FOREIGN MINISTER ERNEST BEVIN
FOREIGN OFFICE
LONDON, ENGLAND

I very earnestly urge that 100,000 Jews should be admitted to Palestine immediately as recommended by the Anglo-American Committee. The Jewish refugees now in Displaced Persons camps in Europe are in an indescribably tragic position. Further delay in sending them to Palestine where they can seek rehabilitation will mean their complete deterioration, morally and physically. I have great hope that the British government will do everything to make it possible for these most unfortunate people to seek new homes and lives in Palestine without delay. I wish to add my personal plea to the many which I am sure that you have received from right-thinking people in your own country and the United States and in other countries. Kind regards.
