Family Weekend 2001 Gives Students and Faculty an Opportunity to Impress

Kathy Eden, Mark Van Doren Professor of Humanities, above, gave parents a sense of their children’s undergraduate experience during the First-year Family Weekend from Oct. 5-6. The event was sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs for Columbia College and the Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science. Below left, Columbia College Dean Austin Quigley talks with parents, as does Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science Dean Zvi Galil, below right.

At left, students put artistic work on display for parents outside the entrance to Roone Arledge Auditorium in Alfred Lerner Hall. Above, the warm autumn weather made Morningside campus an especially inviting place for parents and students to spend time catching-up.
