Summary Information

Creator: Auburn Theological Seminary

Title: Auburn Theological Seminary Records

Inclusive dates: 1818 ongoing

Bulk dates: 1824 - 2001

Abstract: Founded by Presbyterians, in Auburn New York State, in 1818, Auburn Theological Seminary first prepared clergy for the American frontier and foreign missions and participated in the great social movements of the time. Following the Great Depression, it moved to New York City to share Union Theological Seminary's campus, where it focuses on lifelong learning for clergy and laity, and on research addressing the needs of religious communities and the academy. The collection consists not only of the administrative records of Auburn but of personal papers, including scrapbooks, notebooks, sermons and photographs from alumni and faculty with in depth coverage of Auburn Seminary in the mid to late 19th century..

Administrative Information

Provenance: Auburn Theological Seminary, retaining ownership of their records, placed them on deposit in the Burke Library following the removal of the Seminary to Auburn Hall at Union and continues to deposit records and memorabilia. The 1847 student notebook of Edward B. Walsworth was purchased from James Dickson Books, Kilsyth in September 2007 by The Burke Library and remains the property of The Burke Library.

Access restrictions: The collection is unrestricted.

Preferred Citation: Item, folder number, box number, series, Auburn Theological Seminary Records at The Burke Library, Union Theological Seminary in the City of New York.

Institutional History

Founded by Presbyterians, in Auburn New York State, in 1818, Auburn Theological Seminary first prepared clergy for the American frontier and foreign missions. Faculty participated in the great social movements of the time: the struggles against slavery and for women's suffrage, temperance, and reforms that uplifted the poor. Auburn was one of the first theological schools in the country to educate women and to enroll students from Asia, and it was among the first to establish a summer session and a school of religious education.

By the beginning of the 20th century, Auburn had become a prominent seminary and a center of theological inquiry. In the battles over the authority of the Bible, Auburn's name became attached to a famous defense of freedom. The Auburn Affirmation opposed efforts of fundamentalists to impose a single interpretation of scripture on others.

In 1939 the Great Depression forced the seminary to move from Auburn, New York, to the campus of Union Theological Seminary on Manhattan's upper west side in 1939. The two seminaries have never merged but enjoy a remarkable friendship. Union offers degree programs; Auburn focuses on lifelong learning for clergy and laity, and on research addressing the needs of religious communities and the academy.

Collection Scope and Content Note

The Papers of Auburn Seminary consist of records of the institution, including historical documents dating from its founding, institutional publications such as catalogues, and detailed alumni records as well as personal papers, scrapbooks, some photographs and sermons from faculty and alumni. The move from Auburn to New York City is well documented.

The materials in this collection currently span the dates of 1821 through 2001, although the bulk of the material is from 1850 - 1978.

The majority of the collection consists of manuscript notebooks, correspondence, sermons and personal papers with miscellaneous deeds, photographs and other documents

The collection is divided into 3 series and a number of subseries:

- Series 1: Auburn TS Records, 1821 – [1978], 83.5 linear ft

This series contains the administrative records of Auburn seminary divided into 10 subseries:

Subseries 1A: Library and Historical records, 1818 – [1964], 44 boxes, 23.5 lin. ft

This subseries consists of the early records of Auburn seminary including those of the library as well as papers belonging to some of the early Faculty, and of student societies. These documents have been kept together as there was evidence for a separately call-marked collection from an earlier stage in its history.

Subseries 1B: Student Alumni records, 1820 –1941, 68 boxes, 33.75 linear ft.

These remarkable records contain a variety of formal and informal documents, compiled by the Alumni office in correspondence with former students, their family and friends, indicative of people's careers, first at Auburn, and then later in life. Records are in date order by class and by A-Z order within class year group.

Particular items of note are:

Faculty & Trustees Records 1820-1906

Records of Non-admitted Applicants, 1896

Individual Class Pictures, 1919

Student records not in the archives: 1841-1845, 1864-1870, 1872-1876, 1879

Subseries 1C: Catalogs, 1825 – 1939, 22 boxes, 10.75 linear ft

The subseries contains multiple sequences of the official catalogs of Auburn Seminary, catalogs of the Summer School and of the School for Religious Education, as well as biographical catalogs and some class photographs. Of particular note are the responses from a series of questionnaires about war service in the First World War.

Subseries 1D: Administrative office subject files, 1875 – 1978, 7 boxes, 3 linear ft

Administrative records from Auburn officers' subject files, bulk dates: 1940-1960 retaining original subject folder arrangement and description with continuous numbering of folders throughout series. Of particular interest are records and photographs documenting the move to Auburn Seminary to New York City.

Subseries 1E: Registrar, 1900 - 1940, 3 OS boxes, 2 linear ft

The subseries consists of 3 outside ledgers: registrar's general ledgers and also the Summer School ledger.

Subseries 1F: Financial records, 1895 - 1966, 4 boxes + 1 OS box, 3.75 linear ft

Subseries 1G: Buildings, 1893 - 1964, 1 box, 0.5 linear ft

This contains inventories and photographs of the Auburn buildings in Auburn, NY as well as architect's visualizations of the new Auburn Hall buildings at Union.

Subseries 1H: Development office, 1940 – 1978, 3 boxes, 1.25 linear ft

This consists of files from Auburn's development office relating to 1958 – 60.

Subseries 1i: African American Theological Education Project, 1974, 4 boxes, 2 linear ft

This series consist of Virginia Brereton's files from what is alternately called the Auburn History of Innovations Project. It comprises mainly photocopies of source publications on African American Theological Education as supplemented by memos, financial and other administrative papers.

Subseries 1J: Photographs and Miscellaneous, 1904 – 1964, 2 boxes + 2 OS boxes, 3 linear ft

- Series 2: Faculty and Alumni Papers, 43 boxes + 3 OS boxes, 18 linear ft.
The named collections of former Faculty and alumni are arranged in A-Z order of surname. Some larger collections of individuals' papers are subdivided into series and have separate Finding Aids available, which give further information. Series 2 consists mainly of sermons, correspondence, scrapbooks and photographs. Of particular interest may be papers belonging to those who worked in home missions, such as Morton Fitch Trippe, who in the late nineteenth centuries worked with Native American Indians in Northern New York State.
- Series 3: Museum items, 1 box + 1 OS box, 3.25 linear ft
Items formerly labeled as Auburn Museum are located in this series.

Processing

In processing the Auburn records and papers to the Burke Library, an attempt was made to maintain the original order imposed initially to the historic records.

Former classification system notation is cited in brackets: AE60/Au1: Lib-Ab thru P1821

Folded materials were flattened. Staples, rubber bands, and metal clips were removed and replaced with plastic clips. Acidic papers were interleaved with acid free paper or housed in Mylar folders. All materials were placed in acid-free folders and boxes.

Further preservation work should be carried out on items highlighted so.
