Biography

Frame was born Alice Seymour Browne on October 29, 1878 in Harpoot, Turkey where her parents were missionaries. She graduated from Mount Holyoke College in 1900 and from Hartford Seminary in 1903. In 1905 she went to China to begin her mission work, supported by students and alumnae of her college. In 1913 she married Murray Scott Frame, a missionary evangelist associated with the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, but he died of typhus fever in 1918.

Also in that year she began teaching at North China Union Women's College in Beijing, and became dean of the college in 1922 as it became affiliated with Yenching University 燕京大學. In 1931 she was pressured to resign to allow the appointment of a Chinese dean. In the spring of 1941 she had an operation in Beijing to remove a malignant tumor, and recovered from the operation, but in April it was decided that she should return to America. She died of cancer in Newton, MA on August 16, 1941.

Throughout her life she wrote to her former classmates and current students of Mount Holyoke College, sending her letter via the Woman's Board of Missions in Boston, MA.

Collection Scope and Content Note

This collection was donated from two unknown sources, possibly members of the Mount Holyoke College mailing list who received mimeographed copies of the letters. The main collection of Frame's letters is at the Mount Holyoke College Archives. Although an index of letters references a collection at the Houghton Library at Harvard University, no such collection has been traced there today. Folder 3 and the bound volume contain indices which cross reference the letters held by the MRL and Houghton Library collections.

The 14 letters discovered in July 2010 (see provenance information above) have been inserted into folders 4 and 9, but as these were not part of the original collection they do not appear in the original indices found in folder 3. The pamphlet has been placed in folder 10, while duplicate letters have been collected in folder 11.

Frame was also author of A Woman Missionary Comments on Recent Adventures in Rural China, 1931, which can be found in folder 2192 of the MRL Pamphlets collection. Additional publications are held in folders 830 and 1094.

Processing

Metal clips and staples were removed from materials and folded items were flattened. The letters had been previously copied and bound into a volume. Original materials were placed in new acid-free folders and boxes. Acidic items were separated from one another by interleaving with acid-free paper as needed. As the collection was reorganized in September 2009, legacy folder numbers, where applicable, are given in square brackets [f1].
