Senator Herbert Lehman
Washington D.C.

My dear Senator Lehman:

Senator Brian McMahon's resolution, backed by eleven other members of Congress, calling for a disarmament conference is excellent and although all its details may not meet everyone's wishes, it is nonetheless a much needed affirmative step toward peace. Its enactment would re-assure the moral leadership of the United States and gain us friends and respect throughout the world.

The present hysteria and futile faith in militarism must be checked. A disarmament conference under the U.N. would have great Possibilities and might turn the tide. I urge you to support this measure.

With best wishes

Sincerely -

Lucile G. Marshall
