Grandson of C. A. Eaton Dead in Okinawa Fighting

Lieut. Douglas Wilson Demler Jr., 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Demler of this place and grandson of Representative Charles A. Eaton and Mrs. Eaton, was killed in action May 10 on Okinawa, the War Department has informed his parents. He was serving in the First Division of Marines.

A graduate of Wardlaw School in Plainfield and a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Princeton University, he enlisted in the Marines May 14, 1942, and was called to active service July 1, 1943, at Princeton, where he would have been graduated that August. He was commissioned at Quantico last July 5 and had been overseas six months.

His sister, Mary Demler, was graduated last week from the Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing in Plainfield and is a senior cadet nurse at Tilton Hospital at Fort Dix.
