PLUMBERS STOCK.—Prices on most articles remain as before, and business as a general thing is fair, though in some cases the shipping demand has partially subsided.

SLATE.—The general retail demand is improving and the yards are turning out larger quantities of stock. On some of the common qualities prices have shown a trifling irregularity, but all the fine and desirable grades continue firm at full previous rates. We hear of nothing new this week from the quarries. The receipts at this point from Pennsylvania are now quite steady, and stock from Vermont is also coming forward more freely, but as the bulk of it is well assorted, and of kinds just now in demand, dealers, have no accumulation, and manage to sell out soon after receipt.

STONE.—Common building stone, is rather dull at the moment, but for all other styles a good steady demand prevails, and there are but few if any goods without a full average force of workmen employed. Quarrymen adhere to the early spring price lists, and dressed work shows no important alteration.

A quarry of fine variegated marble has been opened at Jonesboro', Union County, Illinois, and is said to be of great beauty.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The amount of stock now coming in, is not very heavy, but the prospective receipts of the new crop, are large; the demand is very moderate and prices continue to work downward. Holders in most cases seem quite anxious to operate, and the offerings are greatly in excess of present wants. At the close the feeling is unsettled and nominal at about 49@49½ in a wholesale way, and 50@51 for retail parcels. Receipts for the week about 1,200 bbls. Exports for week, 32 bbls.; since January 1, 3,746 bbls., and for same period last year, 7,804 bbls.

TAR.—The tendency of this market has been upward all the week, the buoyant feeling being most apparent on the fine and choice grades, of which the supply is very small. Holders of the common qualities, however, in order to sell, find it necessary to accept about former rates, though there is no pressure to realize. We quote at $3 00@$3 87½ for common to prime North County, $3 75@$4 25 for do Wilmington, and $4 50 for Wilmington, thin selected and in yard. The receipts for week are 233 bbls. Exports for week, 107 bbls.; since January 1st, 3,202 bbls., and for same period last year, 2,987 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of May 26th reports as follows:

The business of the week has been large, but the shipments have been much interfered with by the freshet. The attendance of Southern buyers in the district this A.M. was quite numerous, including several who are here to hurry their purchases forward, at present much hindered by high water. The prices of all descriptions of lumber are very firm, and the tendency is to a further advance. The receipts during the week have been large, but the sales have kept pace therewith, and the assortment of stock at some yards has been much broken in upon.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of May, were of Lumber, 19,693,100 feet; of Shingle, 2,578 M., and of Staves, 1,498,500 lbs. Of the Lumber, 11,295,000 were by the Erie, and 8,398,000 feet by the Champlain Canals. At Chicago the receipts of Lumber for the week ending May 23d, were 30,463,000 feet. At Buffalo, for the week ending May 24th, they were 6,423,500 feet, and at Oswego, 10,713, 200 feet.

Freights were unchanged.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

THE dome of the Capitol at Washington is the most ambitious structure in America. It is a hundred and eight feet higher than the Washington Monument in Baltimore; sixty-eight feet higher than that of Bunker Hill, and twenty-three feet higher than the Trinity church tower, New York. It is the only considerable dome of iron in the world. it is a vast hollow sphere of iron, weighing 8,009,200 thousand tons, or about the weight of seventy thousand full-grown people; or about equal to a thousand laden coal cars, which, holding four tons a piece, would reach two miles and a half. Directly over your head is a figure in bronze, "America," weighing 14,985 pounds. The pressure of the iron dome upon its piers and pillars is 13,477 pounds to the square foot. St. Peter's presses nearly 20,000 pounds more to the square foot, and St. Genevieve, at Paris, 66,000 pounds more. it would require to crush the supports of our doom a presure of 755,280 pounds to the square foot. The new wings cost about $6,500,000. The architect has a plan for re-building the old central part of the Capitol and enlarging the park, which will cost about $3,200,000.

WE have recently seen notices of the extended use of alkaline silicates in Germany for the preservation of building materials, both wood and stone. The latter application may be noticed here, with the remark that such a fire as that which recently occurred at Charing-cross Station, could not have happened if the woodwork had been protected by the means noticed. The cost is but small, and the immunity it gives from fire is complete. According to the expired, and almost forgotten, patent of De Wylde, the woodwork is first saturated with a very dilute solution of silicate of potash, as nearly neutral as possible, and when this has dried, one or two coats of a stronger solution are given.

A. H. LEE, of Randolph County, Ill., the man who drew the Crosby Opera House, Chicago, returns an income for 1867 of $213,831 80, on which he pays an income tax of $10,691 69.

JOSEPH HALL, has sold the Model Mills in Rochester, this State, to Charles S. and A. J. Hall, for $65,150.

IT is singular, but nevertheless true, says the New Orleans Picayune, that houses can now be built in New Orleans at least fifteen per cent cheaper than before the war, taking gold as a basis, and this undoubtedly accounts for the decided activity in building which is now noticeable in all portions of the city, but especially in the Fourth District and on the lines of the uptown railroads.

THE owner of a house and lot, 25 feet by 75, at the corner of the Rue de la Pain and the Boulevard, in Paris, received $350,000 in gold for it from the government. The tenants also received 100,000 indemnity for giving up their three years' leases. The property was taken for the opening of a new street.

IN the old town of Edinburgh, it is stated, there are 13,000 families, consisting of 60,000 individuals, living in one-roomed houses, and that 1500 rooms are the abodes, day and night, of from five to fifteen persons. About 120 have no windows, and 900 of them are cellars.

THE Chicago Tribune newspaper as a property is probably worth a million dollars, and this year it is building for itself an extensive office establishment, completely of iron, and stone and brick, to cost $700,000.

IN Michigan, nearly 400,000 acres of land, which have been withdrawn from market since 1865 for ship canal purposes will, on the 15th of June next, be restored to market again at Marquette.

W. P. WYMAN & SON, of Augusta, Me., turn out yearly 24,000 doors, 30,000 window sashes, and 20,000 sets of blinds. Half this product goes to San Francisco; the rest finds ready sale in New England.

THE Catholics are building a $100,000 hospital in Troy, N. Y.

THE real estate transfers in Chicago last Saturday aggregated $136,000.

A YEAR ago A. D. Jones bought one hundred acres of land near Council Bluffs, Iowa, for $1,000. Lately, he sold it for depot grounds for the railroad, at a profit of $36,000.

A RAFT containing 3,000,000 feet of lumber and 2,000,000 lath and shingles is noticed by Sauk Center (Wis.) Herald, as probably the largest ever floated in one body in that state.

ONE real estate agent in Boston has within the past ten days sold real estate to the value of $669,100.

THE First National Bank, Boston, has purchased the Otis estate corner State and Devonshire streets for $500,000.

PITTSBURGH has thirty-three iron, eight steel, and two copper rolling mills. The iron mills have a daily capacity for 1,200 tons.

PROPERTY on Main street, Oneida, in this Ttate, has risen from $3 to $8 per foot within a few months.

BUILDERS and others, who are looking for cheap and efficient ranges and heaters, are referred to the advertisement of Messrs. Sangford, Truslow & Co. in another column.

BOSTON REAL ESTATE.—Real estate movements in Boston are very active. The Traveller of the 20th says of the prospective building operations:

DURING the first week of May, in Chicago, one hundred and ninety-nine warranty deeds were filed for record. Real estate to the amount of $1,133,526 was sold in six days.

ON Thursday last week there were nineteen transfers of real estate in Chicago, amounting to $42,000. The day following there were thirty-two transfers amounting to $153,000.

THE oldest lumber mill on Fox river, Wis., is that now owned by Boughton & Thomas, which was built in 1836. It can cut 2,500,000 feet of lumber and 2,000,000 laths and pickets per year.

MR. JOHN H. SCHOENBERGER, of Pittsburgh, has subscribed $100,000 towards rebuilding Trinity Church, in that city. The congregation will add $100,000.

TRANSFERS of city real estate, in Chicago, on Wednesday, 20th—amount, $90,600; on Thursday, 21st—amount. $50,415.

CINCINNATI is soon to attempt a "National Academy," to cost $30,000.

THE corner-stone of the new Roman Catholic Cathedral at Brooklyn is to be laid next month. The edifice is to cost $1,200,000.

IT is stated that Northern men have purchased real estate in and around McMinnville, Tennessee, to the amount of $84,688, during the past year.

THE Pioneer estimates that $1,000,000 will be expended in building in St. Paul, Minn., this year.

WE have at length secured permanent quarters in Room B, which is immediately adjoining the office we recently occupied. Our address, therefore, hereafter will be Room B, No. 37 Park Row.

The feature we introduced last week, "All about the Streets," has been received with very great favor by property-holders, and has proved so attractive that we will shortly commence a similar record for Brooklyn. We are rapidly adding all the large real estate holders of New York and Brooklyn to our subscription lists, and expect to have 5,000 of this class of the "solid men" of the metropolis and its principal suburb before the 1st of August next. To such, this list of the property matters before the two Common Councils is indispensable. To keep track of them heretofore, it was necessary to wade through the official proceedings, which not one person in twenty of those interested has the time or patience to do.

We are constantly in receipt of suggestions from subscribers, pointing out means whereby the RECORD may be made more useful and valuable than it is at present. Some of these we have taken advantage of, but others, equally valuable, we have no room for at present. We now give far more matter than we intended to do at first, and still more news presses upon us. By midsummer there will not be the same pressure, and then we can prepare for a splendid start in the fall.

BETTER BUILDINGS WANTED.

THE recent experiments of the Messrs. Hoe, with a view of illustrating a new and economical mode of construction of buildings, is destined to mark a new era in the history of our city and country.

The primary object has been, and still is, to a large extent, in the erection of a building, to put it up as cheaply and as quickly as possible. So long as it possesses the outward show and beautiful interior finish of decoration, it makes no difference as to what the walls are composed of, or how thick they are. Whether they will be durable or permanent does not seem to enter into the heads of many of our builders, contractors, and owners of property. Rush them up, finish them just as fast as possible, and sell them out.

This subject was forced upon us recently, while riding in one of the avenue cars leading to the upper part of the island. We observed huge props placed against the northerly side of a row of buildings now going up on the avenue a little above Yorkville. We suppose that, in the haste to get up the exterior walls, very little attention was given to the possible contingency of a storm, and in the midst of that which prevailed a week before last (not very violent, either), this wall was shaken from its propriety about eight inches; hence the necessity for the artificial props. We have a Bureau for the Survey and Inspection of Buildings, and doubtless its work is well performed, certainly as well as the present laws upon the subject will admit. But the fault is not in the laws, but in the false education of the people. They do not build their houses with a view to their perpetuity or permanency. If a house lasts the life-time of an individual, that is supposed to be long enough; but how much more economical would it be in the end, if the object sought for was a laudable desire to build so that future generations might learn something of the wisdom of their ancestors from the character of their structures and public edifices. The old countries of Europe are far in advance of us in this respect. There are to be found buildings of every description, both public and private, that have stood defying the storms of centuries. The ruthless hand of ignorance, and the devastations of war, have laid waste and destroyed many valuable monuments of antiquity, on which the utmost exertions of human genius have been employed, but, nevertheless, there still remain standing many, attesting the wisdom and skill of our ancestors, and which to-day are objects of interest, and even veneration, to the student as well as the tourist.

The structures of modern times are mere shells, and the adornments mere tinsel, compared with those of the Old World.

From the ravages of fire, as well as the destructive effects of storms, they are the least guarded.

Almost invariably, in the event of the occurrence of a fire, whole rows of buildings are destroyed by the ravenous element, immense amounts of property sacrificed, misery indescribable endured, and sometimes death, even, ensuing, because of the flimsy, frail, and false protection which our new and modern-styled houses afford.

In the cities of Paris and London no such contingencies can possibly happen, for the buildings are required to be so constructed that, even if a fire occur in one portion of a building, the inmates of another can rest secure in the certainty that it will not extend to them.

The construction of these miserable apologies for houses should, therefore, be discouraged and discountenanced; and it should be the aim and the effort of those who build, to so erect their buildings that neither storms nor fires can weaken or destroy.

In truth, it is a hideous waste of capital to build houses which last only a few years. If we would enrich our children let us erect edifices which will outlast their lives as well as our own.

HEALTHFUL HOMES.

MR. ROBERT BONNER'S very honest advertisement, that the home he wished to sell near Tremont, was situated in a fever and ague district, may not be very palatable to people living in that locality, but it ought to lead the large property holders in Westchester County to take immediate measures to drain the malarious localities under their control. It is estimated that about one-third of Westchester County is entirely free from malaria, that another third is occasionally subject to aguish diseases, while the remaining portion is as "bilious" a region as any of the river bottoms of the West. People who wish to sell property do not wish this fact to be known, but it is a fact nevertheless.

The wise thing to do is to take immediate measures to drain the unhealthy portions of Westchester County which lie nearest New York. A million dollars spent in sewers and drains would in five years' time add twenty millions to the value of property in Westchester County. Had the property owners of Staten Island twenty years ago thoroughly drained it, so as to insure it against the intermittent fevers which prevail there to day, it would have been one continuous city. It is a splendid regi naturally; but sensible people will not res where their families sicken and die.

The same remark is true of Westchester County. When steam roads are constructed, the lower portion of that locality will practically form a part of the metropolis; but before population becomes denser, we hope that the Westchesterians will make the future homes of our citizens healthful and habitable.

THE widening of Broadway is a subject that has called forth a great variety of opinions; of one thing we may be sure, that if done at all, it will cost less now than five, ten, or fifteen years heuce. As the grand entrance to the Boulevard and the beautiful drives through the Central Park, it would seem that it were best to make the improvement now.

The idea that it would be unsuited for business purposes, entertained by many, is not in point of fact correct. The Boulevards of Paris are lined with some of the most magnificent stores in the world. For wholesale business purposes narrow streets may be best, but for the business that is carried on in Broadway above

Bleecker street, and which will be done on that portion which it is contemplated to widen, the broad street with magnificent buildings and handsome show windows, is surely the best. The property would undoubtedly increase a hundred fold, and it would be a street of which the citizens of New York might justly feel proud. It would be second to none in the world. Only keep the railroad tracks away.

THE Fernando Wood Lease has not been determined after all. The end of the litigation does not seem to be near at hand. What the amount of the bill will be, no one can tell. They only know who will have to foot it.

It does seem foolish, to be constantly quibbling and raising technical points. The remedy against the abuses complained of lies not in expensive litigation.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

There have been several important meetings relative to public improvements held this week, which must be of interest to all concerned, however remotely, in real estate. These are the meetings of the corporators of the Hudson Highland Suspension Bridge, and the Aldermanic Committee for the widening of Broadway. The corporators of the Hudson Highland Suspension Bridge met on the 29th of May at the Astor House. The object of the Company is to construct a suspension bridge over the Hudson River, at some point between Verplanck's Point and Buttermilk Falls, to afford greater facilities of railway and other communications between the two shores of the river. The most eligible point yet proposed is that at Anthony's Nose. The bridge will cross the river by a single span of 1,600 feet clear, and be provided with tracks for steam-cars, one for horse carriages, and highways for pedestrians. A number of officers were appointed, and on the motion of Serrell it was resolved: That the Executive Committee be authorized and requested to make examination of the locality named in the first section of the charter, and report to the Board, at as early a day as possible, all points of interest and value as to locality, approaches, real estate, &c., as they shall deem advantageous, and shall assist the corporation in making the best location for the bridge; also, that they be authorized to employ such consulting engineers as they shall deem satisfactory.

The Councilmanic Committee, having in charge the proposed widening of Broadway from 17th to 59th sts., met again on the afternoon of June 1st. A great many views were expressed in favor and against the proposed scheme. Mr. B. L. Soloman said that, "To make a business street 150 feet wide was most preposterous, most uncalled for, and would not bear a moment's consideration. We have a wide street, the Bowery. How many persons shopping on one side of the Bowery would attempt to cross over it to shop on the other side? It is dangerous for them to do so. Broadway is a proper width for a business street, and it was wide enough for all time to come. The great objection to it was a fault produced by the outrageous monopoly of the other streets by the railroad companies, preventing other vehicles running on them, and forcing all the traffic, which should be divided among them, on to Broadway. If the limit of the widening of Broadway were set at 100 feet, with the understanding that no railroad companies were to be allowed on it, there would not be so much opposition to it as there is now." Mr. John Mixbech said that he owned property on the east side of Broadway, between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets. He was satisfied from the observations he had made in foreign countries, that the proposed widening of Broadway, if carried out, would utterly destroy it as a business street. In all the great European commercial cities the streets in which the largest business was done were narrow streets, and the widening of streets invariably had the effect of ruining their business. Several of the Councilmen, thought the Bowery was a good business street. Mr. Church put the point that it is absurd for an avenue costing for land alone $3,000,000, to have access to the business part of the city through a rambling lane of 60 feet. A remonstrance from over thirty property holders, representing over eighty lots, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, against the widening, was presented.

Among the items of real estate gossip are the following:

The property of Nathaniel H. Wolfe, at Clifton, consisting of house and three acres of land, has been sold to the New York Yacht Club for $25,000. At a meeting of the Quarantine Commissioners, it was resolved to sell the old and beautiful quarantine grounds on Staten Island at private sale, if possible; if not, at public auction. The offices, etc., in the new Tammany Hall building will rent for $40,000. Nearly all the houses on Fourteenth street are boarding houses; and Union Square, so lately the abode of gilded exclusiveness, is now almost entirely occupied by trades and business people of nearly every kind. On each side of it there are hotels and restaurants. Hatters flourish there, and grocers, and tailors, and shoemakers, and there are oyster saloons, and at least one livery stable. How fortunate, then, for Fifth avenue, that it does not run through Union Square. The work of opening and grading the Southern Boulevard progresses quite rapidly. A short distance north of Fordham a wide, substantial, and handsome bridge, of two arches, will be thrown across the tracks of the New Haven and Harlem Railroads, and Berrian avenue—the latter a new street about to be opened. The Commissioners appointed to superintend the extension and grading of Fairmont avenue, from its present western terminus to Fordham avenue, Tremont; also the opening and grading of Berrian avenue, from the railroad depot at Fordham, to the depot at Williams Bridge, met on Monday and organized by selecting Peter Hurley for President; John Berrian for Secretary, and Daniel Valentine for Treasurer. The work will be immediately commenced. It is a long time since there has been so great a number of houses empty in this city at one time, and among these are some of the largest stores on streets leading from Broadway to the North River, below Canal, and hundreds of the more expensive up-town residences. Rents have fallen greatly within the last four weeks, and landlords are now willing to let their property for a limited period at almost nominal rates.

Advices from various parts show considerable activity in real estate. We learn that building at Fall River, Mass., was never so brisk as at present. More building is going on in Trenton this spring than at any time within the past five years. It is estimated that $1,000,000 will be expended in building in St. Paul this year. The building season in Philadelphia has begun. Dwelling houses enough will be completed in a few weeks to accommodate several hundred families. The city is steadily increasing, and occupants could be readily found for double the number of houses now building. On Friday, June 5th, were sold at Merchants' Exchange, Old State House, Boston, about 400,000 feet of land, comprising about 150 lots, on Huntington, St. James, and Columbus avenues, Marlboro', Morgan, Stanhope, Camden, Springfield, and Northampton streets.

SALES.

The week has been an exceptional one and more property was sold than could reasonably have been expected, bringing fair if not altogether full prices. A great deal of property was withdrawn, as figures were placed too high, and no discretionary power allowed to the auctioneer. On Wednesday and Thursday there was considerable activity. Considering the amount of property and the wide range of prices of lots, every well-to-do citizen has every opportunity to become a freeholder of the land, and his earnings could not be laid out to better advantage than in real estate; for the rich there are Central Park lots, and for the working men Brooklyn property.

THURSDAY, MAY, 28TH—BY MESSRS. E. H. LUDLOW & CO.—House with lot, 26.6x92.3 ft., on the south side of Tenth st., 222.3 ft., east from University place, brought $8,500. Five lots adjoining the above, on North 15th st., each 20x100; purchased by Mr. Darling for $140 each.

NEW JERSEY SALES.—During the week Mr. Lewis E. Wood endeavored to dispose of a fine property at Bayonne, but met with little success. The property was apportioned into 500 villa plots, each plot embracing from two to six lots. The location is probably not surpassed by that of any suburban lots presented thus far in the season, yet the plots sold did not realize anything like the prices obtained for much inferior lands in other locations. In the neighborhood are many pretty residences, and from these may be had a good view of the Bays of New York and Newark. The sales accomplished by Mr. Wood were as follows: A plot on the north-east corner of Huron and B aves., including 3.61 lots, was bought by a Mr. Atkins for $400 a lot of 2,500 square feet. A plot, 115x173 feet, on the south-west corner of Bayonne and C. avoe, was purchased by Alderman Edelstein for $500 a lot. A plot, 50x100 feet, on Bayonne avenue, commencing at a point 288 feet west from Avenue C, was sold to Edward Jones for $425 a lot. The plot adjoining of similar dimensions, was disposed of to same gentleman for $400 a lot. A plot in rear of the preceding, same size, and fronting on Oakland avenue, was bought by a Mr. Francis for $420 a lot. Mr. Francis also secured the adjoining plot, 50x190 feet, for $400 a lot. The two adjoining parcels, each corresponding in size with the previous plots, were sold for $375 a lot. A plot of land, having a front of 288 feet on Avenue A, and extending back to Newark Bay 568 feet, which it overlooks from a high bluff, was knocked down to a Mr. Parker for $185 a lot. The adjoining plot, containing 50 lots, were started at $100 a lot, but as only $200 could be obtained, the auctioneer preferred to withdraw it, although the proprietor afterward offered it for that price at private sale. Soon thereafter the sale was closed.

At PATTERSON, on June 1, the auction sale of plots on Highland Park took place. Many prominent buyers were on the ground, and several from New York. Four lots were sold to John Schoonmaker for $1,600; 12 to John Henker, $3,620; 4 to R. C. Hill, $1,200; 4 to C. Hemmingway, $1,140; 4 to John J. Goetchius, $1,060; 4 to William Gledhill, $1,040; 4 to G. A. Hobart, $1,020; 4 to Stephen Wiseman, $1,680; 74 lots and house to John Edwards, $81,310; 4 to John Zabriskie, $1,040; 8 to John Hogencamp, $1,960; 4 to J. E. Demarest, $940; 12 to Charles Morehead, $2,645; 4 to W. G. Fulton, $1,000; 4 to O. Vanderhoven, $900; 4 to Thomas Platt, $900; 4 to Milton Brown, $900; 4 to William Filier, $920; 4 to Garrabrant, Hopson, and Bogert, $1,240; 4 to Vanderhoven & Webb. $1,000; 4 to Thomas Platt, $1,080; 4 and house to John Bannis, $1,400; 4 to George Christie, $860. Since the auction several sales have been made on private terms at about the same prices; and several of the purchases have changed hands.

Messrs. Johnson & Miller continue their enlivening sales of Brooklyn property, in which there seems to be no diminution of interest.

They announce the most extensive and important sale of the season in Prospect Park property, and in Flatbush, on Tuesday, June 9, at the Exchange.

"Old Long Island's Sea-Girt Shore" will soon be fenced in if Messrs. J. & M. continue to sell property as they have been doing for the last few months.

One of the most notable sales of the season will take place on Thursday next, the 11th inst., at the Exchange, No. 111 Broadway. The valuable property on the easterly and south-easterly portions of Clason's Point, in Westchester County, consisting of 325 acres, divided into forty places from 2 to 40 acres, will then be sold, as by announcement, without reserve, on liberal conditions, sixty per cent. of the purchase money remaining on bond and mortgage.

The grounds have been handsomely laid out by the landscape gardener of the Central Park.

This tract is in one of the most beautiful and healthful portions of the County, in full view of the Long Island Sound, and distant about four miles from Harlem.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The firmness and buoyancy noted by us during the past two weeks are daily becoming more decided, and we again find it necessary to advance our figures on hard brick, the bulk of the sales now being within the range of $11.50@$13.50 per M., and very few offering even at these extreme rates. Pale range at $8.50 for inferior to $10.00 for choice. We should be glad to hold out hopes of an early decline, but at the moment everything indicates that if any further changes are made in values it will be to a still higher level, for not only is all the stock in receivers' hands completely exhausted, but the few cargoes coming in are either engaged ahead or sold immediately upon arrival; and then the demand is not fully supplied. From the yards along the river we have direct information, and learn that every thousand of merchantable stock has been raked and scraped together and shipped to this city, and that nothing more of consequence need be looked for until the new crop is ready. At the majority of the yards every preparation has been made to proceed with the manufacture as soon as the weather permits; and many millions are already moulded, but only a very few kilns are burning as yet, and it will probably be well up to the 1st of July before enough will be produced to materially increase our receipts. This is certainly a discouraging state of affairs for builders, and far different from the indications at the opening of the river, when, with probably the largest supply of old stock ever wintered over, it was thought that even the great increase of building could be easily supplied at the rates then current, and ere this buyers would be gaining the advantage in consequence of more liberal offerings of fresh manufacture. That such is not the result can be attributed to but one cause, which is simply the continued succession of stormy days, entirely preventing the resumption of work at the time fixed upon, and compelling dealers to depend on the old stock to meet their wants during a period of nearly two months further into the season than they had expected. It has been hinted that a combination of manufacturers and other interested parties has been instrumental in working up prices, but after careful inquiry we feel assured that though something of the kind was talked of early in the spring, it was not carried into effect, and that the advance is entirely the result of unavoidable causes as set forth above. Croton fronts are dull, and the few sales making are, in the majority of cases, at former rates, though really fine stock would command extremes. Philadelphia fronts arrive slowly, but the supply is ample for the demand, and prices are steady. The shipments are 52,000 to Cuba. The scarcity of brick is not confined to New York, but extends nearly all over the country, and we hear many accounts of building being delayed for want of stock.

The Prairie du Chien (Wis.) Courier says: "There is no better chance in the country for an industrious, prompt, thorough brick-making than at Prairie du Chien. There are over a MILLION of brick wanted here now. There are several ready and waiting for brick, and many more who would build at once if brick could be had. At least two new brick-yards are needed at Prairie du Chien. Brick can be made as cheap here (if not as good) as in Milwaukee. Will the Milwaukee papers notify the brick-makers of their city of the fact? Any man who will make reasonably good brick and sell them within $1 of Milwaukee prices, can make a fortune here.

A brick manufacturing company has been formed at Castine, Maine, which employs Madawaska Frenchmen. It is expected that three million bricks will be manufactured at the present season.

CEMENT.—Rosendale continues in good steady demand and the market is firm at $1 75 per bbl. The arrivals were somewhat checked by the stormy weather of last week, but are now on the increase.

Large veins of cement stone have been discovered at New Paltz Landing on lands belonging to Mr. Post, of Newburg. A force of men will be set to work at once, mills erected, etc.

The exports of Cement for the week were 440 bbls. to West Indies.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—There appears to be some slacking up in trade at the moment, though there is enough doing to keep dealers fairly active, the demand coming largely from the interior. Southern orders are plenty; but are not met with freedom, owing to the poor securities offered. The foreign markets all remain very dull, and in some cases relatively much below our own, offering but few inducements for any shipments except upon positive orders. Our local builders as a rule do not patronize the dealers in ready made stock, under the impression it cannot possibly be as good as that made by some favorite mechanic, but a fair city trade is being transacted from week to week, at list prices. Our table of quotations remains unchanged, and holders generally feel confident.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There is about the usual jobbing demand for the various grades, and from yard a fair amount of stock is being delivered. The wholesale market, however, is dull, and the only movement we hear of is a few lots cedar taken for export. The latest sales at auction were as follows: Of Honduras Mahogany 38 logs, at 5c. per foot; 31 logs, at 7¾c. per foot; 28 logs, at 8½c. per foot; 18 logs, at 9c. per foot; 13 logs, at 14½c. per foot; and 8 logs, at 19c. per foot. Of Mansanilla Mahogany 596 Crotches sold at 16@17c., and one log end at 4c. Of Cedar the sales were 54 logs Mansanilla at 12½c.; 155 logs Nuevitas at 11½@12¾c.; and 163 logs Trinidad at 11@12½c. The receipts reported, are 17 logs Cedar from St. Marys, Florida; 135 logs Mahogany from Tobasco; and 2,220 pieces boxwood from Liverpool. No exports.

GLASS.—There is still a good business doing in French window glass, particularly in the small and desirable sizes, but the market is scarcely so active as last week, a large number of the first heavy orders having been filled, or partially satisfied. The stock is without any improvement in regard to assortment, though a few small cargoes are expected, containing sizes better suited to the wants of buyers. We learn that the stock in Europe is very small, the manufactories, as is their custom when trade becomes dull, having pretty much all stopped work during the past winter and early spring, and though many have again resumed operations, it will be many weeks before their production becomes available. Prices remain stiff at full previous quotations.

HAIR.—The demand is not very heavy at the moment, and the market can only be called moderately active, but prices are as a general thing pretty well sustained, owing to the small supply of all grades.

LATH.—A few dealers, finding it absolutely necessary to obtain some stock, have very reluctantly met the views of holders, and at $3 50 per M, about 1,750,000 lath have been sold, including 800,000 to arrive. The majority of buyers, however, still hold to the opinion, that prices will recede somewhat, and as a consequence are unwilling to operate, except in just such small lots as will carry them along from day to day, although they are positively assured by receivers, that the lowest limit is $3.50, and that millers are determined to realize this figure or stop the production, and order all present supplies to be piled out until they gain their point and in the end obtain even higher rates. Of course a great amount of this style of talk is for effect, but we feel assured from the present aspect of affairs, sellers have a great advantage, and are likely to retain it for some little time to come, as the stocks now here are small, and but few cargoes are known to be on the way. Would it not be well therefore for buyers to operate along slowly and easily, as they require a supply, and with no great rush for stock, they can probably hold the market at about its present level at least?

LIME.—A few lots of common Rockland were received soon after our last and quickly sold out at $1 25 per bbl., and this rate in absence of any further supply is still the nominal figure. The market however is remarkably strong in view of anticipated short supplies; the recent decline having almost entirely stopped the production, as manufacturers could not see the policy of turning out stock at $1 00 per bbl. cost, and selling the same in the New York market at $1 10, the margin for freight, commissions and profit being wonderfully small. Three cargoes, containing in the aggregate about 1,500 bbls, are all that are known to be en route, and these have already been engaged, though at no fixed rate; which is to be determined by the state of the market, when the stock arrives. The amount in the hands of jobbers is fair, and considerable quantities are coming down the river, but there is a steady constant drain for consumption, and unless the upward turn in prices induces a renewal of the production a very stiff market may be looked for. Common $1 25 and lump $2 00 per bbl. are the latest sales, though these rates are entirely nominal at the close.

LUMBER.—We find nothing new of interest to advise in the retail trade since our last. At most of the yards the business is fair, particularly where dealers have anything in the way of desirable stock to offer, and every clear day brings out a pretty full average of buyers. Prices remain about as last quoted, the changes in values at the Albany market not having been decided enough to work upon the rates current here, which have been high enough all the season to afford sellers a liberal margin for profit The high water at Troy and Albany prevented shipments last week, and our receipts in consequence have been comparatively light, though latterly stock is coming down more freely, and the assortment rather improves. Eastern spruce is still in good demand, but not active, owing to the continued small arrivals of unsold stock, and the great scarcity of desirable grades. The present supply is not very light, but very little is on the way, and the mills are producing less freely, all of which tends to strengthen prices, and the range is now placed at $21@$23 per M., the outside figure not paid, but only because there was nothing good enough offered.

Buyers should not feel particularly alarmed, however, at the present position of affairs, for there has certainly been a full drive of logs, and lumbermen will not be likely to let the season pass without having enough sawed up to get a pretty liberal return of the funds expended in cutting, and running the timber into the booms. Hemlock scantling are not very plenty and not much inquired after, but as a general thing remain pretty firm at $16. Piling is received in quantities fully equal to the demand, and the market generally is rather dull at about 6½@8c. per foot. In Southern pine lumber we hear of nothing except a jobbing trade, not for lack of demand, but the same as is the case with Eastern lumber, for want of stock. Holders remain firm and confident at $32@$35, and the Southern advices still report full prices as current at the mills. The sales for export are moderate, but shippers are looking around to some extent, and some few small parcels are in treaty, mostly on South American account. For No. 1 Eastern shingles there is a good demand, and prices firm at $5 per M. The principal sales reported since our last are 350,000 feet Eastern spruce, at $22 on the spot, and 125,000 feet at $22 to arrive; and about 130,000 feet white pine boards at $28@$30 per M.

The shipments of lumber have been as follows:

We also notice shipments of 542 pieces plank to San Francisco, 991 pieces oak plank to Alicante, 67 logs black walnut to Bremen, 50 do. to London, 13,860 staves to Great Britain, 137,640 do. to Continent, and 1,660 to West Indies. The receipts reported are 500 pieces Spruce Piling from St. Johns, N. B., 100,000 feet of lumber on contract from Jacksonville, Fla., 159,000 feet of lumber from Pensacola, Fla., 77,000 feet do. from St. Mary's, Fla., 104,681 feet do. from New Orleans, and 4,000 staves from Newbern.

The western accounts still report large supplies running down the rivers, and the mill men generally forming a full crop of logs. Many mills were engaged to work the season through, while others not yet fully in operation had a good prospect of obtaining all the work they could attend to. At the principal sales markets business was still active, and the range of prices generally pretty well sustained. The receipts at Chicago were heavy at latest accounts, but the demand for shipment good, and business very active. Boards and strips, good mill-run, sold at $15 50@$16. Fair strips and mixed went at $13 50@14, and coarse to fair mixed alone at $12@13 75, a few very common at $11 50. The figures realized on scantling and joist were $12. "A" sawed shingles brought $3 62½, and lath $2 25@2 50. At the yards trade was active, and prices firm as follows:

The Milwaukee market remained steady and uniform on all grades with the usual average of business doing. Rates as follows:

Clear Plank, $50@53 00; Second Clear Plank, $45@49; Clear Boards, $48; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box), $30; Second Flooring, dressed, $40; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $16; Fencing, $17; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $14.50@16; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@7.00; Shingles, best sawed $4.50 @4.75; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

There was no change in the prices current at St. Paul, which are repeated as follows:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards; $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 18 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.: $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

The St. Paul Press of a recent date contains the following:

"One of the largest lumber rafts of the season passed down the river yesterday. It contained seven strings, and there were twelve platforms or sections in each string, making a total of eighty-four platforms. The amount of lumber contained in the whole raft must have been several hundred thousand feet. It passed the bridge with entire safety."

Referring to the logs on the Mississippi, the St. Cloud Republican of the 31st ult. says:

"Vast quantities of logs have been constantly floating down the river, destined for the mills here along the river and at the Falls of St. Anthony. The water is at a good driving stage, and the lumbermen are having a favorable season, so far, to float their logs. Huge jams of logs are formed between the rapids above and the island below this city. Every rock and shallow place in the river have large numbers caught and piled up. The logs on the Mississippi, Crow Wing and Platt rivers have been turned into the river, and the various crews are driving them down. A few days ago Scott's drive was at the rapids, and the logs came so thick and fast upon him that he is about to wait until those driving behind him come up, when they will all join in and drive the whole number through to the Falls. All the drives are between the Rapids and Little Falls. The Platte river logs were all turned in the Mississippi by Tuesday. Scott, Farnham, Davis, McDonald, Morrison, Lawrence and Brown's drives, representing in all some 80,000,000 feet of logs, are now speeding down the river, and in a fortnight will be by this place.

The mill men at this place have been busily engaged booming their logs for some time. Bridgman's mill is running and will saw N. P. Clarke's logs this season. Mr. Clarke, we understand, contemplates starting up Tobey's mill next week."

According to a statement in the Muskegon News, of a late date, the lumber manufacturers of that place have cut and shipped this season 36,000,000 feet of lumber, sold at Milwaukee and Chicago, on an average, at $15 per thousand, making a total of not less than $540,000. This is nearly double the amount that was shipped and sold at this time last year.

The Cincinnatti lumber market remains firm and quite active, and a recent published report proceeds as follows:

A fair supply of lumber has been rafted and brought down the river this spring, and more wait at Pittsburg and points above to take advantage of the next rise. The market has been more favorable to sellers than was anticipated early in the season. Good common lots have sold at $20 00 to $22 00 per 1,000 feet in the water. Extra lots, guaranteed to run 25 to 30 per cent., first common and clear, have sold at $25 00 to $26 00 per 1,000 feet in the water. Lots unsold are firmly held. Business in the yards is good, and prices are well maintained. The prospect is that there will be a continued good demand for all kind of building material through the season.

The yard rates for any river lumber were as follows: Clear per M $62 00@$64 00; first, second, and third common $45 00@$18 00 per M; first and second common flooring $60 00@$42 00 per M; first partition $63 00@$65 00; first and second class weather boards $27 00@$20 00 per M; pine joist and scantling $32 50@$35 00 per M; and hemlock do. do., $22 50@$25 00 do. Lake lumber was offered a trifle lower. Hard green lumber was dull, and irregular at about as follows: Oak $17 00@$20 00 per M; Ash $20 00@$25 00 per M; Cherry $29 00@$30 00 do.; Walnut $25 00@$30 00 do.; and Poplar $22 00@$23 00.

From Cleveland the report comes that the market is firm and active at the following figures:

At Leavenworth, Kansas, the quotations for pine lumber were as follows: First clear, $70 per M.; second clear, $60; first clear siding, $30; second clear siding, $25; first clear flooring, $45; second clear flooring, $40; third clear flooring, $37; "A" sawed shingles, $6; second sawed shingles, $4; Lath, $6@$7.

At Pittsburgh the supply and demand were about equal, with no very important changes to advise. Unplaned lumber was quoted as follows:

Clear, per M	$65 00
First Common	55 00
Second Common	29 00
Third Common	23 00

A raft measuring 60 feet wide, 210 feet long, and loaded with 3,000 rail road ties, passed down the Delaware river one day last week. This is said to be the largest raft that ever floated down the Delaware.

At Troy a steady demand prevails for all kinds at full former prices. The arrivals by both canals have been fair, the general assortment is rapidly improving, and buyers are picking out lots suited to their wants with much greater ease. Freights rather more active and firm at $75 to New York.

The supply of logs at the Eastward is undoubtedly large, and there is certainly enough to make a full average of lumber as compared with previous years, but at the moment the mills are not producing with great rapidity the freshets having raised the streams too high, and made it necessary for all hands to turn their attention to the securing of the rough stock in the booms. In a few instances logs have gone off down the rivers on their "own hook," but thus far the losses have been comparatively small, and lumbermen will, in nearly all cases, realize on a much larger amount of stock than they had calculated upon six weeks ago. Vessels are still very scarce, and lots ready for shipment continued piled up, for want of freight room.

"It is estimated that 6,000,000 feet of logs passed over the upper dam in Dover, New Hampshire, in one hour last Thursday."

"A drive of logs bound for Lowell, and said to embrace 13,000,000 feet of lumber, is mostly between Franklin and Concord, New Hampshire. The lumbermen are very fearful of a high freshet, which would scatter the logs in all directions."

"Some 500,000 feet of logs have been drifted by the high water on the Androscoggin, over a farm in Rumford, Maine."

Such items as the above are daily making their appearance, and all go to confirm the reports of a goodly supply of log, and it now lays with the mills whether we shall have a proportionate supply of lumber.

The Portland market continued active and firm at some advance on Spruce and Hemlock. We revise quotations as follows:

The Boston Commercial Bulletin reports as follows:

The market continues very active for all kinds of lumber, the arrivals scarcely keeping up a supply. Vessels are very scarce all along the coast, which delays many orders, for Spruce dimensions, which are very much wanted. It is a wonder to some what has become of all the Lumber coasters, but the fact is, none have been built of late years, and many have been lost.

The demand for export is good, and many more vessels are loading for foreign ports than at any other time for some months past.

The supply of logs and lumber will be ample for all wants, and yet we do not anticipate any immediate decline in prices, but think the market will be very steady for most kinds through the season.

Western Lumber.—Michigan Pine, Nos. 1 and 2, $63@$66; No. 3, $50@55; No. 4, $40@45. Black Walnut, Nos. 1 and 2, $70@75; do. do. Culls, $35@40. Ash, Nos. 1 and 2, $48@50; do. Culls, $30@35. A Quebec Prices Current of May 29th contains the following:

"Our market for the last fortnight has shewn very little animation, in consequence of the lateness of the Spring fleet, caused, we presume, by detention in the ice, and till the bulk of the vessels are in port we do not look for much buoyancy.

There is, however, some inquiry for both Red and White Pine, and also for deals, which are not overabundant; but since we issued our Circular on the 15th instant we have had heavy falls of rain, and we apprehend very little timber or logs will be left in the woods."

The St. John's (N. B.) Prices Current of May 28, reports the movements in freights as follows:

"There is very little offering in freights for the West Indies. We hear of only one transaction since last report, viz., Gem, for Havana, at $8.25.

"But few transactions coastwise this week, owing to scarcity of vessels, which are in request. The followng are reported: Black Bird, for Boston, at $4; Annie Currier, 104, and Odessa, 92, both from Fredericton to Providence, at 75c. for shingles. The charter of Adelia for Boston, changed for Washington, at $7."

Prices on all kinds remained steady, and we repeat quotations as follows:

The Southern reports still represent the markets as quite firm, and in the aggregate a fair amount of business doing, though the sales were somewhat spasmodic, being largely governed by the ability of millers to turn out stock. There was a very good local demand; in fact, at some points the desire to obtain lumber was so great that the bids of consumers were considerably in excess of those made by buyers on Northern account or for West India account. The latest Charleston quotations are as follows: Clear White Pine, 1st quality, $50@55 per M.; white pine, good run, $38@40; yellow pine, $20@25; rough boards, $12@15; grooved and tongued do., $28@32; yellow pine timber, $4@12.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to May 28, 1868, were 11,056,787 feet of lumber, of which 1,318,186 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 9,738,601 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,327,488 feet were consigned to New York; 2,316,524 to Philadelphia; 1,374,420 to Baltimore; 116,192 to Hartford, Conn; 1,243,824 to Providence, R. I.; and 476,395 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington the demand for lumber was very good and prices steady, but timber was rather more plenty, less sought after, and somewhat easier. Shingles in very good demand, but somewhat irregular, at about $2.50@3.50 per M. for common, and $4.00@4.50 for contract.

We give closing rates as follows; Timber at $11@13 for shipping; $9@11 for prime mill; and $5@8 for inferior to fair do. Lumber at $10@13 for wide boards; $8@10 for scantling; $15@17 for flooring; and $18@23 for West India cargoes.

At Savannah timber was not much inquired after, and the supply was accumulating to some extent, but lumber was active and firm. The quotations were as follows: $7 @10 per M. feet for mill timber, $12@17 for small shipping do., and $20@23 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $21@23 for flooring; $35@40 for white pine rough; $50@55 for do. dressed; and $30@35 for spruce pine scantling.

A recent Baltimore report says:

The lumber market has been very active this week, with a good supply of white pine and black walnut on hand. The supply of the former has been about equal to the demand. Large quantities are constantly arriving. We note one sale of 67,000 feet 4-4 white pine boards at $27.50 per M.

METALS.—Pig lead has arrived with considerable freedom, and meeting with only a moderate demand, sellers have reduced prices to about 6¼@6¾c., gold, in order to realize. These figures, however, are below the cost of importation, and many refuse to offer until some reaction takes place. Bar lead remains at 10c., sheet and pipe 12c. Sheathing copper is fairly active at 18@20c. for old, and 33c. currency for new. Tin plates meet with some jobbing demand, but the general market is devoid of life, and on large parcels holders appear willing to make trifling concessions could they find buyers by so doing. The recent receipts have not been very heavy. Zinc is in demand, and with continued small offerings of the sizes wanted, the market has again slightly improved, closing strong at full 12@12½c., and Lehigh generally held at 13c. from store.

NAILS.—The demand for cut nails has been moderate, and the few purchases made were only in view of immediate wants. We still quote 4d@6d at 4⅞@5c. in large parcels and 5@5¼ in small lots to jobbers, and at these figures the market may be called steady. Clinch show no important variation, and are still placed at 6½@6¾c. Zinc nails are quoted at 18c., Yellow metal do. 26c. and copper do. 40c. per ℔. The exports for the week were 154 kegs, valued at $1,109, against 274 pkgs. valued at $1,431 last week. For shipment to San Francisco we note 5,524 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—A steady business is doing in paints in small lots from store, but the wholesale market has become rather quiet, and we hear of no large movements. Prices remain about as before, though occasionally buyers gain some trifling advantages. Glue of choice white quality continues remarkably scarce, and would command very full figures if offered, but all grades are quite steady, the production having been somewhat checked by the late stormy weather. Linseed oil has continued rather dull throughout the week, and prices are again somewhat reduced, though at the decline crushers refuse to offer with much freedom, and the views of many are 1 @2c. above inside quotations. The stock is ample, and if anything, rather on the increase. We now place the rate at $1.12@1.14 in casks, and $1.13@1.15 in bbls., some held at $1.16. The exports for the week were 168 pkgs. paint valued at $2,060; 7,443 gallons linseed oil valued at $5,504 and 430 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $6,426. There was also shipped to San Francisco 392 pkgs. white lead; 64 bbls. paint, and 38 bbls. varnish.

PITCH.—The demand continues very fair, and principally from local dealers, at full previous rates, though nothing except strictly choice commands extremes. We quote at $3 50@$3 75 per bbl. from store, for prime city and Southern. The receipts for the week were 136 bbls. Exports for week, none. Since January 1st, 1,607 bbls; and for same period last year 2,471 bbls.

PLASTER OF PARIS.—The market for lump remains quite dull, and in the absence of any important business prices are nominally unchanged. We note arrivals during the week of 915 tons, but a large proportion had been previously disposed of and will not come upon the market for sale. Calcined is selling well and at full previous rates.

PLUMBERS' STOCK.—The general average of business continues very good, but some irregularity is beginning to be manifested and evidences of a slight falling off can occasionally be observed. The spring price lists and discounts are still nominally adhered to, but many material concessions can be obtained from many manufacturers who are anxious to work down stocks.

SLATE.—The local trade is daily picking up, and though the amount sold for use within the immediate boundaries of the city is small, all the villages and towns near by are taking a great many squares, and for choice grades full prices are obtained. The receipts continue ample for present wants, and are still mainly from Pennsylvania, as the stock from this section of the country is growing in favor and can be laid down here at a less expense. From Vermont we learn that nearly if not quite all the quarries have commenced operations, and are running along quite regularly, the weather being favorable, and wages generally have been settled upon, in most cases at equal to $2 75 per day. No strikes are anticipated, as quite a number of Welsh workmen have already arrived, others are on the way, and advices from Europe indicate that trade is so dull there that a great many hands are without employment, who would gladly emigrate to this country, could they be assured that their services would be required, and be willing to to go to work at the above rate. By the aid of the cable, these miners could be made available within a couple of weeks at least; and quarrimen have little fear of being forced to pay advanced wages.

STONE.—We hear of nothing particularly new during the past week, trade running along steady and about previous values being current. Blue stone is coming out of the quarries with more freedom, and the shipments are larger, though nothing in excess of the demand, and the general stock is not large. Free stone cutters struck early in the week for an advance to $5 00 per day, but being promptly met, no trouble ensued.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand has been very fair, in part for export, but with heavy receipts and an accumulating supply (now about 3,650 bbls.) the tendency of prices is still strongly downward, and in order to realize receivers find it necessary to show buyers many favors. At about 45@46 for wholesale lots, and 47@48c. in a retail way, the market closes somewhat irregular, though at the inside figures the offerings are not very large. Receipts for the week 2,611 bbls. Exports for week 4 bbls; since January 1st, 3,750 bbls, and for same period last year 7,907 barrels.

TAR.—With a better assortment offering, and some falling off in the demand, the market shows rather less strength, and the extreme figures of last week cannot now be obtained. At the close there is a steady uniform feeling at about $3 00@3 62½ for common to prime North County; $3 75@4 00 for do. Wilmington; and $4 25 for small lots very choice do. from yard. The stock in first hands is 4,100 bbls. Receipts for the week 2,096 bbls. Exports for week none; since January 1st 3,202 bbls.; and for same period last year 2,997 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of June 2d reports as follows:

The trade during the week has been active, with fair receipts by canal, and a good assortment of stock. Prices are very firm, with an upward tendency. All fear as to future receipts appears to be at an end, the rains of the month of May having floated off most, if not all, the logs.

We do not change our quotations for clear lumber, some sales having been made within the range; but the bulk of the sales of fair to good have been made at $58@60, and on some lots even higher figures have been obtained. On one or two other descriptions of Pine we advance our figures of last week.

Coarse lumber rules at about last week's figures, with good receipts and an active business.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain Canals, for the fourth week of May were, of lumber, 17,902,200 feet; of shingles, 1,564 M., of timber, 18,054 c. ft., and of staves, 2,082,300 lbs. Of the lumber, 11,881,000 feet were received by the Erie, and 6,021,200 feet by the Champlain Canal.

At Chicago the receipts of lumber for the week ending May 30th were 31,439,000 feet against 28,913,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. The aggregate receipts since January 1st are 203,817,000 feet against 153,253,000 feet in 1867.

At Buffalo the receipts for the week ending June 1st were 10,965,900 feet; at Oswego 10,156,700 feet.

Freights are unchanged except to Richmond and Petersburgh, which we advance six dollars. Freights are temporarily scarce, but a fleet is expected before the close of the week.

From the regular monthly circular of Messrs. Wm H. Gratwick & Co., we extract the following:

The District now offers a good assortment of Lumber, much of which is the dry wintered at mills, affording purchasers an opportunity to replenish for their immediate trade. This dry stock is of course only limited, and within thirty days it will be difficult to find dry lots—particularly of Clear Pine.

The recent rains have been pretty general—though extending more through Canada than the West—and as a result the greater portion of the logs have been run.

The Hemlock and Spruce logs are down in full supply, and the mills will not want for stock.

In Canada the great bulk of the logs have been run, but while the prospect now is for a full stock, the only change to note among manufacturers, is one showing increased firmness in general feeling.

In Michigan the case is somewhat different, and although certain Albany reports upon the Lumber market represent the logs there as having been all secured, we are positively informed that full twenty millions are hung up on the Cass River and its branches, and at least thirty millions upon other streams.

Our desire in this survey of the field is to give a true statement of facts bearing upon the trade to all engaged in it, and we need only refer to the general correctness of the views heretofore set forth in our Price Current to secure for our views and comments general reliance.

THE Tribune is guilty of very great nonsense in denouncing landlords as greedy and covetous because they get as high a price for their property as the house market will give them. No one thinks of blaming a broker for selling his stocks at the market price, or the merchant his goods; but when a house owner takes the same advantage of the market he is called a moral monster. This kind of prejudice is natural enough among ignorant people, but surely it is unworthy a great metropolitan journal to countenance and adopt it.

The law of supply and demand regulates the rates of house rent. If there are too many tenants, the competition among landlords brings down their value; if too few, then landlords reap a harvest by the competition among the tenants. Let us have no more appeals to prejudice on what is a pure matter of business.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

THE Chicago Tribune of a recent date says of house and home rents in Chicago:

"There has been a marked decline in almost all classes of house rents in Chicago during the past two months, but particularly in the costly dwellings, which have heretofore rented readily at from $1,200 to $1,500 per year, and a great many are vacant in all parts of the city. Tenants have taken to building or buying for themselves, and have turned the tables on the landlords, and instead of a dozen applicants bidding up on each other, to see who shall pour the most outrageous profit into the landlord's pocket, houses, even in some of the best localities, go "a begging" at rentals twenty per cent. below the prices asked two months ago. On cheap houses, which usually rent for $500 or $600 per year, the decline is not so great, but the best informed agents place the average reduction on all classes of house rents at ten to fifteen per cent. since the 1st of April, and estimate the number of dwellings now standing vacant in this city at from 700 to 800, and some set the number as high as 1,000.

The most of these unoccupied houses are new, and a large proportion were built for sale, and have never been offered for rent; so that they should not be taken into the account as part of the house accommodation offered to renters; but each one that is sold makes one less applicant for rent, and so helps to depress rates. It seems just now as though builders had rather overdone the business, and tenants were about to experience one of those millennial periods of moderate rents, which come so rarely in this city. At one time last fall, however, there was even a larger supply of unoccupied houses, and notwithstanding that building has continued at about the same ratio as before, there are no more surplus houses now than then, and in the intermediate time, houses have been rather scarce, having been taken up by the increase of population from abroad. Store rents are very firm, and in almost any good business quarter of this city present occupants could re-let their stores—whether for wholesale or retail trade—and get a bonus for the possession. Offices on second floors do not rent so readily, nor at quite so high rates as some months ago, though in some locations, like that about the Chamber of Commerce, where there has lately been a concentration of office business, the rates are higher."

SORET'S cement consists of oxide of zinc made into a paste with a solution of chloride of zinc. This quickly sets into a hard mass, and can be used for filling wells, &c. A cheaper form is made by mixing equal weights of zinc white and very fine sand, and making the mixture into a paste with a solution of chloride of zinc of the density of 1.26. This cement sets rapidly, but not inconveniently so. It resists the action of chemical agents, and may be used for stopping cracks in metallic apparatus, cementing glass, &c.

THE Women's College at Lyons, Iowa, hitherto private property, and valued at $50,000, has been sold to the Presbyterian Synod of Iowa for $15,000. The property includes three brick buildings, eight acres of ground, and $4,000 worth of furniture. The synod has raised and pledged $5,000 towards this amount.

THE government authorities at Washington are satisfied with the new post-office site in Boston, and drafts for the full price, $460,800, have been delivered to Postmaster Burt. The buildings now there will be sold before July 1.

WM. B. OGDEN, of Chicago, contemplates erecting 400 houses in Hudson City, N. J., at an average cost of $10,000 each. He owns property on the main avenue worth about $750,000.

OMAHA, Nebraska, has but about 20,000 inhabitants, and there are already this season more than a thousand buildings in course of erection, a majority of which are large permanent structures.

FOR the week ending May 23d, the real estate transactions declined to $485,999, against $850,000 for the previous week.

A MAN in a shingle mill at Fond du Lac, Wis., in 11 1-4 days cut 1,018,250 shingles—nearly 100,000 per day.

THREE thousand acres of land in Angeline county, Texas, lately sold at sheriff's sale for $60.

HOMES for working men, with board and lodging, for $3 per week, are proposed in Chicago.

AN estate at Springfield, Mass., which was bought two years ago for $32,000, has just been sold for $52,598.

THE First National Bank of Springfield is erecting a stately block that will cost $40,000.

OVER 200 new buildings are to be erected in New Haven this season.

REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.

4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers, will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

GREAT SALE OF WESTCHESTER PROPERTY AT AUCTION.
To be made without reserve, pursuant to a judgment of the Supreme Court, in partition.
ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1868, AT 12 M.,
BY
ANTHONY J. BLEECKER, SON & CO.,
AUCTIONEERS.
At the Exchange Salesroom, 111 Broadway, New York.
CLASON'S POINT, IN THE TOWN OF WESTCHESTER,
And extends from the South Westchester Turnpike, 2¼ miles along the new highway, to LONG ISLAND SOUND, and includes an extensive and VALUABLE WATER FRONT ON THE SOUND. It has a varied and picturesque surface, is beautifully wooded, and affords fine views of the Sound and its charming scenery.
It has been laid out into FORTY PLACES OF FROM 2 to 40 ACRES EACH, under the direction of IGNAZ PILAT, consulting landscape gardener to the Commissioners of the Central and Prospect Parks, in such a manner as to give to each a fine building site, an unobstructed view, and the greatest possible number of natural advantages.
These places have all the rural charms of the distant country, and are sufficiently near to the city for daily access, being about four miles from Harlem and 10½ miles from the City Hall, New York.
In addition to the new Highway recently made along the entire length of this property other roads have been laid out in an artistic manner.
A new steamboat dock is proposed at the Point; the South Westchester Turnpike is being re-graded and macadamised; new railroads are projected through and near this property to Harlem, and from Harlem to the City Hall a tunnel railroad is chartered. No better investment can be made. The few beautiful points on the Sound in Westchester county, of which this is the finest, are in great demand, and rapidly increasing in value.
This sale will afford such an opportunity as has never before been offered for the purchase of grounds for elegant homes in Westchester, adjacent to the Sound and near the great metropolis.
Do not fail to examine the property. Each lot is distinctly staked out and numbered.
Locations shown on above map.
Sixty per cent. of the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage for three or five years.
☞ Maps can be had of the auctioneers, at their office, 77 Cedar street, New York.

A VERY GREAT IMPROVEMENT.

MR. S. N. PIKE, the builder and owner of the famous Opera House in New York, has done a work which, although it will result in considerable advantage to himself, should nevertheless earn for him the gratitude of all who wish well to their kind. He has taken the first step towards reclaiming that vast area of marshy land which lies between Jersey City and Newark—the well known Newark or New Jersey Flats. About a year since, Mr. Pike bought four thousand acres, or thereabouts, of this land, at a price ranging from $75 to $100 per acre. The land lies between the Hackensack and Passaic rivers, having a water front of five miles on the former and of three miles on the latter. Through this tract of country runs the Morris and Essex R. R. and a section of the Morris Canal; and immediately adjacent to it two new railroads will shortly be built. One of these enterprises is the Newark and New Jersey road, and the other, the road which is to run from Jersey up to Bellville and Montclair, and so, through the Notch, to Pompton. In addition to these four railroads, a fine plank-road and one of the best turnpikes in the country run through the ground. Within the past year Mr. Pike has succeeded in effectually reclaiming this land by drainage. He has used Drigg's Patent Iron Plates for this purpose; they have been sunk on the boundaries of the purchase; and the four thousand acres are now thoroughly dyked, and all water excluded. So near is the work to completion, that within the coming two weeks it is expected that every part of this large section of ground will be suitable for tillage or building purposes. Portions of the ground thus reclaimed will be set aside for different purposes; much of it will be naturally set aside for market gardens, in which immense quantities of vegetables can be raised, as the ground is of unsurpassed fertility. Along the water fronts are to be built warehouses for the storage of petroleum and cotton. A new feature proposed by Mr. Pike, is the building of an immense race-track, for trotting and running races. It will be the first really democratic track in the United States. All the other race-courses,—the Jerome, Paterson, Long Island, and Fashion Courses,—are extremely difficult of access; and conveyances have to be hired to reach them, making it a costly business to attend them. But the tract of ground of which we now speak, is already reached by two swift railways, which pass right through it, and it will, moreover, soon be traversed by four railroads, in addition to the turnpike and plank roads. These facilities will make it possible for the multitude of New York to reach the ground on excursion tickets of twenty-five cents each; so, for the first time in the history of the country, facilities for witnessing the scenes of the race-course will be afforded for one hundred thousand persons. This race-course will have all the appointments necessary for such public amusements; and will be laid out and supplied with Mr. Pike's customary liberality and thoroughness. But a time will come, of course, when this tract will be a city, if the drainage has rendered it habitable; as it is within fifteen minutes' time of New York city, buildings will rapidly spring up for the accommodation of city men; and land for which Mr. Pike gave not more than $85 per acre, on an average, will in five years' time be worth $5,000 an acre. It is somewhat to the discredit of our business men of New York, that this vast plain has not been utilized before. There are yet thousands and thousands of acres to be made serviceable. The reclamation of these marshes will add wonderfully to the health of Eastern New Jersey; and will undoubtedly rid the country of the swarms of musquitos, which now plague the residents. In fine, the scheme will add untold millions to the taxable property of the State. Although Mr. Pike has made his money in the whiskey business, the vast and important work that he has here carried out gives him an advantage over many a Christian merchant and banker who has had neither wit nor godliness enough to make so wise and beneficent a use of his money.

VACANT HOUSES.

IN all the large cities, for the first time in six years, we hear complaints that there are many vacant houses. This is certainly true of New York and Brooklyn; but the scarcity of tenants compared with houses is even more marked in Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, and St. Louis. The popular newspaper theory to account for this phenomenon is, that high rents have driven people into the suburbs of the large cities, where tenements are supposed to be cheaper; but this hyphothesis will not do, for in the first place, rents are not relatively cheaper in the suburbs than in the city; and in the second, there is as large a proportion of vacant houses in the small towns as in the large cities. Real estate agents and property holders will bear us out in the assertion, that there are proportionately more vacant houses in Newark, Elizabeth, Orange, Yonkers, and the other outlying towns, than there are in New York city. The same fact is observable in the suburban districts all over the country.

Now, how is this to be accounted for? It is but a year since when tenants were begging for houses; and, the way things are now going on, in another year landlords will be begging tenants to occupy their houses. This is not a cheerful prospect, but landlords would do well to look the future full in the face. The truth is that paper money and consequent high prices so stimulated speculation, that the centres of population became gorged with unnecessary traders. Agriculturists forsook their fields, and flocked to the towns to engage in trade. But the shrinkage of prices which has taken place within the last two years has killed all manner of unnecessary and unproductive enterprise, and has forced, and is forcing, the whilom farmers back to their plows. The high prices which obtain for all kinds of farm produce, is helping on this wholesome tendency.

While this process of gradual depletion was going on, an excessive number of houses were built everywhere; and the rush to put them up still continues.

Although we have not seen the worst of this dearth of tenants, as compared with houses, after all, there is no danger that there will be too many of the latter. This dullness will be but temporary. The history of the last twenty-five years shows a tremendous addition to the population of great centres of trade. The building of houses will always be profitable in and near a great metropolis like New York; but landlords must not expect an active house market until after the Presidential election, perhaps not until we get back to specie payments.

IT is proposed by one of our city fathers to increase the rate of wages of the dock-builders in the employ of the corporation to three dollars per day. As wages now rate, this is not much of an increase; but would it not be better for our municipal legislators, if they have the power, to devise some means whereby our docks and piers would not require to be built every few years, with repairs constantly going on? As they are now, they are a disgrace to the Great Commercial Emporium of the Western World. If the wisdom of our "municipal parents" could be concentrated on some practicable and feasible plan of a dock that could be durable, perpetual even, many of the shortcomings with which they are charged might be overlooked and excused. Come, urbis prætores et patres conscripti, propose something for the benefit of our commerce that will hand your names down to posterity as genuine public benefactors.

SEVERAL new streets up town, as appears in the list of bills approved by the Mayor, have been ordered to be regulated, graded, &c.; the sidewalks however to be flagged with what is known as the Fiske Concrete, under the patent of one Hiram Burlew.

It may not be generally known what this pavement is; but by those who pass through the City Hall Park, it will be observed on the path leading from the City Hall to the Street Commissioners' office, and from Beekman street, across, in front of the great public eye-sore, commonly called The Fountain.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

DURING the month of May 253 permits for the erection of new buildings were issued in Baltimore. The number issued during the corresponding month of last year amounted only to 149, showing an increase the past month of 104. The total number of permits for new buildings issued up to the first of the present month, amounts to 895, against 372 issued during the same time last year—an increase of 523, more than double the number. Besides the above quite a number of permits were granted for improving old buildings, &c. In the first ward 108 permits were granted against 36 last year; Seventh ward 98, last year 25; Twelfth ward 57, last year 27; Sixteenth ward 79, last year 14; Eighteenth ward 66, last year 34; Nineteenth ward 125, last year 47, and Twentieth ward 69, against 44 last year. These statistics certainly show a decided onward march in the way of improvements in the city, and speak well for Baltimore's future greatness.

THE promise given at the early part of the building season of a large growth of Philadelphia this year will be fully realized. In the month of May the foundations of 537 dwelling houses were laid, 6 of which are to be four stories, 320 three stories and 211 two stories in height. There were also commenced the erection of 4 churches and a college and 13 storehouses. The total number of structures for which permits were taken out is 606; the number to which alterations and additions are to be made, 144, making 750 in all. Among the buildings are included a College of Pharmacy, to be erected on Tenth street, above Cherry: 48 by 72 feet, three stories in height; also the Masonic Temple on Broad street, 150 by 239 feet.

SALE OF A SUGAR REFINERY.—The extensive eight-story brick building and lot, 380 South street, known as the Place Sugar Refinery, lot 70 by 140, extending through to Front street, with all the machinery and appurtenances of a sugar refinery, with dock privileges, also the storehouse on the north side of Front street, adjoining the refinery, built on leased ground, were sold at public auction yesterday by John H. Draper & Co., for the sum of $160,000. H. N. Camp was the purchaser.

A NEW YORK paper says the paper hangers and paper makers are much excited just now with the news of the invention of gutta percha paper, which, for durability and imperviousness, surpasses all previous attempts at fabrication of a damp-resisting medium. It is to be prepared for paper hanging, and will very shortly be in the market.

THE fire limits of Brooklyn, within which no frame buildings are to be erected, are soon to be extended over the district included between Washington, Classon, Gates, and Lafayette aves., the Common Council having taken preliminary measures to that end.

A UNION depot, costing $300,000, is to be erected by the five railroads centering at Columbus, Ohio.

THIRTY-NINE real estate sales were recorded in Chicago last Friday, amounting to $126,197.

COMPETITION is so sharp between the rival steamboat lines on the Upper Mississippi, that wages on the boats between St. Paul and La Crosse have been cut down to the following prices: Captains from $160 per month to $100; pilots, $125 to $75; first clerks, $100 to $75; second clerks, $75 to $40.

HORACE H. DAY, of India rubber notoriety, who expended $100,000 several years since in the construction of a hydraulic canal at Niagara Falls, is out with a proposition to the people of the village to purchase his property at cost—he to retain one mill site, upon which he will erect a factory with the proceeds of the sale.

The prices of real estate in Springfield, Mass., are declining.

THE Picayune says that real estate in New Orleans has a steady and definite downward tendency in its market value, and attributes it to the growing impression that the profits by way of rental will be less next year than they were this.

THE total number of blocks in the city is 3,544, many of them averaging 20 lots to the block, and others 60. Taking the average number of lots in a block at 40, there are 141,760 taxable building lots in the city. The present population of Brooklyn is estimated at 400,000.

THERE are 15,000 real estate holders in this city, and one-third of this number own merely the houses which they occupy, while the remainder have property to let. The proportion of property owners to the rest of the population is about one and a half per cent. or 15 to 1,000.

THE amount of lumber surveyed at Bangor, Maine, from January 1st to June 1st, 1868, compared with the amount surveyed during the same period in 1866 and 1867, is as follows:

Inquiring why the paving of 5th av. from 61st st to 86th st. with Belgian pavement has been discontinued.

We observe that, notwithstanding the act repealing all ordinances relating to Belgian Pavement, there continue to be introduced ordinances for that object.

We believe, however, that in all such cases the property owners propose to lay that pavement at their own expense. Well, no one objects. Below is a list of the streets for which resolutions have been introduced to lay Belgian pavement since the repeal of the ordinances relating thereto.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Another meeting of the East River Improvement Association took place last week. A report was read from Mr. John Roach, chairman of the Special Committee on Finance, recommending that no strenuous efforts be made at this time to raise a fund to defray expenses beyond the assessment of $25 each on the fifteen members of the Executive Committee. Considerable discussion occurred upon the report, in which H. C. Calkins, James R. Taylor and others participated. Gen. Barnum, Secr'y, made the declaration that Congress had appropriated over $80,000 towards the improvement of the little local harbor of Vermilion, on Lake Erie, where vessels only entered occasionally, while they neglected to open East River, through which $15,000,000 worth of tonnage passed daily. The Brooklyn Prospect Park Commissioners and property owners, also held an important meeting. In response to questions of the gentlemen present, the committee said that the Assessors appointed by the Court were not bound to go to the extreme verge of the district as fixed by the Park Commission, but that they would have to keep within that limit. It was the desire of the Park Commissioners to make the district of assessment wide enough, and not cramp it. Mr. Stranahan thought it would not, perhaps, be legal to go beyond the city line on the south [which is within an average of four blocks], and should not crowd upon Atlantic avenue on the north [which is ten blocks distant].

Mr. Burke, the champion of the anti-boulevard interest, thought that the property just outside the city limits in the towns would be benefited as much as any, especially at the farther end, where the city line approached the Boulevard. Mr. Sage moved, in order to start an expression of the meeting, that the district be fixed from Fulton avenue on the north (ten blocks), and an equal distance over the city line on the south, into the towns. As a basis to this motion, he said Atlantic and Fulton avenues were to be important business streets, and they would be benefited in proportion to the solidity of the population. There would be no injustice in extending it that far. Mr. Fiske suggested that in so large a district the assessment might not pay for the maps, as every lot had to be surveyed and mapped, and the title searched. A motion was afterward made to extend the district to 100 feet north of Fulton avenue.

The amount of capital invested in the erection of new buildings is greater to-day than at any other time. The number of buildings now being erected in Broadway below Union square, including those that are being rebuilt with new fronts, is thirteen. Their aggregate cost, when completed, will be $3,345,000. The new frontage presented on Broadway will amount to 514 lineal feet. The average height is five and a half stories. The average depth is 129 feet. The number of men employed is 790. Two of the buildings will be occupied this month; two more will be finished in July; two in August; three in January, 1869; one in May, 1869, and one in May, 1870.

If these buildings were placed side by side in a straight line, they would extend from Canal to Grand street, in Broadway, and present a towering row of dazzling splendor and magnificence. Among these are the buildings of the Equitable Life Assurance Company; the Howard Hotel, No. 187; The National Park Bank; improvements at the Astor House; No. 257, the Merchants' Exchange National Bank; the New York Life Insurance Company; Nos. 310, 312, 422, 499, 680, the East River National Bank; 684 and the building on the corner of 10th street.

SALES.

There is just enough animation in the real estate market to keep it from becoming stagnant. Prices are neither advancing nor decreasing, but holding firm. During the current week some heavy sales of land situated in this city, Brooklyn, Westchester, New Jersey, and other places have taken place with only moderately satisfactory results. Capitalists are looking for investments with a prescient eye to the future; and the agitation of the question of the removal of the rocks from Hell Gate has had much to do with the interest taken in Westchester County lands. When that approach to the city will have been made, it will be the main gate-way for our enormously increasing commerce. Washington Heights now affords but a temporary resting place for our first families, fleeing from the encroachments of commerce, which even now has effected a lodgment in places which, a few years ago, were thought to be exempt for a generation at least from the march of business. Special pieces of property in particular localities are now much sought after for purposes of building permanently, or for retaining with a view to sell when the confidently anticipated advance on the present prices of real estate shall take place. The east side has the preference. The following are the particulars of the principal sales which have taken place since our last issue:

A. D. Mellick, Jr., & Bro. have sold this week at Scotch Plains, house and 35 acres, on the Plainfield road, known as the Maher place, owned by John Taylor Johnston, Esq., to Mr. Augustus D. Shepard, of New York, for thirty thousand dollars.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4TH.—BY JAMES M. MILLER.—The northwest corner of Grove and Bedford streets, 22.8x59 feet, for $8,050.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5TH.—BY MESSRS. JOHN DRAPER & CO.—An 8-story brick building and lot No. 380 South street, known as the Place Sugar Refinery, lot 70 by 140, extending through to Front street, with all the machinery and appurtenances of sugar refinery. Also dock privileges. Also the store-house on the north side of Front street, adjoining the refinery, built on the leased ground. Purchased by H. N. Camp for $160,000.

TUESDAY, JUNE 9TH.—BY JAMES M. MILLER.—Lot 35.6x102.2 feet, on the east side of Twelfth avenue, 15 feet south of 109th street, was sold to a Mr. Cassidy for $1,600. Two lots, 25.2x100 feet each, on 12th avenue, adjoining the above, were purchased by George Peck at $1,800 each. Lot, 25x84 feet, in rear of the above lot in Twelfth avenue, and 15 feet south from 109th street, was bought by Mr. Cassidy for $1,020. Two lots, 42x86.5 feet, with improvements thereon, and known as Nos 66 and 68 Frankfort street, near Cliff street, were sold to J. Pangborn for $17,300. By A. J. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10TH.—BY E. H. LUDLOW & CO.—The Barnum Museum property, on Broadway, for $432,000, to Mr. Peter Gilsey; $350,000 to remain on bond and mortgage. The property consists of three lots, Nos. 537, 539, and 541 Broadway, each lot 25x200, and located 75.2 feet north of Spring st. The residence of the late De Forest Manier, in the town of Hempstead, Queens County, Long Island, to Edward Larnette, for $42,500.

BY A. J. BLEECKER, SON & CO.—The four two-story and attic, brick front dwellings, with lots, each 20x87.6 feet, known as Nos. 92, 94, 96 and 98 Ludlow st., between Broome and Delancy sts., to L. Freedman, for $31,900.

BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & CO.—Stramon Hall, or Livingston Manor, to Mr. KNOX, for $59,000. The Hall is surrounded by more than 300 acres of land, and the whole property, which is one of the few remaining representatives of the old time country seats, has all the charm of historic interest, and at the same time is replete with those modern conveniences and improvements which are now demanded. It is situated near the City of Hudson Columbia Co., N. Y.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand continues very active, and no stock of hard brick is allowed to accumulate, the wants of builders being fully equal to the supply up to the present writing. Prices remain firm at $11.50@$13.50, with a few sales of desirable lots at $14.00 per M. These figures, however, are probably about the highest point that will be reached this season, as the clear weather has already aided materially in increasing the manufacture, and cargoes commence coming down the river, and from the Jersey yards, with more freedom. We hope, therefore, that by the time our next issue appears the turn will be in buyers' favor, and we shall be called upon to chronicle a decline from prevailing extreme rates. Pale brick are rather better, say $9.00@$11.00 per M., but it requires the best to realize our extreme figure. Fronts show no variation worthy of note. The exports during the week were 15,000 to British West Indies, and 29,500 to Cuba.

CEMENT.—Rosendale is coming forward in pretty liberal quantities, but all appears to be wanted, and the rate remains firm at $1.75 per bbl., delivered at New-York. Shipments for the week, 226 bbls.

FOREIGN WOODS.—This market presents no features worthy of special note, the auction sales being small and unimportant, and the wholesale trade very dull. The job prices from yard are unchanged. The receipts are: 7 planks and 128 logs Mahogany from Vera Cruz; 341 logs do. from Minatitlan; 112 logs do. from Mansanilla; 490 logs Cedar from Mansanilla; 214 do. from Fernandina; 56 tons Lignumvitæ from Aquin, and 12,000 lbs. do. from Jeremie. The exports: 5 cases Mahogany to Genoa, and 257 logs do. to Chili.

GLASS.—French window glass is in very good demand, but we note some slacking up in trade, except on the grades running at about 14@16 inch, which have been scarce all the season; and a much larger stock of these than is now here could be easily disposed of. The discounts are mostly at 40@50 per cent. from price lists. The imports for the week were 5,049 packages, valued at $16,281.

HAIR.—The supply, though somewhat increased since our last, is still too small to freely meet the demand, and prices remain firm, though no advance is asked except on very choice and desirable parcels.

LATH.—There has been more activity in this market during the week, the supply in the hands of jobbers having become so small that they were obliged to come forward with considerable freedom. This, of course, gave sellers a still further advantage, and we note a slight improvement in prices; the feeling at the close showing considerable firmness in view of light receipts both present and prospective. Buyers, however, do not appear anxious to operate either on the spot or to arrive, and in most cases the purchases made are in view of anticipated early resales, or to fill orders already in hand. The transactions foot up 2,250,000, at $3.50@$3.65, closing at $3.60@$3.65 per M.

LIME.—A few parcels of Rockland have been received since our last, but as anticipated they were disposed of immediately upon arrival at higher rates, and of this grade the market is again bare. From the North River there is an increasing supply, and this keeps the trade running, but Rockland always has the preference, and regulates the prices of all kinds. The feeling at the close is steady at $1.35 per bbl. for common; and $2.25 do. for lump. Manufacturers are understood to have again commenced operations, though the amount of stock as yet ready for shipment is quite small, and but little is coming down the coast.

LUMBER.—The retail market remains quite firm, and trade is daily becoming more general, the slight improvement in the weather during the past week being of material benefit to business. The few dealers who are lucky enough to hold well-seasoned and desirable stock experienced no difficulty whatever in effecting sales at full figures, though no advance has as yet been asked. The receipts are rather more liberal, and new lumber is beginning to accummulate, but the bulk is green and rough in quality and finds no immediate market. Strictly dry lumber is inquired after, 1@1¼ inch stuff in particular, and is still very difficult to obtain; a buyer who recently visited Albany informing us that after a strict search he could only find about 10,000 feet of 1-inch, and lost half of this by a delay of half an hour in closing with the seller. Eastern lumber merchants appear to be watching the Albany markets pretty closely, and snapping up all the choice lots received; but we hear considerable is expected in at an early day, and within a week or two the assortment will probably improve. The wholesale market has been very dull, not for want of a demand, but because receivers have very little stock, even of poor grade, to offer, there being at the present writing only about half a dozen cargoes on sale. Early in the week a number of vessels arrived with Eastern Spruce, but this afforded no relief, the majority having been sold previous to receipt. Prices for anything like a good specification will not range below $21.00, and the best go up as high as $23, the feeling continuing quite strong at the above figures; dealers manifesting great confidence in their ability to sustain the market until vessels become more plenty at the Eastward, and the mills send forward a large portion of the liberal supply which they can easily turn out. Hemlock is fairly active and steady at $16.00 per M. Pickets are not much sought after at present, but are pretty steady at about $12.00 per M. Piling is still quoted at 6½c.@8c. per foot, but the arrivals exceed the inquiry, and are in a measure considered dead stock at the moment. No. 1 Eastern shingles continue in request at $5.00 per M. White cedar posts dull at about 20c. each. Southern pine is still scarce and wanted, and is quoted strong at $30.00@$35.00 per M., though at ruling prices at the mills, and the extreme freight charges insisted upon, the above figures are really below the cost of cargoes here. We record rather larger shipments this week, but exporters operate with great caution, and in most cases only on positive orders, or to prevent vessels leaving with unemployed freight room. The only sales reported for the week embrace some 800,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $21.00@$23.00. A contract has been entered into to supply about 7,000,000 feet white pine (mostly Canadian) for manufacturing purposes. We desire to call the attention of the trade in general to the fact that a Lumber Merchants' Exchange has recently been opened at No. 96 Wall st., in order to simplify and facilitate the transaction of the wholesale business, and where every accommodation will be afforded those who wish to avail themselves of its privileges. This is a want long felt in the New York market, and we bespeak for the enterprise the success it deserves. The room is open daily from 8½ o'clock A.M. until 4½ o'clock P.M. Manager, M. H. Keith; and secretary, J. L. V. K. Brown.

The shipments of lumber have been as follows:

We also notice shipments of 6,331 pieces of lumber to Chili; 169 hickory logs to Liverpool; 200 bundles shingles to British West Indies; 2,400 staves to Great Britain; 67,880 do. to Continent, and 13,420 do. to West Indies and South America. The receipts reported are 300 pieces piling from Two Rivers, N. S.; 175 pieces do., and 1,800 inches spars from Shulee, N. S.; 160,737 feet lumber, and 19,569 feet flooring from Savannah; and 140,000 feet lumber from Jacksonville.

Our Western advices generally show a fair amount of business doing with a little more steadiness in prices on choice lots, but at some slight reduction in the general range of quotations. A recent report in the Chicago Evening Journal, says:

"The supply of Lumber to-day was light and under a good demand and the market ruled steady and firm. The inquiry was about evenly divided between local and interior buyers. Lath in good request and steady. Shingles rather quiet, but without material change.

The following notice appeared on the Exchange sale book:

NOTICE.—Unless the sales of cargoes are more generally and correctly reported in the future the book will be removed.

WM. L. SOUTHWORTH,
Secretary Lumbermen's Association.

This is a move in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that Secretary Southworth will insist upon the reporting of cargo sales correctly, and at the exact figures obtained. It has become a common practice among some dealers to quote sales to suit their own interest; and not unfrequently of late have cargoes been reported sold at 25@50c. per 1,000 ft higher than they actually brought, thus deceiving the public, and more particularly the country buyers. Let us have the correct figures, or none at all."

By the cargo boards and strips, good mill-run, sold at $15 50@$16. Fair strips and mixed at $13 50@$14, and coarse to fair mixed alone at $12@$13 75, a few very common at $11 50. The figures realized on scantling and joist were $12. "A" sawed shingles brought $3 62½, and lath $2 25@$2 50. At the yards trade was fair at somewhat reduced figures, as follows:

From the very valuable circular of Messrs. Worliner & Garrick, under date of June 1st, we obtain the following:

"We again lay before you our usual monthly statistics showing what has been done here during the last month. Our last circular was dated 1st May, and showed receipts for April, 1868, almost twice as large as those for the same month in 1867, and the total receipts for the season some 22,000,000 in excess of those for the previous year; still the market had kept up a lively and healthy appearance, which we hoped might continue for some time yet to come; however the receipts all at once became so very large, and the weather so unfavorable, on account of constant cold rains, that the prices receded rapidly, rather sooner than we had expected. This, however, ought hardly to be wondered at, when we take into consideration the quantity crowded on the market; during May, 1867, the receipts almost reached 118,000,000 feet, an amount never before equaled in any one month, and only a trifle below the receipts of July and August following, which were the largest during the season; now, however, we have to report even a larger figure, the receipts for the month last past showing a sum total of 215,273,622 feet. All this lumber had to be disposed of under rather unfavorable circumstances; owing to the great amount of rain, the country roads have been impassable, and at a number of points on the Illinois river the water has been so high that boats could not make a proper landing, which deterred shippers from buying. The demand has, however, been all that might be expected, especially as buyers always hold back on a falling market, and only purchase for immediate demand. If now the weather assumes a more promising aspect, the feeling will gain ground that the lowest prices have been reached, and purchasers from all parts will commence to stock up their yards. We doubt very much if any one month during the coming season will show receipts much, if any, larger than May, and we feel confident that arrivals cannot continue at the same rate as hitherto, because there are not logs enough got out.

"The harvest promises again to become abundant, and the nearer we get to the realization of this hope, with the more certainty can we calculate on a brisk demand for lumber, which is to the farmer an absolute necessity as soon as circumstances will warrant it.

"The demand has been about equal for coarse cargoes and 'boards and strips,' but the falling off in price has been by far more perceptible on the former. Strictly first-class cargoes of well manufactured 'boards and strips' command a very fair figure even now, but mixed, ordinary lots are not sought after, and concessions have to be made by the seller.

"From all present indications we are led to believe that the stage of water in the Illinois river will continue good during the season, which will prove of great value to the trade, and we anticipate heavy shipments by this channel. The railroads have shown a commendable desire to give all possible dispatch to lumber, and in consequence the docks are being cleared much more rapidly than has often been the case when these corporations have had other freights to carry.

"From Saginaw the arrivals have been large, but mostly on contracts made there, and at figures higher than they could have realized in open market here; the cargoes offered on arrival here have been of a mixed nature and such as could not readily find buyers at home. Canada has, as yet, only sent very limited quantities, but we look forward to more plentiful arrivals; from there nothing but strips and boards, and thick, clear lumber will pay the manufacturer to ship to this market.

"We learn from perfectly reliable sources that on the tributary streams to the upper Mississippi some considerable quantities of logs are still held back on account of low water, and likely not to reach the market; this we consider a correct statement, but as a general thing we give very little credence to the stories of short crop of logs. A long experience has taught us make great allowances on statements made during winter and early spring by manufacturers, and our own personal observations have generally proved more correct.

"The wholesale market for cargoes at the end of the month, and during the last week, may well be termed dull in the extreme. Buyers are holding back, although there are plenty of them, which is proved by the great number of cargoes disposed of, but the prices have been anything but satisfactory to the seller. The daily reports, as quoted by the newspapers, give but a faint idea of the real state of the market, both as to quality and relative prices; some days not one cargo in six or eight is quoted, and most generally those whereof the prices seem most reasonable.

"Freights have been very low thus far this season, and we can see no present prospect of any material rise. Freights on canal and river have also ranged low in the extreme, and this circumstance ought to encourage dealers on that route to purchase to their full capacity before a possible change in the stage of water shall prevent shipments altogether, or increase the rate of freight.

"The shingle market opened very brisk, and continued so much longer than the lumber; the prices were well maintained until during the last ten days, when they gradually declined, and at the present writing the article must be good indeed to sell for more than our inside quotation. On a somewhat dull market the faults to be found seem much more apparent to the buyer, and we would advise manufacturers to be very careful; it cannot be denied that many shingles sent here are marked A which do not deserve the title, being of uneven thickness, with the sap left on, and also sawed the wrong way, or, as they commonly are called, "bastards"; the difference in price between a strictly good article and an inferior has not been sufficient to make up the relative value, but as soon as the demand falls off it will be more apparent, and manufacturers will wake up to the importance of greater care.

"Lath are but in limited demand, and it takes a prime article to command our outside quotation.

A Detroit correspondent of the Chicago Times says:

Ten million feet of lumber passed this port during the last week, exclusively on board of barges which were in tow of tugs. Added to this amount on board of steam and sail crafts, and the aggregate will not vary but little short of 5,000,000 more. The larger class of barges carry from 500,000 to 800,000 feet. Steam barges vary in their cargoes from 200,000 to 300,000 feet.

The Cincinnati report shows no change. The yard rates for river lumber were as follows: Clear per M $62@$64; first, second, and third common $45@$18 per M; first and second common flooring $60@$42 per M; first partition $63@$65; first and second class weather boards $27@$20 per M; pine joist and scantling $32 50@$35 per M: and hemlock do. do., $22 50@25 do. Lake lumber was offered a trifle lower. Hard green lumber continued dull, at about as follows: Oak $17@$20 per M: Ash $20@$25 per M; Cherry $29@$30 do; Walnut $25@$30 do.; and Poplar $22@23.

A recent St. Louis report says:

Stocks in the city are small for the time of year, especially in dimension lumber and fencing. On the upper river the demand is very active, and a much larger amount than usual of the Wisconsin river is being absorbed above. Dealers recognize the fact of a reduced volume of lumber coming out, and a probable advance in prices the coming month. At Dubuque, and points below, rates are ranging at from $17@$26 for Wisconsin lumber, and from $17@18 50 for Chippewa—at which rates dealers are taking in all they can care for, and buying with more freedom than is their wont. Lumber here is held at $19@$28 on river bank, and from $18@$19 for Chippewa, with but small offerings.

Careful estimates show that there will be but sixty millions, all told, from the Wisconsin; of that amount not one-third to one-half reaches this market. Sales here cover $400,000 Wisconsin at $19, and $1,000,000 Chippewa, to arrive, at $18 in water, one-third advance.

The Pittsburgh rates were as follows:

Clear, ₱ M	$65 00
First Common	55 00
Second Common	29 00
Third Common	23 00
Sheeting	18 00
Hemlock Joists and Scantling	18@20 00

The mills at the Eastward are in a more favorable condition for working than last week, and nearly all are producing lumber to some extent, but there is very little encouragement to manufacture at present, as the continued scarcity of freight room and high rates demanded for transportation, prevent a free shipment of stock when sawed out. Lumbermen are becoming rather anxious to realize, and would willingly forward a goodly supply were there any means of doing so.

The St. Johns (N. B.) Prices Current of May 30, reports as follows:

No West India Charters to report this week.

There is a good demand for tonnage coastwise, but transactions have been light, owing to scarcity of vessels offering. We hear of the following transactions: Rough Diamond, 128, Danversport, $4; Village Belle, 70, Bangor, Shingles, 40c.; Ada, 164, Fredericton to New York, $7.

Southern accounts represent the markets generally as quite firm, but without any great degree of activity, vessels being scarce, and freight charges too high to warrant the forwarding of much stock. The few parcels shipped coastwise were in nearly all cases to fill out standing contracts. The mills were producing to a fair extent, though in many cases greatly hampered in their operations for want of a sufficient quantity of logs to keep the saws running. The Charleston quotations were as follows: Clear White Pine, 1st quality, $50@55 per M.; white pine, good run, $38@40; yellow pine, $20@25; rough boards, $12@ 15; grooved and tongued do., $28@82; yellow pine timber, $4@12.

A good lot of shipping and mill timber were quickly disposed of on receipt.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to June, 6, 1868, were 11,128,787 feet of lumber, of which 1,318,186 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 9,810,601 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,327,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,328,524 to Philadelphia; 1,494,420 to Baltimore; 116,192 to Hartford, Conn.; 1,242,824 to Providence, R. I.; and 476,395 to other United States ports.

The Savannah prices stand as follows: $7@10 per M. feet for mill timber, $12@17 for small shipping do., and $20@23 for large do. Lumber $20@23 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $21@23 for flooring; $35@ 40 for white pine rough; $50@55 for do. dressed; and $30@35 for spruce pine scantling.

At Wilmington the demand was not very brisk, and rates in some instances a trifle easier on extremes.

We give closing rates as follows: Timber at $11@12 for shipping; $8 00@10 00 for prime mill; and $5@8 for inferior to fair do. Lumber at $10@12 for wide boards; $8@ 10 for scantling; $15@17 for flooring; and $18@22 for West India cargoes. Shingles continued in request and were rather more steady at $3 00@$3 50 per M. for common, and $4 00@4 50 do. for contract.

METALS.—Copper Sheathing is in very good jobbing demand, and generally held with firmness at 18@20c. for old, and 38c. currency for new. Pig Lead has ruled very quiet throughout the week, and prices are still heavy, though nothing can now be obtained at the extreme low figures current at the date of our last, the quotation standing at about 6⅜@6¼c. gold. Bar Lead is selling to a fair extent at 10c., and Sheet and Pipe 12c. Tin Plates continue very dull in a wholesale way, and even the regular jobbing trade has fallen off somewhat, the bulk of the purchases being governed by immediate wants. Prices remain nominally as before, but are without much strength. The importation of Plates for the week was 12,281 boxes. Zinc is rather less active, but in view of continued small stocks prices remain firm at 12@13c. from store.

NAILS.—There has been some inquiry for cut nails from both the home and foreign markets, but the aggregate of trade is still quite small, and prices remain at 4⅞ @5c. in large parcels, and 5@5½c. to jobbers for 4d and 6d. Clinch quiet at 6¼@6¾c. Zinc nails are quoted at 18c. Yellow Metal do. 26c., and Copper do. 40c. per lb. The exports for the week are pretty large, embracing 4,822 kegs, valued at $21,786, against 154 kegs valued at $1,109 last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—No very important changes have been made in the general range of prices of paints at their bases, but aside from some little retail demand the market has become very dull, and shows less firmness than for several weeks. Glue is steady but not much sought after at the moment, unless of very prime quality. Linseed oil is rather easier, and selling only slowly, there being no outlet at the moment except such as the usual jobbing demand requires. Crushers do not force sales, but outside lots are available at comparatively low figures, and for future delivery sales are reported at $1.08@$1.10. Crushers rates at the present writing are $1.12@1.13 in casks, and $1.14@$1.15 for choice in bbls., with job parcels from store at higher figures. The exports for the week were 175 packages paint, valued at $2,913; and 404 gallons linseed oil, valued at $480.

PITCH.—The demand is fair, principally for small lots, and with the stock under easy control holders remain firm at the previous range of quotations. The latest sales reported were at $3.50 for City, and $3.75 for prime Southern. Receipts for the week 57 bbls. Exports for week 62 bbls. Since January 1, 1,669 bbls., and for same period last year 2,489 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The receipts of Lump have been larger, the demand very moderate, and prices, generally, are lower and heavy. The depression is most noticeable upon blue, one cargo selling at $4.00, and no bids now exceeding $3.25@$3.50; manufacturers being in possession of stock enough to carry them until August or September. White is quoted at about $4.50@$5.00, the latter an extreme, and meets with a comparatively fair request, though buyers are not eager to operate. The arrivals foot up 1,260 tons. Calcined is selling at about $2.40@$2.50 per bbl. for Eastern and City. The exports during the week were 520 bbls.

SLATE.—The receipts from all quarters are increasing, but the bulk finds a ready market, being mostly of good quality, for which there is a brisk demand. Slaters entirely refuse to handle the poor stock (chiefly winter quarried) now coming in, except for the most common class of work, and it necessarily sold below regular rates. Prices on all desirable parcels are very firm, and in some cases agents are asking an advance of 50c.@$1.00 per square. This is owing in a great measure to an unexpected strike of workmen both in Vermont and Pennsylvania, who demand $3.50 per day, an increase of 50c.@75c. over previous wages, and as quarrymen positively refuse to pay the advance, it is thought the production will be very small for some time to come. The Welsh miners thus far brought over have not given the satisfaction anticipated, many proving to be only mediocre workmen, while others have deserted immediately upon landing, without as much as saying thank you, for their passage. Still the idea has not been abandoned by any means, and the present position of affairs leads to the belief that a large force will immediately be telegraphed for by aid of the cable, as the most effectual mode of breaking the strike.

STONE.—Common building stone is in rather better demand, at full prices, while free stone, marble, and blue stone meet with an inquiry sufficient to keep all dealers quite busy. At the quarries full forces are at work, and as the weather improves the production increases.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Following the issue of our last prices ran down to 43½@44c., under continued free arrivals, but latterly holders have shown less disposition to realize, and some reaction is noticeable. The demand, however, does not materially improve, and it is difficult to induce buyers to submit to any advance. At the close the feeling is more steady at 45@45½c. in wholesale lots, and 46@46½c. for retail parcels. The stock is 3,500 bbls. or thereabouts. Receipts for week, 1,759 bbls. Exports for week, 1,454 bbls. Since January 1, 5,204 bbls., and for same period last year, 8,135 bbls.

TAR.—The supply is fair, embracing about 4,000 bbls., but with an improved demand the market has strenghtened up again very materially, and on choice lots we note an advance, closing strong. The offerings are not large, and holders appear confident. We quote at $3.00 for small-sized Washington; $3.25@$3.62½ for good to prime do., and $4.00@$4.25 for Wilmington, thin; all in order in yard. The receipts for the week were 1,411 bbls. Exports for week 2,160 bbls. Since January 1, 5,362 bbls., and for same period last year, 2,997 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of June 9 reports as follows:

THE receipts of Lumber during the week have not been so large, owing to the detention on the Canal at Utica, as those of the week previous. But those for the week to come, will, it is expected, be quite large—the largest probably of the present season. This falling off in receipts during the week has somewhat checked the sales, still a good business has been done, and the attendance of buyers to-day is good. Though the stock of Lumber of all kinds is pretty well assorted there has not been any general increase of stock. Prices are steady, and for strictly dry the market is firm at our extreme figures, and no change in quotations is looked for unless the receipts of green lumber should be in excess of the demand. We make no change in our quotations of clear lumber, though the sales at $55 have been very limited. The bulk of the sales have been at $58@$60, mainly at $59@$60.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago continue to be large; about 38,000,000 feet for the week ending on Saturday, against 21,000,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. The aggregate receipts of lumber at Chicago for the season are not far from 266,000,000 feet, against 183,000,000 feet in 1867. Though no change is given in the Chicago quotations for clear lumber, the coarser descriptions are easier than they were on the opening of the lake.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending, June 8, were:

Oswego	9,560,300 feet.
Total	13,867,600 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Oswego Canals for the first week of June, are:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	14,202,300	516	.....	1,006,100

Of the lumber received in 1868, 7,260,400 feet were by the Erie, and 6,941,900 feet were by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to June 8, were:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	62,767,300	6,428	41,973	5,252,700
1867	22,387,100	1,470	.....	6,448,400

Freights are firm and vessels very scarce and wanted. We do not change our figures.

ZINC.—DUTY: Sheet, 3¼c. ℔ lb.

Sheet, ℔ lb.....	12	@	13

THE working floors of the buildings composing the Wood mowing machine manufactory at Hoosac Falls, N. Y., cover an area of 175,000 square feet, or over four acres; 775 men are employed, and twenty tons of cast iron, ten tons of wrought iron, two and a half tons of malleable iron, three-fourths of a ton of steel, and about 15,000 feet of lumber are used daily in this vast establishment, and yet its facilities are quite too small to meet the demands upon the company.

A TRACT of land containing 300 acres, with a mill on it, was sold recently in Rockingham county, N. C., under execution, for $330. Another one on the Piedmont Railroad sold for $1 per acre, and a tract which brought $1300 since the war was sold at $250.

FOR the year ending April 1, 519 building permits were issued in St Louis. From April 1 to June 1, 159 permits were issued.

THIRTY acres of land just outside the southwestern limits of Chicago sold last week for $103,000 or $3,433 an acre.

BOSTON expects to expend $13,000,000 in building this year.

REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.

4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers, will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

THE EAST SIDE ASSOCIATION.

THIS Association will hold a meeting at Masonic Hall, 86th st., bet. 3d and 4th avs., Yorkville, on Tuesday evening, June 23d, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

This will be the first meeting of the Association in their corporate capacity. We hope that at this meeting measures will be adopted that will thoroughly awaken the property owners of the east side to their interests, and secure improvements and benefits commensurate with the future grandeur of our city and the age in which we live. The sister Association on the west side, now so thoroughly organized and effective for good, has accomplished much, very much, for itself and for the city, that will for all time make that portion of our city in which their energies and efforts have been expended the most beautiful of any city in the world—nature superlatively adorned by art, the abode of the intelligent, the refined, the wealthy,—the envy and the admiration of foreigners, and the pride of the people of this city.

While it is impossible, owing to the natural elevation of the east side, and the definite arrangement of streets and avenues therein, to vie or compete with the west side, yet its value to the growth and future prosperity of our city is none the less marked. It is evident that the whole of the east side will before many years be swallowed up, as it were, by the avaricious demands of trade and commerce. The industries and enterprise and labor of this great metropolis will, along the East and Harlem rivers, the avenues contiguous and the streets running across, find ample room for their development. It behooves, then, the people of the East Side Association to grasp the mighty question of the proper development of the district under its jurisdiction, and with no narrow or parsimonious policy to retard or impede its progress and its healthy growth, but rather, with judicious, far-seeing purposes, so labor with earnest and united efforts as to make the easterly side of our city, with its magnificent water-front, the centre of a commerce, the greatest the world has ever seen.

While they who live to-day will have assisted to rear up our commerce, now in its earliest stages, its infancy of development, profiting by it to a great extent, it will be for future generations to reap the full benefit of the wisdom which they are now called upon to display. They will then have cause to rejoice at the munificence of their ancestors, and their history will place our names in the highest niche in the Temple of Fame, as the greatest benefactors the world has ever produced; for we lived and wrought not for ourselves but for posterity.

The greatest success, then, to the East Side Association, in its noble efforts for the prosperity and grandeur of our city; with a statesmanlike policy, let it contemplate what New York will be a century hence, and act with purposes united to make its realization a thing apparent to the mental vision of many who live to-day.

BONNER'S HOME.

WE have obtained many facts relating to the property in Westchester Co., about which Mr. Bonner, in his characteristic advertisement, has said much to offend the people in that vicinity; and it is but just that we should state them, and be relieved from the imputation of doing such a wrong as is contained in what the lawyers call the suppressio veri—suggestio falsi.

In the first place, the residence of Mr. Bonner is situated in the midst of a dense forest, through which the genial rays of the sun can scarcely penetrate. The house is therefore necessarily very damp. Besides, there is a large tract of land contiguous, which every season is flooded for the purpose of forming ice, furnished to residents in the vicinity and in Harlem.

In the spring and summer this place generates malaria. It is a proper subject for the Board of Health to investigate, and if it is the nuisance it is said to be, should be abated.

In respect to the drainage of this and other parts of Morrisania, it is not generally known what steps have been taken to reclaim them, but we are assured that as expeditiously and economically as possible, the authorities of the town are doing all that they can for that object.

Streets are being opened, regulated, curbed, guttered, flagged, sewers built, and everything done to make that portion of the county in the highest degree healthful.

It is also stated that the object of the advertisement above alluded to is not apparent on its face, as parties stand ready to purchase the property mentioned in it, and that it cannot be bought for any reasonable amount. It is further said that it is nothing more nor less than a big speculative job to depreciate the value of property in that locality with a view of buying it up. Both sides should be heard; so we state what is said on the other side.

A CHANGE IN CLUB LIFE.

THE selling out of the Athenæum Club, which took place last week, and the heavy mortgages we have recently recorded as having been taken by several of the other clubs, shows that those institutions are not likely to be long-lived in this country. Club life is an exotic in the United States. It is too idle and aimless for the busy, bustling, public-spirited American. The really successful clubs here are those which have a public function, such as the Manhattan and the Union League clubs, both of which are of great use to their respective parties. The "Century" is successful, but then it is a rather slow and cheap affair, although its list of members contains some of the best names in the city, in literature and art. It is kept up by artists mainly, who, through the club, get customers for their pictures. The other clubs are places where idle people loaf, drink, and gamble, and are justly regarded by respectable families as social nuisances. So there will be no tears shed over their failure.

What we need is an American type of club, to which both sexes will be admitted, and which will embrace the best of the working classes. To be successful, they must be useful, which can be effected without detracting from their social features. Down with the drinking, idling, gambling, exclusive clubs, and success to the American Club—the club of the future.

THE reason why the work of paving with Belgian pavement 2d av. from 61st to 86th sts. has been suspended, is in consequence of a notice from the Croton Aqueduct Department to the contractors, who had been furnishing poor stone.

It is better that the public should suffer a little inconvenience than that bad material should be furnished. The Croton Aqueduct Board deserve a great deal of credit for the course they pursue in this instance, which is characteristic of the administration of the affairs of that Department. Contractors will be taught a lesson, that they cannot with impunity rush in a lot of bad material, getting the highest price paid for the best.

The work will undoubtedly soon be resumed, as, unless the material is according to contract, it will be annulled.

AMHERST, Mass., is growing rapidly. It is estimated that $450,000 worth of new buildings are erecting this season, including the additions to the two colleges, which is one-fifth the valuation of the town.

CHICAGO has of buildings, 35,654 that are built of wood; 3,772 built of brick and stone; 32,047 dwelling houses, 1,695 stores, and 1,307 workshops and factories.

CHICAGO has a new park, which embraces sixty acres, now under improvement, near the old city cemetery, to which one hundred and sixty acres are to be added—the whole to be known as Lincoln Park.

A BOSTON real estate firm recently got $5,000 commission on one lot which they sold.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

New York city has tripled its population and the value of its real estate during the last twenty years, and some idea of its future greatness may be gained by a careful perusal of the following comparison. The English Register-General, in a report issued recently, in describing the present size and population of London, represents the city as extending over 122 miles of territory with a population of 3,237,991 souls. If we estimate the population of New York by the same method, including a similar area, we have in the same radius, which extends from Manhattan Island into several of the State counties and of New Jersey, the annexed population:

County of Westchester	102,000
" New York	826,386
" Kings	410,824
" Queens	61,376
" Richmond	28,482
" Bergen, N. J	31,445
" Hudson, N. J	42,381
Parts of Middlesex and Union Cos., N. J	130,000
Total	1,632,894

This total is consequently equal, by the same method of calculation, to half the present population of London as estimated by the Register-General. But London is not so isolated as this city, being like Philadelphia—able to expand on all sides; therefore real estate in the lower portion of New York must attain to more fabulous values than even that of the modern Babylon in the region of the Exchange, where the price of land is so great in some commercial centres as to exceed $5 and even $7 per square inch. We are getting, however, alive to the fact; as all our public buildings now in the course of erection on Broadway dive to the depth of three or four stories and soar to the height of six and seven: and thus it will be in the course of time all over the Island, when we have an innumerable number of two and three-story houses, the rent of which in 10 or 20 years would hardly pay a moiety of the interest on the price of the ground.

During the first three months of the present year more real estate business was done in this city than during a similar period at any previous time, and in the month of April alone nearly $6,000,000 worth passed under the hammer, while the recorded transfers amounted to $23,858,183; while from Jan. 1st to June 1st the total amount transferred was $78,409,403, or more than 16 per cent. of the total valuation. Since the 1st of May some of the largest real estate dealers have been aggregating the business they have done since Jan. 1st., with the following result:

Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co	$2,525,125
Muller, Wilkins & Co	7,212,000
Homer Morgan (Private Sales)	7,000,000
Johnson & Miller (Brooklyn Property)	3,366,704

Fifteen hundred houses are now in progress of erection or have recently been completed, and there are at least as many more now standing empty. These last comprise, principally, expensively furnished dwellings and the more costly class of those that are unfurnished; wholesale stores below Canal street, of which the rent has been from $25,000 to $50,000 a year; storehouses on the extreme lower end of the island, and buildings of a miscellaneous character, of which the owners or agents refused fair rentals.

GOSSIP.

Real estate is represented as lively in New Haven. Sales at Norwalk, Conn., are light. It is reported that one firm in this city has sold $1,300,000 worth of real estate for building purposes, in the vicinity of Fort George, within a few weeks past. More buildings are now going up in Baltimore than at any former period. During the month of May 253 permits for the erection of new buildings were issued. The number issued during the corresponding month of last year amounted only to 149. The total number of permits for new buildings issued this year, up to the first of the present month, amounts to 838. The Fourth Union Coöperative Building Society has already issued shares to the amount of $200,000. The shares in this Society are $1,000 each, subscriptions $2 monthly on each share. Members can hold from three to twenty shares.

SALES.

The rainy days of the past week precluded all hopes of very much being done in real estate this week. City property is at a stand-still. Sea-side cottages are at a premium, because our leaders of fashion are commencing to understand that relaxation is essential during the summer, and balls in the country in the hot weather are as enervating as balls during winter-life in the city. Cottages or isolated houses furnish every element for rural enjoyment, and watering-place acquaintances are commencing to be looked upon with a dubious eye. All around the city, for a radius of twenty miles, towns and villages are preparing to receive their fluctuating summer population from this metropolis. The taste for exclusiveness and retirement is becoming more wide-spread, and as a consequence country seats are in demand; and on the line of the New Jersey Central Railroad a number of lots were sold to city people who contemplate residing there. Rutherford Park has been apportioned into 400 plots, and at Dunellen 500 out of 1,000 lots were sold on Wednesday. Several cottages at Long Branch, situated at the top of a bluff looking out upon the sea, were sold at advanced prices during the week. As illustrating the market value of lots and buildings on Broadway, in the vicinity of Fulton street, we cite the sale of one-thirtieth share of Knox's building on the corner of the streets above named. This property comprises a lot 29x76.2 and 77.2 feet, and a substantial brick building. The share disposed of, as may be seen from the report printed below, was sold subject to a lease, and brought $4,250, making the whole property worth about $127,500. Also to illustrate the price of property on Broadway above Canal street, we give the Barnum property. Very soon after the destruction of his establishment at the corner of Ann street by the great fire, Mr. Barnum leased the property in question, the title of which had been offered him for $300,000, which offer he refused. Subsequently, it was sold at an advance of $50,000, and again resold for $430,000. The purchaser disposed of his contract for $10,000, when Mr. Barnum came to the conclusion that he had better buy than continue to pay an annual rental of $50,000 for the premises. He accordingly, some four months ago, consummated the purchase of the property, paying for it $460,000. The present sale was rendered necessary by the recent fire, which compelled the association to wind up its affairs. Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. were the auctioneers, and the property was purchased by Mr. Peter Gilsey for $432,000, $28,000 less than the sum paid by Mr. Barnum, which fact is to be accounted for, perhaps, by the damage done by the fire. Long Island Sound property seems also to have its attractions, before undiscovered, although its scenery was so charming. Many local improvements have been made there in the past years, which, in some measure accounts for its present popularity. The following are the sales since our last issue:

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10TH.—By MESSRS. E. H. LUDLOW & Co.—The Barnum Museum property on Broadway, for $432,000, to Mr. Peter Gilsey; $350,000 to remain on bond and mortgage. The property consists of three lots, Nos. 537, 539, and 541 Broadway, each lot 25x200, and located 75.2 feet north of Spring street. The residence of the late De Forest Manier, in the town of Hempstead, Queens County, Long Island, to Edward Larnette, for $42,500. The residence is one mile east of Queens County Station, and can be reached in about an hour from New York City. It was the country seat of its owner for more than twenty years, and of the 55 acres which belong to the property 16 surrounding the house are woodland, and are inclosed as a park. By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—The four two-story and attic, brick front dwellings, with lots, each 20x87.6 feet, known as Nos. 92, 94, 96, and 98 Ludlow street, between Broome and Delancy streets, to L. Freedman, for $1,300. By ADRIAN H. MULLER & Co.—Stramon Hall, or Livingston Manor, to Mr. Knox, for $59,000. The hall is surrounded by more than 300 acres of land, and the whole property, which is one of the few remaining representatives of the old time country seats, has all the charm of historic interest, and at the same time is replete with those modern conveniences and improvements which are now demanded. It is situated near the city of Hudson, Columbia Co., N. Y.

THURSDAY, JUNE 11TH.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—Plot No. 1, 2.50 acres, G. Ponso, per acre, $900. Plot No. 2, 4.63 acres, Marks Brothers, per acre, $525. Plot No. 3, 6.07 acres, Marks Brothers, per acre, $360. Plot No. 4, 6.15 acres, Marks Brothers, per acre, $360. Plot No. 5, 1.51 acres, J. A. Gasner, per acre, $660. Plot No. 6, 2.41 acres, R. Towers, per acre, $650. Plot No. 7, 5.75 acres, Marks Brothers, per acre, $300. Plot No. 8, 15.10 acres, G. Ponso, per acre, $375. Plot No. 9, 16.24 acres, E. Logan, per acre, $225. Plot No. 10, 7.93 acres. E. Logan, per acre, $110. Plot No. 11, 4.80 acres. R. Towers, per acre, $240. Plot No. 12, 9.10 acres, E. Logan, $200. Plot No. 13, 6.48 acres, W. B. Lockwood, per acre, $375. Plot No. 14, 12.87 acres, E. Logan, per acre, $400.

FRIDAY, JUNE 12TH.—By A. J. BLEECKER, & Co.—The new gothic two-story and attic frame cottage, stable, and lot, on Beach avenue, fronting the Atlantic Ocean, and near Sea View avenue, lot 100x792, to low water mark, sold to Mr. J. T. Smith for $8,200. The two-story and attic cottage, with furniture, and having stables adjoining, lot 100x275 feet, situated on Sea View avenue, near Beach avenue, with a strip of land 12.6 feet wide running to low water mark, for bathing purposes, sold to Mr. Henry K. Stearns for $6,700.

SATURDAY, JUNE 13TH.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—A new gothic two-story and attic frame cottage on Beach avenue, Long Branch, containing 15 rooms; lot 100 feet front on the ocean by 792 deep from low water, containing about 1¾ acres. Purchased by J. D. Smith for $8,200. Also, furnished, adjoining, on Sea View avenue, distant about 500 feet from the ocean, the new two-story attic and two-story extension cottage, with three-story tower and piazzas on three sides 8 feet wide, containing 12 rooms. Purchased by H. B. Stearns for $6,700.

TUESDAY, JUNE 16TH—By A. J. BLEECKER.—The five-story brick store, with lot, 22.7 front, known as No. 61 Pearl st., between Broad st. and Coenties alley, and the two-story building No. 28 Stone st., with lot 19.6 front, in the rear of No. 61 Pearl st., to Mr. John H. Power, for $2,300 The lot No 101 Bayard st., 25x92, north side, between Baxter and Mulberry sts., to Mr. J. Pangborn, subject to lease, for $6,225. The three story brick building, with lot 13.1x75x4.4, known as No 112 Walker st., north-east corner of Centre st., and the two two-story adjoining brick buildings Nos. 114 and 116 Walker st. to Munn & Co., for $75,000. The one-thirtieth part of the lot, No. 212 Broadway, north-east corner of Fulton st., (Knox's building) to Mr. Spencer H. Smith, subject to lease, for $4,250. The lot on the north side of Seventieth st., 25x102.2, commencing 288 feet east of First ave., to Mr. John Burn, for $1,300. Two lots, 25x100, on the south side of Fifty-Sixth st., commencing 325 feet west of Tenth ave., to Mr.

Samuel Cain, for $3,000 each; $2,000 on mortgage for three years. By James M. Miller.—The three story and cellar brick store and dwelling, 22.9x26, with lot, 22.9x71.5x21.5x71.3, known as No. 642 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, to Mr. Jas. Carey, for 6,800. The lot, 25x100, north side (South Sixth st.) Broadway, Brooklyn, 25x100, commencing 25 feet east of Twelfth st., to Mr. P. Hayes for $2,010. By Muller, Wilkins & Co.—The House, No. 323 Rivington st., with lot, 24x75, for $8,950 Two lots, north side of Fourth ave., 50 feet north of One Hundred and Third st., 25x80 feet each, for $900 each. One lot, 25x80, north side of Fourth av., 50 feet north of One Hundred and Fifth st., for $1,245, and the adjoining lot, same size, for $1,205.

Brooklyn Property.—The St. John's Episcopal Church property, which is situated on the corner of Washington and Johnson streets, on the same block with the Post Office, Assembly Buildings, etc., and in the midst of the business center of Brooklyn was recently sold at private sale by Mr. James Cole, the auctioneer. The purchasers are Messrs. Alexander McCue, Seymour L. Husted, and John W. Hunter, and the price paid, or to be paid, is $90,000. The plot has a front of 127½ feet on Washington st., and extends back to Flood's Alley, a distance of 126½ feet. The old frame church building, which still occupies the ground, was thoroughly renewed a few years ago, at an expense of about $15,000, and still presents quite a neat and substantial appearance. It still remains in the possession of the congregation, but will, it is understood, be removed previous to the first of May, 1869, (at which time the new proprietors will take possession of the land,) to Butler st., in the vicinity of Prospect Park, where it will be re-erected as a place of worship, on property now owned by the Church. It is understood that the new proprietors purchased the ground with the design of disposing of a portion, or, perhaps, the whole of it, to the United States Government as a site for the new Government buildings, to be used for courts, post-office, etc. The site is a most eligible one for this or for any other business purpose, having two fronts and an alley in the rear, leading from Myrtle ave. to Johnson st. Several persons desired to become possessors of the ground for the purpose of erecting a theater, or other place of amusement, but objection being made by the congregation that it should be sold for such uses, the sale was private and the land disposed of to the persons above named.

New Jersey Property.—Much country property in Northern New Jersey has exchanged hands. At Paterson a contined sale of Highland Property was had by auction, by J. Hender for Jacob Mercelis. Beginning on the north-center; John I. Goltchins bought four lots for $225 each; A. R. Stagg, four, $220; P. Rosenbaum, four, $220; A. Cowan, four, $215; J. W. Rea, four, $255; James Mitchell, four, $205; A. Van Voorhis, four, 205; J. Chamberlin, four, $205; Vanderhoven & Webb, four, $200; Nathan Borner, four, $200; G. A. Hobart, twelve, $195; J. W. Rea, four, $240; Abram Wertheimer, four, $215; four, $195; John Hogencamp, four, $205; Terrence Connell, four, 195; four, $206; Henry Steinhauser, four, $210; R. B. Cheswell, barn, $810; carriage-house, $600; sheds, $155. There are some 150 lots remaining of the park. Other companies are doing well, and several auction sales are in contemplation. James M. Miller sold a house and 11 acres in New Durham, Hudson county, N. J., near the Allerton station, on the Northern Railroad; house two story and attic frame; carriage-house, 18x37; stable, 18x37. Part of the land is under a high state of cultivation, with fruit trees of various kinds. It is situated on the Hackensack road, 4½ miles from Hoboken ferry, and is known as the Courtney place, $5,050.

The sale of the property at Aaron's Point, Westchester county, begun last week, has been postponed to Friday, 26th inst., at the Exchange in Broadway. The few days of pleasant weather that have elapsed since the sale began, will have been sufficient to enable parties to visit this very desirable property, and if it continue propitious until the next day of sale, there will no doubt be a very large attendance.

The New Jersey Central Land Co. sold at auction on Tuesday a large number of lots at Dunellen, a charming villa located about three miles East of Plainfield. The land thereabouts is gently rolling, the soil a warm sandy loam, and well adapted to gardening purposes. The drainage is about perfect, and good water can be obtained 15 or 20 feet from the surface. The streets are laid out regularly, and, the place seems destined to be one of the most attractive in New Jersey. Most of the lots sold are within sight of the depot, on high ground, and front on graded streets or avenues. The depot, which is nearly completed is surrounded with walks, shrubbery, flower beds, and lawns, thus reminding one more of a summer country residence, than the usual unhandsome station so common everywhere. The bidding on Tuesday was not very spirited owing to the fact, probably, that real estate sales in that neighborhood are a novelty. One hundred and eight lots, 50x150 feet, were sold at an average of about $6 per foot front. Some of the lots on the south side of Front street sold for $6 50 per foot, and the average price per foot of those sold on North side was $5 50. The lots on North street brought the best prices; some of them selling for $7 per foot front.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The arrivals have been slow and moderate, and with no falling off in the demand, the market for hard brick remains very steady, though towards the close there appears to be less eagerness on the part of buyers to operate particularly at outside prices, and those who can do so are disposed to refrain from purchasing for a few days. This action is induced by the idea that new stock must soon be more plenty, and lower prices follow; but manufacturers, we fear, have not as yet commenced burning in sufficient numbers to warrant the expectation of any immediate increase of the supply. Now and then a small lot very choice will bring $14.00, but cargoes seldom exceed $13.50, and some of the poor grades are quoted down to $12.00. The continued scarcity of hard brick is beginning to be felt more plainly by pale, and the latter now sell with great freedom at $9.50@$11.00 per M, and it must be something very common indeed that can be bought below $10.00. Neither Croton or Philadelphia fronts attract more than the usual amount of attention, and on these figures are unchanged. The only exports are 4,000 to Central America.

CEMENT.—The supply of Rosendale is a trifle on the increase, but we do not learn of any great accumulation of stock, and some dealers dispose of their cargoes as soon as received. Prices as before, viz.: $1.75 per bbl. delivered at New York, and $1.65 delivered at Rondout. Exports for week 225 bbls.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—This branch of trade has been very dull, owing to the continuous storms filling all excavations up so rapidly as to make working almost impossible. With more settled weather, however, dealers look for a better business, and at full prices. A few slight alterations are made in our table of quotations.

FOREIGN WOODS.—A fair though not usually active trade is doing, and at about previous rates; the market remains steady for all grades. The receipts are as follows. from Port au Prince, 51 Crotches Mahogany; from Jacksonville, 7,000 feet red Cedar; from Bayport, 1,424 sticks Cedar, and from Boston, 115 tons Cedar. The exports as follows: to British North American colonies, 1,200 pieces Lignumvitae, and to Havre, 27 logs Rosewood.

GLASS.—At about 45@50 per cent. discount from the regular lists, the market for French window remains steady, though on some of the most desirable styles, dealers refuse to allow above 40 per cent. The medium grades compose the great bulk of the stock, and the sizes, of which the supply is smallest, and which are in most demand, are 14x16 inch, 14x18 inch, 14x22 inch, 24x26 inch and 26x30 inch. Business generally has been fair, though not unusually active. The imports for the week were 1,744 pkgs. valued at $5,107, and 491 glass plates valued at $26,112.

HAIR.—Goat and mixed hair, particularly the former, are firmly held, and in some cases at higher rates, but they do not meet with a brisk demand. Cattle hair, however, continues very active, and all parcels are disposed of as soon as in marketable order, at about previous rates.

LABOR.—About six months ago Mr. Dawson of Morrisania apprenticed his son, aged 18 years, to Mr. Peter Dunham, builder, to learn the trade of a mason, but no written agreement was signed, as the members of the Bricklayers' Trade Union insisted that their consent was necessary, and any such agreement must be submitted to them for examination and approval before the boy could be allowed to work. As these demands were not complied with, several members of the Union declared that young Dawson would be prevented from working upon any building in town, and some who were employed by Mr. Dunham, refused to lay a single brick until said Dawson was discharged. Mr. Dunham having several heavy contracts on hand, found it absolutely necessary to get rid of his apprentice, who was accordingly discharged, and has since remained without employment. The elder Dawson then commenced a civil suit against several who were instrumental in having his son removed, and received a favorable verdict; but the defendants appealed and carried it to a higher court, which has not as yet rendered a decision. In the meantime on complaint of Mr. Dawson, ten members of the Bricklayers' Trade Union viz.: Jacob Van Nostrand, Alexander Campbell, Benjamin Westerfield, James Moore, John J. Clark, Robert Savan, Michael Kirby, and others, have been indicted by the Grand Jury of Westchester County, for confederating to obstruct trade and commerce, under State laws as set forth in 3 Revised Statutes, p. 973, which declares that any confederation of two or more persons to obstruct trade and commerce is a misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment. The case is undoubtedly of great importance, and should the accused be convicted, it will in all probability have the effect to break down many of the arbitrary rules, by which, not only this, but a number of other Trades Unions have attempted to coerce employers into submitting to their frequently unjust demands.

A mass meeting of the operative bricklayers of the city and county of New York was held during the early portion of the week; about 2,500 members present. After considerable discussion, a two-third vote adopted a resolution, that on Monday next the men "strike" for eight hours a day and $4.50 as the rate of wages. The present arrangements are $5.00 per day and ten hours' work.

LATH.—The long contest between buyers and sellers is at last concluded, and has resulted in a complete victory for the former. On the day preceding the issue of our last report, a cargo was quietly sold at $3.45 per M., and from this the rate has been rapidly falling to $3.30, $3.25, $3.20, and finally very heavy sales were made at $3 per M., and this is now the market rate, though some receivers ask $3.25. The sudden and, to a great many, unexpected change was brought about by the liberal arrivals, both present and prospective, and the conviction in the minds of the principal receivers, that the jobbing dealers had fully determined to carry out the policy of buying from hand to mouth, until concessions were made. It was therefore determined to at once reduce the rate, and, by so doing, a large amount of stock has been disposed of; the feeling now being evidently more uniform, though we note the natural signs of nervousness, which are always sure to follow a heavy decline. About $3 or thereabout, it is thought, will be the market rate for some time to come, as this is the figure at which buyers have been willing to operate throughout the season, and anything below this will have a tendency to check the production, particularly while the cost of freight room continues so very high. All dealers have availed themselves of the decline to stock up, and pretty much everything here has been sold, as well as a great many parcels to arrive. The aggregate transactions for the week, as near as we can trace them, footing up 8,000,000—this amount, if anything, below the mark.

LIME.—The arrivals of Rockland, though rather more liberal than last week, are still comparatively small, and the lots received have all found a quick market at full previous rates, the feeling at the close being steady. Manufacturers are now working quite freely, but it will be some little time before we obtain a very large supply for this market. North River lime is quite plenty, and builders and dealers being unable to obtain any regular supply of Rockland, are drawing liberally from this, though the quality does not give universal satisfaction in our city trade.

LUMBER.—There is no falling off in the amount of business doing at the yards, nor do we hear of any particular increase, and the retail market, as a whole, is without new features of special interest. We find it necessary to slightly advance our extreme figures in general instances to conform more strictly to the higher pretensions of dealers, consequent upon the very greatly reduced supply of desirable grades; but it must be first class stock to realize outside rates. The arrivals are slowly increasing, but we still note an absence of the qualities most required, and do not hear of much being due. A large number, in fact the bulk of the New York dealers, are dependent upon the Albany market for their supplies, and unless on hand to immediately buy up any desirable parcels that may offer, Jersey and eastern operators stand ready to take the cargoes at full figures, so that very little stock accumulates. The Erie canal is, however, now bringing forward considerable stock, most of it reported good, leading to the hope of a better assortment at an early day. Black walnut is reported as in tip top demand, and very firm, notwithstanding a much better run of quality than last year, and larger receipts than were expected. At Albany, the nominal market rate is $65 per M., but nothing really good can be bought for less than $10 advance over that figure, and dealers are sorting and piling out to hold until the fall trade sets in. In the wholesale market, there has been rather a better business doing in Eastern spruce, owing to the more liberal supply offering, though the amount of stock on sale is not by any means abundant and were it much larger, all could readily be disposed of at full previous rates. Buyers, however, want cargoes immediately, if they pay the extreme rates, and we notice a disposition to operate with rather more caution on parcels to arrive, under the impression that lower figures will be accepted within a few weeks. Some thirty odd vessels have come in since our last, but their cargoes were largely sold ahead, and few, if any, are now awaiting buyers. We continue to quote at $21@$23 per M. as the extremes, but very few, if any, sales have been made at the inside figure. White pine is in small supply, both present and prospective, and generally held with confidence at $23@$30. Hemlock is still quoted at $16, and meets with a demand about equal to the supply. Piling is plenty, selling very slowly, and the market without much strength at 6½@8c. per foot, the latter figure an extreme. For No. 1 Eastern shingles, the price is good and prices well sustained at $5 per M. On yellow pine, the market is probably stronger, and likely to be better sustained than on any other style. Not only are the supplies here reduced to a very low figure, but from present indications there is no hope of any immediate increase, as the mills at the South have very little to offer, and are asking rates relatively two or three dollars above this market. Even were there any stock of consequence to bring forward, it is almost impossible to induce masters of vessels to make a southern voyage at this season, except at rates which would necessitate a very material advance in our market, in order to enable receivers to come out with any margin for profit. The quotations at the moment may be placed at about $28@$30 per M., for common inch stock, etc., a grade not wanted, but 1¼ inch flooring and like desirable grades will readily command $32@$35 per M.; re-sawed timber, if prime, same price, and hewn timber 32@35c. per foot. The shipping demand is fair, but, as a general thing, the advices from foreign markets continue somewhat unfavorable. Among the sales, reported since our last one, some 4@500,000 feet old common grade yellow pine, at 30@$31, mostly undesirable, and sold out to pay storage, etc.; 1,750,000 feet Eastern spruce at $21.50@$23, beside several cargoes to arrive, at prices within the range.

We also notice shipments to Bremen of 55 logs black walnut; to Havre 49 logs black walnut; 83 pieces maple, and 49 logs hickory. To Great Britain 4,920 staves, and to the Continent (mostly to Spain) 347,820 staves. The receipts reported are 85,000 feet flooring boards, and 160,865 feet lumber from Jacksonville, Fla.; 13,000 staves from Wilmington; 12,054 do. from Newberne; and 40,000 Cypress barrel staves from James River. From other points we note shipments as follows: From Charleston to Barcelona 14,000 feet lumber; From Wilmington to Curacao 140,000 feet lumber; to Arroyo, P. R., 154,000 feet lumber, to Port au Prince 55,944 lumber, and 317,730 shingles.

The Western markets as a general thing are rather less active at the moment, but we hear of steady rates at all points, and on some of the most desirable grades a slight appreciation is occasionally reported. From Chicago we hear of no very important movements, though the volume of business was not much reduced, and the daily receipts were in most cases disposed of soon after arrival. Prices steady, and we still quote by the cargo boards and strips, good mill-run, at $15 50@$16. Fair strips and mixed at $13 50@$14, and coarse to fair mixed alone at $12@$13 75, a few very common at $11 50. The figures realized on scantling and joist were $12. "A" sawed shingles brought $3 50@$3 62½, and lath $2 25@$2 50. Hard wood lumber quoted at $40@$45 for Black Walnut; $30@$40 for Cherry; $20@$25 for Hickory; $20@$23 for Ash; and $18@$22 for ordinary Oak. The yards were doing a good business, and prices generally steady as follows:

The Polk County Press (Wis.) reports navigation on the St. Croix considerably interfered with by a blockade of logs. Mr. Greeley has driven a large drive of logs out of Beaver Brook into Apple River. He cut some 17,000,000 feet of logs last winter.

Another exchange also says the lumber product of Black River is immense, and Black River Falls is the great supply depot of the vast pineries. There has already been run past this point this season about 15,000,000 feet of lumber and 30,000,000 feet of logs, and the lowest estimate of the amount of logs now cut and awaiting a rise of water on this stream and its tributaries, is 175,000,000 feet! These pineries cannot be exhausted at the present rate of operating for many years to come.

The St. Paul market was fairly active, the supply pretty good, and prices firm as follows:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards; $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 18 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.: $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

The Stillwater (Minn.), Republican of the 9th inst. contains the following:

"Since our last report (two weeks ago) twenty-one rafts have gone forward, containing 10,500,000 feet. Yesterday Torinus made a sale of one million to P. Skinner, of Rock Island, at $12 60 per M. here, which is not included in the above report. In addition to the above the "Tiger" took out one "get up," containing 800,000 feet, making the total sales 13,300,000 since the last report. Buyers active, prices firm, one sale being reported at $14 50."

A lumber raft came down the Sauk, Minn., river last week with 1,250,000 feet of lumber and 1,500,000 top load; while another floated 2,000,000 feet of lumber, and 2,200,000 of top load.

The Saginaw (Mich.) Enterprise of a recent date reports as follows:

"The lumber market during the past month has been decidedly dull, more especially the last few weeks. But few buyers have been in the city, and no sales of any amount have taken place. The market is held firmly at $6.00, $12.00, and $35.00, with small lots at more advanced figures, and a few of poor quality at a little less. Rafting still continues active. On the Cass the logs will be cut in two weeks. Not less than 10,000,000 feet of logs in streams emptying into the Saginaw river will be "hung up" this season, and probably more, although it cannot be definitely ascertained for at least a month yet."

The latest Detroit rates are $40.00@45.00 for Clear, $16.00@18.00 for Boards, $8.00@10.00 for culls, $26.00@28.00 for common flooring; $35.00@$40.00 for dressed do.; $20.00@$30.00 for long joist; $10.00@$11.00 for short joist and scantling; $20.00@$45.00 for bill stuff, and $35.00 for deck plank.

At Cincinnati the yard rates for river lumber were as follows: Clear per M $62@$64; first, second, and third common $45@$18 per M; first and second common flooring $60@$42 per M; first partition $63@$65; first and second class weather boards $27@$20 per M; pine joist and scantling $32 50@$35 per M: and hemlock do. do., $22 50@25 do. Lake lumber was offered a trifle lower. Hard green lumber continued dull, at about as follows: Oak $17@$20 per M: Ash $20@$25 per M; Cherry $29@$30 do; Walnut $25@$30 do.; and Popar $22@23.

The Pittsburgh Commercial of the 13th inst. says:

"There is a fair demand for lumber from yards, particularly for plain stuffs. Dry lumber is scarce. The recent rise in the Alleghany river brought a small additional supply to this market, but a large portion of the arrivals passed on down to the lower river markets. The sales afloat were made at $18.00@$22.00, as to quality."

Prices were steady, and unplaned lumber quoted as follows:

We hear of nothing particularly new from the Eastward during the week, except the arrival of a very few more vessels, but not enough to cause any reduction in freights. The production was good, and the principal shipping ports generally well stocked. A letter from Bath, Me., says:

"There are three steam saw mills in this city in constant peration. Messrs. Rice & Robinson are cutting 5,000,000, ft. of long lumber, 250,000 clapboards, 1,500,000 shingles and 2,000,000 of laths and broom-handles per year. They give employment to 35 men besides those employed in rafting, freighting, etc. The mill is on the wharf, so that lumber can be transferred to vessels without trucking."

A recent Boston report says:

"The surveys in this district for the past week have been fifty-one cargoes of Eastern, containing 3,706,138 feet, and nine cargoes from the Provinces, containing 489,139 feet—making a total of 60 cargoes and 4,195,277 feet.

"There is no change to notice in the market. Business at the yards continues brisk, and manufacturers have orders for months ahead. Seasoned lumber is growing very scarce, and builders are suffering considerable inconvenience from this cause. Prices of all descriptions are firm, and the demand is such as to prevent any accumulations whatever. Manufacturers of Canada lumber are all busy, and more than the usual amount of this description will be produced this season."

The Boston rates are as follows:

Western Lumber.—Michigan Pine, Nos. 1 and 2, $63@$66; No. 3, $50@55; No. 4, $40@45. Black Walnut, Nos. 1 and 2, $70@75; do. do. Culls, $35@40. Ash, Nos. 1 and 2, $48@50; do. Culls, $30@35. I. Bell Forsyth & Co.'s Prices Courrent, dated Quebec, June 11th, 1868, contains the following:

"A fair amount of tonnage has arrived since we issued our last circular, but very little new timber, white pine especially, has yet made its appearance, and the sales have been confined principally, if not exclusively, to what wintered over.

"A raft of about 80 feet average has been sold at 10d., measured off one of 67 feet at 8¾d., and smaller averages in proportion.

"Redpine.—Without being very much in demand is more salable than it has been for years, and old timber of 50 feet is held at from 8d. to 9½d., measured off 40 feet 6d. to 7d., 40 feet of last year 8½d., while new timber, not being plenty, would command higher rates.

"Oak.—Is very dull of sale in England as well as here, and contrary to expectations entertained in winter, the demand is limited.

"Tamarac.—Very little has yet come down, but for good size there would be no difficulty in finding purchasers.

"Standard staves.—Could be purchased at under £50, and are dull of sale everywhere. Puncheon are neglected in the English market, but command a better price here than standard, relatively.

"Deals.—There is a fair inquiry for bright pine, but spruce do not command the same attention as last month, although we do not reduce our quotations."

From the Southern markets the reports nearly all speak of great firmness, and in some cases rather better prices, with a good trade doing whenever shipping facilities were offered. The production of lumber was proceeding as rapidly as circumstances would admit, but financial difficulties in some quarters had rather a depressing tendency. At Charleston the latest quotations were as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling; $24.00@25.00 per M.; River lumber, $12.00@15.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6.00@8 00; and shipping $11.00@12.00; the supply of the latter small.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to June, 13, 1868, were 11,311,283 feet of lumber, of which 1,346,939 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 9,964,344 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,357,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,328,524 to Philadelphia; 1,434,420 to Baltimore; 123,743 to Boston; 1,242,824 to Rhode Island, and 476,395 to other United States ports.

At Savannah several arrivals of timber were reported by both canal and river, mostly shipping, and some of very extra quality and size running as 1,250 feet. The demand, however, was limited, and prices in consequence comparatively low, the best rate obtained being $15.00 for stock that a few weeks ago would have brought $20.00 easily. The stocks were not large, the estimated quantity in first hands being 200,000 feet. In lumber there was more business doing than for many weeks, owing mainly to the arrival of several vessels, which were immediately engaged to remove the accumulated stock, five loading on Eastern account. The country mills in the vicinity were pretty generally at work, while the city mills had enough orders at hand to keep them busy for several weeks.

The closing quotations were as follows: $7@$10 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$13 for small shipping do., and $14@$18 for large do. Lumber $20@$22 for ordinary sizes; 125@$30 for difficult sizes, and $22@$24 for flooring.

Comparative Exports of Timber and Lumber from the port of Savannah.

Total C'st'e.....	4,932,430	1,091,737	12,018,244	8,747,422

By the above table it will be observed that there is a very decided falling off in the coastwise shipments as compared with last year, the reduction to this port alone being nearly 4,300,000 feet, and to all points about 7,100,000 feet As the decrease in the shipments at other Southern ports is in about the same proportion, the present small supplies in New York are easily accounted for.

At Wilmington there was a fair business doing, and most of the mills busy filling orders. Prices generally were steady and closed as follows:

A recent Baltimore report says:

"The lumber trade has been fairly active the past week. The arrivals have been quite large, both by boat and rail. The demand for first class Southern Shingles remains about the same as last week. We note several sales of Walnut at $70 and $67.50 per M.; and Pine at $27 and $27.50 per M. to markets out of the city.

METALS.—Copper sheeting continues fairly active and steady at 18@20c. for old, and 33c. currency for new. Pig lead is quiet and without much strength, though rates still remain nominally at 6¾@6¾c. gold. Bar lead and sheet and pipe unchanged. Iron is in very good demand and steady at $38.50@42.00 per ton for Scotch Pig, $37,00 @$38.00 for American Pig No. 1, and $35,00@$36.00 for do. No. 2. Tin Plates continue moderately active, but buyers operate only in small lots and upon easy terms. The general range of prices is unchanged. Zinc is quiet and steady at about 12@13c. from store, according to quality.

NAILS.—Cut nails are selling to a fair extent, and prices generally remain quite steady at 4⅞@5c. in large lines, and 5@5½c. to jobbers for 4d. and 6d. Clinch moderately active at 6½@6¾c. Other styles without alteration to note, and may be quoted as follows: Zinc nails 18c., Yellow Metal do. 26c., and copper do. 40c. per lb. The exports for the week embrace 300 pkgs. valued at $1,823, against 4,322 pkgs. valued at $21,786 last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The general market still presents a very dull appearance; but a few country orders continue to drop in, and in retail lots quite a fair trade is doing. Ochre of prime quality is temporarily scarce, and held with rather more firmness. Glue of prime and extra quality continues very scarce; the long period of stormy weather having prevented a liberal production, and for the few lots on sale very full prices are realized. Linseed oil has been a trifle irregular, but not very active, and closes with only a few unimportant sales, making at about $1.10@$1.12 in casks, and $1.13@1.15 in bbls., crushers' rates. The exports for the week were 49 pkgs. paint, valued at $366 and 100 gallons linseed oil, valued at $122.

PITCH.—We find a steady uniform market for all grades with a good home demand in small lots, and rather more being taken for export. The quotations still stand at $3.50 for city, and 3.62½@$3.75 for good to prime Southern. Receipts for week 145 bbls. Exports for week 259 bbls; since January 1st, 1,928 bbls.; and for same period last year 2,639 bbls.

SLATE.—We still hear of a pretty liberal supply coming in, and stock slightly accumulates as the demand is gradually falling off, and trade at the yards rather slack, the early spring trade being about over. Prices, however, remain very firm, and a few alterations made in our table of quotations are rather in sellers' favor. With the exception that the contractors still positively refuse to pay the advance demanded, we hear of nothing further from the strike of the miners. Where work is progressing the average rate of wages is $3.00 per day, some inferior workmen getting less; while on the other hand, a few new companies, just starting their quarries, and naturally anxious to have their stock introduced, are paying as high as $3.25 per day.

STONE.—The various grades of building stone are a trifle less active, but nearly all the yards are employing about their usual average of workmen, and the general tone of grade is good. Blue stone steady and in brisk demand, and the production of the quarries is soon disposed of.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Prices have varied but little during the week; the demand has been very good, and the market generally shows a more healthy and steady tone. The receipts are larger, but are offset by the increased sales. At the close the rates stand at 45½ @ 46 in wholesale lots, and 46½ @ 47 in retail parcels. Receipts for week 2,263 bbls. Exports for week 3 bbls., since January 1st 5,207 bbls., and for same period, last year, 9,450 bbls.

TAR.—There has been a very active trade doing, and with the stock of desirable qualities greatly reduced, prices have again advanced, and, at the present writing, are extremely well sustained. The latest quotations are $3.50@3.37½ for Washington, common to good; and $4.37½@$4.87½ for Wilmington. the outside for prime rope all in order in yard. Receipts for the week 270 bbls. Export for week 31 bbls., since January 1st 5,393 bbls., and for same period last year 3,002 bbls.

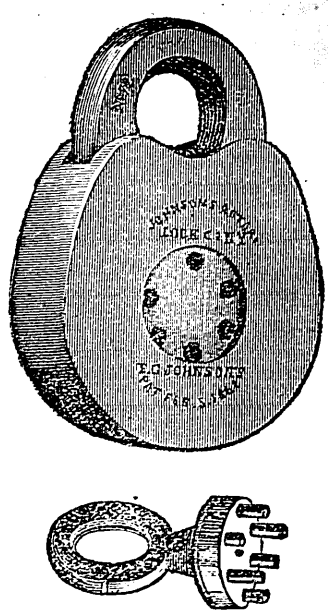
REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.



4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers, will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

REAL ESTATE.

GREAT SALE OF WESTCHESTER PROPERTY AT AUCTION.

To be made without reserve, pursuant to a judgment of the Supreme Court, in partition,
ON FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1868, AT 12 M.,
BY
AUCTIONEERS,
At the Exchange Salesroom, 111 Broadway, New York.

CLASON'S POINT, IN THE TOWN OF WESTCHESTER,
And extends from the South Westchester Turnpike 2¼ miles along the new highway, to LONG ISLAND SOUND, and includes an extensive and VALUABLE WATER FRONT ON THE SOUND. It has a varied and picturesque surface, is beautifully wooded, and affords fine views of the Sound and its charming scenery.

It has been laid out into FORTY PLACES OF FROM 2 to 40 ACRES EACH, under the direction of IGNAZ PILAT, consulting landscape gardener to the Commissioners of the Central and Prospect Parks, in such a manner as to give to each a fine building site, an unobstructed view, and the greatest possible number of natural advantages.

These places have all the rural charms of the distant country, and are sufficiently near to the city for daily access, being about four miles from Harlem and 10½ miles from the City Hall, New York.

In addition to the new Highway recently made along the entire length of this property, other roads have been laid out in an artistic manner.

A new steamboat dock is proposed at the point; the South Westchester Turnpike is being re-graded and macadamised; new railroads are projected through and near this property to Harlem, and from Harlem to the City Hall a tunnel railroad is chartered. No better investment can be made. The few beautiful points on the Sound in Westchester county, of which this is the finest, are in great demand, and rapidly increasing in value.

This sale will afford such an opportunity as has never before been offered for the purchase of grounds for elegant homes in Westchester, adjacent to the Sound and near the great metropolis.

Do not fail to examine the property. Each lot is distinctly staked out and numbered.

Sixty per cent. of the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage for three or five years.

☞ Maps can be had of the auctioneers, at their office, 77 Cedar street, New York.

TO OUR PATRONS.

WE have refrained, so far, from saying anything about the RECORD as an advertising medium; but as the trade has begun to find out the benefit of using our columns, we may be pardoned for adverting to that topic "just once."

Our circulation is principally among the following classes.

1st. Real estate agents and dealers.

2d. Large property holders, land and building associations, banks, and capitalists who have heavy sums invested in real estate or buildings.

3d. Architects, builders, contractors, plumbers and gas-fitters, lumber and timber dealers, moulding and planing mills, manufacturers and dealers in brick, lime, stone, plaster, drain and sewer pipes, windowg lass, and all other kinds of materials used in the construction of a building, from the foundationto the roof.

Now, while the RECORD would be a poor paper, in which to advertise for a partner, a trotting horse, a wife, a cook, or a lost dog, it is the very best possible medium by which to reach certain lucrative and important branches of business. The value of this paper is not to be measured merely by its circulation, for, more than any other paper published, it is kept in files for reference. Hence, it is looked over by fifty persons while other weekly papers are read only once.

There are a multitude of trades which must yet use the RECORD, and to whom other papers are of no sort of value. Property to be bought and sold, finds its proper place in our columns; while all the materials which enter into the construction of houses have no other means of getting their merits before the public. We cannot spare space to tell all the trades which will yet find it indispensable to use the columns of the RECORD.

We have not said much on this subject while making up our subscription lists, but now that we can boast of having on our books all the reputable real estate dealers, builders, architects, and property holders in New York and Kings counties, we cannot be accused of egotism in claiming very great value for the RECORD in certain lines of business. Send in your advertisements and try us.

THE THIRD AVENUE ASSESSMENT.

THE introduction of a resolution in the Common Council, for paving Third avenue, from Eighty-sixth to One Hundred and Tenth street, with Belgian pavement, we make the occasion for a few comments, which we trust will have the effect of preventing the annoyance, the injustice, and the expense caused by non-compliance with contracts, and the irregularities which have to a large extent prevailed in some of the departments.

We last week called attention to the fact that the Croton Aqueduct Board had caused the work of paving 2d avenue, from 61st to 86th street, to be stopped, because it was sought, in violation of the contract, to furnish imperfect stone for that work. This was just, and showed a degree of watchfulness on the part of the Croton Board, that property owners, as well as the general public, have cause to be thankful for.

We regret that when the contract for paving 3d avenue, from 110th street to Harlem River was made, the same interest had not been manifested, and a like care had not been exercised, as in the case of the 2d avenue paving.

But "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and much good may be done by the Croton Board, in the interest of the city and the owners of property, if, in the work of paving 3d avenue from 86th to 110th street, the contractor is held to a strict accountability, and not allowed to impose upon the city a bad job for which some property owners have to pay, and others avoid, as in the case of the the 3d avenue above 110th st.

As pertinent to this, and as a matter of great interest to property owners, we give below an opinion of Judge Ingraham, concurred in by Judges Sutherland and Barnard, of the General Term, Supreme Court:

In the matter of the petition of Wm. G. Wood and others, to vacate assessment for paving Third Avenue.

We have heretofore held that it was irregular, within the meaning of the act of 1858, to do several things which are complained of in this petition, among which are the following:

1st. The contract and specifications did not provide for taking up the gutter stones and paving in their place with Belgian pavement, but on the contrary required the contractor, to readjust the gutter stones wherever necessary, without charge. In violation of this he removed the gutter stones, and substituted the pavement under the assent of the Water Purveyor, at the request of some of the owners. There was no authority for this, and it was outside of the contract.

2d. The assessors were wrong in including in their assessment a charge for making the assessment. This we held some time since to be erroneous.

3d. It was irregular and erroneous for the Commissioners of the Croton Board to certify the work to have been completed and accepted when they had rejected the whole street for one block. The taking a bond to do the work, and withholding part of the money, did not obviate the difficulty. That work has not been done to the time of the trial, and yet the owners have been assessed for it.

We do not, under this proceeding, inquire whether the work is well done or done according to the contract, so far as relates to the material or workmanship; and if this were all, there would be no ground for our interference on that account, but when it appears that the certificate was given, with a full knowledge that the work was not finished, it was a violation of the contract, which prohibited the contractor from receiving payment until the whole work was completed, and was unjust to the owners who were assessed for its payment.

The application should be granted and the assessment vacated.

THE "Fernando Wood Lease" is about to come to a conclusion. A few days will determine whether, as some people say, the whole thing was "a put up job." We hope, for the sake of the honor of our city, it may not turn out to be so, and if the contract was made in good faith, that further expense to the city will be avoided and the lease executed. It does no credit to the intelligence or integrity of our legislators, lawyers, and judges to exhibit such a spirit as this case has evoked. It is demoralizing and destructive in its influence upon the public, and introduces into our system of government a principle that, in time, will sap its very foundations, unless checked.

THE Evening Post and several other papers ask why, if New York wants the East River navigation improved, do not its merchants put their hands in their pockets and pay for it?

The answer is plain.

1. The East River improvement is a national, and not a local matter, and the nation, not the locality, should pay for it.

2. It would not be fair for a few down town merchants to pay for an improvement which would directly benefit other people's property at the expense of their own.

3. Nor would it be just to expect a few property owners on the north-east side to pay for the improvement when it would equally benefit land owners in Westchester county, and on Long Island, who would not pay a cent.

There is only one fair thing to do. Congress should appropriate at least one million dollars for this great national work, and part of the expense might be assessed upon the adjoining property.

BY reference to advertisement in another column, parties interested in assessments for regulating, grading, flagging, &c., will observe what have been referred to the Board of Assessors. They will also ascertain the limits in which the assessments are imposed.

Essex County, N. J., is about the most active region around New York, so far as real estate is concerned. The volume of changes, especially around Newark, is literally immense. This last named locality, by the way, is destined to be one of the great cities of the Union.

THE EAST SIDE ASSOCIATION.

ACT OF INCORPORATION.

February, 29. 1868.—Introduced by Mr. Hitchman:

An act to incorporate the East Side Association of the city of New York. The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. A. P. Arnold, George W. Beale, J. E. Brush, J. H. Browning, A. C. Barnett, Charles J. Bartram, E. F. Browning, J. M. Bassinger, J. M. Boyd, Charles Crary, Hugh Crombie, Charles T. Chickhaus, John T. Daley, John Foley, J. G. W. Feldman, Frank G. Green, Franklin Goodwin, Charles S. Glover, R. M. Hedden, G. S. Haydock, P. S. Hubert, W. M. Jones, Jr., Edward Kilpatrick, E. C. Korner, Weare C. Little, M. McCann, Henry Myer, Henry Mulliker, Thomas Murphy, J. J. Mertges, George J. Moore, A. Quackenbush, Jr., E. E. Quackenbush, Thomas Rutter, Stephen Roberts, William Rutter, John C. Rennert, J. Bentley Squier, A. Clark Squier, James R. Silliman, J. Trumbull Smith, J. M. Shackelford, J. V. Traphegan, F. J. Twomey, Daniel E. Gavit, John M. Thorp, Samuel Thompson, Alexander Thain, E. A. Thorp, Augustin Walsh, H. Walkins, and Thomas Walsh, and such other persons as now are members of an association in the city of New York, called the East Side Association, and such persons as hereafter shall become members of the corporation hereby created, are constituted a body corporate, by the name of "The East Side Association," to be located in the city of New York, the object of which shall be the improvement of that part of said city lying north of Fifty-ninth street and east of the Central Park, and by discussion and comparison of views among the members of said association, to promote generally the welfare of that portion of said city, and of the inhabitants thereof, and in furtherance of those objects, the said corporation shall have power to establish and maintain a library and reading room, with power also to take by purchase, bequest, devise or otherwise, and to hold, transfer and convey real and personal property, including all such books, cabinets, library furniture and apparatus, as may be necessary for attaining the objects and carrying into effect the purposes of said corporation; provided that the said association shall not hold any real estate, the value of which shall exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and the said corporation may issue bonds, and may execute mortgages upon their real estate, to an amount not exceeding the value of such real estate and the improvements thereon.

§ 2. The powers of the said corporation shall be vested in a board of trustees, who shall be members of said association; the said board shall consist of twenty-five members, and within thirty days after the passage of this act, the chairman and secretary of said board shall divide the trustees by lot into three classes, those in the first class to hold their office one year, those in the second class, two years, and those in the third class, three years; the trustees chosen at any election subsequent to such division, shall hold their places for three years, and until others shall be chosen to succeed them; the election shall be by ballot, and every person who shall be a member of said association, in good and regular standing, or a shareholder of any of the building stock mentioned in the fourth section of this act, shall be entitled to vote at said election; and the persons receiving a majority of all the votes given at such election, shall be trustees to succeed those whose terms of office expire. The trustees may appoint an executive committee, to consist of seven of their number, who shall hold their office during the discretion of the board, and shall possess and exercise such power and authority over the affairs of the association as the trustees may determine. The trustees may fill any vacancy in their number, occurring during the period for which they shall hold their office.

§ 3. There shall be a president and secretary of the said association, who shall be members thereof, and shall hold their office for one year; they shall be elected at the same time trustees are elected, and by the persons entitled to vote for trustees, and shall be ex-officio members of the board of trustees; there shall also be a treasurer, and such other officers of said association as the board of trustees may determine; neither the president, secretary, treasurer, or any member of the board of trustees of said association, shall receive any compensation for services rendered by them, in discharging the duties of their respective officers.

§ 4. The said association shall, in addition to the power and authority conferred by the first section of this act, have a building stock of one hundred thousand dollars, which said stock shall be divided into shares of twenty-five dollars each, to be applied to the purchase of a site, and the erection thereon of a suitable building, to be devoted to the objects specified in the first section of this act; and said shares shall be transferable in such manner as the by-laws of said association shall direct; and every stockholder in said corporation, shall be entitled to a vote at all elections for trustees and other officers of said association, and for that purpose shall, while holding such stock, be deemed to be a member of said corporation; such stock shall bear interest as may be determined by said association, payable out of any income derived from said building, not to exceed eight per cent. per annum.

§ 5. The president, secretary, and treasurer of said association may, immediately after the passage of this act, open books and take subscriptions, and receive money for the said building stock, of one hundred thousand dollars, or any part thereof, in such manner as they may deem most expedient, and may issue to such subscribers the necessary certificates of shares, which shall be signed by the president and secretary, and countersigned by the treasurer, and all shares so issued shall, from the date thereof, be a lien and charge upon the real and personal property of said corporation until cancelled, as hereafter provided.

§ 6. The said corporation may at any time call in and redeem any and all of such shares issued as aforesaid, and the person or persons to whom such shares, or any of them, may have been issued, shall, upon the receipt of the amount thereof in money, transfer and deliver such shares to the treasurer of said corporation, who shall immediately cancel and annul the same; and when all of such shares shall be redeemed, the said building stock provided for in section four of this act, shall become extinguished, and the provisions of said section, so far as provided for the issuing of said stock, shall thereafter be null and void; provided that within five years from the issuing of said stock, the said stock shall not be called in and redeemed except with the consent of the holders thereof.

§ 7. The several officers of said association, at the time of the passage of this act, shall continue to hold their respective offices, as officers of the corporation hereby created, until their successors shall be duly elected and installed; and all personal property, funds or securities now held by the said officers, or either or any of them, or by any other person or persons, in trust for the said association, or for the use or benefit of said association, shall by virtue of this act, vest in and become the property of, and may be sued for and recovered upon in the name of said corporation.

§ 8. The election for officers of the said corporation shall be held at such times and on such days as the said corporation, in and by its articles of association may appoint; and at every election for officers, notice shall be given in all cases, in such manner as may be prescribed by said articles of association.

§ 9. The said corporation shall possess the powers and be subject to the provisions and liabilities of title three of chapter eighteen of part one of the Revised Statutes, entitled "Of the general powers, privileges and liabilities of corporations."

§ 10. This act shall take effect immediately.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE principal event of the week was the first meeting, on Tuesday evening, June 23d, of the East Side Association, in its corporate capacity. Its new Act of incorporation we give in another column. At 9 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the President, Charles Crary, and after the Secretary had read the minutes, the election of the following officers took place:—For President, Charles Crary; Vice-President, George W. Beale; Secretary, Alexander Thain; Treasurer, A. Quackenbush. The following twenty-five gentlemen were elected trustees:—A. P. Arnold, G. W. Beale, J. E. Brush, E. F. Browning, Charles Crary, Hugh Crombie, J. W. Bennett, J. Daley, Robert Earle, J. G. J. Feldman, D. E. Gavit, E. D. Howland, P. G. Hubert, W. Jones, Jr., E. C. Komer, Edward Kilpatrick, A. Quackenbush, E. E. Quackenbush, Thomas Rutter, Stephen Roberts, William Rutter, Edward Roberts, F. J. Twomey, Samuel Thompson, Alex. Thain. After the election the following three gentlemen were appointed a committee to prepare an address to the property-owners of that portion of the city under the jurisdiction of the association:—Daniel E. Gavitt, E. D. Howland, and John W. Bennett, associate editor of the REAL ESTATE RECORD. Mr. Gavitt stated that the books of the Central Underground Railroad would be opened in a few days, and large subscriptions to the stock are anticipated. This enterprise will add materially to this portion of the city. The company desire the co-operation of the East Side Association. This information was received with pleasure, and every encouragement was promised to the undertaking, and the following committee was appointed to wait upon the corporators of the railroad: Stephen Roberts, Edward Roberts, Daniel Gavitt, Alexander Thain, and Charles Crary. The Association then adjourned, after a lengthy and interesting discussion regarding the improvements at Hell Gate, and the opening of Boulevards.

GOSSIP.

The most noticeable feature of all the sales of suburban property, is that a different class of purchasers attend them from those who are seen at the Exchange in this city. The latter are mostly capitalists who have retired from more active business, and who yet are desirous of increasing their fortunes by speculation in landed property on this island; the former are mostly clerks, men recently started in business, and the more thrifty of the middle classes who are seeking homes. These improve the lands they purchase, and build up the cities and villages that are growing into respectable dimensions all around New York, while the others only hold the property they buy till it may have become enhanced in value....Contracts for the erection of 165 buildings, costing about $3,000,000, have been made and divided among 11 architects in Chicago.... A marked decline in house rent has been felt during the past two months at Chicago. Tenants have managed, in many instances to build or buy, and thus at once free themselves of landlords and high rents....The recent sale of 54 lots at Pembroke Lake, Conn., amounted to $14,800. ....The new Cathedral, Church of the Immaculate Conception, Brooklyn, the corner stone of which was laid on Sunday, June 22, will be of the following style and dimensions: The edifice will be in French Gothic style of architecture of the thirteenth century, selected as offering the greatest scope for supplying modern wants, whilst retaining the breadth and beauties of the most perfect period of pointed architecture. The extreme length, from the towers in front to the rear of the chapel, is 354 feet; length from front entrance to the rear of the apse, 264 feet; extreme breadth at the transept, 180 feet; extreme breadth of nave and aisles, 98 feet. The large chapel will be 40 feet wide and 90 feet long; the frontage 160 feet on Lafayette avenue; the large towers in front to be 50 feet square at the base, and will be 350 feet in height from the surface to the top of the cross; the small towers at the transept are 27 feet at the base, and will be 185 feet in height. The top of the nave roof will be 112 feet high above the level of the street in front. The aisle walls will be 57 feet high, and the nave and transept ceilings will be 85 feet high above the floor. Aisle ceiling 56 feet. All the exterior trimmings and dressings will be of white granite. The window tracery and decorations will be of Ohio buff free-stone, mixed with Belleville grey free-stone.

SALES.

The principal feature of this week's sales is the sale of lots on the Central and Erie railroads, running through the State of New Jersey. The Rutherford Park Association a few years ago bought about 600 acres of land on the Passaic River, which for beauty of scenery ranges next to the Hudson. This property is only 9 miles from New York, or 45 minutes' ride, consequently very desirable for villa residences. The ground was laid out into plots containing from 2 to 45 city lots. Streets and avenues have been graded, and a large hotel erected, and sites for churches were presented to several religious denominations. On Thursday, the 18th inst., about $150,000 worth of this property was sold at satisfactory prices. The quarantine grounds, having been put up at auction several times, are now to be sold at private sale at prices suitable to the views of the governor of the State. Sales also took place since our last issue in Dunellen and Plainfield, in which latter place 2,800 lots were sold at auction without reserve. The land is high, has natural drainage, and great quantities of fruit. City property is but little thrown upon the market now, and the number of vacant houses is considerably on the increase. The following are the particulars of the sales effected during the week:

THURSDAY, JUNE 18.—By LAWRENCE, STRATTON & Co.—The four-story brick house, with brown stone trimmings, with lot, 29.4x100 feet, situated on the north-west corner of Fifth ave. and Thirty-first st., were sold to W. B. Dinsmore for $181,000. Lot, 25x30x74.5x91.9, on Thirty-first st., in rear of the above, was purchased by M. H. Cashman for $58,000. By MULLER, WILKINS & Co.—The Atlantic Dock Iron Works, with plot 111.6x284.10x100x217.5, with six brick buildings and a frame office thereon, were sold for $35,250. The property is situated at the Atlantic Docks, Brooklyn, bounded by King st., the wharf, and two alleyways. The buildings are large and substantially built, and suitable for large mill or factory purposes. They are also suitable for storage, as vessels can load or discharge at the wharf immediately in front of the premises.

FRIDAY, JUNE 19.—By GILBERT & Co.—Four-story brick building, with lot, 18 9x66.6 feet, No. 334 Water st., bet. James and Roosevelt sts., was purchased by J. Pangborn for $8,200. Three-story dwelling house, with lot, 19.5x98 feet, in 30th st., between 1st and 2d aves., was bought by Charles Hammond for $12,550.

TUESDAY, JUNE 23.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—Premises No. 187 Chatham st., 17.6x55, purchased by Thos. White for $24,500. One lot n. s. 18th st., 150 feet e. of 10th av., 25x92, John Kennedy, $4,100. One lot s. s. 19th st., 150 ft. e. of 10th av., 25x92, John Kennedy, $4,100. Premises Nos. 39 and 39½ Carmine st., 25x35x100, J. Lindow, $17,100. Premises No. 15 Little 12th st., 25x10.8, W. Conkright, $14,050. Premises No. 18 12th st., 23x80, J. J. Talman, $17,500. Premises No. 12 Hudson st., 24x41x78, H. Small, $19,300. Premises No. 14 Hudson st., 24x43x77, J. Talman, $16,900. Premises No. 781 Greenwich st., 21x38x55, C. Stevens, $12,800. Premises No. 783 Greenwich st., 21x39x56. J. Pangburn, $11,250. One lot w. s. 2d av., 75 feet n. of 131st st., 24.11x75, A. S. Dusenbury, $6,000. One lot n. s. 131st st., 75 feet w. of 7th av., 25x99.11, A. S. Dusenbury, $6,000. By JAMES M. MILLER.—Four-story house and lot, No. 18 E. 41st st., between 5th and Madison avs.; house 22x55, lot 25x98.9. Purchased by Z. Shelby for $46,175. NEW JERSEY.—WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17TH.—DUNELLEN PROPERTY.—By LEWIS E. WOOD, 108 lots, 25x150 ft., were knocked down. The engineer made a mistake in surveying the lots so small and so the company sold them in plots of two—that is, 50x150 ft. On the north side of North st., plot No. 20, the sales are as follows: Nos. 15, 16, 17 and 18, to Mr. Sutkins, for $5.25 per foot front; Nos. 19, 20, 21 and 22, to Mr. Tillsworth, for $7 per foot front; Nos. 23 and 24, to Mr. Esty, for $6.25 per foot front. On plot No. 5, Nos. 9, 10, 11, 12, to Mr. Cobb, for $6.12½ each per foot front; Nos. 15, 16, 17 and 18, to Mr. Gilbert, for $6 each per foot front; Nos. 21 and 22, to Mr. Esty, for $5.50 per foot front; Nos. 23 and 24, to Mr. Gilbert, for $6.25 per foot front; Nos. 9 and 10, to Mr. Tillsworth, for $4.25 per foot front.

On the south side of Front st., plot No. 6, Nos. 37 and 38, to Mr. Plum, for $6.50 per foot, front; Nos. 51 and 52, to Mr. E. W. Sinclair, for $4.75 per foot, front. On plot No. 5—Nos. 44 and 45, to Mr. J. Smith, for $3.50 per foot, front. On plot No. 4, Nos. 37 and 38 to Myers, Runyan & Force, for $5.25, per foot, front; Nos. 41 and 42, to Mr. Plum, at $4.75 per foot, front; Nos. 43, and 45, to Mr. Squires, $4.12½ per foot, front; Nos. 51 and 52, to Mr. Runyon, for $4.12½ per foot, front; six lots corner Lincoln av., to Mr. Fittsworth, for $4.62½ per foot, front; six lots opposite on Lincoln av. and Front st., to Mr. Sutphen, at $4 per foot, front. On the north side of Front st., plot 11, Nos. 21 and 22, to Mr. Plum, at $5.25 per foot, front; Nos. 15 and 16, to Mr. Boise, at $5.25 per foot, front; Nos. 17, 18, 19 and 20, to Mr. Plum, at $5 per foot front. In plot No. 10—Nos. 19, 20, 21 and 22, to Mr. Andemire, for $3.50 per foot, front. Six lots corner of Jackson st.—Nos. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30, to Mr. G. W. White, at $5. Nos. 7 and 8, to Mr. Squires, at $4.75 per foot, front. Nos. 19, 20, 21 and 22, to Mr. Plumb, at $5.75 per foot, front. Nos. 23 and 24, to Mr. Plumb, at $5.12½ per foot, front. Six lots corner of Jefferson st., Nos. 25 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30, to W. D. Stephens, at $5.75 per foot, front. On George st., plot No. 9, lots 51 and 52, to Mr. Blank, for $5.25 per foot, front. Six lots corner of Jackson st., Nos. 55, 56, 57, 58, 59 and 60, to Mr. Plumb, at $6 per foot, front. In plot No. 10, Nos. 51 and 52, to Mr. Sutphen, at $5.25 per foot, front; Nos. 55 and 56, corner of Washington av. and George st., to Mr. Plumb, at $6.25 per foot, front.

MONDAY, JUNE 22.—Rutherford Park Property.—This auction sale commenced on the 19th, on the premises, was continued on the 22d, at the salesroom, No. 111 Broadway. As the sale progressed the bidding became less spirited; so the auctioneer announced that the remaining lots would be sold at private sale.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The strike of the Bricklayers, and the consequent suspension of building operations, has materially lessened the demand for brick, and the market during the past week has ruled quite dull. The arrivals in the meantime have increased, and at all the receiving depots the stock is rapidly accumulating, and dealers are more anxious to negotiate sales. Under this state of affairs buyers gain considerable advantage, and prices on all grades are reduced, closing somewhat irregular and without much strength. For the best quality of North River brands, $13 is now about the top price, with the bulk selling at $12@$12.50, and common grades down to $11 per M. A few arrivals from New Jersey and Long Island are noted, and these command rates in proportion to the above. The quality of the new crop rather improves, but the average as yet is not above medium, and some lots are still very poor. Pale brick are in very fair demand, and generally quoted at $9@9.50, very choice probably a trifle higher. Fronts are without alteration to report. The exports for the week are 30,100 to Cuba.

CEMENT.—After some little dullness, and in a few instances a trifling shading of prices in order to effect quick sales, the market has again become quite steady, and full previous rates are current, with a good business doing both for city use and coastwise shipment. The supply is fair, but not greatly in excess of the demand. Exports for week 945 bbls., valued at $1,764.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—We find no alterations necessary in quotations, the majority of wholesale manufacturers still operating at previous figures. Trade, however, has become quite dull, as buildings are not being pushed so rapidly as before the 1st of May in this city and immediate vicinity, and shippers do not operate freely. The foreign markets offer very small margins for export (some none at all), and Southern orders, owing to a want of money in that section, come in slowly.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—We still find a very dull market for all styles, and considerable irregularity in prices. Some manufacturers, who have accumulated a pretty large supply, and are anxious to realize thereon, are pressing the market at pretty low figures, while nearly all dealers are willing to make some concessions to good customers, and the regular price lists are not strictly adhered to. We again revise our quotations, to conform as nearly as possible to current rates; but all figures at the moment are in a measure nominal. The great bulk of buyers seem unwilling to operate in this class of goods unless they have immediate use for their purchases, and very material concessions do not often have the effect to produce an active market.

FIRE BRICK.—The supply on hand is not very heavy, but is ample for immediate wants, and at former prices the market remains quite steady. On large parcels, cargoes, etc., some reduction from our quoted rates can be obtained.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The demand is moderate. and the general range of prices without alteration to note. The latest sales at auction were 420 logs Spanish cedar, at 5¼c@9c. per foot; 292 logs Mansanila do. 12¼c@14c.; 306 logs Minatitlan Mahogany at 8¼c@9¼c., and 112 logs Mansanilla do. 10¼c@10¾c. The receipts are as follows: from Jacmel 150 pieces Mahogany; from St. Domingo City 63 tons Lignumvitæ 38 logs, and 52 crotches mahogany, and 2 logs Satin wood; from Remedios 199 pieces palm lumber, and from San Francisco 175 sticks Laurel and Rosewood. The exports are 265 pieces Lignumvitæ to London.

GLASS.—The market for French window glass is still quoted at 40@50 per cent. discount, mostly 45@50 per cent., but with the exception of some little demand for very desirable sizes, the business has fallen off very decidedly, and some dealers complain of a stagnation equal to the early spring. This sudden decline in trade is attributed in a great measure, to the unusually moderate inquiry from western buyers, who are said to have obtained their supplies largely from Canada, where the offerings were liberal and rates lower than importers could afford to sell in this city. English glass is selling at about 35@40 per cent. discount, and American at 50 per cent. discount. The latest imports are 9,440 pkgs. valued at $25,596, and 146 Glass Plate valued at $20,843.

HAIR.—We hear of nothing worthy of special note in this market, the supply and demand about balancing each other, and prices ruling steady,

LABOR.—The principal feature of the week has been the ill-timed and foolish action of the bricklayers, who, according to a previously announced intention, last Monday demanded a change from ten hours and $5 00 per day to eight hours, and $4 50 per day; and not meeting with a favorable response immediately, stopped work. Up to the present writing a large proportion have remained idle, hoping to ultimately force employers to conform to their views. At a subsequent meeting of the bricklayers the following resolutions were adopted:

"That all members who have given a false report of employers granting the eight-hour demand be fined $10.

"That members working for employers not giving the eight-hours shall take their tools and leave their job.

"That the standard rate of wages for members of the Society be $4 50 per day until the 1st day of May, 1869.

A few "bosses" with very binding contracts on hand, were induced to accede to the new order of things, but the majority of the master masons feel that, after the easy manner in which they have heretofore submitted to the demands of the strikers, matters have reached a point where forbearance ceases to be a virtue, and that it is incumbent upon them to resist the workmen to the bitter end. In order to have concert of action, the master masons held a meeting at the Liberty street Exchange, which was largely attended, and nearly all present seemed fully determined to stop operations entirely and cover up their buildings, rather than be forced to accept the terms now proposed by their journeymen. From a preamble adopted, and in which the position of employers is fully set forth, we glean the following:

"Since 1852, to the 1st of June, 1868, the wages of our men have risen steadily from about $2 per day to $5 per day. In the Spring, $4 50 was the regular rate. On the 1st of June. by the action of the several Unions, the rate was raised to $5 per day for ten hours' work. To this we readily assented; and paid our men $5 per day. We did suppose that here the matter would rest. We thought that the topmost round of the ladder had been reached. On the 15th of June the Unions demanded $4 50 per day, and eight hours to constitute a day's work, which is an increase over $5 per day, being 56¼ cents per hour, or $5 62½ for 10 hours' work. We wish it distinctly understood that we are not opposed to $5 per day, if the market can bear so high a rate of wages; but we do oppose any advance over $5, knowing that it is the very highest amount that the market will bear, and we cannot consent to any advance over $5, whether the same be in the reduction of a day's work to eight hours, or by any other means. We feel it a duty we owe ourselves and the public, to resist, even to personal and present loss, so great a wrong as the said Unions are now perpetrating against the building interests of this city. We desire to make an exhibit of the relative cost of laying 1,000 brick at this time as compared with the cost of laying 1,000 brick a few years ago. A few years ago a bricklayer would lay 2,000 brick per day (and sometimes 3,000 for days in succession), for which he was paid $2. Now about 1,000 brick is considered by said Unions a day's work, for which the bricklayer receive $5. In the first instance he received $1 per thousand; at present he receives $5 per thousand, being five-fold increase. There are some honorable exceptions to this, as some men will lay from one to two thousand brick per day. We mention it as being about the average, and desire to show that the more we pay our men the less work will they accomplish."

The preamble then proceeds at some length to discuss the rights of a body of men to band themselves together for the purpose of imposing rules and restrictions upon any branch of trade, and complains in no measured terms of certain arbitrary rules of the Bricklayers' Union, which prevent a master mason from working on his own building unless a member of the Union, and also restrict them from employing more than two apprentices, even going so far as to demand the right to determine how old the apprentice shall be, how long a term he shall serve, he must be indentured, and the indentures must be submitted to and approved by said Unions.

After commenting on the latter rule, and advancing the idea that its abolishment would be of as much benefit to the workman as his employer, the preamble is brought to a close, as follows:

It is well understood that the purpose of these Unions is to demand $5 for eight hours, if they should succeed in obtaining their present demand of $4.50 for eight hours. This fact is well known by the Master Masons, and, as such a measure would be ruinous, we feel bound to express our views publicly on this question, and claim the coöperation of all those for whom we are erecting buildings. The time has come when all owners and builders should say, Stop! and, if necessary, cover up every building until justice should rule, and the way be opened for honorable competition in labor. We, the Master Masons of the City of New York, in view of the foregoing statements, do hereby Resolve, To stop all our work until the men in our employ return to their work at $5 per day for 10 hours.

Resolved, That we employ counsel to test the rules adopted and now enforced by said Unions, in regard to the restrictions placed upon trade to employ apprentices, and also to test the rule by which an employer is deprived of the liberty of laboring on his building. by which means his family is dependent on him for support quite as much, in some instances. as the family of the journeyman is dependent on his labor for their support.

Resolved, That each firm here represented contribute the sum of $10 toward carrying out the foregoing resolutions, and defraying the necessary expenses connected with our present purpose. And be it further

Resolved, That each member hereby pledges himself to pay his apportionment of the further expenses (if any) in carrying out the foregoing resolutions.

On Wednesday still another meeting was held, and the large number of employers present were very emphatic in their determination to resist the eight-hour movement to the very last. It was urged that should the bricklayers gain their point, carpenters, painters, plasterers, laborers, and all other trades would immediately be justified in demanding the same system, and the cost of building, rents, &c., in consequence, be greatly enhanced. Among other resolutions, the following were adopted:

Resolved, That no Master Mason, a member of this organization, will take or finish any job that has been commenced by any member of this association, and which has been stopped in consequence of the strike of the bricklayers.

Resolved, The Master Masons knowing that many men are willing to return to their work at 10 hours per day, to such we say that when they return to their work we guarantee them protection.

Employers are undoubtedly justified in the position they have assumed, and if their present views are adhered to with the tenacity promised, must ultimately win the day, though many will lose heavily by the suspension of work in the meantime. "The laborer is worthy of hire," unquestionably, but, when blinded by past successes, he attempts to dictate terms which, in the end. must result disastrously, not only to himself and his employer, but to the public at large, it is just and proper that some action should be taken to bring him to a proper understanding of his position. We believe in the dignity of labor to the fullest extent, but not as many of the Trade Unions do who virtually advance the idea that in all cases the wishes and interests of the employee are paramount to those of the employer. As we go to press no terms have as yet been agreed upon, but we trust an early settlement may be effected, for all classes of business connected with the building interest are stagnant in view of the present difficulties.

LATH.—At the decline noted in our last report, there has been a very good trade doing both in parcels on the spot and to arrive, and the market has settled into a rather more uniform state. The sales foot up for the week about 6,000,000, mostly at $3, though on a few parcels $3.6¼ per M was obtained. At the present writing the dullness in building operations has a tendency to check the demand, but buyers have seemed disposed to operate freely at $3, and in most cases have met with a fair response from sellers. A few receivers, however, complain of the small margin for profit at that rate, and begin to talk of piling out stock when it arrives, unless higher figures are current, though nearly all show an inclination to accept very near $3 for cargoes in transit, which are now disposed of with less ease than last week.

LIME.—The market has been rather dull, and though the arrivals are moderate there is still some stock in the hands of receivers. Prices has ruled steady at $1 25 for common, and $2.25 for lump, and close at these figures, with no indication of any immediate alteration. North River stock continues to come forward freely, and more can be obtained if necessary; and this serves to check any present movement to force up the rate on Rockland.

LUMBER.—The continued firmness in the western and Albany markets has a corresponding effect here, and at all the yards we find a steady confident tone manifested, particularly on seasoned desirable stock. The volume of business is fair, the more settled weather having given both buyers and sellers a better opportunity to operate, and though the receipts are now becoming comparatively liberal, they do not greatly exceed the demand. Our Albany advices represent the market there as in a good, sound, healthy condition, with very few sales of clear pine, making below $57 00, though an occasional inferior lot was run off at $55.00@$56.00. Coarse lumber had accumulated somewhat, but not in quantities likely to exceed the demand. Black Walnut continues very firm and is much sought after, though holders are very indifferent operators, and do not seek to push sales; in fact the policy appears to be to hold on to all good stock in anticipation of higher figures later in the season. The most recent advices from the West represent a higher range of prices and but little coming forward. The quotation given for Black Walnut at Albany, is still about $65.00, but we learn that nothing is selling at this figure, except second class stock, and that good to prime is worth fully $70.00@$75.00, while choice stuff would probably command even higher. In our city yards rates remain as before, with very few sales at the inside prices. The wholesale markets continue quite active, but there is less general steadiness than at the date of our last report. The weakness is principally noticeable upon Eastern spruce, of which the supply both present and prospective is larger; and receivers, with some anxiety to sell, have found it necessary to make a few concessions, particularly on cargoes to arrive, buyers still refusing to negotiate with freedom upon any stock, unless they can be assured of having deliveries made immediately. The general range of prices may now be placed at $21.00@22.50 per M, though, could a good straight assortment of twenty-foot lengths be obtained, buyers would not hesitate to pay $23.00, provided the stock was here. The arrivals have been pretty liberal, and contain rather more unsold cargoes than usual; and it is understood that quite a good sized fleet is working down the coast. This in a measure explains the desire on the part of receivers to hurry sales, they considering it more profitable to work off their lumber at a slight decline from late figures, than to hold on stiffly and allow a large supply to accumulate, when, should the demand not prove as heavy as anticipated, a much heavier reduction would have to be made. White pine has been in good demand, both for home use and shipment, and with a supply about equalling the wants of buyers, prices remain steady at, say, $28.00@$32.00 for the most desirable grades. Eastern Hemlock is quoted at about $16.00 per M, but meets with very little attention owing to the irregularity of size, dealers generally giving the stock received via the North River the preference, as being better adapted to piling and handling. Western White Oak has become quite scarce, is in very good demand, and generally held with great firmness at 45@46c. per cubic foot. For piling we note a fair inquiry at unchanged rates, the figures standing at about 6½@7½ per foot; and very good, say 12 inches inside of bark, and at least 40 feet long, will sometimes bring 8c. Southern pine continues in request, but with no supply of consequence on hand, business is light, and prices to a great extent nominal. Dealers refuse to make any contracts below $35.00, and few even at that figure, the ruling rates at the mills, and extravagant freight charges, entirely consuming profits. Pitch pine timber was last week quoted too low, the actual value standing at about 40@45c. per foot. For export there appears to be a more general demand, and at market rates quite a fair business has been done. The principal sales during the past week embrace 1,250,000 eastern spruce at $21.00@$22.50, mostly $21.50@$22.00; about 2,000,000 feet one inch white pine for home use, mostly to box makers, at $22 for culls, $23.00@28.00 for fair to good, and $32.00 for prime; 1,000,000 feet for shipment at $30.00 @$31.00 for box boards; $35.00 for shelving; and $60.00 @$62.00 for good stuff; and 700,000 feet resawed Southern pine at a price, adding commissions, equal to $42.00 per M.

We also notice shipments to Bremen of 57 logs black walnut, to Liverpool 235 logs hickory, to Canary Islands 4,000 feet spruce rafts and 50 spars, and to New Granada 20 spruce sticks. At other points the latest shipments reported are as follows: from Baltimore to Rio Janeiro 280,000 feet lumber, to Cuba 88,000 feet lumber, and 45,000 staves to West Indies. From Savannah to Liverpool, 871 logs and 2,100,930 feet pitch pine timber, and 590,130 feet lumber. From Portland to Cuba, 259,113 feet lumber and 783 Cedar sleepers. The shipments of staves from this port included 7,000 to Great Britain, and 263,520 to Spain.

The following interesting particulars of the Albany Lumber Trade we obtain from the Argus of the 19th inst:

Persons riding along the New York Central Railway, and the Rensselaer and Saratoga Railway, and upon the steamers on Lake Champlain, cannot fail to notice the great number of boats bound eastward and southward, loaded with lumber. Crafts of this description form a very large portion of the extensive business transacted on these important water channels. Nearly all of these boats are destined for Albany; and their cargoes are deposited in the locality known as the "Lumber District."

Albany has long been one of the most important lumber markets in the world, and in view of this fact, it is gratifying that such good natural advantages are afforded for the prosecution of the business. The narrow space between the river and the Erie Canal, from the weigh lock to lock No. 2, a distance of nearly a mile and a half, is now devoted to this branch of trade. Within the space referred to, forty slips are constructed, leading from the canal toward the river, leaving ground sufficient on either side for piling the lumber and for the construction of roads convenient for carting the same a few rods to the river dock, where it is loaded upon vessels to be shipped to any point desired.

Some idea of the increase in this branch of business may be gathered from the fact that five new slips, eight hundred feet in length, have been constructed and brought into use during the last winter and spring. These improvements alone have involved an outlay of about one hundred thousand dollars. In order to accommodate the business of this locality, the Albany and Troy Horse Railroad Company have constructed a branch road leading from Broadway through the whole length of the district, and the company find the enterprise to be among their best paying investments.

The quantity of all descriptions of lumber received this season will reach in round numbers one hundred million feet, and just about that quantity has been sold and shipped to distant ports. The quantity that will probably be received and sold during the business season will not vary much from four hundred million feet. All of this vast amount of lumber, with the exception of portions of spruce and hemlock, is brought from Canada and the West. About two-thirds of all the pine comes from the Canada forests, and about half of all the pine that reaches tidewater, comes by way of Lake Champlain and the Champlain canal.

The pine lumber growth in this State is almost entirely exhausted, and our native forests furnish now little besides spruce and hemlock. Most of this class of lumber also comes by way of the Champlain canal, and is mainly cleared from Clinton, Essex and Warren counties.

With the growth of cities and villages, the demand for lumber increases, while the supply of the best material is constantly decreasing. But the supply must be met at whatever cost. This accounts in part for the rise of about 33 per cent. in the price of lumber during the past five years.

A visitor at the district will see almost any day vessels loading at the wharf for New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Norfolk, Washington, Newark, New Haven, Providence, Bridgeport, Newport, etc., etc. Lumber is shipped from this point to all ports along the coast of the Southern States, Long Island Sound, and on the rivers leading from the same.

The lumber dealers have always justly been counted among our most enterprising, honorable, and successful business men. As their extensive trade is carried on outside of the busy limits of the city, but comparatively few of our citizens have an idea of its magnitude and importance, although their business transactions amount in the aggregate to twelve or fifteen million dollars a year.

The following is a list of the wholesale lumber dealers who have offices for the transaction of business in the Lumber District:

C. & D. Whitney, Jr., & Co., Smith & Craig, Jones & Co., Nichols & Birch, J. Benedict & Son, Dunham, Green & Co., W. H. Weaver & Co., J. O. Towner & Co.; Clark, Sumner & Co., Stimson & Henry, Silliman & Co., H. W. Sage & Co.; Sage, McGraw & Co., W. H. Gratwick & Co., L. Thomson & Co., C. P. Easton, J. B. Kelley & Co., Arnold, Folsom & Co., B. A. Towner & Son, W. H. Ross & Sons, S. C. Crocker & Co., Sumner & Hascy, Romaine & Co., Birdsall, Fassett & Co., Norton & Co., E. Dunscomb, Van Rensselaer & Earl, H. Q. Hawley & Co., Planing Mill; Mead, Dunham & Co., Thomas & Hyatt, Jno. Douglas & Sons, Salisbury & Co., White & Co., W. H. Bloomingdale; Nelson, Rogers & Co., Rodney Vose, W. M. Bender & Co., Gilbert Hunter, C. Warren & Co., S. & G. Rork, Planing Mill.

In addition to the members of the several firms, and the bookkeepers necessarily employed, between four and five hundred laborers are kept constantly at work loading and unloading lumber.

Through the enterprise of the business men engaged there, the "District" is supplied with many conveniences and safeguards. A good supply of water is furnished the whole District from the city pipes, with hydrants in every second yard, and three hose carts, in case of a fire. The Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company have an office on the grounds, affording increased business facilities. A well-conducted Restaurant is under the direction of B. & D. A. Ronan. The lumber dealers, assisted by the late Gen. Van Rensselaer, erected a Mission Chapel on the grounds this Spring, at a cost of about $3,000, in which there are religious services every Sabbath.

Those of our citizens who have overlooked this extensive branch of business, will find it agreeable to spend an hour in looking through the "Lumber District."

The Chicago market, according to latest advices at hand, was without new features of interest. The receipts continued quite liberal, but a good steady demand for all kinds prevented any great accumulation of stock, and prices generally were well sustained. We quote as follows, by the cargo: Boards and strips, good mill-run, at $15.00 @16. Fair strips and mixed at $13.50@14, and coarse to fair mixed alone at $12@13.75, a few very common at $11.50. The figures realized on scantling and joist were $12. "A" sawed shingles brought $3.50@3.75, and lath $2.25@$2.50. Hard wood lumber quoted at $40@$45 for black walnut; $30@40 for cherry; $20@25 for hickory; $20@23 for ash; and $18@$22 for ordinary oak. At the yards trade was quite brisk, not only with local dealers, but upon country orders. Prices unchanged, but firm as follows:

The Milwaukie market was steady, but trade not unusually brisk, according to the Sentinel, of a recent date which says:

"The lumber market is moderately active. From previous large arrivals on contract and otherwise, dockage has become extremely scarce, and several days of good weather must intervene before sales can become brisk. We note sales:

"Barque G. L. Newman, 200m Menominee, ⅔ strips and boards, balance mixed, $13.75.

"Scow Maple Leaf, Muskegon, 76m strips, boards and mixed, $14.50.

"Scow Sunshine, Manistee, 75m common mixed $12.

"Scow Geo. Neville, White Lake, 48m coarse and common mixed, $11."

The yard rates were firm and still quoted as follows:

Clear Plank, $49@51; Second Clear Plank, $45@48; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box), $30; Second Flooring, dressed, $40; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $16; Fencing, $16; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $15.00@16; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6@6.50; Shingles, best sawed, $4.25 @4.50; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

The St. Paul prices are unchanged, and repeat former quotations, viz:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards; $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 18 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.; $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

A recent report on the St. Louis market says:

"The whole stock of lumber for sale on the bank of the river was nearly all closed out the last week. 1,000,000 feet of fair Wisconsin river being sold at $22, the balance being on private terms. Arrivals of lath and shingles are fair, and selling readily at $3.50 for the former, and $4.50@$4.60 for a prime article of the latter. Reports from the upper country and the lakes indicate large sales at reduced rates. The recent rains that have visited the lumber producing districts will materially add to the crop of logs, and the fear entertained at one time that one-half the crop would have to lay over for another season has been entirely dissipated; yet it is certain the country is prepared to buy and consume all that comes forward at reasonable figures. Southern yellow pine in steady demand, with sales on the levee of 115,000 at $25.50@$26 ₰ M."

There was a good fair trade doing at Minneapolis, and dealers in most cases insisting upon full previous rates. A recent report says:

"Messrs. Farnham & Lovejoy, of St. Anthony, start an immense raft for St. Louis, to day. It contains seventeen strings, 100,000 feet in each string, or a total of 1,700,000 feet, with a top load of 1,000,000 laths and shingles. It is the largest raft that has ever been made up at the Falls."

An exchange remarks:

"J. C. Read's saw mill at Frontenac (Minn.), is sawing about 12,000 feet of lumber daily. A fine planing mill is attached, and we are glad to chronicle the successful operation of any branch of mechanics in this new country. Mr. Nelson has a contract for furnishing the mill with 1,000,000 feet of logs from among those strewed along the lake shore, of which 850,000 feet have already been delivered."

The Stillwater Republican states that in the two weeks preceding the 9th, twenty-one rafts went forward containing 10,500,000 feet. There have been sales of 13,000,000 feet more.

From Detroit we hear of nothing particularly new, the demand and supply being about balanced, and prices in most cases steady at $40.00@45.00 for Clear, $16.00 @18.00 for Boards, $8.00@10.00 for culls, $26.00@28.00 for common flooring; $35.00@$40.00 for dressed do.; $20.00 @$30.00 for long joist; $10.00@$11.00 for short joist and scantling; $20.00@$45.00 for bill stuff, and $35.00 for deck plank.

The Toledo market is steady, with a fair trade doing. The quotations still stand as follows:

ROUGH LUMBER.—Clear, $50; Second Clear, $45; Box $40; Stock Boards $20@$22; Common Boards, $16; Cull Boards, $11; Fencing, $17; Cull Fencing, $11; Common Strips, $30; Clear and Second Strips, $45; Joists, Scantling and Timber, 18 feet and under, $16; do. DRESSED LUMBER.—Clear and Second Flooring, $40; Common Flooring, $30; Common Siding, $17; Clear and Second Siding, $25; Stock Boards, $24; Common Boards, $18; Oval Batts, $35.

The Toledo Blade of recent issue says:

"A fleet of seven lumber barges arrived at this port yesterday, bringing cargoes which aggregate 1,351,000 feet of lumber, and over half a million lath."

The Blade also reports as follows:

"There are now forty-four barges employed in the lumber trade between Saginaw and Lake Erie ports. Of this number twenty-four have visited this city during the present season with one or two loads, while ten have run regularly since the opening of navigation. The aggregate capacity of this large fleet is 15,500,000 feet. The largest of these barges is the Empire—the hull of the steamer by that name, which formerly ran on the Michigan Southern Railroad line between this city and Buffalo; she carries about 1,000,000 feet.

There was not quotable change at Cincinnati, and we repeat former figures on river lumber as follows:

Clear per M $62@$64; first, second, and third common $45@$18 per M; first and second common floor- $60@$42 per M; first partition $63@$65; first and second class weather boards $27@$20 per M; pine joist and scantling $32 50@$35 per M: and hemlock do. do., $22 50@25 do. Lake lumber was offered a trifle lower. Hard green lumber continued dull, at about as follows: Oak $17@ $20 per M: Ash $20@$25 per M; Cherry $29@$30 do; Walnut $25@$30 do.; and Popar $22@23.

At Cleveland the market was active and firm, at the following figures:

A letter to the Springfield Republican says:

"At Clinton, Iowa, I saw a curiosity—a saw-mill that is a saw-mill—the largest but one, perhaps, in the United States. The main building was 150x110 feet. The engine a splendid upright of 900 horse power, with a smoke stack 154 feet high. It now employs 800 men, but could keep 1,000 at work. It cost $180,000. There are other large mills here also, and last year this little city of 4,000 people sent out on the Northwestern and Union Pacific Railroads sixty million feet of lumber."

The Eastern markets continue steady, as a general thing fairly active, particularly for goods on the spot and in condition to be handled immediately. At the shipping ports trade was looking up somewhat, but with no change in values. Vessels are reported as more plenty, and though, as yet, without reduction in freight charges, it is thought, that tonnage will now increase, and cost of transportation have rather a downward course.

Seventy-five cargoes of lumber have left Calais, Maine, in one week this season,—the heaviest shipment ever made.

A few days since, in Bangor, Surveyor Gardner Bragdon, with his crew of four men, overhauled and surveyed 143,500 feet of random and dimension spruce, 87,000 feet of which was done in five and three-fourths hours. This day's work is the largest ever done in the Bangor docks by one crew.

The Portland prices current remained as before, and we still quote as follows:

The Boston market is reported as follows:

"The surveys in this district for the past week comprise twenty-seven cargoes of domestic, containing 1,785,727 feet, and ten cargoes from the Provinces, containing 540,515 feet—making a total of 2,326,242 feet.

Besides the amount surveyed in this district, there are received here about one million feet a week from Canada that has been surveyed elsewhere. The stock of dry Canada has been much reduced, and there is very little now in first hands. There is no falling off in business in this market, and the receipts go into consumption nearly as fast as received. Manufacturers are busy and have not yet been able to fill orders received early in the season, and the demand is sufficiently large to leave no surplus of logs at the mills. Prices remain unchanged, and present rates are likely to be firmly maintained."

The general quotations were without important fluctuation, and we still annex the following figures:

Western Lumber.—Michigan Pine, Nos. 1 and 2, $63@ $66; No. 3, $50@55; No. 4, $40@45. Black Walnut, Nos. 1 and 2, $70@75; do. do. Culls, $35@40. Ash, Nos. 1 and 2, $48@50; do. Culls, $30@35. The St. Johns (N. B.), Prices Current of June 13th reports as follows:

There is very little doing in West India freights. We hear of the following charters: Ivanhoe, 358, Cardenas, $7 25; H. B. Emery, 271, Cienfuegos, $8.

Coastwise freights are about the same as last week. The following transactions are reported; Arizona, 125, $4 50; Albatross, 173, $4 50; Nevita, 119, $4.37½—all for Boston; Warren Blake, 197, Philadelphia, laths, $1 20; Halitia, 80, Providence, $5 50; Earnest, 79, Impudence, 117, and Gold Hunter, 104—all, Fredericton to Providence, 75c. for shingles.

From the Southern markets we have nothing fresh this week, prices remaining stiff at all points, and the amount of merchantable stock offering being very small. A scarcity of funds prevents many mills from carrying on trade with freedom, and at points where money is more plenty, only a few logs are offering. In a few cases stock has slightly accumulated owing to the continued absence of vessels, but holders were confident and refused to accept a concession for the sake of realizing. At Savannah the latest quotations were as follows: $7@$10 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$13 for small shipping do., and $14@$18 for large do. Lumber $20@$22 for ordinary sizes; 125@$30 for difficult sizes, and $22@$24 for flooring.

Charleston prices were as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00@ $30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling; $24.00@25.00 per M.; River lumber, $12.00@15.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6.00@8 00; and shipping $11.00@12.00; the supply of the latter small.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to June, 18, 1868, were 11,841,461 feet of lumber, of which 1,346,939 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 10,494,522 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,587,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,578,702 to Philadelphia; 1,484,420 to Baltimore; 123,743 to Boston; 1,243,824 to Rhode Island, and 476,395 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington the mills were still running freely on orders, and the market had a healthy strong tone, the closing rates being as follows:

The Baltimore market is spoken of as follows:

"The trade this week has been quite active, especially so in the retail line, and prices have fully maintained previous quotations, notwithstanding that the receipts have been larger than during any previous week this season. The kinds and qualities of the receipts have been varied, giving a good assortment in first hands to sell from. First class standard brands of Cypress Shingles are sought for, leaving second rate brands to go off slowly. Good Southern Pine flooring is in good request."

METALS.—Copper sheeting has become very dull, and the market is without tone, though manufacturers continue to insist upon 18@20c. for old, and 33 currency for new. Scotch Pig Iron is selling very slowly, and prices are somewhat easier, closing rather in buyers' favor, at $38@41 per ton. For No. 1 American there is a good demand; the supply is small and prices stronger at $38@39 per ton, but No. 2 is neglected and weak at $34@35. Forge is quoted at $31@33. Pig lead is not inquired after, and prices unsettled, at 6¼@6½ and 6½@6¾c. for choice, good. Bar, Pipe, and Sheet unchanged. Tin plates have been in fair demand, and the general range of prices remains about as before, though on good brands we note a trifle more firmness. Zinc is still quoted at 12@18c. for Sheet, from store, but is only moderately active.

NAILS.—The demand for cut nails continues fair, both for home use and shipment, but the general market is without much life, and prices are lower, closing at 4¾ in large parcels, and 4⅞@5c. for 4d. and 6d., in job lots. Clinch are quiet and steady at 6¼@6¾c. For other styles there is about the usual trade, and figures are unchanged, closing as follows: Zinc nails, 18c.; yellow metal do., 26c.; and copper do., 40c. per lb. The exports for the week embrace 426 packages, valued at $7,035, against 800 packages, valued at $1,823 last week. There were shipped to San Francisco 220 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is a good steady city and country jobbing trade doing, and about former figures realized, but wholesale dealers generally refrain from operating, or confine themselves to the supply of immediate wants. Prime Ochre and Paris White are still rather scarce, and held pretty firmly. Dry leads are becoming quite plenty, and though no actual decline can be quoted, prices lack strength, there being more sellers than buyers. Glue is rather dull, the stock offering being soft and undesirable. City Linseed Oil has been in very fair demand, and sold at lower rates, but at the present writing is steady at our last figures, viz.: $1.10@1.12 in casks, from crushers' hands. English has sold lower, several parcels going off at $1.02@1.05. We note exports during the week of 195 packages of paint valued at $3,341.

PITCH.—There is no change of importance in this market, the supply and demand continuing about equal, and sellers steady at previous rates, viz.: $3.50 for City, and $3.62½@3.75 for good to prime Southern. Receipts for the week 147 bbls. Exports for the week 29 bbls.; since January 1st, 1,957 bbls., and for same period last year 2,674 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The arrivals have been moderate, and business in consequence rather light for parcels on the spot, the only sale reported being a cargo of blue at $4.00. A considerable quantity had been sold to arrive, however, and very few of the receipts for the coming two or three weeks will be offered for sale. We now quote at about $3.75@$4 for blue, and $4.50@$5 for white.

SLATE.—This market has become quite dull, and the majority of the yards have reduced their sales to a very few squares per day. The receipts in the meantime are liberal from all quarters, and the supply is rapidly increasing, but receivers do not feel alarmed, as it is thought that when the usual July demand commences all will readily find a market. Prices are sustained, and on some of the finest qualities show considerable strength. Nothing definitely settled in regard to miners' strike, but in some instances temporary compromises have been made in order to finish out contracts.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Under the influence of more liberal arrivals, prices have been rather weak, but a good steady home demand and a fair shipping trade prevents any great accumulation of stock, and no serious decline is quoted, in fact the market closes with rather a stronger tone. We quote at 45@46c. for wholesale parcels, and job sales at higher figures according to circumstances. Receipts for week 2,405 bbls. Exports for week 239 bbls.; since January 1st, 5,446 bbls.; and for same period last year 10,988 bbls.

STONE.—No decided change has as yet manifested itself, but there is less steadiness in the various styles of building stone, and agents appear anxious to fill all the contracts possible at ruling rates. At the moment a very good trade is doing, and stock does not accumulate with any rapidity.

TAR.—The receipts have been fair, but a continued active demand prevents any accumulation of stock, and we again note an improvement in prices, the market closing very strong particularly on the fine grades. The exports are not heavy, and the sales are principally of a local character, large quantities being used by the contractors for laying the wooden pavements. We now quote at $3 50@$4 for Washington; $4 50@$5 for Wilmington; and $5 25 for choice thin do. Receipts for week 1,680 bbls. Exports for week 557 bbls.; since January 1st, 5,950 bbls.; and for same period last year 2,674 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of June 23 reports as follows:

There has been a steady trade throughout the district during the week, with good receipts by the canals. Prices have undergone but little change. The only yielding we notice has been in spruce wall strips. There has been less seasoned lumber received—the receipts from Canada partaking largely of green lumber. The assortment is good, but the stock does not increase; there is much less here than there was at the opening of the river, and far less than on the coming in of the first receipts by canal. The market at the close was very steady, with a good attendance of buyers, who freely met the views of holders on the current rates of the market.

The aggregate increase of lumber for the season is, it will be seen, nearly doubled that of last year to this date. Some deduction ought to be made from these figures to cover what was kept on the canals last winter and delivered here late in April and early in May. But these receipts were not so large as the trade generally suppose, being from both canals less than 11,000,000 feet prior to May 15th. In fact, we stated in May 12th, that the deliveries here of lumber shipped last season cover about 4,500,000 feet. The truth, we suspect, is that the business of the district has been much in excess of the opinions formerly held by the trade.

The receivers of coarse lumber are looking for a falling off in the receipts by the Champlain canal. Last year we had nothing by the Champlain until between May 30th and June 6th, and its navigation was much interrupted early in June.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending 20th, were 34,881,000 feet, against 32,352,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 288,825,000 feet, against 223,516,000 feet in 1867—an increase so far this year of 65,300,000 feet. Quotations are published, unchanged.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 22d, were: against 16,730,700 for the week previous.

Oswego	11,495,400 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Oswego Canals for the third week of June, were:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	21,441,300	8,557	.....	1,810,000
1867	20,124,300	639	.....	900,000

Of the Boards and Scantling received, 12,563,000 feet were by the Erie, and 6,878,300 feet were by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to June 22d were:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	105,064,000	11,135	41,973	9,712,100
1867	57,997,100	3,330	.....	9,010,900

ZINC.—DUTY: Sheet, 3¾c. ℔ lb.

Sheet, ℔ lb	12	@	13

A MOST valuable map of the city of New York, showing the streets, avenues, roads, public squares, and places laid out, established, widened, and retained, the new pier and bulkhead lines laid out and established by the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, extending from 59th to 155th street, has been compiled and issued by Otto Sackersdorff, Map Clerk of the Street Department and City Surveyor.

It is very conveniently arranged and handsomely executed, and from the fact that it is compiled from official documents, renders it reliable and perfectly accurate.

It will be found invaluable to lawyers, real estate dealers, architects and builders, and others. The price is $5.

THE event of the week in building circles has been the strike of the bricklayers for eight, instead of ten, hours' work per day. We give a report of the facts in our news columns; and have only to say here, that we regret this collision. It will check building, cause contractors to fail, dissipate the means of the workmen, and keep up the market price of houses —all of which are misfortunes.

SHREWD capitalists are laying out villages all around New York, wherever there is access by railroad from the city. This is wise policy. The next ten years will witness an enormous growth of suburban towns. Railroad facilities are getting better and better, and, we wish we could add, cheaper and cheaper.

However, this also will come in time. There may be some doubt as to the wisdom of buying improved real estate, at present prices, but there cannot be any doubt that unimproved property will largely advance in value.

As the owners of property in Broadway between Union Square and 35th street very generally object to the widening of that thoroughfare, it has been suggested that perhaps it would be well to leave that section of our great avenue alone, and widen it above this street to the Park. This compromise is one very likely to be carried out. The committee meetings of the Common Council have not amounted to anything, nor are they likely to, as the legislature will, after all, be the authority to order any change. One thing is very certain, we must have another approach from down town to the Park. Fifth avenue now is gorged, and the Eighth avenue entrance must be a fine one.

CONTRACTORS can find in another column a list of sewers authorized to be made by the Croton Board, and the facts necessary to enable them to make out proposals for the same.

In one of our late issues we published amongst other judgments, quite a number recovered by the Superintendent of Buildings against delinquent owners of unsafe houses, who by their defiance of the wise provisions of the law, rendered it necessary to take them before the Courts. Mr. Macgregor declares it his intention to follow this course in all such cases, and he may rest assured of receiving the thanks of all classes of citizens, in his endeavor to protect them from the dangers of rickety houses.

The Chicago bricklayers have resumed work at five dollars a day.

ARCADIAN VILLAGES.

THE simplicity of a "lovely Auburn," of which Goldsmith so tenderly wrote, has been resuscitated even in this, our age, at the village of Vineland, New Jersey, where a settlement has been formed upon the most primitive principles of municipal virtue. According to newspaper accounts, a phenomenal settlement has recently been formed at this place, which attempts to emulate in virtue and surpass in enterprise some of those unsophisticated villages on the banks of the St. Lawrence, where the inhabitants live the peaceful lives of a community far removed from the vices, frivolities, and ambitions of great capitals. This infant town is not yet even in its teens, for only eight years ago it was a barren wilderness. At that period Mr. C. K. Landis bought some forty-eight square miles of pine wilderness, and proceeded immediately to locate a colony upon it under peculiar, though beneficial restrictions, some of which are as follows: No settler may purchase more than twenty acres of land, though, generally, not more than from five to ten is owned by one man, and all who purchase are obliged by contract to erect a house within a year before receiving the title deeds. This prevents speculation and increases population. One of the regulations prohibits the erection of fences, and enjoins that each house be placed twenty-five feet back from the road, the side-walk of which is to be grassed and lined with trees. Each dwelling is embowered in orchards of fruit trees, which rise amidst gardens of vegetables, small fruits, and flowers. In fact, among this community of eleven thousand people, there is no great affluence nor any squalid poverty, everybody being comfortably off, because no bad influences are allowed to operate, in the way of rum shops, &c. To carry out these ideas for any great length of time, among a large population, would be Utopian; but yet the idea in the main points is good, and deserving of imitation. For example, if some of those gentlemen who have recently invested largely in suburban property, were to enforce compulsory improvements before a delivery of the title deeds, less land would be held on mere speculation, and more settled on, thereby conducing to the general value of the property. This idea has certainly been partially adopted in some of the recent large sales in New Jersey, where land was offered at a nominal value, provided the purchaser would erect thereon, before the year, a villa, the value of which was not to be less than $3,000; but then there were no laws insuring a freedom from nuisances of all sorts. One good feature, also, is the prohibition of fences, which are at best but expensive nuisances, that detract from the beauty of the landscape; and as domestic animals, such as cows, poultry, and pigs, should be penned up and not allowed to roam at large, they are not by any means indispensable.

This novel idea in the location of settlements might be carried out to great advantage in many of those suburban towns which are being laid out all around the city, by merely inserting clauses in the title deeds similar to these given at Vineland. Should there be a bridge over the East or North River, it would be easily possible to locate advantageously a square mile of territory upon the railroads over such a bridge on the same principle as Vineland, where every advantage of a respectable society and the absence of a city's evils would be insured. A general arrangement of this kind would prevent many of the evils that arise from locating towns in unhealthy localities, such as one may see at the back of Hoboken and Jersey City, where houses have been erected in a reeking swamp, where they should never have existed had there been some forecast shown by those who originated and laid out their sites. The time is coming when sanitary science will be brought into play in the foundation of towns and cities.

THE Corportion Counsel has been requested to give his opinion as to the legality of the acts of the Board of Councilmen during the year 1868.

It is generally regarded as a plain principle of law, that an act is constitutional until it is declared unconstitutional, and so it must be in this case. To declare the acts passed since January 1, 1868, by the Common Council illegal, would involve the city, as well as individuals, in unnecessary litigation; and surely we have had enough of expense arising from this and similar legislative "muddles." It is a sad commentary upon our system of government and our laws, and expensive, too, withal. It is naturally, though it may be impertinently, asked, when will we have an end of this special legislation, which gives rise to so much question about the right, and so much litigation and expense? It would seem that our legitimate expense were heavy enough without having to bear the expense of determining whether every other law on our statute book affecting the government of our city is constitutional or not.

If the principle on which this act extending the terms of office of the Councilmen is deemed unconstitutional, viz., that every act of the Legislature should be expressed in its title, and this was surreptitiously inserted in the Tax Levy, the Board of the previous year must also have been an unconstitutional one, inasmuch as it was created and existed under a provision of a section of the Levy for that year. Not until the people elect men to the Legislature who can have some knowledge of the effect of laws, and how to frame them so as to avoid constitutional questions arising out of them, and not until some deference and obedience to a Constitution and Law can be observed by our Legislators, can we expect to see such a change as will secure to us immunity from such conflicting acts as these of which this Councilmanic muddle is a notable instance. Verbum sapienti sufficit, speramus.

BUY A LOT.

IT is pleasant to notice that the same impulse (or instinct, is it?) which induces the wealthy to invest their savings in real estate, is also operating among the comparatively poor, who, by means of coöperative land associations and other agencies, are getting possession of lots and houses upon which to found permanent homes. The horse-car railway system, by which population can spread over tolerably wide areas cheaply and with expedition, has put cheap land within reach of the poor; and the latter have not been slow to avail themselves of the chance to secure at least the beginning of a home.

This is at once a conservative and reforming tendency in the life of our large cities. So long as the poor voter is homeless, or a mere tenant, he cares but little for the kind of municipal officers he selects; but, once he has a stake in the community, he will see to it that he does not vote for Councilmen or Legislators who will raise his taxes or otherwise rob him.

A home of his own gives a man self-respect, and adds to his value in the household, society, and the nation.

Employers should foster this disposition among their workmen to secure homes of their own. A mechanic will not vote against the interests of capital when he is himself a capitalist in a small way. Hence, encouragement should be given to the new towns which far-seeing real estate operators are locating all around New York city. As our railway system extends, population will be thrown out to greater and still greater distances; and an investor can scarcely miss it who invests his few hundreds of dollars anywhere within twenty miles of our City Hall.

ABOUT REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS.

THERE is sound sense in the following, which we clip from the Newark Advertiser:

"Three years ago the executor who invested the money of the heirs entrusted to his charge in the stock of the Adams, the American, or the United States Express Companies, would have been considered a judicious financier. But when a business is peculiarly prosperous, it is sure to meet with competition. A stock really worth twice the face of it, is destined to a struggle with some other corporation, anxious to divide such a source of wealth. And so it happens that the Express stock, worth two hundred, three years ago, can now be bought for fifty. In other words, it is not a real estate. It is contingent on a thousand chances. Real capital is likely to seek investment in real estate. When a man has money, not needed to carry his business, he testifies at once to his wealth and his sagacity by purchasing lands. In Europe, the proprietorship of a home is one of the conditions of respectability. In this country, it is becoming more and more a condition of social standing. But beyond that, and simply from the motive of self-preservation, capital is inclined to seek safety in real estate. In the long run the holder of real estate is the most secure. The shrewdest business men testify to this in their action. The Astor estate has grown to gigantic proportions by the simple accretion of its rents. A. T. Stewart, the sharpest trader in the country, a man ready to take all chances, has a solid real property which would carry him through the most severe financial crisis. His acre-and-a-half of store on the corner of Tenth street is only a fraction of the lands and houses which he owns. Vanderbilt, an apparently reckless railway operator, has also an anchor to windward, in the shape of real estate. Everywhere, especially in the neighborhood of New York, the tendency of capital is toward the erection of buildings. Tenants, who see the rapid increase in the number of residences, beguile themselves with the belief that rents will be cheaper next year. But a fair look at the whole field does not warrant that belief. Looking upon New York and it senvirons as practically a unit, and appreciating the fact that a dwelling in New York, taken up for business purposes, necessitates the erection of another dwelling in Newark, or elsewhere, we can see that there is not likely to be any excess of tenements for some years to come."

All this is to the point. The great fortunes of this or any other country are always those which have a basis in real property—that is land. Only three per cent. of the mercantile class escape failure, while nine-tenths of those who invest their spare means in land die, if not rich, then comfortable and well-to-do.

THE bricklayers have published a card defending their strike, and responding to the charges contained in the published appeal of the master masons. The men cut a very poor figure in this document. Its style and temper are execrable, and it has damaged their case with the public far more than the masters' appeal had done. These men, of course, have some reason satisfactory to themselves for the course they have taken, and it is a real misfortune for them that they cannot state it in a plain, straightforward manner.

It is quite time that masters and men both, in this country, should try and do what has in some instances been effectually accomplished in England and Scotland—that is, establish courts of conciliation for the stoppage of strikes. A little common sense and a spirit of compromise would prevent much loss to the employers and great waste and suffering to the men. Who will commence this good work?

NOTWITHSTANDING the number of vacant houses, lower rents, and lower prices, there were never so many houses going up all over the country as there are to-day. Doubtless these are the results of contracts made during the house-famine of the last two years, but it must end in disappointment to thousands of projectors and builders. But the community will be benefited in the end. We cannot have too many houses. The country is filling up rapidly, and the demand for residences will always be greater than the supply, though there may be a few dull and profitless years occasionally. So, up with the houses.

ALL the measures before Congress which hadin view the further inflation of the currency having failed, it settles the question, that there can be no further advance in the cost of houses. Neither labor nor materials will cost any more than they do now; indeed we are tolerably well satisfied that the present price of labor cannot be maintained. As this has been the chief cause of the high figures for which improved property is held, we look for lower rates next fall. It is the concurrent opinion of all whose judgment is worth anything, that the present price of real property cannot be maintained. All who wish to sell should try and do so at once.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

After the feverish excitement of the past six months, there is a general disposition manifest among those interested in real estate to enjoy the hot weather away from the suffocating atmosphere of the offices and Exchange Salesrooms. The contemplated improvements in every part of the city, especially in the method of travel, are now being urged forward with more vigor, as a more numerous class of people have become real estate owners, who formerly regarded all public undertakings with an eye of apathy. The Elevated Railroad in Greenwich street had a trial trip with satisfactory results, but still there is a feeling that it comes far short of answering the present demands for more supplied and increased travel. New York city is still, if the simile be allowable, in the blossom; but there can be no doubt of its speedily budding before efflorescing into the greatest capital in the world, as the present period is replete with projects for its advancement.

GOSSIP.

Lake & McCreery, the well-known dry-goods merchants, have purchased the property on the northwest corner of Broadway and Eleventh st., with a front of 77 feet on Broadway, by 222 feet on Eleventh st., and, under the supervision of Mr. John Kellum, Architect, are about to erect a magnificent iron building for their retail business. They expect to have it completed and ready for occupation next spring. Sagacious New Jersey real estate speculators presaged, three months ago, that the land mania was dead, and that money held was better than land. The events of this month show their mistake.

SALES.

The chief feature of the week's sales has been the universal interest manifested in villa sites, and sagacious speculators are mortgaging city property in order to make certain of purchasing desirable country property, which, as it costs less to build upon than city, is eagerly sought for. The land mania grows apace, and the long pent-up flood of city-life is swiftly breaking over old barriers, and diffusing itself in every direction, as all points of the compass offer special attractions. The bold mountain scenery of Westchester County, the placid domestic beauty of New Jersey's plains, or Long Island's "sea-girt shore," offer every variety—to suit all tastes—to say nothing of Brooklyn's cheap lots and Prospect Park property. The National Anniversary and the Democratic Convention have, of course, a dull effect on the real estate market; and as May and June, the two pleasanter summer months for New York life are now over, we shall not probably have such lively times until after the November elections. The following are the particulars of the week's sales.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24.—LONG ISLAND PROPERTY.—By JAS. M. MILLER.—Six lots on Jackson av., corner of West st., bought by Mr. Winhill, $419 each. Six lots on the corner of West st. and Jackson av., opposite above, bought by Mr. Smith, $418 each. Five lots adjoining above, bought by Mr. Suydam, $420 each. Ten lots adjoining above, bought by Mr. Smith, $419 each. Two lots on the corner of Henry street and Jackson av., bought by Mr. Shelby, $420 each. Five lots adjoining above, each $110, purchased by Mr. Huber. Five lots adjoining above, each $420, purchased by Mr. Shelly. Five lots adjoining above, each $410, purchased by Mr. Suydam. Four lots adjoining above, each $420, purchased by Mr. Schmidt. Two lots on the corner of Jackson av. and Fourth st., each $410, purchased by Mr. Richardson. Six lots adjoining above, each $408, purchased by Mr. Windship. One lot on Fourth st., adjoining above, $300, purchased by Mr. Richards. Twelve lots adjoining above, each $290, purchased by Mr. Smith.—BROOKLYN PROPERTY.—By JAMES COLE'S SONS.—Two-story frame house and lot, No. 99 Water st., purchased by Mr. Hall, $2,850. Two-story frame house and lot on the west side of Tompkins av., 75 feet north of Park avenue, purchased by Capt. Olmstead, $4,400. Three-story brick house and lot on the n. w. corner of Wyckoff and Carlton aves., purchased by Josh H. Billings, $9,800. Three-story brick house and lot adjoining the above, purchased by Mr. Scelly, $5,800. Lease of four lots on Classon av. and Quincy st., purchased by Alex. Simpson, $2,050.—PLAINFIELD, N. J.—By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—About 800 persons attended the sale. On the grounds were a quantity of fine fruit trees. The plots are about 60 by 225 feet deep. In addition to the plots was a homestead, comprising about 12 acres, with a great variety of the choicest fruit, beautiful lawn, and shade trees. The homestead brought $13,000, and was considered a good bargain. The block, containing about five plots, each averaged from $82 to $175.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25—BY JOSEPH MAGUIRE.—House and lot, 25x103.3 feet, on the south side of Sixteenth st., 152 ft. east from Irving place, for $20,550, to G. C. Higgins.—NEW JERSEY PROPERTY.—Lake View, near Paterson, comprising over 3,000 city lots. The ground is laid out in villa sites and village lots, and comprises over 3,000 city lots, on the line of Erie Railroad, and but 14 miles from this city; is 100 feet above tide water, and unsurpassed for situation or view by any property for building sites in the neighborhood. A large company attended the sale, for whose comfort the auctioneers, the Messrs. A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co., made every provision. The entire offering was not disposed of; but enough was sold to indicate that lands along the line of the Erie Railroad and convenient to this city are advancing in price. The average was from $50 to $75 per plot.

FRIDAY, JUNE 26.—BY JOSEPH MCQUIRE—No. 1,270 Broadway, on the east side, between Thirty-Second and Thirty-Third sts., 27 feet front, 17 feet rear by 86.8 feet deep, purchased by B. Smith, for $52,400. No. 58 West Thirty-third st., 98.4 feet east of Broadway, 27.11 feet front by 71.6 deep, sold for $31,000 to M. Blember.—CLASSON'S POINT PROPERTY.—BY A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—This property is in Westchester county, and the lots contain from 1½ to 33 acres each, and are only 19½ miles from the City Hall. The average price brought per acre was about $400, although some of it ran as high $3,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—Nearly all grades of hard brick are somewhat lower than at the date of our last report, but at the reduction we note a more steady and uniform feeling. The city trade does not improve; in fact, is at an almost complete standstill; but from the near-by towns and villages, the demand is very good, and receivers manage to keep pretty busy in supplying this outlet. At the yards up the river, the production is progressing to a very fair extent, but manufacturers do not forward their stock with freedom, fearful of overstocking our market, and as a consequence, causing a much heavier break in prices. The supply now here is, therefore, comparatively light, and does not accumulate with as much rapidity as last week; but when building is again resumed, and the inquiry increases, enough can be brought down to meet all wants, and prevent any material reaction in prices. The current rates at the present writing are about $11.00@12.00 for North River, with some of the poorest lots at $10.00; $9.00@$11.00 for Jersey and Long Island; and $8.00@$9.00 for pale. A few cargoes of very fine bricks have been received, but we still hear complaints to the effect that the general run is below the usual standard. Fronts are still nominally unchanged in the absence of stock, but the first cargo of Crotons has made its appearance, and with anything like favorable weather, we may now look for an increase of supply from this time forward.

CEMENT.—The shipping demand continues very good, and some dealers are busily engaged in filling coastwise orders; but the local trade has become quite dull, and the supply rather accumulates. The price of Rosendale is still $1.75 per bbl., though we understand that a few small lots have been forced off at about $1.70 per bbl., and some very common a trifle lower. During the week 200 bbls. have been exported, and 50 sent to San Francisco.

FOREIGN WOODS.—We hear of nothing of special interest in this market, the wholesale trade being light, and only light offerings taking place at auction. The general range of prices is without important variation. The receipts are as follows: From Nuevitas 38 logscedar; from Mansanilla 210 logs do., and from Cedar Keys 1,300 logs do. The exports as follows: To Bremen 181 logs cedar, and to Liverpool 2,075 pieces satin wood.

GLASS.—There is a continued scarcity of many of the smaller sizes of French window glass, a few of the most desirable grades being entirely out of market, and with moderate arrivals, both present and prospective, there is no probability of any immediate increase. The effect upon prices, however, is not apparent, as the demand for all kinds has become reduced to a very small compass, and is confined principally to job orders from the city trade. American and English glass are moderately active, with no important alteration in the general range of figures. The latest imports are 3,978 packages, valued at $12,799, and 235 Glass Plate valued at $33,787.

HAIR.—Cattle hair is quite scarce, and though not selling very rapidly at the present time, dealers hold on to their stock with a firm and confident feeling. Mixed is offered in quantities about equal to the demand, and remains steady. Goat hair is in rather larger supply, but it is thought that all will be wanted, and full previous rates are insisted upon.

HARDWARE.—There is a fair, though not unusually active demand for the various kinds of builders' hardware, and with comparatively small stocks on hand, prices generally remain firm, the tendency, if anything, being rather buoyant on domestic goods, but imported articles are very dull and, to some extent, nominal. The factories, in most cases, are doing a good steady business, but there is an evident disposition to limit the production to just about actual necessities. Among the most recent changes, we note the advance of Japaned hat and coat-hooks to net list rates—an improvement of about 25 per cent.; Roggen's coat latches are now quoted at 58@60 c. per dozen, formerly selling at 50 cents; and common latches have been advanced from 25@30 per cent. discount from list, to about 30 per cent. discount. Mineral door-knobs are somewhat unsettled, and rates will probably be changed; but as yet the sales are at previous figures.

LABOR.—As we write, the strike on the part of the bricklayers continues, with no prospect of an immediate settlement. Employers in most cases seem determined to adhere to the resolutions adopted last week, and as they are supported by the larger capitalists, still feel confident of success, while the workmen are equally sure that they will sooner or later gain the point sought after, and the majority refuse to resume work except upon the eight hour system. In some instances speculators, and parties who have found it absolutely necessary to finish up jobs under contract, have employed the men at the hours and wages demanded, but the majority of Master Masons have not as yet conceded to the terms demanded, notwithstanding reports to the contrary. The result of very thorough inquiries leads us to the belief, that the general public do not favor the present movement of the bricklayers, and that the support from this quarter claimed by the strikers is to a great extent imaginary.

Various sums of money have been promised the men to aid them in carrying on the strike, to be sure, but from certain reports which have reached us, we are inclined to think that this will prove to be a card by which a few shrewd politicians hope to gain a controlling influence for the approaching election. A windy, ambiguous gasconade, purporting to be a reply to the statement of the employers, has been published over the signatures of a committee from the Bricklayers' Association. Nearly all the points at issue are evaded, and the writer or writers seek to make capital by very poor attempts at wit, and sneering allusions to trotting establishments, fine clothes, etc.

The result has been to still further widen the breach between employer and employed, while it certainly has not helped the cause of the workmen with the public, to whom they directly appeal. This is unfortunate, as anything of a conciliatory nature would undoubtedly have met with a like response from the "bosses," and an amicable adjustment of the difficulties taken place.

About the only points of the Mason's address to which the journeymen make any direct reply, are, first, the clause referring to the apprentice system. Here they say that if builders are not restricted in some manner, they will employ skilled workmen to do the cornice and other difficult portions of buildings, and boys to fill up, at much lower rates, and subsequently turn the said boys out, when the working season is over, half learned and incompetent journeymen. As this course has never been pursued by any respectable Mason in this city, the surmise as to what they would be likely to do is, to say the least, a lame excuse for the arbitrary rule in regard to apprentices. The second and only other point replied to, is that which states, should the present demands be acceded to, there was an understanding that after eight hours was established as a days' work, a strike for $5 was to be made. This the journeymen pronounce as "a bare fabrication of the blackest dye," or something of that sort, signifying it to be untrue; but we are assured by prominent Masons that such an understanding did exist, and it is only since the matter has been exposed that the Union has passed a resolution fixing the rate of wages at $4.50 until next spring. What this resolution is worth, however, can be judged if we mention the fact that when the employers agreed to the strike for $5 per day, some few weeks ago, it was positively promised by the workmen that this should be the rate for the balance of the season. It has been suggested that instead of hiring by the day, employers agree with the bricklayers upon a fixed rate per 1,000. The idea is certainly a good one, and seems the most likely way of settling the present difficulty. Something certainly should be done immediately, for not only are a great many branches of trade prostrated, but a large number of the strikers are sinking what little money they have laid up in order to "hold out." We hear of quite a number of bricklayers who, unwilling to lay idle, have gone to other cities, some even as far as Washington, where workmen are scarce; while a much larger number remain here willing and anxious to work at old rates, but are deterred from so doing by the fear of the wrath of the Protective (?) Union. The pernicious effects of these Unions are daily becoming more apparent, and a combined movement of all classes of employers should either break them up, by refusing to hire men connected therewith, or legislative action should so restrict and control their powers that a man desirous of earning an honest living could do so without asking any particular committee's permission.

At a recent meeting the Slateroofers adopted the following:

Resolved, That we, the Slateroofers of the State of New York, sympathize with the Bricklayers' Union in their effort to uphold the laws of the State. That we promise to aid them to the best of our ability, and call on them to fight it out at all hazards, and with all the just and lawful means at their command. A committee of three was appointed to draft a set of resolutions for the government of apprentices, after which the meeting adjourned.

The house-framers recently assembled at an up town "Hall," and the preliminary measures were taken to perfect an organization, with a view to a future demand for increased pay.

LATH.—A very good business has been carried on throughout the week, with no alteration to advise in prices. Buyers, generally, appear willing to operate at $3.00, and with pretty liberal arrivals, receivers have considered it the best policy to meet them, though nearly all declare it to be their intention to pile out cargoes for higher figures unless the above rate is obtained. There has been no retail trade to speak of, and jobbers are buying in view of a future demand. The sales foot up some 3,450,000 Eastern at 3.00 per M.

LIME.—A few cargoes of Rockland have dropped in from day to day since our last, until the aggregate arrivals for the week foot up pretty liberally, and as the demand is not brisk the stock rather accumulates. This has rendered receivers more anxious to realize, and there is a little pressure on the market. Common shows no important alteration from our last quoted rates, but lump is 25c. per bbl. lower, and now quoted at $2.00. Glens Falls lime is still quite plenty, and sympathizes with the downward tendency of Rockland.

LUMBER.—The general retail trade at the yards continues very fair, though probably less driving than during the past two or three weeks, and the majority of dealers are not looking for an active business until the Fall demand sets in. On Eastern Spruce stock there is no very important change to advise, though prices have rather less strength and are somewhat unsettled at the close. All Western and Northern lumber, however, remains quite firm, particularly on seasoned stock, which, though comparatively plenty here at the moment, is becoming scarce at Albany; and but little more, it is thought, will come through the canals. Black Walnut of anything like good quality, continues very firm, and it is difficult to induce holders of desirable parcels to name a figure at which they would sell, owing to the impression that they would be unable to restock themselves in season to meet the anticipated good autumn and winter trade. The amount of stock coming down the river is, in the aggregate, pretty large, but well distributed, and nearly all the yards are slowly filling up, with no very important accumulation at any one point. In cargoes of Eastern Spruce there has continued to be a very good trade doing, but at drooping prices, receivers, anxious to effect sales, frequently, and sometimes very unexpectedly, accepting bids, which buyers had thought to be too low to hope for any favorable response. In this way the market has gradually receded from day to day until we note a decline of from $2 to $3 per M, with the tendency still apparently towards a lower range. As we intimated last week a pretty large number of vessels have been quietly working down the coast, a large proportion with cargoes unsold; and all coming in together has so overstocked our market, as to give buyers all the advantage, and compel the concessions above referred to. The preference is still shown for cargoes on the spot, though at inside quotations there seems to be a little more disposition to operate. The rates as they now stand are about $18@20 for ordinary cargoes, though an extra bill would bring $20 50, and very desirable lengths, etc., $21 per M. White Pine continues in fair request, and has undergone no quotable change, though one or two small cargoes have been sold out considerably below the market, by parties somewhat afflicted with panic, owing to the downward tendency of Spruce. Eastern Hemlock has been in a trifle better demand though not by any means active, and though generally considered about as previously quoted, viz., $16 per M., it requires the very best assortment of lengths to realize this figure. Western White Oak is quiet, but firm; piling selling slowly and mostly in small odd lots, with no important variation in values, the general range standing at 6½@7½c. per foot, with an occasional lot of choice at 8c. Southern Pine has been more plenty, and as the demand continues good, has sold to a very fair extent at full former prices, viz., $33@35 per M., and closes stiff. The above figures refer almost entirely to Pitch Pine from the vicinity of Jacksonville, Fla., but are too low for the bona fide Yellow Pine from the forests of Georgia, which is particularly scarce, not only here, but South. The price current at nearly all the mills is $23@24 per M., and with no freight room to be engaged below $14, it will be seen at once at about what figure the New York market should stand in order to leave a margin for profit. Exporters are not eager operators, but there appears to be a fair shipping inquiry, and the amount going out is now nearer the average. Among the sales reported since our last we note 2,500,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $18@21 per M., with very few lots, and, mostly early in the week, at the outside figure; 150,000 feet Eastern Hemlock at $14@16; 250,000 feet White Pine box boards at $25@28; and 200,000 feet Pitch Pine at $33. Shingles are quiet at $5 00 for No. 1 Eastern.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

Through the kindness of Mr. Wm. L. Southworth, Secretary of the Chicago Lumbermens' Association, we are enabled to lay before our readers a much more reliable report than heretofore, and hope to continue the same while the market presents features of interest.

CHICAGO, June 27, 1868.—The supply on the lumber market during the past week has been somewhat light, with the exception of Monday, when we had from eight to ten million feet, all of which were worked off during the day at the figures of last week, except eight or ten cargoes. The demand has since continued brisk, and sellers have succeeded in obtaining an advance of 25c.@50c. per M on the better grades. Common coarse cargoes unchanged. The market closes at $11.50@12.50 for coarse two-inch cargoes; $13@$14.50 for ordinary mixed, and $15@$17 for best grades Mill Run. Saginaw lumber at Saginaw inspection nominal at $9.50 for culls; $15.50 for common, and $35@$37 for uppers, with very little as yet thrown on the market. The water in the Illinois River is falling, and if it continues may effect cargo prices somewhat, as a great deal of trade comes from that region. The most desirable cargoes are cut as much as posssible into 6-inch strips, the balance, boards, joists, scantling, and small timber. Trade from the yards has continued fair. Fencing and common boards are reduced somewhat. Lath are also easier, but A sawed shingles, by car load, on track, are about 12½c per M better. According to revised figures we now quote as follows:

First clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	$50 00@55 00
Second clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	45 00@50 00

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@$45; cherry $30@$40; hickory $20@$25; ash $20@$28, and $18@$22 for ordinary oak.

At Milwaukie a good steady trade is doing and prices are firm, the choice and desirable grades showing some slight improvement, the corrected figures standing as follows:

Clear Plank, $50.00@55.00; Second Clear Plank, $48; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box), $30; Clear Flooring, dressed, $45; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $16; Fencing, $16; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $16.00; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@7.00; Shingles, best sawed, $4.50; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

From St. Paul we hear of no important alteration in prices, but the demand continued good and there was no more stock coming forward, than the wants of the trade required. Quotations as follows:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards; $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 18 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.: $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

From the Stillwater Republican we learn that trade continues very active at strong and rather buoyant prices, sales of one million feet having been made at $12 60 per M. and some lots reported as high as $14 50, and that the aggregate transactions for the two weeks ending June 9th, were 13,300,000 feet.

The rates at Winona (Minn.), are given as follows:

Common Lumber $20 per M.; Flooring $14@35 per M.; Siding $30@35 per M.; Clear Lumber, Best No. 1, $50 per M.; Dressed Boards $23 per M.; Dressed and Matched Boards $25@30 per M.; Grub Planks and Sheeting $15 per M.; Cullings $10 per M.; Shingles, xx. $6 50 per M.; Shingles, No. 1, $5 per M.; Lath $3 50 per M.

From Detroit our reports speak of a steady market, with a fair amount of business doing in choice grade, but coarse stuff rather dull. Prices as follows: $40@45 for Clear, $16@18 for Boards, $8@10 for culls, $26@28 for common flooring; $35@40 for dressed do.; $20@30 for long joist; $10@11 for short joist and scantling; $20@45 for bill stuff, and $35 for deck plank.

Toledo prices are unchanged, and we still quote as follows:

ROUGH LUMBER.—Clear, $50; Second Clear, $45; Box $40; Stock Boards $20@22; Common Boards, $16; Cull Boards, $11; Fencing, $17; Cull Fencing, $11; Common Strips, $30; Clear and Second Strips, $45; Joists, Scantling and Timber, 18 feet and under, $16; do. Cull, 20 to 24 feet, $19@22; Cull Joist, $10.

Cedar posts. 18c.; Lath, $3.00; A 1, 18-inch Sawed Shingle, 5 50@6 00; No. 1, 18-inch Sawed Shingle, $5.50; No. 1, 18-inch Shaved Shingle, $7.

DRESSED LUMBER.—Clear and Second Flooring, $40; Common Flooring, $30; Common Siding, $17; Clear and Second Siding, $25; Stock Boards, $24; Common Boards, $18; Oval Batts, $35.

The Toledo Blade of June 25th says;

"Another fleet of lumber barges arrived here this morning from Saginaw and Bay City, bringing about 1,000,000 feet of lumber and half a million lath."

The same paper on the next day also contained the following:

Large shipments of Black Walnut Lumber and Timber are being made at this port to lower lake Canadian ports. Nearly all of both, lumber and timber is destined for the English market, the latter to be manufactured into veneering. The other day a vessel laden with Walnut, cleared for Quebec, and her cargo will be worth at that port about $100,000; her freight was $1,200 in gold.

A special dispatch to the Missouri Democrat, dated Dubuque, June 23d, says:

Lumbermen will be interested to know that after great opposition from the manufacturing interest on the Chippewa river, a company formed for logging purposes have succeeded in running out 12,000,000 feet of logs, which are now in Beef slough awaiting a market.

From an Oregon paper we obtain the following particulars in regard to the oak of that section of the country:

The steamers occasionally bring down a few thousand feet of oak lumber from up the Willamette. The Alert brought down 3,000 feet yesterday, and 2,000 feet some days ago. A few thousand feet were shipped to San Francisco. The appearance of most of this is greatly against it, or would be in the market. It looks as though it had been stacked up out-doors, had been rained upon, and left to mould and rot. This kind of treatment does not render hard-wood lumber marketable, or adapt it properly for mechanical uses. It becomes stained and brash. The fibre becomes spoiled, and the "life" of the wood dies. Never after it becomes soaked and mouldy is it capable of receiving a fine glistening polish from the hands of the workmen. The Oregon oak, by this treatment, has been condemned as unfit for industrial uses where toughness, strength and durability are required. It is not because it does not possess these qualities in its natural state, but because it loses them in being prepared for market. A specimen was shown us, that for toughness of fibre and closeness of grain, was equal to any Eastern oak ever imported into the State. Yet, with millions of it growing in this State, nearly all the oak manufactured into implements, wagons, etc., used here, is brought thousands of miles, taking thousands of dollars away annually. The only attempt we believe ever made in the State to produce any manufactured article from the oak, was a small establishment that turns out felloes. This has not been very successful, because a good quality of wood has not been used, and because the article manufactured was not satisfactory to the consumers. The felloes made were irregular in shape and size, owing to the inferiority of the machinery used and the unskilfulness of the workmen. A fortune awaits those who will embark skill and capital in the enterprise of preparing the hard woods of Oregon for market.

Cincinnati prices are as follows:

Clear per M $62@$64; first, second, and third common $45@$18 per M; first and second common floor-$60@$42 per M; first partition $63@$65; first and second class weather boards $27@$20 per M; pine joist and scantling $32 50@$35 per M: and hemlock do. do., $22 50@25 do. Lake lumber was offered a trifle lower. Hard green lumber continued dull, at about as follows: Oak $17@$20 per M: Ash $20@$25 per M; Cherry $29@$30 do; Walnut $25@$30 do.; and Popar $22@28.

The Cleveland market was steady and a very good business doing at the following prices:

The annexed extract is from a letter to a Pittsburgh paper, dated at Marietta, Pa., June 21st 1868:

Comparatively few persons west of this know the importance of the lumber business carried on here. The entire lumber, shingle, and timber rafts from the tributaries of the Susquehanna once poured into this point, but in latter years Williamsport has gained considerable upon this market. Mr. George H. Ettlar, lumber inspector at this place, estimates that fifteen million feet of lumber is handled alone by the boardyardmen, at an average of $25 per M. feet. Fifty million feet of lumber in the shape of timber rafts pass hands, at an average of $20 per M. feet.

At the Eastward we learn that trade is comparatively dull and stock rather accumulating; vessels had been more plenty, but nearly all soon loaded up and took their departure; and as the few remaining were unwilling to make any essential deduction in freight charges, and spruce timber being lower, shippers did not feel warranted in forwarding stock with freedom, particularly since the New York market has taken a downward turn.

At Portland the ruling rates are given as follows:

The St. Johns (N. B.), Prices Current of June 20th reports as follows:

There is a very large demand for vessels coastwise, which are readily placed at full rates. The following transactions are reported: Ospray, 67, Rambler, 95, Ella, 102, and Rhuama, 46—all for Boston, at $4.50; Kathleen, 144, Boston, shingles, 50c.; Speculator, 71, and Duke of Newcastle, 86, for Davensport, $4.50. Black Bird, 77, and Prairie Bird, 149, for Charlestown, $4.50; Addie Cowan, 114, East Cambridge, $4.50; Fleetwing, 98, Fredericton to Boston, shingles, 65c.; Guysborough, 152, New York, $6 lumber, $1.20 laths.

Montreal advices report the market as having become quite dull, and the receipts considerably in excess of the demand. Some vessels were loading for South American ports. The quotations were for square white Pine cubic, 9c. to 10c.; flat do. lineal, 4c. to 6c. Square Tamarac, cubic, 12½c. to 14c.; flat do. lineal, 4½c. to 5c. Sawed Lumber in good demand as follows: Pine boards, $10 to $14 per M.; cull deals range high, $16 to $17 per M. Shingles and Laths quiet at $1.25 for sawed shingles, and $1.75 to $2 for river do. Laths, $1 to $1.50 per M. For choice grades hardwood quite an active inquiry prevailed at full prices. Oak, square in raft, bringing 33@36c. per foot.

Our Southern advices represent the markets firm, freight room scarce, and but little stock being forwarded, of a quality such as is now wanted here, but common and irregular lengths were comparatively plenty and on these prices continue irregular. The Savannah quotations remain as follows: Timber, $7@10 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@13 for small shipping do., and $14@18 for large do. Lumber $20@22 for ordinary sizes; $25@30 for difficult sizes, and $22@24 for flooring.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling; $24.00@25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@12.00; the supply of the latter small.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to June 25, 1868, were 12,575,152 feet of lumber, of which 1,346,939 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 11,228,213 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,597,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,795,893 to Philadelphia; 1,560,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 334,743 to Boston; 1,462,834 to Rhode Island, and 476,395 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington there was a fair amount of business doing with no important change in prices, and we still quote as follows:

The Reports of the Baltimore market are as follows:

The market has been only moderately active the past week, as buyers are generally holding off from purchasing large lots until after the 1st of July, and are now only buying what their trade requires, but nevertheless this demand keeps up prices to about what they were at our last quotations. The receipts of Southern Lumber have been large, but the White Pine receipts are only moderate. Cypress Shingles (choice brands); good lots of Yellow Poplar, 5-8 and 4-4; and dry lots of first-rate Walnut are in demand.

METALS.—Copper sheeting is still selling rather slowly, but the market is pretty well supported, and previous rates are current, viz: 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. Scotch pig iron has not met with a very brisk demand, but there appears to be a more healthy and firm tone, a trifling advance in prices being established and quotations now standing at $39.00@41.00 per ton. American is also a trifle better, closing steadily, particularly on No. 1, which continues scarce. We quote No. 1 at $38.50@$39.00 per ton; and No. 2 $34.50@36.00 do. American and English common bar iron from store is quoted at $85.00@$90.00; and do. do. refined $95.00@$100.00 per ton. Rods 5-8@ 3-16 inch $100.00@$160.00 per ton. Pig lead is very dull, and we hear of only small retail lots at 6¼@6¾c. gold. Bar, pipe, and sheet, as before. Tin plates have been rather more active and prices are firmer, though without actual improvement. The imports of plates for the week were 27,752 boxes, valued at $166,549. Zinc in fair retail demand from store at 12@13c. for sheet.

NAILS.—Cut nails are dull, and prices without important variation, closing at about 4¼c. for 4d. and 6d. in a wholesale way, and 4⅞@5c. in jobbing lots. Clinch dull and lower at 6¾@6¼c Other kinds moderately active and steady at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. per lb for copper. The exports for week embrace 435 pckgs, valued at $2,179, against 426 pckgs. valued at $7,035, same time last week. There has also been shipped to San Francisco 1,572 kegs.

PAINT AND OILS.—The market for paints of all kinds has been quite dull, and we hear of but few small jobbing sales. Paris white, ochre, and Venetian red, are somewhat scarce, but not being particularly sought after, prices have only strengthened without advancing. Dry leads are somewhat unsettled. Prime quality of glue continues very scarce, and such could be sold without difficulty; but common stock is plenty and dull. Linseed oil meets with a very moderate demand, the stock is daily accumulating, and the advantage lay decidedly in buyers' favor, the market closing heavy and nominal; crushers generally are asking $1.07@1.08, but these are extreme figures for wholesale lots, and many outside parcels can be bought as low as $1.05. At retail $1.10 appears to be the extreme. Exports for week 53 pckgs. paint valued at $972; 100 gallons linseed oil valued at $1.46; and 240 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $3,904. To San Francisco 262 pckgs. paint and 154 pckgs. white lead.

PITCH.—The demand has been good for all grades, with rather higher figures current on choice Southern, the market closing firm. Sales of City at $3.50, and good to prime Southern $3.62½@$4, the outside for small lots Wilmington from wharf. The receipts for the week are 834 bbls. Exports for week, more, since January 1, 1,937 bbls., and for same period last year 2,694 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—There is nothing of interest to note in this market. A few small sales have been consummated within our range, but the great bulk of the stock coming in has been previously disposed of. The receipts are 1,040 tons.

SLATE.—This market presents no new feature worthy of note, so far as the retail trade is concerned. Prices generally remain steady, though the few small sales making are only in job lots, and generally at figures governed, in a great measure, by the status of the buyer, place of delivery, etc. Receivers continue very busy yarding, sorting, and preparing their stock for the fall trade; the receipts from day to day still being large, something like 2,500@3,000 squares coming in since our last. There is still considerable irregularity in regard to the wages of miners, the rates at some few points being the extreme asked, viz., $3.50 per day, at others only $3, while at others no settlement has been agreed upon, and the men remain on strike. It is thought however that the workmen will ere long recede somewhat from their extreme views, as employers express a determination to entirely suspend operations, before they will pay the advance asked.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has been a fair demand for this article, principally from the home trade, but not enough selling to counteract the effects of the continued free arrivals, and we note a decline of 1c.@2c. per gallon since our last. At the concession holders are not very anxious operators, and the market closes with a little more steadiness. We quote at 44c.@44½c. for wholesale lots, and 45c.@46c. in a retail way, and store prices in proportion. Receipts for week 2,490 bbls. Exports for week 1,355 bbls., since January 1st, 6,801 bbls., and for same period last year 11,430 bbls.

STONE.—At the yards business has been quite dull, builders having no use for stock at the moment. On standard work about former rates are current, and we make no change in figures. The quarries generally are running a full force of men, and turning out stone as rapidly as possible, but mostly on old contracts, new orders not being very plentiful. Wholesale rates are as before, but not over strong.

TAR.—The arrivals have been more moderate, and the exports larger, but the pavement contractors being pretty well supplied for the present, and the regular jobbing demand falling off, the market has less strength, and prices are 25c.@50c. per bbl. lower. We quote at $3.50@$3.87½ for North County, and $4.50@$4.75 for Wilmington, as it runs. Receipts for the week 245 bbls.; exports for the week 1,054 bbls.; since January 1st, 7,004 bbls., and for same period last year 3,032 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of June 30 reports as follows:

The trade during the week has been fair; not so active as it was earlier in the month. The receipts by canal, compared with those at the corresponding period last year, are largely on the increase, and for the last three or four weeks have been very steady, ranging from 21,000,000 to 22,000,000 feet weekly. The low rates of freight offered for the transportation of grain at Buffalo, has been one cause for the large receipts of lumber, the boatment preferring the lumber, at the current rate of freight, to grain. The increased receipts bring with them a large proportion of green lumber and an accumulation of stock in some yards. The drain on old receipts has, however, been steady, and merchantable lumber is growing scarce.

The falling off in receipts by the Champlain canal, it will be seen, is not as great as was expected.

Prices of all kinds of lumber are very steady; sales of clear continue to be made chiefly at $58@$60.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending June 29th and 22d, were:

	June 29.	June 22.
Buffalo	9,671,600 feet.	8,565,900 feet.
Oswego	10,343,000	11,495,400
Total	20,014,600 feet.	20,061,300 feet.

The difference between the two weeks is very slight.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending June 27th were 35,614,000 feet against 26,399,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 324,439,000 feet, against 249,915,000 in 1867—an increase so far this year of 74,524,000 feet. Quotations at Chicago, as published show no change in prices.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Oswego Canals for the fourth week of June, were:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	22,159,000	1,915	.....	789,300
1867	5,172,100	135	.....	361,200

Of the boards and scantling received, 14,510,300 feet were by the Erie, and 7,648,700 were by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to July 1, were:

	Lumber, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1867	63,169,200	3,465	.....	9,372,100

THE real estate auction season has been prolonged far into the summer. This present month will see more suburban property sold by auction than any previous June upon record. The sales and transfers of property in Westchester County, New York, and Hudson and Essex, New Jersey, are very heavy. We may add that, in these suburban localities, an immense amount of property is in the market for sale. Of course, buyers have the advantage in this state of things.

CONTRACTS have been made for about two million feet of bridge timber for the C. R. I. & P. R. R. west of Des Moines. French & Davies, of Davenport are to supply about 1,000.000 feet, and two mills in Rock Island about 500,000 feet each.

JOHN W. BENNETT, ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
No. 290 Broadway, Room No. 1. Residence, 123d st., between 2d and 3d av.

THE HOME PORTABLE GAS MACHINE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1868.
GENTS:

During the last fall and present winter I have watched the working of the Home Portable Gas Machine, and tested the quality of gas generated by it.

It was clearly proved that for equal amounts of light the cost of the naphtha gas, at the present cost of material, was only one-fourth that of coal-gas, and that when the pipes were exposed to low temperature the gas was condensed and ceased to flow sooner than the naphtha gas.

The naphtha gas is certainly not more explosive than the coal gas. The Machine is simple, durable, and not liable to get out of order, and not as dangerous to manage as an ordinary kerosene lamp.

Yours truly,
E. F. QUINBY.
Chemist and Professor of Mathematics in the University of Rochester.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Rochester, agree with Gen. Quinby as to the safety against fire of the Home Portable Gas Machine, also its economy and practicability.
J. W. STEBBINS, P. M.

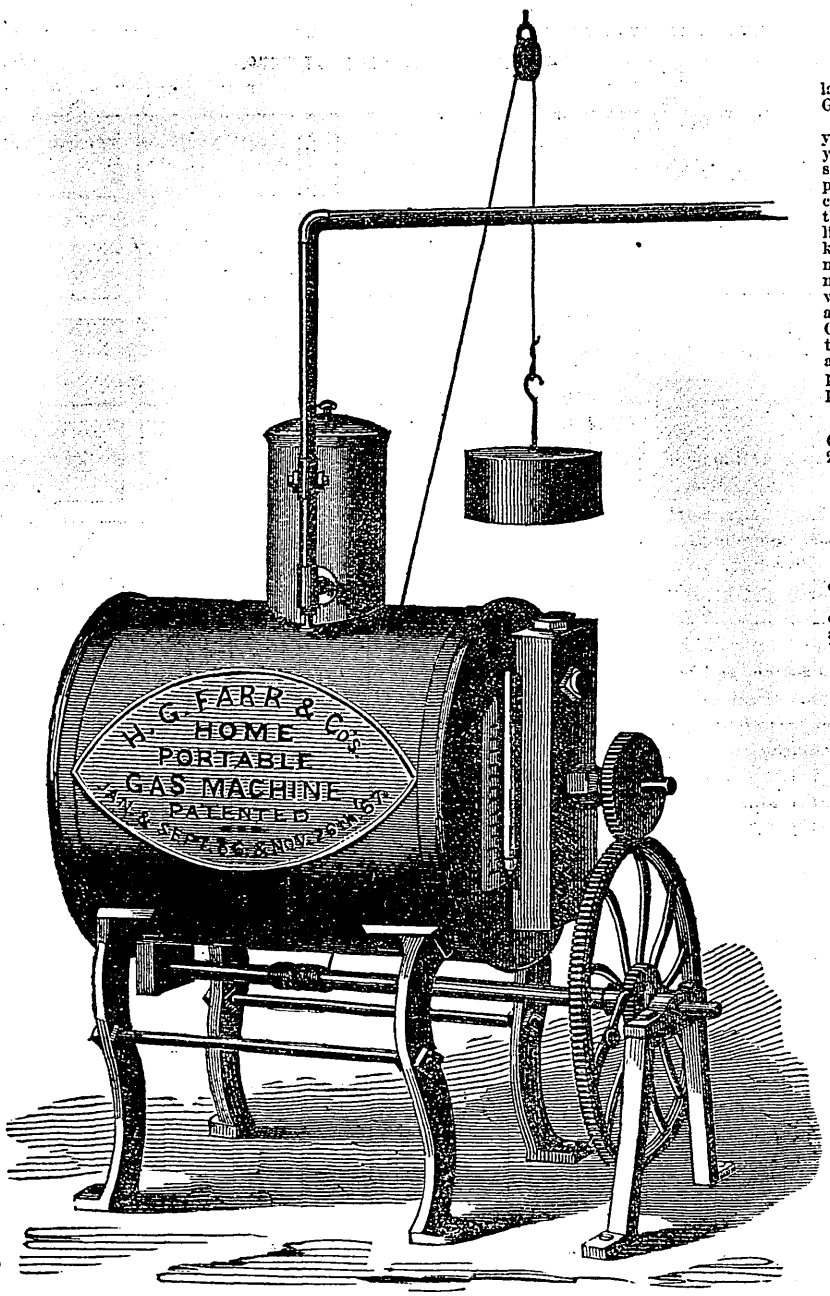
WM. T. MOORE, Insurance Agent.
BABCOCK & CARPENTER, Ins. Agts.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 20, 1868.
GENTS:

At your request, I herein give my experience in an experiment made by me last summer, in reference to the naphtha gas.



I packed in ice and salt about seventy-five feet three-eighths inch lead pipe, for the purpose of testing the Home Portable Gas Machine, and it burned freely for about four and a half hours before condensing. I then attached the city gas, and it burned freely for about three hours, when it failed:

Yours respectfully,
JOHN SIDDONS,
CHAS. VOGEL, Foreman.

WOODSIDE, N. J., Feb. 17, 1868
To the Home Portable Gas Co. of New York:

I have one of your Gas Machines in use, which proves to be all you recommended. It is simple and effective. I consider it safe, even in an open cellar, under the house. I think, from an examination of its merits, that considering the low price, it is far ahead of all competition.

Yours truly,
WM. J. HARLANE,
Office, Room 70, Trinity Building, 111 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 3, 1867.
Home Portable Gas Co., 15 Courtlandt Street, N. Y.:
GENTS:

The Gas Machine purchased from you last November proves all that you recommended it to be, and answers my expectations fully. It produces a brilliant light, at a very cheap rate, say 75 per cent. less than coal gas, and I think much less liable to accident than the use of kerosene oil lamps, and certainly much more convenient. I have my machine placed in the cellar, and with one winding up will supply all my lights for the evening. The Gas Machine needs only to be used to be appreciated, and it merits the attention of all who are in want of pure, economical light for any purpose that coal gas can be used for.

Respectfully yours,
WARD WHEELER,
Of Wheeler, Merritt & Co., 215, 217, 219 Front Street, N. Y.

WOODSIDE, N. J., March 17, 1868.
To the Home Portable Gas Co. of New York:

I have had one of your Gas Machines in use for the past month, and have found it all it purports to be. It works well and gives entire satisfaction. I consider it perfectly safe, and am proud to have the privilege to give you this statement.

Your truly,
O. D. MORRISON.

Letter from Hon. John R. Kellogg, of the Supreme Court of Michigan;
GENTS:

You know I was rather shy about the success of the Home Portable Gas Light Machine, but I promised you that I would give it a fair trial. Now we have thoroughly tried and watched it closely, and I am fully satisfied that it is entitled to the credit of doing all you claim for it.

I am proud to have my neighbors come in and examine the Machine, and all express themselves as fully satisfied.

The Machine is certainly right, and all that is wanted is a good article of naphtha, such as we are now using. In short, we are satisfied with it in all respects, and it gratifies me to give you this assurance.

We no more fear explosion from it than we would from a box stove without fire.

Yours truly,
JOHN R. KELLOGG.

We will enumerate a few advantages claimed over any other machine, or Common Coal Gas:

1st. It costs 50 per cent. less than any machine in market.

2d. It is more simple, durable, and perfect.

3d. It is less dangerous on account of fire, all its parts being specially guarded against accident from fire or otherwise.

4th. It gives a soft, mellow light, that cannot be surpassed, if equalled, by any machine or Coal Gas.

5th. It costs only one-quarter the price of City or Coal Gas, and may be used in any place, and in same pipes that City or Coal Gas is used.

We have set forth the above advantages, knowing, as we do, that all are true, and will bear investigation. Hence we invite the public to call and examine our machine, which is on exhibition at our Office and Salesroom.

This machine is usually placed in a cellar, and a connection made with a tank or barrel placed outside of the building, and arranged so that you can put in the supply as wanted, by merely having to turn a key at the machine where you are winding. In short, our machine is everything that can be desired.

WHY HAVE WE NO ARCADES?

THE multitudinous wants of this, our modern civilization, make it imperative that small wares should be displayed in order that people may obtain what they want, as it is a most difficult affair to know where to go for many small but useful articles of dress or domestic use. The numerous stands on the Bowery, the markets, and on some of the avenues, supply this deficiency in cheap and common articles, and the shop windows of Broadway bring to the notice of the passer many little costly trifles he may want. Notwithstanding these displays, however, one may require to walk far and not find the object of his search, and besides, most people have a delicacy about entering shops and giving the employees trouble to show goods, which, on examination, may be either wholly unsuitable or much too expensive. Now, in London and Paris, when a lady requires to make purchases of small wares, ornaments, or what we call "notions," she immediately goes to one of the arcades, which have been established on the basis of the ancient Eastern bazaars, where she may see, examine, and obtain the price of what she wants without giving any trouble or feeling under an obligation to purchase. Take for example the Burlington Arcade, which resembles a long wing of the Crystal Palace, having, as it does, a lofty glass roof, a broad flagged pavement, making a delightful promenade, which leads through a little wilderness of boutiques, brilliant in all the colors of flowers, fruits, toys, notions, etc. In rainy weather these arcades are filled with people who, coming there out of the wet, are beguiled into making purchases. The exquisite and the lounger find infinite amusement in examining all their wonders, and the nursery maid, with her little charges, often finds her way there in order to feast her own and the children's eyes on the captivating nick-nax.

Something of this kind has been attempted on Broadway, near the Southern Hotel, which, as far as attracting a crowd, has been eminently successful. But then, as it is wholly a private concern, the public being only admitted by toleration, there must necessarily be some feeling of obligation incurred; for, after all, it is only a store, where the entrance and the exit is by the same door. This establishment may be improved upon, but it would be better for some company to erect a large, commodious warehouse, with a lofty ceiling, between two thronged streets, and throw it open, without any reservation, to the public, and then to rent to different parties the cases and stands on each side. This plan would do away with a monopoly and keep extortion down by competition. One of the most available localities for an enterprise of this kind is in the block on the corner of the western side of Broadway and Fourteenth street. There an arcade or covered passage might be erected in the centre of the block on Broadway, say of 50 feet in width, which would run parallel to 13th and 14th streets, at a distance of 125 feet between each; then when it reaches the centre of the block between Broadway and University Place, or 150 feet—as the block is 300 feet in depth—let the passage be then continued at a right angle, so as to debouch on Fourteenth street; then each side of the angle would be 150 feet in length, and an agreeable covered promenade of 300 feet in length would be constructed. On nearly 250 feet of this proposed passage there at present exists no erections of any considerable account, as the interior of the block consists mainly of yards and unimportant outhouses; so the only expense would consist in the purchase of the houses on Broadway and Fourteenth street, which would be two on each, as the passage is to be 50 feet in width. The whole ground would amount to the extent of six usual city lots of 25x100; in fact an arcade could be constructed there at a cost of less than $1,000,000, the main portion of which would be safely invested in valuable land. The arcade being thus constructed, a wide, elegant promenade of flagged pavement of 20 feet in width should then be made through it; this would leave 15 feet of room on each side for shops, cases, &c. These stands would command high rents, as no inconsiderable portion of the great stream which flows constantly around that corner of Union Square and Broadway would be diverted into the arcade, either for the purposes of purchasing or amusement, and a fabulous quantity of goods would be annually disposed of. An undertaking of this kind would be no mere piece of empiricism, but a safe and sure investment—as any one who has ever travelled in Europe knows that these arcades are very lucrative speculations, so lucrative, in fact, that in Paris the government owns the greater number, and from the Palais Royal, which is a sort of arcade, it derives an immense income; and many a wealthy Bourgeois has acquired affluence by keeping a stall in one of these delightful fairy lands. That an experiment of this kind will soon be made we have no doubt; the only wonder is that among a people so progressive as we it should have been delayed so long.

THE WEST SIDE.

IF it is true, as the projectors claim, that the elevated railroad in Greenwich street is a success, then are the owners of property on the north-west of this island to be congratulated. The Commissioners, it seems, think the elevated road can be made available, and Governor Fenton has formally approved their report. We are now promised that the road will be completed to 30th street within a year, and to the Harlem river in less than twenty months. If this is true, it will give an immense impetus to house-building on the west side of the Central Park, and property in that quarter will take a sharp turn upward. In the meantime, the Hudson River road will be made available to thousands who otherwise could not use it. When the road connects with the Hudson River dépôt at 30th street, it will be a wonderful help to all the towns between this city and Yonkers. The objection to down-town business men living on the line of the Hudson River road, has been the uncertainty of the street cars. Time can never be calculated with any accuracy when a horse-car is used, and thousands of families of down-town merchants, who want to live on the banks of the Hudson, cannot do so on account of these untrustworthy conveyances. With the elevated road in existence, however, all this will be bravely altered. The elevated cars can be taken at Liberty or Fulton street, with a reasonable assurance of reaching the Hudson river dépôt in fifteen minutes' time. There will be nothing then to prevent the east bank of the Hudson, up to Yonkers, being one continuous city. With the further extension of the elevated road up Ninth avenue to the Harlem river, the stream of emigration over the Hudson river to the Jersey shore will be checked, as the tide will be diverted to the now unimproved region west and north of the Central Park. Success, then, to the elevated road.

WE are now in the midst of summer, but, as our reports show, the real estate transfers in Brooklyn were never more numerous; the tide of population that way is something wonderful. Houses are going up as if by magic. We notice, too, that in Essex County, New Jersey, which includes Newark, Orange, etc., the real estate market is very active. The growth of these places is, of course, due to the metropolis, of which properly they form a part. New York, and all its suburbs, cannot to-day have less than two millions of inhabitants. In ten years it will outstrip London.

STEINWAY Hall, in this city, is about to be thoroughly overhauled, and decorated in the highest style of art, at a cost of $25,000.

ANOTHER BOTCH.

THE new Tammany Hall is acoustically a failure. The writer was in attendance upon the convention, and, in the very best seats, it was with the greatest difficulty he could hear the shrillest and strongest-voiced speakers. The voices of ordinary orators will be quite lost in this otherwise very fine hall. It is a most remarkable thing that architects know so little of their business as to build halls like Steinway's and this new Tammany, in neither of which can a good speech be heard. The merest tyro in architecture knows that a flat roof and flat walls kill sound. The cone-form of interior, with hollowed ceilings to the support of the galleries, are indispensable for proper acoustic effects. Both of our opera houses are fine edifices for sound, but Steinway's and the new Tammany are shameful failures for the purpose for which they were built, and are disgraceful to their respective architects.

IN the last 40 years the population of Worchester, Mass., has increased from 4,000 almost to 40,000.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

It is flattering to the vanity of our citizens, and cheering to the operators in real estate, to see that throughout the Union there is a general sense as to the propriety of selecting New York as a place for holding National Conventions, because here an addition of sixty or seventy thousand transient in-comers makes very little impression. There are now here many wealthy, far-sighted delegates from the New England States, who have spare capital to invest, and no doubt we shall have next season many purchasers from other States on the "Exchange." The sale of the Stevens House on Thursday, July 2d, was quite important, as giving another illustration of the fact that a comparatively small amount of property lying near the lower extremity of the island is slowly but surely depreciating in comparative value, while every inch above Fulton street, and probably above Wall, is advancing at a steady price. It was once the centre of the business section, but the tide of commerce has long since rolled past it.

GOSSIP.

Mr. John McClave, who, during the spring months, was an extensive advertiser for cheap lots in the city, has sold within two weeks a number of lots, for which he received something like $200,000....City lots in Paterson, about the suburbs, are selling to parties for building purposes ....On the 15th inst., the Dunellen, N. J., lots will be disposed of....Seven miles from Jonesboro', Penn., on the fertile banks of the Nolla Chucky River, there are farms of almost inexhaustible soil now for sale, from twenty-five to forty dollars per acre, with plenty of mountain lands adjoining at a much less price....The corner stone of the State Normal School at Potsdam, N. Y., was laid June 24th, with Masonic ceremonies. This school was authorized by Act of the Legislature in 1866. The buildings will cost about $90,000....Over 130,000 arpents of the lands claimed by Mrs. Gaines are located in East Baton Rouge, Louisiana. James Ernott, of this city, holds a mortgage on these lands in consideration of professional advice and money advanced....Real estate advices from Chicago show that prices are well sustained, with a steady advance. The summary of the week's transactions ending July 2d, shows 190 deeds filed for record, conveying property to the amount of $692,666. This is unprecedented for the season, and fully up to the average of the most active season ever experienced in that city....The will of the late Stephen Van Rensselaer was offered for probate on July 2. One of the executors, the Hon. Nathaniel Thayer of Boston, is a non-resident, and required to give bonds in the sum of about $1,000,000. The other executors are Charles M. Jenkins, of this city, Eugene Van Rensselaer (son of the late testator), and the widow, Mrs Van Rensselaer, is executrix. To the latter the will leaves the Manor House and grounds, and $15,000 a year. The remaining estate is equally divided among the children, viz.: Eugene Van Rensselaer, the youngest and only son, and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Howard Townsend, and the children of Bayard Van Rensselaer, who take their deceased father's share. The property is valued at about $1,500,000. There is but one subsisting legacy granted in the will, viz.: $5,000 to the widow of Bayard Van Rensselaer. A legacy of $10,000 to Douw Lansing (who was also originally named executor), and of $5,000 to Dr. Howard Townsend, lapse by the death of these two. The property thus devised does not include the whole of the property connected with the Manor House. The old Patroon (father of the last deceased) devised to his grandson Stephen, 2,500 acres lying north of the Manor House, and included mostly between river and the Shaker Road. This includes the Gravel Hills, and thirteen of the Basin slips; and must be worth $500,000. The Manor in its original proportions extended from Cohoes Falls to Barren Island, on the north and south lines twenty-four miles, and twenty-four miles on each side of the Hudson. But a small portion of this domain remains subject to rent.

SALES.

There have been too many attractions in the city the past few days for real estate men to reach the Exchange, and as a consequence the sales have been very light. When the present political excitement is over, real estate will revive, and auctioneers will obtain their old-time profits. Money is very scarce in New Jersey, and purchasers who bought at recent sales have percentage payments coming due. Therefore very little property has lately been sold, and not a single farm in Passaic County was recorded sold during the latter half of June. The Stevens House was disposed of on Thursday. The following are the sales since our last issue:

Wednesday, July 1.—By A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co.—The two-story frame house, 55 ft. front and 40 ft. deep, with stables, carriage house, and two acres of land, situated on Washington ave., in West New-Rochelle, Westchester County, N. Y., sold to Mr. Rathbone for $16,000. One plot on the south side of Prospect ave., Mount Vernon, 190 ft. west of Union place, 100x145 ft., purchased by Albert Comp for $500. One plot, adjoining the above, 100x145 ft., purchased by M. McDougal for $450. One plot on the north-west corner of Union and Elm place, Mount Vernon 100x145 ft., purchased by Mr. McDougal for $600. One plot, adjoining the above, on Elm place, 100x145 ft., purchased by D. Ferguson for $500; one plot adjoining, 100x145 ft., purchased by D. Furgerson, $500; one plot on the east side of Fulton ave., near Sidney place, Mount Vernon, 100x164 ft., purchased by G. T. Miner for $500; one plot on the east side of Fulton ave., between Sidney place and Prospect ave., Mount Vernon, 125x100 ft., purchased by Mr. Fergurson for $400; house and plot of ground on the north side of Prospect ave., 100 ft. west of Union place, Mount Vernon, 100x200 ft., purchased by Chas. Taylor for $4,600; one plot on the south-east corner of Prospect and Fulton aves., Mount Vernon, 100x185 ft., purchased by Charles Taylor for $550. Brooklyn Lots.—By Johnson & Miller.—5 lots on north side of Margaretta st., 95 ft. from Evergreen ave., 20x100, J. Thompson, $260. Gore plot on s. e. cor. of Elder st. and Evergreen ave., 33x100, J. Thompson, $480. 2 lots on n. s. of Elder st., near Evergreen ave., each 20x100, C. Barnes, each $270. 1 lot on s. w. cor. of Bushwick ave. Boulevard and Cooper st., 25x100, J. Dubois, $575. 1 lot adjoining on Bushwick ave. Boulevard, 20x100, W. Wells, $500. 1 lot adjoining, 20x100, J. Harrison, $450. 3 lots adjoining, each 20x100, C. Braine, $450. 1 lot adjoining, 20x100, C. Braine, $500. 1 lot on Cooper st., 100 ft. from Bushwick ave., 25x100, J. Harrison, $350. 1 lot, s. e. cor. of Bushwick ave. and Cooper st., 25x100, Henry Edwards, $500. 1 lot, adjoining on Bushwick ave. and Boulevard, 25x100, Henry Edwards, $425. 3 lots adjoining, each 25x100, Henry Edwards, each $425. 1 lot on Cooper st., 100 ft. from Bushwick ave., 25x100, J. Thompson, $350.

Thursday, July 2.—By A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co.—The Stevens House, sold to James Phelan for $139,600. The present rate at which it is leased is $16,000 a year. Two years' lease (rent $2,000 a year), with machinery, fixtures, &c., of the "Irving Street Flour Mill," in Irving st., between Columbia and Van Brunt sts., Brooklyn, to Mr. Theo. Taber for $3,300. Brooklyn.—By James Coles & Sons.—Two lots on the east side of Canton st., 323 feet north of Auburn place, each 22.10 by 99.10½, purchased by John Meyers for $750 each. Three-story brown-stone house and lot on the south side of Hick st. (known as No. 111), 90 feet west of Clark st., 25 by 100, purchased by Mr. Ely for $17,000. Two lots on the north side of Sycamore st., 105.10 feet west of Canton st., each 25 by 92, purchased by J. J. Drake for $400 each. Two lots on the west side of Canton st., 45.8 feet north of Sycamore st., 45.8 feet front, 46.2 in the rear, 39.8 feet west side, 60.3 feet on the south side, purchased by John Gannon for $550 each.

Tuesday, July 7.—By James M. Miller.—An attempt was made to sell a farm of 60 acres, with residence and necessary outhouses thereon, situate in the village of Kensico, Westchester Co.; but as the auctioneer could obtain for it only $14,325, he preferred to withdraw the property, and to await a time when the buyers of farms will not be distracted by political conventions.

Wednesday, July 8th.—By E. H. Ludlow & Co.—The four-story brick store, 20.4½x32.4 feet, together with lot 20.4½x66.1½ feet, known as No. 109 John-st., were bought by a Mr. Bourbaum for $12,100. A tract of land fronting the plank-road, with hotel, shed, barn and other outbuildings, extending 904.2 feet on Howard place, 139 feet front on the plank-road, which widened at a depth of 141 feet, 137.3 feet, and running, gore-shape, to a rear of 70.11 feet, was bought by Henry R. Pierson, President of the Brooklyn City Railroad, for $21,500. By James P. Cole.—A number of lots, 25x100 in Atlantic, Alabama, Williams, South Carolina, &c. avenues, which sold on an average of $280 each. Some of the most desirable brought about from $1,000 to $1,500.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There is no change to note in the general range of prices since our last report, but the market has become very firm on all grades of hard brick, and nothing but very common lots are now selling at the inside rates. The city demand for immediate use has improved a trifle, but is not by any means brisk, nearly all the large buyers merely engaging stock with orders to receivers to refrain from delivering until the settlement of the bricklayers' strike permits the resumption of building operations. The out of town business, however, is good, and the great bulk of the receipts seldom go begging for a market. There is in consequence no accumulation of stock at any of the principal depots, and cargoes are frequently sold before arrival. The yards still have a force of men at work, and the production proceeds without interruption. Manufacturers, however, begin to complain of a want of room, and nearly all express a determination to stop work and discharge their men as soon as sheds and yards are all filled, unless business very materially improves. Should the production once be stopped, it would not probably be resumed again this season, and the result must prove very disastrous to the interest of buyers, as a much higher range of prices could scarcely be prevented. The momentary supply would of course be heavy; but a large portion has been already engaged, and the balance could be too easily controlled to prevent sellers having things pretty much their own way. The quality of the stock is fair, but nothing extra, except in a few exceptionable cases. Croton fronts have not arrived to any extent during the week; and with not enough stock to affect the market, prices remain nominally unchanged. Philadelphia fronts are steady at full previous rates, and the supply rather increases; but at the moment there is very little demand except for small odd lots.

CEMENT.—Rosendale, in the usual jobbing way, is still quite steady at $1 75 per bbl.; but in order to successfully compete for some desirable contracts, and in view of the rather dull times, a few of the smaller companies are said to have sold at $1 65@1 70 per bbl. The city trade continues moderate, but a very good shipping business is doing. The exports for the week have been small.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—We hear of only a very light city trade doing at the moment, but a fair amount of country orders are coming in, and occasionally a lot is taken for shipment. Prices are steady, and no alterations are necessary in our table of quotations.

FOREIGN WOODS.—This market is very dull for all descriptions, and in the absence of any important business prices remain nominally unchanged. There has been nothing exported during the week, and the only receipts reported are 3,000 feet cedar and mahogany from St. Andrews, C. A.

GLASS.—The market for French window remains quiet, in fact is decidedly dull, and the few sales made are only to fill out unexecuted orders, or to meet the light and unexpected wants of some local dealer. Importers still remain steady at about former rates of discount, viz.: 40@50 per cent., particularly on small sizes, as there is no increase of the supply of the latter. American and English glass have also become quite dull, and are nominally unchanged. The latest imports are 296 packages, valued at $1,101, and 151 glass plate valued at $20,565.

HAIR.—The demand is fair, the supply of no one kind excessive, and the general market remains steady at about former figures.

HARDWARE.—The irregularity in mineral door-knobs noted in our last has resulted in quite a decline, and prices have been reduced 50c. on styles selling at $2 75 per doz., 50c. on porcelain with japanned mountings, formerly $3 50 per dozen; while those with plated mountings, previously sold at $9 00, are now offered at $1 75 per doz. decline. The general market is very dull, and the sales only in job lots.

LABOR.—The controversy between the journeymen bricklayers and their employers is still unsettled, and we find no indications that either side intend making any immediate advances towards a compromise. The workmen, with a stubborn determination to carry the point aimed at, and entirely regardless of the future consequences, refuse to engage except upon the terms proposed by the "Union," while the Master Masons, still backed by the majority of property owners, and feeling that right and justice are on their side, are firm in their intention of holding out until the bricklayers show a disposition to resume work at the terms agreed upon early in the spring, (ten hours and $5), and which they positively promised to adhere to throughout the season. Some of the older and most experienced workmen, who do not sympathize with the eight-hour movement, in quite a number of instances, when insured protection, have re-engaged at old wages, rather than remain idle; and we learn that most violent "strikers" are second-rate journeymen, apprentices, &c., who have succeeded in obtaining a controlling influence in the Association. The reports industriously circulated to the effect that a large number of "bosses" had been coerced into the eight-hour system, and that but few men were unemployed, are, in the main, untrue. No Master Mason has broken faith with his association, and employed journeymen on the terms asked, but a great many have thrown up contracts rather than succumb. This has left a number of buildings on the hands of owners, and they have employed men at eight hours to finish up; but as soon as jobs are completed, the men are discharged with an intimation that no new work will be undertaken until bricklaying is done on more reasonable terms. Aid and comfort has been tendered both the contesting parties, in the following manner: The boss roofers, at a well-attended meeting, resolved to support the Master Masons in their resistance to the demands of the journeymen. The boss carpenters also resolved not to retain in their employ members of the Union that are contributing support to the journeymen bricklayers in their present effort to secure the establishment of the eight-hour system.

At a recent meeting of the journeymen blue-stone cutters the position of the bricklayers now on strike was considered, and $1,000 appropriated to their aid, with the promise of $1,000 more in another month should they require it.

On Tuesday evening the plasterers assembled, and after some routine business, the trustees were ordered to draw $3,000 from the bank and pay it over to the bricklayers' committee at such time and place as the latter may appoint. A resolution was passed prohibiting any member of the Society from working for any boss mason or plasterer who employs non-society bricklayers.

The Bricklayers' Union has also been in session, when a committee of three was appointed to attend at Castle Garden and inform bricklayers arriving here from Europe of the nature of the strike, and give them other necessary intruction. It was agreed that a proposition should be made to those who are now working ten hours a day that if they should join the men on strike they would be paid the same weekly allowance, and be furnished with passes to any locality to which they might choose to proceed; and that they would also be admitted members of the society after the termination of the strike.

From Portland, (Ct.) we learn that the strike at the quarries for $2.50 per day, and for the privilege of quitting work at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, has ended, and the men commenced work on Monday. A compromise was effected, the quarry owners acceding to the advance in wages, while the men receded from the demand to quit work at four o'clock on Saturdays.

The brick manufacturers of Philadelphia have had trouble with their workmen, and recently an adjourned meeting was held to take action in reference to the demand of the journeymen for an increase of wages. The committee appointed to visit the different brick yards, reported that they had performed that duty, and had obtained the signatures of brickmakers to the resolution adopted at the last meeting, in reference to the unwillingness of the employers to pay the advance required. The master brickmakers were now paying fair wages, such as would compare favorably with other trades, and in point of fact better wages than most skilled mechanics are receiving. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That no brickmakers employ each other's hands at an advanced price during this season.

It was then, on motion, agreed that the meeting form itself into a permanent organization, to meet at the call of the President.

LATH.—The "Situation" remains much the same as last week, with probably a trifle less firmness than at date of our report, immediately preceding this. A few small sales have been made at $2.90, but the general market rate is still considered to be about $3 per M., receivers preferring for the present to pile out, when the latter figure cannot be realized. For future delivery, however, easy terms are offered, and some parcels are understood to be on sale at $2.75, to arrive after the 20th inst. The demand has not been very brisk, and the transactions in the aggregate amount to only 2,000,000.

LIME.—The demand for Rockland lime continues very moderate, and on common prices are now reduced to $1 10, while lump remains at the decline of last week, viz.: $2 00 per bbl. At these figures, however, receivers do not press sales, and the supply is pretty much all going into store, though the stock on hand is not large, and with moderate arrivals accumulates less rapidly than last week. We learn that very few cargoes are now coming down the coast, and that shipments have stopped, or are about doing so, the ruling rates here offering too small a margin over the cost of production to warrant the sending of much stock forward. Glens Falls lime of course follows the market down but at the decline is quite steady. The latter style finds the best market in neighboring cities, New York buyers only taking it when compelled to do so through necessity.

LUMBER.—We find a very dull state of affairs at the majority of the yards, the few sales making being mostly of an insignificant jobbing character, which is in part to be attributed to the lighter demand for building purposes, consequent upon the continued strike of the masons and bricklayers, though a considerable falling off in trade at this season is not unusual. Prices on northern and western stock, particularly pine, remain firm, and for small orders of a few thousand feet, Eastern spruce is still sold at full former rates, but a large contract for the latter style of lumber could be negotiated on rather more reasonable terms, in sympathy with the decline in the wholesale market. The receipts by the river continue fair, but do not exceed the wants of the trade, particularly in dry well-seasoned stock, as it is evident that a great many dealers are short in their supply, others will have no more than enough to carry them through, while a few only are well provided for. At Albany the supply of merchantable stock is small, and though buyers are not unusually plenty at present, very few desirable lots require to be offered more than once before finding a market. Black walnut is confidently held, and no really desirable lots can be bought either here or at Albany at within $10.00, and sometimes $15.00, of the quoted rates. The wholesale markets as a general thing have been fairly active, considering a broken week, and the usual inactivity which prevails both before and after a holiday, but prices do not improve, and on the whole have been rather more in buyers' favor. Eastern spruce has continued plenty, though the aggregate arrivals are scarcely so large as last week, and a fair proportion of the stock on the spot has been disposed of, causing a temporary steadiness on good schedules, though it must be the best quality to realize $20.00 per M. or over, and common sorts have sold down to $17.50, and would be sold there again rather than cargoes should remain without customers. The offerings to arrive are still quite plenty, and generally at rates about in proportion to figures now current, but sellers seem rather more anxious to operate in this manner than buyers. Freights are easier at the Eastward by 50c.@1.00 per M, and vessels daily becoming more plenty; and this leads to the belief that shipments will continue for some time yet, current prices giving a very good margin for profit. Eastern hemlock continues to sell slowly, though it must be a very nice lot to induce buyers to operate with any freedom, and even then few will pay outside figures. We quote at $15.00@16.00 per M. White pine in very good demand largely from box-makers, and on all fine merchantable qualities full prices are obtained; common grades however are considerably unsettled, and in some instances have sold low. A large drain is still being made upon the stock of white pine to meet the wants of the contractors for laying the wooden pavements, the consumption since the first of April for this purpose amounting to about 2,600,000 feet, an average of 30,000 feet a day, and it is estimated that 3,000,000 feet more will be required to accomplish all the work laid out for this season. Western white oak is not much inquired after, owing to the dormant state of the shipbuilding interest, but prices generally appear to be firm at 45c. per cubic foot. Piling is plenty and dull, the demand taking only small lots, mostly at figures ranging at 6½@7½c. Pickets are fairly active and steady at $11.00@$13.00 for spruce. Southern pine has been in fair receipt and not unusually active demand. This in connection with a larger supply of logs at the mills, and a reduction in prices there of $1. @$2. per M, has given buyers in this market considerable advantage, and it would now be impossible for agents to contract at over $35.00 for the best, and $33.00@34.00 for ordinary, though at these figures freights and commissions continue to eat up all the profits. Many dealers at the South state that it is much more profitable to ship direct to Europe, or even West India ports, than up the coast, though the difficulty now experienced at Northern ports, in obtaining advances on cargoes, may have some influence in checking shipments. The export demand is fair for good desirable lots, but the amount going out at the moment is not very heavy among the sales of the week we note about 1,750,000 feet Eastern spruce at $17.50@$20.50, mostly at $19.00@$20.00; 100,000 feet 2, 3, and 4 inch white pine on the spot at $25.00; 125,000 feet white pine boards to arrive at $25.00; 500,000 feet do. to boxmakers at $23.00; 60,000 feet extra white pine timber at $33.00; and 100,000 feet Southern yellow pitch pine at $33.00 per M.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

From Boston shipments have recently been made as follows: To British East Indies, 194,817 feet lumber; to Montevideo, 225,000 feet do. and 314,804 feet white pine boards; to Africa, 226,237 feet lumber and 375,000 shingles; to Kingston, Jamaica, 1,136 feet lumber; to Surinam, 47,833 feet lumber; to Cuba, 5,000 feet do.; to St. Thomas, 7,000 feet do.; and to British Provinces, 2,766 feet black walnut boards.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

Our advices from Chicago are to July 3d, and report as follows: "The lumber market to date shows no perceptible change from last week's figures. Receipts have been fair, and the demand from all quarters very good. Good strip cargoes are mostly in demand; coarser grades hanging fire a little. We have in to-day a large fleet, and the city docks are pretty well filled, there being a scarcity of country buyers, owing to the near approach of the Fourth." Cargoes are selling slowly, and many will have to remain over until Monday, when the prices current during the last fortnight will undoubtedly be sustained. Shingles continue in active demand at $3.75@$3.87½ for prime A sawed. The demand for shaved shingles, however, is light, and grows less every season, being largely superseded by the sawed. Trade from the yards continues fair at the figures of last week. We quote as follows:

First clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	$50 00@55 00

From the monthly circular of Messrs Woolner & Garrick we obtain the following review of the Chicago lumber trade for the month of June:

In presenting to you our customary report of the Wholesale Lumber Market of this place, we refer to our former issues, the last of which was dated 1st June. At that time we drew especial attention to the large receipts as compared with former years so as to present the real cause for the decline in the prices of lumber by the cargo. In our remarks, however, a rather serious error occurred, and we now wish to correct it: the receipts for the month of May were given at 215,273,622 feet; this is the amount received for the whole year, from 1st January to 1st June, whereas the receipts for May alone were 152,576,100 feet, as correctly stated in the statistical report. We also expressed a doubt as to the possibility of receipts continuing at the same ratio; our expectations have thus far proved correct, the total receipts for June only amounting to 140,501,700 feet. The total receipts thus far exceed those of the previous year 93,567,293 feet, amounting in the aggrigate to 355,775,322 feet.

At the commencement of the month matters looked very gloomy, owing largely to the continual inclemency of the weather, and this remained unchanged for the first two weeks; during that time a great deal of water fell at many places where logs hitherto had been kept back for want of it, and henceforth, for this season, we shall hear no more of short crops of logs; another winter and spring will most likely witness a renewal of these statements, but to those in the least posted by experience they will have but little effect. All logs intended for this place will reach their destination, but the amount of these is not so large as to create a justified fear of overcrowding the market; as stated by us in our last, there are, in our opinion, not logs enough got out to increase the total receipts for this year beyond those of last to any great extent. During the latter half of June it has been a great deal easier to dispose of cargoes, and but few vessels have been held over from one day to another. The feeling seems universal that lumber has seen its worst for this season, and dealers, both in the city and country, are buying readily at the present ruling figures. The tendency at the present writing is towards an increase rather than decrease in prices. The demand is good and all offerings are readily taken. One of our reasons for thinking that the receipts will not be as extensive as thought by some parties, consists in the fact that the demand in the east has increased materially since opening of navigation, and that in consequence prices have risen $5.00 to $7.00 per M., which will divert to some extent lumber destined for this market in that direction. We learn that buyers for the eastern markets are paying at Saginaw prices which would not warrant manufacturers to ship this way. Everything appertaining to the trade here looks cheering, and prospects seem to be of a flattering nature, so that we look forward to a very lively fall business. The crops all over the Northwest give promise of an abundant yield, and as soon as this is beyond the reach of doubt, the demand will increase, and with it prices improve. The demand even now is rather good, as will be seen by the amount of shipments and home consumption, so that the stocks held here, although large, are by no means alarming. Of the cargoes offered for sale on the market from day to day, a great many are of an inferior character, and this accounts for the small price quoted; the better class are generally held by manufacturers who have yards here and who are not obliged to force them off.

From Canada lumber commences to arrive more freely, and henceforth we look for increased receipts. Hitherto the quality has not compared favorably with what we have been in the habit to expect from there in former years. Although we, at different times, have drawn particular attention to the kinds of lumber most suitable for this market, coming from Canada, we have nevertheless observed that some misunderstanding still exists. Owing to the heavy duties to be paid, we have advised to send nothing but wide 1-inch boards, with the clear sawed into 1¼, 1½, and 2-inch, and "strips." These two kinds are principally wanted, and will always command a better price than coarse building material. It must, however, be borne in mind that nothing is called "strips" except parallel pieces, 6 inches wide of good lumber and plump thickness; edging boards, not parallel and of different widths, from three to eight inches, are not desirable, and will most generally be measured for culls, and if they were ever so clear they would not average above the common grade.

We regret having to report that the stage of water in the Illinois River, which was excellent at our last writing and promised to continue so, has receded suddenly to such an extent that boats now loading and leaving must prepare to raft the lumber or pay lighterage; if the fall continues a short time longer all boating between here and St. Louis must necessarily be suspended. This is a serious drawback to the lumber trade, cutting off as it does one main channel of export. This loss, however, will be somewhat counteracted by the fine weather we are now enjoying, giving the farmers a better chance to haul loads over the country roads, which were almost impassable a month ago. Hitherto we have had but very little warm weather; now, however, the indications are decidedly in that direction, which will be of vast importance to the whole agricultural interest, and when we shall place before you our next statistics, by the 1st of August, the harvest of small crops will be gathered, and we can then form still more reliable conjectures; but at the present time the prospects seem to us decidedly flattering.

The trade in shingles, which was quoted as dull at the commencement of the month, soon took a more favorable turn, and has ruled very active throughout, with a steady demand in excess of supply, and the price has advanced from 12½ to 87½ cents per M. according to quality. The receipts have been considerably larger than in May, amounting to 74,391 M., but the shipments have advanced in the same ratio, so that stocks are by no means large. The feeling at present is very healthy, and the tendency seems upward. The quality offered is not always of a superior kind, and the same just complaint to which we drew attention in our last still exists, and has considerable influence upon the relative price. It is of great importance that shingles should be of even thickness, free of sap, and sawed in a proper manner. Some manufacturers send shingles to market without a proper stencil brand, and, small as the matter may seem, it hurts the sale, even if the article is good.

Lath have been offered rather freely, and continue low and dull. We are compelled to draw the attention of many mill men to the importance of sawing lath of strictly even length, four feet—no more, no less; a fault in this particular hurts the sale more than many others, and as it can be remedied so easily, we are somewhat astonished at such apparent carelessness.

The Milwaukie reports represent the market as fairly active, at about previous figures, though we note a few modifications in yard rates. Shingles were in demand and firm at $3 60@$3 75 for A and star sawed. The latest cargo sales were 90,000 feet scantling, joist, and timber, 12 @14 feet, at $15; 112,000 mill run at $15 25; 34,000 mixed lumber at $12 25; and 100,000 laths at $2 25; 52,000 scantling and joist at $10 62½; 52,000, mostly boards, some uppers, at $14; 80,000 mixed at $11 50; 140,000 feet, 60 per cent. strips, balance mixed, at $13 50; 98,000 scantling and joist, and 40,000 do. small timber, 12 to 24 feet, at $12 25; and 6,000 cedar posts, mostly split, at 9c. The yard rates were as follows:

Clear Plank, $50.00@55.00; Second Clear Plank, $45; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box), $30; Clear Flooring, dressed, $45; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $21@22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $15@16; Fencing, $15; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $15.00; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@7.00; Shingles, best sawed, $4.25@4.50; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

St. Paul prices remain as before, with no new features worthy of special note. Quotations as follows:

The position of affairs at the eastward remains without any very important variation, though it is reported that vessels within a day or two have become more plenty, and that freight charges have rather a downward tendency, a deduction of $1.00 per M. in some cases being made in order to secure cargoes. The disposition to forward stock in this direction was pretty general, for even at the recent decline there is still a fair margin for profit, provided the cost of transportation does not increase, but follows out present indications, and diminishes.

At Portland, prices remain steady, and figures still stand as follows:

The Boston market, during the week, has undergone no material alteration. The receipts have been quite liberal; but a brisk demand from the home trade and shippers prevented any great accumulation of stock, particularly of choice desirable quality. Quotations as follows:

Western Lumber.—Michigan Pine, Nos. 1 and 2, $63@$66; No. 3, $50@55; No. 4, $40@45. Black Walnut, Nos. 1 and 2, $70@75; do. do. Culls, $35@40. Ash, Nos. 1 and 2, $48@50; do. Culls, $30@35. The St. Johns (N. B.), Prices Current of June 20th reports as follows:

Coastwise freights continue about the same as at last report, with very few vessels offering. We hear of the following: Ida J., 93, Boston, $4.50; Hopewell, Boston, shingles 50c.; Mary Clark, 74, Providence, laths, $1.10; Louisa, 117, Stonington, $5.50; Louisa D., 170, Fredericton to New York, $7.

At the reduction noticed last week, prices remained steady, and we repeat previous quotations as follows:

A circular recently published at Quebec remarks as follows:

By the returns from the Office of the Supervisor of Cullers, it will be seen that very little new timber has yet been measured, but several large parcels of White Pine that wintered over and some to arrive have been placed at about 9d. for 70 feet, and 10d. for 75 to 80 feet.

Red Pine—Although dull at home, is moving off, and a great deal of old timber has been sold at our quotations.

Oak—Is dull and difficult of sale.

Elm—Is in good demand at 15d. for 40 feet in the raft, and 15½d. for 50 feet.

Tamarac—If good, finds buyers readily.

Standard Staves—Are very much depressed and command very little attention, but Puncheon are more saleable, although the prices in the English market hold out very little encouragement.

Deals—Are in good request, especially Bright Pine, and some large sales have been made of Spruce, although the specifications were not the best. For good specifications, our quotations may be considered the fair market value.

Five cargoes of lumber from Francestown, Nova Scotia, valued $30,000, were recently seized by the government on account of false returns. Four of them were sent to Providence, the fifth to Boston.

The Southern advices received this week are a little more encouraging to the interests of buyers, particularly in the Georgia districts, recent rains having brought down a goodly supply of logs, and with the mills now somewhat anxious to work off. Stock prices were lower. Shipments northward, however, were checked by the continued high freight charges, and the West Indian, South American, and European demand were depended on to take off any surplus. The following particulars of the lumber trade of Jacksonville (Fla.) we obtain from the East Floridian of June 25th, 1868:

We were very much interested, one day last week, in the replies to some questions from us about our lumber business, on the St. John's, and particularly in the vicinity of Jacksonville. Mr. Moody kindly gave us some information which, coming from a gentleman so largely interested in the lumber trade, may be looked upon as wholly reliable.

There are five gang mills in the neighborhood of our city, we believe, and we learn that the daily average of their production is 15,000 feet each—an aggregate of 75,000 per day, or about twenty-four millions of feet per annum! The supply of logs from our vast pineries is almost illimitable, and we see no reason why Florida should not soon enter into successful competition with Canada and Minnesota in the great lumber marts of the Eastern States.

* * * * * * * * * * * *

We learn that the cost of prime lumber, at the mills, is from $20 to $25 per M., freight to New York $14, and $15 have been paid to New Haven; a higher rate than has been known for fifty years. This is owing to the high freights now ruling in the West India trade; though we should think that a large number of the class of vessels which are required in the lumber trade, would find remunerative employment by engaging in the lumber business from the St. John's. Some apprehension exists among the uninformed captains and owners of the Northern schooner fleets as to the health of the St. John's river, during the summer months. Nothing could be more groundless.

Strangers may come to Jacksonville with impunity, at least for the period necessary to discharge and load, and and with as little risk as they could go to the Penobscot, or the St. Lawrence.

Do any of our citizens realize the great importanee and extent of the lumber business of the St. John's river? We believe that very few do, and we therefore append a few statistics, kindly furnished by our prominent lumber merchants. There are fifteen saw-mills, large and small, between Palatka and the mouth of the river, turning out an aggregate of 20,000,000 feet per annum! at the present time, when several of them are not working full time. In the course of the year, when full time and full complement of hands exist, this amount may be safely set down at 30,000,000 feet, which we hope to see employed in a very short time in the building up of towns, cities, churches, schools, all along the banks of our beautiful river.

The lumber business is about as safe an investment as any other that we know of, although there have been many failures in the enterprise. But these will be found to be the result of inexperience, incapacity, or lack of energy; or of all combined. It requires an able, business, practical head to run a saw mill; quite as much so as to "keep a hotel," and that has become the test of ability nowadays. We question whether any experienced miller has met with failure in the lumber business who has made it his business to attend to his business. But we need our bar improvements, for an additional foot or two in the channel would send a different class of vessels here to engage in our lumber freighting. Large cargoes could be shipped at a very small advance on the present rates of smaller vessels, while the receipts would be more than proportionally augmented.

We hope all our lumber merchants are members of the Board of Trade (if not they ought to be), and that they will add their votes and their dollars to the speedy improvement of our navigation, in which they and we and all of us are so largely interested, and upon which our future prosperity as a port of entry mainly depends. We shall speak hereafter of the great variety of our valuable woods for cabinet purposes, in which fortunes are to be made.

The latest quotations from Savannah are as follows: Timber, $7@$9 50 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$12 50 for small shipping do., and $13@$17 for large do. Lumber $20@$21 for ordinary sizes; $24@28 for difficult sizes, and $21@$23 for flooring.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00 @$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6.00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@12.00.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to July 2, 1868, were 13,086,152 feet of lumber, of which 1,346,939 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 11,739,213 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,602,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,795,893 to Philadelphia; 1,736,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,462,824 to Rhode Island, and 476,395 to other United States ports.

Wilmington prices are unchanged. We quote as follows:

The Baltimore market is reported as follows:

The market for the past week has been steady and regular, and former prices have been well maintained. The receipts of White Pine have fallen off, but of other descriptions the arrivals have been about equal to the demand. There are no large sales to report, but some have been made on private terms.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is moderately active in job lots, but the wholesale demand continues light. Prices are about as before, viz., 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. Scotch Pig Iron has again very materially advanced, and sold to quite a liberal extent, the demand arising from the fact that No. 1 American has become very scarce, and buyers take a better quality, for a substitute, in preference to a poorer one; we quote at $40@$43. American is firm, but the small supply of good quality prevents an active trade. The closing rates are $39@40 for No. 1, and $35@ 37 for No. 2. American and English common bar iron from store is quoted at $85@$90; and common bar iron refined $95@$100 per ton. Rods 5-8@3-16 inch $100@$160 per ton. Pig lead remains quiet at former rates, viz., 6¼c. @6½c., gold. Bar, pipe and sheet unchanged. Tin plates continue in very good demand, and the market is stiffening up on all desirable grades. The imports of plates for the week were 25,621 boxes, valued at $155,562. Zinc has been more active, and though without quotable change, closes firm at 12@13c. for sheet.

NAILS.—The demand for cut is fair, and prices steady at 4¾c. for 4d. and 6d. in large parcels, and 4⅞c.@5c. in jobbing lots from store. Clinch are selling slowly at the late decline, closing at 6¾@6¼c. On other styles holders' views are unchanged, and we still quote at 18c. for zinc, 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. per lb for copper. The exports for week embrace 305 kegs, valued at $1,506 against 435 pckgs, valued at $2,179 last week. There was also shipped to California 2,432 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—We note a continued dullness in nearly all kinds of paints, and the few purchases made are mostly to supply immediate and pressing necessities. China clay has become rather scarce, and a little more stock would not be amiss. Glue quiet, and prices unchanged. Linseed oil continues to sell very slowly and only in small parcels, and we note a further decline in prices, crushers' rates now standing at above $104@$105, but with outside parcels offered at $102. In bbls., the figures are about $105@$108, and for retail lots from store proportionately higher rates are obtained. The exports for the week are 35 pckgs. paint, valued at $940; 2,046 gallons linseed oil, valued at $2,098; 10 casks white lead, valued $689, and 10 tons oxyde zinc, value $400. To San Francisco 131 pckgs. paint were shipped.

PITCH.—The market is moderately active, and prices generally remain steady within about our previous range. City is quoted at $3.50, and southern $3.50@$4, for good to very choice. The receipts for the week are 123 bbls. Exports for week 26 bbls.; since January 1st 1,983 bbls., and for same period last year 2,694 bbls.

PLASTER OF PARIS.—Prices remain about as before, with a fair demand for the few unsold cargoes arriving. We hear of sales of some 700 tons white Nova Scotia at $4.65@$5. The receipts for the week foot up 1,090 tons.

SLATE.—The only item of interest presenting itself this week is the continued free arrivals; and all the yards of storage are gradually filling up, present appearances indicating a good supply for the balance of the season, though this will be governed in a great measure by the working of the miners, many of whom continue very restless and uneasy. An occasional sale is made to enable slaters to finish out jobs, and full prices obtained, but very few, if any, new contracts are entered into.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The arrivals during the week were rather more moderate, but the demand having subsided somewhat, holders made concessions in order to realize. The decline drew out buyers again to a fair extent, and at the present writing we note quite a steady feeling. The quotations standing at about 42½@43c. in wholesale parcels, and 43½c.@44c. for small lots, the outside in merchantable order. From store prices are not materially reduced. Receipts for week 134 bbls. Exports for week 181 bbls.; since January 1st 6,981 bbls., and for the same period last year 12,083 bbls.

STONE.—The stone-cutters are not doing a remarkably heavy business just at the moment, though nearly all the yards retain their usual number of men, and manage to keep things moving along slowly. At the quarries there is still considerable life, and though fresh orders continue rather scarce, contractors are disposed to push work as rapidly as possible, fearful that the workmen may catch the "eight hours and more wages" complaint, and check the production. We note the following as an item of interest: Recently, at the Maine granite quarry, near Hallowell, there was split from a sheet of granite a solid block 100 feet long, averaging in width 8½ feet, and in thickness 5 feet. The block contains no less than 4,250 cubic feet, and consequently would weigh 303½ tons. Probably a more ponderous and symmetrical mass of granite was never before quarried in the country.

TAR.—The demand has been very moderate, and only for odd job parcels and with some little pressure to realize prices have continued to work downward, closing without much strength, except on very prime parcels. We quote at $3.25@$3.50 for North County as it runs; $3.50@$3.75 for Wilmington do., and 25@50c. per bbl. advance for choice selected lots. No receipts during week. Exports for week 42 bbls.; since January 1st., 7,046 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,032 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of July 7th reports as follows:

The week, as is usual, during the national holiday, has been rather quiet. To-day, however, there is a large attendance of buyers, with a promise of an active business. Prices are firm and unchanged, with a large falling off in receipts, compared with those of the week previous. The falling off in the receipts by the Champlain Canal are not unexpected and were spoken of by us as probable a fortnight ago. Receivers of lumber from the North do not look for an increase of receipts for some time.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending July 4th were 27,331,000 feet against 25,886,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 351,770,000 feet against 275,801,000 in 1867—an increase so far this year of 75,969,000 feet. Quotations at Chicago, as published, show no change in prices.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending June 29th and July 6th, were:

	June 29th.	July 6th.
Buffalo,	9,671,600 feet.	7,073,100 feet.
Total	20,014,600 feet.	18,300,600

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	12,520,000	625	9,122	1,573,600
1867	17,416,400	1,906	.....	1,294,900

Of the Boards and Scantling received, 8,857,000 feet were by the Erie, and 3,663,000 feet were by the Champlain canal.

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	139,743,000	13,675	51,095	12,075,000
1867	80,585,600	5,371	.....	10,667,000

The receipts of lumber are now near upon 60,000,000 ft. ahead of those of 1867 to this date; of these receipts, less than 6,000,000 ft. can be placed to the credit of 1867, being detained by ice in the canal. The receipts in July, 1867, were large, about 81,000,000 feet, and in August, 1867, about 74,000,000 feet. We think it very probable that the receipts for July and August, 1868, will fall far below these figures.

Freights are unchanged, and rather quiet.

From, the regular monthly circular of Wm. H. Gratwick & Co., we obtain the following:

A comparison of the prices of to-day, with those of a month ago, will show but very few changes, and those are not important ones. Pine of all descriptions remains firm, but hemlock has yielded a little, being one cent lower all round, than the prices thirty days ago.

The receipts of the present year are some sixty-five million feet in excess of last year to this date, yet the stock now on hand is quite below the usual amount at this season of the year. The sales and shipments have been large, and the stock of dry lumber is about exhausted. The new sawing is now beginning to arrive, and the stock will of course increase during the next two or three months. July and August are usually thought the best months for buyers in this market, as during those months the stock accumulates; but we are entering July with such a moderate stock on hand, that the usual decline of prices can hardly be expected. In addition to this the present quotations barely yield an ordinary commission to those having purchased their stock, and this with a tendency to higher canal and lake freights, must keep freights fully up to the present range.

In regard to black walnut, would say we expect a further advance in price. The stock is unquestionably much short of last year, and the condition of roads has been all the season greatly against hauling. These things have already advanced the price at Toledo $5 to $8 per M. feet.

THE population of Hartford at the present time is between forty-five and fifty thousand. The city directory, will show an increase of names from 1636 in the year 1838, to 10,876 in 1868.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

BROOKLYN is rapidly narrowing the difference in population between itself and its great neighbor. From the report of the Kings county board of supervisors, it appears that while in New York there are 142,625 building lots, in Brooklyn there are 152,762, or sufficient for a population of 2,000,000, with much ground still unoccupied which is nearer the New York centre of business than Harlem. The number of first-class dwellings built in New York in 1867 was 658; in Brooklyn, 1,164. In New York, of dwellings less than three stories high, 261 were built, in Brooklyn, 1,106. Of manufactories and workshops were built, in New York, 36; in Brooklyn, 149. The dwellings completed in New York in 1667, which had been begun in the previous year, numbered 819; in Brooklyn, 2,272.

THE great auction sale of Equadate, in the suburbs of Chicago, came off last week and was an exciting one the property going at a high rate. The splendid grounds, amounting to about 100 acres, had been divided into about 350 lots, each of which has a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 164 feet. Sale commenced at a little before twelve, and closed at four,—when the last lot was sold—bringing the immense amount of $450,000. The highest price paid was $32.50 per front foot for five lots, by Mr. E. Mandeville. The average amount pald for each foot was $25.71, or $1,-185.50 per lot. It is probable that the majority of the purchasers intend eventually to erect residences on the property, though some, no doubt, bought simply for speculation.

THE Monson (Mass.), granite quarries employ 100 hands. The workmen use eight derricks and 1000 picks, drills, and hammers, and cut, dress, and send to the builders, 17,000 tons of stone annually. To carry on this establishment—pay help and furnish tools and teams, costs $450 a day. The granite is found mostly in layers and can be cut out easily. The longest stone that was ever quarried measured 17½ rods.

A GARDINER, Me., man named Spinger went to Chicago fifteen years ago and invested his fortune, $800, in house lots, a mile from the point which was then the centre of the city. To-day that property would sell at auction for $800,000, and Mr. Springer pays a tax upon $3,000,000.

THE amount of money loaned on mortgage upon San Francisco real estate in May was $996,570, and the amount released during the same time was $594,902. In addition to this, sixty-two mortgages, amounting to $371,566, to secure deferred payments on real estate purchased, were given. The sales during the month foot up 522; the amount of the purchase money being $2,107,283.

THE city of Paris contains about 2,000,000 of inhabitants, living in 50,000 houses. London has 3,000,000 of people and about 360,000 houses—the proportion of people to a house being five times larger in Paris than in the English capital. The London average is eight, and the Paris average forty to each dwelling.

AMHERST, Mass., is one of the most growing towns in the State at present. It is estimated that $450,000 worth of new buildings are being erected there this season, including the additions to the two colleges, which is one fifth the valuation of the town.

KEENE, N. H., is one of the most thrifty and growing places in New England. Last year about seventy dwelling houses, some of them very fine ones, were put up, and during the present season at least one hundred will be completed.

IN Fort Bend county, Texas, the following tracts of land were recently sold by the sheriff: 161 acres for 75 cents, in currency, per acre; 1,000 acres for $1.60; 640 acres at $1.20 per acre, and 5½ acres adjoining the town of Richmond for $105 currency.

THE population of the chief cities and towns of Minnesota is as follows:

Minneapolis, 14,000; St. Anthony, 5,000; St. Cloud, 3,500; Stillwater, 2,500; Hastings, 3,500; Red Wing, 4,000; Lake City, 3,000; Wabashaw, 2,500; Winona, 12,000; St. Paul, 18,000; Faribault, 4,000.

THE Cincinnati Gazette, noticing the RECORD'S statement concerning the number of vacant houses, says: "All over the country rents are in the declining scale, and 'For Rent' is seen posted on houses more frequently than for several years past. This is more especially true of expensive houses."

A SKATING rink is in process of erection in Boston at a cost of a hundred thousand dollars. The lot contains 30,000 feet, and the building, which is to be an elegant brick structure, will have accommodations for 1,500 skaters and 500 spectators.

GREENVILLE, Ohio, has a building association to raise monies to be loaned among the members, for buying lots and houses, and for building and repairing dwellings, with a capital stock of $200,000; shares $200 each.

THE population of Middlesex county, Mass., has increased from about 62,000 in 1820, to nearly 250,000 at the present time, and the valuation of property from less than $800,000 to more than $200,000,000.

LATEST real-estate rumors at Providence, R. I.: A stock company is going to build a $100,000 opera house, and A. T. Stewat, the merchant millionaire, is negotiating for a church property as the site of a branch store.

A LEAVENWORTH (Kansas) paper announces that A. T. Stewart has purchased half a block on Cherokee street, in that place, and is going to erect a mammoth wholesale dry-goods house to cost $450,000.

PORTLAND, Maine, boasts that it has the best hotel in New England in the new Falmouth, which cost $400,000. It is a six-story edifice of Nova Scotia sand-stone, with 180 guest rooms, and the furniture cost $80,000.

MR. MARK FORTH, the master cutler (mayor) of Sheffield, England, is about to erect and endow thirty-six almshouses, at a cost of £24,000.

A METHODIST society has bought the Indiana Female College at Indianapolis for $11,000 less than it cost, and will use the lot for a $100,000 church.

ST. MARY'S church, New Haven, having bought a lot for $16,000 in Hillhouse avenue, will erect a stone church at a cost of about $100,000.

THE assesed valuation of real estate in Rochester, is $8,431,375 and of personal property $1,732,600. The city tax this year is $38.13 on each thousand of valuation.

TAMMANY AND STEINWAY HALLS.

WE see it publicly announced that Steinway Hall is to be refitted in new and costly style, with every adjunct to produce a splendid architectural interior. This is all very well as far as it goes, but does not touch the vital objection to which we briefly alluded in our last, as applicable not only to this Hall, but to the still more imposing Tammany Hall, so recently completed. It is an undoubted fact that, no matter how beautiful and effective both these halls may be to the eye, they are lamentable failures in the very first essential for which they were constructed, viz., to allow large bodies of people to hear a speaker. No one who was present at the readings of Mr. DICKENS, in Steinway Hall, will deny that many at the end of the room were unable to hear, or heard very indistinctly, even so accomplished a speaker. So it was during the Convention at Tammany Hall; very few lungs of less strength than those of the secretary, Mr. PERRIN, were capable of making the speaker's voice heard to a majority of those assembled.

This is a serious matter, and it really behooves our architects to study the principles of acoustics before designing public halls of such pretension and costliness. Every one knows that a room, if built upon any scale of magnitude, with plain walls and ceiling—especially if the latter be disproportionately lofty—must necessarily cause that unpleasant jarring and confusion of sounds which we call resonance. This effect is produced by the commingling of an infinity of sounds, each one complete in its distinctness as an echo, as it rebounds from the plain surface of the walls and ceiling, precisely as would an infinity of billiard balls rebounding from their cushions, each one with its angle of incidence equal to its angle of reflection. How then is this to be remedied? In a quadrangular room we can think of no other way than by breaking the surface of the walls as much as possible by recesses, columns, pilasters, etc.; by having sunken panels in the ceilings; by the introduction of galleries and columns supporting them; by the large use of tapestry;—anything, in short, that can break an individual sound in its completeness, after reaching the audience, and prevent it from rebounding to mingle with other distinct sounds. To illustrate this, on a small scale, we have only to notice how differently the voice sounds in a large unfurnished room, to what it does when the same room has its complement of furniture, curtains, carpeting, etc. On a large scale, the Cooper Institute, which is good for sound, however bad for sight, is a case in point. It is good for hearing, not only because of its comparatively low ceiling, but on account of the large number of intervening columns, inconvenient as they otherwise are.

But other things must be guarded against besides resonance. The speaker should be so located as to economise his voice, and enable it to be thrown with least effort to the farthest end of the hall. For this purpose there is no form hitherto attempted that can at all compare with our ordinary shape for theatres. The promoters of the great church once intended to be built in Brooklyn, for the Rev. H. W. BEECHER, wisely determined upon this form, and so instructed architects competing. The church was never erected, and therefore cannot be cited in proof; but it is beyond question that any quadrilateral room for such a purpose would have been utterly useless. If a circular form could have been made applicable to the reception of a large congregation for public worship, much more so could it be for a hall devoted to concerts or for the purposes of public speaking. As to Tammany and Steinway halls, we can really think of no other cure just now than the introduction of something behind the speaker that could act as a sort of sounding-board; and which, while being useful, an architect of taste might possibly be ingenious enough to prevent from being altogether unsightly.

A SUGGESTION.

As so many buildings are about to be erected on City Hall Square, would it not be advisable to make that locality a "place of eminence" and an architectural lion, to which the Gothamite might look with the eye of satisfaction, and point with the finger of pride? The City Hall Park, as it at present exists, is far from being an ornament to the metropolis, as the many buildings it contains seem to have fallen there with a woeful disregard of uniformity and a wonderful incongruity of situation. It looks exactly as if a park, a fountain, and half a dozen public buildings had been shaken together in a huge dice-box, thrown out promiscuously, and left as chance located them. Suppose the city fathers should adopt the idea of forming a "Louvre" out of the park, by joining the apex and base of the triangle with two lateral piles of buildings connecting the projected post-office and the new City Hall. Then let the old City Hall, the Court of General Sessions, the Register's Office, and other public buildings, be removed, and the whole space thus obtained be thrown into a large park or common. Such a scheme would transform this unsightly place of incongruities into a palatial pile of elegant buildings, where the whole administration of the metropolis could be centralized, and all the departments be located in permanent and commodious quarters. This mass of marble buildings would afford us something to be proud of, forming, as it would, a triangular court of unparalleled splendor, at a cost which, if economically and conscientiously managed, would, before many years, amply remunerate the outlay by the entire saving in exorbitant corporation leases, the profits on which, in the last ten years, must have amounted to many millions. Public traffic across the park need not be interrupted, as arched gateways at intervals could be constructed in the lateral buildings, affording ample communication between Broadway and Park Row or Printing House Square. Nor would a great deal of space be deducted from the park, because the sides of the triangle need not cover over 50 feet each, which would afford all the requisite room for public offices, as light could be obtained from both sides; in fact, the sites of those buildings to be removed would more than compensate for the space to be occupied by the proposed erections.

OPEN-AIR CAFES.

A correspondent, in a letter to the Pall Mall Gazette, of London, asks the very pertinent question: "Why is there not permission granted for the erection of a café in the Mall in St. James Park, with seats and tables in the open air, where after dinner we could have our cigars and coffee, etc.? Why should we in London be deprived of all these open-air enjoyments, which would be such a luxury during the hot summer weather, and which the inhabitants of every other European capital can enjoy?"

By simply substituting the name New York for London, this sensible inquirer has hinted to us one of the best questions we could put to the capitalists of our city. If such a thing be necessary in London, much more so is it here, where our summers are so much more intense, as the sweltering reader will probably concede at the very moment that these lines meet his eye. If it be practicable in London, much more so is it here, where the cosmopolitan and gregarious nature of our people is ever on the lookout for new modes of catering to the tastes of the people, and where the inherent elements of our population are as ripe for such enjoyments as any to be found in the most pleasure-seeking centres of Continental Europe.

We have already an approach to this kind of thing in such efforts as the rival concert gardens recently established on 7th avenue, near Central Park, under THEODORE THOMAS, and on Third avenue, under CARL BERGMANN. But neither of these come up exactly to what the writer in the Pall Mall Gazette is asking for, and what we require. They are very good in their way, and are important strides in the right direction; but we require and have ample facilities for establishing such charming summer retreats as are to be found nowhere but in the leading cities of Continental Europe, in Germany especially. We have already learned much from our Teutonic friends in this matter, and shall be none the worse if we learn a little more. The wheels of society would move all the smoother if, instead of confining the workingman, in whatever department of life, he had abundant opportunities for taking innocent recreation in the open air, and enjoying himself in perfect freedom, surrounded by his wife and children. The spirit is here, the opportunities abundant; and all it needs is for capitalists to be shrewd and far-seeing enough to do the right thing in the right way.

A MAINE man has invented a machine by which 40,000 shingles can be cut daily.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

A greater amount of healthy enjoyment is obtainable within an hour of Wall street, than is afforded at the fashionable watering-places and over-crowded hotels in the popular far-away resorts. New Yorkers, though long alive to this fact, have this summer put the idea in practice, and all the villages within an hour's ride of the metropolis are fairly overrun by summer visitors. This flooding of suburban resorts calls for swifter and better communication with the city, and the magnates of our railroads must perceive that the time can not be far distant when solid substantial lines, that will permit of a speed of 40 to 50 miles per hour, must be constructed within at least a radius of 100 miles around the city. If the express trains on the Brighton railroad can carry the London merchant from that sea-side resort to the metropolis, 60 miles distant, why should we take two, or even three hours, to do the same distance along the Hudson? Among events bearing on real estate during the week, was a meeting of the West Side and Yonkers Elevated Railway Company, held at the company's office, 95 Liberty street, Monday afternoon, July 13. A large number of the corporators and others interested in the success of the undertaking were present. R. P. Getty, Esq., acting as President. Reports of former meetings, of work executed, and of the action of the Commissioners, were read and approved. The following gentlemen were then elected Directors: Messrs. W. G. Gurnee, Samuel D. Babcock, William E. Dodge, R. P. Getty, S. M. Pettingill, A. S. Barnes, and C. Q. Harvey. The Chief-Engineer was instructed to order material, and otherwise take such steps as were necessary to complete the road to Thirtieth street, with the view of having it open and ready for passengers before the close of the present year. There was another meeting held on Thursday.

GOSSIP.

The arable land of the United States, according to a statistician, amounts to fifty-two million farms of one hundred and sixty acres each....The recent growth of Bricksburg, N. J., has been remarkable. Two years ago it contained a few tenement houses, a small store, a church, and a foundry. To-day Bricksburg has wide and well graded streets, a large saw-mill, a sash and blind factory, carriage and cabinet works, a market, a bakery, a lumber yard two brick yards, a jeweler, a ladies's seminary, a public school, two religious societies, a farmers' club, a lodge of Free Masons, a lodge of Good Templars, and two hotels. There are also 14 stores where groceries, dry goods, hardware, boots and shoes, stoves and tinware, paints and oils, millinery, clothing, &c., are sold. Nearly 130 neat and substantial buildings have been put up since the commencement of the settlement; 200 farms have been more or less improved, within the past year, and there is now a population of about 1,200 people....Admiral Farragut owns a handsome property at Vallejo, California, the terminus of the Central Pacific Railroad, which will make him a millionaire....A piece of real estate in Midway, Ky., sold two years ago for $800, and a year ago for $1,500, was disposed of last week for $3,000....Good farms in Virginia are selling for about $30 an acre....Fine land near Gosport, Iowa, was recently sold for $36 an acre....Building in the Eastern District, Brooklyn, has been going on rapidly ever since the opening of Spring. New houses are rising in all directions, the majority of them being solid and substantial structures ...Operators in Passaic and Bergen counties are turning their attention more closely to building. The lumber-yards, which, during the times of speculation, were comparatively idle, are now busy.

SALES.

Extensive arrangements were made during the week for out-town sales at Long Island, Morris Co., N. J., Plainfield, Dunellen, and Elizabeth. Several points in New Jersey have rapidly increased in their population in the last ten years, and bid fair to grow in geometric ratio as their advantages become known. There seems to be every indication that real estate in the Eastern District of Brooklyn will soon appreciate in value. The attendance at the Exchange salesrooms during the week was rather slim, and those that met came rather for the purpose of talking over real estate matters than to buy. The following were the principal sales:

THURSDAY, JULY 9th.—Messrs. A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co. sold a lot and small house in Oliver st. for $6,275; a small country place in Westchester county, 10 miles from this city, comprising five acres of land, with a two-story frame dwelling and outhouses, for $27,500. Mr. James M. Miller sold a country residence at Upper Ravenswood, comprising 2¼ acres of land, with a two-story dwelling house, 40x38 feet, carriage-house, bathing-house and ice-house thereon, for $29,800. Also a place situated at the north-west corner of St. Mary's and New York avenues, at Vanderbilt's Landing, Staten Island, comprising 21 city lots, laid out as a lawn, with a two-story and basement Swiss cottage thereon, for $14,475.

TUESDAY, JULY 14th.—By ALLEN & BROWN—WEST ELIZABETH PROPERTY.—The land sold lies on the line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, at the (projected) West Elizabeth station, about one mile from Broad-st., Elizabeth. The farm, which was formerly known as the "Williams place," has been in possession of Mr. Holbrook, on whose account it was sold, about 15 years, and comprised about 63 acres, bordering on the railroad, and is mostly high and level. The farm has been intersected by proposed streets, which are, as yet, however, only marked by the furrow of the plow. The lots are city size (25x100 ft.), and were sold in plots of 4, the price bid being for a plot (50x200 ft.) The terms of sale were liberal, only 10 per cent cash being required, the remainder to remain on bond and mortgage three years, at 7 per cent. Of 200 people present at the sale, but eight became purchasers, and of these, four bought nearly all the property. J. S. Thompson purchased 13 lots at $650; 3 at $665; 1 at $760; 3 at $600; 3 at $475; 4 at $450; 4 at $675; 3 at $400, Geo. Wheaton purchased about 80 lots: J. B. Robbins, 20; Mr. Miller, 10, and John Hooper, W. S. Thompson, and others, a few lots at similar prices.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15TH.—BY A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co.—House and lot No. 33 Dominick street, between Varick and Hudson sts.; lot 23.4x100; purchased by Frederick Meyers for $10,000.

Lease of the first, second and third lofts at No. 99 Maiden Lane for two years; purchased by Warren Lazell for $500. BY JOSEPH M'GUIRE—One three-story and two-story brick buildings and lot, No. 140 Sullivan st., 150 feet from Prince st.; lot 25 feet front, 125 feet deep. 50 feet in the rear; purchased by Mr. Lichenstein for $23,000.

Two story brick house, with extension and lot, No. 40 McDougal st., 100 feet from Prince st.; house 20x29.11½, extension 7.6½x12.7; lot 20x74.9; purchased by Mr. Flynn for $10,200. DUNELLEN PROPERTY.—By LEWIS E. WOOD.—This is an embryo town on the line of the New Jersey Central Railroad, two miles and a half west of Plainfield. The property consists of a level piece of land of 350 acres, which has been divided into a number of lots of 25 feet by 150 each. About 100 people were on the ground, and if the weather had been of a more moderate temperature the attendance would have been exceedingly good. Very good prices were obtained, and purchasers congratulated themselves on obtaining such desirable lots, which at no distant future would command greatly enhanced prices, as Dunellen is only about an hour's ride from the city. The streets and sidewalks are wide, the parks and public squares are finely situated, and are to be tastefully arranged. Sites for churches, etc., have been reserved. The air here is pure and the scenery romantic, the Blue Ridge and the famous Washington Rock being in full view. The facilities for obtaining pure water are unsurpassed. About 20 feet below the surface is a stratum of quicksand about 10 feet in thickness, and by driving a tube through this, soft cold water may be drawn. About 75 lots, each 25x150 feet, in all were disposed of. The following is a full report, the prices being for a foot front: Block 9, lots 47 and 48, Mr. H. D. Smith, $4 a foot; block 9, lots 51 and 52, Smith, $4 a foot; block 8, lots 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, and 30, A. W. Warden, $4½ a foot; block 3, lots 21 and 22, A. C. Correll, $11 a foot; block 11, lots 11 and 12, E. C. Milligan, $4¾ a foot; block 10, lots 49 and 50, Z. L. White, $4¼ a foot; block 16, lots 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, and 36, Mr. Smith, $5½ a foot; block 2, lots 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, and 19, Mr. Crowe, $4¼ a foot; block 16½, lots 4 and 5, Ellis Camel, $6½ a foot; block 16½, lots 8 and 9, Ellis Camel, $5 a foot; block 16½, lots 14 and 15, A. C. Correll, $4¼ a foot; block 3, lots 13 and 14, G. W. Wendel, $3¾ a foot; block 10, lots 17 and 18, Wm. Handel, $5 a foot; block 9, lots 11 and 12, E. S. Jaycock, $4½ a foot; block 4, lots 21 and 22, A. H. Baker, $4¼ a foot; block 10, lots 13 and 14, A. S. Couse, $4¼ a foot; block 11, lots 9 and 10, Mr. Spangler, $4½ a foot; block 10, lots 37 and 38, H. D. Smith, $5 a foot; block 9, lots 43 and 44, H. D. Smith, $4 a foot; block 9, lots 41 and 42, H. D. Smith, $4¾ a foot; block 4, lots 43 and 44, Correll, $4½ a foot; block 4, lots 41 and 42, Smith, $4½ a foot; block 4, lots 8 and 9, Smith $6½ a foot; block 4, lots 7 and 8, Remschisel, $6¼ a foot; block 9, lots 1 to 6, G. W. Wendel, $3.90 a foot; block 10, lots 9 and 10, H. E. Underman, $3¾ a foot; block 11, lots 1 to 6, Mr. Remington, $4½ a foot.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—We have nothing new to advise in the general features of this market during the past week. The supply and demand have been about equal, and neither buyer nor seller gained any perceptible advantage, though we continue to note a pretty confident tone among the principal dealers and receivers, with no immediate prospect of any concessions being granted. There is again some increase in the city demand, many owners of buildings having become anxious to have jobs completed, taking the work in their own hands, and paying the strikers the rates demanded; but where the consumption under ordinary circumstances would be in the vicinity of 1,500,000 it is now only about 800,000. From out-of-town buyers a good demand prevails, and this, with the city trade, enables receivers to work off the daily arrivals without difficulty. The continued favorable weather enables manufacturers to work with great freedom, and the production is heavy. As the old stock is all exhausted, there is of course a constant drain upon the new, but under the present state of affairs, the outlet is too small to prevent an accumulation, and the sheds are gradually filling up. It will require some little time, to be sure, for the sheds to take in their full capacity, but unless a more active trade springs up, this must ultimately happen; and then, as we noted last week, the brickmakers will suspend operations for the season, and the crop fall short. Our prices for cargoes remain without alteration, but for smaller lots some dealers ark a very material advance. Fronts, both Croton and Philadelphia, remain about as before in price, with only a few small lots selling. We notice exports during the week of 10,000 bricks to British Honduras.

CEMENT.—On the common and inferior grades there is still some irregularity in price, and not much activity, but the inquiry for a few of the favorite brands continues very brisk, and at times agents find it difficult to supply all their customers. The business is mainly for coastwise shipment, with occasionally a small lot taken on city account. The general market rate for Rosendale remains at $1.75 per bbl., delivered. During the week 200 bbls. have been exported to West Indies, and 1,000 bbls. shipped to San Francisco.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—During the past week or ten days there has been rather more stock sold for Southern shipment, buyers having arrived with the ready cash; but aside from this we hear of nothing worthy of special note. Dealers generally complain of a slack business, but all are selling at full previous rates, in view of the continued high price of labor and material.

FOREIGN WOODS.—A visit to many of the principal yards since our last reveals a continued state of inactivity in all styles of woods under this head. There is, of course, a little business doing, but it is mostly in small jobbing lots, such as the immediate and pressing wants of consumers require. Our table of quotations, which is without alteration, gives approximate values, but prices vary greatly, according to size, quality, beauty, etc., of the log in treaty. The wholesale market is flat, and there is very little offering at auction. The receipts for the week are as follows: From Nuevitas 159 logs Mahogany, and 525 logs Cedar; from Santa Cruz 23 pieces Cedar, and from Mansanilla 180 logs Cedar. The exports embrace only 200 pieces Mahogany to Antwerp.

GLASS.—The market for all kinds remains dull and devoid of interest, city and near-by jobbers requiring little or no stock, and Western dealers apparently having entirely deserted this point as a base of operations. The arrivals continue small, and good, desirable sizes are still scarce. Discounts are without alteration. The latest imports are 513 packages, valued at $1,170; and 209 glass plate, valued at $29,504.

HAIR.—Cattle and mixed hair occasionally sell in small way, but Goat is neglected and the general market very dull. Prices nominally steady, and we retain former figures.

HARDWARE.—The market is quiet, with no change of importance in prices. Quite a number of Western operators have arrived, but as yet their purchases have been confined to small lots suited to immediate wants.

LABOR.—The bricklayers' strike still remains in an undecided condition, and no permanent advantage has accrued to either of the interested parties. The journeymen claim to have an unexhausted fund of their own, besides the large contributions made to them by other trades, such as the plasterers, carpenters, &c., and also boast of their ability to control a quarter of a million dollars if necessary. With this in view, the members of the Union still hold out for eight hours, and are daily paying a large number of men, unable to find employment, $2 00 per day each. Several gangs have left the city for various points, but in no case are they doing better than before the strike, and in some instances not so well. A fair number are working on the terms demanded, but as we have before intimated, they are employed by speculators and outside parties, who have merely a temporary interest, and care only to get their work completed in the shortest possible time. The Master Masons' Association presents a bold, firm front, and some of the very heaviest jobs in the city are lying idle because they refuse to employ men who are connected with the Unions, and governed by orders issued under the direction of half-fledged apprentices and second and third rate journeymen, for it is undeniable that few if any first class workmen have taken a leading part in the present strike. In fact, really good workmen in any branch of business are always appreciated by employers, and can command wages commensurate to their abilities; while it is the inferior mechanic, who is too lazy or indifferent to perfect himself in his trade, that resorts to "strikes" to force a scale of wages frequently far above his actual value. The latter class will in all probability always be strikers to a greater or less extent, and live and die in the ranks, while the former rising by degrees, will ultimately accumulate means, and occupy a prominent position in society. There is scarcely a "boss" mason today, who has not at some time during his life stood on a wall and handled his trowel as a journeyman; and nearly all express a determination to do the same thing again rather than submit to the dictates of men and boys who have yet to learn the rudiments of their trade. At various meetings employers have reported quite a number of workmen offering themselves at ten hours, and others willing to do so were it not for the threats of the members of the association; and in one or two cases actual violence having been used, it was resolved to call upon the authorities to aid in protecting men who were trying to earn an honest living. Employers have thus far given their misguided workmen every opportunity to resume operations upon original terms, but if they do not do so very soon, bricklayers will be brought in from adjoining cities, where wages are from $1 50 to $2 50 per day less than can be obtained here. The plan has already been tried, and though a few men were bought off or intimidated by the spies of the "strikers," it was found to work very well. The employing masons ask the support of other craftsmen, and they should have it, for the end is probably not yet. The passage of the eight hour bills by the general and State governments were, to say the least, injudicious, and all classes of workmen are beginning to fret, because they are still doing a day's work of ten hours, or more, as the case may be. In this city, we understand, the journeymen marble-cutters have given notice that they will strike for eight hours on the 20th inst.; in other localities and in other trades the same preparations are making, while in Pennsylvania the miners asking for eight hours as a day's work, and being refused, have broken out into open violence, and made it necessary to call upon the military to keep them in check. These are straws which should not be neglected, and would it not therefore be advisable for all employing mechanics to at once perfect an organization in order to combat a movement which, if successful, must result in very heavy losses to all concerned. The following was adopted at the Plasterer's National Convention, recently assembled at Chicago:

Resolved, That the plasterers of the United States, in convention assembled, do hereby pledge ourselves to support any Plasterer's society herein represented, which may feel disposed to strike for the eight-hours' labor movement, provided that such association notify the National society to that effect.

Resolved, That the various organizations composing the convention be and are hereby requested to advance their standard of wages approximating to five dollars per day, as soon as practicable.

The New York Society of Master Masons have resolved that henceforth they will refrain from giving any work to such "boss" plasterers as employ men connected with the eight-hour league. The following speaks for itself:

FROM THE MASTER MASONS OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK TO THEIR EMPLOYES.

At a meeting of the Master Masons, held at the Mechanics' Exchange, July 10, 1868, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we will sustain and guarantee our protection to those bricklayers who now return to their work at ten hours per day, and will give them preference over all others, and that a roll of their names and residences be kept at the Mechanics' Exchange, that transfers may be made from one to the other of the undersigned.

Resolved, That the same guarantee also be extended to the foremen.

Resolved, That the same guarantee also be extended to the laborers.

The employing masons have advertised very freely in the country papers for men to work at the old wages, and the responses thus far received lead to the belief that a large number will soon be in the city ready to accept the terms. We hear of no further action on the part of the boss brickmakers of Philadelphia, but the journeymen have held a meeting with the following result:

The reports of the committees were presented, showing that some of the men had gone to work under prices. Members of the association who are receiving the advanced wages then contributed one dollar each to support the strike. A motion to reconsider the ninth article of the by-laws, prohibiting members from working in yards where men are employed under wages, was adopted, and a resolution allowing men to work in such yards was passed. The following resolution was also passed:

Resolved, That all members of this association who have gone to work for less than the association prices are expelled from all rights and privileges of this association.

LATH.—The market remains very quiet, and the feeling of weakness referred to in our last is, if anything, still more apparent. Holders, to be sure, still ask and quote at $3 00 per M, but the majority of buyers flatly refuse to pay more than $2 75, and do not want many at that. The arrivals are moderate, but ample for present wants, and a fair amount of stock is en route, though we again hear rumors that the millers talk of stopping their saws, owing to the prevailing low rates now current here. If the mills do stop, we are inclined to think the scarcity of water will have more influence in the matter than the price, as $3 00 per M pays the manufacturer a very fair profit. The sales during the week have been mostly in small lots, many coming in with cargoes of lumber to fill up, and the aggregate foots up some 1,600,000, at $2 75@$3 00 per M, according quantity, mode of delivery, &c.

LIME.—Rockland lime is still very dull, in fact the market is almost at a complete standstill, and the comparatively small stock here is held in store, awaiting customers at $1.10 for common, and $2.00 for lump. These rates, however, do not pay manufacturers any profit, and the production and shipments are for the present almost suspended, though some four or five cargoes have been started, with the hope that by the time they reach here some reaction will have taken place. North River lime is also quiet, though a few sales are made from day to day in jobbing lots, at about the same figures as above quoted.

LUMBER.—Trade at the yards is not only dull, but in most cases completely stagnant, and very few dealers, at the moment, are doing more than enough to pay current, expenses. The excessive heat to which we have lately been subjected, has no doubt had some influence in checking business; but the agitation of the labor question, and the apparent disposition among workmen to continually demand greater privileges, has, we think, been one of the main causes of the falling off in the demand. No one certainly can feel much of an inclination to engage in building operations while contracts are likely at any moment to be ruined by strikes for advanced wages or reduced working hours; and the few little lots selling are mostly to finish out nearly completed jobs. The falling off in the arrivals at Albany during the past two or three weeks, is beginning to be felt here, and our receipts are now comparatively small, though a large proportion of that coming in, goes to increase the supply, as the sales are not large enough to act as an offset to the arrivals. Prices as a general thing remain firm, particularly on well-seasoned and desirable lengths stock, and we make no alteration in our table of quotations. The wholesale market shows no very important alteration, except probably a trifle more activity than at the date of our last report. Eastern spruce has arrived with less freedom, and meeting with a demand sufficient to exhaust the supply, prices are well sustained, closing strong at $18@$20 per M. Buyers refuse to pay any advance as yet, but at $18 we notice an inclination to operate pretty liberally, both on the spot and to arrive; and a few more cargoes per week could probably be easily disposed of at the above rate. Taken altogether, the market for spruce has become more steady and uniform, with indications that about the lowest point has been reached, for the present at least Eastern Hemlock is scarce, attracts very little attention, and is quoted somewhat nominally at $14@$16 per M. White Pine continues in request, both for home use and shipment, prices ruling steady, but without quotable alteration. The export inquiry is largely from the west coast of South America, and there is now loading for Callao and Valparaiso a cargo of 900,000 feet, one of 230,000 feet, and one of 200,000 feet, at $31 for box, $35 for shelving, and $62@$62.50 for good. Western White Oak continues dull, and nominally unchanged, as dealers have had but little desirable stock to offer; but we notice arrivals of new during the past few days, and this may draw out some inquiry. Piling having been rather forced off during the recent dull season, there is now very little stock in receivers' hands, and as the demand is improving, prices begin to stiffen. No sales of importance have been made above 6½@7½c, though they are now rather inside figures. Pickets without change, and we still quote at $11.00@$13.00 for spruce. In Southern pine there is no alteration of importance to advise, the market remaining at about last week's figures, viz: $32.00@$35.00, with occasionally a very prime lot running up as high as $37.00 @$40·00, and some undesirable grades as low as $29.00@ $30.00, the latter generally inch boards, which are very difficult to work off. Our table of shipments makes up small this week, but there is a fair amount loading, and we shall have increased exports ere long. The principal sales coming under our notice, include 1,300,000 feet Eastern spruce, at $18@$20; 300,000 feet white pine box boards at $23@25; 60,000 feet white pine, good, fourths and selects, at $61, delivered at ship; and 200,000 feet Southern pine at $29 for inferior, to $32.50@35.00 per M. for good to choice. We also learn of a sale consummated here embracing 800,000 feet old stock, now lying at Southern ports, from whence it is to be shipped to South America. The price was about $18@20 per M.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

We notice shipments from Baltimore to Mantanzas of 45,031 feet lumber, and to Europe 110,000 staves. From New Orleans to London, 18,200 staves; to Liverpool, 23,850 do.; and to other European ports, mostly on continent, 333,330 do.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

Chicago, July 13th, 1868.

Since my last of 3d inst. there has been a decided improvement in cargo sales, all grades advancing about 50c. by M. for the week ending, July 11th, and to-day we have a still further improvement of 50c. per M. on the better qualities of strip and board cargoes. The past week opened with a large fleet at the sale dock, but with a good attendance of both city and country buyers; all were speedily worked off, and since then the receipts have been very uniform, averaging about 15 or 18 cargoes per day. Advices from all quarters west of here give the most flattering accounts of the prospects of grain crops, the success or failure of which exercises a decided influence on the lumber trade. Good strip and board cargoes are now bringing $16@$17.50 per M.; ordinary mill run $14@15.50, and coarse $12.50@$13.50. Receipts of shingles have been light, the demand active, and prices are advanced to $3.87½@$4 by car load, for prime A sawed. A comparatively light business is anticipated during the next fortnight, as farmers will be busy in the field. Yard rates are unchanged, as follows:

First clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	$50 00@55 00
Second clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	45 00@50 00

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@$45; cherry $30@$40; hickory $20@$25; ash $20@$23, and $18@$22 for ordinary oak.

At Milwaukee there has been rather less activity, owing in a great measure to the arrival of large quantities on contract, and a scarcity of dockage. The latest sales were a cargo of scantling, joist, and timber, 12 to 40 feet, at $15: four cargoes mixed, $11.75@12.50; a cargo ⅔ strips and boards, balance mixed, at $14.75, and a cargo at $13.50 for deck load, joist and timber, 12 to 30 feet, and $12.25 for lumber in hold. Shingles were in brisk demand, short supply, and firm at $3.62½@$3.87½ afloat. Lath dull at $2@$2.25 per M. Yard rates steady as follows:

Clear Plank, $50.00@55.00; Second Clear Plank, $45; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box); $30; Clear Flooring, dressed, $45; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $21@22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $15@16; Fencing, $15; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $15.00; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@7.00; Shingles, best sawed, $4 25@4.50; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

St. Paul quotations still remain as follows:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards; $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 20 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.: $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

From a letter to the Milwaukee Sentinel, dated Whitehall, Mich., July 6, we make the following extracts:

"One of the most important lumber regions upon the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, and one which successfully competes in the amount of lumber, lath, and shingle productions with any locality outside the city of Muskegon, is that found upon the borders of White Lake.

"An immense amount of capital is invested in the lumbering business here, and no less than eighteen saw mills, many of them of the largest size and capacity, are located upon White Lake, and furnish constant employment to hundreds of hands.

"In addition to the vast lumbering business in operation upon the banks of White Lake, the manufacture of shingles is extensively engaged in. This branch of manufacturing, although requiring less capital than the manufacture of lumber is equally remunerative, and is here carried on with a degree of success unsurpassed in any other locality upon the eastern shore.

"The extent of the lumber and shingle business here will be better appreciated when we state that three steam tugs are kept in constant employment, towing vessels out and into the harbor of White Lake, which are engaged in transporting the productions of the mills to the Chicago and Milwaukee markets. In the month of May of the present year, 175 vessels cleared from this port, loaded with lumber and shingles, and carrying from 50,000 to 120,000 feet of lumber each.

"This is probably a fair average of the vessels loaded here during each month of the lumber season. The history of the lumbering business here, is one of absorbing interest, and its steady increase from the commencement to the present, is highly creditable to the energy of those engaged, as well as to the vast extent of the resources of the White Lake lumbering region.

"The extensive lumbering business of this locality shows no signs of diminution, and at least two score years must pass away ere its resources for this particular branch of business will exhibit any evidence of exhaustion. At the head of White Lake, and between the villages of Whitehall and Montague, empty the waters of White River, a stream which traverses in its tortuous course a hundred and fifty miles of country, prolific in the choicest quality of pine. Along its banks are frequently found groves of maple, beech and oak, which grow upon a soil of surpassing fertility, and adapted to agricultural pursuits.

"The vast extent of the pine forests to the east and south of White Lake will furnish ample material for the manufacture of lumber and shingles for long years to come, and the soil upon which it grows being of a productive character and peculiarly adapted to the raising of fruit, must make the resources of this locality inexhaustible and banish every barrier to its future growth and prosperity."

In the course of the letter there also appears a tabular statement from which we learn that on the borders of White Lake there is in operation eighteen lumber mills with an aggregate capacity of 72,500,000 feet, and seven shingle mills with an aggregate capacity of 34,000,000.

At Dubuque on July 9th a sale took place embracing 1,400,000 feet Wisconsin lumber at $16.00@$18.00; and 300,000 feet Upper Wisconsin at $20.00.

From Detroit we learn of a fair, steady business doing, with some buoyancy to prices, though as yet no changes had been made, and we still quote as follows: $40@45 for Clear, $16@18 for Boards, $8@10 for culls, $26@28 for common flooring; $35@40 for dressed do.; $20@30 for long joist; $10@11 for short joist and scantling; $20@45 for bill stuff, and $35 for deck plank.

The Eastern markets, so far as we learn, still continue very fairly active, and, as a general thing, quite steady. The shipments in this direction are pretty free, but many cargoes are starting under freight charges considerably above current rates, owing to the fact that vessels chartered some time ago at the then high figures, have now just got around and made ready for loading. The production proceeds thus far without interruption, and probably all outstanding contracts will be met, but lumbermen begin to entertain serious fears of a stoppage for want of water, the continued drouth already having a very perceptible effect upon the streams.

At Portland the prices current remain the same as last week, and we repeat quotations as follows:

A drive of five million feet of lumber arrived at East Machias on the 25th ult., and another lot of three million feet is expected about this time. Some 40,000,000 feet of lumber are cut out at Machias annually.

The latest report from Boston is as follows:—

The surveys of lumber in this district for the week ending July 4, comprise twenty-nine cargoes of domestic, containing 1,878,035 feet, and fourteen cargoes from the Provinces, containing 779,036 feet—making a total of 2,657,071 feet. The surveys for the present week comprise twenty cargoes of domestic, containing 2,322,197 feet, and twelve cargoes from the Provinces, containing 693,958 feet—making a total of 3,017,655 feet.

The demand both from builders and for export continues active, and thus far has been sufficient to absorb the receipts. Low water on many of the smaller streams will lead to a lessened production, but there is no fear but what lumbermen will be enabled to fill all orders. Prices remain firm and the market is active at quotations.

J. Bell, Forsyth & Co.'s circular, published at Quebec July 9th, 1868, reports as follows:

Since we last issued our circular the market for most kinds of timber has been very animated, although holders of white pine, of which comparatively little has yet arrived, do not seem disposed to press sales, as many rafts will be left on the Ottawa and its tributaries, owing to continued drought. Were the market at all encouraging in England parties here would have greater inducements to purchase, but beyond actual requirements buyers do not seem anxious to operate. Prices are firm, and we quote 7d to 7½d for 50 to 55 feet; 8d to 8½d for 60 to 65 feet; 9d to 10½d for 70 to 80 feet, according to quality.

Red Pine—Is very dull and depressed on the other side, but the quantity in the coves has been greatly reduced since the opening of the navigation.

Oak—Is very unsaleable, and the quantity expected larger than the last two years.

Elm—Is in good demand, especially small averages, if the quality is good.

Tamarac—Finds ready buyers, both square and flat, if large and good.

Standard Staves—Are pretty firm, as the quantity that has come forward has not been large, but the prices from every part of the United Kingdom are anything but satisfactory, as many cooperages have been closed.

White Oak Puncheon—Are offered pretty freely at our quotations.

Deals—Are held firmly, the low waters having a decided tendency to induce holders to be cautious in parting what they hold. Bright Pine and Floated are both in good request. For Spruce there is some inquiry.

Freights.—26s to 26s 3d to Clyde; 26s to Liverpool; 30s for Bright deals to London; 31s for hardwood, and 75s for deals to Glasgow and Liverpool.

From the South we hear of nothing of interest, business generally being dull, and the mills only working on back orders. Prices were somewhat irregular, but on the whole, without much general strength. At Darien, Ga., the figures quoted were about $20.00@$23.00 per M. for boards, while at Jacksonville, Fla., the rates stood at $15.00@$19.00, though at the first mentioned place the seller has some advantage in regard to quality.

At Savannah the lumber mills were all running on back orders and refusing to make new contracts, owing to the uncertainty in regard to freights. Timber was arriving moderately, mostly mill quality, but very little was expected for several weeks, owing to the low stage of the water and the approach of the planting season. The latest quotations are as follows: Timber, $7@$9 50 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$12 50 for small shipping do., and $13@$17 for large do. Lumber $20@$21 for ordinary sizes; $24@30 for difficult sizes, and $21@$23 for flooring

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6.00@8 00; and shipping $11.00@12.00.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to July 11, 1868, were 13,952,496 feet of lumber, of which 1,565,659 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 12,386,837 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,844,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,795,893 to Philadelphia; 1,806,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,613,106 to Rhode Island, and 661,737 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington there is a moderate inquiry for ship stuff, and the market rules firm at former figures. We quote as follows:

The Baltimore market is reported as follows:

There appears to have been a holding back by purchasers this week, and in consequence the trade in large lots has fallen off. The yard dealers, however, are all brisk in filling orders for both city and country demands, but, on the whole, trade has not been so good as during the three weeks previous. The recurrence of the holiday of 4th of July has perhaps had something to do with this slackness. The receipts of all kinds of Southern lumber have been large, and the White Pine trade has about filled the public wharf.

METALS.—Copper sheeting continues in fair request, without change in prices, and we still quote at 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. The market for both foreign and domestic pig iron has been very active, and considerably excited, owing to the probability that the strike of the miners in Pennsylvania will seriously impede the production of American the stock of which is already small. Prices generally have not further advanced, but close firm, with holders rather indifferent about operating. We quote Scotch pig at $40 00@$43 00 per ton. No. 1 American do. $39 00@40 00 do, and No 2 do. $35 00@$37 00 do. Bars from store are rather dull, and scarcely so firm. American and English common bars are quoted at $85 00@$87 50 per ton; do. do. refined $95 00@$98 00 do. Rods ½@3-16 inch $100 00@$160 00 per ton. Sheet iron single D. and T.

common, 5@7c. per lb.; do. Russia, medium numbers, 18¼ @19½c. do. Pig lead continues to sell slowly, but is steady, particularly on soft qualities. We quote at 6¼@6¾c. gold. Bar, pipe, and sheet lead without change. Tin plates cannot be quoted any higher, but on all good desirable grades, there is a firm confident feeling, with a fair inquiry prevailing. The imports of plates since our last are 14,351 boxes valued at $90,096. Zinc continues in fair request, and steady, the sales of sheet from store still being at 12c. @13c.

NAILS.—Cut have met with a little more inquiry, and, though no higher, there appears to be a stronger tone at 4¾c. for 4d and 6d in wholesale lots, and 4¾@5c., for do in retail lots. Clinch steady at 6¾@6½c. Other kinds meet with about the usual inquiry, and are firm at 18c. for Zinc; 26c. for Yellow Metal, and 40c. per ℔ for Copper. The exports for the week embrace 78 packages, valued at $768, against 305 packages, valued at $1,506, last week. There has also been shipped to San Francisco 4,680 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Paints of all kinds have become very dull, even the usual jobbing trade showing a marked falling off, and prices are somewhat unsettled, about the only article showing any firmness being French ochre, of which there is little or no supply here. Glue is steady, and good first-class stock could be sold to a fair extent. Linseed oil has been moderately active, but the free offerings and a continued pressure to realize, gives buyers the advantage, and prices are again reduced, closing at $1.02@ $1.03, from crushers' hands, and $1.00@$1.02 from outside parties, with barrels and retail lots at proportionate values. The exports for the week were 125 packages paint, valued at $1,096, and 500 barrels oxide zinc, valued at $6,510. Shipments to San Francisco of 10 packages paint, 12 barrels varnish, and 211 packages white lead.

PITCH.—There has been only a small amount of trade doing, and holders rather more anxious to operate, but as yet no concessions have been granted. We quote at $3 50 for city and Southern, with choice selections at $3 75@ $4 00 per bbl. There have been no receipts, and no exports since our last.

PLASTER PARIS.—The lots now arriving, which have not been previously disposed of, find a very fair market at about previous rates, though it requires an extra fine cargo to command outside quotations. The latest reported sales are 1,650 tons white Nova Scotia lump, at $4.65@ $5.00 per ton. The receipts since our last are 1,475 tons. About 1,000 bbls. calcined have been shipped to San Francisco.

PLUMBERS' MATERIALS.—The wholesale market appears to be pretty dull at the moment, manufacturers and dealers being only called upon to supply odd jobbing orders. Prices, however, have undergone no variation worthy of note, and the spring price lists and discounts are still current on all leading articles.

SLATE.—The receipts from all points continue unusually heavy; the country trade is comparatively light. From the city there is no demand, as the bricklayers' strike prevents slaters from working, and our stock, in consequence, is piling up very heavily. The supply now here is not larger than could be used, but should the arrivals continue at the present ratio, but a short time longer, there will be an overplus, and buyers gain the advantage, unless, of course, the demand improves. Already dealers begin to show signs of weakness, and though no actual decline can be quoted, rates are somewhat nominal on all grades.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Since our last report there has been some irregularity, prices advancing early in the week, but under anticipated large arrivals subsequently falling off, and closing, as we write, without much strength at about 42½@43c. for wholesale lots, and 43½@44c. in a jobbing way. Store prices are a trifle easier. Receipts for the week 1,053 bbls. Exports for week, 632 bbls.; since January 1st, 7,613 bbls., and for same period last year, 18,388 bbls.

STONE.—We hear of nothing worthy of special note in this market, except probably some irregularity in the common grades of native foundation stone, which are pretty plenty, and in some localities can be had for the cost of carting. Larger sizes of base and pier stones, however, are not so easily obtained, and on these prices are firm.

TAR.—The market has not been unusually active, but a very fair inquiry prevails, and at the decline noted in our last, prices are more steady on all grades. According to the latest sales, the market now stands at $3 25@3 50 per bbl. for North County and Wilmington, as it runs; and $3 75@$4 00 for good to choice selections in order in yard. Receipts for week 584 bbls. Exports for week 900 bbls.; January 1st, 7,946 bbls.; and for same period last year, 3,032 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of July 14th reports as follows:

The intensely hot weather has checked business in the District, especially in the movement of lumber to and from vessels. The demand has, however, been fair, and prices have been steadily maintained.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending July 6 and July 13th [with one day short at Buffalo], were:

	July 6.	July 13.
Buffalo	7,073,100 feet	6,611,700 feet.
Total	18,300,600 feet	16,179,100 feet

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending July 11th, were 35,147,000 feet, against 31,486,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 886,917,000 feet, against 807,287,000 feet in 1867, an increase, for this year of 79,630,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of July, were:

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	15,437,700	2,072	.....	871,000
1867	19,701,900	1,341	.....	514,500

Of the Boards and Scantling received, 11,636,000 feet were by the Erie, and 3,801,600 feet were by the Champlain canal.

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	155,180,700	15,747	51,095	12,946,000
1867	100,287,500	6,712	.....	11,241,500

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

"THE brickmakers have invested, in Louisville, Ky., the sum of $170,000; the aggregate production is $625,000, or a gain over the capital of $455,000. There are twenty-seven persons engaged in it, cutting down the average share to each, $16,851—if their capital was equal. They make annually $1,500,000 worth of brick.

THE Portland, Me., Star says that during the present season at least 500 new houses and stores will be built or completed in that city. According to its estimates, this will make a total of about 2,000 erected since the great fire. The number of buildings then burned was about 1,700.

LINCOLN, the new capital of Nebraska, now contains about one hundred and fifty houses. The school lands south of Lincoln have been sold. They consisted of three hundred and twenty acres, and brought the handsome price of $35,788, or $111 83 per acre.

RENTS are coming down in the South as well as North. In Macon, Ga., a house which brought $3,700 in 1866 and $2,000 in 1867, engaged from the first of next October at $1,700. Another, which is now bringing 2,700, at $1,200.

THE Chicago real estate transfers for the past three weeks were as follows: Week ending June 20th, deeds 173, amount $624,259; ending June 27th, deeds 190, amount $692,666; ending July 4th, deeds 123, amount $477,654.

THE promenade concert to be given in Norwich in honor of the New York Seventh Regiment, will take place in a tent 205 by 85 feet, which will require 25,000 feet of lumber and several thousand feet of timber for the flooring.

A SOLID block of granite, 100 feet long, 8½ feet wide and 5 feet thick, was recently quarried from Hallowell, N. H., granite, containing no less than 4,250 cubic feet and 303½ tons.

CLEVELAND has a population of 93,968.

LINCOLN, the new capital of Nebraska, starts off well in its early growth, and promises rapid and extensive increase. At a recent sale of building lots the biding was quick and active, the price ranging from $40 to $240 each. Two locations for business, 25 by 142 feet each lately sold for $1000 each, and a Chicago capitalist has paid $4000 for 40 acres adjoining the city.

THE four-story brick buildings, with granite basements, corner of Knuland and Cone streets, Boston, has been sold for $41,000. It contains 60 by 40 square feet of land.

NEARLY a hundred acres of willows are cultivated in Wyoming county, N. Y. When ready for market they bring from $170 to $200 per acre.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., gained 6,000 in population by Cranston's annexation, and 2,000 acres in territory, valued at $3,144,700.

ONE firm at Exeter, N. H., work up yearly about 300,000 feet of lumber into packing-boxes for carriage hubs and spokes.

THE assessed value of property in Nebraska is $32,000,000; an increase of $14,000,000 over last year.

THE Albany Argus has purchased the building in which it is published, and receives deeds extending as far back as 1744.

THERE is a saw mill at Muscatine, Iowa, that turns out 35,000 feet of lumber, 12,000 lath and 12,000 shingles per day.

COL. F. PARKER and two others have purchased the West Rutland, Vt., marble quarries for $150,000.

A LYNN, Mass., citizen, who paid $200 for a five-acre lot there 25 years ago, has just refused $18,000 for it.

A MOVEMENT is on foot in England to establish a college for young women, the buildings to cost about $150,000.

A RECENT census of Chicago makes the population 240,044. In 1866 it was 209,428; in 1865, 178,529.

BATAVIA, N. Y., possesses $1,626,085 worth of real estate and $1,118,804.34 worth of personal.

THE number of dwelling houses in Iowa in 1865 were 114,351, and in 1867, 155,758.

CORPORATION NOTICE.—PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots, improved or unimproved lands, affected thereby, that the following assessments have been completed and are lodged in the office of the Board of Assessors for examination by all persons interested, viz.:

1. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter and flagging the sidewalks a space four feet wide in 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues.
2. For building a sewer in 57th street, between 3d avenue and the East River, with branches in Avenue A and in 58th street.
3. For paving with trap block 47th street, from 11th avenue to the Hudson River.
4. For building sewers in 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues, with branches in 5th avenue.
5. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter stones and flagging sidewalks a space four feet wide in 122d street, from 2d avenue to the Harlem River.

The limits embraced by such assessment include all the several houses and lots of ground, vacant lots, pieces and parcels of land, situated on

1. Both sides of 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues, to the extent of half the block either way on said avenues.
2. Both sides of 57th street, between 2d and 3d avenues, and 1st avenue and the East River; also, both sides of 58th street, between 1st avenue and Avenue A; also, both sides of Avenue A and the east side of 1st avenue, from 57th street to a point half way between 58th and 59th streets.
3. Both sides of 47th street, between 11th avenue and the Hudson River, to the extent of half the block either way on the west side of 11th avenue.
4. Both sides of 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues; also the south side of 63d street, between Madison and 5th avenues, and the east side of 5th avenue, from 59th to 63d streets.
5. Both sides of 122d street, between 2d avenue and the Harlem River, to the extent of half the block either way on the intersecting avenues.

All persons whose interests are affected by the above-named assessments, and who are opposed to the same, or either of them, are requested to present their objections in writing to Jacob F. Oakley, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, at their office, No. 32 Chambers street, basement New Court House, within thirty days from the date of this notice.

JACOB F. OAKLEY,
JOHN D. OTTIWELL,
ISAAC O. HUNT. } Board of Assessors.

Office Board of Assessors, New Court House, July 11, 1868.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to the opening of certain new avenues, roads and public places or parks, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, in the City of New York.

The Commissioners of the Central Park, in the name and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the people of the State of New York, entitled—"An act relative to the powers and duties of the Commissioners of the Central Park," passed April 4, 1866, and of the act entitled—"An act to enable the Commissioners of the Central Park to make further improvements in the City of New York," passed April 18, 1866; and of the act entitled—"An act to alter the map or plan of certain portions of the City of New York, and for the laying out and improvement of the same," passed April 24, 1867; hereby give notice that they intend to apply to the Supreme Court, in the First Judicial District of the State of New York, at a Special Term of said Court, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on Friday, the 31st day of July, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter. That the nature and extent of the improvement hereby intended is the opening of a new avenue, eighty feet in width, between the 8th avenue and 9th avenue, and running from 100th street to the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas and Manhattan street.

Also a new avenue running diagonally from the new avenue last mentioned, at or near 113th street, to the 9th avenue, at 116th street.

Also a new avenue between 9th and 10th avenues, running from 110th street to 122d street.

Also a public place or park between 110th street and 123d street, and intermediate the three new avenues before-mentioned, the 9th avenue and the 10th avenue.

Also a public place, being a triangle formed by the intersections of 114th street and the first-named two of the above-mentioned new avennes.

Also a public place, being a quadrilateral formed by the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas, 123d street and the first-named of the above-mentioned new avenues, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park in the City of New York. Dated New York, July 7, 1868.

RICHARD O'GORMAN,

THE BRICKLAYERS' STRIKE.

WE regret to find that the strike among the bricklayers of this city still continues, and that there is no immediate prospect of their coming to an early settlement with the master masons. At a meeting held by the latter on Monday last, at their Exchange, 51 Liberty street, there certainly was not the slightest disposition manifested to recede from their position; on the contrary, a resolution was moved and unanimously carried, to adhere to the resolution passed by them on the 10th of this month.

This is a matter very deeply to be regretted on every side, but on none more than that of those who originated the strike, as it is only too probable that this will end—as nine-tenths of all similar combinations have ended—in making the good, honest, and skilful workman worse off than he was before. There is something unnatural in this ever-recurring struggle between Capital and Labor, not only here, but in other countries the wide world over; and it seems wonderful that all the statesmen and philosophers—past and present—should never have devised a means of ensuring perpetual harmony between two such inseparable and mutually dependent elements. As well might antagonism exist between the heart and the arms of the same body; between the foundations and superstructure of the same building; between the centre and the circumference of a circle.

Without attempting to enter into the relative merits of this quarrel, one thing must appear evident to every one, and that is that a more unfortunate time could not have been selected than the present for the inauguration of such a movement. Owing to the unsettled condition of the money market, and the difficulty among capitalists for selecting investments, a very large proportion of the pent-up capital of the city was being turned in the direction of building; and two or three months ago there were symptoms of such activity in this direction as was never before witnessed, even in this fast-growing metropolis. This movement, of course, tends to spoil it all. It kills the goose that lays the golden egg. Building operations are suspended everywhere; and although those already commenced will have to be completed at any rate, doubtless immense numbers that were in contemplation will never be commenced if the strikers carry their point. Capital, instead of going into building, as it intended, will seek other safer channels, where no such combinations are likely to interfere with it. The public will necessarily suffer by this, the master masons still more, but most of all the honest mechanic who lives by the sweat of his brow.

That public opinion has hitherto sided most with the master masons cannot be denied; and this is shown in no more prominent manner than the readiness with which all proprietors of buildings have met and coöperated with them in the impending difficulty. The fact is that the people—ever instinctively ready in our democratic country to side with the weakest in quarrels of this kind—have not a clear sense of any deep wrong that could have warranted such a movement as the present. They look upon it as far more aggressive than defensive. They compare the bricklayer's five dollars per diem of to-day with his two dollars per diem of a few years ago, and think the rise a most liberal one, in comparison with that of many other industries requiring far more skill in the workman. They contrast, for instance, what one man demands and receives for the manual operation of laying bricks, with what another man, an educated scholar, receives for cudgelling his brains during the same number of hours, and find the latter far more poorly remunerated. They cannot understand how, by the new rule, a man can do—as is pretended—as much work in eight hours as was formerly done in ten. On the contrary they are rapidly settling down into the conviction that, so far from these combinations being promotive of greater skill and industry in the workman, they have the precisely opposite effect of placing the active, industrious, and skilful workman upon a detrimental level with all the ignorant and lazy drones of his calling.

That strikes are inexpedient and detrimental to the interests of the community no one will deny, and yet there seems to be little disposition to obviate this evil, as neither the masters or workmen seem to have given the subject of their suppression any considerable amount of attention. These discussions between labor and capital are productive of much animosity, which seems to grow with time. Now, as we are generally considered to be a provident, calculating people, why should we always attempt to carry our views out by extreme measures, when a little moderation and an impartial view of the case will in most instances secure the desideratum. One never hears of strikes in Scotland, because there both sides agree to settle labor disputes by submitting to the decision of a court of arbitration. These courts have hitherto been efficacious; and we would do well to adopt them here. The way they are formed is simple and satisfactory, being in this wise: The workmen choose an umpire, and so do the employers; these two men meet together and agree upon a third who has the casting vote. And thus by a simple exercise of judgment and reflection those expensive methods of obtaining the laborers' demands by strikes are never resorted to.

CAUTION TO STONE-CUTTERS.

A SCOTH paper, in commenting upon what is called "the masons' trouble"—phthisis from dust in the lungs—gives some startling statements respecting the effects of this disease. It asserts, from pretty extensive observation, that there are no stone-cutters in Edinburgh but suffer from it at the age of forty; that in fact, it does not know ten working hewers in that city of fifty years, and only two above sixty years of age. The Craigleith stone, the beautiful material of which the new town of Edinburgh was built, appears to have contributed more largely to this peculiar disease than the stones at present in use. An old Craigleith man was done at thirty, and died at thirty-five. The writer, among other reminiscences, says that out of 120 hewers who worked at the High School, in Edinburgh, only ten survived. In a squad of thirty stout hewers, who began the Edinburgh and Glasgow Bank, only one-half lived to see it finished. The stone cutting and carving of the celebrated Scott monument killed twenty-three of the finest men in Edinburgh.

We do not know to what extent the dust of the stones in common use among us may be detrimental to the lungs of our workmen, but the foregoing facts would seem worthy of attention. The most natural prevention from the deleterious effect of this dust would seem to be to work the stone always as damp as possible, and to see to the proper ventilation of the work-sheds. The common habit among our workmen of wearing beards and mustaches is altogether in their favor; but this excellent provision of nature may not always be attainable or all-sufficient, and cases may arise in which it is well to wear actual respirators. Certain it is that the constant inhaling of dry particles of dust, from any kind of stone, cannot but be ultimately detrimental to health.

IN consequence of the change in the Board of Councilmen, by which all the resolutions and ordinances introduced in the old Board, and pending at the time of the change, have been killed off, we have not been able to prepare our article relating to the streets in time for this issue. We will give it all complete in our next.

NEW YORK JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Extensive sales are prognosticated in September of county building lots on the line of the New Jersey railroads, but for the present there will not be many more rural auctions. The most important event of the week has been a decision rendered in the Supreme Court by Judge Daniels on an action brought to compel the city authorities to remove the Broadway bridge, which was ordered to be taken down within ninety days after a copy of the judgment was served upon the proper officers. This decision greatly affects the rights of property owners on Broadway, and has a much wider sweep than the removal of the bridge. The Judge says, the land which forms Broadway was dedicated by the owners of the property for the uses and purposes of a public street, and in this respect it differs from most of the streets of the city, where the fee of the land is in the public at large. The streets to which the city has acquired title in fee may be devoted to many public purposes that would be unwarrantable and unjustifiable in streets like Broadway, where a simple dedication of the surface of the land for the purposes of a public street was all that was ever surrendered. The right of the Legislature to authorize the construction of railways over the streets which belong to the Corporation is not questioned, but to grant such franchises in streets which belong to the owners of property along their lines without their consent and without compensation, is clearly contrary to that provision of the constitution which declares that private property shall only be taken for public purposes by properly and justly compensating the owners of it. Under this legal decision it is plain that the Corporation of the city has no right to charge for the privilege of constructing vaults under one-half of the streets, which Judge Daniels declares is private property; nor by it can railroad companies obstruct the streets in front of private offices or dwellings.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There is still a fair business doing with out-of-town buyers, and a few daily sales making to the city trade, but the aggregate of transactions does not keep up as well as the state of affairs prevailing at the date of our last seemed to promise. This, in connection with rather more liberal arrivals, not only from up the river, but from Long Island and Jersey, has caused the stock to pile up quite freely, and receivers, feeling anxious to prevent too heavy an accumulation, have reduced prices on all the common qualities about $1 per M., and on the finer grades 50c. per M., though very choice lots, which are not by any means plenty, will occasionally bring figures well up to former quotations. The general range may be placed at about $7@$8 for pale, and $9@$11 for common hard, with the best at $12 per M. At the close the feeling is unsettled, with more offering than there is a demand for; manufacturers have lost quite a number of men, owing to the high wages paid by farmers while securing the harvest, but the force at work is still pretty large, and the amount of stock turned out has not very materially diminished. From such information, as we obtain, we are led to believe that there is a disposition to keep the sheds free as long as possible, and whenever an opportunity occurs stock is immediately shipped; but still this does not, in the present dull condition of business, prevent an accumulation, and some of the smallest yards are said to be nearly full. A large number of cargoes have been engaged for delivery when building operations are again resumed, but the great bulk of the supply is still awaiting customers. Croton fronts are more plenty, and prices unchanged, but the demand is moderate, and we hear complaints of the continued poor quality of this year's production. Philadelphia fronts without variation to notice in price, the demand light.

CEMENT.—There is a good steady demand for Rosendale from shippers, with a fair jobbing business doing on city account; and on the best and reliable brands prices remain firm at $1.75 per bbl. In some instances, however, we still hear of deductions being made by manufacturers, who, either from the poorer quality of the rock or carelessness in preparing for market, do not offer a first class article. The general supply is not very heavy, but about equal to prevent wants.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—A moderate amount of trade has been done on orders, with occasionally a few small sales on city and suburban account, but there is want of life to the market, which will probably continue until after the 1st proximo, when we may look for a few more country buyers.

FOREIGN WOODS.—At private sale we hear of only a limited jobbing trade, at about our former range of figures, and with light arrivals there is not much to offer at auction. No receipts are reported since our last, and the only shipments are 40 logs mahogany to Hamburgh, valued at $880.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—There is not much animation in this market, and few if any manufacturers or dealers are reducing their stocks. Former price lists are still the nominal quotations, but such modifications are made, to reliable customers as circumstances may dictate.

FIRE BRICK.—There is quite a lively little trade doing in this style of goods, considering the general dullness prevailing in other articles in our market review, and though prices remain as before, sellers are very firm. Our inside quotation represents cargo, and our outside quotation jobbing prices.

GLASS.—The arrivals of French window continue moderate, and contain few if any desirable assortments, but the general wholesale market has been so very quiet that the effect is not perceptible. There is now and then a light order for 14 and 16-inch, and the small sizes, but the larger grades are for the present absolutely without sale. The few transactions are mostly at 40@50c. per cent. discount from price lists, but as an exceptionable case we note a sale reported of 1,500 boxes for California shipment at 55c. per cent. discount. The latest imports are 1,800 packages, valued at $7,846, and 100 glass plate valued at $10,631.

HAIR.—At 35c. per bushel for cattle, 60c. do. for mixed, and 70c. for goat, the market remains pretty steady, but there is not much trade doing, and the few sales are only in small jobbing lots. The supply is fair, but not over large, particularly of the two latter descriptions.

LABOR.—The Master Masons and their workmen are still at loggerheads, and building operations remain very dull in consequence. Present appearances, however, indicate that employers are gaining ground, and they generally appear more confident of ultimately winning the contest. All the heaviest jobs continue at a stand-still, and a great many owners, who had undertaken to finish up work on their own account at $4.50 per day and eight hours, convinced that they were operating against their own interest, have discharged the journeymen connected with the Bricklayers' Union, and now give their support to the effort to break the strike. We also note, as a very encouraging feature, that a number of the most intelligent foremen and workmen of various nationalities, as well as pretty much all the German bricklayers, have expressed a desire to resume under the old system, and talk of forming an association in support of ten hours as a fair and honest day's work. We again feel it our duty to contradict the reports, which are continually being made public, to the effect that the "bosses" are rapidly giving way, and submitting to demands of their workmen. The only foundation for such stories is the temporary employment of a few men to "top out," and at the present writing New York probably contains more journeymen bricklayers out of employment than at any time since the strike was inaugurated. Commencing with the silly reply to the address of the Master Masons, all the statements emanating from the association of Journeymen Bricklayers have been characterized by so much virulence, and frequently by untruths, as to lead the reflecting portion of the community to the belief that it must be a desperate cause to require such aids to carry it to a successful issue, while many who were strongly inclined to take the side of the journeymen, now desert them in disgust. On the other hand, the employers, after making a fair open report of their position, and offering to re-engage the strikers on old terms—notwithstanding the workmen had broken their pledge to finish the season at $5 and ten hours—have since preserved a very conciliatory tone in all their proceedings, and taken no action except such as was absolutely necessary to successfully resist the unjust demands made upon them, and to protect their own interest, as represented in the Association of Master Masons. This course has not only gained them hosts of friends, with the public at large and real estate owners, but also with a great many merchants and traders whose business is brought to an almost dead stop by the suspension of building operations, all uniting in one common wish "may the strike for eight hours prove a failure." At the most recent meetings of the master masons, a great many reported having men at work on the ten hour system, and more daily expected. It having been reported that one of the members was employing eight hour men, he was called upon for an explanation.

Mr. Shaffler (the gentleman so-accused), replied that he had no eight hour men at work, but he had secured the services of about twenty ten hour men. He accounted for the rumor relative to his employment of eight hour men by stating that he had the front walls of several buildings to complete, and as he had no men in his employ capable of accomplishing the work, he had applied to a society man who had "lumped" the job. One of the conditions of the contract was that the bricklayers should work ten hours per day.

Mr. Scudder reported that fifteen laborers had refused to work for his non-society men last week, when he ordered his foreman to discharge them. Subsequently more than half of these men had returned to work on the ten hour system. Some of these men he had forbidden his foreman to reinstate upon any terms. Among this number were several men who had been in his employ for 12 or 14 years.

At the meeting on Wednesday, Messrs. Dorlinger, Sayers, Wellington, Schaefer, Sidmond, D. and C. Herbert, and Herdfeldter & Fincho reported that they had men at ten hours a day.

Mr. Sayers, from the committee to test the constitutionality of the eight-hour law, read the opinion delivered by Judge Edmonds in 1836, declaring the strike of the tailors an illegal one. Mr. S. declared that the law under which the conviction of the leaders in the strike was obtained was unrepealed, and that consequently the present law is unconstitutional.

The journeymen continue to receive sympathy and money from kindred associations throughout the country, as well as from plasterers, laborers, carpenters, stone-cutters, and in fact nearly all trade unions. This supports our previous assertions that workmen generally intend to insist upon the ruinous (to all concerned) eight hour plan if possible, and are only awaiting the result of the present issue to decide, pro or con. It therefore behooves employers to leave no stone unturned in their efforts to gain the victory.

LATH.—Immediately following our last report, under a strong desire to realize, one or two cargoes and numbers of small parcels were rushed off at $2.75 per M., but the offerings at this rate did not continue long, buyers showing rather too much eagerness to take all they could get hold of, and the market subsequently reacted to about $2.87½@$2.90 with a few lots held even higher. Some receivers assure us that they have positive orders not to attempt any negotiations below $3.00, and if this rate can not be obtained, they must pile out until there is a recovery; but a great many lots come forward without limit, and it is these that are sold low. Of the amount of stock now on the way, we find it impossible to gain any definite information, though it is probably very fair, and with more freight room said to be available, shipments should not fall off. At $3.00, and even lower, there is good margin for profit left to shippers, for at that rate lath are relatively higher than any other style of wood product coming to this market. The sales during the week have been pretty liberal, and embrace in the aggregate about 4,350,000 at $2.75@$2.95, mostly at $2.87½@2.90, though at the close at a temporary scarcity, and holders not offering with much freedom, a sale has been effected at $3.00, to arrive, for 400,000.

LIME.—A few cargoes of Rockland have arrived since our last, but all were previously engaged, and there is now no stock afloat, and very little expected. Of Glenn Falls and Bald Mountain lime the receipts are also small, and everything coming in quickly finds a market, giving agents no trouble in hunting up customers. Ruling rates, however, are not by any means remunerative, and manufacturers in all directions are stopping their kilns, and will not resume until they can obtain for their production something over the mere cost laid down here. In jobbers' hands there is a fair amount of stock, but more could be used to advantage. At the close, the market is nominal at $1.10 for common, and $2.00 for lump, with very little stock offering.

LUMBER.—At the yards business is still comparatively light, but there is more doing than last week, and a healthier tone noticeable. The inquiry is not directed towards any one particular style of stock, but is quite general, all good desirable grades finding a fair market at full previous figures, our quotations remaining without change. The receipts continue light from up the river, and contain only a few parcels of really fine lumber, most of which either comes through on direct consignment or was bought at Albany early in the season, and has been held back until yard room was prepared, as owners required it to meet the wants of their customers. A few of our leading dealers have large supplies available, when required, which were bought at the mills north and west, and therefore in a measure independent of the Albany market, only resorting there for small odd lots, as sudden calls are frequently more easily and cheaply met by fresh purchases than by breaking bulk of stock already filed out for a later trade. The wholesale market has been fairly active, and in most cases shows a stronger tone, though the demand is not brisk enough either from the export or home trade to enable dealers to establish any decided improvement. Eastern Spruce has sold in quantities about equal to the not over large supply, and a few cargoes were taken, to arrive, the market remaining firm and uniform, and at the close is a trifle buoyant. In some instances $21.00, and even higher, is asked for extra lengths, but nothing as yet has realized more than $20.00, and we quote the range from this down to $19.00 for good stuff, with common at $18.00@$18.50. The number of specifications offering at the Lumber Exchange are very small, and mostly marked at extreme figures. Eastern Hemlock continues very dull, and but little is brought forward except to fill up cargoes; rates stand nominally at $14.00@$16.00 per M. White Pine has been rather less active than last week, and the demand almost entirely from the home trade. Prices, however, are well supported, and dealers not very anxious to operate in view of a prospective short supply. From a prominent lumber dealer just returned from Ottawa, Canada, and vicinity, we learn that immense fires are raging in the woods in all directions, not only destroying the standing timber but large numbers of logs, and that even the logs that may be saved will probably have to remain where they lie, owing to the scarcity of water. The drought is so great that vegetation in some sections is burned completely brown, and the streams rapidly drying up. Dealers had sold out the entire season's cut at $14.00, and it was impossible to induce any one to name a price in view of future transactions. Piling of common quality we find to be in excess of the demand and rather unsettled, but for good choice lots, very long and of large size, the inquiry is fair at extreme figures, the quotations standing at about 6½c.@7½c. for undesirable, and 8c.@9c. for fine, the best probably 10c. per foot. Pickets are in good supply but dull at $11.00@$13.00, the latter an extreme. Southern Pine is not very active, but with a small stock on hand and very little expected, holders remain firm at full previous rates, viz.: $32.00@$35.00 per M. for the general run of stock. White Oak has not improved either in price or demand, and we still quote at 45c. per cubic foot. Our table of exports this week shows quite an increase to various points, and a much larger total than for some time past. The sales reported for the week embrace 800,000 feet Eastern Spruce, good average cargoes, at $18.00@$19.00; 250,000 feet do., prime to choice, $19.50@$20.00; and 200,000 feet do., undesirable short, etc., $17.50; 340,000 feet white pine, at $22.00@$25.00 for home use, and $28.00 for small lots on shipping orders; 60,000 feet yellow pine at $33.50, and 400,000 feet do. to arrive at $33.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:,

We also notice shipments of 41 logs walnut to Bremen, 1,366 pieces plank to Antwerp, 16 spars and 72 bundles of shingles to British West Indies, 10,000 shingles to Hayti, 34 pieces timber to Chili, 295 pieces plank to China, 13,600 staves to East Indies, 269,610 do. to continent of Europe, mostly to Spain, and 14,400 do. to Great Britain. The receipts reported are 210,020 feet lumber from Darien, Ga., 26,800 feet do. from Charleston, 376 spruce spars and 300 poles from St. Georges, N. B., 1,000,000 laths from St. Stephen, N. B., 450 pieces piling from Shulee, N. S., and 630,000 laths from Ship Harbor, N. S. We notice shipments from Portland to Buenos Ayres of 525,841 feet lumber, 210 spruce piles and 15,000 shingles; to Cardenas 41,000 feet lumber, and to Cuba 375,132 feet do. From Savannah to London 472,586 feet pitch pine timber, and 29,374 do. do. plank. From New Orleans to Bremen 176 logs walnut and 4,000 staves; to Barcelona, 19,350 staves; to Malaga, 94,000 staves. From Mobile to Liverpool 89 loads timber, 40 spars, and 3,600 staves.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 18, 1868.

The market during the past week, owing to farmers being busy with their harvest, has been rather quiet. The best grades, running well into strips, have held their own thus far, but the medium and ordinary mixed cargoes have declined, say 50c. per M from last quotations. Trade from the yards is also quiet, but without decline in prices. City dealers now take advantage of the absence of country buyers and dullness in the wholesale market, and are piling up fast in view of the Fall trade, which, owing to the flattering prospects throughout the country of an immense crop, promises to be of great activity. On common lumber there is great confidence, and an advance looked for of from $2 00@2 50 per M. Shingles continue scarce, and in demand at $4 per M for prime A sawed by car load. Lath in good request at full former quotations, viz.: $2 25 on vessel.

Yard rates as follows:

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@45; cherry $30@40; hickory $20@25; ash $20@23, and $18@22 for ordinary oak.

From Milwaukie the reports state trade to be rather quiet, but enough doing to keep up a fair show of activity, and holders generally firm at full previous figures, cargoes ranging from $11 50 for common mixed to $15 00 for good. Shingles firm and still inquired after. Lath unchanged. Yard rates as follows:

Clear Plank, $50.00@55.00; Second Clear Plank, $45; Clear Boards, $45; Second Boards, $40; Third Boards (box) $30; Clear Flooring, dressed, $45; Common Flooring, dressed, $30; Second Siding, dressed, $27; Common Siding, dressed, $21@22; Stock Boards, $18; Common Boards, $15@16; Fencing, $15; Joist and Scantling under 20 feet, $15.00; Joist and Scantling, 20 feet or over, $20@25; Lath, per 1000 feet, $6.50@7.00; Shingles, best sawed, $4.25@4.50; Posts, $12.50@30.00; Pickets, $12.00@$16; Sawed Timber, $20@$30.

Nothing of special interest has transpired at St. Paul since our last advices, trade being good and prices uniform as follows:

In yard, $14.00@$16.00 for 2d and 1st Common Boards $20.00@$22.00 for stock boards; $25.00@$30.00 for wagon box boards; $16,00 for joist and dimension, 20 feet and under; $20 00@$24.00 for do., 20 to 30 feet; $33.00 for 1st flooring, $28.00 for 2d do.: $25.00@$30.00 for rough flooring; $40.00@$50.00 for 1st clear; and $35.00@$45.00 for second do.

The East Saginaw market is firm and rather buoyant, with a tip-top trade doing.

The Saginaw Enterprise, of 14th inst., publishes an interesting article on the Lumber trade of the Saginaw Valley, from which it appears that that branch of industry is in a highly prosperous condition. More buyers are in from abroad this year than ever before, and the greater demand from the East, which has sprung up since the opening of navigation, has had the effect to cause a rise in prices of from $5 to $7 a thousand. Prices now hold firm at $6, $12, and $35 for the three grades respectively. Chicago, for the first time of any consequence, begins to demand lumber from Saginaw, and between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 feet have been taken to that city during the season. The favorable promise of the crops throughout the surrounding region is leading farmers to contemplate building largely and purchase accordingly. The Enterprise says that there is no doubt but that the demand will take every board from the market, at prices satisfactory to sellers. The great bulk of the exported lumber goes to Toledo, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Eastern markets. At the opening of the season it was understood that a short crop of logs would be brought into market. A large number of logs on the upper streams were "hung up," but a subsequent freshet, late in the spring, brought down the greater portion of these logs. A number of million feet are still on some of these streams emptying into the Tittabawassee, but the exact amount is not known. The Cass and Bad Rivers and tributaries will be pretty well cleared up, about 65,000,000 feet having been run out from the former, with perhaps 10,000,000 feet still back. Since the commencement of rafting, and up to the close of last month, the Tittabawassee Boom Company have rafted out 450,251 pieces of logs, scaling about 113,502,000 feet. The logs are now only about half out in this river and tributaries, and rafting still continues active. About 90,000 more logs have been delivered this year than for the same time last, and the amount got this season will fully equal, if not exceed, that of last. The following is a comparative statement representing the shipments from Bay City and East Saginaw:—

	East Saginaw.	Bay City.	Total.
Lumber, feet	60,309,402	69,065,641	129,375,043
Lath, pcs	8,608,950	5,772,750	14,381,700
Shingles	19,175,750	1,801,000	20,976,750
Staves	1,533,000	7,472,066	3,005,066
Hoops	679,800	45,500	725,300
Pickets	———	178,200	178,200
Pickets, bdls	———	45	45
Timber, cubic ft.	200,000	136,000	336,000
Pail bolts, cords	20	———	20
Shooks, bdls	4,503	———	4,503

The market for the past ten days has been especially active, over 10,000,000 feet having been sold at Bay City within that time alone. It is estimated that the total amount manufactured and on the river is something less than 245,000,000 feet, by which it would appear that about 115,000,000 feet was yet on the river, the greater part of which is coarse, the best sawed lumber being pretty well sold off. The amount of lumber on hand at the close of the last three seasons was as follows:—

	On dock.	On dock sold.	Balance unsold.
1865	41,458,000	22,362,000	19,091,000
1867	69,970,200	19,435,571	50,534,200

There is no question but that all the lumber manufactured this year will be disposed of, and that the amount of lumber on dock at the close of the year will be smaller than any of the three previous years, if vessels can be had to transport it. Dealers anticipate $6.50, $13, and $36@38 for the best lumber, and at least $6, $12, and $35 for the balance. Of this 115,000,000 feet reckoned as on the river, a large portion has been shipped by rail and consumed at home. Quite a number of the mills, too, are off from the river, and are not considered river mills, though their production is calculated in that of the valley.

Detroit prices are firm, but unchanged, and we quote as follows:—$40@45 for Clear', $16@18 for Boards, $8@10 for culls, $26@28 for common flooring; $35@40 for dressed do.; $20@30 for long joist; $10@11 for short joist and scantling; $20@45 for bill stuff, and $35 for deck plank.

Our Eastern advices contain nothing particularly new this week. At all points where shipments were made in this direction, dealers remained steady, but had not advanced their views, owing to more liberal supply of vessels, both present prospective, and some easing up on freights about $4.50 being the outside in most cases, though a few cargoes continued to go abroad at higher rates, under engagements made some time back. The supply of logs at the mills was fair, but gradually becoming reduced, as the streams were too low to bring out much of the stock. A day or two of rain would help matters considerably.

At Portland there was a moderate export inquiry and a good business doing with the home, at full former figures. Quotations are as follows:

The St. Johns (N. B.), Prices Current of July 18th reports as follows:—

We have no change to note in coastwise freights. The following transactions are reported: Josephine, 236, Philadelphia, $5.50 lumber, $1 laths; Duke of Newcastle, 86, East Boston, $4.50; Carrie, 98, East Cambridge, $4.50; Flying Arrow, 116, Boston, $4,50; Prairie Bird, 149, Washington, $7; Gold Hunter, 104, Fredericton to Providence, shingles, 75c.; Blue Bird, 144, same voyage and rate; Mary Givan, 170, Caledonia Quarries to New York, stone, $3.50.

On July 11th, the Cambridge cleared for New York with 155,000 feet boards, plank, &c. Prices for lumber were steady, except on spruce deals and palings, which are reduced. We quote as follows:

The Southern markets as a general thing, continue flat and devoid of life. Such mills as have logs, are still working to the best of their ability, but many of the streams were too low to bring down any stock, and where water was plenty, labor was scarce and unreliable. About former prices were demanded, though very few sales making, owing to the continued scarcity of freight-room, and the extravagant rates charged by the few vessels offering. At Savannah, the quotations were as follows: Timber—$7@$9.50 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@12.50 for small shipping do., and $13@$17 for large do. Lumber $20@$21 for ordinary sizes; 24@30 for difficult sizes, and $21@23 for flooring.

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed, $15.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00 @25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6,00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@$12.00

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to July 16, 1868, were 14,457,120 feet of lumber, of which 1,725,955 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 12,731,165 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,871,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,795,893 to Philadelphia; 1,992,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,618,106 to Rhode Island, and 793,065 to other United States ports.

The Wilmington market continued rather dull, the mills generally being engaged on small orders, and the shipping demand light. Prices unchanged, however, and we still quote as follows:—

The Baltimore market is reported as follows:

The Lumber business is dull, the extraordinary heat of the weather having kept buyers out of market. Purchasers have not been disposed to undertake the examination of stocks in the fierce rays of the sun, and consequently have only bought what the trade imperatively demanded.

METALS.—Copper sheathing is only moderately active, but, manufacturers all working in combination, the market is sustained, and we still quote at 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. For pig iron we note a continued firm market, with rather an upward tendency on the best grades—owing to the light arrivals of foreign, the small supply and greatly curtailed production of domestic. The demand at the moment is moderate, but about equal to the usual average. We quote Scotch pig at $42@$45 per ton; No. 1 American at $39@$40, and No. 2 at $36@ $37. Bars from store are quiet at about $85@$87.50 per ton for common American and English; $95@$97.50 for refined do, and $150 for Swedes, ordinary sizes. Rods ⅜@ 3/16 inch, $100@$160 per ton. For light numbers of Russia sheet iron, there is some inquiry and with a small supply, prices are firm at 18¾@19c. per lb. from store; medium numbers 18@18½, and heavy 17½c. Belgian sheet 14½c., and American 14@15c. per lb. Pig lead is quiet, but, as a general thing, holders are firm at 6¼@ 6⅞, gold. Bar, pipe, and sheet lead as before. Tin plates are still selling with considerable freedom, and with the improvement in gold, prices on some grades show a slight advance; the general market closing very firm. The imports of plates, since our last, are 29,997 boxes, valued at $181,866. Zinc from store is in good demand, and all desirable lots of sheet still command 12@13c. per lb.

NAILS.—The inquiry for cut nails is fair, the trade being mainly in small lots, and on all favorite brands we note a continued steady feeling at 4¾c. wholesale, and 4⅞ @5c. jobbing, for 4d. and 6d. Clinch a little more active at 6¾@6¾c. Other kinds without change to note, except probably, some reduction in the sales, and we still place zinc nails at 18c., yellow metal do. 26c., and copper do. 40c per lb. The exports are 205 pckgs., valued at $3,704, against 78 pckgs., valued at $768, last week.

PAINTS AND OILS.—In paints there has been rather more doing from store to the jobbing trade, but the wholesale market remains quiet. Prices in most cases are firm, and in a few instances rather buoyant, though no advance can be quoted. The supply is small of China clay, French zinc, and Rochelle Ochre. Leads are not unusually plenty, but the stock is ample for immediate wants. Glue is without change of importance. Linseed oil has been irregular and without much strength, though at the present writing a little better tone prevails, and crushers refuse to operate below $1.02@$1.04 for wholesale parcels. No very material recovery however is looked for, the large supply of seed and continued free arrivals having a depressing influence. The exports, since our last, are 89 pckgs. paint, valued at $1,622, and 322 gallons linseed oil, valued at $421.

PITCH.—The inquiry continues moderate, and confined mainly to the usual jobbing lots as wanted for immediate use. Prices are steady, the bulk of the sales being at $3.50, with occasionally a choice parcel at $3.75@$4.00 per bbl. The receipts for the week are 260 bbls. Exports for week 220 bbls.; since January 1st 2,203 bbls.; and for same period last year 2,719 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—With only moderate offerings the market for lump has been quiet, and prices show no important variation. The only arrivals reported are 400 tons. Calcined is in fair demand and steady at $2.40 for Eastern and $2.50 per bbl. for city.

SLATE.—The demand from the city trade continues very moderate indeed, and were dealers dependent upon this alone at the moment, they would seldom have to open their books. For shipment, however, quite a little business has sprung up, and we hear of several hundred squares being taken to go South, to Galveston, New Orleans, &c. The receipts are fair, but not quite so heavy as last week, being mostly from Vermont. Next week more are expected in from Pennsylvania. Our table of quotation, still remains without alteration, but the outside figures are for the present extreme, and dealers frequently make concessions of 50@100 per square in order to sell quickly, and to prevent too rapid an accumulation of stock. From the Vermont quarries we have direct information to the effect, that though the miners were restive and exhibited evident signs of the "strike" fever, no open demonstrations had as yet taken place. The men were evidently well posted upon the prevailing dullness, and knowing the supplies to be pretty large, did not care to run the risk of an entire suspension of operations for the season, should a demand be made upon quarrymen calculated to increase the cost of production.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A fair inquiry has prevailed at prices in most cases within the range of our previous quotations, but the market does not show remarkable strength, owing to more liberal receipts and offerings of parcels to arrive at figures below current values. We now quote at about 43@44c. for the wholesale market with retail lots from store, ranging up as high as 47@48c. Receipts for the week 2,593 bbls. Exports for week 1,432 bbls.; since January 1st 9,045 bbls.; and for same period last year 14,837 bbls.

STONE.—At the yards the trade in both blue stone and free stone is very dull, owing to the stagnation in building operations, consequent upon the bricklayers' strike; and the small amount of work doing is mainly on old contracts. From the quarries, however, we hear of continued activity, and contractors are getting out stock freely. The miners have not as yet made any movement towards a strike, and it is generally supposed they will await the result of the contest between the master masons and their employees. Prices for the various grades of stone are without alteration to advise.

TAR.—Common grades were reduced a trifle soon after the issue of our last report, but the market in most cases has ruled quite steadily and a fair business transacted mostly for home use. We quote at $3.00@$3.50 per bbl., as it runs, for North County; $3.25@$3.75 for Wilmington do.; and $3.75@$4.00 for selections in order in yard. Receipts for week 626 bbls. Exports for week 158 bbls.; since January 1st 8,104 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,087 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of July 14th reports as follows:

The market has been moderately active since our last report. The intense hot weather of last week restricted sales until the close, and yesterday and to-day buyers have been in greater number. Prices of pine lumber are very firm; the range of sales of clear being $57.00 to $60.00, and when lower prices are accepted, the sales are exceptional. We advance our figures for pine. Other articles are unchanged, and quotations firm.

The receipts, it will be seen, show a large falling off for the week. The falling off in the receipts in July, so far, compared with those of 1867, are over 17,000,000 feet.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending July 18th, were 30,020,000 feet, against 31,201,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 416,937,000 feet, against 338,488,000 feet in 1867, an increase, for this year of 78,449,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending July 13th and July 20th, were;

	July 13.	July 20.
Buffalo	6,611,700 feet	9,523,500 feet.
Oswego	9,567,400	10,471,300
Total	16,179,100 feet	19,994,800 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the third week of July, were:

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	15,094,200	3,038	.....	640,000
1867	23,532,500	2,911	.....	827,500

Of the Boards and Scantling received, 10,604,400 feet were by the Erie, and 4,489,800 feet were by the Champlain canal.

	Bds.&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	170,274,900	18,785	51,095	13,546,000
1867	123,820,000	9,623	.....	12,069,000

LOW-WATER IN REAL ESTATE SALES.

THE dies non in the real estate market have at length arrived, and auctioneers deserve great credit for keeping them at bay so long by country sales, which have been sufficient at least to galvanize the almost moribund market into something like its spring activity. Now the hammer is at rest and the Exchange Room has become a hall deserted. Buyers, auctioneers, and sellers, being well satisfied with the business of the season, are seeking relaxation at the summer resorts, where they endeavor, though ineffectually, to forget all about Central Park lots, Boulevard tracts, and brownstone houses. As care follows the horsemen, so does real estate insist upon engaging the thoughts of the speculators, who, even in the wilds of the Catskill Mountains, are thinking how the property they see around them may be improved; or in the quiet villages near New York these unquiet mortals prowl around to find good sites for villa-residences, or tracts on which to lay out suburban towns. Such being the case, we must not grumble at their absence, for undoubtedly September will bring these very observant swallows back with a new stock of ideas, and good intentions of putting them in practice.

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS.

ONE of our Sunday papers, in a recent publication, casts strictures on Mr. McGregor, the Superintendent of Public Buildings, based on a statement made by one of the members, at a meeting of master masons, to the effect that the clerk of Mr. McGregor had given permission to erect wooden buildings on any part of the Island. The writer then adds: "We cannot see with what propriety the Superintendent of Public Buildings enforces the law providing for fire-escapes, when he contributes to the fuel of fire by allowing the erection of structures of ignitable pine." The writer of these remarks evidently has been too precipitate in accepting erroneous statements as facts, and he should have made more careful inquiries as to their correctness, before using them for the purpose of making serious strictures on a valuable and well conducted department. Under the old law the erection of wooden buildings was permitted anywhere within the city limits, providing they were not built over 12 feet in height, and were covered with tin. This law was subsequently amended, so as to prohibit their erection below 56th street; then the limit was first extended to 86th, and then to 145th, as it now remains. Since the occupancy of the office by Mr. McGregor, he has strenuously advocated a law prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings anywhere on Manhattan Island, as his several annual reports will show; and such permits as he may have issued were only granted in thinly populated districts, or for purely temporary purposes.

THE ELEVATED RAILROAD.

THE elevated railroad, from a mere piece of empiricism, has become not only a substantial, but an influential reality. Its success has had a considerable effect on propery, on the west side, particularly in Westchester county, which would, many years ago, had there been swift communication with the city, have been in the relative position to this metropolis that Brooklyn and Jersey City are. There is, among all classes, an evident disinclination to leave Manhattan Island, which is not caused alone by the discomforts of the ferry travel and the frequent change of cars, but by an innate feeling possessed by most people, of disliking to have any natural barriers between their homes and their business places. Indeed, many timorous people, especially females, have an unconquerable horror of water, and for this reason endure the high rents and poor accommodations of our over-crowded city. But now the obstacle has been surmounted, and the flood of population will soon find an outlet. The economist and the statesman, if they but give a little attention to the subject, will find, by comparison with London and Paris, that fixed and available constructions for the movements of commerce and conveyance on land, do more towards the development of a city, than any other class of public improvements. For example, the railways in London alone cost more than twice as much as the railways of our whole State and there have been expended upon them in the last twenty years, more labor and capital than on all kinds of permanent constructions that have been made in the city of New York in the same time. London, from this cause, now numbers a population of 4,200,000 souls; and yet in proportion to the population, there is far more public travel and conveyance in New York than in London. The greater intensity and activity of labor in all classes of our society, but more especially the form of the Island, is such, that the ratio of travel to the population must each year increase, so that the ratio must always be higher than in London. The best patronized line there, the Underground railway, conveyed in 1867, 25,000,000 passengers on five and a half miles of road, while the Third Avenue road, the best patronized in New York, conveyed 23,000,000, with eight miles of line, operated by the wretched appliances of horse-cars. Then, again, the economy of steam-power as compared with horse-power in these two cases, was so decisive, that while the price paid by the passengers was about the same, proportioned to the distance travelled in both places, the Third Avenue Company earned less than ten per cent. on the capital of $2,500,000, while the Underground road in London earned seven per cent. to the shareholders, the capital expended on the line then opened being over $20.000,000. Of course, the advantages of conveying freight prevailed in London, and did not exist in New York. The operating expenses by horses is twice as great for an equivalent amount of work as by steam. Again, when we have a population, which we may expect in less than ten years, of 400,000 north of Fifty-ninth street; there must be more mileage of travel daily than for the 800,000 now south of Central Park, as a considerable portion of this are so near to places of business that there is no necessity of riding. But long before that period the buildings now occupied as dwellings will have been transformed into stores. The Greenwich Street railroad, if it be a permanent as well as a presently apparent success, will contribute in an eminent degree, to lessen the tenement-house evil, for the artisan will be enabled by it to live in Harlem or Westchester County, and be at work in the city at a reasonable hour every morning. All our railroads ought to make an effort to induce the man of moderate means to live any distance within twenty miles of the city, by supplying cheap commutation tickets which should not exceed $50 per annum. The contemplated railway improvement is the last hope of the workingman for comfortable dwellings, as the Paris flats have been all failures; for people don't like to be packed up in tenement houses, but like to own their own places, no matter how humble their homes may be.

FIRST PRIZE MEDAL FOR BEST OAK-TANNED LEATHER BELTING was awarded to MESSRS. HEIM & ZIMMERMAN, Successors to PHILIP F. PASQUAY, 27 Ferry Street, New York.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to the opening of certain new avenues, roads and public places or parks, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, in the City of New York.

The Commissioners of the Central Park, in the name and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the people of the State of New York, entitled—"An act relative to the powers and duties of the Commissioners of the Central Park," passed April 4, 1866, and of the act entitled—"An act to enable the Commissioners of the Central Park to make further improvements in the City of New York," passed April 13, 1866; and of the act entitled—"An act to alter the map or plan of certain portions of the City of New York, and for the laying out and improvement of the same," passed April 24, 1867; hereby give notice that they intend to apply to the Supreme Court, in the First Judicial District of the State of New York, at a Special Term of said Court, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on Friday, the 31st day of July, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter. That the nature and extent of the improvement hereby intended is the opening of a new avenue, eighty feet in width, between the 8th avenue and 9th avenue, and running from 100th street to the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas and Manhattan street.

Also a new avenue running diagonally from the new avenue last mentioned, at or near 113th street, to the 9th avenue, at 116th street.

Also a new avenue between 9th and 10th avenues, running from 110th street to 122d street.

Also a public place or park between 110th street and 128d street, and intermediate the three new avenues beforementioned, the 9th avenue and the 10th avenue.

Also a public place, being a triangle formed by the intersections of 114th street and the first-named two of the above-mentioned new avenues.

Also a public place, being a quadrilateral formed by the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas, 123d street and the first-named of the above-mentioned new avenues, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park in the City of New York. Dated New York, July 7, 1868.

RICHARD O'GORMAN,

PROPOSALS FOR $1,750,000 ASSESSMENT FUND STOCK OF THE COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office, until TUESDAY, July 28, 1868, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the whole or any part of the sum of one million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the "Assessment Fund Stock of the County of New York," authorized by the 7th section of chapter 565 of the Laws of 1865, and by a resolution of the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, adopted June 19, 1868. The said stock is to provide means for the payment of damages awarded by the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment, in the matter of laying out a road or public drive between 59th and 155th sts., as per report of said Commissioners, confirmed by the Supreme Court, June 15, 1868, and the expenses, changes, and disbursements in same matter. The said stock will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemable on the first day of November, in the year 1908. The proposals will state the amount of stock desired, and the price per $100 thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the County Treasurer the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the County Treasurer for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the sums awarded to them, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposal should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Assessment Fund Stock of the County of New York," and inclosed in a second envelope addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the County require it.

RICHARD B. CONNOLLY, Comptroller.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, July 16, 1868.

IN THE MATTER OF THE COLUMBIAN COAST WRECKING COMPANY.—Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been appointed by the Supreme Court of the State of New York, held in the City and County of New York, Receiver of the estate, funds, and effects of the Columbian Coast Wrecking Company, pursuant to the provisions of the revised statutes, of New York, entitled "of the Voluntary Dissolution of Corporations." All persons indebted to the said Company are to render an account of all debts and sums of money owing by them and to pay the same to the said Receiver by the 15th day of August next, at the office of Messrs. Condert Brothers, counsellors at law, No. 49 Wall st., in the City of New York. All persons having in their possession any property or effects of the said Company are to deliver the same to the Receiver by the said day at the same place; all the creditors of the Company are to deliver their respective accounts and demands to the said Receiver by the 15th day of August, 1868, at the same place, and all persons holding any open or subsisting contract of the said Columbian Coast Wrecking Company, are to present the same in writing and in detail to such Receiver at the same place by the first day of August, 1868.

JAMES M. SWEENY, Receiver.

CORPORATION NOTICE.—PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots, improved or unimproved lands, affected thereby, that the following assessments have been completed and are lodged in the office of the Board of Assessors for examination by all persons interested, viz.:

1. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter and flagging the sidewalks a space four feet wide in 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues.

2. For building a sewer in 57th street, between 3d avenue and the East River, with branches in Avenue A and in 58th street.

3. For paving with trap block 47th street, from 11th avenue to the Hudson River.

4. For building sewers in 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues, with branches in 5th avenue.

5. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter stones and flagging sidewalks a space four feet wide in 122d street, from 2d avenue to the Harlem River.

The limits embraced by such assessment include all the several houses and lots of ground, vacant lots, pieces and parcels of land, situated on

1. Both sides of 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues, to the extent of half the block either way on said avenues.

2. Both sides of 57th street, between 2d and 3d avenues, and 1st avenue and the East River; also, both sides of 58th street, between 1st avenue and Avenue A; also, both sides of Avenue A and the east side of 1st avenue, from 57th street to a point half way between 58th and 59th streets.

3. Both sides of 47th street, between 11th avenue and the Hudson River, to the extent of half the block either way on the west side of 11th avenue.

4. Both sides of 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues; also the south side of 63d street, between Madison and 5th avenues, and the east side of 5th avenue, from 59th to 63d streets.

5. Both sides of 122d street, between 2d avenue and the Harlem River, to the extent of half the block either way on the intersecting avenues.

All persons whose interests are affected by the above-named assessments, and who are opposed to the same, or either of them, are requested to present their objections in writing to Jacob F. Oakley, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, at their office, No. 32 Chambers street, basement New Court House, within thirty days from the date of this notice.

THE "SUDATORIUM."

IT would seem almost a matter of superfluity, if not cruelty, to dilate upon the benefits of sweating in such days as these, but it is this very melting process through which we have just passed which reminds us of writing a few words respecting the virtues of the "Sudatorium." For the last week or two we have, all of us, been literally indulging in a Turkish bath for the entire twenty-four hours of each day, and although this is carrying the luxury altogether too far, and is actually fatal to numbers who are compelled to expose themselves to the intense violence of the sun's rays, there can be no doubt whatever that this sweating process, when not excessive, and accompanied by due ablutions to keep a perfectly clean skin, is eminently conducive to health; and it would be well for us if, in a less violent degree, we could manage to ensure as good a sweating all the year round.

We boast of the condensed luxuries of our private dwellings among the wealthy, and of late years much attention has been drawn to fire-proof construction of them; but there is one important benefit, of a sanitary character, which might belong to a fire-proof private residence, but which we are not aware has ever yet been introduced among us. We allude to a small room which could be constructed below ground in private houses, both in town and country, heated to the degree of an oriental hummaum, and without incurring any danger whatever. In the East they have been universal from time immemorial. In Ancient Rome, and over her wide dominions, the "Sudatorium" was considered indispensable as a preservative of health. In many of the remains of Roman villas discovered in England, the tile flues by which such rooms were heated are still visible. The Danes introduced the practice again into England, for it is on record that it was the cause of the preference manifested by the Saxon ladies for the invaders.

There is no country where such a domestic feature is more necessary than in a commercial and brain-working one like our own. The merchant sits all day at his desk; he cannot afford time for out-door exercise, but, his daily task being finished, he thinks himself fairly entitled to a good dinner, and down go all the rich things of life—solid and liquid—which a luxurious palate can crave and a well-filled purse supply. The result is a lamentable excess of imports over exports; the stomach does much, the pores nothing, and then follow gout, apoplexy, indigestion, and a whole legion of other torments. "What then?"—asks the astounded Mr. Ledger, "will you have me go to hard work, and live on gruel?" Not at all, good sir. Build yourself a fire-proof house; employ some architect, acquainted with the mode of heating at Smyrna or Constantinople, to build you a subterraneous room—say 9 feet square—with a dressing-room adjoining, at a lower temperature, and go into it every day. The depletion rendered necessary by your counting-room and good cook will thus be effected periodically in a most luxurious manner, without loss of time, and with cheering gain of appetite. We may know many other things better than the Turk, but, we may depend upon it, he has plenty to teach us in the way of keeping our bodies clean and healthy.

FRENCH HOUSES.

A WRITER, signing himself "ATHOS," has, for some time past, been instructing the public, by a series of able articles in the New York World, upon the subject of constructing houses in New York upon the French plan, by which families of the highest respectability can be accommodated—for purposes of economy and business necessities—in the very heart of the city, as distinct and separate as if each owned his own house. The idea is not a new one, for the matter has been brought over and over again to the attention of our capitalists, through the columns of the press, without apparently creating any impression. Mr. CALVERT VAUX and Mr. J. R. HAMILTON, in most of the leading journals of the metropolis, expounded before the war the absolute necessity for such edifices, and gave ample data and plans for their construction; but the thanks of the community are due to "ATHOS," for his revival of the subject, and for the clear and lucid manner in which he has put it before the public.

It is astonishing how slowly good ideas travel between nations having almost hourly intercourse with each other. In England, they are to this day, with our railway system plainly before them, puzzling their heads how to have instantaneous communication between the passengers and conductors in case of accident! With the splendid cab system of London before our eyes, here we are content to place ourselves at the exclusive mercy of street cars running in one direction, and to get drenched to the skin in seeking our houses across town, when the Londoner, at a moment's notice, can hail a cab wherever he finds himself, and be driven to any part of the city, in his own comfortable vehicle, for a shilling or two! In the same way, with the examples before them of Paris, Edinburgh, London, and other great European cities, where, owing to the intense value of land and massing of populations, families of the highest distinction—not even excepting the nobility—have found out a way of living in ease and actual splendor on separate and isolated flats under the same roof; and builders and capitalists still persist in subjecting a vast majority of our best population to the alternative of living in houses more costly than they can pay for, or huddling their families in those abominable dens of discomfort known as "tenement houses," or wasting their time and money in seeking an asylum in the far-distant country, miles away from the spot where their daily duties imperatively require them. And why is this? Simply because, in spite of all that has been said and written on the subject, no one capitalist has ever yet been able to grasp it in its full merits, and been far-sighted enough to inaugurate a movement so intensely required by a vast population. Were one such building erected in New York as "ATHOS" describes, whole streets of them would be built before the supply could meet the demand. It is idle to say that people would reject what they have never seen. To compare a building so designed and constructed with a "tenement house," is to confound things utterly dissimilar in conception; to see no difference between a public exchange and a private mansion on Fifth avenue; between a Bowery groggery and the Astor House.

But view it as we may, the thing has to come at last. There are vast numbers of our best people so situated that they must live in town, within easy access of their business, and all the railways that may ever radiate from the city won't be able to help them. For this large class of people, residences must be found suitable to their means, and there is but one way of doing it: houses upon the French or Scotch system. All that is needed is for capitalists to try it, and they may depend upon it that they would not be able to build fast enough to supply the needs of European families alone who—having tried and knowing the conveniences of such dwellings—would bespeak every cubic inch of them long before they were completed, and consider themselves blessed in being able to get them.

THE $44,167 appropriated for Boston Common this year has all been spent in the recent improvements, and $11,275 is asked for in addition.

THE assessed value of taxable property in St. Louis, Mo., has increased from $77,713,000 in 1864 to $114,260,000 in 1868.

A FACTORY, 500 feet long, and estimated to need 3,000,000 bricks in its walls, is now being built at Suncook, N. H.

THE son of Secretary Seward, Wm. H. Seward, jr., of Auburn, this State, has erected on Elizabeth street, in that city, a number of brick cottages of neat appearance and elegant finish, to be supplied with water, gas, and all the modern improvements, on lots over a quarter-acre in extent, with finely graded walks and plenty of room for adornments in shrubbery, fountains, and other adjuncts of comfort or convenience. Concerning his building lots, it is said he offers the ground at fair terms, and assists the purchaser in building, at such rates as must be satisfactory.

GROUT brick houses are a favorite structure in Winona. The Democrat admits that a building of this kind fell last spring with disastrous consequences, but makes that case exceptional in all respects; and is now "convinced that a properly built house of grout is equally as durable as any."

IN 1865 Syracuse had a population of 31,784, as it appears by the State census. The papers now claim a population for that city of 39,010—being an increas of 7,226—or nearly twenty-five per cent.

CINCINNATI owns over $9,000,000 worth of property, of which $2,000,000 is in the water works, $1,000,000 in market houses and public buildings, $667,000 in fire department property.

THE aggregate amount of property transferred in Chicago last week was $677,774, which is fully up to the average of the best business season.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

"I want to go where there is more comfort and less style than I can get in watering place hotels" says paterfamilias, but the young ladies of the family generally overrule this good intention, and the jaded business man has to put up with all the discomforts of so called fashionable watering places, where he is probably ruined by his wife's dry goods mania, and his daughters run off with adventurers. But fathers of families this year have not been so accommodating to the whims of the female portion of the family, and the great feature which has marked the present season is, that our wealthiest families, and those most distinguished for good breeding and aversion to vulgar ostentation, shun monster hotels and avaricious boarding-houses, and live secluded in their own country villas, where repose and comfort can be obtained, and no objectionable acquaintances made. This feeling is becoming more and more prevalent; and those who cannot afford to maintain a city and a country establishment prefer to live the year through out of town; hence the excitement regarding villa residences.

GOSSIP.

Some persons in comfortable circumstances reside in tenement houses in this city. A correspondent, writing to a Western paper says: "I know a man whose income is $8,000 per year, and who is Postmaster of one of the largest cities of New England, who hires a half of the first floor in an up-town tenement house for the accommodation of his family during a summer residence in New York. It is an odd taste, but we find odd people in tenement-houses... Tenement-house owners are making money in New York; the rent of five rooms is from $15 to $30 per month, in advance....New York has a population 200,000 greater than Philadelphia, and 30,000 less dwellings.... Real estate at Long Branch is worth $4,000,000 more than before the completion of the two railroads....Among the stray notices in reference to the movement now being made for the establishment of popular bathing-rooms in cities, we find the following, which are suggestive as well to city authorities as to the great manufacturing magnates who employ hundreds of operatives. The public bath-house in St. Louis was opened on the 22d of June, and up to the 21st of the present month 18,777 residents of that city had availed themselves of the benefits afforded by it. The Lippitt Woolen Company, at Woonsocket, R. I., have this season fitted up a bathing-room in the mill, where are all the conveniences of hot and cold water, and everything pertaining to such a desirable luxury....A correspondent of the London Builder states that nothing is more promotive of malaria than the practice of mixing ashes with animal and vegetable refuse in the dust bins. What about our sweet garbage-boxes in this sweltering city, then? ....Possibly the oldest wooden house in New York, and certainly the most ricketty and tumble-down, is that one known as Liberty House, Washington st., corner of West Tenth. With the tree in front of it, it would make a good study for an artist....Hudson street is the best shaded of the city avenues, the trees growing on either side of it being for the most part well grown, and placed close together.

SALES.

There is great dulness in the real estate sales, and until the middle of August or the beginning of September, very little worthy of chronicling will take place. Those who meet on 'change indulge more in the inter-communication of ideas than in making purchases, and from what we can learn many speculative transactions of large extent will be accomplished during the autumn, as a large quantity of land in Westchester county has been bought on what is known as the contract system. The only sales reported during the week, in this city, were made on Tuesday, July 28th, by Messrs. A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co., of the following described property in Montclair, N. J.:—House and 1¼ acres, Harrison ave., John Norton, jr., $9,100. House and 7 7-100 acres, Harrison av., Elias Wade, jr., $6,000. House and 3½ acres, Gates ave., Henry Chittenden, $12,400.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand for hard brick continues to be about equal to the supply, but the market is not by any means active, and the unsettled feverish feeling referred to at the close of our last report, is still very perceptible. Receivers do not apparently see their way clearly, and are in doubt as to the proper course to pursue, though during the week they have continued to insist upon about previous figures, and, as very few heavy lots were inquired after met with no great opposition. On the other hand, however, it is noticeable that the out-of-town demand, upon which dealers have for some time been depending, is gradually dying out, the city trade does not increase, nor is it likely to until the Bricklayers' strike terminates, and these points, in connection with the slow but sure accumulation of stock at the yards, seem to give very considerable advantages to the buyer at the moment. The probability that manufacturers will fill their sheds very soon, and stop work for the season, unless an outlet for stock presents itself, is still advanced as a feature to be dreaded, and such a result would undoubtedly prove very disastrous to the interests of the consumer, but the production will not cease so long as any thing like ruling prices are current and one foot of available storage room remains unoccupied. On our general range of prices we make no very important alterations, though outside figures are only occasionally reached on a very fine lot. About all the "washed" brick, which were quite plenty some little time ago, have now been disposed of, and the general average of quality is finer and more uniform. The principal receipts are from the North River yards, though from New Jersey and Long Island cargoes continue to arrive. Fronts show no variation in price, but the demand for both Croton and Philadelphia is very small, and most of the deliveries now making are said to be on old contracts. We notice shipments of 30,000 bricks to Cuba.

CEMENT.—Rosendale of first-class brands continues steady at $1.75 per bbl., and if any thing is selling with rather more freedom for shipment, mostly coastwise, agents now and then finding themselves behind hand in filling orders, owing to a want of stock. The city trade, however, does not improve, and no contracts are making except for very small parcels.

FOREIGN WOODS.—This market has continued quite dull in a retail way, and the wholesale trade flat, owing partly to a want of stock, but with more liberal arrivals, a little more life is anticipated during the next week or two. Prices are without change to note, but generally rule pretty steady. The last auction sale embraced 569 logs Nuevitas cedar at 11c.@12½c.; and 157 logs do. mahogany at 8c.@9c. per foot. The receipts for the week are as follows: From Nuevitas 191 logs mahogany, 1,131 do. cedar, and 3,600. lbs. lignumvitæ; from Mansanilla 544 logs, and 551 pieces cedar, 904 pieces Granadilla wood, 572 do. mahogany, and 259 do. lance wood; from Bahia, 1,357 logs rosewood; from Minatitlan 323 logs mahogany and cedar; and from Jacksonville 227 sticks cedar. The exports as follows: To Bremen 166 logs mahogany, 250 tons and 151 logs cedar; to Liverpool 203 pieces lignumvitæ: and to Havre 17 cases veneers.

GLASS.—This market appears to be almost completely prostrate; in fact, as a dealer remarked, "it is as flat as the goods we sell." Now and then a small order comes in, to be sure; but in almost every case it is for sizes which only a few dealers can supply, and of course on such sales extreme figures are demanded. We notice, however, a feeling of apparent confidence, and a disposition to hold all stocks steadily, as the receipts, it is thought, will be small for many months to come, and some revival of trade is looked for ere long. The latest imports are 756 packages, valued at $4,161, and 236 glass plate, valued at $35,745.

HARDWARE.—For builders' hardware there is a moderate inquiry to fill out-of-town orders, but the local trade is very dull. Occasionally some little modifications are made to close out odd parcels, but as a general thing dealers and manufacturers remain pretty steady. The selections at the moment appear to be made principally from goods of domestic manufacture, foreign makes attracting no attention.

LABOR.—"No surrender" is still the watch-word of both contending interests in the matter of the bricklayers' strike. The Master Masons continue to employ such men as are willing to work at ten hours, offering protection to all those who will accept such terms, and in many cases enough help is obtained to carry work forward with rapidity, but no signs are given of recognising eight hours as a day's work. There also appears to be an inclination on the part of employers, now that the matter has been carried thus far, to resist some of the obnoxious rules of the Journeymens' Union, such as those referring to apprentices, &c., and they hope in future to hire as many or as few boys or men as they see fit, without asking the kind permission of their workmen. Our reporter in the course of the week comes in contact with parties engaged in every leading business or trade in the Metropolis, and in answer to his requests for an opinion upon the present strike, the verdict is against the workmen, without a dissenting voice, nearly all adding, that the passage of the Eight-hour law either by Congress or the State government was entirely uncalled for, and as the present position of affairs indicates, is calculated to do the workmen more harm than good. The journeymen, we find, are still disposed to count double when calculating the number employed at eight hours; and even those who have been taken on at the above time, are only used to put work in a condition to insure its safety. A great many are more than half inclined to withdraw from the Union, and resume work upon old terms, but flattered by promises of politicians of all parties, who are looking for votes during the coming elections, and led astray by the false and injudicious statements continually published in certain papers, they continue to hang around the streets in idleness spending their own savings and that of other trade associations, vainly looking for the announcement that the "bosses" have given in. Others, again, of more intelligence, who have canvassed the state of affairs thoroughly, though convinced of the falsity of their position, refuse to concede, some through a false pride at the idea of making the first advances, and others through a dogged determination to carry the point aimed at, right or wrong. A mass meeting of the bricklayers was held during the early portion of the week, at which the principal business appeared to be the abuse of such men as had seen fit to go to work on the ten-hour plan, and the offering of resolutions virtually recommending interference with such as refused to be controlled by the rules of the Unions. One or two characteristic speeches were made, and the meeting adjourned until Monday next. The Master Masons continue to hold their regular meetings at the Exchange in Liberty street, and at every session the reports of employers show a gradual increase in the number of workmen who have returned to the ten-hour plan. Over forty members of the association have ten-hour men at work, and all agree that there would be no difficulty whatever in obtaining operatives, were it not for the continued attempts of the strikers to prevent well-disposed journeymen from earning their own bread, instead of depending upon the charity of others. So far has this interference been carried in some cases, that it was found necessary to call in the aid of the police, to prevent bodily injury to the peaceably inclined workmen. On Wednesday last Mr. Ross, after advocating a continued firmness and unanimity of action on the part of his associates, said he did not believe the reports that the Union men were taking a large number of contracts on their own responsibility. He did not think the contracts taken by them so far would amount altogether to $10,000.

Mr. O'Brien followed, and remarked that it was advisable to have the men take all the contracts they could get. It would teach them quicker than anything else that their acts had been foolish and impolitic. They would find that in order to make their living they would have to work harder than ever before, and work sixteen hours instead of eight. The experiment had been tried before, and those interested came to grief. Mr. McLean supported this view of the case, and also presented some figures showing that eight hours, as a day's work, would bring the men out at the end of the year with the balance on the wrong side of the sheet. In future the public sessions will be limited to thirty minutes, in order to allow more time for the transactions of private business. The strike of the Pennsylvania miners is considered as about done with. A considerable body of the malcontents attempted to forcibly stop the operations of such gangs as refused to join with them, but gave it up as a bad job under the persuasive eloquence of loaded fire-arms in the hands of the "bosses;" and a large proportion have now resumed work on the old terms.

LATH.—Receivers continue to talk $3 pretty strong but during the week no bids for large quantities have exceeded $2 90, and the majority of the parcels on sale after being held a day or two were closed out at the latter figure On out of town orders a few transactions took place at $3, and some odd lots were sold to city trade at $2 75, but the average is about $2 87½@$2 90, and this may be considered as the present market value. The transactions aggregate 1,900,000, taking pretty much all that came in, though a few small cargoes limited to figures above those now current have been piled out. The amount of stock on the way to this port is said to be small, but sellers do not appear very anxious to allow an accumulation, and we anticipate no very material falling off in the receipts for the present.

LUMBER.—We cannot quote any further improvement in the amount of business doing at the yards, though trade is fully as good as last week, and considering the lull in building operations, and the season of the year, dealers have but little reason to complain. Prices on all desirable qualities are firm, and with a pretty fair, though not over large assortment now on hand, all engaged in this branch of business speak hopefully of the future. We understand that the Albany dealers have checked the receipts to some extent, in order to prevent an accumulation, though stock will probably continue to come through the canals until the harvest is fully secured, and grain commences to move toward the seaboard, which event usually has the effect to materially advance freights. There has been more attention given to 1¼ inch stuff this year, and the stock is much larger, though not considered in excess of the demand. Black walnut remains very firm and in small supply, the majority of dealers having sold out early this year, in expectation of liberal receipts; and though the present consumptive inquiry is not very brisk, they must stock up. Albany operators are well aware of this, and, as a consequence, they tell buyers they can pay the rates asked or let it alone, as they please. No concessions will be granted for some little time to come at least. One or two sharp city retailers, however, satisfied themselves early in the spring, from personal observations at the West, that walnut was a good investment, and immediately secured their necessary supplies at rates which would now give them a good margin for profit even to sell out at wholesale. Our wholesale market has not been remarkably brisk, but still the amount of business doing from day to day has infused a fair degree of life into the trade, and we note an improved tone, with more confidence than for some time past. Eastern Spruce has attracted the largest amount of attention, and with buyers very anxious to secure stock, all the offerings, both on the spot and to arrive, have found a quick, ready sale, with more inquired after at the close. Sellers under this state of affairs, gained considerable advantage, and we find an improvement of $1 50@$2 00 per M. on all grades. Immediately following the issue of our last report, $18 was accepted for one or two cargoes, but subsequently $20 was demanded and obtained for rather an indifferent assortment, and $21 50@$22 for extra lengths. The receipts have not been over large, and we understand there is no prospect of any immediate increase. Sales of about 1,850,000 feet at $18@$22, with no sellers now below $20 per M. Eastern Hemlock is still quoted at about $14 @$16, with not enough offering to have any noticeable effect upon the market. White Pine continues very firm, and is not pressed for sale, dealers feeling pretty sure that about all they can get hold of will be needed at full figures. We hear it estimated that the fire in the woods thus far has destroyed in the Ottawa district $4,000,000 worth of standing pine timber, and at latest accounts the work of destruction was still going on. The shipping trade, some little time ago, bought pretty freely of white pine, and are engaged in forwarding their stock, causing a lull in this direction, though we hear an occasional inquiry for export at full figures, say: $25@$27 for West India grades, and $30@$31 for South American do. For home use the inquiry has been fair, taking some 175,000 feet in odd parcels at $25@$30, and one straight sale of 1,000,000 feet, assorted sizes, for manufacturing purposes, at $27 per M. Piling is in fair demand and steady, at about 6½@8c. for the ordinary run, and 8½@9c. per foot for extra lengths, though something unusually desirable might exceed the latter figure. Pickets quiet and plenty, at $11@$13 per M. Southern pine remains quiet, there being but little stock here to operate with, and the bulk of the receipts having been contracted for previous to arrival. Prices about as before, buyers refusing to pay any advance, unless it is for something extra fine, such as a lot of 30,000 Georgia stock taken for shipment at $40. We quote the average run of stuff nominally at about $32@$35 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 25, 1868.

The market during the past week has ruled rather quiet, owing to a continued scarcity of country buyers. The offerings have been only moderately large, and mostly of the coarser grades. The sales are made principally to city dealers, who are rapidly augmenting their stocks and getting ready for the fall trade. Prices have declined since last advices about 50c. per M. on best grades, and medium; coarse two inch cargoes steady. The quotations are, for best strips and boards, $16.50; medium, $14.50@ $16.00; ordinary mixed, $12.50@14.00; and coarse, $12.00. Lath firm at $2.25 on vessel. Shingles steady, $3.75@ $4.00 per M. W. L. S.

From the Eastward we hear of a continued good business, and in most cases steady prices. At the mills there was still enough logs to keep most of the saws moving, but some of the smaller streams were becoming very low, and there was danger of operations being suspended. Vessels were in fair supply; freights comparatively easy, and the shipments as liberal as circumstances would admit.

A drive, comprising about 10,000,000 feet of logs, reached Lewiston, Me., on the 18th. It required 65 men and 4 yoke of oxen 78 days to "drive" the logs from Lake Umbagog and beyond to Lewiston.

A recent Boston report says:

"The receipts continue to be large, but there are no accumulations of stocks, as is usual at this season of the year. Prices generally are firm, although some descriptions have been sold a shade below quotations. The continued dry weather in the manufacturing regions is somewhat restricting operations, and unless the streams are very speedily increased by rain, business will be altogether suspended on many of the smaller streams."

F. J. Bell, Forsyth & Co. of Quebec, in their Circular of July 23, remark as follows:

"During the past fortnight there have been some large sales of white pine, and prices remain stiff. Although not much may be left in consequence of the low water, still, the effect of the drought is perceptible, as rafts are delayed from 5 to 6 weeks in reaching market, and our stock of white pine being low, holders are firm, and as timber arrives, if of good quality, it is placed at full prices.

The prices realized lately are 7½d to 7¾d for 50 feet; 8d to 9d for 56 to 60; and for 70 to 75, 10d to 10½d.

Red Pine—is greatly reduced in stock, and were it not for its coutinued depression in the English markets, would command more attention.

Oak—continues to arrive in quantity, and is very little inquired for.

Elm—is in good demand, and the same may be said of Tamarac of fair size and quality.

Staves—both Standard and Puncheon, especially the former, are dull and depressed.

Deals continue scarce and high, pine particularly, and the continued dry weather curtails the quantity manufactured.

The Southern markets still present a very dull and unsettled tone, with but little business doing. Mill rates were about the same, freights scarce and high, and no inducements to ship even were dealers in a condition to do so freely. Our Savannah reports say there are very few inquiries on the market, and the mills in most cases are engaged in filling small orders. Prices still remain as follows: Timber $7@$9 50 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@12.50 for small shipping do., and $13@17 for large do. Lumber $20@$21 for ordinary sizes; $24@$30 for difficult sizes, and $21@$23 for flooring.

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to July 23, 1868, were 14,457,120 feet of lumber, of which 1,725,955 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 12,731,165 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,871,438 feet were consigned to New York; 2,795,893 to Philadelphia; 1,992,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,613,106 to Rhode Island, and 793,065 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington the market was firm and the shipping demand rather more active, though the aggregate of business not by any means large. We continue to quote as follows:

The Baltimore market is reported as follows:

The Lumber trade during the past week has been moderately active, notwithstanding the extreme heat. All qualities of Lumber of good run meets with fair offers from purchasers. Shingles from the South have accumulated, and at this time there is quite a large stock of what is known to the trade as No. 2 brands, but first class Shingles have been selling readily at quotations.

LIME.—The quotations given are still at $1.10 for common, and $2.00 for lump, but the market is merely a nominal one, in view of the continued absence of any stock of Rockland afloat, or expected. Only one cargo is known to be on the way, and this is engaged—manufacturers still, very naturally, refusing to work their kilns at a loss, or to permit the supply to accumulate until there is some prospect of a revival of the demand. In the meantime those buyers who find it necessary to operate, draw upon the stock received via North River, paying about the above figures, though occasionally upon a large order—which at present is something of a rarity—a slight concession is made, say 5@10c. per bbl.

METALS.—Copper sheathing in large parcels is not inquired after, but in a retail way from store a very fair business continues to be consummated, and prices remain steady at 18c.@20c. for old and 33c. for new. Pig iron is still extremely firm and in very good request, though the advanced rates has a tendency to reduce the consumption, and few buyers operate to an extent exceeding immediate necessities. Scotch pig remains about as before, viz.: $42.00@$45.00 per ton; but American No. 1 is rather higher, owing to a further reduction in the supply and moderate arrivals. The last sales of No. 1 were on a basis of $40.00@$41.00 per ton; No. 2, $36.00@$38.00 do., and Forge $33.00@$34.00 do. Bars from store continue only moderately active, and are not very firm, closing at about $85.00 per ton for common American and English; $95.00 do. for refined do.; and $150.00 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes. Rods, ⅝ to 3-16 inch, $100@$100.60 per ton. Sheet iron is fairly active and pretty steady at 17½c.@19c. per lb. for Russia, 14½c. for Belgian, and 14c.@15c. for American. Pig lead has been rather dull and somewhat unsettled, but the extremes of prices remain without change, and we still quote at 6¼c.@6⅞c., gold. Bar, pipe, and sheet, lead a little more active, but otherwise unchanged. Tin plates are held with confidence, but the demand has in a great measure subsided, and the market closes comparatively dull. The imports are 33,190 boxes, valued at $198,920. Zinc continues moderately active, and from store small lots are taken at 12c.@13c., very little at inside rate. In gold the rate is about 8½c.

NAILS.—Cut nails have been rather dull, and the supply accumulates. Prices are not very strong, and the majority of dealers do not ask over 4¾@4⅞, when there is any prospect of effecting sales, though in very small parcels it would still be difficult to purchase below 5c. for 4d. and 6d. Clinch are in fair request, and steady at 6¾@6½c. No change in other descriptions, and quotations still stand at 18c. for Zinc nails, 26c. for yellow metal do., and 40c. for copper do. The exports are 285 pckgs., valued at $1,421, against 205 pckgs., valued at $3,704, last week. Shipments to San Francisco, 2,120 pkgs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The market for paints both wholesale and retail has again become quite dull, and the few sales making are mostly of lots required to meet the very urgent wants of buyers whose supplies have unexpectedly fallen short. French Ochres of all kinds continue scarce and firm, but otherwise the offerings are ample for all present calls, and prices somewhat unsettled, though without actual decline. Glue of strictly prime quality could be sold to a fair extent, but there is nothing of the kind offering, and the market remains dull. Linseed oil has met with a very fair inquiry, and the bulk of the weak holders having sold out, prices show a slight improvement, closing steadily. Buyers, however, still appear to operate with caution, as seed is plenty, and the reduction of the stock of oil not by any means liberal. We quote at about $1.05@$1.07 for wholesale parcels from crushers' hands. The exports since our last are 170 pckgs. paint, valued at $8,127; and 100 gallons linseed oil valued at $146.

PITCH.—There has been a fair local trade, but not much taken for shipment. The general range of prices shows no important variation, and the majority of holders appear firm, no one pressing sales in order to realize. A few small lots were sold at $3.37½, but $3.50 continues to be the average price, and a lot of Wilmington City was sold on the pier at $4.00. The receipts for the week are 118 bbls. Exports for week, 50 bbls.; since January 1st, 2,253 bbls., and for same period last year, 2,719 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The arrivals have been very heavy within a few days, and, with considerably more expected, the market for white lumps, of which the stock here and in transit is chiefly composed, shows some signs of weakness, though for choice grades former outside figures are still asked. Blue plaster, however, is firm, and more inquired after, a few cargoes being wanted immediately at full rates. The imports for the week are 1,490 tons. Calcined is fairly active and still quoted at $2.40@$2.50 for Eastern and City. We notice shipments of 480 bbls. to Cuba.

SLATE.—This market remains in much the same position as last week, the city trade at an almost complete stand-still, and a fair shipping inquiry prevailing, though only for small parcels. Prices remain nominally as before, but a well-known customer, or a cash buyer, would probably in most cases be able to purchase at inside figures without much coaxing. The receipts from Pennsylvania do not increase as rapidly as anticipated, but there is enough coming forward from Vermont, and dealers are likely to have enough stock to meet anything like an average demand for the fall trade. Advices from the quarries report the miners showing less inclination to strike, and in fact rather disposed to put in all the work possible at ruling wages, knowing full well that contractors will stop the production at once, should a demand for an increase of pay be made.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has not been a very active consumptive demand during the week, but shippers bought with considerable freedom, and the aggregate of sales foots up pretty large. This in connection with some falling off in the receipts has given sellers the advantage and prices are higher, closing steadily at the present writing at 44@45c. for wholesale parcels in merchantable order, and retail sales in proportion. Holders are not offering freely. The receipts for the week are 1,762 bbls. Exports for week, 402 bbls.; since January 1st, 9,447 bbls.; and for same time last year, 16,171 bbls.

STONE.—We hear of nothing new in this market, the general range of prices remaining about as before, and business at the yards only moderate.

TAR.—A very fair demand has prevailed, and though the arrivals are a trifle larger, holders remain firm at full former prices, and in some instances they refuse to sell on as liberal terms as last week. The sales are principally to the home trade. We quote at $3.00@$3.50 per bbl. as it runs for North County, $3.37½@$3.75 for Wilmington, and $3.87½@$4.00 for selections in order in yard. Receipts for week, 1,404 bbls. Exports for week, 25 bbls. Since January 1st, 8,129 bbls.; and for same period last year, 3,087 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of July 28th reports as follows:

The market during the past few days has been fairly active. The attendance of buyers has been good, and some have already commenced making arrangements for purchasing their winter supply. Included in the business of the week have been several large sales, most of which have been left in the yards, thus rendering the freighting business dull. The receipts during the week have been moderate, owing to detentions on the Erie Canal, but the quantity afloat is large. The Canal week does not close until Friday next, hence we are without our usual weekly statement from the Collector. The entries on his book for the six days are 2,850,000 feet by the Champlain and 4,569,000 feet by the Erie canal. We make no change in prices, which are steady and well sustained.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending July 15th, were 33,805,000 feet, against 22,965,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 450,742,000 feet, against 361,453,000 feet in 1867, an increase, for this year of 89,289,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending July 20th and July 27th, were:

	July 20.	July 27.
Buffalo	9,523,500 feet	7,529,600 feet.
Oswego	10,471,300	9,276,000
Total	19,994,800 feet	16,799,600 feet.

	Bds&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	170,274,900	16,785	51,095	13,546,000
1867	123,820,000	9,623	.....	12,069,000

FIRST PRIZE MEDAL FOR BEST OAK-TANNED LEATHER BELTING was awarded to MESSRS. HEIM & ZIMMERMAN, Successors to PHILIP F. PASQUAY, 27 Ferry Street, New York.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to the opening of certain new avenues, roads and public places or parks, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, in the City of New York.

The Commissioners of the Central Park, in the name and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the people of the State of New York, entitled—"An act relative to the powers and duties of the Commissioners of the Central Park," passed April 4, 1866, and of the act entitled—"An act to enable the Commissioners of the Central Park to make further improvements in the City of New York," passed April 13, 1866; and of the act entitled—"An act to alter the map or plan of certain portions of the City of New York, and for the laying out and improvement of the same," passed April 24, 1867; hereby give notice that they intend to apply to the Supreme Court, in the First Judicial District of the State of New York, at a Special Term of said Court, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on Friday, the 31st day of July, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter. That the nature and extent of the improvement hereby intended is the opening of a new avenue, eighty feet in width, between the 8th avenue and 9th avenue, and running from 100th street to the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas and Manhattan street.

Also a new avenue running diagonally from the new avenue last mentioned, at or near 113th street, to the 9th avenue, at 116th street.

Also a new avenue between 9th and 10th avenues, running from 110th street to 122d street.

Also a public place or park between 110th street and 123d street, and intermediate the three new avenues beforementioned, the 9th avenue and the 10th avenue.

Also a public place, being a triangle formed by the intersections of 114th street and the first-named two of the above-mentioned new avenues.

Also a public place, being a quadrilateral formed by the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas, 123d street and the first-named of the above-mentioned new avenues, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park in the City of New York. Dated New York, July 7, 1868.

IN THE MATTER OF THE COLUMBIAN COAST WRECKING COMPANY.—Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been appointed by the Supreme Court of the State of New York, held in the City and County of New York, Receiver of the estate, funds, and effects of the Columbian Coast Wrecking Company, pursuant to the provisions of the revised statutes, of New York, entitled "of the Voluntary Dissolution of Corporations." All persons indebted to the said Company are to render an account of all debts and sums of money owing by them and to pay the same to the said Receiver by the 15th day of August next, at the office of Messrs. Condert Brothers, counsellors at law, No. 49 Wall st., in the City of New York. All persons having in their possession any property or effects of the said Company are to deliver the same to the Receiver by the said day at the same place; all the creditors of the Company are to deliver their respective accounts and demands to the said Receiver by the 15th day of August, 1868, at the same place, and all persons holding any open or subsisting contract of the said Columbian Coast Wrecking Company, are to present the same in writing and in detail to such Receiver at the same place by the first day of August, 1868.

JAMES M. SWEENY, Receiver.

CORPORATION NOTICE.—PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots, improved or unimproved lands, affected thereby, that the following assessments have been completed and are lodged in the office of the Board of Assessors for examination by all persons interested, viz.:

1. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter and flagging the sidewalks a space four feet wide in 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues.

2. For building a sewer in 57th street, between 3d avenue and the East River, with branches in Avenue A and in 58th street.

3. For paving with trap block 47th street, from 11th avenue to the Hudson River.

4. For building sewers in 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues, with branches in 5th avenue.

5. For regulating, grading, setting curb and gutter stones and flagging sidewalks a space four feet wide in 122d street, from 2d avenue to the Harlem River.

The limits embraced by such assessment include all the several houses and lots of ground, vacant lots, pieces and parcels of land, situated on

1. Both sides of 92d street, from 4th to 5th avenues, to the extent of half the block either way on said avenues.

2. Both sides of 57th street, between 2d and 3d avenues, and 1st avenue and the East River; also, both sides of 58th street, between 1st avenue and Avenue A; also, both sides of Avenue A and the east side of 1st avenue, from 57th street to a point half way between 58th and 59th streets.

3. Both sides of 47th street, between 11th avenue and the Hudson River, to the extent of half the block either way on the west side of 11th avenue.

4. Both sides of 60th, 61st and 62d streets, between 4th and 5th avenues; also the south side of 63d street, between Madison and 5th avenues, and the east side of 5th avenue, from 59th to 63d streets.

5. Both sides of 122d street, between 2d avenue and the Harlem River, to the extent of half the block either way on the intersecting avenues.

All persons whose interests are affected by the above-named assessments, and who are opposed to the same, or either of them, are requested to present their objections in writing to Jacob F. Oakley, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, at their office, No. 32 Chambers street, basement New Court House, within thirty days from the date of this notice.

SEWERAGE OF THE CITY.

GENERAL E. L. VIELE, Registrar of Vital Statistics, has recently made a Report on the necessity of a radical change in our system of sewerage, which is well worthy of the attention of all property holders, and, indeed, all classes of our citizens. Some of the statements made by General VIELE are really startling. For instance, he tells us that of the twelve thousand acres comprising the superficial area of the city, representing 150,000 building lots, one fifth of that amount, or 30,000 building lots are, by reason of the presence, in greater or less quantities, of water in the soil, rendered almost unfit to be occupied as sites for dwellings or for commercial purposes. Yet no attempt of any kind has ever been made to establish a system of drainage by which these 30,000 lots, averaging in value $10,000, or possessing a total value of $300,000,000, can be made suitable places for residences or warehouses. Knowing, as we do, that humidity, wrought upon by a heightened temperature, is the most prolific source of the most dangerous diseases, in what a condition are we when so large a portion of the city is permitted to retain the constant presence of water in the soil, perpetually mixing with the impurities which necessarily attend all crowded localities!

Having already gone so far, and done so much in a wrong way, it is by no means easy to retrace our steps; but the case is perfectly curable. At present, the whole sewerage of the island is discharged directly into the North and East rivers, where it pollutes the waters, and forms large deposits of filthy matter at the wharves and piers, producing at low tide a pestilential air, which, in certain directions of the wind, is forced among the dwellings of the people, and becomes a fruitful source of disease. To remedy this evil General VIELE—avowedly following the same system so successfully introduced in London, and by which alone that city warded off a second plague—proposes the construction, along the external edges of the city, of "low-lying sewers," to catch the sewerage before it enters the rivers, and convey it to points where it could be discharged at ebb tide, or transported, in properly-constructed vessels, to fertilize the surrounding lands. As these sewers would be placed below the lowest substratum of water deposits, all those portions of the city now suffering from stagnant accumulations would be effectually drained, and the value of such property incalculably improved. By such a system we should, therefore, not only be enhancing the value of property and insuring the health of our population, but be literally converting the pestilential matter, now a source of so much danger and annoyance, into a new and important element of wealth.

It is to be hoped that, among the many contemplated schemes for the improvement of the city, this one at least will not be neglected, for none can exceed it in consequence. A proper system of drainage and abundant supply of water are the two leading and essential elements of any city's greatness and prosperity. There is no reason why so great a metropolis as this should labor under the present condition of things. There are already more than two hundred miles of sewers under our streets, nearly all of which have been built without regard to system, and in many cases not only fail to obviate existing evils, but actually create new ones. Localities exist where coffer dams and pumps are absolutely necessary to be used before builders can obtain a proper foundation for building. If the Hollanders, living in cities below the sea, can scientifically overcome such difficulties, surely we—perched upon an island which can as naturally drain itself as water runs from the back of a turtle—ought to be able to adopt some better system than the one from which we are now suffering.

OUR MARKETS.

NEVER was there a great city so utterly deficient in good and commodious markets as our own boasted Metropolis. We speak not of their supplies—for in no quarter of the habitable globe is nature more prolific in administering to every necessity of man—but of the public receptacles in which we are content, year after year, to house these redundant treasures. Our Washington, Fulton, and other great markets, when compared with those of many small European cities, to say nothing of even many other cities of the United States, are positive disgraces. In their rambling and incoherent conglomeration, their intricacy of access, their crowding and confusion, their lack of cleanliness, air, and ventilation, these miserable receptacles—like Mrs. STOWE'S Topsy—seem never to have had any distinct origin, but to have simply "growed" where we find them. No plan, no method, no original and studied adaptation of means to an end, but simply a huge accumulation of stalls, that have apparently tumbled together by accident, and gone on increasing in bulk to meet the greater demand of each year.

In other parts of the world the design and construction of market-houses afford as much scope to the inventive skill of architects, and are considered as deserving of architectural embellishment, as their theatres, churches, colleges, or other public institutions. We have only to look at the public markets in any considerable city of England, Scotland, France, Belgium, Holland, or Germany, to see how immeasurably we fall short of them in this important particular. We have before us now the plan of a market-house erected in Bolton, Lancashire, but a few years ago—a town possessing probably not more than 80,000 inhabitants—and which completely puts to the blush everything of the kind we have ever seen here. It is not for its architectural beauty, which is very considerable, that we allude to it, but for the excessive convenience and simplicity of all its arrangements.

The whole of the area occupied is covered by wrought-iron roofs, supported by ornamental cast-iron piers, brackets, and girders, and divided into a nave of 54 feet span, and six aisles, each 26 feet wide, both intersected by a transept of equal width and height with the nave. At the point of junction between the nave and transept roof, rises a large ventilating shaft, whose summit is 76 feet from the market floor. To the exterior walls are affixed the rows of shops, each 16 feet high, and over them is obtained a gallery for the sale of light commodities, and receiving additional light from the apertures surmounting the arcade — forming not only a market, but complete bazaar. In connection with the building are also a market inspector's residence and offices, a clerk of market's office, public weighing machine, and every necessary adjunct. As the inevitable growth of our city northwards will necessarily require the creation of new markets up town, if not the total abandonment of the present, it is to be hoped that all new structures of the kind will henceforth bear some affinity to the wealth, taste, and resources of a metropolis like New York.

MUSKEGON CITY, Mich., has a population of between 6.000 and 7,000 in and around the lakes. It has thirty-two saw mills with a capacity of 200,000,000 feet per annum. About 175,000,000 was manufactured in 1867, beside large quantities of shingles.

WILLIAM B. ASTOR, of New York, is reported to be worth one hundred and twenty millions of dollars. He pays a tax on one-half of that sum, and his real estate is worth double its assessed value.

THE transfers in Chicago for the week ending Saturday, July 18th, are 156 in number, and the value of the property conveyed $650,350, against 176 for the week ending July 11th, conveying property to the amount of $701,011

A. T. STEWART has bought a $200,000 villa at Newport.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

THE wood screw manufacturing company of Providence, R. I, has been the most profitable company ever known in this country. It was established twenty years ago, and each original share at a par value of $500, subsequently yielded forty-five new shares, and these new shares now sell at upwards $500 each share, thus making a value of $23,000 for the original $500 invested. During a large portion of the time the company have also been paying liberal cash dividends of profits. Fifteen to twenty tons of iron wire are daily consumed in the works of this company.

NORTHERN Minnesota, according to recent explorations, possesses a very remarkable slate region. It is stated that the slate ridge is some twenty odd miles in length and six in width. In one place there are mounds of slate covering a large extent of territory, which have the appearance of a city, there being streets, houses, and towers of regular shape, the whole presenting a most singular and interesting appearance. At one point in the St. Louis river is a large island of pure workable slate, towering above the surface of the stream to a height of seventy-five feet.

PITTSBURGH has increased in size very rapidly during the last three years. During the years 1866 and 1867 not less than nine thousand houses were erected in the city and the adjacent municipalities. Most of these buildings are of stone or brick.

THERE are, it is estimated, about 7,500,000 telegraph posts in the world, which it costs about $1,000,000 a year to keep up.

ONE hundred and forty buildings were erected in Columbus, Ohio, during the quarter ending June 30th.

A NEW opera house at Auburn, N. Y., with seats for 1,700 persons, will be completed by the end of October.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

There is a very strong disposition manifest among all classes to see some improvement in our railway system, especially in the matter of speed, as the recent sales of country property bring the question of rapid travel directly home to the purchasers. In the matter of rolling stock we are greatly superior to the English; but, then, in the matter of solidly built roads we are greatly inferior. Of course, it would never pay to construct roads on the expensive European style through thinly populated countries or Western wilds, but in the immediate vicinity of this metropolis it would certainly pay to construct substantial tracks for a distance at least of 40 or 50 miles from the city. Again the question of our piers and slips comes up with the purchase of sea-side property, as nearly all the steamers plying on the Sound and Bay embark their freight of human beings promiscuously with the merchandise, and one has to run every day the guantlet of being crushed between trucks and drays, or having the olfactory nerves irritated by the odor of hides, fish barrels, and other species of perfumery. These questions are well worth the serious consideration of railroad and steamboat companies, and those who facilitate and increase the comfort of travel will be amply repaid for all outlays in its augmentation.

GOSSIP.

Somebody in a London paper advocates the planting of poplar trees in the streets of that city. We have different ideas on the subject of shade-trees in New York from what they seem to have in London. The planting of poplars along the side-walks here would hardly be a pop'lar measure....The houses 176 William street and 256 Broadway are considered unsafe. The owners have been ordered by Judge Brady of the Common Pleas to make them safe....Workmen are employed in removing the steeple of the church on the corner of Fourth street and Lafayette Place....The improvement to the foot-ways of Washington Park drags wearily. The total value of school-houses and land is $9,072,443....The Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, will erect a chapel for lecture-room, Sunday-school rooms, &c., this summer, to cost from $75,000 to $80,000. Next year they expect to enlarge their church....The number of permits issued for the erection of new buildings in Philadelphia during July was 534. During the corresponding month last year 278 permits only were issued....Mr. Robert Foulds of this city is erecting an elegant mansion on Passaic Heights, to cost $30,000....The records in the Assessor's office, Brooklyn, show that during the year ending June 30, 1868, 2,628 dwellings were erected within the city limits....The assessed value of real estate in New Orleans is $110,052,175....On Wednesday last the factory property at Oswego Falls, including 200 acres of land, was sold at assignee's sale. The machinery in the factory was not included in the sale, that being mortgaged to others. The purchaser of this property was Mr. Edwin Hoyt, of New York, of the firm of Hoyt, Sprague & Co., and the sum for which it was bought was $25,000. Mr. Hoyt held a mortgage on the premises for nearly $200,000, the estimated value of the property.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

Nothing of moment occurred this week to break the monotony of the deserted Exchange Rooms. A number of the principal auctioneers of the city are already beginning to prepare their maps, and arrange for opening the real estate business of the season earlier than usual the coming Fall. Considerable country and suburban property will be offered some time in September, and if the bidding warrants we may expect that the autumn will bring as brisk a market for suburban lots as the summer. The trade in city real estate will probably remain comparatively dull until after January, although the coming of the cool weather will probably bring with it activity in city houses and lots.

The only property sold during the week were the following lots:

On WEDNESDAY, JULY 29TH, Messrs. Johnson & Miller offered, by order of the Supreme Court, at the Peck Slip Hotel, Brooklyn—One 3-story house with lot, No. 164 South Ninth st., Philadelphia brick front, high stoop, and modern improvements, lot 19x36x103, Mr. Millican, $8,400. One 2-story and basement brick house on Eckford st., near Norman av., Greenpoint, lot 16.8x34x100, M Vandevoort, $2,200. One ditto, adjoining, same size, etc., M. Vandevoort, $2,100. One ditto, adjoining, same size, etc., M. Vandevoort, $2,000.

THURSDAY, JULY 30TH.—Messrs. A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co. sold, under direction of Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., referee, 15 9-10 acres of land in Westchester county, town of Westchester, 1¼ miles from Fordham, to N. G. Bradford, at $255 per acre.

SATURDAY, AUG. 1ST.—Portchester Property.—This property is situated on the Byram river, near the New York and New Haven Railroad, overlooking Long Island Sound, and comprises a tract of land equal in extent to 400 city lots, but so divided as to make 150 choice villa plots. One lot, 75 ft. front, and extending 154 ft. from Greenwich av. to River st., 154 feet, for $550, to Mr. Crolius. One lot adjoining last, for $660, to Thomas Bent. One lot extending between the streets before mentioned, having 100 feet front on Greenwich av., and 118 feet on River st., by 200 feet deep, with a fine frame cottage and barn, was sold to Mr. T. D. Minnuse for $4,550. Several other lots were bought in.

TUESDAY, AUG. 4TH.—By Muller, Wilkins & Co.—Building and lot, 91 and 91½ Bowery, 25.3x68.6, $34,250. Building and lot, 25 Rose st., 28x°8, $14,200. House and lot, 143 East 27th st., 18.9x98.9, $15,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—There has been a decided improvement in trade since our last report, and the general market presents a much more active and healthy tone than for a period of many weeks. The inquiry from Brooklyn, Jersey City and the smaller suburban towns, has again become quite active, while the sales for use in this city—owing to the increasing number of bricklayers working at ten hours—have materially increased, and receivers find it almost impossible to supply all the calls made upon them. Many of the deliveries are upon contracts made with builders, who were not to call for the stock until they obtained journeymen to work on the ten hour system, though a large proportion of the cargoes are landed on fresh orders, and the daily consumption will now probably approximate very close to 1,500,000 hard brick, fully exhausting all the arrivals. The supply in the yards up the river is ample, in fact much larger than usual at this season, owing to the natural accumulation during the recent dullness, and as manufacturers continue their production without interruption, all wants will eventually be met. The present revival of business, however, has been somewhat sudden and unexpected, taking both receivers and shippers unawares, and though the number of vessels running is fully as large as at the date of our last, they are unable to bring in enough brick at the moment to satisfy the demand. Prices of course have entirely lost all signs of depression, and the tendency is now towards a higher range, the quotations as we close this report standing at about $7.00@$8.00 for pale; $9.00@$10.00 for the poorer grades of hard; and $11.00@$12.00 for choice do. The quality of the stock continues good, "washed" lots seldom appearing. We also hear of an improving demand for Croton fronts, now that all the poor and inferior parcels are weeded out, and with a rather small supply the market is firm at former figures, though after the 15 inst. the rate is to be increased two dollars per M. Philadelphia fronts are also very steady and in good demand all things considered. We note further shipments to Cuba of 30,000 bricks.

CEMENT.—The inquiry for Rosendale is good from all quarters, shippers taking their full average, and city jobbers rather increasing their purchases, which with not over large receipts has kept the stock pretty low. Prices therefore remain firm on all choice brands at $1.75 per bbl., and even the least desirable manufactures now find less difficulty in obtaining this rate. We note shipments of 160 bbls. to New Granada; 402 bbls. to Cuba; and 1,200 bbls. to San Francisco.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—The demand has been very moderate from all quarters, and there is a pretty liberal accumulation of stock. Prices have been rather heavy for several weeks, and in most cases are now somewhat reduced, our table of quotations being revised to conform to current rates.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The supply offering is more liberal, and a few small lots have changed hands in the wholesale market at about previous rates. At the yards trade is light, and prices a little irregular, though extremes remain about as before. The receipts reported since our last embrace 641 logs Rosewood from Rio Janeiro; 40 logs do. from Bahia; 1,760 pieces Lignumvitæ from Porto Plata; and 40 logs Cedar from Mansanilla. The exports, 128 logs Mahogany to Bremen, and 23 do. to Gibraltar.

GLASS.—French Window Glass of the larger sizes is still quite dull, and somewhat unsettled, but the small and desirable grades are extremely firm, and by being continually picked up in small lots, the supply at the moment is very small. This, of course, diverts the attention of buyers in favor of American and English stock, and these qualities are now firmly held; some of the favorite styles showing a little buoyancy.

HARDWARE.—The general market continues rather dull, but we note a slightly improved demand for both plain and fancy styles of Builders' Hardware, domestic foreign, and considerable uniformity in prices. Country orders take the bulk of sales, but a fair amount goes to city dealers.

LABOR.—The bricklayers strike continues to be the all-absorbing topic, workmen in other trades generally appearing content to accept old terms until this matter is finally settled, and then guide themselves accordingly. Should any be flattering themselves, however, that the strike now prevailing is likely to result in the establishment of the eight-hour system, the present position of affairs indicates that they will be sadly disappointed. The Journeymen Bricklayers, to be sure, claim to have made wonderful headway, but they do not bring convincing proofs to back up these statements, and everything goes to show that they are daily losing ground. We last week reported the number of "bosses" employing ten-hour men as forty, and this week the figures will reach nearly if not quite fifty, or about one-half the regular contracting masons of the city. Of the balance, about one-third are lying idle, and the others have eight-hour men at work, mostly, however, to finish up jobs in danger of forfeiture, or so peculiarly situated as to require immediate attention. Besides the additional "bosses" at work, nearly all those previously reported have added more men to their gangs, some of whom are strangers and non-society men, but quite a number are deserters from the Union, thoroughly disgusted with the attempt to force employers into a recognition of a system which even a goodly proportion of the strikers themselves acknowledge to be unjust. According to reports which reach us, the prime movers in this strike are men of no account as mechanics, and, as the dog in the manger, principally being unable to earn full wages themselves, are determined that none of their co-laborers shall do so, unless they (the leaders) dictate the terms. Of course, while these malcontents find followers and trade associations foolish enough to contribute to their support, they will remain idle, and the strike still be supposed to exist, though even now it is virtually at an end, the journeymen having gained absolutely nothing, and the employers everything.

The committee who superintend the strike—and who are reported as having unlimited power—continue to report funds as coming in, but the amounts now appear to count by hundreds instead of thousands, a pretty evident sign that the Trade Unions are becoming tired of contributing to a movement advancing so slowly, if indeed they are not satisfied of the impossibility of the strikers gaining the victory. The master masons claim, and not without reason, that their position has been grossly misrepresented in a great many of the reports which are given to the public, and were their views better understood, the present difficulties would assume a different shape. Journals professing to be friendly to the laborer continually publish items prepared by the leading strikers, which frequently have no foundation in truth, and as they are all intended to convey the impression that the strike is meeting with immense success, the poor deluded journeymen feel encouraged to wait a little longer, hopeful of victory. The meetings of employers have, from the outset, been characterized by a firm determination on the part of those present to hold out against the Union of the operative bricklayers, but no one who has listened to their debates, can conscientiously say that any spirit of vindictiveness has been shown. Yet the reports of these meetings are often so worded, that the workman is led to understand that "bosses" are guided solely by a desire for revenge, and of course the breach is still further widened, particularly when the reports are backed up by editorials, filled with the usual clap-trap about the down-trodden workmen, and great monopoly enjoyed by capital when opposed to labor. The employers ask, very pertinently, however, whether they are any greater monopolists than the Trade Unions, who not only desire to adjust the terms upon which the workman shall be employed, but insist upon exercising a supreme control over all his actions, without regard to the convenience or loss to those who find it necessary to use his services.

Labor is an article of merchandize just as much as brick or cement, and will in every case bring what it is worth; the better the quality, the better the price; the greater the demand, the more favorable terms for the workman, who should always have independence enough to insist upon his right to dispose of his services to the highest bidder. The master masons would not object to the eight-hour law were there apparently no hopes of doing better, but when they find large numbers of operatives willing and anxious to earn five dollars per day and work ten hours for it, they do most decidedly object to any interference from those who are opposed to the above terms. In fact the threats and even violence brought to bear by committees from the strikers, in order to prevent well-disposed men from working, is now one of the main causes of complaint, and, were it not for this, the bricklayers' strike would soon wind itself up. Many a poor society man, who is now wandering the streets while his wife begs assistance from friends, and in some cases from former "bosses," would be only too happy to resume work on the ten-hour plan, were it not for the constant fear of losing his life, so very violent are the menaces made towards those who seem inclined to give in. A point upon which the journeymen lay great stress is the contracts they have been enabled to secure; but, while they have undoubtedly greatly exaggerated the amount of work given them, this action rather meets the views of the "bosses," on the ground that, if it does not increase the number of master masons, it will show the workmen some of the difficulties an employer has to contend with, and in the end have a wholesome effect.

Among the other statements emanating from the journeymen and their friends (?) we notice a report to the effect that all the buildings now going up through the labors of ten-hour men, are so unsafe as to require immediate attention from the public authorities, and also that the number of Union members out of employment does not exceed twenty-five or thirty. The first statement is too silly to require more than a simple denial, while the latter is instantly refuted by the presence of gangs of ten, fifteen, and twenty society men hanging around all buildings where ten-hour workmen are employed, interfering with the latter's labors, and trying to induce them to join the strike. At a recent meeting of the Master Masons the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The bricklayers, in their efforts to enforce their unjust demands, are constantly violating the laws of the land, and whereas it is incumbent on us as citizens to resist their illegal acts, therefore

Resolved, That the cases reported to the Executive Committee be selected as test cases, and that the parties be and they are hereby requested to commence action thereon, on behalf of the Master Masons' Association.

And also the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, It has been asserted by the Bricklayers' Union that the German bricklayers have been secured by their bosses promising them $5 50 per day of ten hours' work, and when they agreed to do so they paid them $1 50 to $8 00 per day, thus prejudicing the bosses in the minds of the public, accusing us with deceit, and

Whereas, They (the German bricklayers) have again appealed to us for the protection in their rights and a faithful adherence to our proposal to them in giving them preference of our work over all others, therefore be it

Resolved, That we re-affirm our original resolution, and declare that we will stand by those men, and make everything good contained in that resolution.

LATH.—No variation of importance has occurred in this market since our last. The receipts continue fair though not abundant, and pretty much all coming in are sold out at prices ranging from $2871 to $300 per M. according to circumstances; and there is an occasional inquiry for parcels to arrive. Receivers are still steady in their views, and do not force sales, though apparently willing to meet the market at current rates. The mills are sawing yet and will continue while the water holds out, and, with comparatively easy freights, we may reasonably look for a supply sufficient to meet all immediate demands. The latest reported sales embrace 1,750,000 on spot, at $2.87½ @3.00, and 550,000 to arrive, at $3.00.

LIME.—About 3,000 bbls. Rockland have been received since our last, but were immediately disposed of; in fact, the bulk was engaged previously to arrival, and the market is again bare of stock afloat. The demand appears to be improving somewhat, though not unusually active, and manufacturers do not find encouragement enough to to induce them to resume operations. Prices remain as before, but firm at $1.10 for Common, and $2.00 for Lump. North River Lime is selling well, and at full market rates.

LUMBER.—We find but little activity at the yards, either on the east or west sides of the town, and taken as a whole, the retail market is dull. Builders are unwilling to make any contracts, in view of the continued great uncertainty as to the amount of work they will be able to accomplish during the balance of the season, while manufacturers, such as cabinetmakers, &c., are in many cases pretty well supplied with stock, or finding business too quiet to warrant any immediate additions of magnitude, refuse to operate. There is, however, in some instances, a fair jobbing trade reported, in small and irregular parcels, of both pine and hard wood, on the majority of which sales full prices are insisted upon and obtained. The receipts are comparatively light, as most dealers have been looking for rather more favorable terms in the Albany market before purchasing with freedom. As yet, however, their desires have not been granted, the lumbermen of the capital city appearing very indifferent, and refusing concessions. Nothing definite is known as to the amount of stock on the canals, though it is generally understood to be pretty liberal, some accumulation being occasioned by the low stage of the water. In our wholesale market this week we find very little of interest to advise, a fair degree of activity prevailing, and prices on most grades of stock remaining about as before. Eastern Spruce has arrived slowly, but as buyers supplied immediate wants pretty well during the activity of last week, the receipts have been sufficient to prevent further improvement in prices. There is enough doing, however, to prevent any great accumulation, and dealers, in consequence, remain steady at $19.00 for poor assortments; $20.00@21.00 for ordinary and good do., and $22.00 per M. for choice, long sizes, &c. Eastern hemlock remains dull and nominally unchanged at $14.00@16.00 per M. White pine has been in very good request for home use, and a few small parcels taken for shipment, the feeling amongst dealers being very strong at full previous rates, but with a fair supply on hand and coming forward, no immediate advance is looked for. We are informed that the fires continue to rage, and that the burned districts are daily becoming larger, the smoke in some cases being so dense as to entirely prevent navigation on the principal rivers. Piling has arrived to a fair extent, but meeting with no unusual demand, the market remains without important change, and we still quote at 6½@9c. as the extremes for the great bulk of the stock. Pickets are dull, and only a few small lots have changed hands at about $11.00@12.00 per M. In Southern pine we notice rather more activity, and though buyers refuse to pay an advance, they are willing to operate on desirable lots at full former figues. The arrivals of Southern shingles have been unusually large, and the stock has accumulated freely, causing considerable anxiety on the part of holders to realize. This, of course, has given buyers all the advantage, and we note a very material deline, the closing rate being about $20.00@28.00 for cypress, and the market still somewhat unsettled. At ruling rates, however, these goods should attract more attention, as they are now down to a point equal to values current before the war, and considering their size and durability, are cheaper than any other style of shingle now on the market.

A raft of 700,000 feet of lumber was towed up New York bay, and through the East River and Sound this week. The lumber came from New Brunswick, N. J., and was taken to Dutch Point, near Hartford. The raft was 65 feet wide, and about 500 feet long, and is said to be one of the longest that has ever passed this city.

The principal sales during the week embrace some 1,200,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00@20,00, and $21.50; 250,000 feet Southern pine (Georgia and Florida) at $34.00 for 1¼ inch and upwards; 2,000,000 feet white pine (port previous to our last), sold mostly for home use at $24.00@25.00 per M., and a cargo of spruce piling at 7½@8c. per ft.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 3, 1868.

The inquiry for lumber during the week has been light, and the stocks large, causing a heavy feeling on all grades, but more particularly on mixed cargoes, though up to Saturday evening no important changes had occurred. The large amount of stock remaining unsold at that time, however, together with the liberal receipts since, gives us an accumulation of cargoes to-day greater than at any other time during the season, and sellers are now anxious to operate at a reduction of 50@75c. Good to choice cargoes quotable at $15 50@$16 00, and inferior to common $11@$12. Shingles $3 65 on board, and $3 87½ on track. Lath steady at $2 25 on vessel.

The Eastern markets were not very active, and prices rather lacked strength, owing partly to a more liberal supply of vessels and some easing up on freights. The mills are again reported as suffering for want of water, but we do not learn of any having been compelled to suspend operations.

METALS.—Copper Sheathing is in good, steady jobbing demand, and manufacturers are still insisting upon full previous rates. We quote at 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. Pig Iron is not very active, buyers still operating with some caution, and in most cases only in view of pressing wants. Scotch Pig attracts the least attention, but with moderate arrivals and the advance in gold, sellers retain the advantage, and prices are firm at $42@$45 per ton. No. 1 American continues in small supply, and on the prime grades is a trifle better, while all the lower qualities hold their own without difficulty. We quote No. 1 at $40@$42 per ton; No. 2 at $36@$38 do.; and Forge $33@$34 do. Bars from store sell very slowly, and only in small job lots, about previous rates remaining current, viz. $85 per ton for common American and English; $95 for refined do.; and $150 for Swedes, ordinary sizes. Rods ⅜ to 3-16 inch, $100@$160 per ton. Sheet Iron sells to a moderate extent at 5@7c. for single D and T common, and 13½@14c. gold for Russia assorted numbers. Pig Lead has been rather more active, and some pretty large sales consummated, but without affecting the general range of prices; quotations still standing at 6½@ 6¾c. gold. Bar Lead 10c. and Pipe and Sheet 12c. in wholesale parcels. Tin Plates have been quite active, though latterly the demand has fallen off, and the market closes quietly. The stock of Plates is large, in some quarters estimated at nearly 50 per cent. above last year, and this prevents any material improvement in coin values, but owing to the higher premium on gold, currency rates have advanced, and we revise our table accordingly. Zinc has met with a fair inquiry, and currency prices are better, say about 12½@13½c. from store.

NAILS.—Cut nails are moderately active, and the market remains at 4¾@4¾c. for 4d@6d, with very small lots at 5c. Clinch are dull, and have favored the buyer somewhat, though closing steadily at 6¼@6½c. Other kinds firm at 18c. for Zinc; 26c. for Yellow Metal; and 40c. for Copper. The exports are 808 packages, valued at $3,106, against 285 packages valued at $1,421 last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1,370 packages.

PAINTS AND OILS.—China Clay has now become very plenty, and is rather dull, but French Ochres are still in small supply. Prices generally are firm and buoyant, in view of the advance in gold, but as yet we do not find it necessary to alter quotations. The White Lead manufacturers talk of advancing rates at an early day. Glue is steady, but not very active. Linseed Oil has ruled comparatively steady throughout the week under moderate offerings and a fair demand, but at the close there is a little dullness, and there appears to be an inclination to shade a trifle in buyers' favor; a few sales making at $1.04. Still in a small way previous figures are insisted upon, viz. $1.05@$1.07, and from retail store rates in proportion. We note exports of 99 packages Paint, valued at $1,631; 50 cases Oxide Zinc, valued $2,128; and 4,312 gallons Linseed Oil, valued at $2,397. Shipments to San Francisco 199 packages White Lead, and 56 do. Paint.

PITCH.—The arrivals have been pretty liberal, and with no export demand and some falling off in the local inquiry, the buyer has more advantage. Prices are easier by at least 12½c. per bbl., and the latest sales of prime city were made at $3.37½, delivered. Southern is somewhat nominal. Receipts for the week 542 bbls. Exports none; since January 1st 2,253; and for same period last year 2,819 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—While Nova Scotia lump continues plenty, and though the bulk of the late receipts were to fill previous orders, and not thrown on the market, prices rather tend downward, and $4.65 may be considered an outside rate for cargoes. The amount on the way is liberal. Of Blue there is no stock, and none expected, dealers refusing to import except upon positive orders, and these they do not obtain. Since our last 1,270 tons have arrived, all white. Calcined remains steady at $2.40 for Eastern, and $2.50 for City. We note shipments of 600 bbls. to San Francisco, and 200 bbls. to British Australia.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—There is nothing of importance going on in this branch of trade, though dealers begin to make preparations for the fall demand, which, it is thought, will be very good. Prices, generally, are steady, with the exception of Iron Pipes, and on these we note considerable irregularity, discounts varying from 25 to 40 per cent., according to quantity, &c.

SLATE.—There are still a few sales making to out-of-town buyers and for shipment along the coast, with occasionally a small lot taken on city account; but the general market presents a dull tone, much more so than usual at this season of the year. The receipts in the meantime continue free, and the supply now on hand has assumed pretty large proportions. Buyers, of course, retain the advantage, and though the quoted rates are still unchanged a bid of $1.00, or even $1.50 per square below outside figures is pretty sure to be met, particularly if made by a well-known customer, or by a party with cash in hand. From the quarries there is no news of interest this week; the miners, so far as heard from, continuing steadily at work.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A good active business has been done since our last, and prices gradually but surely improved, closing strong on all merchantable lots, and very little offering. The receipts have been unusually large, but were made up principally of parcels sold previous to arrival, and the stock now in first hands is understood to be reduced to a very small compass. We quote at 46@47c. for wholesale parcels, and in retail lots from jobbers' hands 47@49c. The receipts for week are 3,446 bbls. Exports for week 65 bbls.; since January 1st 9,512 bbls., and for same period last year 16,390 bbls.

STONE.—Trade is improving a little at the yards, though nothing like activity can be looked for until building is more generally resumed. The agents for different quarries, however, report business as good for all free stone, and in some cases absolutely driving on blue stone; much of the latter coming in on corporation orders. Prices remain as heretofore, but very firm. No trouble has been experienced from strikes, and the miners generally appear satisfied with present terms.

TAR.—The firmer tone noticed last week is still more apparent, owing to an improving demand and a reduced supply of desirable qualities, and a slight advance may quoted. We place North County as it runs at $3.12½@$3.62½ per bbl.; Wilmington, $3.30@$3.87½; and Rope, which is particularly scarce, $4.00@$4.12½ per bbl., all in order in yard. The stock is estimated at about 3,500 bbls. Receipts for week 621 bbls. Exports for week 428 bbls.; since January 1st 8,557 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,087 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of August 4, reports as follows:

Trade been has good during the week; there have been a good many buyers in market, and there has been a good deal of lumber sold. Prices of pine lumber are very steady. On some descriptions of coarse we advance our quotations. The receipts have been large; larger than any previous week this season, and larger than any week of last season. The stock is good, though not over large for the season, and is well assorted.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending August 1st., were 31,760,000 feet, against 28,156,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. These figures would make the aggregate receipts for the year 482,502,000 feet, against 389,609,000 feet in 1867, an increase for this year of 92,893,000 feet.

The market for clear lumber in Chicago has declined during the week from $55@57 to $53@55, and these values are shaded to effect sales. At Muskegon "there is a lull in the lumber market; manufacturing will soon be discontinued if this state of things continues. Buyers are slow, taking the best lots, and few scarcely look at lower grades. Cargoes upon cargoes of lumber remain unsold on the docks.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending July 27, and August 3, were:

	July 20.	August 3.
Buffalo	7,529,600 feet	9,666,700 feet.
Oswego	9,276,000	7,827,000
Total	16,799,600 feet	17,493,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the fourth week of July, were:

	Bds&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	27,100,600	4,368	.....	2,880,500
1867	21,056,700	2,524	.....	3,465,600

	Bds&S'tg, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	197,875,500	23,153	51,095	16,426,500
1867	144,876,700	12,147	.....	15,584,600

Vessels in fair supply; rates unchanged.

DECAY OF STONE BUILDINGS IN CITIES.—It has frequently been observed that the surfaces of various kinds of stones, especially the limestones, when used for building purposes in cities, in a short time become dimmed and discolored, and at no distant period show unmistakeable signs of decay. This is more especially the case where coal is used in the largest quantity, and a careful examination has shown that it is due mainly to the large quantity of sulphuric acid liberated by the combustion of this substance, amounting to seventy pounds or more for each ton of even the purest quality. This acid forms sulphates, and it is on magnesian limestones, or dolomites, that the effects are most marked, the resulting sulphate of magnesia being very evident in the scrapings of the surface. The carved portions of the stone, and those which arrest the dirt and dust, suffer most, from holding longer in contact with the stone the acidulated moisture of the air. The resulting disintegration of the stone is also facilitated by the crystallization of the sulphates within its pores.

A careful consideration of the chemical processes involved has led to the use of certain substances for the purpose of preventing the combinations mentioned, and, as it would seem, with much success. An aqueous solution of superphosphate of lime was applied to the surface of the cleaned stone, either by brushing or immersion, and produced an insoluble exterior. The cost of the material is but trifling, a gallon of the solution furnishing two coats to about 300 square feet of Caen or Portland stone. It should not contain any appreciable quantity of sulphuric acid. For treatment of dolomites or magnesian limestones, baryta is added to the hardening salt, for the purpose of destroying any sulphate of magnesia already formed, giving rise to the very insoluble sulphate of baryta. When the superphosphate of lime is applied to the fresh surface of limestone, it has been found to add nearly fifty per cent. to the strength; at least this was the case with the cubes of stone on which the experiment was conducted.

SUNCOOK, N. H., is building a factory five hundred feet long, and requiring three million of bricks.

YALE COLLEGE owns $1,086,410 worth of property.

IT is thought 3,000 buildings will be erected in Washington this season.

PARIS occupies 17,500 acres, and London covers 77,500 acres.

THE value of buildings now being erected in Detroit is $1,740,000.

REAL ESTATE NEWS AGENCY.

C. W. SWEET & CO., proprietors of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, have opened, in connection with their paper, an agency, through which they propose to furnish extremely valuable information for the benefit of Real Estate dealers, owners, and operators. Persons about investing in Real Estate, usually wish to be informed on these points:—

1st. Who the actual owner of any piece of property may be, and whether any incumbrance is existing against it.

2d. What the actual value of said property was at the last sale.

3d. What price the property adjacent and within same block has sold for within the past few years.

4th. An intelligent, unbiased estimate of the value of the property at the present time; the future prospects of the same; whether there are likely to be any improvements, and of what kind, in the street where property is located; and such other information as will be likely to affect the value of said property.

Real Estate dealers, will at once see the immense value of the class of information we propose to furnish, particularly to those who now buy in the dark without any reliable data to guide them, but who, by means of our agency, will have every light which official records, transcripts of sales, etc., can furnish. We have peculiar facilities for furnishing this class of information, having in our possession maps, books, etc., gotten up exclusively by us, which contain every piece of property in New York and Kings counties, with the names of owners, and other information accessible to no other firm or persons in the U. S.

Titles searched, and careful abstracts made at the lowest prices. This work will be done accurately and cheaply for regular subscribers.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Commissioners of the Central Park, for and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, relative to the opening of certain new avenues, roads and public places or parks, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, in the City of New York.

The Commissioners of the Central Park, in the name and in behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, pursuant to the act of the Legislature of the people of the State of New York, entitled—"An act relative to the powers and duties of the Commissioners of the Central Park," passed April 4, 1866, and of the act entitled—"An act to enable the Commissioners of the Central Park to make further improvements in the City of New York," passed April 13, 1866; and of the act entitled—"An act to alter the map or plan of certain portions of the City of New York, and for the laying out and improvement of the same," passed April 24, 1867; hereby give notice that they intend to apply to the Supreme Court, in the First Judicial District of the State of New York, at a Special Term of said Court, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New York, on Friday, the 31st day of July, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter. That the nature and extent of the improvement hereby intended is the opening of a new avenue, eighty feet in width, between the 8th avenue and 9th avenue, and running from 100th street to the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas and Manhattan street.

Also a new avenue running diagonally from the new avenue last mentioned, at or near 113th street, to the 9th avenue, at 116th street.

Also a new avenue between 9th and 10th avenues, running from 110th street to 122d street.

Also a public place or park between 110th street and 123d street, and intermediate the three new avenues beforementioned, the 9th avenue and the 10th avenue.

Also a public place, being a triangle formed by the intersections of 114th street and the first-named two of the above-mentioned new avenues.

Also a public place, being a quadrilateral formed by the intersection of the Avenue St. Nicholas, 123d street and the first-named of the above-mentioned new avenues, as laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park in the City of New York. Dated New York, July 7, 1868.

THE BRICKLAYERS' STRIKE.

BY recent indications it would seem that the bricklayers' strike, which has now lasted nearly eight weeks, checking and deranging the whole building interests of the city, is now likely to be brought to a speedy termination. From all accounts, the eight-hour men who began the struggle, with such determination and apparently endless means to back them, are rapidly losing the sinews of war, and many of them finding their families on the very verge of starvation. In the meantime the master masons seem no less united and determined to fight the matter out to the bitter end than they were at the opening of the contest. At the usual semi-weekly meeting, held at their Exchange, at 51 Liberty street, on Friday the 14th, they deliberately resolved to come to no compromise; and the owners of buildings seem equally determined to allow their works to stand unfinished for any length of time, rather than fall in with the eight-hour demand. Against so formidable a combination there seems to be but one result in store for the strikers, and the sooner they realize it the better it will be for themselves and for the community at large. Messrs. Demarest, Scudder, Eidlitz, and Harlow, and others of our largest builders are progressing with their works, and having all the ten-hour men that they desire; and the battle may therefore be looked upon as virtually at an end.

Without, however, giving an opinion upon either side of this complicated question, and in view of the public inconvenience from this ever-recurring and unnatural struggle between capital and labor, we cannot but repeat the hope we once before expressed that, when the bitterness and disappointments of the present conflict shall have passed, and men be able to take a calm survey of their condition, some better means will be devised of obtaining justice between man and man, than the clumsy and almost universally suicidal process known as "strikes." Surely some well-concocted and liberal mode of arbitration can be devised that shall at once protect the master mason and his workman, and do even-handed justice to both. Such a system has long existed in Scotland, where strikes are comparatively unknown, and we surely ought to be ingenious enough to invent some similar means of avoiding these periodical derangements in trade, that invariably fall heaviest at last upon the poor working-man least capable of enduring them.

THE LOCATION OF SLAUGHTER-HOUSES.

To sacrifice the present for the future does not seem to be a stroke of statesmanlike policy common to the present Board of Health, which is now exercising itself over that vexed question—the location of slaughter-houses. It is proposed to prohibit the erection of abattoirs below 106th street, but anywhere above that the butchers are to have carte blanche to erect as many as they please, so that in a very short period large vested interests will be held on the most desirable localities on the East River. That such a monopoly of location would interfere very materially with the future interests of our metropolis, one has only to refer to the history of the past, and make a computation of the growth of population and the rapid centralization of commercial and social interests on tracts of land where, only ten years ago, the farmer was ploughing. The same developing agencies are at present at work, in greater force, and it is only recently that the community has aroused itself from apathy, and taken into consideration the important fact that the upper portion of the island must soon become flooded by the overflow of population from the densely-crowded centres of commerce and society. To any one who has taken the trouble to examine into the question, it must be apparent that the east side of the city will in time be entirely occupied for business purposes, and the west for dwellings and retail stores; but if large vested interests in nuisances are to be allowed on the east side, the advance of improvement will be checked, and all the evils arising from overcrowding will be experienced in a very few years. What if 106th street seem at present to be almost the municipal antipodes to South street, yet who can predicate the change the next five years may bring forth? It is probable that 1875 will see this city, not only the telegraphic, but the commercial and banking centre of the world; for then the two lines of railroad across the continent will be completed, and the products of the ancient East must find their way to this city, which will be the great entrepot for the entire commerce of the world. Again, by that time, the obstructions of Hell Gate will have been removed, and almost simultaneously with the completion of this improvement, fields on fields of wharves, piers, and warehouses will spring up, and between Harlem and the Battery, fleets of foreign vessels will be receiving and discharging the freight consequent upon our magnificent harbor accommodations and railroad centralization. Preparations are now being made, and the appropriations granted, for the blasting of the rocks at Hell Gate, and in a few weeks General Newton intends to commence operations; so a beneficial change on the east side will be inevitable. In addition to this, the location of abattoirs so far away is very inconvenient to butchers, as the meat in transportation is apt to get tainted in summer and frozen in winter; besides, considerable delay will be experienced from blockades caused by snow storms. Surely we must have more available localities, nearer the markets, than 106th street, where slaughter-houses can be erected, and water transportation is so much cheaper than land, that one would think an effort would be made to secure some place in the bay, which would be equally accessible from both sides of the city. There are several islands off the coast of Jersey admirably suited for the purpose, and even one might be purchased from the Federal Government, as they now occupy several for which it can have but little use. Cattle barges, as transports, will preserve the animals from fatigue, and save much expense in drovers, &c. It is estimated there are 3,000 master butchers in this city, who employ about 5,000 men and boys; the retail trade amounts yearly to $78,000,000, while the wholesale and shipping trade will figure up to perhaps $120,000,000. The cattle are generally purchased at Sixth street, in Chamberlin's, Robinson street, or on the dock where the barges land, and the expense of trans-shipping them, after purchasing, for the slaughter-house would amount to infinitely less than the loss in flesh occasioned by the worriment cattle are subjected to in being driven through crowded streets. This enormous trade demands serious attention, and if for no other purpose than the removal of obstacles to the progress of the city, no temporizing make-shift policy should be indulged in, which will only end in dissatisfaction and prolong trouble; but permanent sites should be determined on, where there will be ample scope for all the increase in the slaughtering business that could be made, even if the city had a hundred times its present population.

NORTH BRIDGEWATER, Mass., is flourishing. Its total valuation this year is $2,434,870; an increase of $53,870 over that of last year. The taxes amount to $47,349.98; and its rateable polls to 1759. It has 1098 houses, and 12,054 acres of land taxed; rate of taxation, $18 on a $1000.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, has erected 150 buildings since April 1. One of these, the Champion Machine Company's building, cost $100,000. Another, Black's Music Hall building, will cost $75,000, and another which will be put under roof this year, will cost almost $75,000.

THE Baltimore flood destroyed $45,000 worth of masonry.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

One feature in real estate recently developed, is the fact that companies from all parts of the Union are establishing land agencies in this city, and already a large quantity of Virginia land has been disposed of to Northern capitalists.

Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago show large building returns. In San Francisco $13,000,000 worth of real estate was sold from Jan. to June. The San Francisco Real Estate Circular says: "Money for real estate uses has been very plenty the past six months. Indeed, the loan societies have constantly had large surpluses on hand which they found it impossible to loan out, despite the fact that ten per cent. per annum has been the ruling rate for sums over $5,000, and that some of them have loaned quite largely upon ranch property in the interior. Some loans have been granted lately to farmers, at one per cent. per month interest. The ruling rate in such cases has been one and a quarter per cent. This is not a low price for money, but it is low compared with the rates which money-lenders used formerly to extract from the farmers."

An evening paper, in speaking of the various ways in which capitalists in this city invest their money, says: "As for real estate, the letting of houses is a very vexatious business. One is constantly annoyed by the petty complaints of tenants, and upon the whole the necessary repairs, taxes, and manifold worriments of a landlord's life render it an unpleasant one. But every man has his adaptation to some one of these different methods of investing capital, and even the landlord becomes hardened to his lot at last. In New York, indeed, a man to be a successful landlord must have to be hard and unmerciful. He must be able to turn a family out of doors, if the rent be not paid—an act. from which a tender-hearted person would shrink with horror, and for this reason some men avoid real estate and prefer personal property."

GOSSIP.

In the surroundings of New York city, there is one spot which seems to have been overlooked by real estate operators and capitalists. The advantages which that portion of Westchester county leading from the Central Bridge to Fordham presents, are equal, if not superior to any in the upper part of Manhattan Island. The avenue on the other side of Central Bridge has been laid out a hundred feet wide, and is actually open, not, as in the case of many of our boulevards, on paper merely. The difference in the value of property on the line of this magnificent drive across the river, and that in the upper part of our city, where several new avenues and boulevards are projected merely, is somewhat astonishing. Lots on the Avenue St. Nicholas, between 140th and 150th sts., have sold as high as $3,000, and on the Grand Boulevard within the same limits average from $3,000 to $4,000, while in the locality referred to, which is nearer, they may be bought for from $600 to $1,000.

This beautiful portion of Westchester county cannot long remain under a cloud; indeed, it is understood that several gentlemen of wealth, activity, and enterprise, whose efforts in other directions have tended to enrich and beautify certain portions of our city round about the Central Park, have sought and are still endeavoring to obtain lots in that quarter on which many valuable improvements are projected. Among others, Mr. Jno. McClave, as per advertisement, advertises to buy all lots offered for sale on this avenue. His past experience in improvements of this kind has led capitalists to look in this direction.

The ruins of Barnum's Museum are being rapidly removed, and little remains but the wall in front, which will also be soon taken away....The Board of Trustees of Portchester at their last meeting adopted a resolution requiring all property owners who have not already laid down flag sidewalks and curb-stones in front of their premises, to do so at once....Eighteen hundred and fifty-seven fire-escapes have been erected by order of the Superintendent of Buildings since the 1st of January, and including bulkheads, etc., nearly 3,000 houses have been provided with means of escape in case of fire....Goupil's, corner Broadway and Ninth street, is doomed. Stewart, monarch of the great valley of dry goods, has annexed it to his dominions, and it will have crumbled ere Christmas, and shot up fresh as the finishing touch to the great gingham palace a few months later....Goupil & Co. have leased for twenty years the elegant house of Mr. Watts Sherman, at the corner of Twenty-second street and Fifth avenue, to which they expect to soon to remove their art gallery. The Stockholder says that Mr. Henry Keep, one of the most wealthy railroad men in the United States, has bought two hundred feet square on Fifth avenue and West Fifty-first and Fifty-second sts., on which he proposes to erect a magnificent art gallery at a cost of a million and a half dollars....In some quarters of the city there is nearly as much house-moving going on now as is generally a feature of May. This may be attributed, in many cases, to the fact of people discovering that they are paying too much rent where they are, and that they can obtain equally good accommodation elsewhere at lower rates....Mr. Byron Swett has purchased of John R. Murray, Esq., the old Gen. Curtis farm, on the flat, near the dam (Mount Morris, N. Y.), about 200 acres—consideration, $20,000....West Hoboken has greatly increased in population, and the Rev. Mr. Egbert's church has been enlarged two or three times to afford seats for worshippers.....Two wealthy, enterprising gentlemen of Harrison county, Ohio, have purchased a township six miles square in Nebraska, of Government land, and propose to convert the whole into one grand farm of 23,040 acres. They intend to close it with a hedge of the Osage orange 24 miles in length. They will hire all their labor, and use the most improved agricultural machinery, intending to put the whole farm into wheat as fast as possible. It will take 20,000 bushels to seed this farm....A "Virginia Village and Farm Company" has been formed in this city....Negotiations have been opened between agents in this city and in Virginia for the migration and settlement there of a large Presbyterian and Methodist colony. They want about 50,000 acres of land, as compactly situated as practicable, and conveniently near to a railroad. They would expect to build a town, erect factories, churches, schools, and a college, etc.... Two Philadelphia gentlemen are negotiating for a large tract of land lying between Fieldsboro and the farm of Mr. E. Lockwood, for the purpose of laying out streets and erecting dwelling houses thereon. This enterprise is intended to accommodate workmen who desire to live near the various iron and wood shops at Fieldsboro, and also, by offering superior inducements, to encourage such workmen to purchase homes for themselves.

SALES.

The quiet that has reigned for some time in the Exchange Sales Rooms was broken on Aug. 11th by a sale of James M. Miller, who offered the mansion house and outbuildings, together with about 63 acres of land situated in the village of Pleasantville, Westchester county. There was a very good attendance for this season of the year, and an unusual amount of spirit in the bidding. The property was purchased by Mr. Thomas Kane of this city for $15,060.

The following is a list of some property sold recently at private sale:—38th st., bet. 5th and 6th avs., 4 story, English basement, brown-stone, 18.6x60x½ block $31,000; 48th st, bet. 2d and 3d avs., 3 story, high stoop, brown-stone, 13x56x100.5½, furnished, $15,000; Wilton, gothic cottage, 8 lots, $7,500; West Morrisania, 2 story and attic, cellar, 65x 240, $8,000; 95th st., bet. Madison and 4th avs., 4 lots, $12,-500; 117th st., near East River, 3 story, high stoop, brick, 16.8x40x100.10, $8,000; 65th st., bet. 1st and 2d avs., 2 story, high stoop, brick, 18.9x40x100, $9,600; 122d st, bet. 3d and 4th avs., lot running through to 123d st., $2,500; 83d st., bet. 2d and 3d avs., 2 story, high stoop, brick, 22x86, lot 25x102 2 $9,000; 125th st., bet. 4thand 5th avs., 3 story, high stoop, brick, 22x32, lot 25x99.11, $11,000; 47th st., bet. 6th and 7th avs., 2 story and basement, high stoop, brown-stone 18.9x42x100.5, $15,500; Westchester, the Hunt Homestead, 70 acres, $40,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The excitement has in a measure subsided, but we still find a strong steady market for all grades, and though no important increase in the volume of business can be noted, there is certainly no falling off, and the bulk of the daily receipts are easily disposed of. The inquiry is liberal for city consumption, as well as for the neighboring towns, and wholesale dealers having partially satisfied, some of the larger orders upon which they were working at the date of our last, are now enabled to meet the general wants of jobbers with more freedom. The arrivals are principally from the North River, though the Jersey and Long Island yards contribute their quota, the quality from all points running good, and in some instances we hear of extra fine lots, particularly among the cargoes of Jersey pale. The production continues uninterrupted, manufacturers being well satisfied with current prices, and taking advantage of the favorable weather, are turning out stock as fast as facilities will allow; but as the shipments take off the supplies about as fast as they become merchantable, the accumulation for the present is checked. On outside prices we have no important variation to advise, but there nothing selling at the inside rates of last week, and we revise our quotations accordingly, the feeling at the close being steady and uniform at $7.50 @$8.50 for pale, and $10.00@$12.00 for common hard. Croton Fronts are in good steady demand, the supply not very large, and as previously announced the rate is now increased to $20.00@$22.00 for cargoes, and about $24.00 for small lots. The quality is good, and the stock now offering compares favorably with former seasons. Philadelphia Fronts are moderately active and firm, at $40.00@ $42.00 per M. by cargo, and retail lots ranging up sometimes as high as $45.00@$48.00, according to circumstances governing the sale.

CEMENT.—There appears to be no falling off in the demand for this article, nearly all the receivers reporting a brisk, active business, with about as much as they can do to keep pace with their orders. The sales to the city trade continue to increase, while the coastwise shipments are liberal, and a fair amount is taken on foreign account. Prices remain firm at $1.75 per bbl. for Rosendale.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—At the modifications in rates noted by us last week, there is a light jobbing trade doing, but large orders at the moment are a rarity, and the general market presents rather a dull appearance. Dealers look forward to a fair fall business, however, and desirable stock is held with confidence.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The local jobbing demand continues very moderate, and dealers generally complain of the difficulty experienced in moving their stocks, but for export we note a disposition to operate with more freedom, the selections being made principally from small Cuba woods. Prices remain steady. The receipts reported since our last embrace 149 logs Cedar and Mahogany from Wanks River, 60 logs Satin wood, 53 pieces Lignum vitae, and 36 pieces Mahogany from Port-au-Platte, and 195 logs Mahogany from Minatitlan. The exports 208 logs Mahogany and 105 do. Cedar to Rotterdam.

GLASS.—For French window glass the demand is better and more general, prices showing much strength, and on the best grades or those most in request, we note a tendency to reduce the rate of discount. The sizes attracting the greatest attention appear to be 14x16 in., 14x18 in., and 14x22 in., and of these the stock is very small, but the larger sizes are in comparatively fair supply. The sales on city account are not very large, but Western buyers begin to operate in this market with more freedom, and we understand that their Canadian purchases of last spring have not resulted as favorably as they expected. American and English glass are steady and in very good request. The latest reported imports are 21,436 pckgs glass valued at $48,648, and 235 glass plates valued at $31,898.

HARDWARE.—There has been a very good inquiry during the week, from both the local and Western trade, and the general tone of the market is steady. Dealers have not an unusually heavy supply on hand, but in most cases their stocks are ample and well assorted. Davenport, Mallory & Co.'s Door Knobs have been reduced somewhat, and rates now stand as follows: Mineral door knobs, japanned mountings, $1.50 per doz.; pearl white do., same mounting, $2.25 do.; pearl white, plated mounting, $7.25; and porcelain $7.25, all with usual discount. Upright rim knob locks, 4½ inch (215@217½), $6.00@8.75; and do. horizontal, $8.00@$9.00. Corbin's Bronze Butts are in active demand, and many orders remain unfilled for want of stock. Wrought iron gas, steam, and water pipes are held at an advance of 5 per cent.

LABOR.—So far as the influence of the Bricklayers' Trade Union extends, the strike may still be said to exist, but this influence has now become reduced to such a small compass, that we see strong indications of an early abandonment of all hopes of gaining the end sought after. By unity of action, firmness of purpose, and with right and justice on their side, the Master Masons have slowly but surely convinced the journeymen that it was full time for capital to assert a few of the privileges to which it was entitled, and the workmen now begin to feel that matters were carried just one point too far in asking, or more properly speaking in demanding, the eight hour law. The consequence is that Society men begin to tear up their tickets, and go to work at ten hours and five dollars; wages much greater in proportion than any other class of laborers obtain in this city. Nearly, if not quite, every member of the Master Masons' Association reports ten hour men at work, some having more applications than they desire, and all asserting their ability to retain said workmen, provided they are not interfered with or intimidated by the strikers. Taken altogether, the position of affairs is decidedly favorable to the interests of employers, and having, as they do, the support and sympathy of all the principal property holders, as well as the general public, we see nothing to prevent them coming out victorious. A statement having made its appearance last Saturday, to the effect that a compromise had been effected between the Master Masons and their journeymen, it was immediately denied on behalf of the former by the Chairman, Mr. Conover, and at a subsequent meeting the denial was endorsed unanimously. The latest report on the number of "Bosses" employing ten hour men, brings the figure up to sixty, and as the eight hour jobs are rapidly working out, and all new ones commence on the ten hour plan, we may look for a still further increase at an early day.

On Wednesday evening a mass meeting of the various Labor Unions of this city took place at Cooper Institute, the object being to bring up the sinking fortunes of the bricklayers. Out of quite a number of speeches made, we can pick out no new ideas, the main points advanced by the speakers being the old cry about the concentration of capital opposed to labor, and the passage of the eight-hour law by the General and State Governments. A series of resolutions were adopted, calling upon the workmen of all trades to stand by the bricklayers, and pledging those present to sustain the strikers "until victory shall crown their efforts." The result of this meeting will probably be to deter some few workmen from resuming operations on the ten-hour plan, and cause a still further expenditure of hard-earned means; but we cannot see that any thing was offered calculated to gain the sympathy of employers or the unprejudiced public.

LATH.—The market is without features of interest, the supply and demand being about equal, and prices holding to the same range as last week. A few lots on limit are still piled out, but receivers generally do not hold cargoes longer than is necessary to hunt up a desirable customer, and there is no great accumulation of stock. The amount on the way is fair, and will supply present wants without difficulty. Sales of 2,000,000 at $2.87½@$3.00, according to quantity and mode of delivery. Previous to our last, 1,000,000 very common were sold at $2 80.

LIME.—The market for Rockland lime continues very firm at $1 10 for common, and $2.00 for lump, and in good demand, the slightly increased arrivals since our last being quickly and easily disposed of at full prices. We learn that the supplies for the present are coming mainly from old kilns, hauling only about once a week—all the patent kilns from which a haul can be made every day, if necessary, having suspended for the present. Receivers, however, seem to feel much greater encouragement, looking forward to an early resumption of the manufacture, with a much more lively market, in view of the gradual depletion of stock in the yards, and the increase of building operations. North River lime is quoted nominally the same as Rockland, but it is only the very best grades that command the full figures, and some of the common sorts have been sold as low as $0.75 and $1.75@$1.80 per bbl. the average strength being poor and irregular, though for finishing purposes, a few qualities of North River have the preference.

LUMBER.—At nearly all the principal yards we still hear complaints of a dull business, and the retail market presents very few features of interest. Dealers, however, do not appear at all discouraged, and generally are expecting and preparing for a good autumn demand, which may reasonably be looked for in view of the inactivity of the past five or six weeks, and also from the fact that present appearances indicate an early termination of the bricklayers' strike, and a consequent resumption of building operations. On such sales as take place previous prices are sustained, and we do not find it necessary to alter our table of quotations. New York dealers have lately been making pretty liberal purchases at Albany, and the receipts per river are now quite large, but composed mostly of common and tally lumber. As an exception, however, we note the first cargo through of seasoned black walnut. It came to Messrs. Ogden & Co., Washington st., contained about 120,000 feet assorted sizes, principally one-inch, and is two years and a half old. The wholesale market has undergone no very important change during the week, the aggregate of business footing up fair, and in most cases the sales effected have been at full figures. The demand, however, is mostly of a local character, as shippers continue to operate with considerable caution, and take but few parcels unless they have a sure market for their consignments. Eastern Spruce comes forward with a little more freedom, and there is some accumulation of stock, inducing buyers to hope for a slight advantage. As yet, however, no important concessions have been granted, and at the present writing there is a steady uniform feeling at $20.00@$21.00 for ordinary and good cargoes; $21.50@$22.00 for prime to choice do.; and for short, undesirable assortments $19.00 @19.50 per M. Eastern Hemlock arrives only in small parcels, and these are worked off at almost anything like a fair price, generally at about $13.50@$16.00 per M. White Pine is not in very large supply, but still there appears to be enough to meet the current demand, and, with no particular advantage accruing to either buyer or seller, prices remain about as before. Say $23.00@$25.00 for common box-boards; and $26.00@$30.00 for good to fine shipping qualities do. The inquiry for white pine has been mainly of a local character, though we hear of one or two small lots taken for export, mostly to fill out cargoes. Piling continues to come in pretty freely, and there is enough stock to about meet all the wants at the moment, so far as ordinary grades are concerned, but a few small lots of extra length and thickness would probably find a ready sale at full prices. We quote 6½c. for inferior to 9c. for good, and 9½c. per foot for very choice. On pickets the price still remains at about $11.00@$12.00 per M., but there is very little demand for this class of stock. Southern Pine is still selling at about $33.00@$35.00 for common to ordinary, and $36.00@$40.00 for good to prime, as these are about the lowest possible figures at which dealers can handle stock; but the demand is moderate, and only for use where no other style of wood can be substituted. Of the recent arrivals a portion has already been contracted for, and will not appear upon the market. Southern shingles are offered with freedom, but the receipts having fallen off, and the stock not accummulating, the downward tendency is checked, and we quote at about $20.00@ $23.00 per M. Of pine shingles a sale of 500,000 is reported at $5.00 for No. 1. Among the sales of lumber made public we note 780,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $19.50@$21.00; 110,000 feet good do. at $21.50; a few parcels choice, $22.00; and about 225,000 feet white pine at $23.50@$25.00 per M.

The exports of lumber have been as follows:

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 8, 1868.

Early in the week the docks were lined with a large fleet of lumber-laden vessels and the business was rather slow, but latterly the stock has gradually become reduced and now, with a comparatively small supply offering, the tone is much stronger. The arrivals at present are light from all points. Good to choice cargoes may be quoted at $16 00@$16 50, fair $15 00@$15 50, and inferior to common $11@$13 per M. "A" sawed shingles were rather dull at the close and somewhat nominal at $3 65@$3 70 as to quality. The receipts light. Lath firm at $2 12½@$2 25. At the yards a good business was doing, the increase over 1867 being about 50 per cent.

Yard rates as follows:

First clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	$53 00@55 00
Second clear, 1 to 2 in., per m	50 00@52 00

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@45; cherry $30@40; hickory $20@25; ash $20@23, and $18@22 for ordinary oak.

Messrs. Woolner & Garrick of Chicago have published their regular monthly report, from which the following is taken:

We again lay before you a table of compiled statistics of the lumber trade at this port. It will be seen that receipts still continue large, amounting for the month of July to 142,922,427 feet, and for the whole year thus far 2,498,697,740 feet, being an excess of 110,095,076 feet over last year for the same period. The past month has ruled rather quiet, and during the first week the trade was quite dull, owing, in the main, to the stoppage generally occurring about the 4th of July holiday; the heat which has prevailed with very little interruption throughout the whole month, has been of such an unprecedented severity, that this alone would create a want of animation, as it has almost been impossible for men to work exposed to the sun, and at best the amount of labor performed has been but limited; nevertheless, for two weeks after the 4th of July the demand was very brisk and fully up to the offerings, causing a slight increase in price. The vessels made but slow time owing to the prevailing light winds or perfect calms, wherefore the arrivals were not crowding the market. Since the 20th of July, however, the fleets have appeared more readily and any advance obtained earlier in the month was with difficulty maintained. Real first class cargoes have met with quick sales for very good prices, but the ordinary run has been taxing the ingenuity of the seller. There is, however, no sign or prospect of any of those spasmodic panics to which the trade in former years has been subjected; on the contrary, the feeling is universal that the business during the balance of the season will be brisk, and manufacturers as well as dealers expect a steady rise in prices henceforth, rather than the reverse. Somewhat, of course, will depend upon the supply yet to come forward, and it is difficult to form any accurate opinion upon this subject, because a great deal of lumber is being manufactured at points as easily accessible to the Eastern market as to Chicago, and will be shipped either way according to the prices to be realized; we are, however, yet of the same opinion formerly expressed, that we shall receive an amount not much larger than last year, although it may reach or slightly exceed 900,000,000.

From Canada a fair amount has been received, and will continue to come forward. One obstacle, however, has arisen to the importation from abroad: the lumber from there has hitherto been entered at the usually ruling prices at the mills in Canada—$16 for clear, $6 for common, and $4 for culls—but lately some sort of a new office in the revenue has been created, and a new man has been appointed, who has seen fit to make his presence be felt, and who, arbitrarily, has commanded the Collectors to force importers to enter the lumber at $18.50, $8 and $4, even although the American Consul, the agent of the United States Government, had given the vessel certificate as to value according to the first-named figures. Of course, against such action nothing is to be done but to submit or send the goods to some other point, and await the rapidly approaching time when some reasonable reciprocity treaty will become a necessity for both countries.

The Illinois river still continues very low, and all navigation for loaded canal boats is for the time being suspended, which of course affects the trade to a great extent, but the railroads are seeking for freight, and give satisfactory dispatch on their respective docks.

The trade from yards is all that fairly can be expected at this time, and the feeling very healthy; stocks are good, with a very probable chance for improvement in prices; the feeling in this respect seems universal, and some yards talk already of advancing.

The harvest of the crops is now an accomplished fact, and the result is all and more than the most sanguine persons might have hoped; we are blessed again with abundant grain, and the prospect for corn never was better. All this must tend to revive business of all kinds, and especially the lumber business. The activity in the city surpasses all former efforts, and buildings are going up as if by magic, making the home consumption no small item in our statistics.

The shingle market has been fairly active throughout the month, and all offerings have been readily taken; in fact, at the present writing, the demand is in advance of supply. The total receipts since 1st January are 305,665,000, an excess over last year of 94,276,000. There has not been manufactured in the city as many as last year, owing to the burning of one mill and the removal of another to Michigan. There is a limited demand for first-class shaved shingles, but we do not advise any enterprise in this direction, as but few points at a great distance call for them, and therefore the market can easily be glutted.

Lath continue low, but meet with ready sale at our quotation.

From Whitehall (N. Y.) we learn that trade has been rather quiet, but the feeling amongst Dealers has been preparing for the Fall trade, and extensive shipments from the Canadas, are now in transit for this market.

Prices remain firm, and manufacturers seem determined to effect an advance on all grades of pine lumber.

The Eastern and Canadian markets continue moderately active, with no marked variation in values. The prospects were brighter however, owing to recent very heavy rain storms, extending in all directions, greatly augmenting the volume of water in streams, and, more important still, serving to check the progress of the fires in the forests. The flames were not entirely subdued, but they were thought to be so well under control as to lead to the hope that no more timber would be destroyed. All the mills, as far as we can learn, are supplied with logs, and the production continues without interruption, particularly as freights were comparatively easy, and the markets in this direction continue firm. The Bangor (Me.) Whig contains the following comparative table, showing the amount of lumber surveyed at Bangor from January 1st to August 1st, during the years named:—

Dry Pine	5,905,041	6,708,638	5,159,076
Spruce	63,500,036	57,500,387	70,806,939
Hemlock, &c.	11,048,292	9,883,492	8,838,889
Total	96,849,888	86,312,293	98,198,371

From the above it will be noticed that there is an increase over 1866 of 1,350,000 feet, and over 1867 of nearly 12,000,000 feet, which does not look as if manufacturers had a poor opinion of ruling rates. A Canadian paper says that a mill at Sturgeon Bay cut up 33,330 feet of pine lumber, inside of twelve hours' work, with one circular saw. Of this 27,770 was inch boards, and the balance, 5,550 feet, was cut into 1½ and 2 inch plank. The number of logs sawed upon that day was one hundred and twenty, of which

12	were 12 feet	long, making	4,465

The Southern markets are firm, but dealers have so many things to contend against that business is greatly restricted. Ship captains and crews refuse to enter the principal ports at this season, and vessels in consequence are so scarce that the few on hand insist upon exorbitant freight charges; labor is not by any means plenty, and very uncertain when obtained, and above all, money is scarce, credits poor, with no prospect of relief until the promising crops become merchantable. A late Savannah report says of lumber: "Two city mills and most of the country mills are at work. Orders are offered freely but cannot be taken with a certainty of being filled in a given time, owing to the scarcity of vessels and the high rates of freight. Four vessels are loading with lumber."

Charleston as follows:

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $25.00@$30.00 per M; Boards and Scantling, $24.00 @25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6,00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@$12.00

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to July 30, 1868, were 14,978,120 feet of lumber, of which 1,725,955 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 13,252,165 feet coastwise. Of the latter 4,919,438 feet were consigned to New York; 3,007,893 to Philadelphia; 2,083,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,783,106 to Rhode Island, and 793,065 to other United States ports.

From Baltimore we have the following:

The lumber trade has been and still continues moderately active, especially in the retail line. All kinds of lumber of good qualities are in demand at fair prices. Cypress shingles have accumulated somewhat, but a demand has sprung up in consequence of a flood in the Roanoke river, North Carolina, rendering it impossible for the manufactories to make shingles.

METALS.—Copper sheathing continues fairly active, and without any important change in values, the bulk of the sales being made on a basis of 18@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. Scotch pig iron is held with great firmness, but continues dull; all of the few purchases made being guided by the pressing necessities of buyers. We quote at $42.00@$45.00 per ton. American pig, however, sells to a fair extent on the spot, and several large contracts are reported as having been entered into for delivery some little time hence. Prices close firm at $40.00@$42.00 per ton for No. 1; $36.00@$38.00 for No. 2; and $33.00@$34.00 for forge. Bars, &c., from store have not been very active, but are doing better, dealers advancing rates $5.00 per ton, and quotations now stand at $90,00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155.00 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130.00@$175.00 do.; ovals and half-round, $125.00@$155.00 do.; and rods, ⅜@3-16 inch, $105.00@$165.00 do. Sheet iron firm and in very good request at 5@7 for single D and T common; and 13¾@14c. for Russia assorted numbers. Pig lead, early in the week, was very active, and about all the cheap lots disposed of, but latterly the market has again become quiet. Prices remain firm at 6¾@6¾c. gold. Bar, pipe and sheet unchanged. Tin plates have ruled comparatively dull during the week, but importers are confident, and insist upon full previous rates, partly in view of advices from abroad, reporting that the production is likely to be curtailed. Zinc steady, and selling to a very fair extent, at 12¼@13½c. for sheet from store.

NAILS.—Cut nails show no important change in values since our last, but the market is rather slow, and the sales mostly in retail parcels. We quote at 4¾@4¾c. for 4d.@6d., with very small lots at 5c. Clinch are still very dull, and we note a further slight shading in buyers' favor, the closing rates standing at 6¼@6¾c. Other styles steady, and fairly active at 18c. for zinc, 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 283 pckgs., valued at $1,812, against 808 pckgs., valued at $3,106, last week. Shipments to San Francisco, 336 pckgs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The market for paints, both wholesale and retail, is moving to a fair extent, but mostly in small lots. The general supplies are fair, but we still notice light offerings of ochres, and a greatly reduced stock of all leads and lead bases, prices on these ruling extremely firm. Manufacturers announce that, on account of the rise in the raw material, all orders for white lead will be filled at current market rates at the time of delivery. Glue of the dark to light brown shades is in fair supply, selling moderately, and is steady; but white stock continues remarkably scarce, and is merely nominal. Linseed oil is in very fair demand, and prices have slightly improved, the market closing strong on all desirable lots, and holders not offering with much freedom. The wholesale rates may be placed at about $1.06@$1.08 in casks, and $1.09 to $1.11 in bbls. Sales have been made for September and October delivery at $1.08@$1.10. The exports this week have been light, embracing only 80 packages paint, valued at $2,788.

PITCH.—The receipts have been smaller, but the demand has continued extremely moderate, and only for jobbing lots as required for immediate use. Prices again show a slight falling off and close at about $3.25@$3.37½ per bbl. for prime city. No sales of Southern reported. Receipts for the week 86 bbls. Exports for week 10 bbls.; since January 1st 2,263 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,159 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—The receipts since our last embrace 2,260 tons white Nova Scotia lump, all of which have been delivered on contracts at prices varying from $4 45 to $5 00 per ton. The demand, however, is now very moderate, and few, if any, bids reach the outside figure as given above, even for the very best. Calcined in fair demand at $2 40 for Eastern and $2 50 for City. We note shipments of 260 bbls. to Cuba.

SLATE.—We still find a very dull market, not only for the city and near-by trade, but the shipping demand has subsided, and there is now scarcely anything leaving the yards. The stock, however, does not accumulate very rapidly, as the receipts from all points have fallen off materially, and are not expected to increase for the present. Our table of quotations still remains without change, but at ruling figures the market is easy, and concessions are frequently obtained without difficulty. The miners, as yet, have made no open demonstrations of dissatisfaction, but in many cases it has been found necessary to suspend operations for the present, owing to the quarries filling with water during the late heavy storms. The production will be resumed, however, as soon as circumstances admit.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The market has quieted down considerably during the week under review, and though the arrivals show a decided falling off, holders in order to realize reduced prices somewhat, and the feeling is now somewhat unsettled. The buyer appears to retain the advantage, however, and lots to arrive can be bought ¼c. under current quotations. The last sales in a wholesale way were at 45½@46½, but jobbing lots ran up as high as 47@47½c., and store prices are the same as last week. Receipts for week 616 bbls.; exports for week 817 bbls.; since January 1st 10,329 bbls.; and for same period last year 18,568 bbls.

STONE.—The city trade is very good, and former values current. Nothing has occurred at the quarries to interfere with the regular routine of work, and the amount of stock being taken out is liberal; but the shipments are somewhat checked, owing to the heavy condition of the roads from the effects of the recent heavy storms. We note shipments to Cuba of 500 pieces of flag stone, and 140 pieces of curb stone.

TAR.—The demand has continued quite active and has materially exceeded the arrivals, imparting a firm healthy tone to the market, though no further improvement in figures is to be noted. The sales are mainly local. We quote North County as it runs at $3.12½@$3.62½ per bbl.; Wilmington common $3.25@3.87½, and do. choice selections $4.00@$4.12½, all in order in yard. Receipts for week 244 bbls.; exports for week 31 bbls.; since January 1st 8,588 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,115 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of August 11, reports as follows:

The trade through the district has been good, though not so active as it was the week previous. The attendance of buyers has been fair, some of whom have purchased for their winter trade. Prices are steady, and will be advanced should gold hold at its present figure; to be further advanced should gold go up. Receipts have been large, which is to be looked for at this season. The excess in the receipts to the close of the first week in August is 48,104,900 feet over the receipts of 1867, and 98,353,600 feet over the receipts of 1866, to a corresponding date.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending August 8th, were 40,545,000 feet, against 24,388,000 feet for the corresponding week of 1867. These figures make the aggregate receipts for the year 539,242,700 feet, against 406,990,600 feet, an increase for this year of 132,252,100 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego, for the weeks ending August 3 and August 10, were:

	August 3.	August 10.
Buffalo	9,666,700 feet.	7,537,600 feet.
Oswego	7,827,000	9,766,600
Total	17,493,700 feet	17,304,200 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of August, were:

	Bds.&S'lg ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	20,599,700	1,866	.....	914,500
1867	14,993,600	1,087	.....	614,200

	Bds.&S'lg ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	217,975,200	25,019	51,095	17,341,000
1867	159,870,800	13,234	.....	16,148,800

OUR WATER-SUPPLY.

IF there is one thing upon which, more than perhaps any other, New York has for many years past justly prided herself, it was her splendid waterworks. And yet it would appear that in this—as in so many other things—she has already outgrown herself, and that what was adequate for past purposes is now altogether insufficient for the ever-increasing necessities of our growing population. The Croton Works, with their enormous cost, great reservoirs for accumulation and distribution, massive and beautiful masonry, are found lacking from some defect in their original design and calculation; for although we have managed to arrest a whole river in its course and turn it upon the city, the fact still stares us in the face that New York is inadequately supplied with water.

General Viele, in his recent reports on questions affecting public health, prominently alludes to this subject. He exposes the fact that in most dwellings it is difficult to get water into the upper stories, and that very many of them never have it there at all. For all sanitary purposes it is very defective. There is absolutely not water enough, and what there is has not sufficient head to supply the wants of the city—neither the luxuries of the rich nor the necessities of the poor. It cannot even be relied upon as a guarantee against a general conflagration. This is an unpleasant exhibit, but unfortunately too true an one, as may be proved by thousands of those unhappy beings, living in the upper portions of houses, and who have to pump every drop of water for culinary or domestic purposes.

The builders of our great reservoirs seem to have made two capital errors: first, in undercalculating how huge a city this would speedily become, and how much water it would require; second, in not contemplating that people require water in the upper as well as the lower portions of their houses in all parts of the city. In short, our reservoirs are not large enough, and do not contain a sufficiently high head of water. Had we no further knowledge than the ancients, who depended simply upon the principle of water finding its own level—like the Romans, for instance, who built those enormous aqueducts, the wonderful ruins of which are to this day seen radiating to their imperial city—this error would prove formidable; but to us, who live in an age of steam, the requirements can be easily overcome, at least as far as any mechanical difficulty is concerned. All we have to do is, to build on Reservoir Square, now laid out as a small pleasure ground, an elevated reservoir, into which, by the use of steam, water can be readily conveyed from the present reservoir, and thus acquire the necessary head which is essential to carry it to the upper stories of the loftiest houses. By this arrangement we can easily overcome the difficulty of height. As regards the quantity of supply, if more water is required than can be obtained from the Croton River—which is scarcely conceivable—there are many other streams in Westchester County, much nearer the city, which with the aid of steam can be readily and quickly made available, at a limited expense, compared with the cost of the original works. With these additional features, and a rigid regulation to inflict heavy penalties on those who are found wilfully wasting this vital fluid of a city's life, New York would not only have, for ages to come, an abundant supply of water, but justly boast of being one of the best-watered cities that ever existed, not even excepting Rome in her palmiest days.

PARKS AS CIVILIZERS.

IF, as the poets tell us, man often turns from nature's works to nature's God, how can the denizen of the crowded city be better educated in natural religion than by a familiarity with as much of rural life as a park permits? In these resorts, where, as Charles Lamb says, the citizen goes to make a "slight acquaintance with fresh air," art has lent fresh beauty to nature, and the afternoon stroll has insensibly more effect on the religious feelings and in strengthening humanizing aspirations, than even the most liberal theologian cares to admit. So much is this principle recognized that no European city of any importance is without a park or common, and as population increases in this country every populated municipality must provide breathing places for its citizens. New York, in this as in every other work of magnitude, takes the lead, and thereby the wickedness of sinful Gotham is in some measure palliated by her magnificent Central Park, the only lion unfortunately of which she can be proud. Her success in constructing this delicious retreat has given a wide-spread impetus in the introduction of similar places all over the Union. Brooklyn is busy with her Prospect Park, Baltimore rejoices in a Druid Park, while Boston, Chicago, and Cincinnati are all occupied planning, grading, and planting. All these cities will find much benefit accruing from this liberality, and the future generation of those not blessed with much of this world's goods will be all the better for having been brought up even as park vagrants rather than the enforced Arabs of the slums. Indeed the children of the well-to-do are not so troublesome, and get into infinitely less mischief when playing in the parks than on the side-walks. This metropolis, we repeat, deserves great credit for its enterprise in this particular, contributing, as it does, a charity which covers a multitude of sins.

THE MATTER WITH THE CROTON WATER.

FROM every quarter we hear complaints of the taste and smell of the Croton water we are all compelled to use. It is charged that, for some time back, strangers especially have noticed a marked and unpleasant change in the taste of the Croton water, while there can be no dispute at all as to the foul smell of the water if left exposed to the air for even a short space of time. The cause of the deterioration in the wholesome quality of the Croton water is alleged to be the very large deposit of refuse matter in the reservoirs. It has long been known that the reservoirs swarm with fish, which of course die in time, and as they are never fished or netted out, the animal matter thus formed either settles to the bottom or is held in a state of glutinous solution in the water. The reservoirs have never been cleaned out since they were first opened, and, in addition to the impurities of the atmosphere which the water is constantly receiving, a vast quantity of solid matter comes from the Croton river itself, to swell that formed by the continued accessions caused by the enormous multiplicity of deaths of the finny tribe. The subject is not a pleasant one to write about, but it merits the attention of the Board of Health. Measures should be taken to clean the reservoirs; meanwhile our citizens would do well to patronize a good filter, or, if that is not quite convenient, to boil the water before using it, and thus destroy the animalculæ which are the exciting cause of disease in all foul water. Will Dr. Harris attend to this?

A NEW and important feature of the RECORD will be the official transcript of the Mechanics' Liens for New York and Kings counties. This class of information is absolutely indispensable to all boss mechanics, masons, carpenters, plumbers, gas-fitters, lumber dealers, contractors, and all others whose business it is to furnish materials used in the construction of buildings.

The liens for New York will appear next week.

THE Russian Government, it is stated, has just given out a contract for the construction of iron houses in Warsaw, at the price of twelve hundred dollars each.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

CARTER'S San Francisco Real Estate Circular for June contains a summary of the real estate transactions of the past six months. The total number of sales made in the space of time mentioned was 3,477, the value of which was $13,830,436. Compared with the like period of 1867, the total sales made the past six months show an increase of 582 in number and of $4,845,417 in amount. This is a very large advance. The increase for the first six months of 1867, over the sales made from January to June, 1866, was only 305 in number and $1,350,260 in amount. The greatest increase in value appears to be in the 100-varas section, where the amount which changed hands in the first half of 1868 shows an increase over the figures of 1867 of $1,743,265. This large increase is due to the rapid advance which has lately taken place in the value of present and prospective business property in the locality last named. The Circular thinks that the present price of such property (especially that which has only a prospective value for business uses) is unjustifiably high.

A GENTLEMAN who is constructing a costly mansion near Hudson, N. Y., is getting his work done at very low wages. While in Europe he made contracts with a large number of German laborers, at prices from one-third to one-fifth of the wages commanded by American workmen, paying his boss carpenter $150 per year and board. These men are bound to work for him until they have repaid to him their passage money, for which they have given reliable old country security. Though the men are working for such low wages, and are excellent mechanics, they are well satisfied with their bargain, as they could not otherwise have raised money enough to bring them over.

AN instance of the rapid rise in value of Omaha real estate, is shown in a case of a German, who leased a property for twenty years at $600 a year. Upon it stood a neat little Gothic building, which had been used by the Episcopalians as their church. In this he opened a lager beer saloon, retaining in connection with it the garden surrounding it. After waiting for two years, during which time the city rapidly grew, he sub-let the remaining portion of the property, for $6,000 a year, upon which, and the large profits of his business, he is becoming one of the wealthy men of the State.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

This has been the first week for the past eight or nine months in which no sales occurred at the Exchange Rooms. As we have reached the lowest ebb of stagnation, any change must be for the better. In September we shall have some sales of Rutherford Park property. The New York Co-operative Building-lot Society held its weekly meeting on Monday evening. Additional subscriptions were taken, and certificates issued for those members for whom lots have been obtained. The receipts from members during the past week were about $1,400. There are now nearly seven hundred members, and the society is rapidly increasing. They will soon have a full thousand. The lots distributed to members are in the vicinity of the Boulevard (Eighteenth Ward), Brooklyn, and additional purchases have been made of about 150 lots on Metropolitan avenue, which are to be distributed to members when the arrangements have been completed.

A very important case came recently before the courts of Des Moines, which involved a law principle which dealers in real estate in that section of the Union should be familiar with, and thus prevent litigation. The case is this. The defendant in the suit sold to the plaintiff a lot, and gave a warranty deed, covenanting that the same was free and clear of incumbrances. Soon after it was discovered there was a mortgage on the property, which had been executed several weeks prior to the sale made to the plaintiff. The suit was brought for obtaining money under false pretences, but after an examination the defendant was discharged, on the ground that the mortgage being on record was sufficient notice to third parties, and whoever bought the property took it with proper notice of lien. This principle has been affirmed by the Supreme Court repeatedly, and is settled. Persons buying real estate in Iowa should rely entirely upon the public records, as by them will their titles depend in that State. The State having provided means by which conveyances may be on record, that they may be known of all men, the courts declare that all parties must avail themselves of them. So also a senior mortgage, not on record, is no notice to third parties, as against a junior mortgage recorded.

GOSSIP.

The old church at the corner of Grand and Crosby streets has been converted into a depot for buffalo-robes and furs in general....Great numbers of houses in the central parts of the city are now labeled "to let." Rents will probably come down next spring... St. Clement's Episcopal Church, in Amity street, presents a rather dilapidated appearance just now. The covering of the roof is being stripped off to be replaced with slates....About 1,500 buildings have been erected in Washington during the past year. Before the Rebellion the population of this city was about 66,000; now it is said to be 130,000, including the suburb of Georgetown....The amount awarded by the jury of appropriation in Paris for the prolongation of the Boulevard Haussmann is $2,200,000 to the landlords, and $312,550 to the occupants... The new Union Market-House in St. Louis was opened a few days ago. It cost $1,000,000....Messrs. Lewis & George Leland have taken a ten years' lease of the new hotel to be completed January 1, 1869, on the site of the Higgins Hotel, corner of Twenty-eighth street and Broadway.... Fifteen thousand acres of land are estimated to have been broken up in St. Croix county, Wis., this year....Mr. P. T. Barnum is about to erect a beautiful summer residence in Bridgeport, Conn., on an eligible site overlooking the "Seaside Park," and commanding a fine water and landscape view. There is music in this park during two evenings of each week....Mr. John May of this city has bought Col. Henry Wynkoop's farm in the Embogcht, Catskill. It contains 180 acres; the price paid, $19,000....In Chicago, real estate is rapidly increasing in value, and everywhere may be seen piles of brick and mortar. The number of churches that are building is unusually large this season....Extensive blasting operations are in progress at Harlem Bridge, and the smell of gunpowder in that vicinity is very perceptible....The latest attraction added to Central Park is a row of patent swings, just set up not far from the Seventh avenue gate. These swings are made entirely of wood, and the seats of them are as roomy and comfortable as rocking-chairs....At Yorkville there are a great number of houses to let, and accommodations for boarders and lodgers are to be had everywhere in that district of the city; while, taking the city at large, there never were so many stores to let, probably, as there are now....The pavilion for the sale of mineral and other waters in Central Park is now in full operation. It is polygonal in form, and open in front. Various waters, with syrups, etc., are to be had at the same rates there as in the city....Perhaps there is not to be found in the city a queerer agglomeration of little wooden shops than those yet standing in Madison street, corner of Oliver. They are devoted to cheap clothing, junk, and the blacksmith business, and might tumble down or be blown away any hour of the night, without disturbing the neighbors.... Mr. Henry Keep, a wealthy railroad man of New York, is reported to have purchased 200 feet square of land on Fifth avenue and West Fifty-first street, in this city, where he intends to erect a magnificent Art Gallery, at the expense of over a million of dollars....A brick house, 26x40 feet, was successfully moved into Hoyt street, from the corner of Fulton avenue and Hoyt street, Brooklyn, not long ago. The utmost care was necessary in effecting the removal, but its successful accomplishment saved to the owner about $2,500. The former site of the building is to be built up with handsome stores....The National Academy of Design, on the corner of Twenty-third street, is a very pretty building, looking nice and clean and crisp, like a sugar-castle on a bride cake. But why on earth don't the managers or artists, or whoever has the building in charge, fill up those mean-looking circles of unmitigated brick on the Fourth avenue front? .. St. Luke's Hospital is the airiest and most healthful one within the limits of the city. Its contiguity to Central Park will always insure for it a supply of fresh air, which will be all the purer when the neighborhood has been relieved from the agglomeration of shanties now huddled together there. ....The Fire Commissioners have under consideration the placing of lightning-rods on the several bell-towers. This should have been done long ago, as the position of bell-ringer is perilous in time of a storm. A day or two ago one of the towers was struck, and a portion of one of the iron pillars was carried away....

The old Quarantine grounds at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, have been sold to Messrs. Shorstand, Wiener, Raymond, Swinburne & Co. for $220,000. The use of the Health Officer's residence, and of the four acres surrounding it, is reserved until May 1, 1870. The State authorities have yet to confirm the sale....The work enlarging the Kings County Lunatic Asylum and Nursery Buildings, by the addition of wings, is progressing favorably, and it is anticipated the much needed additional space will be allotted the now crowded inmates of these institutions before the winter sets in....In consequence of the accident which lately took place in a manufactory in this city, by which two girls were injured, the Deputy-Superintendent of Buildings has issued the following circular to the District Inspectors: "Inspector—You will, in course of your daily inspections, examine all buildings used or occupied as workshops, manufactories, &c., in which operatives are employed, and report immediately any that you may consider in any respect unsafe or dangerous. In such reports you will state in what particular the building or buildings may be unsafe, and such other information as you may obtain."....Property at Long Branch is reaching fabulous prices. Lots fronting the ocean are sold as high as lots in many of the great thoroughfares of New York. Dr. Helmbold, of this city, on Saturday last purchased the plot of ground north of the Continental Hotel, extending from the ocean to the depot of the Shore Railroad, taking in the Clarendon Hotel and the Monmouth House. It is the intention of Dr. Helmbold to improve the property by erecting several spacious stores and dwellings on it. Property is almost doubling every year at the Branch.....A New Orleans paper says: "The amount of building going on at present in the Fourth District and the upper suburbs is quite surprising. At every turn new houses are seen in course of construction, some of them of splendid proportions, and exhibiting great architectural skill and taste. The section traversed by the Carrollton Railroad is especially noticeable for the number and superior character of the buildings being erected thereupon." ...A number of sales were reported in Boston on Saturday and Monday, the most important of which was a lot of land having 33 feet front, with buildings on Kingston street, for $22,000. Several $10,000 sales were reported, but were only of local interest, except that they indicated an increase in the value of Boston property....An instance of the rapid rise in value of Omaha real estate, is shown in a case of a German, who leased a property for twenty years at $600 a year. Upon it stood a neat little Gothic building, which had been used by the Episcopalians as their church. In this he opened a lager beer saloon, retaining in connection with it the garden surrounding it. After waiting for two years, during which time the city rapidly grew, he sub-let the remaining portion of the property for $6,000 a year, upon which, and the large profits of his business, he is becoming one of the wealthy men of the State.... They have a curious and original way of testing the strength of bridges in Russia, that we should imagine is peculiar to that country. One of these structures was recently completed over the Moskowa River, and has been officially examined. After loading it with several hundred tons of stone, the people who had assembled to witness the trial were invited to come and stand upon it, which they did. The bridge, which was a good one, stood the test—but suppose it had not? This possible contingency, with its fatal consequences, does not appear to have suggested itself to the minds of the engineers or the people. We doubt if a similar experiment was ever made outside of England, where the Crystal Palace, at Sydenham, was tested by marching the Coldstream Guards through the galleries and around the dome, at quick time and in step.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand for the various descriptions of common bricks continues very active, and the tendency of prices is upward. The supply comes forward with great freedom from all parts, but not in excess of the want of trade, and vessels unload as rapidly as a berth can be obtained, frequently direct from the deck to the carts, preventing any accumulation of stock on the piers. The gradual but sure success of the employing masons in obtaining ten-hour workmen has so greatly increased building operations that our city trade has again become very large, and some of the heaviest contractors are now taking almost their full average of stock, while the liberal amount of work going on in Brooklyn, Jersey City, etc., requires all the brick offered, wholesale and retail dealers stating that the general market was never in a more healthy state. At the manufacturing yards the production is not only disposed of as rapidly as ready for market, but the accummulated stock, though fully equal to anything ever known, begins to show some reduction, and we hear no more rumors of stopping work for want of an outlet. In fact, present appearances indicate that manufacturers will find enough to keep them busy until the advent of frosty weather. As we close this report the feeling is firm, and business good at $8.00@$8.50 per M. for pale, and $10.00 @$12.00 for common hard. Croton fronts continue in request, the sales rather exceeding those of last week, and notwithstanding the advance then quoted a still further improvement is looked for. There is no supply of consequence now here, though enough available to meet anticipated wants for some little time to come. Philadelphia fronts are meeting with an increased demand, and rather work toward a higher range, cargo rates standing at $40.00 @$45.00, and retail lots, $46.00@$50.00 per M. We note shipments of 8,000 to Cuba, and 5,000 to New Granada.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is good, and pretty much all the companies are now delivering as rapidly as they can get out stock, the market ruling steady at $1.75 per bbl. From the city trade there is much more inquiry, some of the jobbers having but a small supply on hand, and finding it necessary to order quite freely to meet the wants of their customers. The exports are 265 bbls.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—There is a very fair trade doing in the various sizes both on city account and for shipment, mostly to the eastward. The market is steady as a general thing, and the majority of manufacturers operate on a basis of the figures given in our table of quotations, though occasionally favorite buyers are enabled to operate on somewhat easier terms. Among the dealers in the regular vitrified pipe we hear complaints against an inferior competing article of cement pipe now being used pretty extensively on public works, and which is said to be destitute of strength or endurance. A piece of the pipe in question was shown us, and if a fair sample, it certainly has little to recommend it being apparently nothing more than a hardened mass of mud and stones, crumbling easily under the pressure of the finger.

FIRE BRICK.—The sales of this article continue quite liberal, both to the local and country trade, but the production is equal to the demand, and prices remain steady at $55.00 to $60.00 per M. for Archwedge, key, &c., and $45.00 @ $50.00 for split and soap No. 2.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The local trade from yard is still quite moderate, and confined principally to small irregular lots. For export, however, the demand continues good, though somewhat restricted by the scarcity of desirable grades, Cuba mahogany being particularly sought after. Cedar at present is in very fair supply and selling only slowly. The latest auction sale embraced 140 logs Honduras mahogany at 8 @ 9¾c. per foot, all taken by the home trade. The receipts reported since our last are as follows: From Mansanilla 342 pieces Granadilla wood; 65 do. Lancewood, 95 logs mahogany, and 35 do. cedar; from Minatitlan 440 logs cedar and mahogany; and 87 logs ends; and from Liverpool 44 logs rosewood. The exports 855 pieces mahogany to Argentine Republic.

GLASS.—The recent arrivals of French window have been comparatively liberal, and embrace several lots of the small sizes, but by no means enough to relieve the market, as everything not already contracted for has gone into store to await better rates, which importers seem to feel confident of obtaining. Business in the meantime continues good, both on out-of-town and city orders, and any desirable parcel offered is quickly picked up at very full figures. The range of discounts is 40@50c. per cent., though the latter is seldom insisted upon, except for small purchases or very choice grades. The latest reported imports are 5,480 packages glass valued at $12,231, and 330 glass plate valued at $40,694.

HAIR.—The demand is rather improving for the various grades, but the continued open weather and the quiet state of building operations during the past five or six weeks, has enabled manufacturers to dry out stock pretty freely, making the accumulation now quite large. Prices cannot be quoted lower, but liberal purchases could undoubtedly be arranged on terms more in buyer's favor than heretofore. Cattle hair is still the most sought after, but mixed sells well, and for fine first class work there is a goodly number of builders who will use nothing but goat hair if it can be obtained.

HARDWARE.—A good steady trade is doing in the various styles of builders' hardware, but not enough to cause any unusual activity or excitement. Prices, in most cases, remain as before. The manufacturers of doorknobs recently held a meeting with a view to somewhat modify their rates, but nothing was definitely decided upon.

LABOR.—The Committee on Compromise from the Bricklayers' Union accomplished nothing, simply because they offered no concessions worthy of consideration by the "bosses." The eight-hour law being still insisted upon by the workmen, and the modifications of the Society rules in regard to apprentices, so hedged in as to be of little practical benefit, the Executive Committee of the Master Masons' Association immediately rejected all offers of settlement, except such as would guarantee ten hours' work and no interference with non-society men, and this action was subsequently endorsed at a full meeting of the employing masons. Had the journeymen bricklayers, at the commencement of the strike, shown an inclination to negotiate in an orderly, peaceful manner, they could have obtained comparatively liberal terms from their employers, but the high-handed manner in which they have conducted affairs has effectually shut off all hopes of any arrangements being made, except such as are perfectly compatible with the interests of the master-masons. The latter continue to gain ground daily, and as their position becomes better understood, the reflecting public give them credit for their pluck during the past, and promise them all the necessary support for the future. Ten-hour men are decidedly more plenty than last week, and a very fair proportion are those who have left the Union, including quite a number of front bricklayers. The Union, or Society, journeymen continue to assault and interfere with those who refuse to join the strike, and in pursuance of a resolution passed some time ago, certain members of the Master Masons' Association have instituted legal proceedings against a number of the offenders. As we go to press, there is no change in the position. The master-masons remain firm, mainly because they have so much the advantage in the struggle, and have no reason to offer the slightest concession, while the leaders of the deluded workmen, finding a few odd subscriptions dropping into their treasury, hold out, enjoying a period of idleness at their fellow-laborers' expense, but gaining not a single point towards the establishment of the system for which the strike was inaugurated.

LATH.—The market quotation is still $3.00 per M., and this has to be paid for small parcels, but we find the principal receivers do not insist upon the above figure for cargoes, particularly where any handling of stock is to be saved, and several heavy lots have been run out to jobbers at $2.90 per M. The stock in first hands is not very heavy, but nearly all our city retailers are well supplied, and the latter fact in a measure accounts for the freedom with which wholesale operators part with their receipts, though the recent rains at the East, raising the streams and enabling the mills to keep steadily at work, is not without its influence. The amount of stock on the way is still reported as small, but enough appears to come forward every week to meet current wants, and unless the demand suddenly improves, no immediate scarcity need be apprehended. When this market fell to $3.00 per M., we predicted that a large share of the season's trade would be consummated at that figure or slightly under, as it was a rate about in consonance with the views of buyers, and one calculated to give sellers an ample profit. The result thus far proves us to have been perfectly correct, and even yet the purchaser of large lines retains the advantage. Manufacturers have sent enough lath in this direction to keep our market well supplied, and notwithstanding the repeated threats to suspend operations, we hear of no saws as yet having stopped, in fact present appearances indicate that the production will continue unabated until the water gives out. The total sales in this market since our last embrace some 4,200,000 at $2.90@$3.00 per M.

LIME.—The demand from the city jobbing trade has become quite active, and though cargoes continue to arrive from day to day all are sold out immediately, and a much larger quantity could easily be disposed of. On Rockland lump the rate remains as before, viz.: $2 per bbl., but for common an advance of 15c. per bbl. has been obtained, bringing the price up to $1.25, and the market closes very firm. The amount of stock, at the moment, on the way to this port is, from all accounts rather small, but a great many manufacturers are about to commence burning, and a fair increase may be looked for at an early day. The agents for the various styles of North River lime report a good steady business at about former rates, though the advance in Rockland gives prices some buoyancy, and the best brands are held higher.

LUMBER.—At the yards the amount of business doing is comparatively light, but hardly so dull as reported last week, the city trade showing some slight improvement, and a very fair amount of stock moving out on shipping orders. To meet the latter demand, hard woods attract the most attention and are going in various directions, some choice grades, black walnut, &c., even finding an outlet in the Albany market. The receipts continue fair, and stock slowly accumulates, though we hear of no great improvement in quality. Prices remain uniform on all grades, and quotations are still without alteration. In our wholesale market we do not find an unusual amount of activity, but still trade is improving, and on the leading styles of lumber, there is a strong and rather buoyant tone. The inquiry for export is fair, but the home trade are buying with freedom, and many of the yards are commencing to stock up in view of the fall trade. Eastern Spruce has arrived to a fair extent, but in quantities hardly equal to the demand, and instead of the concessions looked for a few days ago buyers find the market rather higher, and very firm. There is nothing merchantable now to be had below $20.00; the bulk of the offering will average $21.00, and really choice and prime lots are worth $22.00 per M. All the cargoes received up to the present writing have been sold out almost as soon as the schedules were offered, and quite a number of purchases made of lots to arrive. A few small parcels Eastern Hemlock have been offered, and mostly sold at about $13.50@$14.50 per M. White Pine has been in very good demand from the city trade, and we hear of several sales of fair amounts to shippers, the range of prices being fully sustained, though no advance is as yet quoted. The supply now here is rather small. We place inferior to fair box boards at $23.00@$25.00; good do. $26 00@$30.00; prime do. $35.00 and mill timber $35.00.

Piling has arrived to a more moderate extent, but the demand is not very brisk and the supply is ample. Prices remain uniform, and we still quote at 6½@9c. for the bulk of sales, with occasional choice selections at 9½c. per foot. We hear of no recent receipts of pickets, and with no sales upon which to base values we must still quote nominally at $11.00@$12 00 per M. Western White Oak is now being received to some extent, but the demand appears to be very limited and no sales worthy of note are made public. The nominal figures are 44@45c. per foot. Southern Pine has arrived in pretty liberal quantities during the past week; but, with a decidedly better demand, all the lots not already contracted for have found a quick and ready market at full and advancing rates, the quotations now standing at $34.00@$36.00 for ordinary bills, with choice and selections at much higher figures. Yellow Pine is at the moment doing very well, and dealers anticipate a good trade during the next month, unless the operations are interfered with by the light arrivals which at present seem probable in view of the difficulty experienced in inducing captains to take their vessels into Southern ports for freight at this season. The supply at the South is liberal, and it only requires shipping accomodations to be immediately sent to market. Eastern shingles are selling to a moderate extent at about $4.75@$5.00 per M., but Southern shingles are very slow, and holders have to offer remarkably easy terms to induce buyers to operate. We quote at about $20.00@$23.00. The stock of Southern shingles is said to be immense, and scattered in all directions in order to find storage room. The principal sales of lumber since our last, on spot and to arrive, embrace 1,600,000 feet Eastern Spruce, at $20.00@$22.00, but mostly at $21.00; 900.000 feet White Pine at $24.00@$27.00, and 920,000 feet Yellow Pine at $33.00@$36.00, mostly at $34.00.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 17, 1868.

Since my last writing the lumber market has continued to rule weak, owing chiefly to the heavy receipts, and most of it coming in together in large fleets. The attendance of country buyers has also been limited, with the exception of to-day, when we have had a better showing. Trade from the yards is increasing gradually but with no important change in prices. Cargo prices are as follows: For best grades $16.00@$16.50; medium $14.50@$15.50; ordinary mixed $12.50@$14.00; Dimension stuff $11.00@$12.00. In some localities on the East Shore mills will run short of logs before the close of the season, but at most places the supply will hold out.

The following statement represents the exports fron the Saginaw Valley, Michigan, of the productions of the valley, from the opening of navigation to August 1:

Lath, pieces	22,314,250
Shingles	27,571,250

Pickets, pieces	207,200
Timber, cubic feet	508,000
Timber, pieces	200
Shooks, bundles	4,894

The shipments for the month of July were much larger than any previous month, and more than half the amount shipped previous to that time. There is no doubt but that the shipments would have been heavier had the facilities been equal to the demand. During July, East Saginaw cleared vessels freighting over 30,000,000 feet of lumber, and Bay City over 33,000,000. The above shipments include only those made by water. Including those made by rail would make the amount over 200,000,000. At the present rate Saginaw Valley will clear over 400,000,000 feet of lumber this season, the other productions being in proportion.

A recent St. Louis report says:

"Receipts of lumber by river during the past week have been light, covering 1,200,000 feet. The amounts afloat have been very light, but few rafts being reported below Dubuque. Sales for the past week at Horse Creek, and to arrive, have been large, clearing up all the different lots now out. They cover sales of 600,000 feet at $21.50; 600,000 ft. Wisconsin at $22.50; 263,000 ft. at $26; and one lot selected, 400 M, at $31. Other lots to the amount of 2,400 M were sold at prices ranging from $21.50 to $22.50. Sales afloat cover one lot of 600 M. Chippewa, at $18; another lot, 500 M, at same price, and 250,000 feet at same.

"The market shows much activity, and there is a strong demand, with but little offering. Advices from the upper tributaries show a great scarcity of logs, and a large number of mills closed down for want of stock. This is especially true on the Chippewa and Wisconsin rivers, and on the former but about one-half of the mills are in operation, and part on half time.

"Trade from yards is good, and shows much greater activity than at any time the past year."

At Cincinnati the market for seasoned lumber was only moderately active at about previous rates. Hard green lumber was rather dull, but, with a small supply, prices quite firm, if anything rather better. We quote as follows:

Clear per M $60@$65; first, second, and third common $50.00@$22.50 per M; first and second common flooring $62.50@$42 per M; first partition $65.00@$70.00; first and second class weather boards $30.00@$22.50 per M; pine joist and scantling $25.00@$27.50 per M; and hemlock do. do., $17.50@20.00 do. Hard green lumber about as follows: Oak $17@$20 per M; Ash $24@$26 per M; Cherry $25@$30 do; Walnut $30@$35 do.; and Poplar $23@25.

A recent Boston report says:

The surveys in this district for the past week have been thirty-one cargoes of domestic, containing 2,738,408 feet, and fifteen cargoes from the Provinces, containing 932,569 feet—making a total of 3,670,977 feet.

The market shows no material change, although there is more firmness for all descriptions of good merchantable lumber. Manufacturers are taking orders at full prices, and there is not a large stock in the market.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine Lumber $16 per M. for large lots; Flooring, seasoned, $25; Cypress, $35 per M.; Shingles, Cypress split, $4@$5 per M.

Charleston as follows:

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $25.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00 @25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6,00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@$12.00

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to Aug. 13, 1868, were 15,415,377 feet of lumber, of which 1,667,309 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 13,748,068 feet coastwise. Of the latter 5,412,158 feet were consigned to New York; 3,224,269 to Philadelphia; 2,220,820 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,783,106 to Rhode Island, and 793,065 to other United States ports.

METALS.—Copper Sheathing is in rather better jobbing demand, and with the supply under easy control, dealers continue to obtain about 18c.@20c. for old, and 33c. for new. Scotch pig iron has met with a good steady demand for local consumption, and with only a small supply to offer, holders remain very firm at $43.00@$45.00 per ton. American No. 1 is still scarce, and pretty firmly held, but buyers operate rather cautiously in view of anticipated early arrivals. The common grades of American are more plenty, and rather tend downward, owing to the decreased inquiry. We quote American pig iron at $40.00@$42.00 for No. 1; $35.00@$38.00 for No. 2; and $33.00@34.00 for forge. Bars are in very good request from store, and at the improvement noted in our last the market remains quite firm. We quote at $90,00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155.00 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130.00@$175.00 do.; ovals and half-round, $125.00@$155.00 do.; and rods, ⅜@3-16 inch, $105.00@$165.00 do. Sheet iron is fairly active, but prices are a trifle easier, and now stand at about 5c.@6¼c. for single D and T common; and 13c.@14c. for Russia, assorted numbers. Pig lead has been comparatively quiet, but we note a firm feeling on the part of holders, and no pressure to realize, rates standing at 6¾c.@6¾c. gold. Manufacturers' lead is fairly active, at steady rates for bar, but pipe and sheet have been reduced by manufacturers to 10¼ net, cash, and plumbers' rates are down in proportion. Tin plates still move out slowly, the demand being almost entirely of a jobbing character; but dealers refuse any concessions, in view of the continued reports from abroad of a probable short supply. The imports last reported were 7,724 boxes, valued at $167,013. Zinc is in good request for parcels from store at 12¼c.@13¼c., and closes firm, particularly on 9x36, of which the supply has become greatly reduced.

NAILS.—Cut nails have been inquired after to some extent, but no very heavy transactions consummated, and at the close the feeling is still rather dull at former figures, viz.: 4¾@4¾ for 4 d. and 6 d.; small lots 5c. Clinch are in moderate request and steady, the quotation remaining at 6¼@6½c. On the other grades figures may still be placed at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 865 pckgs. valued at $3,106; against 283 pckgs. valued at $1,812 last week. Shipments to San Francisco 1,850 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There has been a very good, and a more general demand for paints, prices ruling firm and on some grades rather buoyant. The stock of both foreign and domestic white lead is still very small, and many orders are unfilled. Glue is steady and has been a trifle more active, the demand being mainly for foreign. Linseed has not been very active, but has ruled remarkably strong throughout the week, and in some instances there is a slight improvement. The upward turn is attributed mainly to an advance in seed, and crushers generally are not pressing sales. The wholesale figures may be placed at $1.07@$1.08 in casks; and $1.09@$1.11 in bbls. The exports for the week are 24 pckgs. paint valued at $409 and 809 bbls. oxide zinc valued at $5,510.

PITCH.—There has been rather more doing, but the demand is not general, and the arrivals have exceeded the sales, the market closing rather heavy. Prices as compared with last week are unchanged, though very few parcels command the outside figure. We quote at $3.25@$3.37½ per bbl. for prime city. Receipts for week 463 bbls. Exports for week none, since January 1st 2,263 bbls, and for same period last year 3,321 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—No sales of lump are reported, buyers being nearly all engaged receiving on contract, and prices remain nominally unchanged. The receipts foot up 835 tons. Calcined is steady at $2.40 @ $2.50 per lb. for Eastern and City. We note shipments of 100 bbls. to Cisplatine Republic.

SLATE.—The city and suburban demand has rather improved since our last, the easy rates attracting some attention; though, as usual at this season, when buildings begin to approach completion, slaters commence laying in stock, and dealers look for a revival of trade. There is some little inquiry on Southern account, and a very fair amount going westward. Prices remain at about the same range as previously given, with probably a little more steadiness on the desirable grades. The supply is pretty large, but receives no important additions at present, in view of the small shipments from the quarries during the past two weeks, the water in the pits having prevented the production. This drawback, however, has now about disappeared, and as the miners are willing and anxious to work steadily for the balance of the season, we may soon look for increased arrivals.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Only a fair degree of activity can be noted in this market, buyers operating very cautiously in view of the increased supply. Prices have fluctuated rapidly, but the general tendency has been downward, and values are reduced. As we close this report, the feeling is unsettled at about 44@45c. for wholesale, and 45½@46½c. for retail parcels. The available stock is estimated at about 3,000 bbls. Receipts for week 2,812 bbls. Exports for week 1,520 bbls.; since January 1st 11,849 bbls., and for same period last year 19,464 bbls.

STONE.—The business at the yards is improving, and many dealers are increasing the number of workmen, though in most cases it is to hurry through and finish up former contracts, very few new orders coming in. The agents of the freestone quarries report a brisk trade, and at times they find it difficult to hurry stock through fast enough to meet all the calls made upon them. Blue stone is active and firm, a large proportion of the deliveries being on Corporation contracts, though the yards are taking some stock. Prices on all grades very firm.

TAR.—There has been a first-rate demand since our last for all grades, materially reducing the stock, and adding strength to the market. Prices generally are higher, and close firm at the improvement. The inquiry is still mainly for home use. We quote North County, as it runs, at $3.25@$3.75 per bbl., Wilmington $3.75@$4.25 per bbl., and choice do. $4.37½—all in order in yard. Receipts for week 458 bbls. Exports for week 35 bbls.; since January 1st 8,623 bbls., and for same period last year 3,170 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of August 18, reports as follows:

Lumber has come in freely during the week, adding to the stock and assortment, which are now good and ample. The sales have been fairly active, and several large and judicious buyers have been purchasing for winter stock—laying it while the weather is pleasant, satisfied that prices of both lumber and freights are as low as they will be this season.

Prices remain without change and within the range of our quotations.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the second week of August, were:

FALL PROSPECTS.

THE omens for the fall business in building materials and real estate are generally favorable. It is now certain that we shall have an immense crop of wheat, corn, and beef. There will be an abundance of food for all the inhabitants of the United States, and enough to spare to yield a handsome return in money from the other side of the ocean.

Large crops and cheap food are synonymous with good trade and abundant labor. With these secured, all sorts of mechanical and manufacturing skill will be brought into requisition. The centres of population will be stimulated; there will be a demand for new houses, and for lots upon which to build them.

All the tendencies of civilization help to augment the population of cities. The railroad and telegraph centralize trade, and huge cities are the result. New York is a baby to what it will be. Hence holders of property in the immediate neighborhood of the metropolis are certain in time to reap a large return for their outlay in the way of taxes and unused capital. Nor is it possible to build too many houses. With temporary checks, the demand for houses will always outrun the supply in this city. Therefore the builder may be sure he cannot possibly erect a store or residence which will not be needed some time or other.

There is, however, one cloud in the future, and the builder or real estate owner who does not see it may have to pay dearly for his want of prevision. Prices may not keep up. Real estate was the last thing to advance under the greenback inflation; it is the very last thing that will go down; but some day or other, certainly when we return to specie payments, the present prices in vogue will shrink to something like the old figures.

There are indications not to be mistaken that we have reached and passed high-water mark. Houses are not so ready of sale. There are more of them in the market than there were. Their rents are not so high, and they are certainly destined to be lower. The cheap food we are sure of the coming year will give us cheap labor—this is an inevitable result; and with cheaper labor will come cheaper houses, and cheaper material for houses. Hence it follows that wise holders of houses will take advantage of the present state of the market and realize, for nothing is more certain than that the tide is running out. Sell out.

RECLAMATION OF NEW JERSEY MEADOWS.

THAT tract of land known as the Newark Meadows, situated betwe n the Hackensack and Passaic rivers, in the immediate vicinity of Newark, embraces an area of 5000 acres. This tract, previous to the work of reclamation, was completely inundated with the tide-waters from both rivers, causing a wild marine vegetation of a luxuriant character to spring up. This consisted of reeds, bulrushes, and a very coarse description of salt grass. At one time it had been reclaimed, and an immense cedar forest grown upon it, which was known as the Hanson Nursery, and from it were taken many of the trees which now adorn Central Park. The embankment surrounding this nursery, being made of perishable material, at length gave way, and the flooding waters soon converted it to its primal condition of marsh land. It remained in this condition for many years, until the close of the war gave enterprise new fields to conquer in reclaiming and utilizing the soil. The crowded condition of this city and the availability of New Jersey lands for the reception of our teeming population, was prominently made manifest by the success of the Central and Morris & Essex Railroads in their colonizing schemes. Mr. S. N. Pike, of opera-house building celebrity, having already successfully terminated several extensive undertakings, considered the reclamation of the New Jersey swamps as not only a feasible, but a profitable scheme. He selected this tract for his maiden experiment, and during the past winter prosecuted the work vigorously. He organized the Iron Dike and Land Reclamation Company, the surveying department of which he placed in the hands of Mr. Jerome J. Collins, an expert in the science of drainage. After an accurate survey, the work was commenced by the erection of a dike along the Passaic river of the following proportions:—the base of the embankment, twenty feet in width, terminating at a height of from five to seven feet—leaving a uniform width on the top of four feet. This structure rests upon a patent iron dike, driven from three to four feet in the ground, and reaching to a level, when the boring of rats, which caused so much injury to the former embankments, would be either impracticable or of little danger. This iron dike consists of a series of iron plates linked together, each plate being five feet long, eighteen inches wide, and three-sixteenths of an inch thick, strengthened and stiffened by vertical ribs, and having connecting clips cast on one vertical edge of the plate; by which means a complete connection is maintained throughout all the plates, forming a continuous line of iron wall, and offering an impenetrable barrier to the musk-rat or other borers. These plates are made of description of iron which oxidizes very slowly, on account of the metal having been melted but once from the ore, in which state oxidation is very slight; consequently it will maintain its state of preservation for many years, and only trifling repairs in the embankment will be all that is necessary to keep the dike in good order. The material of which this embankment, that has now been completed along the river-frontage for six miles, is composed, has been procured from the excavation of the main ditch running parallel on the inside of it. This ditch receives the water from the inland drainage of the marsh and conveys it to the several sluices and pumping stations situated along the line of the main embankment, through which it is discharged into the river at low water. Consequently, any accumulation of water on the reclaimed land, from whatever cause, is regularly carried off at every tide, and there is no danger by this method of the land being impoverished from over-drainage. As the entire surface of the land was covered by a dense mass of vegetation, one of the principal engineering difficulties was the judicious selection of location for the inland drains, as the nature of the soil was also varied, and the requirement of each particular case had to be examined by the engineer previous to the process of drainage being commenced. When thoroughly reclaimed, this land will be invaluable for raising market vegetables and small fruits, for which Holland, the land of dikes, holds so high a reputation. It is to contain, we believe, one of the finest race-courses in the world; and as the surface is so even, and the view so uninterrupted, it will far surpass Fordham, and be the real Derby Course of America. On 5000 acres of such land a village like the European Haarlem may spring up, where the florist may cultivate the variegated tulips, for it would not be at all surprising if this land were sought for residences, instead of sites for factories and mills. In any case, the projectors of this scheme may rest assured that the bread thrown on the waters there will come back to them, not only toasted, but well buttered, for its proximity to this great manufacturing and social centre must cause it to be speedily utilized. We shall give particulars, occasionally, of the progress of this engineering feat, which will be much more beneficial to mankind than many a far-famed one, like the Thames tunnel, of infinitely less utility.

THE City of Buffalo has increased very rapidly within the last fifty years. In 1812, there were 100 houses and 500 inhabitants in the village. A visitor to that flourishing city says: Fifty years ago there was one church in the village; to-day there are 55—42 of them Protestant and 13 Catholic. In 1812 there were 500 people in Buffalo; now there are nearly 100,000. Then there were few day schools; now 33, with school property worth $300,000. The trade in 1812 was carried on by four or five vessels on the lake, valued at $10,000; now there are 1400 vessels with tonnage of 6,000,000, valued at $13,500,000, and in addition to the sailing craft there are 3000 boats on the canal, worth $3,500,000. Fifty years ago not a bushel of grain of any kind was brought into the place; this year there have been landed at the docks 26,500,000 bushels of wheat, 21,000,000 of corn, besides 2,500,000 of other grain; and in 1867 it was estimated 15 per cent. higher. At that time exports were nothing; now they are over $60,000,000. The assessed value of real estate in Buffalo in 1868 is nearly $50,000,000.

AN exhaustless source of wealth, now inaccessible, is the immense forests of sugar pine which extend hundreds of miles through the State of California on the mountain range. The proprietor of a lumber mill in Mariposa county has examined carefully a tract of 1,000 acres of this pine, where the trees range from three to twelve feet in diameter, and generally rise from 100 to 125 feet to the first limb. A belt of this timber extends at least three hundred miles parallel to the coast, no part of it above or below a certain altitude.

THE Hartford steam saw mill received a lumber raft Wednesday, which was 65 feet wide and 500 long, containing 700,000 feet of lumber; it came direct from New Brunswick, New Jersey, and was towed up the Sound and river by a steamer.

THE belt of Vermont through which the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad will pass is the richest portion of the State. The three counties on the line of the road contain live stock worth $3,500,000, and farms worth $500,000,000.

THE immigration into Iowa is unexampled this year.

Cherry street.—Store and dwelling, No. 59; owner, H. Siefke; architect, Louis Burger; plan No. 642; submitted Aug. 25th; cost, $13,000; lot, 24.10½x80; building, 24.10½x50; height, 55 ft.; four stories; Philadelphia front brick; flat tin roof.

125th street.—Office, s. s., 275 e. of 8th av.; owner and architect, Edward Ewing; plan No. 643; submitted Aug. 25th; cost, $800; lot, 25x100; building, 16x22; height, 12 ft.; brick; flat tin roof.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The dies non still continue, but in the early part of next month we shall have some large sales of the Rutherford Park and the Ridgewood Park properties. It is rumored that careful inquiry is to be made into the condition of buildings throughout the city, as many are so overloaded that the lives of those who work in them are hardly worth an hour's purchase. These have all been tenemented before Superintendent McGregor's time, and if those desperate speculators in human life and limb are not more careful, the Grand Jury will take hold of the subject and bring them to punishment.

There has been great indignation in London, where the lines running from that city have suddenly doubled their passenger fares. No such general and far-reaching grievance has been felt for a long time, as the railroad has become a vital part of London's social life, as the many residents of the suburbs count in their year's estimates the price of the commutation tickets.

Chicago shows unprecedented growth during the past year, and 8,000 buildings, to cost $12,000,000, are in course of erection. The following paragraph shows how jubilant the inhabitants of that city are over this building furore:

"Hardly had the present season opened than the real estate speculation sprang up everywhere. Prices which had been considered high during the previous year, now advanced more steadily and rapidly. Still there was a ready market, and transactions in real estate have more than doubled those of any former year. As soon as the season had arrived it became apparent at once that building operations would be very active. The demand for materials increased daily, and notwithstanding the facilities for a prompt supply were unusual, and the competition was great, prices were firmly maintained. Of labor, too, there was a supply equal to the demand, great as it was. Altogether, the season has been highly favorable for building, and operations have been carrried on from the commencement on a scale never before known."

GOSSIP—CITY.

Grace Church, Broadway and Tenth street, is undergoing very extensive alterations. The arch and columns have received fresh coats of paint, while the chancel, already quite gorgeous, has not been forgotten. This church is one of the handsomest architectural ornaments of which New York can boast, though in saying thus much, we are by no means to be understood as including its mean-looking wooden steeple.... What used to be St. John's Park is now entirely obliterated by the immense mass of buildings conglomerated on the spot for a railway depot. These buildings are fast approaching completion, and they belittle St. John's Church with their juxtaposition.... University Place will soon be one of the best business localities in the city. Shops and trades of various kinds are already cropping up in it, here and there, between private residences.... It is curious that one side of Division street is occupied exclusively by milliners' shops, with their show-cases displaying the "latest sweet things in bonnets," while on the other side cutlery seems to be the staple. There is a significance in this, the bonnet being but too often the teterrima causa of knife and pistol.... General Newton gives notice that the contract for the removal of rocks in Hell Gate will not necessarily be assigned to the lowest or any bidder. The time which the bidder proposes to consume in performing the work, as well as the character of his proposed mode of operations as to practicability, will be considered in assigning the contract.... Tompkins Square, covering over three blocks of ground, is entirely unlighted, except around the borders, and when there is no moon, is as dark as pitch.... Capt. F. C. Speight, in charge of the Twenty-ninth Police Precinct, states that he has, within his boundaries of Fourteenth and Forty-second streets, and Fourth and Seventh avenues, six hundred unoccupied dwellings. These houses belong, without exception, to our wealthy citizens who are absent in the various watering-places and rural resorts.... The new store on Fulton avenue, Brooklyn, building for Messrs. Horton & Co., is rapidly approaching completion. It is an elegant specimen of plain architecture.... Furnished houses in this city rent at from $200 to $400 a month, and unfurnished houses from $800 to $6,000 a year.... The owners and agents of the following tenement houses have been notified by the Superintendent of Buildings to put them in order:—127 Eldridge street, front and rear; 46, front and rear, 172, 179, 182 and 192 Delancy; 155, front and rear, 157, front and rear, 159 front and rear, 161 West 27th street; 20 Avenue A; 4 Avenue B, front and rear; 753, 755, 757, 759, 761, 763, 765 2d avenue; 240, 242 East 41st street; 409 411, 425 West 44th street; 550 10th ave.; 446, 448 West 45th st.; 80, 82, 104 Attorney st.; 183, 185, 187, 189 Rivington; 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87 Pike; 436, 448, 450, 454, 476, 499, 506, 508 Water; 156 William; 179 Prince, front and rear; 82, 143, 145, 147, front and rear; 151 Thompson; 325 West 4th; 424, 425, 500, 528 West st; s. e. corner West and Gansevoort st.

We are pleased to see the Mount Morris Park improvement going on, which cannot but improve the property in its vicinity and in Harlem generally. The Street Commissioner has employed the best talent in laying the park out, which will be second to none in this country. Mr. McLain, the engineer, is a gentleman of rare ability in his profession. Mr. Joseph Murphy, as landscape gardener, and his many years' experience in laying out nearly all our city parks, needs no comment. The gentlemen assure us that there shall be nothing wanting on their part to make it one of the handsomest pleasure grounds in the city. Its natural position adds much to its beauty. The mound in the centre, which is seventy-two feet high above the level of the street, affords a rare scenery. There is to be but one drive, commencing at 124th street and Fifth avenue, and running to the top of the mound and return.

DOMESTIC.

Pittsburg shows less of change in the last ten years—less of progress—than does any Northern city west of the Alleghanies....San Francisco is to have a new $300,000 theatre, to be inaugurated with the Pacific Railroad ball on Christmas eve....The Secretary of War has concluded a purchase of four hundred and thirty acres of land lying adjacent to Fortress Monroe. The property belonged to the Hon. Joseph Segar, and is designed for the use of the artillery school established at that point...."One thing," wrote a newspaper correspondent, "there was in Cleveland which, more than others, I would, if it were possible, transplant to Manhattan soil—Euclid street, with its fine residences. This "Fifth avenue" enjoys no 25x100 lots all covered with marble, or stone, or brick, but an ample space for trees and lawn, as the portion assigned to each residence. The Euclid "lots" are not less than twenty times the size of the full lots on our New York Fifth avenue. May they never grow smaller....The Spragues have given out contracts for £1,000,000 worth of machinery to be put into factories to be erected at Augusta, Maine, within five years....Several mill operatives at Lewiston, Me., are building houses in their spare hours. Working in the mills nearly twelve hours per day, they manage to secure a little time in the morning before the bell rings and after they come out at night, which they devote to building operations. A short time ago one of these persevering men was seen shingling after eleven o'clock at night, and the next morning was at work almost before day-light...The Long Bridge at Washington, D.C., is now in course of reconstruction. The work is under the charge of Gen. N. Michler, Commissioner of Public Buildings and Grounds. The structure is to be thoroughly overhauled, and a modern-designed draw is to be built on the Washington side. The entire work on the bridge is to be finished by the middle of October....The new court house at Bath, Me., is nearly completed. It will be the finest building in the city....The club-house of the Jersey Yacht Club is to be removed from its present location on the other side of the Central Railroad to a place near its original location, close to Mould's boat house, foot of Van Voist street....Cincinnati is to spend $300,000 on a Merchants' Exchange....The block of buildings and lumber yard on Main stret, Rye Neck, immediately east of the bridge, and owned by Mr. J. R. Purdy, have been sold to Darius Lyon, Esq., late Sheriff of Westchester County, for $20.000....Milwaukee has one marble front building and only one, everything else being monotonous brick. So, all day long one half of the population stands gazing at the structure, and only leaves it to bring up strangers to view "that marble front"....The Northern Railroad of New Jersey is to have a new and commodious depot, 460 by 138 feet, near Pavonia Ferry....The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received the returns of the survey of one additional township in Lewis and Clark county, in Montana, just north of Helena, embracing an area of twenty-two thousand nine hundred and seventy-two acres....A new depot is building near the Pavonia Ferry, Jersey City, for the Erie Railway and the Northern Railroad of New Jersey. It will be one hundred and thirty-eight feet wide by four hundred and sixty feet long, and will accommodate seven trains. It will have a truss roof, trimmed, and supported by four columns. The river front will present an attractive appearance. On the first of September the New York terminus of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey will be changed to the new depot, which is to be finished by the first of October....It was reported last winter that the sheds built by the Pacific Railroad Company to protect their track from the deep snows of the Sierra Nevada mountains were crushed by the weight of snow that fell upon them, and that some other method of protection would have to be devised. It seems, however, by a letter in the San Francisco Bulletin, that this plan of shielding the track has not been abandoned. The company are now engaged in erecting sheds over the cuttings and the other exposed points. They are of heavy timber framework, with pointed gable roofs, and look as if they could withstand almost any pressure of snow. Nearly forty miles of the track will have to be thus covered, and the quantity of timber required will be enormous. Not less than twenty-two saw-mills, most of them worked by steam, are run night and day, employing nearly 2,000 men; and yet they do not work up to the needs of the company. In a few weeks twenty-eight miles will be running. It is estimated that it will require no less than 80,000 feet of lumber to construct a mile of sheds. So great is the demand, that the country on both sides of the track is being rapidly denuded of its forests.....A Paterson, N. J., correspondent writes that real estate in that city has resumed its natural level, and that the demand for houses there, by New York business men, is active....The foundation of the new Presbyterian church edifice, on the corner of Highland avenue and Mott street, Sing Sing, has been prepared. The building will be of brick, with stone trimmings, and 140 feet in depth. It is to be finished by the first of July, 1869. Contract price, $66,000, including both mason and carpenter work....The people of Trenton, N. J., are putting all the money they can raise into houses and lands, hence the amount of building in the locality....Norwood, N. J., is again coming into favor. The lots are laid out to suit purchasers, from small lots to large villa plots. Several buildings have gone up within the last six months, and a large splendid hotel, capable of accommodating 200 guests. Norwood is on the line of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, 21 miles from Jersey City. It is a beautiful tract of land of about 500 acres, purchased by J. Wyman Jones, the founder of the new beautiful town of Englewood, on the same road. It is beautifully laid out in streets and avenues, some of which are all graded.

FOREIGN.

London, including a number of its suburbs, is supplied with gas by thirteen companies, owning nineteen works, all but two of which are within four miles of Charing Cross. The retorts, both single and double end, are equal to almost exactly 5,000 double retorts, averaging about nineteen feet in length, or to 10,000 mouth-pieces. It has been estimated that these works carbonize 850,000 tons of coal annually, from which about 8,000,000,000 (eight thousand millions, or, in the ordinary terms of gas measurement, "eight million thousand") cubic feet of gas are made. Of this upward of one "million thousand" feet are lost by leaking from the mains and in other ways, while the rest is sold for about £1,400,000. Other estimates give 1,000,000 tons as the amount of coal carbonized yearly, the sale of gas and residual products amounting to £2,000,000, equal to 14s. 6d. for every man, woman, and child in the metropolis.

SALES.

There was a little more activity in the real estate market this week. The following are the few sales which have taken place:

On Monday, Aug. 24, the Messrs. J. Mathewson & Son sold, on the premises, the lease of the lots known as Nos. 429 and 431 West 13th st. (a part of the Astor estate), together with the buildings thereon, consisting of two two-story and basement brick buildings, in good order, with brick stables in rear; also, the trucks, carts, horses, harness, etc., belonging to the estate of Wm. McKenna, deceased. The lots are on the north side of West 13th st., commencing at a point 350 feet east from 9th av., and 25x103.1¼ feet each, and sold the five years' lease, with renewal of valuation, at $4,000 for the former, and $2,500 for the latter.

The following sales of vacant lots in East New York have taken place within a week: Two lots, one on the north-easterly and the other on the south-easterly corner of Siegel and Atlantic avs., to Messrs. Hallahan & Brother, for $950; also, three lots on Siegel av., near the above, for $750. These lots are situated at Belleplain, about a mile and a half from East New York. Two lots of the Howard estate, on Alabama av., near Atlantic, were sold for $1,400. Mr. David J. Molloy sold ten lots at Belleplain for $325 each. The above sales were all made to persons who are to build immediately. There is no abatement to the great activity of building operations.

A. D. MELLICK, JR., & BRO. have recently sold at Cranford, N. J., a farm of 66 acres, belonging to John A. Dunham, to John T. Pierson, of Elizabeth, for $10,000; at Roselle, N. J., 10 acres, belonging to W. B. Martin, to James Richmond, of N. Y., for $3,000; at Roselle, lots 28, 29, and 30, block 26, Association map, to Chancellor I. L. Ferris, of N. Y., for $1,200.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The demand is certainly as good, if not better than last week; and though a large fleet of vessels is constantly passing to and fro between the yards, receivers are frequently at their wits' end to find enough stock to supply the pressing calls made upon them. All grades of common brick are wanted, good, bad, and indifferent finding a marke timmediately upon arrival, besides which many cargoes are engaged several days ahead, so anxious have buyers become to obtain a supply. The sales are still very general, but New York city is taking a very large share, in fact, almost up to an ordinary average. Of course, under this state of affairs, the larger dealers have a very decided advantage, and a material advance might reasonably be looked for. As present rates, however, already pay a fair profit, and there is no immediate danger of the supply running short, we notice a disposition to be as easy on builders as possible, in view of their long struggle against the eight-hour law and consequent losses, and thus far no improvement of importance has been insisted upon. Prices, however, are remarkably strong, and the few slight revisions made in our table of quotations are all in sellers' favor. A few very rough and poor lots occasionally come in, but taken as a whole the quality runs very good. Fronts of all kinds are also selling with freedom, but are somewhat irregular in price, particularly on Crotons. Good cargoes, however, may still be placed at about $20@$22, with small parcels at $24. Philadelphia fronts are wanted, and command full figures. Exports: 4,000 to British West Indies, and 3,000 to Central America.

CEMENT.—The local demand is active, rather better if any thing than last week, and though some of the yards are pretty well filled, manufacturers continue to sell well up to, and and sometimes in excess of, the production. For shipment coastwise there is a trifle less doing, but this outlet is still very fair, and some stock is taken on foreign account. Price strong at $1.75 for Rosendale. We notice exports to Cuba of 75 bbls.; and shipments to San Francisco of 1,097 bbls.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—Business begins to wear a more healthful tone in this market, and the dulness of the past two or three weeks has given way to quite a fair show of activity. The near-by country trade is very good. Southern orders of a desirable kind are coming in more freely, while the sales and contracts for local use make a comparatively liberal aggregate. Prices are no higher, but rule very firmly, and regular lists are adhered to more closely than of late. The stock and assortment are in most cases suited to present necessities.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—We hear of a continued good demand on local account for small lots of the regular manufactures of vitrified pipe, while shipping orders, if anything, rather increase, country dealers being a little anxious to fill up depleted stocks. Prices, as a rule are steady at previous ranges, and our table of quotations gives a fair idea of current values.

FOREIGN WOODS.—A very fair shipping demand is reported, and of a rather more general character, but the aggregate of business is not unusually large, and dealers seem dissatisfied with the prevailing state of affairs. The retail market is flat and rates nominally unchanged. The most recent auction sales of which we have any account are as follows: Nuevitas Mahogany 28 logs at 7½c. per foot; 33 logs at 8c. do.; and 29 logs at 10c. do.; 36 crotches Port-au-Platte Mahagony 42c.; 118 logs Nuevitas Cedar at 12¼c.; 93 logs do. 12¾c.; 24 logs Cuba Cedar 14¾c.; and 38 logs do. 15½c. A fine lot of Bahia Rosewood sent over from Liverpool was sold as follows: 7 logs, average 808 lbs., at $70.00 per log; 8 logs, average 883 lbs., at $85.00; 8 logs, average 1,020 lbs, at $57.00; 8 logs, average 710 lbs., at $52.50, and 6 logs, average 871 lbs., at $55.50. We also note 11 logs Bahia Rosewood, average 451 lbs., at $22.00; 11 logs, average 489 lbs., at $17.00; 12 logs, average 566 lbs., at $27.00; and 15 logs, average 503 lbs., at $17.00. The receipts reported since our last are as follows: From Mansanilla 1,138 pieces Granadilla wood; 80 do. Cedar; from Port-au-Platte 87 pieces

Mahogany; and from San Francisco 770 pieces Lignumvitæ. The exports are 100 logs Cedar to Liverpool; 571 pieces Lignumvitæ to British North American Colonies, and 52 logs mahogany to Oporto. From New Orleans 163 logs Cedar were shipped to Liverpool.

GLASS.—Window glass of all the smaller sizes continues in brisk request, and many buyers find it difficult to supply their wants so low has the available stock become reduced, and with prospective light arrivals no apparent signs of relief present themselves. A few desirable invoices are here, but they are mostly held in store by importers in view of anticipated increase in value as the season advances. Thus far prices show no improvement, but are remarkably strong and rather buoyant. The local trade appears to have temporarily slacked up, but the Western demand is good, with considerable shipments to the interior towns of this State.

HAIR.—We have no change to advise in the general range of prices, the market being a little unsettled on the common quality, but steady to firm on the finer grades. The demand is good, and though the present supply is pretty large, dealers will not probably be enabled to make any deductions of importance from ruling figures.

HARDWARE.—There has been quite an influx of Western buyers during the past week, and all kinds of builders' hardware has sold with freedom for shipment to the interior. Besides the above we note a continued good city trade, dealers generally appearing desirous of stocking up. The reduction in Door Knobs (D. M. & Co.'s) to which we referred some two weeks ago, has now been adopted by nearly all the other manufacturers. On cheap Mortice and Rim Locks there is an advance of about 20 per cent, but on locks with knobs, the seller gains no important advantage.

LABOR.—The bricklayers' strike cannot be called fully settled, but the state of affairs is now such that we can scarcely imagine what the workmen are holding out for. Mr. Conover, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Ross, Mr. Tosteven, and, in fact, all the largest contractors, against whom the spite of the strikers has been particularly directed, report an increasing number of ten-hour men in their employ, some being old hands and members of the Trade Union, while there is scarcely a member of the Master Masons' Association that is now without enough journeymen to carry on and complete the work in hand. So busy, in fact, have the employers become, that on Monday last it was unanimously resolved to pass over the regular Wednesday meeting and adjourn until Friday. About the only complaint now uttered, is against the continued interference of sulky workmen, who cannot give up the eight-hour bubble; but as the working operatives pay less and less attention to the threats and foolish arguments of the idle and dissaffected, it is thought that few, if any, ten-hour men can be induced to give up the jobs in hand. It having been reported that certain journeymen who came here from Canada had become disgusted, and returned, Mr. Ross at Monday's meeting of the Master Masons took occasion to say that the Canada men had not gone home: they were here, and he could say that the work was excellent. He thanked them and the Germans for coming out as they did, and he assured them they should be protected.

We find also that the "bosses" are employing boys or apprentices, without regard to the rules of the Bricklayers' Association, and intend to protect them against the assaults of the Society men. In other trades there is a restless spirit noticeable, though no new difficulties between employers and their workmen are reported. At Bent's Foundry in East Twenty-sixth street, the iron-moulders have been on a strike for nearly three months, but Mr. Bent has run his shop every day since the strike commenced, with non-society men only, has now nearly his full complement, and he intends to employ only such men in the future. He has suffered, he says, too much already by strikes during his twenty-four years in business, and he is now determined to stop it as far as he is able to do so. The workmen who left him have appointed a committee of three, at a salary of $19.00 per week each, to watch his foundry and "warn" all moulders against working there There has recently been a movement by the Carpenters and Joiners' Union to gather into its fold a large number of workmen, who have thus far held aloof from any connection with such associations, and in all cases proved themselves to be the most skilful and reliable workmen, obtaining full wages, and enjoying the free use of their money, as they had nothing to pay out in view of future strikes. The movement met with very little doubtful success, notwithstanding that at a special meeting some of the leading spirits in all the troubles between employers and their men, were engaged to deliver their hackneyed speeches upon the eight-hour subject, the "grasping power of money capital," etc., etc., one individual varying his address by calling those who had the independence to retain control over their own labor, "scabs" and thieves, and then coolly asking them to join the Protective (?) Union. If workmen really understood the dignity and value of labor as much as they pretend to, they would sever all connections with the Trade Unions, which, as they now exist, serve only to elevate the inferior mechanic at the expense of his more skilful fellow-craftsman, and entirely shut off the healthful competition for the highest market price that labor as an article of merchandise would always enjoy.

LATH.—A few of the city jobbers having run down their stocks pretty well, and all coming into the market together, caused quite a little activity at the close of last week, and drew out some buyers who had not intended to operate immediately, but fearful that the price would run up on them, they thought best to purchase. This, of course, gave receivers considerable advantage, and something like 4@5,000,000 lath changed hands on the spot, and to arrive, nearly all at$3.00. Since then the arrivals have not been very heavy; but dealers, in view of the above operations, are light purchasers, and receivers are willing, in fact a little anxious, to close out at $3.00, with every offer at $2.90 accepted, up to the present writing. This, however, is only on large parcels; lots of a few thousand each commanding even above our extreme figure. The shipments from the Eastward are very fair, and we have a a steady supply, which could be increased without much difficulty, did the state of the market require it.

LIME.—The arrivals of Rockland have been quite moderate, and quickly disposed of upon receipt at full former figures, sellers retaining all the advantage in view of the entire absence of any stock afloat, and a greatly reduced amount in the yards. Nothing definite is known in regard to the amount of stock on the way, but we understand that the kilns either have already resumed operations, or will do so at an early day, a good fall trade being anticipated, and manufacturers wishing to recover some of the losses during the late stagnation. Other styles of lime are in very good demand, and for the well-known brands there is a steady market, but common lots show considerable irregularity, and can occasionally be bought for comparatively low figures.

LUMBER.—We have nothing particularly new to advise in the retail market for Pine, &c., the demand being very fair, though not as active as could be expected under ordinary circumstances at this season of the year. Still, as the effects of the strike among the bricklayers begins to wear off, and building operations increase, trade must soon pick up, and sales will probably be pretty liberal from this time forward. Dealers insist upon former rates, as they have not been able to gain any important concession in the Albany market as yet, but many are apparently sanguine that the increasing supply at the above-named city must ultimately result in a decline, and have refrained from laying in winter stock to any extent. From all sections we hear of quite heavy supplies in transit, there being a strong desire to hurry everything possible through to tide water before the usual autumn advance in freights takes place. Considerable stock is coming down the river, but only a small proportion is on New York account, the bulk going along the coast, up the Sound, &c. For black walnut we hear of a very good local demand, and quite an active trade doing for export, a great many logs having been sold to go to Bremen, Hamburg, &c, prices in all cases showing much steadiness. At Albany, however, the stock has lately been accumulating quite rapidly, and, rather than pile up, dealers are offering to sell out large lots as they run, at some modification from previous prices, though selected and desirable lots are worth fully as much as before. The wholesale market continues firm on nearly all styles of lumber, and business, taken altogether, may be considered in a good healthy condition. The bulk of the operations are still with the home trade—shippers taking a little stock, to be sure, but nothing like their usual amount at this season. This is in a great measure accounted for by the fact that foreign orders are being largely supplied direct from the points of production, particularly from the St. Lawrence river—shipments from that section saving the duty, as well as several minor expenses. Of Eastern Spruce the receipts ta this port have been about equal to last week, but a large proportion was previously sold and did not come upon the market. For such cargoes as were offeredowners have experienced very little difficulty in finding customers, and parties anxious to make sure of stock are buying to arrive. Prices are stronger, and as we write rather working upward. It must be a very ordinary cargo that will not now exceed $20 00; the average run is quoted at $21.00 @ $22.00, and schedules of extra lengths, &c., would command close up to $23.00 per M. if such were to be found. Eastern Hemlock remains quiet and nominally at $13.50 @ 14.50 per M. White Pine is less active at present than for some time past, but in all cases we find a pretty confident tone, and holders insisting upon full prices. During several weeks box-makers and other local consumers have been stocking up pretty freely, and as their business is not brisk, they find supplies holding out pretty well, while shippers require only odd lots to fill out waste freight room, and are not contracting ahead of necessities. The whole range on inferior to good box boards, may be placed at $23.00@ $30.00, choice do. $33.00 @ $35.00, and mill timber $35.00.

Piling continues to come forward with some freedom, but as the demand is very fair, dealers manage to work off the bulk of the supply, and few if any lots are being rafted out. Prices steady, at 6½ @ 8½ for inferior to good, and 9c for prime, the latter about as high as anything would sell. Pickets are slow of sale and rather heavy at $11.00 @ $12.00 per M. Western White Oak is not very plenty, but the supply exceeds the demand and prices continue weak at about 44 @ 45c. per foot. Southern Yellow Pine has come in with less freedom, and the market from necessity ruled quiet, though the demand was good, and buyers in order to satisfy present wants are willing to pay full figures, say $34.00 @ $36.00 per M. The inquiry appears to be based entirely upon actual orders, no speculative operations being considered safe in view of the good supply of the Southern, and the probability that as cool weather approaches, freights will be more plenty and lower and the movement of stock to the Northward, quite liberal. Southern (Cypress) shingles continue very dull, and the supply rather increases. Prices are weak, and it is impossible to induce buyers to name a price above $20.00 for the most desirable sizes, and very few will go even as high as that. Eastern shingles rather plenty, and dull at $4,75 @ $5.00 per M. Cypress barrel staves are quoted at $30.00 @ $32.00 The reported sales since our last embrace about 1,000,000 feet Eastern Spruce at $20.50 @$22.00, 200,000 feet White Pine at $24.00 @ $32.00, 185,000 lfeet Yellow Pine at $34.00 per M. feet, 175,000 No. 1 Shingles at $4$7½ per M. and one or two lots Piling at 7½ @ 8½c. per foot.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

(Special Correspondent of REAL ESTATE RECORD.)

CHICAGO, August 17, 1868.

THE market certainly shows no improvement, and though it will hardly stand a further reduction, there is a lack of vim to business at the moment, and buyers can operate on comparatively liberal terms. The receipts continue free from all sections. Canadian lumber has arrived to a fair extent, and sold at $9.00, $16.00 and $35.00, according to grade. Hard wood lumber of all kinds in request and prices rather buoyant, shingles selling well, lath steady at $2.00 from vessel.

The cargo rates for hard wood lumber are as follows: black walnut $40@45; cherry $30@40; hickory $20@25; ash $20@23, and $18@22 for ordinary oak.

From other points in the West we have our usual advices, but glean nothing of special importance. Business in some sections was brisk, particularly at the larger shipping ports, and a firm tone noticeable on prices, but in one or two instances a pretty liberal accumulation of stock has enabled buyers to obtain some advantage. As a general thing, the impression seems to prevail that all the lumber produced this season will be required, and holders are unwilling to make any concession.

At Milwaukie "the anticipation of a movement in grain and a consequent scarcity of cars, has caused an active demand from interior buyers, and although prices by cargo have not appreciated, the market may be said to be firm."

The most recent cargo sales were 60 M. feet coarse common mixed at $11.50, 140 M. scantling and joist at $12.00; 65 M. feet 60 per cent. strips, balance mixed, at $13.50; 54 M. feet 50 per cent. strips, balance mixed, $14.80; 95 M. feet 60 percent. strips, balance mostly boards, $15.50; 270 M. feet mill run at $14.00@$14.50; 42 M. feet sawed timber 24 feet up at $17.00; and a lot of bill lumber at $25.00.

Our latest St. Louis report says:

Receipts by river during the past week have been exceedingly light, covering 650,000 feet only; and by rail 570,000 feet. Some considerable shipments of yellow pine come in by boats covering about 350,000 feet, as near as can be estimated. The market shows considerable life, and the demand is quite active, with very great firmness in prices, which are without quotable change. The amount offering is small, and is quickly taken at established rates. We hear of sale of 450,000 feet of Chippewa at $18 afloat. On the upper river better prices seem to rule, lumber selling at Dubuque at $17 to $17.50 afloat for Chippewa stock. Trade from yards continues good, and prices are without change.

East Mississippi, it is stated, has for the last three or four months been sending large shipments of pine lumber through Vicksburg to St. Louis, and it is estimated that the trade has already distributed in that section of the State over $100,000, besides paying to the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad freight bills to the amount of thirty thousand dollars.

The Eastern markets generally are pretty active, particularly at the points of production, and the stock is going out about as fast as it becomes merchantable. A very good shipping trade is doing coastwise, and considerable amounts go forward to the Indies, South America, &c. &c. Prices remain about as before, though with a good season for sawing out their abundant harvest of logs, millers will occasionally make some modification in favor of an A 1 customer. We understand, however, that shippers are rather disposed to exercise more caution in their transactions, particularly at this point, and agents have received instructions to post themselves thoroughly as to the responsibility of buyers before accepting bids. This feeling is engendered, in part, by current rates here which, considering the price at the mills, the greater ease in freights, and the large supply, are considered a trifle inflated. Nothing further reaches us in regard to the fires, and they have probably become greatly under control.

From the Southern markets we hear about the old story, viz.: A scarcity of vessels and not much shipping coastwise, except in a few exceptionable cases where dealers are well known at the North, and can obtain early advances on their consignments. Logs are comparatively plenty, but labor, and the means to carrying on the mills are scarce, preventing a rapid or heavy production.

Savannah quotations ars as follows:

Timber $8@$12 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$15 for small shipping do., and $14@$20 for large do. Lumber $20@$22 for ordinary sizes; $25@$30 for difficult sizes, and $22@$23 for flooring.

Charleston as follows:

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $25.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00 @25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6,00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@$12.00

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to Aug. 20, 1868, were 16,860,615 feet of lumber, of which 725,955 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 15,134,660 feet coastwise. Of the latter 477,698 feet were consigned to New York; 3,621,188 to Philadelphia; 2,555,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,783,106 to Rhode Island, and 1,032,065 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington prices were firm, but vessels did not offer freely and only few sales took place. Quotations as follows:

The Pensacola (Fla.) Observer, of the 11th, makes the following statement: We are told that the Conecuh and Escambia rivers, for a distance of two hundred miles, are literally jammed with saw-logs, belonging to the Pensacola Lumber Company, and destined for their mills at Molino. Experienced log men estimate the number at not less than 40,000, or about 9,000,000 feet.

The latest report of prices by the Pensacola Lumber Co. is as follows:

Lumber.—Boards 1x12 inches and upwards merchantable, 14 to $18 per M.

80 to 90, 13 to 15 cents per foot.
90 to 100 and upwards, 14 cents and upwards.

From Baltimore we have the following report:

There has been some improvement in the Lumber trade this week, and the demand for all descriptions of stock, except White Pine Boards and Cypress Shingles, has increased. There is quite an active demand for North Carolina Yellow Pine Boards.

Prices remained firm as follows:

METALS—Copper Sheathing steady and in very good retail demand, with one or two fair sales by manufacturers. Prices remain at 18 @ 20c for old, and 33c. for new. Scotch Pig Iron is selling with less freedom than last week, and the market has rather a dull tone; but as the supply still continues, small holders retain the advantage, and the market closes steady at $43.00 @ $45.00 per ton. No. 1 American has arrived in more liberal quantities, but with a number of heavy back contracts to fill, dealers do not allow stock to accumulate, and many think it will require at least a month of steady receipts to supply all demands. Prices of course are sustained, and we still quote at $40.00 @$42.00 for No. 1; $35.00 @ $38.00 for No. 2, and $33.00 @ 34.00 per ton for Forge. Bar Iron from store is less active, though generally held at full previous rates. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American, and English bar, $100.00 do. for refined do. $155.00 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; Scroll $130.00 @ $175.00 per ton; ovals and half round $125.00 @ $155.00 do., and rods ⅜ @ 3-16 inch $105.00 @ $165.00 do. Sheeet iron is in moderate request and steady at 5 @ 6¾c. for single D and T common; and 13 @ 14 gold, for Russia, assorted numbers. Pig Lead has been more active, the demand being mainly for foreign stock; but as the full particulars are kept secret, there is no means of knowing if prices underwent any important variation during the transactions. We quote, therefore, somewhat nominally at 6¾ @ 6¾c. gold. Pipe, Sheet and Bar Lead are selling slowly at the late modification in values. Tin in pigs is selling fairly at about 23⅝ @ 26¾c. gold per lb. according to quality. Tin Plates are very dull in a wholesale way, but not pressed for sale and in most cases held with confidence. The jobbing trade is good. Zinc is selling a little more rapidly and choice grades rule quite firm. The rate from store is 12½ @ 13¼c.

NAILS.—Having forced off a number of odd lots during the recent depression, and now finding their stocks in a better shape to handle, the agents of the various mills have advanced the price of cut nails to 5¼c. per lb. at wholesale for 4d and 6d, and retail rates have improved in proportion. The demand has been very good since the advance, and the market closes firm. Clinch are also better in sympathy, and we now quote at 6¾c. Other kinds are unchanged, and we still quote at 18c. for zinc; 26c. for yellow metal; and 40c. for copper. The exports are 215 pckgs. valued at $1,393; against 365 pckgs. velued at $3,106 last week. Shipments to San Francisco, 350 pckgs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—We find rather less activity in this market during the week, jobbers and consumers having become pretty well supplied for the present. Prices, however, are sustained, and our table of quotations for paints requires no alteration. White lead is becoming more plenty, and dealers are enabled to meet orders with comparative ease. Glue is in fair demand and firm, particularly prime to choice grades, of which the supply is still remarkably small. In linseed oil we note no variation, the supply and demand being about equal and neither buyer nor seller gaining any important advantage. The sales have been mostly in small lots, for local use and interior shipment. We still retain wholesale figures at $1.07@$1.08 in casks; and $1.09@$1.11 in bbls. The exports for the week are 34 pckgs. paint valued at $399; 71 bbls. varnish valued at $1,496: and 246 gallons linseed oil valued at $271.

PITCH.—Dealers complain of rather a dull trade during the past week, and some little heaviness in prices, though few if any are disposed to grant any further concessions in view of the present moderate arrivals. The light demand has been mostly local. We quote at $3.25@$3.37½ per bbl. for prime City. Receipts for week nothing. Exports for week 27 bbls. Since January 1st 2,290 bbls., and for some period last year 3,337 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—There is no important demand for lump at present, either on the spot or to arrive, manufacturers finding enough to do in taking care of previous purchases, which continue to come forward with freedom. White may may be quoted nominally at $4.25@$5.00 per ton. The receipts since our last are 1,270 tons. Calcined is a little more active, at $2.40 for Eastern, and $2.50 for City. We notice arrivals of 2,925 lbs. calcined from Hillsboro, N. B.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—The general market is quite dull at the present time, very few out-of-town orders being received and the local trade requiring only small job lots. Price lists remain about the same as heretofore, though occasionally dealers allow better discounts, and on lead pipe figures are reduced. An exception to the above state of affairs may be found in the market for wrought iron pipe, which is selling pretty freely and at full rates.

SLATE.—Prices remain steady and a very good trade is doing, though hardly so active as may be expected a week or two hence, the movement of stock from the yards making no perceptible reduction in the supply as yet. The receipts are still comparatively small from both Pennsylvania and Vermont, as the miners, though now nearly all at work again, have scarcely had an opportunity to recover the ground lost while the quarries were full of water. It is worthy of note, however, that among all the arrivals there is very little purple slate, and a scarcity of this color is anticipated the present season. This is accounted for by the fact that it requires deeper mining, and consequently greater expense, which the quarrymen are unwilling to undertake at ruling rates in the markets of consumption.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has been a very good business transacted, and a steady uniform market since our last report. The demand for shipment has been fair, and a full local trade was consummated, but the movements generally appeared devoid of speculative interest. The receipts show some falling off, though still very fair. We continue to quote at 44c.@45c. for wholesale lots; 46c. for New York bbls; and 46½c.@47c. for retail parcels. Receipts for week 1,365 bbls. Exports for week 1,454 bbls.; since January 1st 11,803 bbls., and same period last year 20,591 bbls.

STONE.—We find nothing of particular interest in this market since our last. The demand for freestone is quite active, many builders having substituted stone for brick in view of the troubles with the masons, while other styles meet with about the usual sale at this season. Prices are firm both for rough and dressed.

TAR.—The sales have been on a more moderate scale within the past few days and mostly in very small parcels. The supply, however, is much reduced, the arrivals moderate and sellers pretty firm at full previous rates. The business continues to be largely confined to consumers. We quote North County as it runs at $3.25@$3.75 per bbl.; Wilmington $3.75@$4.25 per bbl.; and choice do. $4.37½—all in order in yard. Receipts for week 163 bbls. Exports for week 35 bbls.; since January 1st 8,658 bbls., and for same period last year 3,180 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of August 25 reports as follows:

The receipts of lumber continue large and stock is accumulating upon the yards. There is a fine assortment in market.

The sales for the week have been good, and principally for present wants, without variation in price from our last week's quotations.

Shipments have been large, mostly to the East, New York and its vicinity.

Lake and canal freights are still low, but will not continue so long, and an advance will check the shipment of lumber.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the third week of August, were:

	Bds.&S'lg ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	15,582,100	1,925	.....	310,000
1867	13,742,500	2,186	4,752	575,600

Of the boards and scantling 12,017,770 feet were by the Erie, and 3,564,284 feet by the Champlain canal.

	Bds.&S'lg ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	251,213,600	28,688	60,486	18,925,800
867	199,456,800	16,196	4,752	19,025,700

STRONG AND CHEAP!!!

PATENT LEAD-ENCASED BLOCK TIN PIPE.

The only pipe in the market which combines all the requisites of a perfect Water Pipe, SANITARY, MECHANICAL, and ECONOMICAL.

SANITARY—for water flows through it as pure as if drawn through silver.

MECHANICAL—in strength, flexibility, durability, facility of bending, soldering, and making joints.

ECONOMICAL—as it costs by the foot about fifteen per cent. less than lead pipe of equal strength and calibre.

To furnish cost please give us the head or pressure of water, and bore of pipe.

REAL ESTATE.

The undersigned gives notice, that in compliance with numerous applications, he has been induced to resume the SELLING OF REAL ESTATE, AT AUCTION AND AT PRIVATE SALE, IN ADDITION TO HIS REGULAR SALES OF STOCKS AND BONDS, and is now fully prepared to receive orders. Executors, Administrators, Referees and others wishing to sell real or personal property at public auction or private sale, will find my terms as liberal as those of any responsible and first-class auction house, and no charges will be made except the actual disbursements for advertising, printing, &c., unless sales are consummated.

☞ OWNERS OF REAL ESTATE, of every description, are respectfully solicited to send a memorandum, with details in full, of property for sale, in order that sales may be effected promptly, through the influence of our house.

I take this occasion to return my grateful acknowledgments for the generous patronage extended to me during a business career of the past SEVENTEEN YEARS, and trust, by strict attention to the various branches of my business, to merit a continuance of the same.

NECESSITY OF MARSH DRAINAGE.

THIS city is surrounded by a line of marshes, the drainage of which the necessities of its increasing population will in a very few years eventuate. Whatever fancied disadvantages the proximity to a great city may entail on those fond of the felicity of rural quiet, yet the benefits received in many instances immeasurably counterbalance the woes they bring. The price of living and rents may be enhanced, and the rowdyism always found on those selvages of municipal civilization, the suburbs, may prevail to an annoying extent, but, with the lapse of time, even these evils are mitigated. When the Metropolitan Police Department embraces it in its jurisdiction, order is restored, railroads help to populate, and population instinctively seek the preservation of life in local improvements conducive to health and happiness. The New Jersey marshes are being drained and utilized, and Westchester County, which has been sorely afflicted with bad drainage, is turning its attention to eradicate this evil. Remedies on a liberal scale have been devised, and are now to be practically applied without much regard to cost. The property owners have become awakened to the fact, that without a thorough drainage of the lands people will not be persuaded to risk the dangers of fever and ague. Many of the towns most readily accessible on the lines of railroads have commenced to open passages for drains, and means have been adopted to drain all the boggy patches. From these improvements, arising from the activity of the inhabitants, admirable results may be expected. Country residences will be in more demand, and the price of real estate will be advanced. There has been no part of the suburbs more neglected than portions of Westchester County, and it is full time that wholesome changes should be made with earnestness and vigor. It lies in the direct path of the growth of the city, and real estate owners should be prescient enough to smooth that path by giving more of their attention to local improvements.

The subject is one of sufficient importance to demand State legislation, and liberal appropriations ought to be made for the purpose, the same as the Papal Government has done for the drainage of the Pontine marshes. The Board of Health may find sufficient work for its energies and sanitary purposes in securing the freedom of the city from fevers and agues by procuring the drainage of the marshes on Staten, Long, and Coney Islands, such as those of Bay Ridge, Fort Hamilton, and New Rochelle. Private efforts are generally induced by private interest, and these are of limited extent, but a Committee on Drainage of the State Legislature, such as those on Canals and Railroads, if honest, earnest, and conscientious in purpose, will do more in this matter than any associations of property owners, as in many cases the improvements will have to be made under compulsion. We recommend the inhabitants of Williamsburg and Hoboken to induce their representatives to present a proposition for a Legislative Committee of this sort, as some of the houses in the suburbs of these localities are situated in the midst of oozing, slimy swamps, the veriest stronghold of miasmatic fevers. In addition to the evils suffered by those residing in them or their vicinity, the health of this city is also affected, as these swampy grounds taint the atmosphere with the miasmatic vapor arising from them, and every breeze wafted over them to this city is impregnated with disease.

THE GREENBACK AGITATION AND REAL ESTATE.

IT is foreign to the purpose of a journal such as this to discuss national questions, but there is one view of the bond and greenback controversy which has a direct bearing upon the future price of real estate, not only in this city, but all over the country. If the greenback party should succeed, the effect would undoubtedly be to enhance the apparent value of real estate. If it should be eventually decided that the bonds must be paid, principal and interest in gold, then government securities would become the most desirable investment in the country, because the most profitable, safest, and most easily convertible into money. Surplus wealth would all seek that channel to the exclusion of real estate and general business.

Should, however, the semi-repudiation party succeed, and should Congress agree to tax the bonds, to pay them in greenbacks when due, and to increase the issues so as to lower the intrinsic value of the lawful money—then capital will avoid government securities, they will become less desirable investments than they are now, and the surplus wealth of the country will be put into real estate, improved and unimproved. The estates of widows and orphans, and of cautious, timid investors, will seek property that there can be no doubt about, and which cannot be confiscated or got rid of by act of Congress.

Of course, no good citizen, who has the good of his country at heart, can afford to rejoice at what is really national dishonor. Disguise it as we may, a nation whose pecuniary obligations are discredited in any way is in disgrace, and the premium on gold is the measure of our financial shame. The true national ideal is—our credit as far above suspicion as the virtue of our sisters and wives. The discount upon our public securities hurts us in ten thousand ways, and all who have really the well-being of the nation at heart must hope to see the day when our pecuniary obligations will be in better credit than those of any nation on earth.

At the same time it is well to consider the compensations which even national discredit will involve. It will direct capital from non-productive into productive channels, and real property—that is, lands and houses—will become more and more desirable for permanent investments.

THE recent verdict of the jury in Westchester county, in the trial of four members of the Morrisania Union for conspiracy, though it only be constructive, ought to teach a lesson to those men who are now engaged in the bricklayers' strike, that, while there is law to protect them, there is also the strong hand and verdict of a jury of their peers to admonish and restrain them, and teach them the supremacy of law, especially where violence is threatened and a man's sustenance and that of a large family is denied him by fear of personal violence. Union and organization of labor are proper to secure the legitimate fruits of such labor; but where they go beyond that, and seek to dictate objects which must be repulsive to every man of honor and self-respect, nature revolts, and opposes every such attempt.

Suppose the employers should band themselves and declare that no man should be employed by them who either used tobacco or drank rum, or who did not go to church on Sunday, and perhaps to a prayer-meeting during the week. Such dictation of a man's private duties or his private rights would be scouted down, and receive the merited scorn of every good citizen.

The trouble is, and it is also one reason why the legislation of our day is so much denounced, the tendency on the part of these organizations, as it has also characterized our legislators, is to interfere with, and regulate and control the private and domestic rights of individuals; and these very Unions of the laboring men of the country have by their actions and their efforts given encouragement and justification to the acts of those men who in legislative capacities have enacted laws not for the benefit of communities or States, but for themselves and the party to which they may chance to belong. It is to be hoped that the mechanics of every trade will see the effects produced upon the country by the injudicious action of a few of them, and, learning wisdom from from the past, strive only to preserve a healthy and legitimate condition of labor, and not seek by dictatorial opposition or violence, or threats of violence, to regulate that which has thus far only resulted in injury to themselves and families.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Travellers complain that our architecture is too uniform and monotonous in design. Successive miles of houses, all of the same color and plan, all with the same rectangular holes cut in their expressionless fronts, and either staring with glazed panes of precisely the same pattern, or shaded by green blinds of exactly the same hue, give a terrible sense of weariness to the beholder. With our broad and well-planned streets, we ought to have the handsomest city in the world, and our architects ought to try and be a little more diversified in their plans for private as well as public buildings.

The principal event of the week has been the inspection of Trow's buildings. The Deputy-Superintendent of Buildings having ordered a Board of Inspectors to examine and report 46, 48 and 50 Geeene street, have made their report, in which they state that the combined weight on the several floors of the building amounts to about 235 tons:—viz., 1st and 2d floors, 20 tons each; 3d floor, 100 tons; 4th floor, 60 tons; 5th floor, 35 tons. They state that the iron columns in the basement are out of plumb, from ¼ inch to an inch; in 1st, 2d and 3d stories, the wooden columns are badly sprung, some of them being bent 1½ inch out of plumb. The tier of columns at the southern side of the building is the worst, but the settling, in their opinion, is due more to some defect in the foundation than to the excessive weight placed upon them.

Dr. Harris, of the Board of Health, has taken the question of providing water-closets for working-girls in hand with an energy which promises a very prompt abatement of the nuisance. The attention of the Board of Health has been called to the shameful neglect of many large manufacturing firms of this city in not providing proper water closet accommodations for the females in their employ. Several of the leading establishments hove received official visits, and been notified that a failure to comply with the health laws of the city will be attended with stringent measures to force obedience to them.

GOSSIP.—CITY.

A number of Episcopal churches in New York are now undergoing extensive repairs. Two of them in the upper part of the Nineteenth Ward, are said to be making alterations with a view for the introduction of boy choirs. The enlargement of St. John's, in Varick street, progresses very slowly, owing to the bricklayers' strike....Harlem has but few mosquitoes as yet, which is strange, considering that it has so much marsh and stagnant water....It may have been observed that, for the last two summers, damp, green mould has commonly taken possession of the area walls and steps of houses. Doubtless this is owing to the abnormal state of the atmosphere, and is, in fact, one of the results of the vagrant Gulf Stream....During the summer Steinway Hall has been elegantly frescoed, and now presents a most attractive appearance, a welcome improvement upon its former cold and ghastly livery.... Sixty blocks in the city of New York are occupied by slaughter-houses, fat melting establishments, &c....At Reade street, the laying of the Broadway pavement will be suspended, and continued in Canal street ...There is no concrete foundation between Reade and Canal over which to lay the pavement....In Greenwich street, near Battery Place, a number of huge mill-stones are piled up against a dead wall, on which their weight must make some impression. That kind of property is safe, even in Greenwich street, when left lying out in the open air....Worth street, east of Broadway, is so lumbered up with immense packing-cases that the sidewalks are in a state of barricade....A dock is about to be built at the eastern point of the Battery, and that is given as a reason for suspending the work of the sea-wall in that direction. But why doesn't the work of the dock go on?... Cedar street, west, has a great number of ricketty rookeries, some of which are distinguished with the term "hotel"....Staple street, running from Duane to Harrison, has more clothes hung out in it to-day, in proportion to its length, than any other street in the city. It has also a good deal of miasma ... On the few grassy spots left on the Battery now, a number of rough characters may be seen lying asleep at all hours, while on the space where grass has ceased to grow, a number of rats may be seen lying dead at all hours. None of the creatures are pleasant to contemplate....One of the oldest burial-grounds in New York is in the New Bowery, near Chatham square. It is elevated far above the street, and seems quite out of character with so live a locality....The old Walton House in Pearl street, one of the few relics of Colonial times now remaining in New York, bears the heavy traces of time upon its face. The front wall is visibly bulging, and there is a tinge of prophetic sadness in the expression of the gargoyles that still remain over some of the windows....Some enterprising gentlemen have purchased seventeen acres of the Camden Meadows on the Cooper's Creek side of the city....The site of the First Universalist Meeting-house of Providence, R. I., is to become the site of a dry goods establishment, if Mr. A. T. Stewart, of this city, can obtain possession.... The Messrs. Harpers, publishers, propose to build a fine residence at Sands Point, L. I....Mr. Herman Eggers has sold a lot, 50x105 feet, on Fifth avenue, Yonkers, N. Y., to Mr. John Frey, for $2,250....The use of machinery for hoisting bricks, mortar, &c., on to buildings in the course of erection, has considerably increased since the strike of the bricklayers. One of them, recently introduced on a new building near Canal street, gives the following effective saving: Twelve men loading dummy with hods of brick, and removing the same when hoisted, can in eight hours place 2,880 hods at the top of the building; the same number of men, in the same time, can carry up 1,152 hods. A saving which either reduces the number of laborers nearly two-thirds, or gives employment to so many more bricklayers....That ancient temple of justice, the Tombs, around whose sepulchral, grim, gray granite walls a fearful gloominess has hung for a long time, is about to undergo a thorough rejuvenation. Scaffoldings now encircle its huge pillars and outer walls, and masons, plasterers, carpenters, and painters are busy giving it a more presentable outer appearance.... Mr. P. S. Weaver, a merchant of this city, proposes to buy the Spring House at Richfield Springs. He has offered $95,000 for the property... A negotiation is at present going on for the sale of the old Quarantine grounds by private contract, and $250,000 has been stated as the price to be paid by the purchasers. The property has been valued as high as a million dollars if quarantine were entirely removed from the locality....A gentleman is surrounding his grounds on the Hudson with a fence to cost $10,000....Cyrus W. Field will buy a farm on the Hudson....Mr. Horace Greeley has bought a splendid garden farm of Sackett Benham, in Hamden, Ct., for $5,000. ....From January 1 to July 1 the Labor Exchange procured employment for 12,951 emigrants, to wit.: 7,111 males, 5,840 females. Of the males, 1,180 were mechanics, 5,931 agricultural and common laborers; of the females, 294 were skilled laborers (seamstresses, cooks, laundresses, &c.), and 5,546 were common house-servants. Of the emigrants employed by the instrumentality of this institution, 9,425 could read and write, to wit.: 5,635 males, 3,790 females; 3,526 could not read and write, to wit.: 1,476 males, 2,050 females. Among the emigrants provided with employment were 254 entire families, comprising 721 persons.

DOMESTIC.

The large wooden spire of St. Peter's Church, New Brighton, is about being removed, to give place to a more elegant and substantial structure.... The beautiful village of Rochelle, on the line of the New Jersey Central Railroad, about two miles beyond Elizabeth, is growing rapidly. Several warehouses were built during the summer, and some public improvements are in progress that will greatly increase the convenience of the inhabitants.....Sales are daily effected by the real estate agents at Hunter's Point, L. I. A few days since Mr. Annable sold a plot of 800 feet on Newtown Creek for $20,000, to be built upon immediately. Mr. Annable, since the 1st of June, has sold $100,000 worth of property in the same vicinity, all of which will be immediately improved....Darius Lyon, Esq., late Sheriff of Westchester County, has just purchased a block of frame buildings and a lumber-yard, adjoining the bridge at Rye Neck, N. Y., from Joshua R. Purdy, for $20,000....The fund left by Mr. Abbott Lawrence to furnish dwellings for the poor of Boston, Mass., is wisely administered, and eminently useful. But after all, the supply of such accommodations is wholly inadequate to the demand....Property on Mill Hill, N. J., has increased in value 50 per cent. during the past few years....Forty-four lots on the Orange Mountain, near Llewellyn Park, N. J., were sold for St. John's Church of Orange, for $26,000—double the cost a year ago. Mr. Thomas McKirgan has sold his property, embracing 10 acres on the Elizabeth road, a short distance below its junction with Elizabeth av., for $86,000....One estate in Louisiana, with some 3,000 acres of the choicest land, recently sold for $23,000, while the dwelling-house and sugar-mill alone cost more than $:20,000 ...The "Ice Pond" at New Rochelle, will soon be among the things that were, John Stephenson, Esq., the coach and car builder, having purchased the entire property and commenced to drain off the water. All the low lands in that locality are also to be thoroughly drained ...Colonel Ferry has made a liberal offer of land to the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad for a depot and machine works, provided the company will make Ferrysburgh, Mich., their shipping station for Milwaukee....A new railroad, leading directly to Philadelphia in one direction, and New York in the other, is now brought before the public. The projectors of the enterprise suggest a point of beginning at or near Jenkintown, on the old York road, from which the road will run in a north or north-east direction by way of Huntingdon Valley, Davisville, Jacksonville, Centreville, and Lahaska, to the Delaware a short distance above New Hope. It is said that an easy connection could be made with Flemington, and thence by the New Jersey Central direct to New York....A number of wealthy gentlemen residing at Bronxville and vicinity, have commenced a movement in favor of the erection of a commodious and elegant depot of white marble, embracing all the modern conveniences for the accommodation of passengers who daily depart from and arrive at the Bronxville station of the Harlem Railroad....Five weeks have elapsed since the great flood at Baltimore. The premises that were damaged have been restored to almost as good a condition as they were before the inundation. About 450 carts, with horses and drivers, and some 600 scrapers, have been employed in removing the mud from the streets. About 65,000 cartloads have been removed, and $35.606 40 expended for this work and for deodorizers.

A new hotel is to be built at Cape May with a frontage on Perry street of 550 feet, and to be four stories high. Accommodations for one thousand guests....A new bridge across the Androscoggin at Bethel, Me., is now building, and bids fair to be one of the finest structures in the State. ....East Tennessee marble is becoming an important item. ....Government has purchased twenty acres additional ground for the military barracks near Omaha, and contracted for the buildings at $117,000, to be completed this year....The Directors of the Harlem River and Port Chester Railroad held a meeting Tuesday, Aug. 26th, when reports of a very gratifying character were made relative to the friendly feeling manifested by property owners along the line of the proposed road, in most instances the right of way being most cheerfully conceded....A census of Nashville, taken by the Metropolitan Police department, states the white population of the city at 19,939 and the colored at 3,365; total, 22,304. There are 1,955 brick, 9 stone, and 1,806 frame buildings, Of the tenement rooms 10,832 are reported as well ventilated and 2,789 as insufficientiy so; none are classed as filthy. There are 845 mercantile houses and 204 mechanical shops of greater or less extent. The report enumerates 17 school-houses, 87 churches, 8 hotels, and 2 hospitals. In 1860 the white inhabitants numbered 13,043, and the colored 3,945, of whom 3,226 were slaves....The projected bridge across the Delaware, between Philadelphia and Camden, as designed by Mr. Thomas S. Speakman, engineer, will be a beautiful structure, forming one complete arch for a distance of about four thousand feet, and terminating at Front street in each city, and of a sufficient height to allow of the passage of all vessels, except those of the largest dimensions, which are to pass through the draws. The bridge will comprise three spans, independent of the approaches, each span being about a thousand feet in length. There will be one pier on the Philadelphia side, three on the bar (for the drawbridge), one in the eastern channel, and one on the Camden side. The flooring of the bridge will be 50 feet above high water on the Philidelphia side, 95 feet on the drawbridge, 120 feet in the centre, and 50 feet on the Camden side. This will be of sufficient height to allow the largest steamboats to pass under it, at the wharves. The proposed drawbridge is quite a novelty. There will be two draws, formed in the shape of a fork, the draws being 400 feet apart. When the draw on one side is open the other is closed, so that there need be no obstruction to travel across the bridge. The space between the centre and two outer piers forming this portion of the bridge can be converted into twenty rooms, each 125 feet long, 40 feet wide, and 15 feet in height. The upper rooms can be used for meetings, amusements, or public baths, and the lower rooms for swimming in summer or skating in winter. It is estimated that the cost of a structure such as is described above, will be $2,000,000.

FOREIGN.

THE celebrated marble quarries of Carrara, Italy, yielded in the years 1863, 1864 and 1865, 126,928 tons of marble. The annual produce amounts to about $20,000,000, and 2,238 persons are constantly employed. Near Volterra there are twenty-two alabaster quarries, yielding annually about 500 tons....The city of Frankfort is in treaty to purchase the winter gardens of the Bieberich estate from Duke Adolph of Nassau for the sum of $30,000.....A very enterprisiug Italian is getting up a company to reclaim and cultivate the Desert of Sahara, by digging artesian wells in the sand....The Free Labor Registration Society of England reports, as results of the past six months' labor, that permanent employment has been provided for upwards of one thousand workmen in various trades, "thus showing an average of more than £150,000 a year as wages obtained for members;" and the Society has enrolled on its books the names, ages, and references as to character and ability of more than fourteen thousand non-union workmen. The chief aims of the Society are conciliation and arbitration in cases of difficulty between employers and employed....The finest house in London is the Dorchester House, situated in Park Lane. It is one of the most beautiful, internally, in the English metropolis. The owner, Mr. Holford, the Court Journal tells us, has made it a special study for many years to make Dorchester House vie in substantial splendor, and interior beauty, with any residence in London. Externally the building is a well-known architectural feature of the locality, and attracts attention by its grandeur and withal elegant simplicity. It is in style Italian of the fifteenth century, from designs by Vulliamy. On the north and west sides of the house are terraces, with stone balustrades, etc., laid out to harmonize with the architectural style of the building. Internally, the same unostentatious character is also preserved. The entrance hall is plain and massive, and has four solid pillars, supporting an arched and groined roof. This opens into the staircase hall, which is one of the great internal attractions of the house. The steps, landings, and balustrades are of solid white Italian marble; the balusters are of colored alabaster, and the walls are lined with Spanish, Flemish, and Italian marbles of various colors. The columns and pilasters, amounting to more than ninety, are of single pieces of white Italian (Ravacioni) marble, with Parian capitals. On the ground story the columns are of polished Aberdeen granite. The arches and cornices over the upper columns are of solid Italian marble. The lower floor of the staircase hall is formed of inlaid marbles in patterns. Off the vestibule, at the stairs, there is a recessed room, the walls and ceilings of which are ornamented with painted decorations, in imitation of the Pompeian rooms. The splendid suite of reception rooms are, as usual, on the first story. They are decorated and finished in a style of chaste magnificence; the ceilings are painted by Italian and English artists, and these, together with the cornices, architraves and mouldings, are in part gilt. There are three drawing rooms, the walls of which are hung with silk damask; the first have red, the second green, and the third crimson. The floors of these rooms are in parquecterie, and formed of inlaid woods. The decorations of the dining hall are not yet completed, but it promises to be the largest and most beautiful saloon of the kind in the kingdom.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The steady heavy deliveries of stock during the past two or three weeks have finally pretty well supplied all the back orders, and enabled the retail yards to fill up to a fair extent, and, as the receipts continue quite liberal, we begin to notice some accumulation of hard bricks at the various receiving depots. The demand, however, is still sufficient to keep up a very fair show of business, and prices remain about as before, buyers paying full rates all the more readily in view of the many favors recently shown them by the principal wholesale dealers. Taken as a whole, the market is now in a good, healthy, uniform state, with no particular advantage accruing to either buyer or seller. As an instance of the eagerness of builders to secure a supply during the recent activity, we note the delivery by a prominent firm during one day of 1,100,000 bricks, all at extreme prices, and more could readily have been disposed of had not the supply become temporarily exhausted. From the yards up the river we hear of continued activity in the production, manufacturers being anxious to improve every moment of the fine weather, and, with the lull in the demand at this point, the supply again begins to pile up. We are positively assured, by parties fully posted on such matters, that the quantity of hard brick now ready for market is in excess of anything ever before known, and, with no serious interruption to work until the appearance of frost, it is hardly possible that higher prices will be established. Manufacturers have done remarkably well this season, all things considered, and they can well afford to sell at current values, if not at a still lower range. With the exception of the usual job lots of inferior and rough stock, the quality continues to keep up to a good average standard. The demand for fronts has either been met in a great measure by deliveries, or by contracts for parcels to arrive at an early day, and the market has a less animated tone, though not dull by any means. We understand that the movement to advance Crotons on the 15th ult. was not general, and that some dealers are still selling as low as $18 by the cargo. but during the present week all have expressed a determination to ask an improvement of $2 per M during the next thirty days. Philadelphia fronts are firm and selling well. We note exports of 10,000 bricks to British Honduras, 1,500 to Cuba, and 5,000 to New Granada.

CEMENT.—The inquiry for Rosendale appears to meet with no interruption, all the companies working full up to their facilities, and disposing of stock as fast as it becomes merchantable. The standard price remains at $1.75 per bbl., delivered here, some brands having a preference as usual, but at the moment buyers do not discriminate very closely so that they obtain a supply. Local jobbers and consumers are still very free operators, but the supplies along the coast are beginning to run low, and orders for shipment rather increase. We notice exports of 200 bbls to British North American Colonies; 20 bbls. to Cuba, and 6 bbls to Mexico.

CUT NAILS.—The demand for cut nails has fallen materially during the week, both on local account and for shipment, the recent advance having a tendency to induce more caution on the part of buyers. A few parcels, however, still find an outlet, and prices remain steady at 5¼c. for 4d. and 6d. Clinch are in fair request and steady at 6¾c. For other styles, there appears to be a little more inquiry at full rates, viz.: Zinc, 18c.; yellow metal 26c.; and copper, 40c. The exports are 127 pckgs. valued at $936, against 215 pckgs. valued at $1,393 last week.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—Aside from a slight increase in the demand, both local and shipping, we hear of nothing new since our last. The ruling scale of prices affords manufacturers a pretty fair margin for profit, and they are unwilling to risk checking the inquiry by asking any material advance. Quotations, therefore, remain about as before, but very firm. The foreign trade is very small, and in most cases only on positive orders.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—There is not much heavy contract work at the moment, but the usual retail demand from masons, plumbers, &c., is good, while for shipment there is a goodly amount of stock selling. Prices are unchanged but quite firm, and manufacturers are less inclined to shade in favor of the buyer, except on extra heavy orders.

FIRE BRICK.—The demand is good from all quarters, and the sales liberal. Prices unchanged, as manufacturers keep the market well supplied, and sellers gain no important advantage.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There has been a trifle more stock selling from store, but not enough to afford dealers much encouragement, and the feeling is still unsettled and nominal. The wholesale market is less active, and not over strong, shippers being unable to find the goods desired, and withdrawing to await further arrivals. The most recent auction sales embrace the following: Cuba Mahogany 60 logs at 8c.; 35 logs at 8¼c.; Mansanilla mahogany 6 logs at 13½c.; Nuevitas mahogany 27 logs at 9½c.; St. Domingo mahogany 60 crotches at 19c.; and 27 do. at 39c. Mansanilla cedar 50 logs at 15c.; and 38 do, at 15¼c. Bahia rosewood 9 logs average 715 lbs. at $29.00 per log; 9 logs average 476 lbs. at $14.00; 9 logs average 629 lbs. at $28.00; 12 logs average 682 lbs. at $23.50; 10 logs average 726 lbs. at $40.00; 9 logs average 580 lbs. at $36.00; 9 logs average 685 lbs. at $29.50, and 7 logs average 636 lbs. at $35.00. The receipts reported since our last are as follows: From Liverpool 227 pieces boxwood, and 20 pieces lignumvitae; from Tobasco 148 pieces and 25 logs mahogany. The exports are 112 pieces lignumvitae, and 85 logs mahogany to Gibraltar; and 146 crotches mahogany to Genoa.

GLASS.—We still find an active demand for French window glass of nearly all grades, but, as heretofore, the small sizes are in special request, and the few parcels of desirable stock now here are so well concentrated that owners prefer holding them out of the market for the present. The receipts are not adequate to the wants of trade, and it is thought that but little will come forward, the season having advanced too far to admit of manufacturers producing enough to afford any relief. Prices are firm, and if anything a trifle better, choice lots seldom exceeding 47½ per cent. discount, and in some cases not more than 45c. per cent. is allowed. The demand is good from all local sources, and increases from the State and the West. We also notice the presence of a number of Southern dealers, and as they bring the cash for the goods, they help deplete our stock. The sizes most in request, and which have became scarce, are 9x12; 9x13; 10x14; 10x16, and old 14 inch stock.

HAIR.—A continued steady demand during the past three or four weeks has made serious inroads upon the accumulated stock of marketable goods, and the supply of all kinds in the hands of the principal dealers is now comparatively light. Jobbers, however, having pretty well stocked up, there is some check to the activity, and with favorable weather for drying, there will be enough prepared for all wants. Prices are steady, and our quotations remain as before.

HARDWARE.—The demand continues good for the various styles of builders' hardware, and dealers generally are selling at full previous rates. The supplies in most cases are ample for immediate wants, but not excessive.

LABOR.—The strike of the bricklayers still continues but having about exhausted all the pros and cons upon the subject, in previous editions, we have little of interest to advise. The case of Mr. Dawson against the Morrisania Bricklayers' Association has been the main topic during the week, but the particulars of the trial and verdict are two well known by this time to warrant a repetition here. The following communication, however, addressed to the editor of the Sun, is worthy of perusal.

SIR:—In your report of the recent trial of the bricklayers of Morrisania, on a charge of conspiracy for obstructing trade by preventing my son from working at his trade unless the agreement should be first submitted to them for their approval, you were pleased to say: "Through the inducements of the master masons of New York, Mr. Dawson and Mr. Dunham pursued the success thus gained [in the civil action which was instituted and carried to judgment] by a criminal prosecution for conspiracy."

Permit me to say, in reply, that neither Mr. Dunham nor the master masons of New York had any hand in the prosecution, civil or criminal, except as witnesses; and that the only "inducement" I had in either case, was to vindicate my right to make a bargain and to fulfil it, without the unasked and undesired interference of a hundred of my townsmen, the greater number of whom I had never seen or heard of.

Had I desired any other "inducement" I could have found it in the duty of every citizen to resist the wilful violation of the written law of the State, whenever such a violation shall be attempted, either by bricklayers or any other persons.

Sincerely yours, HENRY B. DAWSON.

MORRISANIA, N. Y., Aug. 28.

The master masons continue to report progress, nearly every day bringing in additional ten hour men, and a large proportion than heretofore of "front" workmen. As far as the question of time is concerned the "bosses" are successful, but they are still contending against the forcible interference of society men with those who choose to work ten hours and receive a proportionate salary. Apprentices are taken by all who feel so disposed, and the approval of the Trade Union not solicited or considered in any manner worth attention.

LATH.—The amount of business doing in this market has again been pretty large, but with only a very slight, if any advantage in sellers' favor, the great bulk of the transactions taking place at, $3 per M, nothing in excess of this figure from vessel being asked. The demand has been entirely from city and near-by jobbers, who have about exhausted the offerings, though it must be remembered that a very large proportion of the recent arrivals do not appear upon the market, having been previously sold in transit. The prospect of a pretty liberal supply for some time to come appears at the moment to be good, manufacturers having taken advantage of the recent large offering of vessels and low rates of freight to forward about everything immediately available, though it is said that no further important shipments will be made until the returns from those now seeking a market are obtained. The production is also reported as daily growing smaller, owing to a scarcity of water at the mills, the relief afforded by the recent rains being only temporary. Still we do not see any reason at present to anticipate a dearth, as the stock already sold and that to come in will probably supply the major part of the fall demand, and fresh wants can be met by supplies turned out by such mills as are not entirely destitute of water, and those running with steam power. Neither should prices advance—as they undoubtedly will with a short supply—for at $3 per M, manufacturers have a good fair margin for profit, and at this rate trade can be made to move along steadily until the close of the season. As we conclude this report the offerings are quite liberal, and holders rather anxious to find a market for the cargoes coming in upon them, but no important concessions are made, and buyers refuse to operate. The sales for the week foot up about 6,300,000, at $2.90@$3, mostly at the outside figure.

LIME.—The demand continues good; some jobbers have become almost destitute of stock, and the market in consequence is extremely firm. One or two parcels Rockland received, were quickly disposed of at $1.50 per bbl., for common, and this is still the nominal rate, though there will undoubtedly be a change, with fresh arrivals. Very little information is vouchsafed by those who should be posted, upon the probable amount of receipts during the next month or two, but appearances indicate that our market will be better stocked ere long, particularly since prices have advanced to a figure which gives manufacturers a margin for profit. The lime coming in from other directions is not eagerly sought after, but during the present scarcity of Rockland, buyers sometimes find it necessary to put up with anything they can get, and hence dealers in outside brands have an advantage, frequently selling at outside quotations.

LUMBER.—The amount of business doing at the yards shows no increase, though in most cases dealers state that they are selling to a very fair extent in jobbing parcels, and realizing full previous figures. In some cases considerable activity is caused by the wants of builders, who are now calling for stock contracted for early in the season, but which they were unable to use until the present time, but nothing fresh is ordered. The interior shipping demand is not as brisk as noted by us some two or three weeks ago, but there is still considerable inquiry for black walnut on foreign account, and the assortment suited to this trade being ample, the sales are free. From what we can learn, the receipts from up the river are not liberal, most of the cargoes coming this way either passing on to the eastward or down the coast. Some New York buyers have visited Albany, and "looked around," and the result of their looking is, that they still refrain from purchasing to any extent. The receipts at that point are very large, and all grades of lumber begin to accumulate pretty freely, some very fine parcels being among the arrivals. No actual concessions were named by dealers, but signs of wavering began to be perceptible, and it is not probable that if buyers were inclined to operate, they would be compelled to pay full former rates, particularly on large lines. As soon as stock becomes so plenty that it will be necessary to pile out or sell, we may expect to hear of more trade, for many lots will undoubtedly be offered low enough to induce our city dealers to operate. The wholesale market is hardly so active as past week, and the strong and rather buoyant tone then noticeable has partially disappeared. Our local dealers are buying to a fair extent, but there is almost nothing doing for shipment, and it requires more pressing to induce buyers to negotiate on cargoes. Eastern spruce not being unusually plenty, but the arrivals show some increase, and as the rumored shipments in this direction are large, receivers seem a little anxious to sell out stock about as fast as it comes to hand. This, of course, gives buyers the advantage, and though no actual decline can be quoted, better schedules can be bought at inside rates than last week. The sales to arrive show some falling off, as present appearances indicate more favorable terms, and buyers prefer taking the chances. As we write, the figures stand at $20@$23 per M, but the latter is the extreme outside rate, and only to be obtained on first-class specifications. Canadian spruce is arriving quite freely, and the offerings are liberal at lower prices, the market closing somewhat unsettled, but, if anything, rather in buyer's favor. We hear of sales of several cargoes boards and planks, 1, 1¼, and 2 inch., at $18@$19. The falling off in the demand for white pine, to which we referred last week, is still more apparent at the present time, and as cargoes keep dropping in from day to day, the supply begins to accumulate pretty rapidly. Holders therefore are beginning to look around for an outlet, and though no sales have been made at rates warranting a reduction in quotations, buyers will find it easier to make selections, and the terms more reasonable than heretofore. For common and fair box boards prices stand at about $23@$25; good to choice do., $26@$30; and prime shipping do., $35. Eastern hemlock is not plenty, and not much inquired after, and we find the quotations still merely nominal at about $13@$14.50 per M. Piling has arrived to a very fair extent, and the recent free purchases having pretty well supplied all immediate wants, buyers are inclined to withdraw. It is therefore necessary to raft out stock, and some of least desirable sizes are offered very low, while all styles have less strength than last week. About 6@7½c. may be called the average range, with extra lengths at 8c., and very long and heavy lots probably a trifle higher. Pickets are not very plenty, but even the small stock now here greatly exceeds the demand, and the tone of the market is extremely dull and heavy, with sellers at $10@$11 per M. Western white oak continues to arrive in moderate quantities, but is not wanted either for home use or export, and rates remain nominal at 44@45c. per foot. Southern yellow pine has continued scarce and dull in consequence, though the probabilities are that desirable stock could be sold to a very fair extent at steady rates, $33@$36 being a fair quotation. Several lots now about due have been sold previous to arrival, but from one or two points at the South we hear of more vessels having come in, and they all rapidly filling up. Cypress shingles are still coming forward, and, though offered at very low rates, do not attract much attention. The nominal value is about $20 per M. Eastern shingles are also very dull, and, with an increasing supply, prices tend downward, the latest offerings being at $4.50 per M, with very few buyers. The most important sales reported since our last embrace 1,950,000 ft. Eastern spruce at $20@$23; 175,000 ft. white pine at $23@$25; 123,000 ft. yellow pine timber at $33.50; 70,000 ft. yellow pine ship plank, rough edge 5 inch, at about $35; and 300,000 ft. Canadian spruce at $18@$19 per M.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, AUGUST 31, 1868.

The market was more active to-day than for a long time past, the attendance of buyers being very large. The supply was liberal, but poorly assorted, and the great bulk of the purchases on the spot were of coarse grades. The fine grades sold to arrive to some extent and in most cases at full figures. The general range of prices was unchanged, but a better tone prevailed. Coarse lumber quoted at $11.50@$14.00; and choice $15.00@$17.50. Lath firmly active and steady at $2.00. Shingles on track were in demand, and advanced to $4.00. Afloat cargoes bring $3.70@$3.87½.

We present below the quotations for lumber at various points of interest, which in most cases show a steady, uniform tone, and the latest reports generally speak of a very fair amount of business. At Milwaukee the market for cargo lumber is firm, the arrivals being only about equal to the demand. Lath are moderately active at $2 00@2.25 per M pcs. Shingles are nominal at $3.62½@3.75 afloat. The most recent cargo sales were 85,000 feet, culls at $7.00; 3,000 cedar posts mostly round, at 11c.; 200,000 feet, ⅔ strips and boards, balance coarse at $12.50; 53,000 feet 70 per cent. strips, balance mixed at $14.25; 147,000 feet mill run at $14.00; a deck load of 80,000 feet sawed timber at $16.00, and hold full scantling and joist at $12.00.

The loss by the recent fires in the Canada forests is computed at several millions of dollars. At Bisset's Creek, about 150 miles above Ottawa River, a large lumbering depot, comprising fifteen or sixteen buildings, has been utterly destroyed, with an immense stock of provisions, everything having been consumed except the pork, which was stored underground. On the Gatineau, too, the destruction has been most extensive, the townships of Lowe and Hincks, and some others, having been almost overrun by the devouring element. Similar devastations are reported on the north bank of the Upper Ottawa, and at several places throughout the Province of Quebec. Extensive fires are raging also in the forests on the north shores of Lake Huron and Superior.

The Eastern markets continue active, prices steady as a general thing, though, in some instances, rather easier terms were granted, in order to close out odd lots, and the general tone good. Shipping was brisk both foreign and coastwise; the low rates of freight attracting at tention.

The latest shipments to New York were 100,000 feet deals per Frigate Bird; 475 spruce poles per Sarah Bernice; 500 do. per Magnet; and 320 do. per Caspian.

The amount of trade doing at the southern ports is regulated entirely by the number of vessels offering, there being in most cases a desire on the part of shippers to forward stock freely. We learn, however, that there is a probability of freight room becoming even less plenty than heretofore, in view of anxiety of planters to get the new crop of cotton into market, the shipments of which will require all the available tonnage. Prices on lumber remained about as before, but in some cases timber had fluctuated.

Savannah quotations are as follows:

Timber $8@$18 per M. feet for mill timber, $10@$15 for small shipping do., and $14@$20 for large do. Lumber $20@$22 for ordinary sizes; $25@$30 for difficult sizes, and $22@$23 for flooring.

A Savannah report of Aug. 27 says:

There has been a marked improvement in the lumber market since last week, several vessels having arrived and are now loading with lumber, while several more are due and on their way out to take lumber and timber. The mills are most all at work on orders.

Mobile rates are as follows:

Pine Lumber $16 per M. for large lots; Flooring, seasoned, $25; Cypress, $35 per M.; Shingles, Cypress split, $4@$5 per M.

Charleston as follows:

Charleston prices remain as follows: Steam sawed $25.00@$30.00 per M.; Boards and Scantling, $24.00@25.00 per M.; Mill timber, $6,00@8.00; and shipping $11.00@$12.00

The exports from Charleston from Sept. 1, 1867, to Aug 20, 1868, were 16,860,615 feet of lumber, of which 725,955 went to foreign ports—mostly West Indies; and 15,134,660 feet coastwise. Of the latter 477,638 feet were consigned to New York; 8,621,188 to Philadelphia; 2,555,920 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 664,743 to Boston; 1,783,106 to Rhode Island, and 1,032,065 to other United States ports.

At Wilmington lumber is in very fair demand, both for local and export orders, and prices generally remained steady. Shingles were in fair demand with a slight reduction on common. Timber continues to come in sparingly. Prime quality has been selling freely at high rates—say $13 to $14.50—but there is less demand from millers at present, and the price has declined somewhat.

From Baltimore we have the following report:

The Lumber trade has been dull the past week, the demand for all kinds of building material having decreased, particularly for Cypress Shingles, which had been in very active demand for some time previous. Prices for the latter have declined $1 per M. on the choice and lower brands, and 50 cts. on Saps.

METALS.—In copper sheathing no change is quoted, the demand being very fair, and manufacturers holding the market well up to 33c. for new, with old selling at 18@20c. Scotch pig iron continues very scarce, the total supply now here not exceeding 2,500 tons, and holders in consequence are firm at full previous rates, viz.: $43.00@$45.00 per ton. Very few sales, however, are consummated, buyers preferring to await further arrivals, and in the meantime, confine themselves to covering absolute necessities. No. 1 American is in gradually increasing supply, but not enough to fully satisfy the back contracts, and meet the current inquiry, and sellers as a consequence retain the advantage, the market closing firm at $40.00@$42.00 per ton. No. 2 and forge are comparatively plenty but selling to a fair extent, and still quoted at $35.00@$38.00 for the former, and $33.00@$34.00 for the latter. Bar iron from store is steady, but without particular activity to note. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 for refined do.; $155.00 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; scroll, $130,00@$175.00 per ton; ovals and half round, $125.00@$155.00 do.; and rods ⅝@3-16 in., $105.00 @$165.00 do. Sheet iron has been more active and prices are stronger, though without any decided advance. We quote at 5½@6¾ for single D. and T. common; and 13@ 14c. gold for Russia, assorted numbers, with a few lots of No. 12 sold at 12¾c. Pig lead continues in good steady demand, and with some reduction of the supply, prices are extremely firm at full previous figures. The imports at the moment are light. We quote at 6¾@6¾c. gold, for ordinary to prime. Pipe, sheet, and bar lead unchanged. Tin in pigs was quite active early in the week, but the market has relapsed into a quiet state, and closes heavy at 23¾@26¾c. gold. Tin plates are almost entirely neglected in the wholesale market, and prices favor the buyer, though no actual decline can be quoted. Zinc in good, steady, jobbing demand, and prices firm at 12½13½c. from store.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The demand for paints continues quite moderate, both in a wholesale and retail way, but dealers generally are prepared for some slacking up in trade, and values have undergone no variation calling for special notice. The general stocks are not excessive, but there is at the moment an assortment here sufficient for all wants. Glue of the common qualities is steady and fairly active, and all prime lots are quickly disposed of when offered. Linseed oil has ruled comparatively dull during the week under review, the few parcels disposed of being mostly in a small jobbing way to meet pressing exigencies of local dealers, theugh one or two purchases were made for shipment. Prices have rather lacked strength and we note a slight decline, present figures standing at about $1.05 @ $1,06 in casks, and $1.07 @ 1.10 in bbls. From store former figures are still insisted upon. The exports for week are 73 pckgs. paint valued at $1,221; and 646 gallons linseed oil valued at $792.

PITCH—The market has remained quite dull since our last, though a few parcels have been taken for shipment, and one or two small lots on local account. Dealers are willing to sell at previous figures, but not lower, and are not pressing sales. The latest transactions were on a basis of $325 @ 337½ per bbl. for prime City, mostly at the inside rate. Receipts for week 83 bbls. Exports for week 30 bbls. Since January 1st. 2,320 bbls. and for same period last year 3,337 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—Calcined continues in good local and shipping demand at steady rates. In lump there are no fresh sales making, all the heavy receipts going to fill contracts here and up the Hudson. Prices remain nominally at about $4.50@4.75 for white. The arrivals since our last are 3,055 tons.

PLUMBING MATERIALS.—We have nothing of interest to advise. The large wholesale dealers complain of extreme dulness, while the jobbers have only been called upon to fill small and unimportant orders. Values show about the same range as before, except on a few goods of undesirable style, which can be bought a trifle easier.

SLATE—The demand is not active from any quarter, but we note a continued steady trade at the yards, and well sustained, uniform prices on all grades. The supply is more than sufficient for all present wants, but dealers anticipate some reduction of the stock ere long, as buildings—about a month behind the usual time—will within a week or two be ready to be placed under cover. With the exception of purple slate, noted last week as being scarce, the assortment is very good, and in most cases the quality well up to an average. Receipts have been fair, and recent advices from Pennsylvania give promise of an early increase, quarrymen having taken out a pretty liberal quantity during the past ten days, and showing considerable anxiety to get it into market.

STONE.—For common building or foundation stone there is not much demand at present, and prices are somewhat unsettled. Blue stone, however, is in demand, and free stone of all kinds is selling as fast as the agents can make the deliveries, the Ohio, the Eastern, and the New Brunswick stones each having their friends among architects, builders, &c. The rates for lots in the rough remains without change, but in some cases the cutters are asking a trifle more, according to amount of work required in dressing, and the rapidity with which contracts must be executed.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE—The demand has continued good each day, and prices without any important fluctuation, though the greater portion of the sales have been in small parcels and generally in first-class merchantable order. Dealers appear very careful not to force the market with large offerings, though at the close buyers are evidently gaining some advantage owing in part to the excess of receipts over sales and shipments. We quote at 44@44½ c for wholesale lots; 45@45½ c. for choice bbls., and 46@47c. in a retail way. Receipts for the week 2,915 bbls. Exports for week 48 bbls.; since January 1st, 13,351 bbls.; and for same period last year 21,267 bbls.

TAR.—Holders generally are steady in their views at full previous figures, and are selling to a moderate extent mostly on home account. The market, however, is not possessed of much strength at the close, owing to some increase in the arrivals both present and prospective, and in order to realize freely, it would be necessary to make slight concessions. We quote North County as it runs at $3.25@$3.75 per bbl.; Wilmington, $3.75@$4.25 per bbl., the latter rate now about an extreme. Receipts for week 859 bbls.; exports for week 51 bbls.; since January 1st 8,709 bbls.; and for same period last year 3,192 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of September 1 reports as follows:

There has been a fair business during the week. Prices of most descriptions are firm, and if any sales have been made below our quotations for clear lumber, they have been of an exceptional character. Prices, in fact, in view of the large stock are very steady; though in respect to hemlock and spruce, stocks are running out fast, with no immediate prospect of supplies, owing to a lack of water in some sections. The receipts are fair, and though somewhat below those for the corresponding week last year, are full up to the requirements of the trade. Several buyers were in attendance to-day, yet but few purchases have been made for the fall or winter trade. Lake and canal freights are, as yet, without change.

We extract the following from the circular of Wm. H. Graterick & Co., under date of Sept. 1st, 1868:

The month of August has been comparatively dull, as far as sales and shipments are concerned, yet with the expectation of higher lake and canal freights in consequence of the immense crop moving seaward from the great West, we anticipate a very heavy decline in receipts of lumber the coming three months; this, of itself, independent of an active demand, will make prices firmer and give them an upward tendency.

We may err in our judgment, but we think buyers will not find a more favorable time than the present to replenish their stocks.

In regard to black walnut, would say we expect a further advance in price. The stock is unquestionably much short of last year, and the condition of roads has been all the season greatly against hauling. These things have already advanced the price at Toledo $5 to $8 per M. feet.

The Chicago receipts of lumber for the week ending Aug. 29th, were 25,960,000 feet against 33,426,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending August 24 and August 31 were:

	August 24.	August 31.
Buffalo	4,723,900 feet.	8,615,300 feet.
Oswego	8,792,100	8,170,000
Total	13,516,000 feet.	16,785,300 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the fourth week of August, were:

	Bds. & Sc'tl'g ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	15,470,100	1,204	....	1,688,500
1867	19,449,200	1,061	....	761,000

Of the boards and scantling received, 11,734,300 feet were by the Erie, and 3,735,800 feet by the Champlain canal.

	Bds. & Sc'tl'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs
1868	266,683,700	32,992	60,486	20,763,800
1867	218,906,000	17,257	4,752	19,786,700

Freights are unchanged. Vessels are plenty. Barges are doing the bulk of the business, carrying lumber as far East as Providence.

Freights are without change to note.

Who will say that the people of this city have not had too much legislation? Regard, for instance, the what would be ridiculous (if it were not for the fact that it is so expensive) muddle into which our municipal legislation has been precipitated.

An unwise Legislature, to say the best, has passed a law creating a Board of Councilmen. Acting on the assumption that the law is constitutional, the majority of the people elect twenty-five members. Some few, not believing as the majority, elect another set. A contest is made. Law is resorted to and finally the first set is ousted, and the new one puts in an appearance. By advice, they proceed to re-enact the legislation of the first Board. After that is done, lo! five new men, perhaps not before heard of—for whom, it may be, not more than a dozen persons have voted—claim seats. Law is again resorted to; opinions are elicited. Peremptory writs are issued—one party willing, the other opposing, and finally they are admitted. Legislation all has to be done over again. More litigation, no end of it; opinion opposed to writ, and vice versa. One Judge decides one way, the Counsel to the Board requested to decide the other. What instability! What uncertainty! What expense! What degradation! Sincerely, is it not time we had a change?

Now that Autumn has come, we may expect the real estate business to look up. There is a great dearth of houses in New York and vicinity, and builders are sure of a sale. Therefore, all who have money should buy lots and build. From all we can hear, this Fall will be a very busy one, and a great deal of property will change hands. Were it not for the wasteful and foolish bricklayers' strike there would have been an immense amount of money put into new buildings this Fall.

The recorded transfers in Chicago of the week ending July 25th, are 205 in number, and $681,506 in amount, against 156 in number, and $650,300 in amount for the previous week.

In Portland, 500 new houses and stores will be completed this season. This makes a total of 2,000 erected since the great fire. The number then burned was 1,700.

Pittsburg is to have a 1,300 acre park.

So great has been the demand for the first Nos. of the R. E. RECORD, and so constant has been the application for complete files of the same, that we hereby offer one dollar for the following numbers, viz.: 1 to 6 inclusive, and Nos 9 and 11.

C. W. SWEET & CO.,
37 Park Row, Room B.

SLIGHTLY PERSONAL.

THE present number completes the first volume of the REAL ESTATE RECORD. Our patrons will doubtless be pleased to learn that the success of our venture so far, has exceeded our expectations. Our circulation is larger, and advertising patronage better, than we had any reason to hope it would be when we began. We were certain of success from the start, because we knew we would give news which could be found nowhere else—news, too, of the utmost moment to the various interests we appealed to; but it usually takes time for a paper to become known and profitable. That we reached a paying stage some time since is due to the fact that we supplied several wants that were pressing and of immediate use to business men.

New York is flooded just now with new evening papers, but the remarkable thing about them is that only one or two have any marked specialty of its own. The others are all alike, or at least have no particular feature to distinguish them from each other. Now, the peculiarity of the RECORD has been, that it is crowded with distinctive features of its own, most of which are entirely original with its columns. Let us specify: 1. Before the starting of the RECORD no one in this city ever gave the recorded judgments and mechanics' liens. This news, of so much moment to builders, real estate owners and agents, merchants and lawyers, was never published until we commenced it.

2. This was the first journal that ever attempted to publish the official list of mortgages, with the names of the mortgagors and mortgagees. No other paper in the world does it, and yet the news is of the utmost moment to the greatest business interest in the community. It was one of the originators of this paper who first got the daily papers to give the "Transfers of Real Estate," and the RECORD improved upon the idea by also giving the names of the grantors and grantees.

3. Until the establishment of the RECORD, there was no full and reliable record of the building material market. We are proud of this department. It is the most complete of any market published in this city. Our patrons will bear us witness that until the RECORD was started, there was no means of getting at the state of the lumber trade throughout the country. Our machinery for collecting this information is so complete that we defy competition. It is no longer possible for a lumber merchant, or indeed any dealer in building material, to do business in this city without keeping a file of this paper.

Our readers will notice that there is no nonsense in this paper. It is all hard facts—difficult to get, and costing us a good deal. We cannot afford to publish a cheap paper for this reason. We hope on the commencement of the second volume to introduce several new features which will widen the circle of our patrons.

STREET NAMES AND NUMBERS.

IT is astonishing how much valuable time would be saved and irascibility prevented, if our Superintendent of Lamps and Gas would attend to repairing the lamps when broken, and placing on them the correct names of streets. Sometimes the names of the streets are placed where those of the avenue should be, and in many cases they seemed to have been inserted by men to whom letters are a profound enigma; else how can one account for the peculiarity of them upside down, unless a far-seeing authority so ordered for the benefit of passengers by our future elevated railroads? Then again the numbers on squares confuse, and there is no good reason why the continuity of street numbers should be broken, and those of a square, row, or terrace inserted. For example, take Washington square, which is bounded by Fourth street and Waverley place, and by Greene and Macdougall streets. Go down Waverley place, which ceases to exist on coming into the square, as then the houses in its line are in Washington place, but on reaching the opposite side and crossing Macdougall street, Waverley place is again reached. This system causes much trouble, especially to dray-men, who find turning in narrow causeways troublesome, and it would be much better to continue the house numbers of the street across the square, although living in a street may not have such an aristocratic air about it as that of a Place, Row, or Terrace. The more simplicity we have in these matters the better, especially if we intend to carry out the letter-carrier system to that perfection it has attained in that terrible labyrinth, London, where one requires a life's study to find his way about, simply because the streets there are all named, not numbered. In this respect our metropolis is vastly superior to the British; but yet our system is greatly inferior to the Philadelphia plan, and as some of our readers may be unacquainted with its workings, a short explanation here may not be inappropriate. The numbered streets in that city run east and west, from No. 1 to upwards of 100; those running at right angles are named as "Arch" "Race," &c., whereas we have numbered avenues, which is in this particular the better plan. All the blocks are laid out with mathematical exactness, eight of them forming a mile. Commencing at foot of No. 1 street, the houses until the first block is reached run from No. 100 upwards. After the first cross street is passed, the first house takes the number 200, and the next blocks the numbers in sequence. Thus, if a person is at the foot of First street, and wants to go, say, to number 806, he knows that he has to go up the street eight blocks, or one mile. The same principle is carried out in the cross streets; thus if a person is at the foot of Race street, and desires to go to number 806, he knows it lies between Eighth and Ninth streets, and that he will pass the interlying streets on his way up. This system of numbering is chiefly useful in enabling one to fix the location pretty accurately. Let us see how this plan would work in New York. Suppose one was at the foot of Sixth avenue, where First street crosses it; now if the numbers up to Second street ran from 100 upwards until reaching Second street, where the first house would commence with the number 200, and run on in the same way until reaching Third street, where the first house would begin with the number 300, and so on: thus if he desires to go to No. 806, he knows it would be the fourth house beyond Eighth street. Then again if he was at the junction of First avenue and First street, and desired to go to No. 806 First street, he knows that it would be the fourth house beyond Eighth avenue, or if it was No. 1106 Twentieth street, that it would be the fourth house beyond Eleventh avenue.

This simple plan would obviate the necessity we are under of using the terms East and West applied to streets, in order to give some idea of locality, as then the very position of the house itself could be ascertained.

THE Trustees of the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund have purchased the property on the N. E. cor. of 6th av. and 23d st. for $340,000, on which it is proposed to erect a hall that will be a credit to New York City and an honor to the fraternity.

THE chief commercial town of Oregon (Portland-au-Wallamet) was sold in 1848 for $5,000 in Oregon leather. Its taxable property is now $4,100,000—cash value $10,000,000.

BUILDING operations are very active at Albany and Troy.

THE Taunton (Mass.) Brick Company has already manufactured over a million of bricks this year, and three millions more will be ready for the market before the season is over.

THE largest steam saw-mill in the world, but one, it is stated, is to be found at Clinton, Iowa. When in full operation it employs 1000 men. The engine is of 900 horse power.

A FIRM in Toledo has taken a contract of squaring, ready for shipment to Europe, nearly 800 black walnut logs, or 750,000 feet.

IT will require thirty-five thousand barrels of cement for the laying and lining of water pipes from Sebago to Portland, Me.

CHARLES O. ROGERS, of the Boston Journal, has purchased the Joy block in that city for $380,000.

IT is computed that there are now two hundred buildings being erected in Galesburg, Ill.

THE estate of the late Moses Y. Beach is valued at $250,000.

IRA Aldrich, the black tragedian, left an estate of $80,000.

BALTIMORE has appropriated $1,000,000 for the erection of a new city hall.

CALIFORNIA is gaining by immigration from five hundred to six hundred persons weekly.

OGDENSBURG is to build a $100,000 water works.

OVER $90,000 worth of real estate was sold by one agent in Hartford a few days since.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

THE question of drainage is at present engrossing attention. Our peculiar location between two rivers, with a grade from the centre or backbone of the city, to each of these water highways, having a regular tidal flow, affords opportunity for a system of drainage which ought to purify the metropolis. The filth of the city is only conducted into the river to accumulate around the mouth of the sewers and return again in the new and not less dangerous form of poisonous miasma. It is calculated that out of 150,000 building lots in this city, 20,000 are not fit for human occupation, by reason of the water underlying the soil, filling the cellars and giving birth to sickly miasma. Sewers should be so constructed as to relieve the city of this under-surface water. General Viele proposed, in a report published some time since, to build low-lying sewers along the water front, which could be made receptacles for the deposits of the lateral sewers, and the contents be conveyed from thence at ebb tide on flat boats or barges away from the city, and put to useful purposes on neighboring farms, instead of creating a pest hole at every wharf.

According to Mr. Mullet's report the proposed New York post office is not likely to be a thing of beauty, and consequently a joy for ever. He speaks of it in the following disparaging manner: "It may suffice to say that its design belongs to the worst phase of the worst school of architecture that has ever existed—the late French Renaissance; that, both in its mass and in its details, it is equally repugnant to a pure taste; and that, if by any misfortune it should be erected, it will bring an additional discredit upon our ill-fated city, already most unfortunate in its public architecture. If the design shall be rejected, as it probably will be, on the score of bad construction, inconvenient planning, and extravagant cost, the vulgar and ugly exterior must share the fate of the interior. This building will rob the lower city of another of its lungs: the City Hall Park will follow the fate of St. John's square, and the only bit of open space that is left in this wilderness of bricks-and-mortar will be closed upon rich and poor alike.

Portions of the interior of that costly edifice, the new Court House, which have been completed, show that the different bureaus of the county government will be at last located in an edifice worthy of the metropolis. The Sheriff's office, located in the north-east corner, on the first floor, consists of two large apartments, with a smaller one between.

The furniture in these offices is of the most costly kind of black walnut, the panel work being entirely of polished black walnut root. The carpets in the offices, although not exactly the finest of Brussels, will perhaps tempt some of the officials to use the floor as soft beds. During the present week the work of removal will be commenced by this department, and as none of the old furniture is to be placed in the new building, the business of the office will go on without interruption. The rooms of the County Clerk's office are on the ground floor in the north-east corner of the building, and are laid out in a similar manner as the new Sheriff's office. The valuable documents on file will be kept in immense iron safes manufactured for the purpose and arranged along the walls, while papers of minor importance will be placed in commodious closets made of black walnut. The furniture in these offices, as in all the others throughout the building, will be of black walnut and highly finished. The arrangement of the offices is neat and appropriate, and while citizens may justly grumble at the extraordinary cost of the whole building, they will certainly have reason to feel satisfied of the substantial character of the work on the edifice and the furniture.

GOSSIP.—CITY.

The bids for removing obstructions at Hell-Gate will not be closed until the 21st instant. The contract will not necessarily be awarded to the lowest bidder; and if the United States engineers think the work can be done more advantageously by the Government, no contract will be made....City real estate speculators have realized fortunes within the past few years, and during no previous season have they been so successful as during the one that closed about July 1, 1868....This is an accurate synopsis of the past season: small, rocky lots, facing on Central Park, have been sold at prices varying from $15,000 to $37,000 each, and dwellings and stores worth from $100,000 to half a million have been eagerly taken at prices unheard of before even in this city. To the poor man, whole wards have been opened in Brooklyn, and house lots by the thousands disposed of at prices ranging from $150 to $1000, while lands in Westchester county and along the lines of the numerous New Jersey railroads are offered in plots varying in size from 2,500 square feet to 40 acres.... Somebody writing in Harper's Magazine, stated that the great dry-goods man is a classical scholar of considerable repute. Perhaps; but he has not displayed much classic taste in the design of the huge unsightly marble mansion, which he is building for himself in Fifth avenue. Its resemblance to a stable is appropriate, however, as it is meant to accommodate Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair."....A neat, substantial structure, of wood, 25 feet front by 100 feet deep, has recently been erected on the Sheep's Head Bay and Coney Island road (about midway), for the accommodation of the Roman Catholics of that vicinity. It will accommodate about three hundred persons, and was built at a cost of $8,000....If the Health Commissioners were to visit the tenement houses in various quarters of the city, they would find that many of them are absolutely mephitic from the odors of obstructed sinks and pipes. A fine opportunity for testing disinfectants is now offered by such places.....Franklin square is rendered the reverse of fragrant by the exhalations from raw hides. Could not the Health Commissioners deodorize that otherwise pleasing locality?.... A new landing-pier is in process of construction at the Elysian Fields, nearly opposite the old Colonnade House. ....Very primitive in its characteristics is Avenue B. There is a stable-yard there, for instance, which can be reached only by going up some stone stairs and through a hall-way, a feat to which the horses have taken with wonderful sagacity....Eighth street, near Tompkins square, is now all but impassable from certain building operations in progress there....The Sisters of the Cross in charge of the Orphan Asylum attached to the Church of St. Vincent de Paul, have purchased a piece of property on Twenty-ninth street, and intend to erect a building thereon suitable for the purposes of the asylum. Their present accommodations in Twenty-third street are quite inadequate. ....A new public school will shortly be erected on Chatterton Hill, near the village of White Plains, to be known as District School No. 10 of the Town of Greenburg. The new school-house is estimated to cost about $5,000 ...St. Anne's Chapel (Episcopal), on Washington street, near Sands street, is being repainted and otherwise improved. ...The Building Committee of the Reformed Church of Mount Vernon after examining the American Building Blocks, and investigating their advantages in comparison with other building materials, have decided to use them in the construction of their contemplated new house of worship....Greenwich avenue is now dignified by the spacious front of a large and solid Grammar School, recently completed....The women of Mount Vernon, where most of the property is owned by women, have issued a call for a public meeting, to consider the question of the legal rights and disfranchisement of women who own property. "No taxation without representation" is their watchword. ....Sixty blocks in the city of New York are occupied by slaughter-houses, fat-melting establishments, &c....Several new and handsome stores have been opened in the block lately built on that portion of Bleecker street formerly skirting Van Nest Park, which old city breathing-place is now entirely obliterated and built over.... ....A very unsightly part of Fourth avenue is that along the deep cutting through which the railway runs. This could be made the most picturesque part of the city, the view from near the northern extremity of it being very panoramic....Probably the largest heap of rubbish now to be seen in New York is that occupying the ground in Beekman street, near William, on which stood the old church lately pulled down. But in a little while, though, and some mighty temple of Mammon will sprout from the the ruins....The transverse roads in Central Park, in one of which an outrage was lately perpetrated, are in an unfinished condition, and just the sort of places for ruffians to pounce upon their victims in. It is a wonder that no outrage is known to have been previously committed in them ....More church desecration. The Mariners' floating chapel, at the foot of Hubert street, North River, has been converted to the base commercial purpose of storage for hay, straw, oats, and feed, under the secular name of the Hubert Barge....The Commissioners for improving the grade of the road between Mount Vernon and Brondale, received the report of the civil Engineer employed to make the surveys and prepare specifications of the work. According to the estimates now made, the improvement, to be properly carried out, will cost about $15,000 per mile, fifty per cent. more than the commissioners are authorized to expend. Further action was deferred until the next meeting....A special town meeting of the citizens of Harrison was recently held to express their views in relation to the proposed construction of the road to be known as Mamaroneck avenue, through the borders of the town. It was unanimously resolved to protest against the scheme of saddling upon the citizens of Harrison the expense of any such road, by constructing it within the town limits; and a committee was appointed to employ counsel and take such measures as might be deemed necessary to avert the alleged attempt to swindle them.

DOMESTIC.

The landowners in several counties of Virginia, and in one of the counties of South Carolina, have agreed upon a very sensible proposition. They will give away to actual settlers a certain part of their lands. Thus they hope to draw industrious people to their neighborhoods, and in the end appreciate the value of the land they retain in their own hands....No person who has not visited Boston for the last five or ten years would recognize that part of it which lies just beyond the Common. Formerly, from the Common fence an empty marshy plain stretched wearily off towards the hills in the distance. To-day, a goodly part of this plain is covered with the most elegant residences in the city. Passing out of the Common, or rather out of its old boundaries, the Botanical Gardens, as they used to be called, invite the wandering feet. Neat paths, grass-plots, flower-beds, summer-houses and ponds present a pleasing variety of attractions....Mr. E. D. Cordts, about six or eight years ago, purchased for $12,000 about forty-two acres of land along the Passaic River, and immediately adjoining the Rutherford Park property, which has since been laid out. He has recently laid out streets and divided the land into villa sites and cottage plots, and offered them at auction, at prices varying from $250 to $700 a plot....When fully settled, the United States will be capable of sustaining a population of six hundred millions....The large skating rink in Buffalo is nearly finished. The platform and galleries for spectators will accommodate two thousand five hundred persons, leaving a skating pond of ninety by two hundred feet. When skating is not in season, a board floor, in sections, will be laid over the rink, the bottom of which will be of cement, to prevent the water from escaping ....The corner-stone of the New Children's Home in Bangor, Maine, was laid last week. This building is to be erected from funds left by the will of Mrs. Sarah March Pitcher....J. Bartlett Wiggin, of Stratham, has in his possession a lot of land that was granted to his ancestors by the King of England, and upon which Phillips Academy, now at Exeter, would have been located if the family had been willing to part with it....Accounts from Richmond say that in August General Imboden sold for settlement by colonists an aggregate of 20,198 acres of land for $111,980. These lands will be settled this fall. The Hollanders who were settled in Amelia county through the exertions of his agency express themselves well pleased, and give assurance that a great many of their countrymen, both from the Northwestern States and Holland, will soon follow.... The valuation of real estate in the city of Taunton, for 1868, is $6,425,950; personal, $3,818,766. Total, $10,271,716. Increase, $333,271. Rate of taxation, $13.50 per $1,000; last year, $18. Total number of polls, 3,901; number in 1867, 3,716....Among recent sales of real estate reported in New Jersey is that of about 441 acres of salt meadow, for $47,000, lying in Kearney and Harrison townships, at the junction of the Hackensack River and the New Jersey Railroad....Messrs. A. P. Smith & Co. of this city are now negotiating the sale or franchise of the unfinished Fredericksburg and Gordonsville Railroad to a New York Company of practical, go-ahead men. All the grading and mason-work on this road was done before the war, at a cost of about $300,000...Mr. Platt Brush, Jr., of New York, has purchased of Mr. J. L. Kortright of Amityville, L. I., seven acres of land lying to the north of the South Side Railroad, at Amityville Station, for $1,300. Mr. Brush intends putting up a nice residence this fall....The Roman Catholic Cathedral in Worcester, Mass., is designed to be one of the most imposing places of worship in the city. It will be built of gray stone, and of the following dimensions: 189 ft. long, 90 ft. wide, 111 ft. from the ground to the ridge pole, and will have a spire 200 feet high, also of solid stone. ....A tract of land, 200x300 feet, situated on Front st., Newark, the rear on the Passaic River, has been purchased for the Citizens' Gas Company, for $62,000....No. 41 Market st., Newark, was sold to Mr. A. Schiesser for $17,000 ....Baltimore is building 7,500 new houses....A piece of property in Pittsfield, Mass., was recently sold for $8,000, that 12 years ago could have been bought for $1,200...A Mr. Morris, an Irish gentleman, has purchased the well-known Parker's Store, the battle-field of the Wilderness. Spotsylvania county, Va., containing 1,300 acres; price paid, $10,000 in gold....Wealthy men at the West are investing their money in immense farms. Commodore Wm. F. Davidson of St. Paul has just bought 17,000 acres of land in Redwood County, Minnesota, which he proposes to devote to the cultivation of wheat.

A. D. Mellich, Jr., & Brothers, real estate auctioneers, 26 Pine st., have just issued their third semi-annual Descriptive List of New Jersey Real Estate. It is very admirably gotten up, giving all the information requisite, and maps of the numerous villages, towns and cities on the Central Railroad. New Yorkers have learned that New Jersey, owing to its vicinity to the business portion of the city, presents very great advantages as an economical place of residence for business men; and that in beauty of scenery, soil, water, climate, and other advantages that one seeks for in a homestead, New Jersey is in all respects the equal of the Empire State, and in her railroads vastly superior.

FOREIGN.

The trees now being cut down in the Forest of Fontainebleau are not to make way for a boulevard, but for a canal bringing the water of the river Vannes to the city of Paris. ....There are 217,378 inhabitants in Rome and the suburbs. Since last year there has been only an augmentation of 1,805, while from 1866 to 1867 of nearly 5,000. This difference is partly on account of the cholera last summer, which made nearly 8,000 victims. There are 28 cardinals, 28 bishops, and 1,372 priests; of monks and nuns, 7,366; 4,602 Jews; and of military, 10,738. There are 61 different religious orders for men, and 29 seminaries or colleges. The German has the greatest number of students, 587; then comes the English, then the Roman, the French, the South American, and sixth in number North America, which has 37 students. Of course the military counted are only the Romans; for, with strangers, the Pope has an army of about 18,000 men.....In the immediate neighborhood of Nottingham are an immense number of small gardens, occupied and cultivated by all grades of society; and, with a most laudable and praiseworthy feeling, the friends connected with the High-pavement Chapel Boys' Sunday School have purchased two of these enclosures, in each of which is a commodious summer-house. One of these gardens is cultivated by the elder boys, the other by the juniors. Each garden is subdivided into smaller allotments, which are assigned to their respective tenants, boys from ten to fourteen years old, who cultivate and crop them according to their own fancy, a small portion of each being devoted to flowers....The total emigration from Ireland during the year 1867 was 81,724 persons; of these a total of 79,571 (or nine-tenths of the whole emigration from Ireland) went to the United States, the remainder being pretty equally divided between British North America and Australia. The following is about a fair estimate of the condition and means of persons emigrating from Ireland to the United States. One-half consists of tradesmen, mechanics, farm laborers, and miscellaneous class, possessing a capital of from £5 to £50. One-fourth consists of small farmers, shopkeepers, &c.—capital from £100 to £200 each family. One-fourth, persons possessing $200 and upwards in the one family....Paris has 12,543 cafés and eating-houses, and 30,000 billiard tables....A site for a Catholic cathedral for "the diocese of Westminster," London, and as a memorial of the late Cardinal Wiseman, has been secured in the immediate neighborhood of Buckingham Palace, and the works will be commenced without delay....

SALES.

Saturday, Sep. 5.—By Adrian H. Muller. At Ridgewood station, on the Erie Railroad, 22 miles from New York. Property consisting of 75 acres of high land, purchased by the Ridgewood Park Association, and laid out into lots of 50x200. About 50 lots were disposed of for about $10,000. The terms of sale allow one-half the purchase money to remain on bond and mortgage for one, two, or three years, at the option of the purchaser, bind the Association to make all improvements represented on the map, and the purchasers to erect nothing but dwellings on the land, and no house worth less than $2,500. Lots in Section A sold on an average of $250; some lots on Section D for about $400, and others for about $180; and lots in C for $250.

Tuesday, Aug. 8.—By James M. Muller. House and lot, s. s., 52d st., 180 e. of 6th av., 20x100.5; Mary Ann Woster, $26,200.——By A. J. Bleeker, Son & Co. Continued sale of Rutherford Park property, N. J.: Plot 5, lots 1, 27, and 28, cor. Court and Jay avs., each 48x126; W. C. Edgerson, each $162. Plot 5, lots 25 and 26, adjoining the above, on Court av., each 48x120; W. C. Edgerson, each $160. Plot 5, lot 2, on Jay av., 120 from Court av., 60x249; Mr. J. S. Thornton, $260. Plot 5, lots 3, 4, 5, 6, adjoining the above, on Jay av., each 60x240; Gilbert D. Bogert, each $225. The remainder of the property is to be sold at private sale.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The market for hard brick has become comparatively dull, and though there is an effort to hold up prices to about the figures current at the date of our last, buyers undoubtedly have greater advantages, and can operate at 50c. per M easier at least, and in some cases $1.00 per M has been conceded rather than allow an opportunity for making a good sale to pass by. Builders appear to have about supplied all their pressing wants, the retail yards are pretty well filled up, and orders from the suburban towns have greatly fallen off. This, in connection with continued liberal receipts, has caused quite an accumulation of stock, and at the various receiving depots an ample assortment is to be found. There is no falling off in the quality, and from some yards the make is even better than usual. Manufacturers at all points continue steadily at work, and, with the present supply, are likely to keep the market abundantly supplied during the balance of season, leading to the belief that now, with the first rush of reviving business out of the way, and the turn in buyers' favor, there need be no fears of higher rates this fall. At the close of this report, it is much easier to buy than to sell, and prices are somewhat unsettled at about $8.00@$8.50 for Salmon, and $9.50@$11.50 for common hard, according to quality. Fronts are also rather dull, in natural sympathy with the falling off in the demand for other styles; but there is still a very good trade from city yards, and prices hold their own. The supply of fronts is ample for all necessities. The only exports reported are 5,000 bricks to New Granada.

CEMENT.—The local and shipping demand for Rosendale is reported as excellent by the agents of the various companies, and, except in the hands of jobbers, there is no accumulation of stock. The price still remains at $1.75 per bbl. delivered, and such would be the lowest figure at which ordinary purchases could be made, though in the competition to secure large contracts there is occasionally some shading, particularly by the minor companies. We notice shipments of 50 bbls. to British West Indies, and 1,000 bbls. to San Francisco.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—There has been a very good local trade consummated during the past week, not only within our own city limits, but with the suburban cities and villages, and though the market cannot by any means be called active, there is a steady, healthy tone noticeable. For export we hear of nothing selling, but orders from the South continue to drop in, and in most cases are of character to induce dealers to make the necessary shipments. Prices on all styles are sustained as per table, though, with a liberal order in prospect, it is not probable that outside figures would be insisted upon.

DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE.—We hear of nothing new of interest in this market, nearly all the dealers in the regular vitrified pipe insisting upon and obtaining about previous rates on jobbing sales, and making the the usual discounts on large transactions. Business is not driving, but may be called fair.

FIRE BRICK.—The demand and supply continue about equal; manufacturers are steady in their views, and prices show no variation.

FOREIGN WOODS.—The retail demand is fair, but, but at very irregular rates, owing to the difficulty in obtaining desirable assortments. In a wholesale way there is not much doing, though shippers would be willing to operate to some extent could they find stock to suit them. We understand that a large portion of the mahogany here is from Minatitlan, a grade but little desired, while the choice qualities, such as Frontera, and small Cuba woods adapted to cabinet work, are, and have been scarce all the seasons. Cedars are also rather poorly assorted, and the best lots held firmly, with some inquiry for export. We hear of nothing important at auction up to the present writing. The receipts reported since our last are as follows: From Santa Anna, Mexico, 240 logs mahogany; from Galveston, 10 logs cedar; from St. Domingo City, 240 logs, and 240 crotches mahogany; 20 pieces satin wood; and 10 do. lignumvitae; and from Mansanilla, 480 logs cedar. The exports are 150 logs mahogany, and 371 logs cedar to Havre.

GLASS.—Importers and dealers still retain all the advantage on the various styles of foreign window glass, and the tendency of prices is strongly upward. A few small arrivals are noted, but any desirable sizes that they may contain are either sold previous to receipt, or are immediately placed in store, and there held for an advance. The general demand is good, and the shipments to the interior and along the coast are as large as the limited assortment in the hands of dealers will admit of. All 14 and 16-inch stock is particularly scarce, and commands extreme rates. The discounts now seldom exceed 45 per cent. on French, and 40 per cent. on English, with some of best grades of the latter as high as 35 per cent. off list. Plate glass is sold 5 per cent. off, and 2 per cent. added for boxing and shipping. The latest imports are 440 pckgs. glass, valued at $1,557; and 91 glass plate valued at $12,816.

HAIR.—There is nothing worthy of special note in this market, prices remaining as last quoted, and there being enough stock to about meet current wants. The wholesale rates are 35c. per bushel for cattle; 60c. do. for mixed, and 70c. for goat.

LABOR.—Since our last no decided advantage appears to have been gained by either the master-masons or their disaffected workmen, though the former, judging from the tone of the reports at the various meetings, are evidently well supplied with journeymen (rear and front) at ten hours, and apprentices untrammelled by any rules or supervision of the Bricklayers' Society. This, in connection with the result of the recent trial of bricklayers at Morrisania, has imparted still more confidence to all employers, and leads them to hope for a complete victory. In fact, pretty much all the principal "boss" masons are already making their engagements, entirely regardless of Bricklayers' Society rules, and intend to adhere to this plan in the future, though they were heretofore willing to submit to a few unjust exactions rather than bring about an open rupture between themselves and their workmen. This very leniency, however, has undoubtedly had an influence in hurrying forward the present strike; for the men, finding that their demands were generally submitted to, have gone on from bad to worse, until finally the "last straw is laid which breaks the camel's back," and employers find it necessary to check the growing evil. Hence the persistency with which the master-masons have opposed the present movement, and they will now probably hold out until their relations with the journeymen can be arranged upon a more equitable system. We have frequently referred to the dictatorial tone of many of the rules of the Bricklayers' Society, fixing the manner in which "bosses" shall employ journeymen and apprentices, and also to the violence and intimidation used by Society men to prevent those who were not members from working. In order to fairly test the question, and obtain a legal opinion as to how far these trade organizations can interfere with the private business arrangements of individuals, a leading building firm have brought a charge of conspiracy against the President and officers of the Operative Bricklayers' Union No. 2, and the trial will be watched with great interest. The workmen have taken measures to employ counsel in their defence, and the few individuals who do all their talking have improved the opportunity to give vent to a character-speech or two, calculated to retain the allegiance of the dupes who have blindly followed them throughout the strike. Canvassers have also been sent throughout the country to advocate the eight hour law, and an organization formed to be known as the National Reform Labor Party, the object of which is to be the election to the Legislature of men who will use their influence towards the repeal or modification of the conspiracy law. The latter brilliant idea undoubtedly originated in the brain of some needy politician with a view to his own personal aggrandizement at the coming fall elections. We observe, however, that the members of the different societies do not contribute with the liberality noticeable at the outset, and that the officers are calling for more funds, in order to support the increasing number of idle men, consequent upon the completion of buildings upon which the eight hour system was adopted through sheer necessity. These jobs, however, now being out of the way, contractors flatly refuse to make any new engagements except upon such terms as will insure them workmen at ten hours per day. It is also to be noted that the Unions have unanimously adopted the constitutional amendments abolishing the restrictions on the number of apprentices, and allowing bosses to work on their own jobs. Very kind certainly, this giving up of privileges they never had the right to control; but wasn't the matter expedited a little by the decision in the Westchester case? Fearful that the bricklayers may be losing courage, and to keep them up to the sticking point, other classes of mechanics are again contributing; the Plasterers recently sending in about $750; and the Tailor's Union adopting the following:

Resolved, That this meeting is apprehensive that the combination of the New York master masons, if successful in its present aim to defeat the just and legal claims of the operative bricklayers, will be most disastrous to other trades, where employers will not be slow to follow up an attack on principles to which they have long been known to entertain either a covert or open hostility; that this meeting, entertaining those views, tender to the bricklayers now on strike their sympathy, and to give expression to their good wishes donate them the sum of $400, the vote to be taken in the shop meetings.

At a recent meeting of the front bricklayers, a few of the more moderate members were in favor of letting such as felt so disposed, work at ten undisturbed; but the majority was against them, and it was finally resolved that all Society men who had turned in to work ten hours should be expelled, and that no Union man should work on a front with any man who had deserted the Society.

The Slate Roofers' Society, numbering about 200 men, made a demand on their employers on Monday for an advance of fifty cents per day on their former wages, which was promptly given, and all are now working at the improvement, or $4.50 per day.

The iron-moulders of Singer's machine shop have settled their strike. The Union appointed a committee to inquire into the trouble, and, after hearing both sides of the case, the action of the strikers was condemned. Many of the old hands have resumed work again at Singer's, but the Superintendent's refusal to take any but competent hands, and his right to discharge incompetent ones, were sustained by the Union. Everything goes on smoothly at present.

An International Convention of the Workingmen of Europe has been in session at Brussels during the past week. The substance of the business is contained in the following.

It was resolved that in the opinion of the Convention workingmen cannot attain complete emancipation from the oppressions of employers through the means merely of local strikes; that all strikes should be subject to a code of uniform rules and regulations; that councils of arbitration be formed to settle differences between the employer and the employed; and finally that trade societies be established in those countries where they do not now exist, and that all such societies be organized so as to be able to act in close connection and concert with one another for the general improvement of the status of the workingmen throughout Europe.

LATH.—During the last ten days or two weeks there has been delivered, on back orders and fresh purchases, somewhere in the neighborhood of 18,000,000 lath, mainly to our own city, but a portion to other near-by towns, and all at $3.00 per M. This has pretty well disposed of all the stock immediately expected, but at the same time has filled up jobbers, and as we write, trade is rather slow, the only demand being for small odd lots. No great change from $3.00 per M is anticipated, however, as this rate has evidently been satisfactory to buyer and seller, thus far in the season, and will be continued until one side or the other gains a much greater advantage than at present. Present receipts are small, but there is a fair amount reported en route, which dealers feel confident can easily be worked off to retailers, and no cargoes piled out are sold at a reduction. The mills were not driving very freely at latest accounts, though it is hoped that the recent heavy rains have reached their section of the country and raised the streams sufficiently to renew the supply of water.

LIME.—Rockland lime is still quoted at $1.50 for common, and $2.00 per bbl. for lump, but as there is no stock here in first hands there can scarcely be said to be any market, and rates must be looked upon as nominal. A moderate amount is expected, but there will probably be little or no competition for it, the cargoes having been all engaged previous to arrival. Manufacturers are again working, it is said, and pretty freely too, but are unable to forward their production with any freedom, owing to a scarcity of suitable packages. The city demand from jobbers' hands is brisk, and many of the latter find themselves with a very few bbls. on hand. The North River limes are doing very well, and the best brands, such as Glen's Fall,s Bald Mountain, &c., bring extreme prices, the daily receipts readily finding a market. The kilns have all recommenced burning and the production is gradually increasing, but in some instances agents say they will be busy until the 1st of October delivering on back orders. These latter grades of lime appear to sell with the greatest freedom at Jersey City, Newark, &c., and to these points a large number of cargoes have been forwarded, though there is a goodly share used in this city.

LUMBER.—Except the deliveries on old contracts, there is no heavy amount of lumber leaving the yards, though, in a small jobbing way, business may be called fair and the general feeling on prices steady and uniform. A few shipping orders are still received, but not enough to cause any unusual movement. Dealers have not as yet been able to obtain any regular concession in the Albany market, but they are frequently enabled to pick up an odd cheap lot, and we find a slight increase in the arrivals here, with some accumulation of winter stock. A few of the smaller yards report nearly full, but the leading lumbermen, have still to receive heavy amounts before their supply and assortment will be fully completed. The export demand for black walnut logs continues very good, the principal portion of the sales being at 7½c. @ 8c. on French and German account. There has recently been sold at auction a lot of black walnut from New Orleans, at prices ranging from $30.00 to $65.00 per M, but very little was good enough to realize the outside figure, having apparently been very carelessly prepared for market. The weakness in the above wood, at the Albany market, to which we referred a week or two ago, has pretty much all disappeared, dealers having worked off all the troublesome parcels and now piling the remainder of their stock up for very extreme rates, and which they feel confident of obtaining, in view of the firm tone of the Western markets. In our wholesale markets we find a slight tendency to stagnation, the local demand for yard purposes having decreased, shippers refusing to operate with any freedom, and with one or two exceptions the supplies are more liberal. Eastern spruce has continued to arrive in quantities rather exceeding the demand, and as sellers are more anxious to operate than buyers, the natural tendency of prices is downward—in fact, we note some decline particularly on poor schedules, short lengths, &c. One or two inferior cargoes have sold as low as $18.50, but very few can be bought less than $19.00, and from this the figures range up, $22.00 per M as an extreme. The sales reported last week at $23.00 were extra fine, 25 feet, &c., just suited to the wants of certain buyers, and for which they were willing to pay liberally. Canadian spruce continues plenty, sellers rather anxious to realize, and prices without much general strength, at about $18.00@$19.00 per M, with comparatively moderate sales. White pine remains much the same as last week. The supply is pretty large and rather increases, neither the home nor export demand being of any magnitude, and receivers are at a loss in some instances how to dispose of their stock to advantage. No absolute decline can be quoted, and the range of figures is still at $23.00@$30.00 for common to prime; and $35.00 for choice, though, rather than pile out cargoes, dealers are not disposed to insist upon outside prices. Eastern hemlock is still quite dull, and quoted only nominally at $13.-00@$14.50 per M. Piling continues plenty, and rather dull, with a gradually accumulating stock. Prices still remain at about 6c.@7½c. for the ordinary run, and 8c. for choice, a few very fine 8½c per foot, but the latter figure appears to be about the outside. Pickets meet with a very slow and moderate demand, the few sales effected being mostly forced, and prices still tend downward, closing at about $9.00@10.00 per M. Western white oak dull, at 44c.@45c. per foot. Southern pine, for want of stock, is dull, but generally very firm, and no dealers appear willing to operate below $33.00@$36.00. The receipts are a trifle larger, but all coming in has been previously engaged, a large proportion going on contracts for the Wallabout improvement, and the piers, &c., of the Erie Railway. In cypress shingles we hear of no new feature, the quotation standing at $20.00, with little or nothing doing in the way of sales. No. 1 Eastern shingles are quiet, and rather heavy, at about $4.50 per M, sellers exceeding buyers at the close. Among the principal sales during the week, may be noted 2,000,000 feet Eastern spruce at $19.00@$22.00, 200,000 feet white pine at $23.00@$26,000, 320,000 feet Canadian spruce mostly at $18.50, 70,000 feet yellow pine at $35.00, and 40,000 pickets (¾ inch) at $9.00.

CHICAGO LUMBER MARKET.

CHICAGO, SEPTEMBER 8, 1868.

In consequence of a light run of stock for several days past, the market has assumed a firmer and more healthy tone, though no actual advance can be quoted. Buyers also show a better disposition to operate, and the demand from day to day has been sufficient to about clear out everything offering, even of the worst cargoes. Prices stand at $10@$14 for very inferior to fair, $15@$16 for good, and $16.50@$17.75 for prime to choice. Shingles were scarce, in good demand, and firm at $3.87½. Lath a little better but quiet at $2@$2.12½ per M.

Messrs. Woolner & Garrick, of Chicago, have issued their usual monthly circular, from which we obtain the following useful information:

"According to our usual custom we have compiled a table of statistics in regard to the lumber trade at this port for the month of August, which we hereby present to our readers. The receipts have been of an entirely unprecedented magnitude, reaching an aggregate never before attained in any one month, to wit.: 160,619,500 feet, being 41,022,158 feet more than the same month last year, and showing an excess of total receipts since the 1st of January of 157,117,234 feet, compared with the same period of 1867, the aggregate for this year being 659,317,249. Under such circumstances it is not to be wondered at that we have to report the trade rather quiet, and the demand not equal to the supply, especially when we consider that this month, at all times, is the dullest for selling, owing to the fact that all farmers are too busy harvesting, to think of anything else. At the beginning, and during the first half of the month, the feeling was decidedly better, as already indicated in our last; but when fleet after fleet crowded the docks every day, it became, of course, more and more difficult to realize full figures for cargoes; but, nevertheless, the falling off in price during the month cannot be stated to be more than one dollar per M, on an average, on the lower medium grades, and the very best lots have held their own without any concessions, and at this present writing the demand for this kind is fully equal to all offerings. When we thus plainly state the facts, it behooves us also to glance at some of the causes producing this state of things, and primarily we must allude to the continued low stage of water on the Illinois river, which excludes a vast territory from competing in this market, and another serious cause is the dereliction of the different railroads in furnishing the desired cars. We have heretofore praised their efficiency in this respect, but regret that their tactics always change to subserve their own seeming immediate interests, perfectly regardless of the interests of the shipping community at large. At present it seems to pay better to send the cars out empty without delay, so as to bring in grain, and but little heed is given to the wants of lumber dealers, except at points where stocks of grain are ready for shipment. These are a few among the causes which have produced the usual symptoms of a somewhat overcrowded market, but there prevails an unshaken confidence in a brisk fall trade, and the feeling, although quiet, is not by any means of an alarming or frightened nature. The main reason for the caution exercised by purchasers remains—the seeming certainty that the supply will exceed all calculations hitherto made; this proves the difficulty in forming a correct idea of a trade so very much extended, especially when each producer thinks himself pecuniarily interested in reporting his crop of logs as small as possible. During the month we have had opportunity, on a somewhat extended trip through many of the lumbering districts, to make personal observations as to the stock of logs on hand at the different points, and find them more ample than we have been led to believe. Great quantities are going to Ohio and further east, but still the quantity destined for this market is such that the demand must considerably improve to attain that advance in prices which has been anticipated with so much certainty; this will also be the case from present indications, because the shipments for each week have steadily been increasing, and exceed during the last week by 5,000,000 feet those of the first week of the month. Cargoes from Canada and Saginaw, offered for sale on the market, have not been plenty, as both places ship largely toward the east, and realize for choice lots figures not attainable in this market; but considerable quantities continue to arrive on contract for the different lumber yards and the St. Louis market.

"The principal demand remains for boards, wide clear lumber, and strips, and such cargoes find a quick and remunerative sale, but coarse piece stuff has become so plenty that the very best of this kind, from Manistee and other equally good points, has necessarily receded in price.

"The stock on hand here, as quoted, seems very large, but it must be borne in mind that it includes all hard wood lumber, all stocks held by the different large factories for home consumption, all timber, also large amounts piled here for St. Louis and other points on the river. The reports as quoted by the papers are taken from a book of record on the desk of the Lumbermen's Exchange; the different entries are made by the respective sellers whenever a sale is made to suit their fancy; but to judge from this report as to the actual state of the market seems to the initiated a good deal like a farce. It is seldom that one cargo in five is quoted. The prices quoted throughout any given month may seem exactly like the month previous, and still the comparative value of lumber may have fallen $1 per 1,000 feet. Any rise will speedily appear to the comprehension of the dullest observer.

"The harvest is now about all gathered, and has proved very encouraging to the farmer, who now is sending forward his surplus grain at a rapid rate and at remarkably good prices, which will ultimately act favorably upon the lumber traffic. The prospect for corn never was better, and if the night frosts will not trouble us for two or three weeks all danger is overcome.

"The trade from yards has not been as brisk as during July, the total shipments showing a falling off of 1,784,133 feet, but this is no more than is expected at this season, and from all indications it seems that orders henceforth will be much more plenty.

"The shingle market has continued very fair throughout the month, and at present the inquiry for them is far in advance of the offerings. The total receipts for the year amount to 371,733,000, being 101,936,000 in excess of last year. The price has ruled more uniform than generally has been the case, showing that the sources of supply are such that any sudden wants can readily be gratified. The total shipments for the year thus far exceed those of last year by 50,232,750, and the home demand is so great that the actual stock on hand is not as large as last year. Shaved shingles of prime quality continue to find purchasers at very fair figures—$3.75 to $4—but the demand is limited, and the most is sent to yards here and then sold in lots to suit. It is risky to send large lots for forced sales as but very few yards care to deal in them.

"Lath is, as usual, very quiet at quotations."

From the Eastern markets we hear nothing of interest; prices in most cases remaining about the same as last week, and a good degree of activity being noticeable at all points. The shipping ports were quite busy, owing to the continued free offering of vessels and the consequent low rates of freights, which dealers are taking advantage of to hurry forward the fall supplies. We revise our figures to conform to latest advices.

From Baltimore we have the following report:

The Lumber trade has continued dull since our last report. The only stock for which there is a demand (North and South Carolina yellow pine) has been nearly exhausted. The arrivals of Eastern Shore yellow pine box boards have been very light, which description of stock finds ready sale.

METALS.—New copper sheathing is held with much firmnes, and is fairly active at 33c., while old meets with about the usual inquiry, dealers still quoting at 18c.@20c. Scotch pig iron is no higher, but rules extremely firm owing to a renewed demand, buyers evidently becoming tired of awaiting a fresh supply. The arrivals have been extremely light throughout the week, and but little stock is anticipated during the next fortnight. We quote at $43.00@$45.00 per ton. American pig iron advanced somewhat immediately after our last report was issued, and though ruling quite firm ever since, the improvement has checked the demand, and we hear of but little actual business consummated. The supply of common sorts is liberal, but all prime grades continue very scarce. We quote No. 1 at $41.00@43.00 per ton; No. 2 at $36.00@$39.00 do.; and Forge, $32.00@$34.00 do. Bar iron from store is selling moderately, but as the receipts are light, holders remain very firm at full former figures. We quote at $90.00 per ton for common American and English bar; $100.00 do. for refined do.; $155.00 do. for Swedes, ordinary sizes; Scroll $130.00@$175.00 per ton; Oval and half round $125.00@$155.00 do.; and rods ⅛@3-16 inch, $105.00@ $165.00 do. Sheet iron continues in very fair request, though scarcely so active as last week, buyers confining themselves to smaller orders. Prices, however, are steady at 5¾c.@6¾c. for single D and T common; and 12¾c.@ 14c. gold, for Russia, assorted numbers. Pig lead has again been active, including quite a number of sales to arrive and all at very full prices, say 6⅞c.@6⅞c. gold, for ordinary to prime. The stock in first hands is greatly reduced and well under control, so that sellers for the present have things pretty much their own way. Bar, sheet, and pipe unchanged, and in very good demand. Tin in pigs has met with a good demand and large sales were consummated, prices showing an advance, and closing quite firm at 24@27c. gold. Tin plates are quoted as steady, but the market is devoid of life, and first class buyers could undoubtedly obtain somewhat easier terms. The imports of plates for the week were 16,164 boxes, valued at $99,762. Zinc is somewhat neglected, and hardly so firm, closing at about 12¼@13c. from store.

NAILS.—Cut nails have been rather dull since our last, the demand being mainly from local jobbers and for small parcels for shipment, but all agents continue to ask full 5½c. on 4d and 6d. Clinch moderately active and sustained at 6¾c. Other kinds without change to note, and quotations still stand at 18c. for zinc, 26c. for yellow metal, and 40c. for copper. The exports are 603 pckgs. valued at $3,933 against 127 pckgs. valued at $936 last week. Shipments to San Francisco of 1650 kegs.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is not much doing in the wholesale market, but jobbers appear to have worked off rather more stock during the week at about previous rates. The supplies are ample, but not unusually large, and are very well assorted, giving no great advantage to either buyer or seller. Glue, when of good color and quality, is selling well, but the dark inferior grades are still extremely difficult to work off, except at easier rates; which holders refuse to grant, and trade remains dull. Linseed oil has met with no demand for export, and the home trade continues light, giving the market a very dull tone. This, in connection with some increase of the supply, gives buyers the advantage, and prices are lower, closing weak at $1.04@ $1.06 in casks, and $1.07@$1.08 in bbls., and some outside lots have been sold as low as $1.02, a few holders being anxious to realize. The exports for the week are 86 pkgs. paint, valued at $2,805, and 600 bbls. oxide zinc, valued at $7,665. Shipments also of 67 pkgs. white lead to San Francisco, and 27 cases paint to Portland, Oregon.

PITCH.—The demand for both shipping and local use has continued moderate, and though but few additions were made to the stock, holders conceded a trifle in order to effect sales with freedom. At the close the feeling is somewhat unsettled at about $3.12½@$3.25 ₱ bbl. for prime city in yard and delivered. Receipts for week, 60 bbls.; exports for week, 25 bbls. Since January 1st, 2,345 bbls., and for same period last year, 4,834 bbls.

PLASTER PARIS.—Nova Scotia lump is not selling with any freedom at the moment, as the attention of all classes of buyers is occupied in the receiving and storing of the previously purchased cargoes, now daily arriving. The quality, however, is all white, and dealers anticipate some inquiry for blue within a week or two. Prices remain nominally unchanged. Calcined is steady and fairly active. We notice receipts of 920 tons lump; shipments of 400 bbls. calcined to Cuba; 50 bbls. do. to Portland, Oregon; and 950 bbls. to San Francisco.

SLATE.—Business does not improve as rapidly as expected, and the general market has rather a lifeless tone. It is usual at this season of the year for country orders to be coming in pretty freely, but there is nothing like the average shipping trade doing, and dealers are dependent in a great measure upon the local inquiry. This so far has been only moderate, and still further checked by the strike of the operative slate roofers, though the demand for increased wages was generally acceded to by employers when jobs were actually under way. Former prices are retained, but to a good customer 50c. and even $1.00 per square is frequently granted in order to close a sale. Nothing particularly new comes to us from the quarries. The miners are working steadily, but the stock is not forwarded, as our dealers desire to work down the pretty liberal accumulation now here, before receiving fresh additions.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Immediately following the issue of our last report the market became quite dull, and, with a few holders anxious to realize, prices fell off somewhat. Latterly, however, the demand has again improved, and a portion of the decline is recovered, the market closing steady, with not much offering beyond the wants of buyers. We quote at 43½c.@44c. for wholesale lots; and 44½c.@45c. for retail lots, choice bbls., with lots from store in proportion. The scarcity of vessels prevents a shipping trade, and the sales have been mostly local. Receipts for week, 2,051 bbls. Exports for week, 354 bbls.; since Jan. 1st, 13,705 bbls., and for same period last year, 21,306 bbls.

STONE.—On the upper end of the island the native foundation stone is of little value, and at the present time can be obtained very low, but from 34th street down, prices gradually increase, and a very good trade is doing. The heavy pier and base stones are attracting most attention, owing to the number of large buildings in course of erection. Prices unchanged, but very firm. Free stone in tip-top demand and rates steady, the only difficulty agents complain of being the slow arrivals. Blue stone steady in price and active at the quarries, with a little more doing at our city yards.

TAR.—The market has been somewhat irregular, but on the whole neither buyer nor seller has gained any particular advantage, and the rates at the close are just about the same as last week. The stocks are fair, but could not be reduced except at a concession. The pavement companies are taking nothing at the moment, and the principal business is in small lots for shipping and to supply local jobbers. We quote North County, as it runs, at $3.25@$3.75 ₱ bbl., and Wilmington $3.75@$4.25 in order in yard. Receipts for week, 47 bbls. Exports for week, 65 bbls.; since January 1st, 8,772 bbls., and for same period last year, 3,212 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus of September 8 reports as follows:

The business during the week has been moderate, with a fair attendance of buyers. Receipts, owing to canal detentions, are light. Stocks of prime lumber are full and well assorted. Coarse, which in proportion to pine has been in light stock, is in better supply, the recent rains in the North having put the mills in full work. Prices have undergone but little change and are steady at quotations.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago continue on a large scale; 31,883,000 feet for the week ending 5th inst., against 19,270,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1867. The aggregate receipts from 1st January, 1868, to September 1st have been 659,317,400 feet against 502,200,000 feet for the corresponding period in 1867. The shipments from January 1st, 1868, to September 1st, have been 351,429,700 feet against 299,840,900 feet for a similar period in 1867. The stock on hand September 1st is estimated at 302,615,400 feet, being an increase of 65,217,400 during the month of August.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo and Oswego for the weeks ending August 31 and Sept. 7th were:

	August 31.	September 7.
Buffalo	8,615,300 feet.	8,415,900 feet.
Oswego	8,170,000 "	9,779,300 "
Total	16,785,300 feet.	18,195,200 feet.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals for the first week of September, were:

	Bds. & Sc'tl'g ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	14,419,700	1,004	....	447,000
1867	17,614,800	1,160	....	1,970,800

Of the boards and scantling received, 10,720,000 feet were by the Erie, and 3,699,700 feet by the Champlain canal.

The receipts at Albany by the Erie and Champlain canals from the opening of navigation to September 8, were:

	Bds. & Sc'tl'g, ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. ft.	Staves, lbs.
1868	281,921,800	30,896	60,486	21,203,800
1867	236,520,800	18,417	4,752	21,757,500
