To George M. Cohan, whose songs, "Over There", "You're A Grand Old Flag", and "Yankee Doodle Dandy" are a symbol of the American spirit; whose life's work has been devoted to giving to the American public means of expressing its love of country---whose great words and music are as powerful a weapon to national morale as any gun used in this or the First World War.

To Abe Rosenberg.