February 14, 1936.

My dear Governor Lehman:

I am attaching herewith a copy of a letter addressed to me by G. Selmer Fougner; also a clipping from his daily column "Along the Wine Trail" from the New York Sun. Mr. Fougner is accepted as an authority on vintage wines, recipes for mixing drinks and is conversant with the history of wine producing, the manufacture of spirits and the efforts of Government to regulate their manufacture and sale. He is in no way connected with the industry.

I feel that you will be interested in his definite opinions from a neutral view-point as to the success of control in New York State made possible by your high ideals, your demand for that which is good in Government, and your rigid and continuous support of those who are charged with the administration of the law.

Respectfully,

Edward P. Mulrooney

Hon. Herbert H. Lehman,
Governor, State of New York,
Executive Chamber,
Albany, N. Y.
