Dear Mr. Lehman:

Your message of sympathy and friendship on Laurence's passing has given much comfort to our whole family. Though we had known his circle of friends was large, each new message which has come to us has brought a new sense of the outreach of his life and the breadth of his interest in other people.

Laurence left a sweet memory for us all and the inspiration of a noble character for his children. His was an incorruptible life of devotion to his family and his work.

We find strength in the assurance that Laurence is with us still in the lives of his friends, who carry out the beliefs to which he was devoted.

Most sincerely,
