My Spring Break

I felt as though Spring Break passed by too quickly. I originally planned many activities, but there simply was not enough time to do all the things I wanted to do. I did not see the classmates and friends from high school who I wanted to see.

I bought many things that I needed. For the most part, I worked at Barnard because it was my first time earning money from a job. My parents missed me very much because this is my first year in college, so they are not used to my not living at home. Because they miss me, I visit them every couple of days to spend time with them, almost every week.

I did not have the opportunity to go to other colleges to visit my friends at their schools and see how it was like in other colleges. However, I'm not too upset because I had the opportunity to rest my body and was not so tired anymore.

I also went to a Jazz Club downtown. The music was very pleasant to listen to. Because I like to play the drums, I paid special attention to the drummer. Although I did not read the books I wanted to read, I saw some movies.

I have a lot of homework, so my Spring Break was a little busy. The most important thing is sleep, during the school year I do not get enough sleep. If only I could sleep enough, my Spring Break was a good one.
