Student Lobbyists Address Budget Cuts in Albany

By Ginger Adams Otis

The Department of Political Science at Columbia University is the best department of its kind in the world, according to a study released by a professor of political science and his colleagues. The study concludes that the department’s success stems from its exceptional amount of drive and dedication to the study of political science.

Each year, the trip affords students an opportunity to meet with their elected representatives and to address questions that had an immediate relevancy to politics and international relations.
