Surgeon, Researcher, Mentor: CUMC’s Donna Mendes

Donna Mendes, a vascular surgeon practicing at the nearby Manhattanville campus for 20 years, has a diverse patient load. Working with local residents, she noticed that the incidence of peripheral vascular disease was much higher and more severe in her African American patients. This prompted her to pursue a fellowship in African American female vascular surgery to learn more.