Resolved, That the Clerk of this Board, David T. Valentine, be requested to prepare a Manual of the Corporation of the City of New York for the years 1845 and 1846.

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen, January 5, 1846.

Adopted by the Board of Assistants, January 19, 1846.

Approved by the Mayor, January 21, 1846.

In pursuance of the preceding Resolution, the Undersigned, immediately after its approval by the Mayor, applied himself to the pleasurable duty thus imposed on him, and now most respectfully presents this Volume as the result of his labors.

It may be proper to add, that in the selection of materials the Compiler flatters himself that he has bestowed unusual care; and having diligently explored the civic records and annals of our Municipal Government from the earliest period, fully believes that he has rescued many facts and interesting documents from oblivion, to which they were hastening down the stream of time. He has taken the legislative labors of the first Magistrates of Manhattan and their successors, and looks for the reward of his toil in the approval of his fellow-citizens.

The statistics in relation to our City, voluminous as they will appear, are as near perfect as is attainable, or could safely be relied upon. Everything in relation to our municipal affairs calculated to be of interest to the past, or a subject for future reference, has been sought to be furnished.

It, perhaps, is unnecessary to set forth here in what particulars the present number is improved upon its predecessors; but a glance at the Table of Contents, and a perusal thereof, will furnish such information to the reader.

The same is therefore submitted, with great confidence, to the Fathers of our City, and to the public generally.

D. T. VALENTINE.

TO AMEND

THE CHARTER

OF THE

CITY OF NEW YORK:

PASSED APRIL 7, 1830.—CH. 122.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:—

1. The legislative power of the Corporation of the City of New York, shall be vested in a Board of Aldermen and a Board of Assistants, who together shall form the Common Council of the City.

2. Each Ward of the City shall be entitled to elect one person to be denominated the Alderman of the Ward, and the persons so chosen, together shall form the Board of Aldermen; and each Ward shall also be entitled to elect one person to be denominated an Assistant Alderman; and the persons so chosen, together shall form the Board of Assistants.

3. The Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen shall be chosen for one year; and no person shall be eligible to either office, who shall not, at the time of his election, be a resident of the Ward for which he is chosen.

4. The annual election for Charter Officers shall commence on the second Tuesday in April, and the Officers elected shall be sworn into office on the second Tuesday in May thereafter; and all the provisions of law now in force in regard to the notification, duration, and conduct of elections for Members of Assembly, and in regard to the appointment, powers, and duties of the inspectors, holding the same, shall apply to the annual election of Charter Officers.

5. The first election for Charter Officers, after the passage of this law, shall take place on the second Tuesday in April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one; and all those persons who shall have been elected under the former laws regulating the election of Charter Officers, and shall be in office at the time of the passage of this law, shall continue in office until the officers elected under this law shall be entitled to be sworn into office.

6. The Board of Aldermen shall have power to direct a special election to be held, to supply the place of any Alderman whose seat shall become vacant by death, removal from the City, resignation, or otherwise; and the Board of Assistants shall also have power to direct a special election to supply any vacancy that may occur in the Board of Assistants; and in both cases, the person elected to supply the vacancy shall hold his seat only for the residue of the term of office of his immediate predecessor.

7. The Boards shall meet in separate chambers, and a majority of each shall be a quorum to do business. Each Board shall appoint a President from its own body, and shall also choose its Clerk and other officers, determine the rules of its own proceedings, and be the judge of the qualifications of its own members. Each Board shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and the doors of each shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy; and all resolutions and reports of Committees which shall recommend any specific improvement involving the appropriation of public moneys, or taxing or assessing the citizens of said city, shall be published immediately after the adjournment of the Board, under the authority of the Common Council, in all the newspapers employed by the Corporation; and whenever a vote is taken in relation thereto, the ayes and noes shall be called and published in the same manner.

8. Each Board shall have the authority to compel the attendance of absent members; to punish its members for disorderly behavior, and to expel a member, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Board; and the member so expelled, shall, by such expulsion, forfeit all his right and powers as an Alderman or Assistant Alderman.

9. The stated and occasional meetings of each Board of the Common Council, shall be regulated by its own ordinances; and both Boards may meet on the same or on different days, as they may severally judge expedient.

10. Any law, ordinance, or resolution of the Common Council may originate in either Board, and when it shall have passed one Board, may be rejected or amended by the other.

11. No member of either Board shall, during the period for which he was elected, be appointed to, or be competent to hold any office of which the emoluments are paid from the City treasury, or by fees, directed to be paid by any ordinance or act of the Common Council, or be directly or indirectly interested in any contract, the expenses or considerations whereof are to be paid under any ordinance of the Common Council; but this section shall not be construed to deprive any Alderman or Assistant of any emolument or fees which he is entitled to by virtue of his office.

12. Every act, ordinance, or resolution, which shall have passed the two Boards of the Common Council, before it shall take effect, shall be presented, duly certified, to the Mayor of the City, for his approbation. If he approve, he shall sign it; if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the Board in which it originated, within ten days thereafter; or if such Board be not then in session, at its next stated meeting. The Board to which it shall be returned, shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and cause the same to be published in one or more of the public newspapers of the City.

13. The Board to which such act, ordinance, or resolution, has been so returned, shall, after the expiration of not less than ten days thereafter, proceed to reconsider the same. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the members elected to the Board shall agree to pass the same, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other Board, by which it shall be likewise reconsidered; and if approved by a majority of all the members elected to such Board, it shall take effect as an act or law of the Corporation. In all such cases the votes of both Boards shall be determined by ayes and noes, and the names of the persons voting for and against the passage of the measure reconsidered, shall be entered on the journal of each Board respectively.

14. If the Mayor shall not return any act, ordinance, or resolution so presented to him, within the time above limited for that purpose, it shall take effect in the same manner as if he had signed it.

15. Neither the Mayor nor Recorder of the City of New York shall be a member of the Common Council thereof, after the second Tuesday of May, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one.

16. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Mayor, and whenever the Mayor shall be absent from the city, or be prevented by sickness, or any other cause, from attending to the duties of his office, the President of the Board of Aldermen shall act as Mayor, and shall possess all the rights and powers of the Mayor, during the continuance of such vacancy, absence, or disability.

17. It shall be the duty of the Mayor,

FIRST. To communicate to the Common Council, at least once a year, and oftener if he shall deem it expedient, a general statement of the situation and condition of the City, in relation to its government, finances, and improvements.

SECOND. To recommend to the adoption of the Common Council all such measures connected with the police, security, health, cleanliness, and ornament of the City, and the improvement of its government and finances, as he shall deem expedient.

THIRD. To be vigilant and active in causing the laws and ordinances of the government of the City to be duly executed and enforced.

FOURTH. To exercise a constant supervision and control over the conduct and acts of all subordinate officers, and to receive and examine into all such complaints as may be preferred against any of them for violation or neglect of duty, and generally to perform all such duties as may be prescribed to him by the charter and city ordinances, and the laws of this State and the United States.

18. Annual and occasional appropriations shall be made by proper ordinances of the Common Council for every branch and object of City expenditure, nor shall any money be drawn from the City treasury except the same shall have been previously appropriated to the purposes for which it was drawn.

19. The Common Council shall not have authority to borrow any sums of money whatever on the credit of the Corporation, except in anticipation of the revenue of the year in which such loan shall be made, unless authorized by a special act of the Legislature.

20. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to publish, two months before the annual election of Charter Officers, in each year, for the general information of the citizens of New York, a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Corporation during the year ending on the first day of the month in which such publication is made; and in every such statement the different sources of City revenue, and the amount received from each; the several appropriations made by the Common Council, the objects for which the same were made, and the amount of moneys expended under each; the moneys borrowed on the credit of the Corporation, the authority under which each loan was made, and the terms on which the same was obtained, shall be clearly and particularly specified.

21. The executive business of the Corporation of New York, shall hereafter be performed by distinct departments, which it shall be the duty of the Common Council to organize and appoint for that purpose.

22. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to provide for the accountability of all officers and other persons to whom the receipt or expenditure of the funds of the City shall be intrusted, by requiring from them sufficient security for the performance of their duties or trust, which security shall be annually renewed; but the security first taken shall remain in force until new security shall be given.

23. The Clerk of the Board of Aldermen shall, by virtue of his office, be Clerk of the Common Council, and shall perform all the duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the Common Council, except such as shall be assigned to the Clerk of the Board of Assistant Aldermen; and it shall be his duty to keep open for inspection, at all reasonable times, the records and minutes of the proceedings of the Common Council, except such as shall be specially ordered otherwise.

24. The division of the Common Council into two Boards shall not take effect until the officers to be elected under this law shall enter on the duties of their office. Each Board shall hold its first meeting, for the purpose of organizing, on the second Tuesday of May in each year, at which time the Mayor or Clerk of the Common Council shall attend, by whom the oath of office shall be administered to the members elected. In the absence of the Mayor and Clerk, such oath may be administered by the Recorder, or First Judge of the City, or by any of the Justices of the Superior Court.

25. None of the provisions of this Act, except the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, and twenty-second sections, shall be construed as applying to the Common Council as now constituted.

26. Such parts of the Charter of the City of New York, and of the several Acts of the Legislature amending the same, as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this law, shall not be construed as repealed, modified, or in any manner affected thereby, but shall continue and remain in full force.

§ 9. All the costs and fees to be charged for entering such judgment and filing the necessary papers, shall be the usual fees to the Clerk for filing papers and entering rules; the District Attorney shall receive no fee or compensation for his services in the matter, his salary being deemed compensation for all such services.

There are thirty-nine Hose Companies and eight Hook and Ladder Companies, including one at Harlem and one at Yorkville; all of which are in possession of the necessary apparatus for service.

There is also a Hydrant Company in each Fire District, whose duty it is to take charge of the Hydrants in case of fire.

The city is divided into three Fire Districts, as follows :

AN ORDINANCE

FOR DIVIDING THE CITY OF NEW YORK INTO THREE FIRE DISTRICTS.

First District.

The first Fire District shall embrace all that part of the city lying north of a line from the foot of North Moore street to the Halls of Justice, and west of a line running from the Halls of Justice, through Lafayette and Irving Places.

Third District.

The third Fire District shall embrace all that part of the city lying south of the first and second District.

No Fire Company shall remove their apparatus out of the District in which the same is located, in case of fire or alarm of fire, under the penalty of being subject to expulsion, or suspension from the Fire Department, unless they shall be permitted so to do by the Chief or one of the Assistant Engineers, who are hereby authorized to give the necessary signal, which is hereby declared to be the constant ringing of the alarm bell in the district in which the fire is raging, when the whole department shall proceed to the scene of conflagration.

Adopted by the Board of Assistants, March 31st, 1842.

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen, April 18th, 1842.

Approved by the Mayor, April 28th, 1842.

For the purpose of guiding the Firemen more correctly to the fire, the districts shall be subdivided, and the district bells will be rung as follows :

“	2d “	two “
2d “	1st “	three “
“	2d “	four “
3d “	1st “	five “

For assistance, the signal will be continual ringing of all district bells, except that on the Halls of Justice, which will always ring the section in which the fire is raging.

The force in each Fire District is as follows :

FIRE DEPARTMENT FUND.

Trustees' Report for 1845.

The Trustees of the New York Fire Department Fund, in presenting to the Annual Meeting of the Representatives their Report for the year which has just passed, have again occasion to applaud the continued liberality which is evinced by the friends and members of the Department, in sustaining, by their donations, this most excellent charity. In the accompanying Report of the Treasurer, will be found the names of those benevolent individuals and associations, whose contributions have enabled the Trustees to satisfy the numerous claims made upon them for assistance. The Corporation, the Fire Insurance Companies, and several Fire Companies, have all displayed their accustomed liberality.

It will be seen that immediately after the Great Fire, our esteemed fellow-citizens, James Lennox, Esq., and William H. Titus, Esq., contributed handsome donations; and also that Messrs. Greeley and McElrath, and several other citizens, have, upon other occasions, contributed to the fund; all of which were suitably acknowledged by the Treasurer, and will be found duly enumerated in his account current with the Department, as well as the sum realized from the Sixteenth Annual Ball, at the Park Theatre. In anticipation of a falling off, for the coming year, in the amount of donations from several of the Insurance Companies, who were crippled by the Great Fire, the Board of Trustees have deemed it advisable to husband the surplus on hand, in order to meet the expenditures for the approaching year instead of adding a portion of the same to the permanent fund, as was originally designed by them.

By reference to the Treasurer's Report, it will be perceived that he had a balance on hand last year, of Five Hundred and Twenty-five dollars and Thirteen cents; since which period, he has received Ten Thousand, Seven Hundred and Twenty-one dollars and Eleven cents: making in the aggregate, Eleven Thousand, Two Hundred and Forty-six dollars and Twenty-four cents. Out of which sum there have been distributed in various sums of money to the needy, and for widows' pensions, for wood, coal, shoes, &c. &c., the sum of Eight Thousand, Eight Hundred and Thirty Dollars and Ninety-two cents; leaving a balance deposited in the Butchers' and Drovers' Bank, to the credit of the Fire Department Fund, of Two Thousand, Four Hundred and Fifteen dollars and Thirty-two cents. The Permanent Fund amounts to Thirty-six Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifteen Dollars and Twenty-five cents, which is invested in the following manner, viz.: Loaned on bond and mortgage, Thirty-five Thousand, Nine Hundred and Sixty-five dollars and Twenty-five cents, and Two Hundred and Fifty dollars, in Manhattan Bank Stock.

When it is borne in mind that the proceeds annually arising from the Permanent Fund, amounts to only Two Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifty dollars, and that the expenditures for the ensuing year will reach to upwards of Nine Thousand dollars, it is scarcely necessary to remind you that great exertions will be required, to make up the amount necessary to carry us successfully through the year. Your attention, in the last Annual Report, was called to the action of the Board, touching the sale of certain Fire Insurance, and other stocks held by the Department. The wisdom of that course has (by the Great Fire) become clearly apparent. By the heavy losses which some of the Insurance Companies have sustained, and the ruin in which others were involved by the extensive conflagration, the Trustees fear that the donations from these Companies, which have heretofore so liberally contributed, will be necessarily limited, until they recover from the effects of the disasters they have met with. You are therefore called upon to renew your efforts to obtain donations from such other sources as will enable us to carry out fully the objects had in view by our institution. The sick and indigent Fireman, his widow, or orphan children, all have enduring claims upon the justice and benevolence of our citizens, which should never be disregarded.

There are at present, One Hundred and Ninety-two Pensioners on the books of the Treasurer, who receive their pension-money in regular quarterly payments. In addition to these exemplary persons, there are many other widows of Firemen who rely upon the Department for occasional aid. Eight hundred children of Firemen are now attending the Public Schools, who receive shoes and such other articles as are calculated to render them comfortable. It is unnecessary in this Report to enlarge upon the peculiar merits of this charity, or of the blessings it confers. During the period it has been in existence, over Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars have been expended for benevolent purposes. Who can estimate the amount of good bestowed upon those who have shared in the distribution of this large sum? The sick and indigent Fireman has been cared for; his wants attended to; the dead have been decently interred; and the widows and orphans of Firemen bequeathed to our care and protection, have experienced that succor and support, which it is the peculiar attribute of this institution to afford.

The terrible explosion at the calamitous fire in Broad street, which resulted in the death of a member of Engine No. 42, and the still more recent explosion at the fire in Cedar-street, where several Firemen were seriously injured, cannot too strongly admonish the members of the Department to exercise unusual vigilance in promptly reporting to this Board, each and every violation of the Fire Laws, whether arising from the erection of unsafe buildings, or what is more atrocious, violations of the laws relating to gunpowder; the Trustees being determined to prosecute, to the full extent of the law, each and every individual found guilty of either of these offences. Fines have already been exacted from certain persons for keeping large quantities of gunpowder. The contraband article has been forfeited to the use of the Fire Department, and the penalty paid over to the Treasurer, which you will see has been duly credited by him in his account.

The Firemen of New York have already dangers enough to encounter, in the ordinary discharge of their duties, and have never shrunk from them, even when their associates have been blown to atoms by their sides, without being subjected to new ones in the shape of additional Gunpowder or Saltpetre explosions; and if a few of our citizens, for mere pecuniary considerations, wilfully persist in dealing to the same extent as they have done in this dangerous traffic, it is impossible to estimate the disastrous consequences which may eventually ensue, to the lives and property of our citizens, as well as inevitable death to the members of the Fire Department.

The Trustees of the Fire Department, in speaking plainly upon this subject, do not transcend the line of their legitimate duty. Valuable lives have been sacrificed—property to an immense amount has been destroyed, and our city at this moment bears witness to the ruin and havoc effected by the causes to which they allude. It is to guard against the recurrence of similar disasters. It is to create a greater sense of security in the breasts of the Firemen of the city, and for the purpose of insuring greater safety to the lives and property of our citizens, their homes and their firesides, that induces the Trustees to call especial and earnest attention to their suggestions.

The statements which are herein presented for your consideration, exhibit a true account of the transactions of the Board, during the period mentioned, together with such other information respecting the finances, touching the advancement of the interests of the Charitable Fund, and suggestions relative to the Department generally, which the Trustees deem proper to make, in connection with their duties as the guardians of a great trust.

At the Annual Meeting, the terms of service of Messrs. Coger, Pryer, and Elsworth, will expire. The Trustees to be elected are to serve three years each. The suit of Jeremiah B. Taylor remains undecided, as at the last Report.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

ZOPHAR MILLS, Secretary.

New York, Nov. 28, 1845.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE CITY.

The financial condition of the city on the 1st of May, 1841, was as follows, as will be seen by the Mayor's Message, from which the following statement is taken :—

"I have requested from the Comptroller, and received a statement of the City Debt up to the first of May last, from which the following appears :

"The City Stocks which will be held by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund at the close of the present fiscal year, will be sufficient to cover, and in effect cancel the stock of 1820 and '29, and the Public Building Stock. The Fire Loan Stock and Corporation Bonds are contingent liabilities of the City, for which bonds and mortgages, and other real estate liens, are held by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, which can be realized and applied to the liquidation of the debt at any time. These, therefore, may be properly considered as no part of the City debt, but rather as a loan of its credit on full and perfect securities.

Statement of the description and amount of Stocks held by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, January 1st, 1845.

* The Deaths reported from intemperance cannot be relied on as the whole truth, because many deaths of which intemperance has been the principal cause, are returned under other causes, mostly apoplexy and consumption. As reported, however, the number of deaths in the last few years, in proportion to the population, exhibits a gratifying decrease. The average proportion of deaths to population in 1835, was 1 to 4,087.

THE NEWSPAPER PRESS OF THIS CITY.

Whatever may be thought of the quality or the peculiarities of the Daily and Weekly Newspapers of this City, and perhaps of their literary or political merits, it behooves us not here to speak; yet it must be allowed that in numerical strength the Daily Papers of this City outvie that of any other in the world. The metropolis of the British Empire possesses but nine Daily Papers, and we believe the Parisian Press is still more limited; whilst no other city or town in England can boast of its Daily Paper. We have been favored by a member of the Press with the following list of the New York Daily and Weekly Papers, ranked according to their age, and including the number of the regular corps editorial and reportorial, political complexion, etc.

Commercial Advertiser.—High-toned Whig and anti-Free Trade. Edited by John Inman, one assistant editor, two reporters of city and law intelligence, one for markets.

Evening Post.—The organ of the old Democratic party. Politics, liberal Free Trade. Edited by William Cullen Bryant and one assistant, one reporter of law and city news, one for markets and commercial matters.

Courier and Enquirer.—The leading Whig Journal, and the organ of that party in this city. Editor, James Watson Webb; Charles King, first assistant, and three sub-assistants; two reporters of city news, and one for markets.

The Journal of Commerce.—Politics, semi-Whig and full Free Trade. Editors, David Hale and Gerard Hallock; one assistant; two reporters of law and city news, and one for markets.

Morning and Evening Express.—Fac-simile copies of each other. Edited by James B. Brooks and Erastus Brooks, of this city, and Wm. B. Townsend, resident at Washington; two reporters of city news, and one assistant editor, who also devotes some portion of his time to that department. Two commercial reporters are also on the Express.

The Sun, owned by Moses Y. Beach; at present edited by Major Noah. This is the oldest of the penny papers; was originally established by Benjamin H. Day, and attained the height of its popularity under Richard Adams Locke. Mr. Beach employs two city reporters and several contributors. In politics it professes to be neutral, but the contributors are generally of the Loco-Foco school.

The Herald.—This Journal is owned by James Gordon Bennett, and he claims to be the Editor; but the contributors to its columns are so numerous, and their opinions so various, that its political complexion varies like the hue of the chameleon. In politics it may be called Any- thing-arian. Mr. Bennett usually employs three assistant editors, one commercial editor, and four or five law, police and general reporters.

The Tribune.—High-toned Whig paper, and rigid protectionist. It is edited by Horace Greeley and two assistants, two reporters of city news, and one for commercial and monetary matters. This paper bears a high character among the religious and temperance societies.

The True Sun.—This paper was set up by journeymen printers, who left the employ of Mr. Beach to establish a rival penny paper, an experiment deemed very hazardous, but which happily has succeeded. The first editor was Joseph Barber, the next S. De Witt Bloodgood, and the present Horatio Bartlett. The proprietors employ three law, police and city reporters, and one contributor to furnish monetary and market news. In politics, like the old Sun, it is professedly neutral; but its present editor is a full-blooded democrat of the modern school.

The Morning News.—This is a two cent paper, and claims to be the organ of the Democratic party. John L. O'Sullivan is the political editor; Thomas J. Kettel, the commercial editor; with one assistant, and two reporters of law and police intelligence.

The Globe.—Ultra-Democratic, and the organ of the Young Democracy. It is ably edited by Levi D. Slamm and one assistant editor, and one reporter of law and police.

The Telegraph.—This paper has but recently come into the field, and, although ably edited, it is as yet rather difficult to define its position in the political chart. It is edited by S. De Witt Bloodgood, one assistant, two reporters of law and police, one of commercial matters.

The Times.—This paper has but lately come out. It is under the protection of the Natives. The editors are Messrs. Chapin and King, one assistant editor, and two reporters of law and city news, and one for money matters.

The Evening Mirror.—This paper was established by George P. Morris and N. P. Willis, as the organ of the world of fashion in general, and the upper ten thousand of that world in particular. It is deemed to be an authority in matters of criticism, fashion and theatricals. The present editor is Mr. Fuller, with two assistants and one Reporter.

Evening Gazette.—This paper is about one year old. It was established by James King, and is ably edited by himself and Richard Grant White. Two reporters of law and police are employed on this paper.

The Evening Ledger.—This is a youthful scion of the newspaperial flock. It is edited by Messrs. Green and Meighan, and employs two reporters.

In addition to the above, we have five weekly papers of note. The Sunday Atlas is the oldest of these. Edited by Frederick West, who presided over its destinies at its birth, in 1836. Mr. West has several contributors, and the local news has a prominent place in the columns of the Atlas.

The Sunday Mercury is one year younger than the Atlas. The original editor was Mr. Paige, better known as Dow, jr. About a year after the establishment of the Mercury, Mr. Nicholls joined it as a contributor, and is now the associate editor with Mr. Paige. Like the Atlas, they have numerous contributors.

The Sunday Times.—This paper was originally established by John Moore, Esq., and after various mutations passed into the hands of that veteran of the press, Major Noah, who now owns over one-third of the concern, and has the control of the columns.

The Sunday Dispatch.—This paper is only in its infancy, but is quite a vigorous sheet. The editors are William Burns and a gentleman known to newspaperial fame as John Smith, jr., of Arkansas.

The Spirit of the Times, a sporting paper, is also published here weekly. Edited by William T. Porter.

The Albion, edited by Dr. Bartlett, and the Anglo-American by Mr. Patterson, weekly papers, as their titles indicate, devoted to European topics.

We have also one French, one Spanish, and three German newspapers.

We have also three papers published weekly, devoted to the special interests of the adopted citizens of Irish birth, and immigrants from that country. The oldest of these is the Truth Teller, edited by William Denman; the Freeman's Journal, said to be edited by the Right Rev. Dr. Hughes, and the Irish Volunteer.

In making this resumé of the merits of the Press, we have had to work currente calamo, but have endeavored rigidly to "nothing extenuate, nor set down aught in malice."

THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

IN the year 1770, some of the most respectable and public spirited inhabitants of the city of New York subscribed considerable sums of money, for the purpose of erecting and establishing a public Hospital; and a petition was presented by Peter Middleton, John Jones, and Samuel Bard,* three eminent physicians, to Lieutenant-Governor Colden, then administering the government of the colony of New York, for a charter of incorporation, which was, in consequence, granted the following year, by the Earl of Dunmore, Governor and commander-in-chief of the province.

By this charter, dated the 13th of June, 1771, the mayor, recorder, aldermen and assistants, of the City of New York, the rector of Trinity Church, one minister from each of the other churches of different denominations then in the city, the president of King's (now Columbia) College, and a number of the principal and most respectable inhabitants of the city, were named as members, and incorporated, by the name of the "Society of the Hospital in the city of New York in America."† Twenty-six governors were also named, for the management of the affairs and business of the institution, who held their first meeting on the 25th July, 1771.

Through the influence of Dr. John Fothergill and Sir William Duncan, considerable contributions were made to the Society, by many inhabitants of London, and other places in Great Britain, and in 1772, the legislature of the province of New York granted an annual allowance of 800 pounds (2,000 dollars) in aid of the institution for twenty years.

In 1773, the governor of the Hospital purchased of Mrs. Barclay and Mr. Rutgers, five acres of ground, for the erection of a suitable edifice. A plan of a building having been procured by Dr. Jones, the foundation

* From the following extract from a medical discourse, delivered by Dr. Middleton, in King's (now Columbia) College, on the 3d of November, 1769, it appears that the first suggestion, relative to the establishment of a Hospital, was made by Dr. Bard. "The necessity and usefulness," says Dr. Middleton, "of a public infirmary, has been so warmly and pathetically set forth in a discourse, delivered by Dr. Samuel Bard, at the college commencement, in May last, that his excellency, Sir Henry Moore, immediately set on foot a subscription for that purpose, to which himself and most of the gentlemen present, liberally contributed. His excellency also recommended it, in the most pressing manner, to the assembly of the province, as an object worthy of their attention: and the corporation of the city have given assurance of granting a very valuable and commodious lot of ground for erecting the building upon; so that there is now almost a certain prospect of this benevolent and humane foundation soon taking place; and as it is to be on the most catholic and unexceptionable plan, it is to be hoped that it will meet with the countenance and encouragement of every compassionate and good member of society, whatever party or denomination he may choose to be distinguished by, on other occasions."

† By an act of the Legislature, passed March 9th, 1810, the name of the corporation has been changed to that of "The Society of the New York Hospital." was laid, the 27th of July, 1773; but on the 28th of February, 1775, when it was almost completed, the building accidentally took fire, and was nearly consumed.

By this misfortune the society suffered the loss of seven thousand pounds ($17,500); and the execution of their benevolent plan would have been wholly frustrated, had not the legislature, in March, 1775, granted them the sum of 4000 pounds towards rebuilding the house, and repairing the loss they had sustained. But the war of Independence which took place in the same year, prevented the completion of the edifice. During the war, the building was occupied by British and Hessian soldiers as barracks, and occasionally as an hospital.

The effects of the war on the condition of our city, and the general derangement of affairs, prevented any attention to the institution for some years, and it was not until the 3d of January, 1791, that the house was in proper condition to receive patients, when eighteen were admitted.

The annuity, granted by the provincial legislature, ceased with the commencement of hostilities between Great Britain and the colonies; but the legislature of the state, on the 1st of March, 1788, directed eight hundred pounds, during four years, from the 1st of February, 1788, to be paid out of the moneys arising from excise in the city of New York. The legislature, by a subsequent act, passed the 11th April, 1792, "For the better support of the Hospital," granted two thousand pounds a year, for five years, payable out of the city excise.

By an act passed the 31st of March, 1795, the legislature repealed the act of the 11th April, 1792, as to future payments, and granted to the Hospital four thousand pounds ($10,000) annually for five years, payable out of the duties on sales at public auction, in the city of New York. An additional sum of one thousand pounds ($2500) a year, for four years, was granted 11th April, 1796, payable out of the same fund. On the 20th March, 1801, the annual allowance of $12,500 was continued for five years from the first of February, 1800. On the 2d of March, 1805, an act was passed continuing this sum for five years longer. In consequence of the representation of the governors, of the necessity of providing more suitable apartments for insane patients, the legislature, on the 14th of March, 1806, passed an act, directing the sum of $12,500 annually to be paid out of the duties on sales at auction, to the treasurer of the Hospital, in quarterly payments, until the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven; and the act of the 2d of March, 1805, was at the same time repealed.

By an act passed the 30th March, 1797, for the establishment and support of a lazaretto, the masters and wardens of the port of New York were authorized to receive from the masters, officers, seamen, and passengers, of every vessel entering the port of New York, a certain sum for each person, which was directed to be paid to the commissioners of the health office, for the relief of sick seamen and foreigners admitted into the lazaretto; and the surplus, if any, was directed to be paid to such seamen as might be patients in the Hospital.

By an act passed April 1st, 1796, for regulating the port of New York, the Harbor Master was directed to pay such fines as might be incurred under that act to the treasurer of the New York Hospital.

By an arrangement between the treasury department of the United States and the Hospital, made in 1799, and since continued by subsequent arrangement from time to time with the Secretary of the Treasury, the sick and disabled seamen at the port of New York are received into the Hospital, and enjoy all its advantages. The collector of the port, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, pays out of the Hospital money collected and received by him, for the board and maintenance of such seamen, with medicine and other charges, at a regular stipulated price, which has never exceeded three dollars per week for each patient.

The number allowed and paid for has often been limited by the collector, according to the receipts from the funds at this port. The governors, however, considering every seaman who has paid hospital money to the collector of the United States as having a just claim on the government of the United States for hospital relief, have never refused admittance to seamen, beyond the number limited; trusting to the justice of the national legislature for remuneration of the sums expended in the support of such seamen, beyond the amount received from the collector. Without the aid which has thus been afforded to them, many of this useful and meritorious, though careless and improvident class of men, must have been abandoned, in disease and poverty, to the casual and precarious relief of common charity.

A large and substantial building, erected on the southern part of the hospital ground in 1806, for the purpose of an Asylum for insane patients, being rendered useless for that object in 1821 by the establishment of the large institution out of town (as afterwards more fully stated), the governors in 1825, thoroughly repaired and remodelled it, as a hospital for seamen, to which object it has since been entirely devoted, under the name of the "Marine Department of the New York Hospital." The seamen are thus enabled to receive all the advantages of a separate establishment devoted to their use, and fitted to their peculiar wants, combined with the no less important advantages of the regular official superintendence and inspection of the governors of the Hospital, and the attendance of experienced and skilful physicians and surgeons employed in its duties. In 1840, the governors finding that, with the growth of the city, any unusual occurrence of accident or disease often over-crowded the wards of the main building, and that besides, the variety of diseases, and the difference of habits and characters of the patients made a more thorough separation of patients in different wards, very desirable, determined upon erecting another edifice. This was completed in 1841, being placed on the north side of the spacious grounds, and corresponding in general appearance with the marine building. This building, erected at an expense of about $50,000, varying a good deal in its interior arrangements and construction from the other buildings, affords great additional accommodation, together with the means of such disposition of the wards and division of the patients as greatly conduce to their recovery or comfort.

During the same period, another stone outbuilding was fitted up for post mortem examinations, for the delivery of lectures on such examinations, and for the purposes of medical instruction, affording also accommodation for the coroner and his jury on the frequent occasion of their service on deaths arising from accident.

The ground on which the Hospital stands is an area about 455 feet in length and 440 feet in breadth; bounded in front on Broadway, and in the rear on Church street, northerly on Anthony street, and southerly on Duane street. Part of this area, fronting on Broadway, is at present owned and occupied by individuals, leaving an avenue of about 90 feet, leading from Broadway, which is planted with a double row of elms.

The ground belonging to the Hospital was enclosed with a brick wall in 1801.

The site of the Hospital is elevated, being considerably above the level of Church street, and about 600 yards distant from Hudson river. It is one of the most open and airy situations in the city, and possesses great advantages for the enjoyment of fresh and salubrious breezes.

The principal building, denominated the Hospital, is of grey stone, and in the simple Doric style. It extends in front 124 feet, is 50 feet deep in the centre, and 86 feet deep at the wings, which project on each side. It consists of three stories above the basement; a third story having been added in 1803, when it became necessary to put on a new roof. The height above the ground is about 52 feet. The basement story, which is about ten feet high, contains a larger and a smaller kitchen, a bakery, three store rooms, and two wards, fitted up for the temporary reception of certain classes of cases requiring peculiar treatment. The principal story is about 14 feet high. In the centre is a hall and staircase, a room for the Governors, a parlor and dining-room for the superintendent and matron and other officers of the house, an apothecary's shop, and a room for the clerk. In each story of each wing are two wards, thirty-six feet in length, and twenty-four feet in breadth, opposite to each other, and opening into passages extending from one end of the house to the other, and communicating by a staircase. On the second and third floors of the centre are rooms for the accommodation of the superintendent and matron, the house-physician, apothecary, and different officers and servants, and the library apartments; and in the third story, looking to the north, is the theatre for surgical operations, fitted up so as to accommodate about four hundred persons. This building contains fifteen wards for the sick, thirteen of which are each thirty-six feet long and twenty-four feet broad, in which about 150 patients may be comfortably accommodated. There are about twenty other rooms, of different dimensions, besides the consultation room and library, and theatre for surgical operations.

During the autumn of 1829, the wings of the Hospital were considerably extended, and the additional space thus gained was converted into nurses' rooms, apartments for baths, and water-closets; a freer ventilation was also greatly promoted by enlarging the windows in the northern and southern extremities of the building, &c.; for which, and sundry other repairs, the sum of $7,128 was expended.

The edifice is crowned with a handsome cupola, which affords a most extensive and picturesque view of the city, harbor, and adjacent country. There is an excellent kitchen-garden; and the grounds are laid out in walks, planted with fruit and ornamental trees, for the benefit of convalescent patients.

The building denominated the Marine Department is also of grey stone. It is situated on the southerly side of the ground, at a short distance from the principal building, and corresponding with it in its exterior appearance and style of architecture.

This building, on account of the declivity of the ground, has a sub-basement, besides a basement and two principal stories. Its length is 90 feet, it is 40 feet deep in the centre, and 65 feet at the wings, which project $12\frac{1}{2}$ feet on each side. The sub-basement contains 10 rooms, 11 feet long and $8\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide, and 9 feet high; three rooms $16\frac{1}{2}$ feet long and $11\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide, and a kitchen $28\frac{1}{2}$ feet long and $16\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide. There is a hall running through the centre, from one end to the other, into which the doors of the rooms or cells open, opposite to the windows. All the wards and rooms, except the four largest, and those in the upper story, are arched with brick, and the walls are also brick, white-washed; so that there is no wood, and the walls being filled with brick, the building is completely fire-proof. The basement story contains the same number of rooms, and of the same size with those in the sub-basement. In each of the two principal stories are also ten rooms, 11 feet long and $8\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide, two rooms 17 feet long and $11\frac{1}{2}$ feet wide, and two rooms 24 feet long and 17 wide, which open into a hall 11 feet wide. The height of the principal story is $14\frac{1}{2}$, and of the upper story $12\frac{1}{2}$ feet.

The height of the building from the ground, in front, is about 46 feet. It contains thirteen large and sixteen small rooms, which are appropriated to sick seamen, and in which about 125 patients can be comfortably accommodated; besides which, there are a number of adjoining apartments, for bathing-rooms, water-closets, nurses' bed-rooms, &c.

Corresponding with this in its general architectural character, though differing in size and in many minor details, is the new or North Hospital, erected in 1841. It is placed on the north side of the main building, facing and parallel to the Marine Department. It is built of blue granite and the brown Connecticut sand-stone. It is 93 feet by 63, and three stories high, exclusive of the basement story. It is calculated to accommodate in the most comfortable manner, and in a great variety of rooms, admitting much classification and separation, about 115 patients. It was erected at an expense of nearly $50,000. Besides these edifices, there is a large and excellent low stone building for a laundry and other purposes, commodious stables, and finally another stone building reaching to the street on the south-east corner of the Hospital grounds, which is about 50 by 30 feet, of two stories, and fitted up for lectures, post mortem examinations, and the preparation and preservation of a Pathological Cabinet, formed from the morbid anatomy of cases occurring in the Hospital.

THE BLOOMINGDALE ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE.

Medical Treatment.—The report of a public institution, intended as it is for general readers, for persons mostly unconnected with the medical profession, is not a legitimate or appropriate organ through which to publish a detailed account of the subjects belonging to this department.

Opinions, however, which are but too extensively entertained, justify the assertion, in this place, that for mental alienation there is no grand specific, no universal restorative. If, according to the belief of the late Sir William Ellis, such specific “does exist somewhere in nature,” the world is none the wiser for it, since it has not been discovered. Nor, in the treatment of this disorder, is recourse had to any species of sorcery, witchcraft, incantation, magic, or other secret and mysterious process by which it is intended to charm the patient into the healthy use of his rational powers. The treatment is based upon the plain and practical principles of the science of medicine, principles which are alike applicable to all the bodily maladies to which the human race is liable. Insanity, like other diseases, must be managed according to its symptoms; and inasmuch as these are different in different cases, the treatment must be modified accordingly. And if it be, as it most undoubtedly is, a fact, that a much larger proportion of the insane recover in the asylums intended for their benefit, than would be cured were there no such institutions, it is because the medical men attached to those establishments devote their time almost exclusively to this peculiar branch of the profession, and hence ought to understand it more thoroughly than the general practitioner, and because the patients can be more strictly subjected to a course of medicine, and are more easily controlled by strangers than by their immediate relatives and friends.

It is believed, furthermore, that the vital interests of a portion of the community may to some extent be subserved by an expression of our belief in the deleterious consequences of the ordinary mode of commencing the treatment of insanity by repeated and copious bleeding. The abstraction of blood from the veins or arteries of those who are suffering under mental derangement, is but little practised in lunatic asylums, either in Great Britain or the United States. The lancet has probably confirmed and perpetuated more cases of insanity than it has cured. A man was admitted into this Asylum, in 1831, who had been bled from twelve to sixteen ounces every third or fourth day for the space of six weeks; and a woman was received in 1834, who, during some of her previous paroxysms, had been bled eighty or ninety ounces—say one gallon and a quarter, at each time. These patients are still here, confirmed maniacs for life.

During the past summer a man was attacked with insanity, and, although freely bled on alternate days, several times, continued to grow worse. At length, having attempted suicide, he was brought to the Asylum. Here he soon began to improve, and at the expiration of six weeks returned to his friends perfectly restored, and without the loss of any blood during his residence at the institution.

There are, undoubtedly, cases which require the use of the lancet, but they are rare. The indiscriminate employment of this method of depletion is highly injurious and reprehensible.

Moral Treatment.—Time was when the words "Lunatic Asylum" were almost synonymous with "bars, bolts, strait jackets, manacles, fetters and chains." It is doubtful whether, at the time, the term Moral treatment was in the least degree applicable to the internal policy of those establishments. Immoral was probably the more appropriate adjective. It is not intended, by this, to censure or condemn the conduct, or impugn the motives of the persons concerned in their management. They acted in accordance with prevailing sentiments, and by the light of all the then existing knowledge of insanity and the insane. But a brighter day has dawned upon the clouded existence of those who, in the dispensations of Providence, have been deprived of the use of reason. It has been found to be unnecessary to make them such complete outcasts from society, its attractions, its amenities, and its blandishments, so entirely to deprive them of the luxuries, the comforts, even the conveniences of civilized domestic life. It has been discovered that kindness is more powerful than "stripes and a dungeon," in the management of the insane. In short, it has been found that by treating them as honorable men and human beings, rather than as criminals and as brutes, by bringing around them a variety of objects and subjects attractive to the senses and interesting to the mind, by pursuing towards them a course of conduct founded upon good will and sustained by firmness, the greatest degree of quiet and contentment is secured to the patient, and the utmost possible probability of recovery attained.

This humane system of disciplinary treatment was begun, almost simultaneously, by Pinel in France and Tuke in England, and has since been introduced into a very large proportion of the asylums in all enlightened nations. Some of the first established institutions of the kind in this country commenced operations by the adoption of its principles in their management. Since that period, however, although the principles have remained the same, improvements have been made in the practical application of them, inasmuch that the condition of the inmates has been in an eminent degree ameliorated.

The fundamental elements of moral treatment are kindness and benevolence; the means or agents employed in bringing its influence to act upon the patient, are religious worship, instruction, manual labor, recreation and amusement.

Religious Worship.—The clergyman of a church in the neighborhood officiates regularly at the Asylum on the Sabbath. We have no chapel, but one of the capacious halls of the centre building forms a very good substitute. Being provided with chairs and settees, it affords comfortable accommodations for an audience of one hundred persons. The number of patients in attendance varies from fifty-five to seventy—or nearly two-thirds of the whole. Although some who, at first, are disinclined to attend the service, may be advised to join the audience, yet compulsion is never resorted to. Many of our patients are Catholics, and their course in reference to this subject is always optional to themselves. A large proportion of those who are accustomed to attend service, are capable of receiving and appreciating religious truth. In some cases where the intellectual faculties are deeply and permanently disordered, the sentiment of devotion remains unimpaired, and the fountain of religious feeling as pure as in the better days of the individual. And even upon those, in whom disease has wrought so deeply and extensively as to have impaired the moral perception, a regular attendance at divine worship is not without its beneficial effects. It revives the incidents of early life, it calls up the pleasing associations connected with childhood and with home; it disposes to calmness, quietude and reflection, wins the mind from the visionary fancies of disease, and render the individual happier and more contented.

There are some cases of extreme melancholy, of a religious character, and not unfrequently connected with a suicidal propensity, in which the mind is constantly brooding over its imagined "lost and undone condition," and the patient is disposed to be continually engaged in worship or the reading of religious books. I have known a few instances in which the indulgence of this disposition appeared to be decidedly injurious, increasing and prolonging the disease. But these are exceptions to a general rule.

The quiet and good order of our religious assemblies, the attention to the exercises, and the general observance of the proprieties of the place and the occasion, are such as to excite the admiration of persons who have never previously assembled with a congregation composed of the inmates of an institution like this.

HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE ACCOUNT OF THE ASYLUM.

Anterior to the commencement of the present century there was no institution in the state of New York, exclusively devoted to the accommodation and curative treatment of the Insane. Most of the individuals of that unfortunate class whose condition was such as to require a removal from their homes, were placed in Alms houses, prisons and other incommensurable and unsuitable receptacles. During a series of years, however, a certain number were received at the New York Hospital, and there subjected to the best method of treatment which the construction of the building and the then existing knowledge of the disease would admit. But as that edifice was not originally intended for patients laboring under mental disorder, its accommodations were inconvenient and inappropriate, and, as the number of applicants for admission increased, became entirely inadequate to the wants of the community. Hence, in 1806, it was resolved to erect a separate building, in immediate proximity to that already occupied, to be exclusively devoted to the class of patients referred to.

By order of the Board of Governors of the Hospital, and under their direction, the building was immediately commenced, and, in due time, completed, at an expense of about fifty-six thousand dollars. It was called the "Lunatic Asylum," and, being opened on the 15th of July, 1808, nineteen patients were transferred to it from the Hospital and forty-eight others admitted. With the exception of an Asylum at Williamsburgh, Va., this was the first establishment in the United States wholly appropriated to the care of the insane. It continued in operation until July, 1821, a period of thirteen years. During this time, fifteen hundred and fifty-three patients were admitted, of whom seven hundred and four recovered.

Meanwhile, the Board of Governors, "actuated by the desire of accommodating the still increasing number of applicants, of removing them from the noise and excitement inseparable from their situation in the midst of the city, and of introducing a course of moral treatment more extensive than had hitherto been practised in this country, purchased, in 1815, the grounds now occupied by this Institution, and erected thereon the principal edifice. It was completed in 1820, and opened for the reception of patients in June, 1821, when it received the name of 'Bloomingdale Asylum for the Insane.'” At subsequent periods, two other buildings were erected, by which the accommodations for patients were nearly doubled. The whole expense has been nearly two hundred thousand dollars.

From the time of opening the Institution to December 31st, 1844, the number of patients admitted was two thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, of whom one thousand three hundred and fifty-four were cured.

THE BLOOMINGDALE ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE

Is a Branch of the New York Hospital, and, through a delegated Committee of six of their number, is under the general control of the Board of Governors of that institution. It is situated near the Bloomingdale road, seven miles from the City Hall, upon an elevated and beautiful site, half a mile from the Hudson River. It commands a view of an extensive, diversified and delightful country, including portions of Long Island and the Sound, Staten Island, New Jersey, the Hudson and Harlem rivers, the Palisades, Fort Lee and Fort Washington.

The principal building is constructed of hewn stone. It consists of a central portion, occupied by the officers, and two wings devoted to the accommodation of patients. It is two hundred and eleven feet long, sixty feet wide and three stories in height, exclusive of basement and attic. There are two other buildings, each standing at right angles with the principal edifice, about one hundred feet in its rear, one at the eastern and the other at the western extremity. These are each three stories in height, sixty feet in length and forty in width.

The westerly half of the establishment is devoted to the male, and the easterly to the female patients, and each of these departments is separated into several subdivisions, for the purpose of a suitable classification of the inmates.

The grounds immediately adjacent to the buildings are handsomely laid out and planted with flowers, shrubs and the choicest fruit and ornamental trees.

The farm contains about fifty acres, a large portion of which is under high cultivation, and very productive. A substantial and commodious stone building, erected a few years since, serves the several purposes of barn, stable and carriage-house. A spring-house and ice house are on the premises, and a spacious and handsome green-house in the garden.

EXTRACTS FROM THE
TWENTY-FIFTH REPORT
OF THE
BLOOMINGDALE ASYLUM.

Moral Treatment.—Every event, condition and circumstance in the life of man—the quality of his food, his drink, his clothing, even of the air he breathes; the furniture of his apartments and his table, his walks, his rides, his amusements, his occupation, his reading—in short, every physical or intellectual agent to the influence of which he may be subjected, has an effect, for good or for evil, upon that part of his being which the French so happily term the morale. Whatsoever is true, in this respect, of man without the walls of an institution for the insane, is, generally, equally so of man within those walls.

No idea more erroneous was ever entertained, than that the mass of persons whose minds are disordered cannot appreciate the conveniences and comforts of civilized, domestic life. Humanity never wandered more widely from her proper path than when she placed the man bereft of reason upon a level with the felon.

It would appear that the moral treatment of the insane, like literature and science, felt the deteriorating influence of the dark ages. The ancient Egyptians, three thousand years ago, removed their patients to temples where “agreeable songs and melodious sounds perpetually charmed their ears, and gardens of flowers and ornamented groves furnished delightful walks and delicious perfumes. Every moment was consecrated to some diverting scene and amusement which had a most beneficial result on the diseased mind; interrupted the train of melancholy thought, dissipated sorrow, and wrought the most salutary changes on the body through the agency of the mind.”

Although much of the superstition of the Egyptians, and many of the ceremonies of their mystic religion were mingled with these enlightened measures, yet, upon the whole, the treatment was far more rational than that which has been recommended by some high authorities in comparatively modern times and among a people professing Christianity.

Dr. Cullen, one of the most eminent of the British physicians of his time, “considered it necessary to inspire mad patients with a feeling of awe and dread of those who are to attend them, and that this is to be acquired by stripes and blows.”

Burns, in expounding the principles of "Justice," asserts that "any man may justify confining and beating his friend, being mad." It might well be asked which of the two, the maniac or his "friend," would, under such circumstances, be the most truly mad.

For centuries, however, this system was pursued in the treatment of the insane, and, even at the present time, is not abolished in some places. In the most enlightened communities, there is still an impression that persons of disordered mind can be governed only through fear. But few ideas are more erroneous than this. It is not intended that fear shall enter, as a principle, into the system of management pursued at this institution, and all measures calculated to inspire the patients with awe, are as far as possible avoided.

Show the insane man that you feel an interest in his case, that you really consult his welfare; that you will even submit to some self-denial or self-sacrifice to promote his interests, and, in nineteen cases out of twenty, you have secured a friend who will be the foremost to protect you from injury. There are but very few persons laboring under mental derangement who cannot be approached as a brother would meet a brother. There is no place in all the earth where the infant can be more safely entrusted than in most of the halls of a well regulated asylum for the insane; and none where the little child is more petted and caressed.

It is a fact which probably will not be questioned, that, in what point of view soever the subject be considered, the true policy in an institution like this, is to make it, as far as the circumstances and condition of the patients will admit, an agreeable home. Render the insane comfortable, and a great point is gained, not only in preserving quiet in the house, but in hastening a cure, if a cure be possible. It is believed to be the honest endeavor, not only of the Committee, but of the officers and others concerned in the management of the Asylum, to effect the object mentioned.

The apartments of the patients are well furnished, their tables mostly set with cloths and all the furniture used in private families, and well supplied, in both quantity and quality, with a sufficient variety of meats, vegetables, pastry and fruit. They have access to a variety of means for instruction and amusement, a more particular account of some of which may not be devoid of interest.

Religious Worship.—With a single exception, the religious services on the Sabbath have been continued throughout the year. Of the two hundred and thirty-one persons who have been in the Asylum as patients during the year, one hundred and ninety-eight have attended some portion of the time. The greatest number present at any time was seventy-nine, of whom fifty-one were males and twenty-eight females. The least number at any time was forty-five, and the average number for the year, sixty-three.

With the officers, attendants and others employed in the establishment, the audience is increased to from ninety to one hundred and ten.

As great a degree of order prevails as in most assemblies convened for divine worship. The experience of the past year has wrought no change in the opinion that attendance at religious services holds an important rank among the means of moral treatment. The disciplinary effect is almost invariably favorable, while a more important advantage is frequently obtained.

Instruction.—About the 1st of September a school was commenced in the men's department, in which the ordinary branches of a common English education are taught, together with chemistry, natural philosophy, and geometry. Most of the patients that attend, read and write, and many of their writing-books are filled with neatly written copies. A large proportion study either geography or arithmetic.

Although the actual amount of available knowledge acquired must necessarily be small, excepting, perhaps, by a few of the younger patients, yet the school may be accounted as one of the most valuable auxiliaries in the moral treatment. In reviewing the studies pursued in early life, old associations are awakened, the pleasing recollections of school-boy days are revived, and the mind is thus won, for a time, from the delusions of disease. Many patients are ordinarily inclined to write, either for amusement or for the purpose of communicating with their friends. The school-room is the resort for these, where materials for writing are always at hand. In this way, no small amount of inconvenience has been avoided.

A school has this advantage ;—it keeps a larger number of the patients under the influence of a curative discipline during a greater portion of the time than any of the other means of moral treatment.

for lunatics, and which cost in the erection the sum of six thousand dollars.

A Hospital of hammered stone, three stories high, and calculated to accommodate invalids, and finished in 1836, at a cost of ninety thousand dollars and upwards.

A Superintendent's House, Physician's House, barns, outhouses, and offices, together with the usual and necessary stores, medicines, implements, furniture, and stocks appropriated to such an establishment.

The Board of Trustees had on deposit to their credit in the Merchant's Bank, on the first of January, 1846, the sum of six thousand and twenty-nine dollars and thirty-eight cents, and five thousand six hundred dollars invested in state stocks, bearing six per cent. interest. And their outstanding debt on that day, exclusive of the unsettled debt of forty-five thousand dollars due to the State, amounted to about one thousand three hundred dollars; besides which, the Health Commissioners have a claim against them, for the treatment of invalid seamen at the Quarantine, during the year 1845, the amount of which has not yet been ascertained.

The Hospital at present used for the accommodation of the sick and disabled, is calculated to accommodate two hundred patients. On the 1st of January, 1845, there remained under treatment one hundred and eight white, and thirty colored patients, of whom thirteen are considered incurable, and are of course tenants for life.

The establishment is provided with a place of worship, at which the chaplain of the Retreat regularly officiates. An apothecary's shop and baths throughout. The bread consumed is baked on the premises, and the clothes of each patient regularly washed and ironed. The old Hospital is used as a Lunatic Asylum, and contains accommodations for fourteen lunatics. About twelve acres are devoted to raising vegetables and garden stuff for the establishment; and the whole of the premises, it is proposed, as your Committee are informed, to surround with a durable wall, whenever the means of the Institution shall justify the expense.

Letter Boxes are placed at one hundred Stations in various parts of the city, and letters deposited therein, will be punctually delivered three times a day (Sundays excepted), at three cents each; option being given, either to free the letters in the manner shown in the following regulations, or leave the postage to be collected of the party to whom the letter is addressed.

An additional number of Sworn Carriers have been employed to carry the City Letters, wholly independent of Letters received by the Mails.

The Compiler is indebted to M. Monson, Esq., the polite and gentlemanly Cashier of the New York City Post Office, for the following statistics of that office.

From 75,000 to 100,000 newspapers are received for delivery and distribution per day. This is a much larger number than under the old law.

About 27,000 letters and circulars pass through this office per day. This includes those received for delivery, and those sent to the various offices throughout the Union. This number exceeds by one-half that under the old law.

The receipts fall below those under the old law almost one-half, and are increasing very slowly.

There were received by the steam-ship Hibernia, on Saturday, January 24th, 10,000 letters for city delivery, and for the different offices throughout the United States 9,000, making, in all, 19,000 letters; and of newspapers for this delivery and distribution, 112 bushels. This immense quantity of letters and newspapers was ready for delivery and distribution in three and a half hours after their arrival.

There are about 85 persons employed in this office, including carriers, &c.

It will be seen from the above, that although the amount of business is increased in all departments nearly one-half, yet the receipts fall below those under the old law nearly one-half. This might reasonably have been anticipated in a country so extensive and so sparsely settled as ours; but in a few years, when our contemplated railroads are completed, and the new system gets into full operation, there is no doubt but it will work well, and to the entire satisfaction of all parties interested.

wide on the outside angle of the embankment; containing an area of 35 acres, divided into two divisions, and is (a little over) 5 miles from the City Hall. From the Receiving Reservoir a double line of iron pipes, three feet in diameter, is laid down in Eightieth street and Fifth avenue, to convey the water 2.176 miles, to the Distributing Reservoir at Murray Hill. The location of this Reservoir is on the Fifth avenue, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, and is three miles from the City Hall; it is 420 feet square on the cornice of the exterior wall, and contains an area of 4.05 acres, divided into two equal divisions, and has an average elevation of 44.5 feet above the level of the streets around it.

The Receiving Reservoir has a capacity of 150,000,000 imperial gallons, as it now stands.

The Croton Reservoir (which has received the name of Croton Lake) covers about 400 acres of land, and is available as a reservoir for 500,000,000 imperial gallons of water, above the level that would allow the Aqueduct to discharge 35,000,000 gallons per day. The flow of the Croton is about 27,000,000 gallons in twenty-four hours at the lowest stages, which continues, with moderate rises by occasional rains, from two to three months in the year. This may be considered the minimum capacity of the river. When the wants of the city shall require a daily supply of 35,500,000 gallons, it will be necessary, during the season of lowest water, to draw daily from this Reservoir, 8,000,000 gallons, to make up the deficiency in the natural flow of the river. This amount the Reservoir would supply for 62 days, without any aid from occasional rains; which may safely be relied upon, to keep up the required supply from the Reservoir, beyond any drought we have any ground to apprehend. The supply of the Croton, from its daily flow, aided by this Reservoir, may therefore be taken, with great confidence, at 35,000,000 gallons, which will be very ample for the wants of the city for a long time to come; and when the day arrives that it will require a larger quantity, it may be obtained by constructing other reservoirs farther up the stream, where there are abundant facilities for such purposes.

RECORDS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

It is with great pleasure the compiler presents the following interesting proceedings, which were had in the Common Council in 1784, evincing the great esteem in which General Washington was held by the then municipal authorities. The attention of the reader is most respectfully requested to the following proceedings :

Mr. Mayor, according to order, presented the draft of an Address from this Corporation to His Excellency General Washington ; also the draft of a certificate of His Excellency's being admitted to the freedom of this City, which he read and laid upon the table ; and the same being again respectfully read, were unanimously approved of and agreed to by the Board, and are in the words following, viz. :

To His Excellency George Washington, late General and Commander-in-Chief of the Armies of the United States of America, the respectful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, in Common Council convened :

SIR—

When this City, after its restoration (25th of November, 1783), had the honour of your Excellency's presence, it was regretted that the derangements of its institutions suspended those public testimonials of respect, gratitude, and applause, which every heart truly American is solicitous to pay to your distinguished merits and services. The Corporation, since organized, resolved to embrace a proper opportunity to manifest the exalted sense which they entertain of both ; and are happy that your approach to the vicinity of this State will put it in their power to carry that resolution into effect.

The effusions of public esteem are the most welcome tribute to a patriot mind, and as none can have greater reason to cherish the most honourable and affectionate sentiments towards you than the citizens of the State of New York, so we have the fullest confidence that there is no State in which they are more generally and emphatically felt. Flattering ourselves that you are convinced of the truth, we are led to hope that it may not be displeasing to you to have your name enrolled among the citizens of a metropolis, for the recovery of which so much of your care and solicitude have been employed.

On the present occasion we would wish to convey to your Excellency a just idea of the admiration we feel for the virtues you have displayed in the late revolution ; but justice to the illustrious part you have acted, would oblige us to adopt that strong language of panegyrick which we fear would wound the delicacy for which you are conspicuous. We shall, therefore, only indulge ourselves so far as to observe that it is to your glory, through all the vicissitudes and embarrassments of a Revolution, through alternate scenes of prosperous and adverse fortune, never to have known a moment when you did not possess the full confidence and esteem of your country ; and after having, by the Divine favour, most essentially contributed to establish the liberty and independence of thirteen republicks, it is your peculiar glory to have cheerfully retired from the head of a victorious army to the modest station of a private citizen.

Permit us to add our fervent Prayer that your Excellency, in just reward of such eminent services and virtues, may be crowned with every blessing which a grateful country and indulgent heaven can bestow. —

City of } ss. By James Duane, Esquire, Mayor, and the Re-
New York, } corder and Aldermen of the City of New York.

To all to whom these Presents shall come or may concern, Greeting:

Whereas, His Excellency, George Washington, late Commander-in-Chief of the Armies of the United States of America, by a series of the most illustrious services, is entitled to the respect, gratitude, and applause of every heart who is truly American ; and as none can have a greater reason to cherish the most honorable and affectionate sentiments towards him, than the citizens of New York, so we have the fullest confidence that there is no State in which they are more generally and emphatically felt.

Flattering ourselves that, convinced of this truth, his Excellency may be pleased to have his name enrolled among the citizens of a Metropolis for the recovery of which so much of his care and solicitude has been employed: NOW, therefore, know ye that we, considering the effusions of public esteem are the most welcome Tribute to a patriot mind, have admitted and received, and by these Presents do admit and receive his said Excellency to be a Freeman and Citizen of the said City;—To hold, exercise, and enjoy all the rights, privileges, and immunities, to the freedom and citizenship of said city, incident and appertaining; as a permanent proof of the admiration we feel for his exalted virtues—for the wisdom, fortitude, and magnanimity which he hath so gloriously displayed, through all the vicissitudes and embarrassments—through all the alternate scenes of prosperous and adverse fortunes, produced in the progress of an arduous and difficult war; and finally for that patriotic heroism which, after having been an essential Instrument in giving, by the Divine blessing, Liberty and Independence to thirteen Republicks, hath led him to retire with cheerfulness from the head of a victorious army, to the modest station of a private citizen. In Testimony of these truths, and to perpetuate them to our remotest posterity, we, the said Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen have caused these presents to be entered on our Public Records, and our common seal of the said city to be enclosed in a Golden Box to be thereunto affixed.

Witness, James Duane, Esquire, Mayor of the said City, this 2d day of December, in the year of our Lord 1784, and of the Independence, the ninth.

Ordered, That the said Address and Certificate be engrossed—that Mr. Mayor subscribe the address on behalf of this Corporation, and that the common seal of this Corporation be affixed to the said Certificate, and that Mr. Mayor, who is going to Philadelphia on public business, be requested in the name of this Corporation, to present the said Address and Certificate with the Golden Box to his Excellency, who is expected at that place, otherwise that Mr. Mayor transmit the same to his Excellency by such conveyance as he may conceive most proper.

Mr. Mayor produced to the Board a Letter from his Excellency General Washington, covering his answer to the Address of this Corporation of the 2d December last, which said answer is in the following words, viz. :

To the Honourable the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York :

GENTLEMEN—

I received your address and the freedom of the City with which you have been pleased to present me in a Golden Box, with the sensibility and gratitude which such distinguished honours have claim to. The flattering expression of both stamps value on the acts: do call for stronger language than I am master of to convey my sense of the obligation in adequate terms.

To have had the good fortune, amidst the vicissitudes in a long and arduous contest, never to have "known a moment when I did not possess the confidence and esteem of my country," and that my conduct should have met the approbation and attained the affectionate reward of the State of New York (where difficulties were numerous and complicated), may be ascribed more to the effect of Divine Wisdom, which had disposed the minds of the people, harassed on all sides, to make allowances for the embarrassments of my situation, whilst with fortitude and patience they sustained the loss of their Capitol and a valuable part of their territory, and to the liberal sentiments and great exertions of her virtuous citizens, than to any merit of mine.

The reflection of these things now, after the many hours of anxious solicitude which all of us have had, is pleasing, as our embarrassments at the moment we encountered them were distressing, and must console us for past sufferings and perplexities.

I pray that Heaven may bestow its choicest blessings on your City; that the devastations of war in which you found it may soon be without a trace; that a well regulated and beneficial commerce may enrich all your citizens, and that your State (at present the seat of the empire) may set such examples of wisdom and liberality as shall have a tendency to strengthen and give permanency to the Union at home, and credit and respectability to it abroad; the accomplishment whereof is a remaining wish, and the primary object of all my desires.

Mr. Mayor having, at the request of the Board, proposed an Address from this Corporation to be presented to the President of the United States, he produced the same, which was read and agreed to by the Board, as follows, viz. :

To the President of the United States :

SIR—

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, beg leave to offer you our most respectful and affectionate congratulations on your safe arrival in this metropolis, and at the same time to express the general joy of our fellow citizens of every order on this auspicious event.

In thus presenting ourselves before you, we experience all the emotions which naturally arise, from a high veneration for your character, an exalted sense of your services, and a perfect conviction that a trust, the most momentous which could be conferred by a free people, has been committed to a citizen, who has given unequivocal proofs of his possessing all the good and great qualities, requisite to its successful discharge.

With peculiar pleasure, sir, we recall to mind that illustrious display of wisdom, virtue and valour which distinguished your military command: with equal pleasure we recollect the exemplary moderation which marked your retreat from the head of a victorious army to the shade of private life; permit us to add that we contemplate with pious gratitude, that unparalleled coincidence of circumstances which has constrained you, by motives that Patriotism could not resist, to re-engage in the arduous duties of a public station.

Long in the habit of serving you as the Father of our Country, we rejoice at the happiness of being once more placed under your protection; we consider the unanimity which prevailed in your appointment, as a presage that our National Government will be firmly established in the hearts of all the people, and receive their united and zealous support, and we are fully persuaded that, under the Divine Favour, its operation will be productive of the most extensive benefits and blessings, and render the Union as respectable in peace as, under your auspices, it was triumphant in war.

To our most fervent wishes for your personal happiness, and for the success of your administration, we should not do justice to the sentiments of our fellow-citizens, if we did not add the strongest assurances of their inviolable attachment to you, and of their earnest disposition to render you all the support which can flow from the most cordial respect, gratitude, and confidence.

Signed, in behalf of the Corporation,

Ordered, That Mr. Recorder, Alderman Gilbert, and Mr. Van Gelder, wait on the President to know when and where he will be pleased to receive the said Address.

Mr. Mayor and the members of the Corporation, with their proper officers, having waited on the President of the United States, and presented their Address of this Corporation, he was pleased to make the following answer thereto, viz. :

To the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York :

GENTLEMEN—

The affectionate address presented by the Magistrates, and the general joy testified by the citizens of New York, on my arrival in this metropolis, have filled my mind with mingled emotions of gratitude and satisfaction.

In accepting the momentous trust, which has been spontaneously committed to me by a free people, it was not enough to have felt a consciousness of having acted in conformity to the dictate of Patriotism, it was not enough to have known that I met the wishes of my fellow-citizens, but it seemed that these farther pledges were wanting to overcome the diffidence I had in my own abilities, and the reluctance I experienced at engaging in such new and arduous affairs.

Unelated by your too favourable appreciation of my past services, I can only pour forth the effusions of a grateful heart to Heaven, if I have been made in any degree an instrument of good to my country; and, although I am far from claiming any merit for retiring, in the manner I did, from a military command to the shade of private life, yet I am pleased to find that your candour has done justice to the principles by which I have been actuated on the present occasion. No circumstances in my conception can be more consolatory to a public man, especially to one truly sensible that the purest intentions cannot always preserve him from error, than a knowledge that his countrymen are disposed to consider the motives for his conduct with that liberality, which is reciprocally necessary for all who are subject to the frailties of human nature.

In this place I cannot avoid expressing an anxious apprehension, that the partiality of my countrymen in my favour has induced them to expect too much from the exertions of an individual. It is from their co-operation alone I derive all my expectations of success. Indeed, the unanimity which has prevailed in some instances, is a happy presage that our national Government will be firmly established in the hearts of the People, and receive their united and zealous support. From the accommodating spirit which has been displayed in respect to the Constitution, I anticipate that the Government will, in its operations, be productive of the most extensive utility, by rendering the Union as respectable in Peace as it was triumphant in War.

I feel a just sense of your fervent wishes for my personal happiness and the success of my Administration. I pray you, gentlemen, to accept in return my cordial thanks for these demonstrations of affection, as well as for the assurances you have given of the attachment of your fellow-citizens.

Mr. Mayor informed the Board that His Excellency the Governor was returned to the City, and that, according to order, the Recorder and himself had prepared an Address to His Excellency, together with a certificate of the freedom of this City, which were read and unanimously approved of by the Board, and were as follows, viz. :

To His Excellency George Clinton, Esq., Governor of the State of New York, &c., &c., the respectful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY—

We, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, congratulate your Excellency on your return to this metropolis from the western frontier.

The uprightness of your conduct, your uniform zeal for the public good, and the important part, both in the field and in the Senate, which you have acted in vindicating the liberties of America, have justly elevated you to a high place in the confidence and esteem of your country. SIR—

Be pleased to accept the congratulations of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York, on your safe return to the place of your nativity.

The Revolution which hath secured our Liberties and Independence, will not be more celebrated for the illustrious events which have marked its progress, than for the roll of statesmen and heroes by whose wisdom and valour under the Divine favour it hath been established on the most solid basis.

Amongst these worthy patriots, you, Sir, are highly distinguished in our own convention—in our first seat of Justice as a member, and as President of the United States in Congress assembled, and as a minister plenipotentiary both in Spain and France—you have executed the important trust with wisdom and firmness and integrity, and have acquired universal applause.

While you thus possess the national confidence and esteem for eminent services, we, your fellow citizens, feel a similar pleasure in embracing this opportunity to present you with the freedom of your native city as a public testimony of the respectful sentiments we entertain towards you, and as a pledge of our affection, and our sincere wishes for your happiness.

Ordered, That Aldermen Lott, Gilbert and Ives, wait on Mr. Jay to know when and where he will be pleased to receive this Board with the said Address; that they inform Mr. Mayor of his answer, and that Mr. Mayor convene the members to wait on him accordingly.

MONDAY NOON, Oct. 4th, 1784.

Mr. Mayor having convened the members of the Corporation, they proceeded to wait on Mr. Jay with their Address, to which he was pleased to make the following answer :

To the Worshipful the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York :

GENTLEMEN—

Accept my warmest thanks for your affectionate congratulations on my return to my native country, and for the particular mark of approbation with which you have honoured my endeavours to do my duty in promoting its welfare. I consider the day on which I again landed on these shores as one of the happiest with which an indulgent Providence has blest me; and the satisfaction was increased by finding my fellow-citizens in the enjoyment of public tranquillity and private security, under the auspices of magistrates who had given early proofs of attention to both.

I cannot omit this opportunity of offering to you, gentlemen, my congratulations on our having attained the objects of a war, in the course of which America in general, and this part of it in particular, displayed exemplary magnanimity and perseverance, and exhibited to the world the singular spectacle of a patriot army among citizens peaceably retiring with their great and good Chief, crowned with laurels and the blessings of the people, to fill the various stations of private life.

If we cultivate the virtues and observe the policy requisite in peace, with the attention paid to those which (with the blessing of heaven) gave success to the war; if our views be national, our union preserved, our faith kept, war, however improbable, provided for, knowledge diffused, and our Federal Government rendered efficient, we cannot fail to become a great and happy people.

This being a land of light and liberty, I bless God that it is the land of my nativity. Here my forefathers (from France, after the edict of Nantes, 1604) sought and found freedom and toleration. I am bound to it by the strongest ties, and as its happiness has been the first object of my endeavours from early life, so the most fervent wishes for its prosperity shall be among those of my latest hours.

GENTLEMEN—

While I am honoured with so flattering marks of your esteem, it is a peculiar gratification for me to receive them in this City, where, with delight, I see the triumphant Restoration of the American Flag.

Amidst the hardships of war which so heavily fell upon you, it has been your noble task to give to the world an example of disinterestedness and fortitude.

To unite with you in common efforts and common wishes became my fortunate lot; and although, from a powerful co-operation, then in readiness, we had a right to expect the re-possession of New York, yet did I feel much happier in the far better method, by which the end of your exile was made the signal for restored peace.

In the precious Testimonies of your partiality, now offer'd me, I most pleasingly enjoy the new tie that connects me with this city, and whilst I ardently share with you in every concern for its prosperity, I beg leave to assure you, that the warmth of my zeal can only be equalled by the feeling of my respect and gratitude.

To the Hon. Frederick William, Baron De Steuben, late Major-General and Inspector-General in the Armies of the United States of America, the Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York:

In offering testimonials of the respect of this Corporation for individuals who have distinguished themselves in our happy Revolution, we cannot be unmindful of the merits of Baron De Steuben.

We recollect with pleasure, sir, among other important services which you have rendered, that to your well-directed efforts this country is essentially indebted for the introduction of that system into our military establishments on which the reputation and success of our arms so much depended. The battle of Monmouth, soon after the commencement of your labour, and every subsequent event of the late war, are memorable proofs of the utility of that system in the field; and the records of Congress bear testimony in how great a degree it contributed to promote the interests of national economy.

As a public mark of the sense we entertain of your services, and of our esteem for you personally, we present you with the freedom of the City, within the limits of which you have chosen your residence. We shall only add, that the interest which we take in your happiness dictates our warmest wishes; that you experience from the citizens of this State at large every species of distinction and acknowledgement which can contribute to render that residence agreeable.

MONDAY, OCT. 11th, 1784.

Mr. Mayor having convened the members of the Corporation, they proceeded to wait on the Baron De Steuben with their address, to which he was pleased to make the following answer, viz :

To the Honourable the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York.

GENTLEMEN :

The flattering testimonials you have condescended to give me of your esteem, and the kind approbation with which you have been pleased to reward my well meant endeavours to render service to America in the late arduous contest, inspired me with a gratitude more easily felt than expressed.

It is not surprising, however flattering it may have been to me, that my services, whatsoever they may have been, should be recollected by so important and respectable a part of the community, which has never ceased to remember those of their own officers, by whom I have been so effectually assisted. To the abilities and merit of the officers, and the singular docility of the soldiers with whom I had the honour to serve, America is in the highest degree indebted for that discipline, order, and economy which finally distinguished her Army. To none is she more obliged than those of this State. And I am happy in having this opportunity of acknowledging how much I am indebted to them for the success of the system it became my duty to propose.

I accept with the most lively sense the honour conferred on me by this mark of personal attention. If anything could add to its value, it would be enhanced by the manner of your bestowing it. The proofs I have had of the esteem of the inhabitants of this city have convinced me that I have made a happy choice in fixing on my place of rest from my military labours. It will be my highest ambition to deserve the honour of being enrolled among them. Possessing the good opinion of my fellow citizens and their worthy magistrates, I can with the more confidence anticipate the friendship of those of the State at large, for whose prosperity I shall ever most gratefully and sincerely pray.

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

THE ANCIENT AND MODERN CITY HALLS.

The following interesting sketch of Public Buildings is selected from Goodrich's Picture of New York, published in 1829 :

Soon after the foundation of the City, our forefathers were impressed with the necessity of having a building wherein the citizens might assemble on all public occasions. Accordingly, in 1642, under the reign of Governor Keiff, and when the town was yet in its infancy (as in fourteen years after it had only 120 houses, and 1,000 inhabitants, including the garrison), a "Stadt Huys," State House or City Hall, also called the Stadt-herberg, or City Tavern, was built on the corner of Pearl street and Coenties alley, fronting the Slip, where Brinkerhoff's buildings now stand. It was built at the expense of the West India Company, and called the Company's Tavern, as it was partly devoted to the entertainment of strangers, who, on arriving in the city, were usually received under the hospitable roof of the Governor, which had probably been found inconvenient to him.

The building was of stone, three stories high, and some remains of the original edifice are yet to be discovered in vaults, or dungeons, in the cellar.

In this celebrated building the most important affairs of the City and Colony were transacted; courts were held; the transfers of Sovereignty were made in 1664 and 1674; the first school was held in it in 1652, and some time afterwards; the first Court of Admiralty in 1665, organized by Governor Nichols, was convened, and held their session there; and during the difficulties between Lesler and Bayard, in 1689, one party held possession of the fort, and the other of the City Hall; and the jail of the City was kept here for many years. In front of this building the militia paraded, and the stocks, whipping-post, and ducking-stool were placed; and also the wooden horse for riding criminals: and one of the redoubts, or half-moon batteries, was placed a little distance in advance, on the water's edge, to defend the City; and a stone wall was erected, to connect it with other works of the same kind, at the foot of Wall and Whitehall streets, and also to protect the town from the inroads of the water. That this building was existing, but in a decayed and ruinous state, in 1679, is evident from a record, that "at a session of the Supreme Court in New York, where a number of criminals were tried, it was feared the City Hall would not support the concourse of people that attended, and six studs and a plank were ordered to be purchased to secure the same."

It was disposed of at public sale to John Rodman, a merchant, in 1699, on the 17th August, for £920; and at the same time a new and more commodious edifice, under the same name, was ordered to be erected: and "A committee was appointed to view the Block House, near the Governor's Garden, to see if it can be fitted into a prison," until the new Hall and Court House could be finished, which was done about the year 1700, and was situated on the corner of Nassau and Wall streets, where the Custom House now stands; it cost £1151 (18s. 3d. less than the furniture of a single room in the present City Hall), and of course was a modest, plain, and substantial edifice, sufficient for those days of primitive simplicity, and is correctly represented in a plan of this City in MS., drawn by Mr. David Grim, deceased, and now deposited in the New York Historical Society. This building continued, with occasional repairs and alterations, until after the war of the Revolution, and the assembling of the Congress of the United States in this City in 1787 and 1789, preceding which the building was altered and very much enlarged for their accommodation, by the Corporation of the City, at a heavy expense for that period, and continued to remain until demolished in 1811. It had a spacious portico projecting into Wall street several feet, and resting on arches, with arcades underneath, and extending round into Nassau street. From the portico of the second story, and facing Broad street, General Washington was inaugurated first President of the United States.

When this second City Hall was erected in 1700, it was located at what was then termed the north end of one of the principal streets, Broad street, which has now become quite the southern extremity of the City, by the revolution of a single century; and it is not improbable that another century may find the present, third and last City Hall quite as far removed from the centre of this metropolis.

The present City Hall is the most prominent and important building in New York. Situated in the Park, with a spacious and noble area around, it is seen to great advantage in every direction, and forms to the eye of a stranger one of the handsomest structures in the United States; and, perhaps, of its size, in the world.

Justice is not blind-folded as she is represented in Europe.

The building is of a square form, two stories in height, besides a basement story. It has a wing at each end, projecting from the front, and in the centre of the roof is elevated, to form an attic story. The whole length of the building is 216 feet, the breadth 105, and the height 51 feet. Including the attic story, it is 65 feet in height. The front and both ends, above the basement story, are built of native white marble, from Stockbridge, Massachusetts; and the rest of the building is constructed of brown freestone. The roof is covered with copper, and there is a balustrade of marble entirely round the top. Rising from the middle of the roof is a cupola, on which is placed a colossal figure of Justice, holding in her right hand, which rests on her forehead, a balance, and in her left a sword, pointing to the ground.

There are four entrances to the building: one in front, one in the rear, and one in each end. The front, which is the principal, is on the first story, to which there is access by a flight of 12 marble steps, rising from which there are 16 columns supporting a portico immediately over the entrance, also composed of marble. In the centre of the rear of the building there is a projecting pediment. The entrance in this quarter is also on the first story, by a flight of freestone steps.

The first story, including the portico, is of Doric, the second of the Corinthian, the attic of the Fancy, and the cupola of the Composite orders.

The foundation stone of this noble building was laid on the 26th September, 1803, during the mayoralty of Edward Livingston, Esq., and at a time when the yellow fever prevailed in the city. It was finished in 1812, and the expense, exclusive of the furniture, amounted to a half million of dollars.

Selected from the New York Mirror.

BY J. K. PAULDING, ESQ.

As particularly appropriate to the honest old-fashioned festival of the New Year so specially honored by the posterity of those ancient Hollanders whom we hold in all reverence, we present to the readers of the Mirror a view of the first "Stadt Huys" ever erected in New Amsterdam. The following little sketch of that venerable town in 1673, is from "The Historic Tales of Olden Time," by Mr. John Watson, a work we have already more than once applauded for its interesting recollections, and which we again recommend to the notice of our fellow citizens. The tale which follows is a translation from an ancient Dutch manuscript, found among the papers of the late Adrianus Coeyeman, by the respectable antiquary to whom we are indebted for various valuable communications.

"At the time," says Mr. Watson, describing an old map of New Amsterdam, "almost all the houses presented their gable ends to the street, and all the most important public buildings, such as the Stuyvesant 'Huys,' on the water's edge, at present Moore and Front streets, and the 'Stadts Huys,' or City Hall, on Pearl street, at the head of Coenties Slip, were then set in the foreground to be the more seen from the river. The chief part of the town of that day lay along the East river, called Salt river, in that time, and descending from the high ridge of ground along Broadway. A great artificial dock for vessels lay between Stuyvesant Huys, above referred to, and the bridge over the canal at its débouche on the present Broad street. Three half moon forts called Rondeels, lay at equidistances, for the defence of the place; the first at Coenties Slip and the third at the 'water-gate,' on the outward bounds of the city, being the foot of the present Wall street, so called from its being then shut in there by a line of palisades along the said street, quite over to the junction of Wall and Lombard streets, where the North river limits then terminated in a redoubt.

"By a map referring to the year 1729, it was shown that there was no street beyond the Broadway westward, but that the lots on the western side of that street descended severally to the beach; that from Cortlandt street northward, all the ground west of Broadway was occupied by trees and tillage, and called 'King's Farm.' The eastern side of the City was all bounded by Water street, having houses only on the land side, and its northern limits terminating at Beekman street. At the foot of Broad street were two great docks, called West and East Dock, as they lay on either side of Broad street. They occupied the ground now built upon from Water street, and from the east side of Moore street nearly to Coenties Slip. Between Moore street and Whitehall street lay the ship-yard, and all along where now tower stately trees on the Battery promenade, lay numerous rocks, forming 'the Ledge,' having the river close up to the line of the present State street, fronting the Battery."

Such were the bounds of this City little more than a century ago, and the manners of the citizens corresponded with the simplicity of a primitive settlement. Industry, economy, and sobriety, were their peculiar characteristics. All their frolics were crowded into five great festivals, into which they condensed probably more real pleasure and hilarity than the votaries of dissipation enjoy during a whole year. The first of these great festivals was called "Kerstyd," or Christmas; the second, "Nieuw-Jar," or new Year; the third, "Pinster," or Whitsuntide; the fourth, "Pass," or Passover; the fifth, "Santa Claus," or St. Nicholas. At all these times the children, apprentices, and negroes, were allowed a sort of saturnalia, and enjoyed themselves to the full measure of unrestrained hilarity. They were anticipated and prepared for, days and weeks beforehand, and neither schoolboy, apprentice, nor negro, could resist the threat of being deprived of their holiday, if they did not behave themselves well. Neither ghosts, goblins, nor birch, were such conservators of good behavior as these famous old festivals. The idea of being shut from them was horrible. Great simplicity of manners prevailed. The young women put off their Sunday dress as soon as they came from church, and set about their preparations for meals. The young men did the same. By this means, a Sunday dress lasted a whole life, and many a broad-brimmed and three-cornered cocked-hat became heir-looms in families, descending from generation to generation, for the fashions never altered. Suppers of chocolate and bread were considered such unseemly luxuries that it was recorded that the Rev. Dr. Laidlie, on his arrival from Holland, preached "right lustilye" against these luxurious abominations, which sometimes kept the families awake till nine o'clock at night. But these exhortations were of little effect, since he was the first divine who introduced this "outlandish practice" of preaching in English, whereby his admonitions, as it were, fell dead to the ground. Their system of municipal government was equally simple. They had few laws, but these were rigorously enforced; and among the most common of their punishments, was a ride on a great wooden horse. Justice was promptly administered, for as there were few, if any lawyers, every man pleaded his own cause, or, what was more common, said little, and let it take its own course. The only long speech on record, is one of a certain pettifogger, or, as the chronicle has it, "Doddipol Jolterhead," Cobus Van Clapperclip, who, in pleading a cause concerning the right of geese to swim in the pond at the head of Nieuw street, before Alderman Van Schlepewalkher, did incontinently cause his client to be nonsuited, by tiring his worship's patience to such a degree that he fell into a deep sleep, and slept out the remainder of the term.

Whereas, For the peace and safety of the citizens, and at their request, the Burgomasters and Schepens have surrounded and inclosed the City on the land side, on a line along the East river on the beach, with palisades, and to their satisfaction have so far fortified it, that they have now for three weeks ceased from the work : Now, for the farther fulfillment of their promise to put the whole fortress in a state of defence, as to be a safe place for retreat in conformity with their own representations and resolutions, passed and signed on the 15th of March, 1653, hereunto annexed, in consequence of which (their resolutions and promises) we have forced forward the Company's, yes, our own needed works, and in which our own, as well as the Company's band of negroes, have assisted by their labours :

Therefore, Now the aforesaid Burgomasters and Schepens are not only requested, but exhorted most earnestly, to urge on the fulfillment of their promises, both in furnishing such sums of money and completing the now almost finished fortress, as they by their signatures have promised.

The Burgomasters and Schepens are particularly requested and exhorted, that by virtue of promises made another half year ago, they go to work, have a care that the hogs may be driven away and kept from the ramparts and works of the fortress, by some persons appointed out of their College, or out of the Commonality; or in failure thereof we shall be under the necessity to employ such means as may be furnished me by our foregoing resolutions and foregoing proclamations.

Furthermore, The Burgomasters and Schepens are supplicated in the civilest and most friendly manner to make a disbursement of iron work and nails, verbally promised through Paulus Leendersen, through the failure of which the works needed by the Company and the State are retarded; and, moreover, the payment for hand and side arms received, and by the Burgomasters and Schepens distributed among the citizens.

Finally, It is above all necessary that both the City of New Amsterdam and the fortress be supplied with necessary provisions, particularly bread-corns, without which all the labor done to the fortifications will be vain; in this matter the Burgomasters and Schepens are most earnestly requested and exhorted to devise effective and prompt measures to procure bread-corn before want overtakes us. Of all which we have thought proper to remind the Burgomasters and Schepens, for the purpose of acquitting ourselves from all blame and censure, and we expect a speedy answer.

Affectionate friend and director,

J. STUYVESANT.

Whereas, There are reports, however vague, concerning a certain gathering of the English people in the north, particularly in Rhode Island, the Burgomaster and Schepens are forewarned to give to no burger or inhabitant any consent to withdraw; and the fiscall has it in charge to give passes to no vessels before all such persons in said vessels shall have come out of them, according to the beforementioned order, until from the falsity of the rumors it shall be ordered otherwise.

At a meeting of the Burgomasters and Schepens, at which were present their High Mightinesses,

Arent Van Hatten,
 Martin Krigier,
 Paulus Leendensen Van Grist, Willhelm Beeckman, and Maximilyamus Van Gheel.

Having examined the written propositions of his High Mightiness the Director, of the date of the 28th of July, 1653, they return thereto for answer—

First, That this town of New-Amsterdam has been unfortunately brought to heavy trouble and great expense for defence.

With respect to the promise of furnishing from four to five thousand Guilders, we calculate that after the accounts of the expenses laid out shall have been cast up, it will appear the promised moneys have already been applied.

With respect to the promise of bringing the fortress into a suitable state of defence, it is answered, that citizens have redeemed and worked the same already by their former general work: besides, Business and all handicraft has been standing still, whereby they have been altogether getting in the back ground, and therefore they are disabled from doing what is required; in consequence of which, they pray the Director-General to excuse the Burgomasters and Schepens from burthening the citizens therewith as yet. Nevertheless, to evince their love and regard for the General Welfare, the Burgomasters and Schepens beseech the Director-General and Council that they will please to authorize them, in the Civil manner and at a more convenient time, to procure some moneys from the Commonality.

With respect to providing for this town and fortress bread-Corn, with your leave it is proposed that out of the College of their High Mightinesses, the Director-General, &c., and out of the College of the Burgomasters and Schepens, one person from each be commissioned to go to all the householders on the Low Lands, and to ascertain what quantity of grain can be procured for the strengthening of the common cause.

As respects the payment for the hand and Side Arms distributed among the Citizens, it is answered that the Citizens, General Officers are not as yet able to pay them, and if his High Mightiness the Director-General demands restitution, the Captain at arms shall cause them to be returned, and to be delivered to his High Mightiness the Director-General.

With respect to the restitution of the nails disbursed by your High Mightinesses, it is answered, that Arent Van Corlear has it in charge to purchase nails at Fort Orange, of which they have not yet received any information. In the mean while, may it please his High Mightiness to take into consideration what he has already received.

MOST WORSHIPFUL, GRACIOUS, AND DISTINGUISHED—

With great grief of heart do we witness, and we are obliged to witness the destruction that the Hogs are doing to the (Banks)* fortifications of Fortress Particularly now again as formerly, when the grass begins to put forth. Our ordinance in respect to this, made the last year at the instance of the Commonality, on their promise and engagement to put the Fort in suitable repair, and especially to keep away the hogs from the banks, was deemed salutary; but observing after the lapse of one year that but little or nothing had been done therein in relation to the fortress it was again destroyed.

Daily experience teaches us the necessity to make a protest against the non-fulfilment of the promises, through the failure and neglect of which we see the banks of the fortress destroyed, fallen into decay, and all our former work useless. The answer to our insinuation was, that the Commonality, now discharged from their commission and task in relation to the matter, had made and given it over to the Burgomasters and Schepens, who also had engaged to accomplish it. What has resulted from this remains unknown to us; but we see from personal observation, with pain and shame, that the hogs daily are about the bank, to the ruin of the same.

We therefore request of the Burgomasters and Schepens, that, by virtue of the promises heretofore given, order may be established; that the hogs may be kept therefrom; otherwise we shall be under the necessity of enforcing and executing our former order made in relation thereto.

Whereto we remain,

Most Worshipful, Gracious, and Distinguished,
Your High Mightinesses most affectionate friend,

Signed,

March, 1653.

P. STUYVESANT.

The Burgomasters and Schepens understand by the written communication this day delivered to us, that a hearsd-man shall be provided, and in the mean time repairs are going on as rapidly as possible. According to former promises of his High Mightiness the Governor-General, the posts for that purpose will be furnished.

Done at the City Hall (Town House), in Niew Netherland, this 31st of March, 1653.

RESPECTED AND PARTICULARLY DEAR FRIENDS—

We have repeatedly called the attention of your High Mightinesses to our own and our country's common interest and situation, and the hazardous consequences that may follow therefrom if not seasonably prevented, and also to the request most earnestly expressed that at this perilous crisis especially some remedial expedient might be suggested whereby the political, ecclesiastical and military ministers might be supported and kept free from complaining; the debt of the Government and Country paid; guns and munitions of war might be provided, and that those places whereon the preservation of the country depends might be maintained and defended against insolence, invasion, and attack of the enemy, has hitherto been fruitless and ineffectual. Lately (infirmity and necessity pressing on me), we requested from your High Mightinesses the restitution of nails loaned to you, by the failure whereof the Company's works must stand still, to the great detriment of the same; and also for the payment of ammunition supplied by the Company, and distributed among the Burgers, for the purpose of relieving and encouraging ourselves and the other servants of the Company. What intemperate reply you lately gave us, can be seen by the signature alone of the clerk. In the meanwhile, respected and particularly dear friends, not only do our distress and difficulty continue, of which we can best judge, but they have increased to such an extent, that we are brought to the very extremity. On the other side, we are pressed burdensomely, painfully, and importunately for payment by the company's creditors, to whom we are indebted, which we are willing to pay according to right and equity, and which we can do as soon as the Company's outstanding debts and tithes that are due shall have been satisfied and paid in.

On the other side, the political, ecclesiastical, and particularly the military ministers have been and are repeatedly dunning us for their necessary support; the last complaint, that by want of support they have been necessitated and driven against their will and disposition to lay down their service and arms at our feet, and for the preservation of their lives to seek day labour from the Burgher or householder.

To deny them this resort, and at the same time not to be able to provide for them the first, brings me to this extremity; and finding that your High Mightinesses are either unable or indisposed to give subsidiary relief, we are compelled to resort to this uttermost and last remedy, to wit: the calling in of the Company's debts that are standing out, collecting the tithes that are due, and other regalia, for which we have already, through our fiscal, dunned our debtors, but have found them indisposed towards satisfaction and payment: and we ourself may not be judged as a plaintiff and a judge at the same time, much less as we have been, formerly as well as now, unrighteously charged by the authorities, that we should be judged as an oppressor. We have decided to cite the debtors through the aforesaid plaintiff before your honorable court of justice, and having the proof of honest integrity to let you convene, only by these presents beseeching your High Mightinesses, in the stile of equity and justice in the cases, to render unto the plaintiff good and prompt expedition in your power towards the Company's being paid and satisfied, so that we may pay and satisfy, as aforesaid, the political, ecclesiastical and military ministers, and that for the common good they may be supported and kept without cause of complaint. Wherewith we remain as ever,

Respected and particularly dear friends,

Your friend and s't,

J. P. STUYVESANTT.

RESPECTED AND PARTICULARLY DEAR FRIENDS—

We cannot consistantly, with duty, omit protesting to your High Mightinesses against the injurious and intollerable destruction which we, to our great dissatisfaction have daily to witness, and which the hogs are making on the newly finished works of the fortress, through which the decay of the same must ensue; and whereas the Burgomasters and Schepens in violation of their solemn promises made by writing, and by words, were unwilling to lend their hands to the repairing and strengthening of the same, we had hoped certainly that they would have seen to it and exercised a care that what we have brought so far with so much anxiety and labour should not again be destroyed by the hogs, and thus our labours be rendered useless. It is certainly permitted in no place that cattle should run at large to the injury and damage both of individuals and of the public, without a broader interpretation.

In case this matter is not specially and promptly attended to by your High Mightinesses, We, by these presents, do protest, that necessity compels me to interfere therein, by the following order and proclamation.

Whereof, we by these presents aforesaid, do advertise the Burgomasters and Schepens, and clear ourselves of all the damage and injuries that may follow therefrom.

KIND FRIENDS—

Whereas, at the session of the Burgomasters and Schepens of this city, it has been resolved, with the advice of the Directors and Council to summon two commissioners out of each adjacent village, to wit: Amesport, Breukelen, and Midwont, for the purpose of deciding by a general vote, to address a missive to their High Mightinesses the Majores, concerning the situation of the country; therefore, we request the aforesaid villages by these presents forthwith to depute two commissioners each, and to send the same with full powers from their constituents to-morrow, being the 19th day of December, and to appear here at the City Hall.

We remain, Kind Friends,

The Burgomasters and Schepens of this City New Amsterdam.

To the Hon. and particularly dear friends, the inhabitants of the villages of Breuckelen, Amesport and Midwont, &c.

Noble, Right Honourable, wise and provident Lords, &c.

The interest that we feel in the welfare of this land, the prosperity of the Burgers over whom we are placed, and the improvement of this city, induces us to take the pen in hand, and to lay before your Noble and Right Honourable Lordships certain subjects (for your consideration) which having been well examined (we trust) we shall be able to accomplish what we regard as nothing else than the public weal, and with this confidence we take the liberty of saying:

That on the 2d of February of this present year, 1653, his Excellency, the Director General Stuyvesant did appoint us Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam, and then did give us (with all due reverence) a too narrow, too curtailed, and too limited instruction on the terms on which we are unable to governour Burgery in the manner we could wish to do.

Therefore we most humbly request your right Honourable Lordships to bestow upon us such a power as is not so much limited, but as far as it is practicable the same as the form of the Government of the beloved city of Amsterdam, from whom we have received the name of New Amsterdam. Being determined, nevertheless, should we or any of us be continued in office during the year, to discharge the duties of the same with fidelity to our honour and oath, until we shall receive from your right Honourable Lordships an answer to these Presents of ours.

In the Second place, we request that it may be permitted and granted to us, that we may ourselves choose a person to the office of Schout of this city, or at least that we may have the privilege of nominating a double number, from which their Excellencies the Director General and Councilors shall choose one—for as we have had hitherto no Schout of our own, we judge (with all due reverence) that we have not had a complete Bench of justice. It is true that the Fiscal Tienhoven has hitherto supplied that place, but with such little satisfaction to Burgery, and with indifferent respect to us, that we cannot comprehend how the said Tienhoven can consistently serve in the office of Schout, together with that of fiscal; for in quality as Fiscal, he acts against the Citizens, without our knowledge, puts them into prison, and releases them, and as it relates to the judgments issued by us, they are issued by him to their great contempt of our authority, and the incommoding of our Burgers of this city, who have requested from us a change in these premises, which will appear by copies accompanying this petition; and it is also our request that there may be made a separation of jurisdiction between the Fiscal of their high Honorable Lords, the Directors of the West India Company, and the appointed Schout; and how each is to exercise himself in his jurisdiction, whether Civil or Criminal.

In the Third place, Whereas, after several previous discussions had between his Mighty Lord, the Director General and ourselves, concerning the Excise of the wines and beers consumed in this City, the well advised Director General has granted the aforesaid excise unto us, yet with limitation and reserve, that the ecclesiastical and political ministers of this place shall receive their support therefrom; but since the revenue from the said excise is small and amounts to no more than the third part of the salaries and wages of the aforesaid ministers, and since the maintenance of the City works and other wants of the city, amounts to the whole revenue derived from the excise—we therefore request, in order to render it serviceable to us, that the aforesaid excise may be granted to us without any limitation. Nay, farther, that we may be authorized to enact certain new imposts and Taxes, such as a small seal, and other things such as we may judge to be for the best interests of the city, and the least burdensome to the Commonalty; and further, that we may have the farming out of the ferry from this place to Breuckelen.

To ascertain in the first place the amount of moneys that have been borrowed of Merchants on obligations, signed by the Governor General and by us, for the protection and defence of this City, and all having occurred in the past month of November and laid out in the making of the works and fortification, they in all amount (the money taken up and what the works have cost) to about the sum of Nine Thousand Guilders, for the payment of which, there has not been yet any provision made.

Furthermore, that we may be authorized to execute transports and deeds of conveyance of houses and lots within the City, the fee simple of which they have sold—and also the taking cognizance of vessels according to the customs of the City of Amsterdam, and that accordingly it may please your right Honorable Lordships to procure at our expense a City seal for us, separate from the seal of the province, and since in this critical conjuncture of the times, men are held in a state of continual alarm and apprehension of an incursion of the unfriendly English. It is therefore, very necessary to have a good system of defence; we, therefore, do request that your right Honorable Lordships would send us a goodly quantity of munitions of war, among which Muskets of 3½ feet barrel (so as to prevent their selling them to the Indians who desire not Muskets) to be distributed in time of need among the citizens. Finally, since we in our quality have no place of our Own, but are under the necessity of holding our Sessions in a house belonging to the West India Company, we therefore do most reverently petition your Right Honorable Lordships to give us the Ownership of the same as a free gift, which we are prepared to take into our charge and keeping, and to pay such sums as the wages amount to in building the same, and what yet remains (to be done) or otherwise by reasonable taxation, all which shall be done in a reasonable time.

This is what our Council have thought advisable to propose to your Right Honorable Lordships, requesting that you take a favourable notice thereof, in which case we do not doubt (with all due reverence) in least that our reasonable requests will reconcile us all, referring all in the mean time to the discretion of your Right Honorable Lordships, trusting moreover that in your wonted wisdom, you will manifest a due regard for the protection of the Lands, which in this critical time is altogether and in the highest degree absolutely necessary, for without this (Protection) and a well regulated policy, it is not possible that this Country can grow into a state of permanance and prosperity—but rather the contrary—it daily decreases ; and will at last fall to the ground, from which may the Almighty God (in his wise providence) protect us, whom we supplicate to take into his holy protection and keeping your Right Honorable Lordships personally and collectively and to dwell in you by his Spirit for the prosperity not only of this country, but also of other provinces under the government of the West India Company.

We are, and do remain, Your Right Honorable Lordships' most obedient Subjects, and for the good of the Country, your Lordships' humble Servants.

His Mightiness, the Schout, Cornelis Van Tienhoven handed in to the College, the following :

In the matter of the proposition of their Mightinesses, the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam.

The Director General and the Councillors of New Netherland give their consent, that as opportunity offers, a weighing house and a weighing scale shall be made and prepared, and as the weighing house shall be ready, then to digest and enact ordinances directing the weights and measures to be delivered thereafter which shall be made to conform to the weights and measures of Amsterdam, all the weights and measures of this province, in conformity with the former orders and resolutions in this matter heretofore issued and proclaimed. A copy of which shall be delivered to the Burgomasters and Schepens, to the end, that Schout shall according to the same all the weights and measures, and also mark them according to the standard that shall be fixed by the Burgomasters and Schepens.

With regard to these propositions concerning Orphan Masters, however much the director General and the Councillors approve of the carefulness of the Burgomasters and Schepens, yet it is to be considered that other appendages are required for this, before such an Orphan's Hall, after the form of Old Amsterdam, can be planned and accomplished; for which the compassion, and the beginnings of this first rising city have hitherto had but little opportunity; in the mean time it is not necessary for the purpose of obeying the command of God to regard the widows and the fatherless; It is required by the Director General and the Councillors, that the Deacons as guardians of Orphans shall have the care over Orphans and widows, and shall apply to the Burgomasters and Schepens, and if necessary through them to the Director General and Councillors, that over these, and such as are widows and orphans, and their estates, particular Curators may be appointed; whereupon, the Burgomasters and Schepens, or if necessary, the Director General and Councillors shall appoint such orders and Curators, as the necessity of the occasion may require, which Curators shall be responsible to the Burgomasters and Schepens; and in case that the Burgomasters and Schepens shall discover that the becoming attention has not been paid to the property and estate of the widows and orphans, they shall have the power of appointing Curators in the case, and to call the delinquents to account.

Apostille made by their mighty Lords, the Director-General and the High Councillors of New Netherlands, on the petition of the Burgomasters and Schepens, presented to the Director-General and Councillors, dated 19th of February, 1654.

The Directuer-General having reported to the session (of the Council) the verbal propositions in his conference with the Burgomasters and Schepens, for preventing the robberies of the English pirates, to raise forty men at the charge of the respective Colonial Villages ; and according to his recollection, the propositions would amount to about sixteen hundred Guilders' expense; adding that with the common consent of the respective villages can be furnished. The Director-General and Councillors will, by virtue of these commissions, proceed to making the levy. Thus done in the session of the Director-General and Council, held at New Amsterdam, in New Netherlands, this 23d of February, 1654.

By order of, &c.

P. STUYVESANT, Director-General.

CORNELIUS RUYVER, Secretary.

Apostille, made as before.

The Director-General and Councillors do certify by these presents that the Burgomasters and Schepens of this City may levy the requested Burger Excise on wines, brandy wines, and distilled liquors and beers consumed within this City, on the same condition and provision that the receiving of the tavern license has heretofore been granted, as will appear by Apostille (note or memorandum) of the date of the 23d of November, 1653.

With respect to the two per cent. on imported goods, the ten Stuyvers import on each vessel, great or small, and more, the increasing the water excise on exported merchantdize, wines and beers, the Director-General and Councillors excuse themselves from such, since such regulations (imports) concern the State in the general, and not one particular City or place.

The requests concerning the two carriers of beer that shall be sworn, this is postponed for farther consideration, &c. How and in what manner two such beer carriers could bring in the beers from the country, while they serve the Burgers, and how they shall carry them to the persons out of the City; and also, whether the brewer out of the City shall not be permitted to carry his own brewed beer in his own conveyance or waggon, into or out of the City.

The Secretary of the Director General and the Councillors, is by these presents, authorized to repair to the small bench of Justice of this City, and as Schout there to make known to the Burgomasters and Schepens, the resolutions of the Director General and the High Councillors in application, and more full declaration of the instruction given the 26th February, 1654, leaving an authentic copy for their behoof.

The Lord Director General having reported to the Councils, how that both the Burgomasters and a majority of the Schepens appeared before him on the 25th instant, and shewed themselves aggrieved that the Director General and Council, without their knowledge, should have interdicted and forbidden certain farmers' servants to ride the goose at the feast of Backus and shrove tide, for reasons, the Director General and Council thereunto moving: Besides in their time it has never been practised here. Moreover it is altogether unprofitable—unnecessary and criminal for subjects and neighbors to celebrate such pagan and popish feasts and to practice such customs; and yet notwithstanding the same (as the Burgomasters and Schepens sustain) may in some places of Fatherland be tolerated and looked at through the fingers; which interdict and ordinance the Court-Messenger, Claus Van Elslant, summoned the farmers' servants the day before the action, and having done it, they nevertheless, in the contempt and degrading of the High Authority, trespassed, whereupon certain of the delinquents were by the Fiscal legally cited and summoned before the Director General to be examined and mulched for their contempt as was proper, two or three of their number carried on with their threatening, cursing, deriding, and laughing at the High Council in an insolent contumacious manner, in the presence of the Director General and Councillors themselves, for this they were properly committed to prison. At which the Burgomasters and Schepens, do feel themselves in their quality particularly aggrieved! forsooth because the Director General had done this without their consent and knowledge! as if without the knowledge and consent of the Burgomasters and Schepens, no order can be made, no mob be interdicted from celebrating the feasts of Bacchus!

Much less have the privilege of correcting such persons as tread under foot the Christian and holy precepts, without the knowledge and consent of a little bench of Justice!

Appreciating their own quality, authority, and commission, better than others, they hereby make known to the Burgomasters and Schepens, that the institution of a little bench of Justice under the name and title of Schout, Burgomasters, and Schepens or commissioners, does in no wise interfere with, or diminish aught of the power and authority of the Director General and Councillors—in the enacting of any ordinances or making particular interdicts, especially such as tend to the glory of God and the best interests of the inhabitants, and much more, to the prevention of gross sins, scandals, debaucheries, and crimes, and for the correction of obstinate transgressors—to inflict upon them suitable penalties and punishments, what properly belongs to the qualifications of the Schout, Burgomasters and Schepens, and for what purpose they are instituted, is sufficiently clear from the instruction given them—by which they will please hereafter to abide—and the same to observe, without continually vexing the Director General in particular and troubling him about any order, resolutions, penalties, or chastisements enacted against and concerning those who contravene them: But the Schout, Burgomaster and Schepens, having been petitioned by any subject or subjects for their interlocution and intercession, whether it be concerning mitigation of interdict, order, or chastisement against these or any persons summoned and experienced by the Director General and Council lost—on such a petition as after close investigation has been found to be in reason, the Burgomasters and Schepens or Commissioners not only of this City, but of all the other subaltern benches of Justice may approach the Director General and Councillors by petition remonstrating and making known the grievances of themselves personally, and of other subjects, with the accompanying reasons for the same, whereon in such case, it will be noticed, removed and annulled by the Director General and Councillors as the justice and nature of the case demands—thus done in the session of the Directuer General and Councillors, held at New Amsterdam, this 26th February, 1654. Signed by order, &c.

To the Worthy Friends, the Honorable Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New-Amsterdam :

The Majistrates of villages of Brouckelen, Midwout, and Amesfort, having received and understood the letter of your Excellencies, send this brief answer.

First, we acknowledge to your Excellencies, that with great trouble and labour, with the assistance of the inhabitants, and those living in the vicinity, you have surrounded the City of New-Amsterdam with walls; and we the near neighbours have not spared our labour in the repairs of the fortress and its fortifications; yet we, as the members of the same body, are obligated to assist one another with all our power, which we are ready to shew with all our might by our deeds, not only for the defence of the City of New Amsterdam, but also for all and each of our Confederacy under the sovereignty of their Mightinesses the States-General, and the High Court of this province; all which we, on the other hand, expect from our associate members. In the mean time we remain your Excellencies affectionate friends and neighbours.

By the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New-Amsterdam, it is resolved to commission and authorize the Honourable Arent Van Hattem to attend the Sessions of their High Mightinesses the Director-General and Councillors, and to propose the following :

First, Whether the Director-General and Councillors, as well as the Burgomasters and Schepens, do not deem it highly necessary that the decayed fortifications of this City should be repaired, and that the North River should be cut off with palisades (access to the fort from the river cut off), and all thus be brought into a state of defence.

Secondly, since the Burgers of this City of New-Amsterdam are too weak to accomplish the aforesaid needed work, to cut the palisades and other materials and carry them to the works, Whether the Governor-General and Councillors will be pleased to take measures that the people out of the City, to show a helping hand therein. And,

Thirdly, Whether they will grant to the Burgomasters and Schepens the necessary powers thereunto.

Whereof his Excellency A. Van Hattem shall make report to the Burgomasters and Schepens, so that they may be able to determine what to do further.

Done at New-Amsterdam, in Session, this 30th of March, 1654.

His Lordship Willem Beeckman, present.

The Journal of the Mission of Cornelis Van Tienhoven and Martin Krigier, as Commissioners from the Director-General and Councillors, sent to the Colony of New Haven, concerning their actions, after having been read at the aforesaid Council, was communicated to this Court.

A letter addressed to the dearly beloved the Schout, Burgomasters, and Schepens of the City of New-Amsterdam, was on this date opened by the Court, and therein was contained a placard published by the Director-General and Councillors concerning certain pillages by English pirates, with a letter accompanying it, that the same may be published and affixed by the Burgomasters and Schepens.

The said placard, after notice by the ringing of the bells, was proclaimed from the City Hall and there affixed. The Captains, Lieutenants, Ensigns, Sargeants, and Corporals of both the burger Companies of the City of New Amsterdam, are hereby directed to appear to-morrow morning, the 28th of April, at 8 of the clock, at the City Hall of this City aforesaid, for the purpose of then endeavouring to establish good order within the City Watch.

Done in Session, held this 27th April, 1654.

Signed by order,

JACOB KIP, Secretary.

Assembled at the Staat House, on the 28th April (1654), His Excellency the Governor-General and the Burgomasters, being the Council of War of the City of New Amsterdam, when certain ordinances were prepared respecting the Burger Watch, which, after the ringing of the bell, on the 29th of April (1654), were published from the Staat House and there affixed.

MARTIN KRIGIER,
P. L. VANDIEGRIST,
PIETER VAN COUWENHOVEN.

The Schout and two other Schepens absent.

Whereas, The Burgomasters and Schepens of this City of New Amsterdam presented a petition to the Director-General and Councillors of New Netherlands to institute some measures for the benefit of this City, which on the 23d of February, 1654, obtained their consent that of all the wines, strong waters, and beers consumed among the inhabitants in this City, with and on the condition of the Tapsters Excise, they have the priviledge of enacting and enjoying the following

Burger Excise, to wit :

On each tun good beer,.....	20 stuyvers.
On each half cask,.....	10 stuyvers.
On each anchor, $\frac{1}{4}$ cask,.....	5 stuyvers.
On each tun small beer,.....	6 stuyvers.
On each half cask,.....	3 stuyvers.
On each anchor,.....	2 stuyvers.
On each anchor Brandwine, Spanish wine, or distilled waters,	30 stuyvers.
French wines and those of the same value, half as much.

Therefore the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City aforesaid do ordain and resolve, that from this time forth, the Burgomasters, as well as the Tapsters and Inn Keepers, who are desirous of laying in or consuming any wines or beers, shall be apprised that they must first obtain from our receiver thereunto appointed an Excise Certificate, and pay therefor promptly, which receiver shall wait in his house from 6 o'clock till eight o'clock in the morning, and from one till three in the afternoon, for that purpose, except on Wednesday and Saturday afternoon.

2d. To prevent fraud and swindling in all instances, the Burgomasters and Schepens aforesaid, with the approbation of the Director-General and Councillors, have appointed and received as sworn Wine and Beer-Carriers, Barent Jacobsen Cool and Pieter Caspersen Van Naerden. Without the said beer-carriers, no person whatever shall be permitted to lay in any wines or beers, or to carry them from one ware house, cellar, or Brewery to another, or to bring the foreign beers within this City's ports, in the penalty of forfeiting said wines or beers, and arbitrary correction at the discretion of the Court.

3d. And the better to enforce observance of these ordinances and resolutions, and that they be fulfilled by every one, the Officer is charged and ordered to pay a strict regard to every fraud and swindling, and he is authorized, under the inspection of two persons of the Court, whenever he may deem it necessary, to search the cellars of the Tapsters, and to guage all the Casks, and to seize all the wines and beers that have not been given in, or the Excise of which has not been paid; all which, according to the foregoing article, shall be subject to arbitrary correction and confiscation, to be applied, one-third to the poor, one-third to the Officer, and one-third to the informer. Thus done and revised in the Session of the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam, and, after proclamation, affixed this 4th May, 1654.

3d. The commissioned Carriers of Wines and Beers, as here within the walls of this City, they may carry from one brewery, house, or cellar into the other, shall not be permitted to receive more than the following:

“ one anchor,.....	3 stuyvers.

And as to what they shall carry beyond the walls, from within to Mr. Allerton's and Tomas Hallen, a fourth part more; and thence to about the fresh water, one-half more. But in case the Brewer shall associate his own horse-sled and one hand as beer-carrier with one of the commissioned beer-carriers, he shall be entitled to the one-half of wine and beer fees; and in case the beer-carrier's horse goes together with the Brewer's horse and sled, the one-third of the fees shall belong to the Brewer.

4th. The commissioned Wine and Beer-Carriers shall be held to furnish their tools for labouring at the wines and beers at their own costs also not to be accessory to any swindling, and in all things to discharge the duties of our office as honest wine and beer carriers, in conformity with the above, and Fatherland order, are in duty bound to do. So truly help us, God Almighty!

Whereas, A certain process has been moved before the Court of the City of New-Amsterdam, by Pieter Kock, single man, a burger and inhabitant of said City, as plaintiff, and at and against Anna Van Voorst, single maid, living at Aharsinus, defendant, respecting marriage contract, or a verbal promise of marriage, between the said Pieter Kock and Anna Van Vorst, mutually entered into, and in confirmation thereof certain gifts and presents were made by the plaintiff to the aforesaid defendant. However, it appears, by certain documents exhibited by the parties, that the defendant and bride of the said plaintiff, in consequence of certain misgivings, is in no way disposed to be married to the said Pieter Kock; and it was also proved by two witnesses, on the 24 December, 1653, testifying that Pieter Kock had given her up, with the promise of a written acquittal: therefor the Burgomasters and Schepens of this City, having pursued the document exhibited by the parties, and having examined, do by these presents decide that, as the promise of marriage has been made before the Omnipotent God, it shall remain in force, so that neither the plaintiff nor the defendant, without the knowledge and approbation of their lordships, the magistrates, and the other one of the registered parties shall be permitted to enter matrimony with any other, whether single man or single woman, provided however that all the presents made in confirmation of the marriage contract shall remain in the possession of the defendant, while the parties remain together in good will and contentment with each other, or lawful marriage, or until, with the consent of one another, they shall be exempted from the contract. Furthermore, both the plaintiff and defendant are condemned equally in the costs of this suit.

Thus done and sentenced in the session of the 18th May, 1654.

FRIDAY, A. M., 29th May, 1654.

In session of his Excellency the Director-General, with Burgomasters and Schepens of this City of New-Amsterdam, at the Stadt House.:

Present,

His Excellency Pieter Stuyvesant, Dr. Gen.

Arent Van Hattem,	} Burgomasters.
Martin Krigier,
P. L. Vandiegrist,	} Schepens.
Oloff Stevensen,
Willem Beeckman,

His Excellency the Governor-General communicated to the Burgomasters and Schepens the current intelligence from New England, that ships with warlike ammunitions and other things had arrived at Boston, and requested that means should be instituted for defence in case these (ships) should come here. He proposes in this case to enact a Morgan tax,* a horn tax,† and a house lot tax, and provisionally to borrow money thereon from certain persons.

2d. Whether they should send off the Company's ship, or retain the same provisionally.

3d. Whether they shall send for the people at South river, or let them stay.

The Burgomasters and Schepens are of opinion that they cannot decide upon the above mentioned points without consulting the other members of the country.

Therefore the Governor-General, by missive, summoned the magistrates of the villages of Breuckelen, Midwant, and Amesfort, to appear on the morrow and lend their advice; and the Governor-General requested them to delegate two persons from their College, collectively to draw up answers to the foregoing propositions. The Burgomaster adjourn to meet again this afternoon.

FRIDAY, P. M., 29 May, 1654, STADT HOUSE.

Present,

Arent Van Hattem,
Martin Krigier,
P. L. Vandiegrist,
Wills Beeckman,
Oloff Stevensen.

The Burgomasters and Schepens taking into further consideration the propositions made by his Excellency the Governor-General on the forenoon this day, find themselves embarrassed to come to any conclusion respecting the first point, or to pass their votes without their first having their associate members of this province, and without their consent.

With respect to the second, concerning the Company's ship, it is their opinion the Governor-General with his Council may do therein as they may deem conducive to the safety of the before mentioned three members.

And whereas the Burgomasters and Schepens (with reference to the request of the Governor-General for them to delegate two from their College) cannot agree when to send, they have resolved to go in a body to the Governor and Council.

His Lordship Cornelius Van Tienhoven in quality as Schout,

PLAINTIFF

Contra

Nicholaes Terhaer, DEFENDANT.

The plaintiff declares the defendant has tapped (retailed liquor) to the Indians on Sunday, during sermon, as well as at other times, as appears from certain information obtained by the appointed commissioners, and exhibited at the Court, and also that the defendant has made a great uproar, and has at his own house beaten Harman De Kuyper's face in pieces; and moreover that he came with a naked knife before the house of Jurgaen † Tax on horn cattle.

Blunck, and there made a great uproar, and threatened him, saying that he had betrayed him. For such misdemeanors, the officer requests suitable law and justiee.

The defendant, Nicholaes Terhaer, denies the charge by the officer, only that his wife told him that she had exchanged one mug of beer with the Indian for fish, together with one half a gill of Brandywine (rum) into which she had put water.

The Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam, having seen the information obtained by the officer for that end, and having attended to the confession of the defendant, N. Terhaer, and having taken into consideration the other misdemeanors or calamities that may arise therefrom, have, and they do by these presents condemn the said Nicholaes Terhaer: that forthwith he no longer shall be permitted to tap or vend any wine or beers, and therefore he is removed from said occupation, and moreover, for an example to others, he shall pay the fine of sixty Guilders, of which one third shall be applied to the poor, one third to the officer, and one third to the Court.

Thus done and revised in session of Amsterdam, in New Netherland, this 1st June, 1654.

To their High Mightinesses, the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam.

Immediately upon the spread of the rumer and intelligence from the North, that Captain Leveredt had arrived with four parliament Ships, and some Military troops, the intent and of which we did not know, yet we in person attended the board of your High Mightinesses the day following, we made your H. M. acquainted with the rumor—pressed upon the necessity of the occasion, recommended to you to attend to the means of defence and resistance, adding that it was very probable that we might receive a visit from our near Neighbours, according to the tenor of the report; heitherto, we have not been able to discover that anything at all has been done by your High Mightinesses towards the defence of this City, or to the repairing of its works. But it appears that your High Mightinesses have been lulled to sleep by an idle rumour of peace.

We take the Lord God, our own conscience—Your High Mightinesses selves, and other respectable persons to witness: that we now and before that we have reminded your High Mightinesses of the necessity and we have besought you to devise measures of assistance and of money. Both Your High Mightinesses, and your promises have been very good—on account of which we surrendered to your tapsters' Excise provisionally, on the promise and pledge that then your High Mightinesses would furnish means, and take care the ministers of God's Word should have their salaries paid to them. Above all, we have given up the Ammunition Materials and pioneer tools sent to us, all on the promise of restitution or payment (for the same) which are now missing, so that we cannot go on with the repairing of the fortifications as required, greatly at the present time, and above all this, we have reason to apprehend that we shall moreover be requested, in failure of repairs and defence, of the outside works, our own arms and cannon having been put on the outside works, the year past, contrary to our wish and advice, more to injury, than defence, will be conceived against us—concerning which we do beseech again that since your High Mightinesses sustain your own works and the outside works cannot be repaired and defended, that the Cannon be brought back, since they are of no service there, and that no harm nor damage may be done to which we under God are determined to preserve and defend as lang as God will be pleased to vouchsafe his blessings thereunto.

Furthermore, we request that according to duty and promise, either restitution or payment be made of the small arms and pioneers' tools furnished you, to the end that we may levy some Soldiers, and arms them for the better defence of this our to confident (credulous) Government, and the fortifications of the same, and also that the Ministers may have their salaries paid (by you) from the time that your High Mightinesses have received the revenue of the Tupsters License (Excise) granted unto you provisionally, if in this we are forsaken, or in case of failure, we wash our hands before God and the whole world, from the calamities that may come upon ourselves and upon our good subject. Done at New Amsterdam, this 8th June, 1654.

Your High Mightinesses' Affectionate Friend and Governor,
P. STUYVESANT.

PROPOSITIONS

Submitted by the Governor General and the High Councillors.

1st. It is submitted, whether the Burgomasters and Schepens are resolved and disposed (even if the outside people will not concur) to help to the uttermost to fortify, maintain, and defend this capital, this first City, which has been so long in getting enclosed, and at the last this fort, for the honor of the nation, and our own high superiours—all which the Director General and the Councillors, by our signatures do promise and swear to do before God, so truly help us Almighty God.

2d. Whereas, The Director General and Councillors have several times received propositions from the Burgomasters and Schepens, that the outside members ought to lend a common hand in the work, as well as in the making and repairing, as in defending, is but reasonable and just, that the Directuer General and Councillors should be we disposed to command the same by a public order, since they could readily conceive that it is nothing more than reasonable and just that the outside members (people), for the turning out of the Burgomasters and Schepens during the last year for three or four times for the outside people, should in their turn, assist in fortifying and defending this city, the more so because this is for as well their own preservation and Independence as for the preservation and independence of the Citizens (Burgers); But in case (as it may turn out) they shall remain absolute and obstinate, which the Directeur General and Councillors do not expect from all, will the Burgomasters and Schepens co-operate with the Director General and Councillors, in punishing them according to law.

3d. Finally and lastly, will they the (Burgomasters and Schepens) co-operate with the Governor General and the High Councillors by next Monday precisely in commencing the work, and in persuading the Burgery of this City, as much as possible, and induce thereunto. Thus done in the Session of the Director General and High Councillors, held at New Amsterdam in New Netherland, this 13th day June, 1654.

Signed,

P. STUYVESANT.

An Ordinance of his High Mightiness the Director General and High Councillors.

ANSWER OF THE BURGOMASTERS AND SCHEPENS TO THE ABOVE.

To the 1st.

They will co-operate in fortifying and defending the City, with all their might.

To the 2d.

They believe that such a proclamation is demanded, and should any belonging to this Court of Justice be unwilling, they co-operate with all their might in constraining them, which must also be done by the country courts of justice belonging to the government of your High Mightinesses.

They are ready with all zeal to institute the means for the speedy commencement of the work. Provided, that previous resolutions be taken, in what manner the works shall be repaired and made. Thus done, in the session held at the Stadt House, New Amsterdam, this 13th June, 1654.

DEAR AND PARTICULAR FRIENDS :

These presents serve to convey to you the proclamation of peace, unity and confederation made and concluded on the 15th of April last, at Westminster, between the Lords Commissioners of the Lord Protector of the Commonwealth of England, Scotland, and Ireland, on the one part, and the ambassadors from the High and Mighty Lords the States-General of the United Netherlands, on the other side; which proclamation sent to us from their High Mightinesses the Directors, &c., we have thought proper to send to your Mighty Lordships with the charge and command that you will cause the said proclamation of peace, unity and confederation to be proclaimed and affixed as it is usual to be done, and the same to be observed and faithfully in its tenor, form, and meaning; also to be observed and fulfilled by those placed under you, or that may be placed under you. Finally, we commend you to the gracious protection of the Most High.

The Burgomasters and Schepens resolved, that his Lordship Martin Krigier shall enquire of the Director General whether there has come any of his letters in the ship arrived from the Schol, any missing or other addresses from Fatherland, from their Lords the Directors, or other persons, to the Burgomasters and Schepens of the City of New Amsterdam, and that he make a report of the same to the College.

His Lordship reported that no missive as aforesaid had arrived, as the Director General told him.

What we have resolved on the points, which your Lordships proposed to us in your last, may be seen in the accompanying extract, which we have thought proper to send you as our rescription thereunto, with the order that the same, according to its import, as far as it concerns you, may regulate your conduct. On the present occasion, however, we cannot omit making known to your Lordships, that it appeared strange to us that your Lordships, or any of you, should suffer yourselves to be stirred up by the evil affections, so far as not only to set up an independent Court, but moreover to send in remonstrances which we mark as being in the present occasion very unprofitable, whatever advantage it may be otherwise. We have written concerning this, our determination more particularly to the Director General and Councillors, which in season will be communicated to your Lordships, recommending and charging at the same time, that your Lordships will demean yourselves quietly and peaceably. Submitting yourselves to the Government placed over you, and in no wise to permit yourselves to hold particular conversation with the English or others, in matters of form and deliberation pertaining to State matters, the which do not appertain to your Lordships; and what is still worse, to attempt an alteration in the State and the government thereof. Against which we wish to warn and pre-advertise your Lordships, before we make any other disposition therein; and trusting that you will discharge your duty and obligation. We finally Commend you to the protection of God.

ANNETIE CRUMMELIN VAN VORST, Defendant.

In matter of Matrimony.

Jacob Stoffelse, as the father-in-law of the defendant, appeared before the Court. Certain writings were by the parties presented to the Court, which having been examined, and the parties having been admonished, it is the opinion of the Burgomasters and the Schepens the parties should be at peace. A copy of the points shall be given them, and it is unanimously ordered, that the father-in-law shall personally appear the next court day, and that the parties shall bring in whatever they may have further to present.

The plaintiff appearing, requests, since the defendant has not complied with the order of the 12th January to deliver back his panes of glass belonging to his house, on account of which he has suffered greatly in the winter season, that he may thereunto be constrained; which request having been found to be just, the officer is hereby charged and authorized to constrain the defendant to deliver the said panes of glass into the house, &c.

David Provoost appeared in Court and requested, in relation to Anna Van Vorst contra Pieter Kock, since the points of process have been furnished to the Court, that they will please to give sentence or verdict.

The request having been heard, it is resolved that commissioners shall be appointed to examine the points of process, or an extraordinary court shall be held.

David Provoost requests also, in the case of Tomas Suddert, that the Burgomasters and Schepens will please to make a decision in the case between the said Suddert and Antony Jansen.

And whereas D. Van Schelluyne, attorney for Antony Jansen, has not delivered in his reply to the plaintiff's declaration, and it is unknown to the Court whether he may not have appealed to the high Councillors, to it is appointed for further information.

Cornelis Van Tienhoven, in quality as Schout of this City of New-Amsterdam, appeared in Court and ex officio concerning the illegal proceedings of the Court of Gravesonde in granting and confirming the Banns of Matrimony betwixt Johan Van Beeck and Maria Verleth, who both have their domicile in and about this City of New-Amsterdam, and according to correct practice of ecclesiastical and political order in this City, should be proclaimed, since such a procedure greatly tends to the infraction of the good policy of our Fatherland and the privileges and the jurisdiction of this City, and in this a way is made, so that in future Sons and Daughters, not regarding the authority of Parents and guardians, shall without any permission go to be married in the villages or elsewhere, and requested that the Court give heed hereunto; and that it may be so directed by the Court as they shall judge conducive to the maintenance of authority and the prevention of unlawful marriages.

Done this 26th of January, 1654, in Session at the Staat House in New-Amsterdam.

The Burgomaster and Schepens of this City do hereby refer the foregoing complaint and proposition made by Cornelis Van Tienhoven, in quality as Schout, to their High Mightinesses the Director-General and Councillors of New Fetherland.

At the session of the Burgomasters and Schepens, held in the Town Hall in New Amsterdam, this 2d day of August, 1653, several of the principle Burgers appearing by notification, and having read to them specifications of what has already been done, of the expenses incurred in relation to the entrenchments of this town, as well as other works, which amount to about seven thousand Guilders, on being asked what measures may be concerted to meet the expenses already incurred, and those may yet be incurred—

The unanimous reply and resolution was not to contribute aught before his High Mightiness, the Director-General, shall give up the whole excise of wines and beers ; and then, whenever expenses shall occur, the means shall be devised whereby the incurred expenses may be paid, &c.

And it is furthermore Resolved, That the above answer shall be presented to the Director-General, and Burgomasters and Schepens ; and in case the same be not approved, then there shall be another meeting to deliberate whether the measures already mentioned, or any other, shall be adopted, &c.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, 2d August, 1653.

Present,

The before-mentioned Burgomasters and Schepens ; and another meeting of the notified Burges was had, viz :

The Burgomasters and Schepens having related the verbal answer of his High Mightiness, the Director-General, who says that he is determined not to give up the excise of wines and beers, since they have been paid into the Company's counting-house; that of necessity they must exempt the soldiers coming out the country, and that the Burgers alone must pay the excise.

Whereupon the notified Burgers* having deliberated, gave for answer as in the forenoon: that they are determined by no means to contribute aught unless the Director-General accedes to their terms (since annually a large income is drawn from recognition and other sources), and shall suffer the excise to be paid into Counting-house of the Burgomasters and Schepens.

The Burgomasters and Schepens having heard their answer, declare (since the summoned Burges are not disposed to render any pecuniary aid, and it is impossible to continue the works that have been commenced without anything to pay the expenses already incurred, and to go on with what may be farther required without money), themselves to be without any ability, and they unanimously protest, in case of any unwished for calamity may happen, that they will have themselves excused for not having paid their full dues.

Thus done in foresaid session as above.

At a general session of the Director General and the Councillors of New Netherland, the Burgomasters and Schepens being present, with the exception of Martin Crigier, who is absent:

On the reading of the Epistle of their High Mightinesses the Directors, &c., of the last intelligence out of New England concerning their preparation, whether for defence, or of offence, is unknown to us, it is in the general resolved and decreed,

First. That the whole body of the citizens shall keep watch by night in such as shall be particularly prepared by the director and Council and forementioned Magistrates, yet in the first place at the City Tavern, the present watch-house, to commence from this time.

Secondly. It is judged first of all most necessary to repair the Fortress of New Amsterdam, and to make it sufficiently strong.

Thirdly. Taking into consideration that the Fortress of New Amsterdam is not sufficient to contain all the Inhabitants, or to protect the houses and habitations of this City, it is deemed necessary to enclose the greatest part of the city with upright palisades, and small breastworks, so that in cause of necessity all the inhabitants may retire within the enclosure, and as far as it is practicable to defend themselves and their property against an attack; for the present time it is deemed unnecessary to enclose and protect the outside villages, where the Inhabitants live scattered apart, in conformity with the good intent and directions of their High Mightinesses our Governor Maijoors, nor is this practicable to protect such against any attacks, but it is judged to be more expedient to collect all the New Netherland force into one place for the sake of better defence.

Fourthly. It is deemed necessary to devise some way of raising money with which to effect and accomplish the foregoing and whatever may be necessary for the purpose of defence, on which their High Mightinesses the Governor General and Councillors, and the aforesaid Majestates shall after due deliberation compare, to-morrow, their views, from which to come to a general resolution.

Fifthly. It is ordered that the Schipper Jan Jansen Vischer, shall be spoken to privately to fix his sails, to have his piece loaded, and to keep his vessel in readiness on all occasions whether by day or by night, and if any more is necessary for defence it shall be sent to him.

Done 13th March, 1653, in Session as aforesaid in the Fort Amsterdam, and resumed, this 14th March.
