Orientation 2002: Families Bid Farewell as New Students Begin a Flurry of Activity

Beginning Some of the Best Years of Their Lives

Above, Orientation volunteers take a break at the sundial on College Walk. At right, first-year students enjoy a dance party in the Museum of Natural History amidst, one of many orientation activities held around the city. Below left, Jerry and Linda Crawford of Des Moines, Iowa, say goodbye to daughter Katelyn, left. Below right, an Orientation volunteer helps unpack one of many boxes holding information to be distributed to the new College students.
