

To Find Books.... Use CLIO:

It makes a difference whether you use KEYWORDS or SUBJECT HEADINGS

Keyword searching

Globalization and nationalism

Becoming national: a reader; edited by Geoff Eley and Ronald Grigor Suny. New York: Oxford University Press, 1996.

Display the FULL VIEW to see why this book is among the 237 items found

Try the above two search words in the Guided Keyword search option and select “subject” instead of “anywhere”

Globalization and national identities: crisis or opportunity? edited by Paul Kennedy and Catherine J. Danks. Houndmills, Basingstoke, Hampshire; New York, N.Y.: Palgrave, 2001.

Display the FULL VIEW to see why this book is among the 56 items found

Subject Heading searching globalization moral internationalism [“more info” explains the meaning of this subject heading] national characteristics american

Two points to remember:

- 1) If you wonder why certain items are in your results list, display the specific CLIO record and click on FULL VIEW to see where your search terms appear (e.g., search terms could be words in the title, summary, or perhaps a chapter heading)
- 2) Although LC subject headings are displayed in CLIO with punctuation (such as double dashes), there is no need to use punctuation when you type

To find articles... Use eResources → Databases → type in title from below

Remember---

Try combinations of keywords that describe the specific topic you are interested in to find articles published in the types of sources covered by each database.

Many of the databases below are “eLink enabled.” When you click on the eLink symbol, it takes you out of the database and often connects you to the full-text of the article coming from another source.

To look for background on PEOPLE referred to in Foner seed text:

American National Biography (only for deceased Americans)

Biography Resource Center (living & deceased, international coverage)

To look for scholarly articles:

Historical Abstracts (outside of North America)

America History & Life (US and Canada)

Two databases from same producer; covers scholarly/academic journals, scholarly books, dissertations in the field of history. Try the “advanced” search feature and subject terms

International Political Science Abstracts

Covers scholarly/academic journals in political science including public policy, political theory, international relations

To look for articles from general interest, popular, news magazines, government:

PAIS International

Covers magazines, journals, newspapers, government reports on a variety of public policy, political, and international affairs topics; includes many non-US publications

ProQuest Direct

Interdisciplinary coverage of magazines, some newspapers, scholarly journals

LexisNexis Academic

Contemporary coverage of many newspapers with fulltext; also some magazines

Other useful resources

AHA (American Historical Association) website: <http://www.historians.org>

American Memory Project: <http://www.columbia.edu/cgi-bin/cul/resolve?ANR4185>

Primary source material, speeches, photographs

Subject Guides from CU Libraries:

<http://www.columbia.edu/cu/lweb/eguides/index.html>

Look for the broad subject related to your topic for suggested print & online sources

Presidential State of the Union addresses: <http://www.gpoaccess.gov/sou/index.html>

Weekly Compilation of President Documents: <http://www.gpoaccess.gov/wcomp/>

Transcripts of presidential speeches from 1993-

Library Research Help: linked to your UWP CourseWorks page

Suggested online resources, ways to find books, etc.

Milstein Library website for University Writing webpage & Library Compass

Library tips for specific seed texts, research & writing, citing sources (MLA format)