To: JCCB
From: BW

This is the Oil-for education amendment with a new quirk which Hill thought up last year --and that is to tie the education part into national defense, and place the burden of coming-up with a method of distribution on a Presidential Commission which must make its recommendations to Congress.

We certainly should get on this, since I wouldn't be at all surprised that it gets reported out from either the Interior or Labor Committee early in the session.