

SECURITY ALERT

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

On December 3, 2007, at about 4 p.m., a visiting professor was accosted as she walked south on Morningside Drive near W. 113 St. The professor was attacked from behind and thrown to the ground. She began to yell for help and the suspect fled south on Morningside Drive, after attempting to pull her bag off her shoulder.

The victim was unable to provide any description of her attacker. If you have any information concerning this incident, please contact the undersigned.

When traveling on foot, be aware of your surroundings and call the police immediately if you feel threatened.

Ken Finnegan
Director of Investigations
212-854-4790
December 4, 2007