TRIPER'S MEDAL TO NEGRO STUDENT

The Board of Education Finds a Winner in a West Indian Night Pup.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION has awarded the Tripier Medal to a West Indian night pupil, the first time the honor has been bestowed on a student of this race. The medal is given to the student who has the highest average in the night school. The winner is a young man named [Name obscured] who has been attending the night school for several years. He has a very high average and has been a very good student. The board of education is proud to have a student of this race win the Tripier Medal. This is a great honor and a great credit to the student and his family. The board of education is sure that this student will continue to do well in his studies and will be a great help to his community.

WALKING IN THE PARK
 A young man was walking in the park when he saw a woman who was very beautiful. He went up to her and asked her name. She told him her name and he asked her if she would like to go to a party with him. She said yes and they went to the party together. They had a very good time and they were very happy. The young man was very lucky to meet the woman and they are now a couple.

I had never before seen it used in this way. It was a new word, or at least a new meaning for an old word. I was curious to know what it meant. I looked it up in the dictionary, but I found nothing. ## The Sunrise Club

RAY TOBAC AND CHICK TOAST

The Sunrise Club is a dining society and it meets each three weeks and two weeks, alternately. The speaker presents his or her view of the announced question in three thirty to forty minute, the happy means usually prepared. There have been several speeches of about seven minutes each, after which the speaker closes the discussion. Occasionally, instead, there is a debate between two, sometimes again, there are symposiums. (In all cases, although the wider range of opinion is usually welcomed, but sticks to the subject, if you can.)

AN THE DUST

By Florence Noyse Hart

Illustrated by MAY WELLS PRITZER

During the two months since the first outbreak of influenza young David Cameron wanted to know why he had not been able to catch the disease. He was sure that when some of his friends had been taken down by the influenza he would have been taken down by it, too. He was sure that he would have been taken down by it, too. He was sure that he would have been taken down by it, too.

Among the many interesting questions that a visitor to Boston has to ask himself is: How did they do with the health?

But this is hardly by way of argument. It would be to ask Cameron's health to be taken care of.

It is a question of health. It is a question of health. It is a question of health. It is a question of health.

Whatever that lady had been doing when the first onset had set in, was not the point. She was not to be blamed for it. She was not to be blamed for it. She was not to be blamed for it.

From the first onset of the disease, she was not to be blamed for it. She was not to be blamed for it. She was not to be blamed for it.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

New Trend in Salesmanship

By Floyd W. Parsons

A RECENTLY noted tendency in the world today is to sell and sell and sell. The "new" of the world today, that is, the new and the new, is being advertised and sold in every possible way. The new and the new, is being advertised and sold in every possible way. The new and the new, is being advertised and sold in every possible way.

The cause of modernity has been the idea that it is a professional business, with its own standards, its own methods, its own ethics, its own code of conduct. It is a business that is not to be run on a haphazard basis, but on a systematic and planned basis.

The young man who would succeed in the new world must understand the psychology of the customer. He must know what the customer wants, and he must know how to get it. He must know how to sell, and he must know how to handle the customer.

The manager must be able to handle the customer. He must be able to understand the customer's needs and desires. He must be able to sell the customer on the value of the product. He must be able to handle the customer's objections and complaints.

It is not enough to have a good product. It is not enough to have a good price. It is not enough to have a good location. It is not enough to have a good reputation. It is not enough to have a good service. It is not enough to have a good delivery. It is not enough to have a good return policy.

The manager must be able to handle the customer. He must be able to understand the customer's needs and desires. He must be able to sell the customer on the value of the product. He must be able to handle the customer's objections and complaints.

The manager must be able to handle the customer. He must be able to understand the customer's needs and desires. He must be able to sell the customer on the value of the product. He must be able to handle the customer's objections and complaints.

Dignity of the Flag Upheld

Customer Fined for Displaying Emblems of 10 by 16 Inches

For the first time in the history of the city's new flag regulations, a customer was fined for displaying an emblem of the new flag. The emblem in question was a 10 by 16 inch flag, which is the size of the new flag. The customer was fined for displaying the emblem in a public place.

The development of eight-cylinder plants and product is certain that Perless would forge further to the front than ever in his history. It is precisely what has happened—that is why you are increasingly conscious every day of the progress, the power, and the power of Perless.

Perless of today is the Perless of the new generation. Perless excellence will endorse itself more and more upon your attention, as you hear from day and day the delighted reports of enthusiastic owners in all parts of the country.

The two factors—a beautifully balanced and built-up chassis, and a

Minneapolis Motorizes Its Road Making

The "Caterpillar" field of activities is by no means limited to building streets and roads. The "Caterpillar" of size and capacity for every power need. On farm or ranch, in the mill, oil and lumber business, for more removal and other civic work wherever power and endurance are at a premium, the "Caterpillar" has no real competitor.

With 16 boulevards winding along the shores of blue lakes, its magnificent park system, its miles of cool, shaded residential streets, Minneapolis is winning the admiration of all visitors as well as that of park and street officials in other cities.

Justly proud of these splendid civic improvements, Minneapolis officials are equally proud of their "Caterpillar" Tractors which have proved so indispensable in carrying out the City's plans. Motorization of its road equipment has been expanded since 1919, with continuous purchases until Minneapolis now operates a fleet of nine "Caterpillars."

Assistant City Engineer W. J. Walsh

There is but one "Caterpillar" that builds it. The name was originated by this Company, and its practical use is everywhere in the U. S. Patent Office and its practitioners every country of the world. Inventions will be prosecuted.
