The Honorable Herbert H. Lehman
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Lehman:

I want to acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 31.

The division in opinion within the veterinary profession which your letter indicates represents one of the problems that plague the Finance Committee. I would say that it is a general pattern that there is a division between the members of some professions in the state of New York and those represented by the national associations. Apparently, that goes into the field of veterinary medicine.

I am sure the Committee will take the existence of this division into consideration when they work on the bill.

Sincerely yours,

Wallace F. Bennett
