The Faculty House will be closed from Monday, April 22, through Wednesday, April 24.

During these three days, the Mailman School of Public Health will be hosting an international conference to address press- ing world health problems that will require full use of the facilities. The din- ing room, café, and lounge will be closed and the building will not be accessible to guests. The Faculty House will reopen on Thursday, April 25th for regular service.

Voltaire to Speak at SIPA April 24

On Mon., April 22nd, Mr. Leslie Voltaire, current Minister of Haitians Living Abroad and top advisor to Haitian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide, will speak at Columbia in celebration of Haiti’s bicentenary anniversary of inde- pendence. Mr. Voltaire will speak about the political strategy of the Aristide govern- ment, the political, economic, and social situations Haiti faces, and options for increased international participation in the development of Haiti.

Mr. Voltaire, a graduate of Cornell’s college of Architecture, Art and Planning, has served as a member of the Council of State, the Minister of Education, and chief aide to the president for infrastruc- ture and town planning before becoming the Minister of Haitians Living Abroad and top advisor to President Aristide. In 1984, Haiti became the first black country to gain its independence. President Aristide, who first took office in 1991, is the first president to be elected in free democratic elections.
