Honorable John L. McClellan
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

I have been intending to write to you for some days to tell you what a swell job you did as ranking member of the Murdock Subcommittee. Unfortunately I have been so busy that I just never got to it.

You were at all times judicial, temperate and fair, and as a result you developed many facts which otherwise would have been passed over. The Senate and the people of the country owe you a debt of gratitude.

Very sincerely yours,
