dutchman possessed. It takes our American hot suns to clear off the vapors and fog of the "Zuyder Zee." We wake up to find ourselves in Holland.

Vandervoort Peter 150,000

A shrewd old Knickerbocker, formerly from Kinderhook; made his large property in the dry goods trade. Townsend had the hardware business in Chatham street, where he continued, both early and late, until about ten years ago, when he retired from business. By his own untold efforts, he has realized the above handsome sum, which is all securely invested in real estate in this city.

Taylors Church Corporation.—This Corporation having, before the Revolutionary war, received certain grants of land from the Crown in the city of New York, had those grants confirmed by various acts of the Legislature, after the achievement of Independence. They consisted of lots of ground in the neighborhood of the Park and St. Paul's Church, and some acres in the vicinity of St. John's Park. In the early period of the history of this city, these lots were not conveyed; but since they have become valuable, and many were leased for a hundred years, at a mere nominal rent. With the improvements, however, in the city, and the increased value of the lots, the lots have become very valuable, and the corporation adopted the plan of leasing to tenants in possession, charging five per cent. for the amount of the value of the lot. They also gave several lots to Episcopal churches to raise revenue for their pastors; and, generally speaking, Trinity Church is considered the most liberal church. These church lots have been given are hard customers. Several attempts have been made to set aside the grants, and various heirs of estates have commenced suits, but with no apparent success. All our courts of law have sustained the validity of church titles, which, if lots are valued at what they will bring, is as good an answer to the claims as lots in feudal times. Trinity Church, in addition to laying out $800,000 on a new church, is liberal in erecting other places of Episcopal worship.

river, with twenty mile below Albany; the estate then comprehending that city, then a fortress, now a free town and capital of the State, while the manor and little feudal privileges, and the Helderberg mountains and its hardy tenants still do homage to the "noble house of Van Rensselaer." No family in America has so long kept together an estate to be compared with this in value, extent and princely he-reditaments. Next to John Jacob Astor's it is the wealthiest in the country. Besides the "lordship"
