Administrative Information

- Provenance: Emerson O. Bradshaw donated his collection of Kagawa Materials to the Missionary Research Library in October of 1960. In 1976 the records were accessioned to the Burke Library archives with the closure of the MRL. Additional material was identified and accessioned from unprocessed archives in 2007, and was organized as Series 3 of this collection.
- Access: Archival papers are available to registered readers for consultation by appointment only. Please contact archives staff by phone, fax or email archives@uts.columbia.edu, as far in advance as possible.
- Access restrictions: Original reel to reel tapes of speeches and interviews from the 1954 American tour and three films from 1937 are fragile and not accessible. Sound recordings of the original tapes are available for consultation only in service copies of preservation digital CD format, which can be listened to in the Special collections reading room. The rest of the collection is unrestricted.
- Preferred Citation: Item description, MRL7: Kagawa Toyohiko Papers, series #, box #, and folder #, The Burke Library Archives (Columbia University Libraries) at Union Theological Seminary, New York.

Biography

Kagawa Toyohiko was born on July 10, 1888 into an aristocratic family in Kobe, Japan. He is reputed to have been converted to Christianity by a street preacher. He went to college in Tokyo, supported by Presbyterian and Reformed missions. From the beginning, Kagawa expressed compassion for the plight of the poor, and during his time at a seminary in Kobe, he began to live among the poor in the Shinkawa slums. He lived in Kobe for 14 years.

Kagawa came to the United States in 1914 and entered Princeton Theological Seminary, where he earned a Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1915. He returned to Japan and for many years organized laborers into unions and advocated for the Japan Federation of Labor. He was arrested several times during labor strikes.

The year 1928 marked a turning point for Kagawa and, after extended time in prayer, he began evangelism tours of Japan, initiating the One Million Souls for Christ movement. He had support from John R. Mott, who encouraged the churches in Japan to cooperate with Kagawa's mission, and they named the mission the Kingdom of God movement. Associated with this was a Christian newspaper, Kingdom of God Weekly 神の国新聞. Kagawa's objectives were evangelism, education, and social organization.

Kagawa first came to America in 1936 on a speaking tour. He arrived in San Francisco in December 1935, but was detained because of his trachoma, and it required a letter from President Roosevelt to allow him entrance to the country. He spoke in many cities across the United States and Canada over the next six months, including stops at Princeton and Cornell Universities. He sailed from New York on June 30, 1936. In the summer of 1941 he visited America again on a peace mission with the Japanese Christian Fellowship Deputation, stopping for conferences in Riverside, CA, Chicago, IL and Atlantic City, NJ.

In 1950 he returned for a speaking tour, arriving in New York in July ahead of 146 planned engagements over six months in the United States and Canada. His last tour began in June 1954, centered on his attendance at the World Council of Churches meeting in Evanston, Illinois that August. He left Los Angeles to return to Japan in October of that year. Kagawa's tours were supported by the Kagawa National Committee, located in Brooklyn, New York. Emerson O. Bradshaw was the field representative; Galen M. Fisher the Honorary Chairman, and J. Henry Carpenter, secretary. Among the many participants on the sponsoring committee was Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Kagawa wrote over 150 books throughout his career as evangelist for peace and community. He was nominated for the Nobel Peace prize in 1955. Kagawa died on April 23, 1960, and received the Order of the Sacred Treasure (Zuihōshō 瑞宝章) posthumously.

Content and Scope

This collection consists of material related to Kagawa's American tours and the committee that organized these tours. It includes correspondence and publicity material surrounding Kagawa's visits and administrative documents of the organization that made these visits possible. It is divided into 3 series:

- Series 1: Kagawa American tours, 1929 - 68 (6 boxes, 3.00 lin. ft.)
The first series covers the correspondence, organizational and publicity papers of the Kagawa Cooperators, the group of Americans who helped to organize and promote Kagawa's lecture tours in the USA. Significant among these Cooperators were Helen Topping and Henry Topping.
The series covers Kagawa's American Tour 1936, the American Peace Mission 1941, American Tour 1950 and American Tour 1954. Included are photographs, radio interview scripts, press releases and itineraries.
- Series 2: Audio Visual Materials, 1937-1960 (1 box, 3 canisters, 1.75 linear ft.)
Additional materials relating to Kagawa in non paper format were discovered within library storage and added to this archival collection in 2008.
- Series 2A: Audio recordings, 1948 - 1960 (1 box, 0.5 lin. ft.)
This series consists of one box of 31 audio recordings [CD listening copies] of addresses and press conferences, 1948, 1950, 1954. Union Theological Seminary 's original audio reel recordings of these Kagawa addresses appear to be the results of transfers from a variety of media, such as wire recordings or discs, which were supplied to the Kagawa National Committee by the organizations who invited Kagawa to speak at their venues. The sound quality is variable, as some of the early magnetic oxide tape recordings used a paper tape base and the recording conditions in the venues were also variable. The current digital versions are listening versions for use only in the Special Collections area of the library and may not be copied. Inaudible or irrelevant recordings are noted in italics.
- Restricted Series 2B: Films, 1937 (3 canisters], 1.25 lin. ft.)
The films are fragile and thus not accessible. All three films were produced by St. Francis Xavier University in Nova Scotia, Canada, and depict Kagawa as he toured the province in 1936. The original film number from the former UTS audio-visual library are given in square brackets following the description of the film's content.

- Series 3: Kagawa National Committee Records, 1936 - 1960 (4 boxes, 2 lin. ft.)

This additional series contains later and overlapping administrative records from the organizing committee and their promotion of Kagawa's visits to the USA. It contains executive committee correspondence, including letters from individual donors and Kagawa family members. Administrative records such as scheduling information, forms, and financial records are also included. Pamphlets, brochures, news articles, and an official Kagawa Packet are also included as promotional records.

Processing

Folders had been originally numbered sequentially through boxes 2 - 6 of the collection. The folders are now renumbered, beginning with #1 for each box, and the box number is now written on each folder. However, the original MRL folder number is noted in square brackets in the contents list at the end of the folder descriptions for boxes 2 - 6.

Folded materials were flattened. Newspaper clippings were photocopied on acid free paper. Staples, rubber bands, and metal clips were removed and replaced with plastic clips. All materials were placed in acid-free folders and boxes.

Digital recordings for preservation and access were made of the Kagawa tape reels, some of which were magnetic oxide on paper base.
