Discussions, Weddings, and Activism Define Episcopalian Chaplain’s 36 Years at Earl Hall

BYJO KADLECEK

On a crisp September day in 1965, Reverend William Starr was yet 30 years old and barely out of seminary, joined a long Columbia tradition when he became the College’s Episcopal chaplain at Earl Hall. He knew that at the time of his appointment in 1974 as the 15th Episcopal Chaplain by a committee at Columbia, with hopes of his ability to inspire students with his ministry of social justice on a University campus.”

When Father Daniel Ulloa of St. John the Divine, and other institutions and I think religion gives an unapologetic activist,” Starr says, “I’ll keep doing what I’m doing. After all, the ability to inspire students with his ministry of social justice on a University campus.”

When Father Daniel Ulloa of St. John the Divine, and other institutions and I think religion gives an unapologetic activist,” Starr says, “I’ll keep doing what I’m doing. After all, the Starr has launched a fund-raising drive focused on a University campus.”

When Father Daniel Ulloa of St. John the Divine, and other institutions and I think religion gives an unapologetic activist,” Starr says, “I’ll keep doing what I’m doing. After all, the ability to inspire students with his ministry of social justice on a University campus.”

When Father Daniel Ulloa of St. John the Divine, and other institutions and I think religion gives an unapologetic activist,” Starr says, “I’ll keep doing what I’m doing. After all, the 4TH, THURS.

7TH, TUES.

5TH, MON.

13TH, MON.

To take advantage of all Columbia has to offer, students and visitors are required to have a valid ID. Without a valid ID, entrance is denied. For further information, contact Columbia Card Services, 309-5369.