

PLATE 10

Piloceras explanator* Whitfield

A nearly complete siphuncle showing above a cast of the endosiphuncone covered by the last endosiphosheath [see pl.13, fig.1] and below the exterior of the siphuncle with the very obliquely passing fracture lines of the septa along their flexures in the endosiphuncle. The numbers correspond to the sections made through this siphuncle and reproduced on plate 11. Natural size

The original from the Beekmantown beds at Fort Cassin Vt. (collected by C. Rominger 1888)
