PUBLISHED BY THE CLASSES OF 1960

AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOLS OF GERMANY AND FRANCE

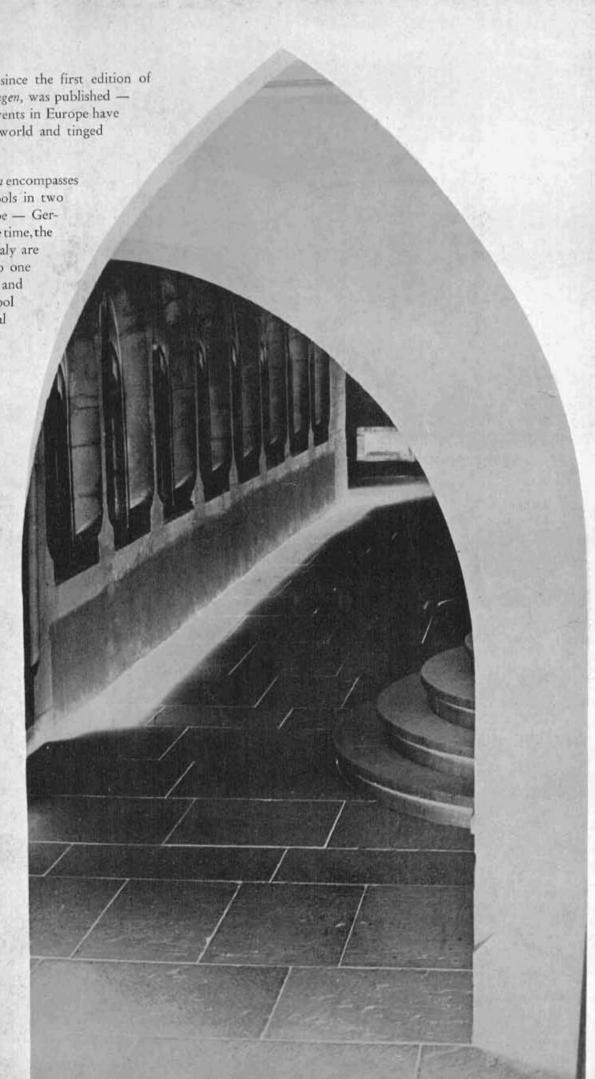

Introduction

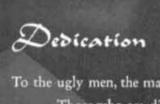

Twelve years have passed since the first edition of our yearbook, the Erinnerungen, was published — twelve years in which the events in Europe have colored the history of the world and tinged our personal fates.

This year, 1960, Erinnerungen encompasses sixteen American high schools in two different countries in Europe — Germany and France. At the same time, the American high schools in Italy are combining their efforts into one volume entitled Tesoretto, and Munich American High School is developing an individual yearbook. Although the Erinnerungen is now published in several separate volumes, this by no means separates our purpose.

Erinnerungen each year attempts to portray the life of American students in Europe: the typical events of a school day and the impressions made upon us by our host nations. Its ultimate purpose is to forever tie our relationship together with a bond of mutual understanding.

Susan Eckert

To the ugly men, the malcontents:

Those who are dissatisfied, iconoclasts, Those who destroy the cherished norm;

To the heretics, revolutionaries, rebels:

The eccentrics who fight for their eccentricities, The men who have died, and will die, for an idea;

To these gadflies of our lethargy,

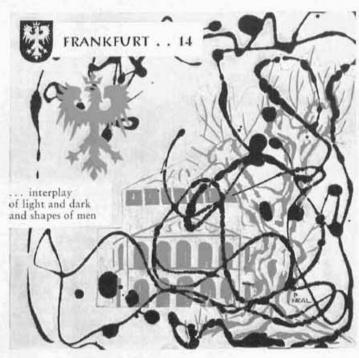

Who open new directions, prod us along new paths,

Who preserve the individual dignity of the uncommon man;

We dedicate this book.

There is more here than a finger pointing out a gothic church; more here than a group of young Americans seeking the twists of a willage road or making casual comments about the local Gasthaus — what is here is the root of universal understanding growing out of the soil of participating in living traditions.

The same hand that tightly grasped the lunch pail and the crayon; that dipped into paste, raised up to question and answer, and erased the blackboards — that held the book open for the eyes to remember THE RED BALLOON — that same hand has created the many-faceted story of a year at the Mannheim American High School.

Within the circle of being educated in Germany or France or Italy are those vital school contributions to the pleasure of high school life: the exuberance of the game, the intensity of the discussion, the silence of being awed by the answer. We have found time for many types of associations between other American schools within our school organization as well as the schools within the host nations in which we live and play and study.

ALL HIGH SCHOOL OPPORTUNITIES

This two volume publication of the yearbook containing the stories of sixteen high schools is only one combined expression of our high school students. There are many other cooperative adventures that bring into focus students from all the twenty high schools in Germany, France,

Italy and North Africa.

Along with the high school music programs, athletic tournaments, science fairs, leadership programs and yearbook conferences there are both regional and school-wide art and crafts exhibitions, student exchanges within the foreign language programs between host nations schools and the American schools as well as many other unique activities completing a wide range of enriching experiences. These offerings are provided to create a more individual participation in the educational processes while living in the European environment.

THE USAREUR SCIENCE FAIR program is a means of stimulating interest in the science curriculum for both German and American students and public. The program provides excellent motivation for out-of-class study and more intensive and extensive participation in creative work.

Two hundred and seventy students from USAREUR schools in Germany, France and Italy and including representatives from Navy schools in Italy gathered at Heidelberg American High School, 17 through 19 March, 1960, to display their prize winning science projects.

The USAREUR Science Fair included projects representing every major area of science entered by students from grades five through twelve. Thre grand prize winners, pictured here in a Stars and Stripes photograph, Lucy McCartan of Verdun American High School, Verdun, France and Robert L. Matoy of Heidelberg American High School, Heidelberg, Germany, accompanied by Mr. Harold Price, Science Fair Director, received an all-expense paid trip to exhibit their projects in the National Science Fair at Indianapolis, Indiana.

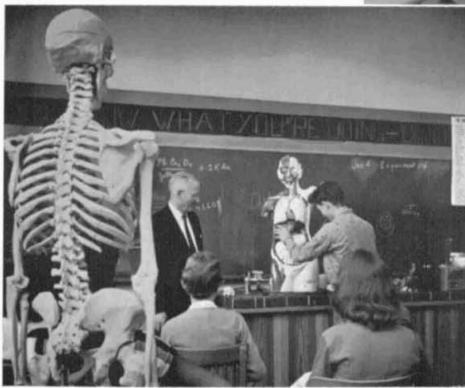

MUSIC PROGRAMS may vary from school to school, year to year, but essentially the joy of group and individual musical experiences created within the framework of Europe, from where so much of our musical heritage grows, does not vary. Pictured above is the Stuttgart American High School orchestra with Mr. Robert Rue, teacher-director. Mr. Rue, like many music teachers, combined the choir, girls chorus, band and string orchestra for musical programs presented in and out of the school. In March, the Maddy arrangement of "God of Our Fathers" was presented by such a combination at Stuttgart.

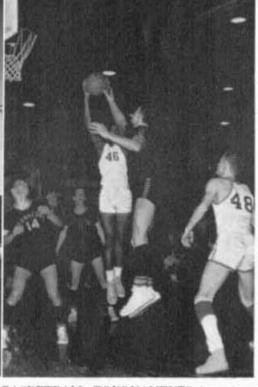

In France, another music program of distinction was co-presented at the Paris American High School: at Christmas time the combined choruses of the Vocal Ensemble, "A Coeur Joie", of the Paris area; "L'Orchestre Philharmonique" from Puteaux near Paris, and the Madrigal Singers of the Paris American High School under the direction of Mr. Robert Oliveira, music teacher, presented the "Gloria" by the 18th Century composer, Antonio Vivaldi. Everywhere music is being offered, the opportunities are limited only by the range of the instructor.

ART AND CRAFTS programs in the USAREUR high schools are in the unique position of not only being able to utilize the many-faceted traditions within the art, crafts and architecture of all of Europe, but also have a contemporary scene with which to be concerned. The art activities in Europe within the past ten to twelve years have continued, in many areas, to be practical arts. Below are Ann Matheny, Jay Stires and Mark Weakley, students of Mr. Jack South at Munich American High School, who are shown drawing and working on linoleum prints which were planned (as seen on the left) into a calendar. The linoleum cuts were taken to a local Munich printer who printed them into the calendar form. The calendars then were sold by the students to offset the printing costs. Some were given to German schools as a part of a larger German-American student art exchange, traditionally a part of the art and crafts program in many American schools in Europe.

AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS AND TECHNIQUES can teach more to more people and in less time. Students and teachers in the USAREUR schools, like their counterparts throughout the world, are faced with rapidly expanding school and classroom enrollments, increased subject matter, and a growing responsibility to adequately prepare for a more complex and technological society. In order to meet these responsibilities, our schools continue to adopt a variety of communication devices that strengthen the teaching-learning process in the classroom — such as motion pictures, filmstrips, tape and phonograph recordings, study-prints, specimens, charts, maps, globes, and models similar to the human torso and skeleton used during one of the biology classes in the Karlsruhe American High School.

ALL-USAREUR BASKETBALL TOURNAMENTS have been an essential part of the health and physical education program in the high schools. This year the USAREUR high school basketball tournament crown was captured by Frankfurt High School with a 48-41 victory at the finals in the Sports Arena in Mannheim, Germany. Andy Woods (46, above) was a big man for Stuttgart under the boards although the Stallion bid to capture the USAREUR top position petered out in the last period. Woods got rebound competition from Frankfurt's Erik Friberg (in air) and Don Ransom (14) during this hotly contested match. This title victory gave Coach George Ausra's Frankfurt Eagles a 14-0 mark for the year, while runner-up Stuttgart finished 15-2.

TO THE 1960 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES:

It is a distinct pleasure to extend my sincere congratulations to all graduates of the high schools in USAREUR.

Your successful completion of the secondary school program is the goal toward which you have been striving for several years. Either as a member of a military family or by close association with the military, your attainment of this goal has been more challenging than that of your contemporaries in the United States; for you have made frequent moves with consequent adjustments to different conditions, and to new teachers, friends and school systems. Because of this unusual circumstance, however, the rewards which have come to you are necessarily the richer and more beneficial.

While in Europe you have had the enviable opportunity to travel, to learn European history, customs and traditions first-hand, and to live among people who speak a language other than our own. These opportunities have not only broadened your experience, but coupled with your adaptability to meet so many new situations, have helped you to acquire a solid background for international understanding, while at the same time better preparing you for adult citizenship.

Congratulations on achieving this major milestone in your life, and my very best wishes for continued success in the future.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY DEPENDENTS' SCHOOLS IN EUROPE

On May 4, 1946 the Army established its dependents' school program in Europe. At that time, 3,087 pupils were enrolled in kindergartens, elementary and secondary schools. This year enrollments grew to a total of 59,558 in grades kindergarten through 12, as of 18 December 1959. Over 2,400 Americans and 350 local nationals were employed to staff the 117 schools operated in Germany, France, Italy and Ethiopia. The US Army Dependents' Education Group is the operating agency for the Army schools in Europe. The school headquarters in located in Karlsruhe, Germany. A civilian director administers the program assisted by a staff of educational specialists and military personnel. The schools are divided into seven districts each under the general supervision of a superintendent. The 19 high schools are afforded accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. An inspection of the schools is made regularly to ensure that high standards are maintained. Schools are equipped with modern teathing aids and textbooks. A wide range of curriculum offerings is provided to meet the needs of individual students. This yearbook is one illustration of the extracurricular opportunities offered.

THE CURRICULUM SECTION of the Dependents' Education Group Schools has established a sound educational philosophy of American public school education with standard curricula and school practices appropriate to the time, grade levels and local school environment. The DEG Curriculum Supervisor, under the administrative supervision of the Deputy Director of Education, works in close cooperation with the Elementary Schools Coordinator and the Secondary Schools Coordinator and the several curriculum specialists on the Headquarters staff. Among many policy duties, the curriculum specialists, in cooperation with principals, district school specialists and teachers, plan and construct grade and high school teachers' guides and courses of study for classroom teacher use. Five curriculum specialists on the Headquarters staff work in the following subject areas of both the elementary and secondary schools: mathematics and science, health and physical education, foreign languages, art and crafts, and music. The social studies, the language arts and the extra curricular subjects are the general responsibility of the coordinators, the curriculum specialists and the curriculum supervisor. The DEG high schools are approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

They were the God seekers, Theirs was quiet death.

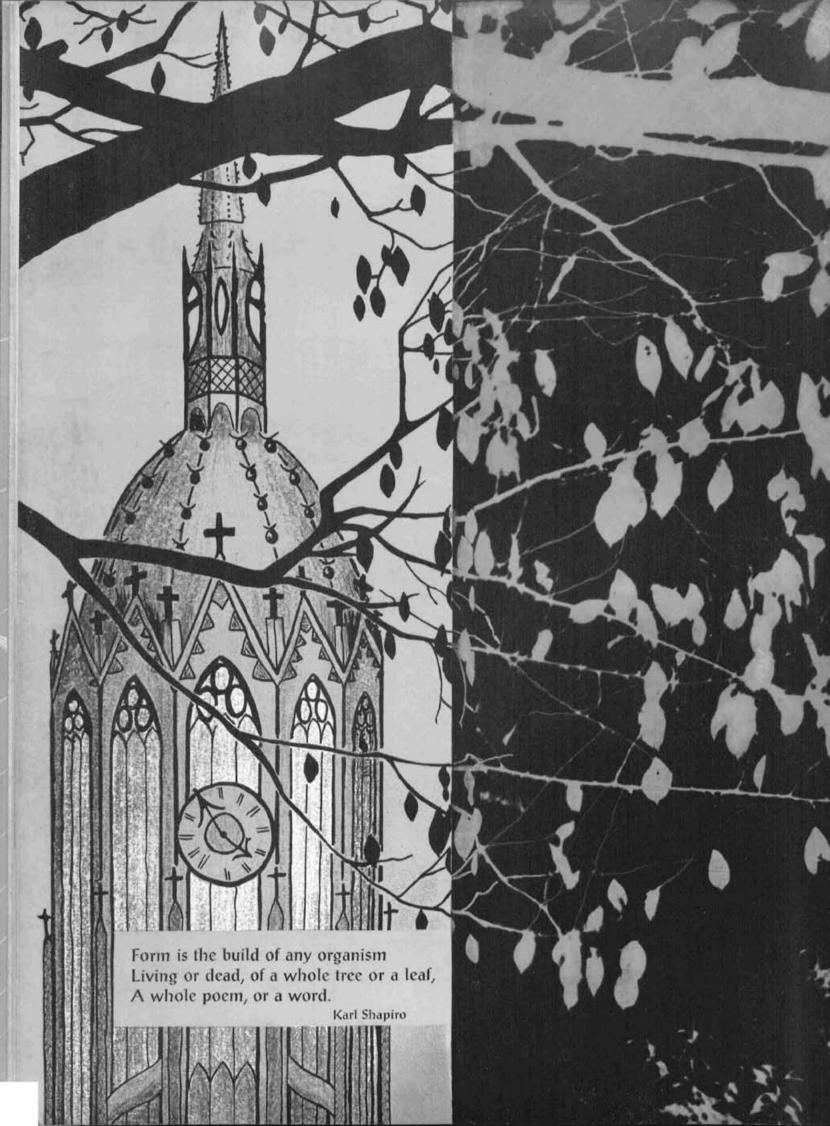

Now fools walk in the mist of the cloister—
a facade of windows opening into the light, each the same, each revealing a different world—
They seek to escape the brightness or the dark in alternating arches,
In the despicable shielding stone ribs of grayness.
Fool! Hear! Walk as a man, without protection—

Fool! . . .
The irregular rough flagstones connect the paths leading back to the arch.

Yearning curve leading somewhere through space-less time —
Eternity of patterned stone,
Molding the life of all within —
Silence in stone
Strength in granite
Hardness of inexorable rock.
The paths lead away from tangent desires,

The paths lead away from tangent desires,
From shame—ignorance—
nil . . .
Men live and die apart,
within their hermitages,
Light patterns falling on their up-turned faces,
Eyes seeking out the imponderables.

From all things—individuals, groups, places, times—shapes emerge: the shadows, patterns, and designs of life itself.

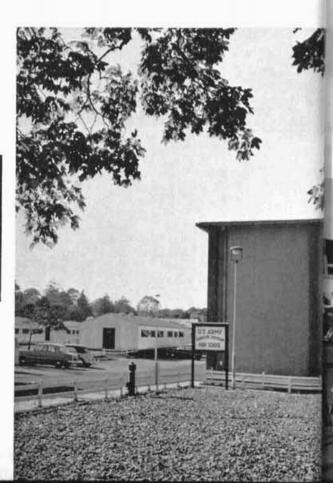

Yet within these outlines, structure also exists: elemental form, essential composition and character: the vital backbone. As the various experiences of our education help shape our lives and enable us to approach a better understanding of the fundamental order in nature, so we - in part - will help shape and mold the future. Here are some of these shapes and forms of Frankfurt.

We remember the familiar kiosk, darkened corridors, leaves on grass, a flag. From the quiet library to the jammed cafeteria there is a steady flow of life and a succession of sounds and shapes. For some, the pensive aspect of a classroom listening to the voice of a teacher epitomizes what school means; others find it in the shifting outlines of the 4 o'clock rush to the buses, a vibrant throng at a basketball game, or the rhythmic flow of dancers at a prom. All of these are a part of the Frankfurt we know and will remember.

The first buses arriving in the low, early-morning sunlight and silhouettes in the deserted halls contrast with the mobs crowding the bulletin boards which list homeroom assignments on the first day of school.

To write a verse on shape or form Removes one from his usual norm; I've tried so hard, but I cannot Produce a work from jumbled thought.

To shape these letters And form a "pome" -Such strict requirements Strain my dome. My thought-racked brain And leaden eyes Condemn this verse:

The quatrain dies. I hope that I shall never have to write A verse much worse than this I've done tonight.

 A skeleton, a spectre, and a ghost, Its black-gray, smoke-gray granite form Sits stolidly in its rank plot, An open grave.

I look upon it, its dark, poor, eclectic style, Which death has granted dignity. I look upon it, and its row of arches – Arches flowing, bending into arches, Flowing at last into the clean white fog . . .

II. Over all the blasted hulk
The dedication,
A defaced, cracked, and broken thing,
Proclaims the all that might have been, and was,
"Dem Wahren, Schoenen, Guten",
Mozart, and a grim December day . . .
The fire-music, and a whistling bomb . . .

The vacant eyes of the blind ruin Stare at wet cobblestones; Rain brushes across its pitted face, And lights reflect on its emptiness. Remembering the past night When it swelled with light and song, It sighs and settles back To await the decree of this new era, Hoping, perhaps, for its truth restored, its beauty renewed, its goodness continued -

A new structure Built on the foundation of the old.

An archway flung against the sky, Creation of an ancient's hand, A gothic choir's fluted form -These are the shapes of man.

The deep and boundless sweep of space Where countless incandescents nod Like crystal gems in a snow-drop's crown -These are the shapes of God.

Intoxicated by form, obsessed with shape, Those trivial, futile, concepts always used; We crave to know, but really dare not seek, And never see.

We writhe and whine and wring and writhe but wither, We stride and strive and swing and stride and wither, But never see.

We search for shape, elude the search for love -The always formless, too bright, frightening core -We crawl before our clay and iron idols And never know.

We shape and shape and shape but shatter We form and form and form and shatter But never know

Oh, to be sure, the sky is the same:

Blue, or sometimes gray -

Tall, willowy, or

But not to me.

The trees are still the same:

Neon signs, bright and gay Light the charcoal darkness. They are all the same -The same to others -

For I have learned to see.

Short and bent by tumultuous life.

Ochre leaves fall steadily to the ground,

discovery of a secret place

Mea culpa Mea culpa Mea culpa

Vague identity is lost in the ringing silence of the cathedral;
The holiness is in the smell
And in the musky colored half-light
The holiness is in each bowed figure
Each life, each essence subjugating itself,
The holiness is in the height,
In the spirals far far above,
And in the maze of old relics.

Kyrie Eleison

Upward . . . Kneel and bow down
The hushed shapes
Gesticulate silently at the altar.
Faint bells call to prayer, –
Calling the tiny, pale figures
Under the high vaulted arches . . .
Silently moving lips
The mingling shadows toward heaven
Of prayers and lighted candles . . .

Dominus vobiscum Pax vobiscum

And the tinkling bells summon.

stood alone in the top of the old gray cathedral and saw the sprawled city moving distantly below. I saw the sun and the white moon, I saw the wind in the sky, and far out I divined the ocean. . . After a time I slowly turned and wound my way down the spiraled stairs, whispering goodbye to the metal bells, goodbye to the peaceful height, to the calm and soothing lethargy. . . When at last I reached the bottom, and stepped into the frantic street I felt the moving city snatch me, and choke me, in prosaic dust.

Frankfurt's 1960 Varsity spared no one in its starting nine contests by decisively smashing each of its Northern League rivals. The speedy, yet tall, Eagle hoopmen, led by Coach George Ausra, so out-classed their opponents that Frankfurt was assured of grasping its eighth championship crown.

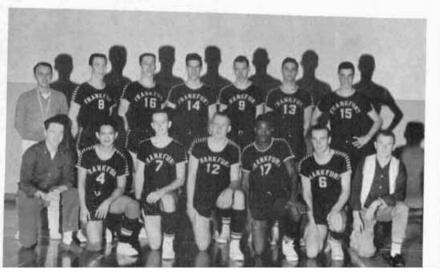

Forward Don Ransom and center Eric Friberg netted top scoring honors for the Eagle cagers at mid-season with Ransom hitting a 21-point average and Friberg swishing 15 per game. Other starting members for the Frankfurt five include forward Fred Hacker and guards Tony Morris and Mark Guiang.

The Eagles displayed their unequalled power when they travelled to Bremerhaven to score a record-setting 94—45 win over a stunned Blackhawk squad. The Big "D", Don Ransom, added another USAREUR record to Frankfurt's growing list by breaking the individual scoring record with a fantastic 37 points.

With the season's color and excitement now over, Frankfurt rooters can glance back on numerous sore throats, red hands, and spirited performances — for it was a basketball year with many treasured victories and memories.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity, Coached by Mr. Charles Baudo, added greatly to Frankfurt's winning ways by coming out on top in eight of their first nine clashes. Starting with a hardfought win at Wiesbaden which they won 34-32, the JV Eagles defeated K-Town 29-18 and then erupted with a powerhouse of strength in the following seven games to total 272 points against their opponents' 74. The big game for the JV cagers was their 72-3 win at Berlin which established a new USAR EUR record. Despite mid-season moves of two JV stars to Varsity, the Baudo-men finished their season with the success and promise that make future Varsity teams.

Big Don Ransom jumps high to hook another two points for the Eagle cause.

Co-captains Tony Morris and Eric Friberg watch Coach Ausra chalk a new play.

TENNIS TEAM

Frankfurt's fall team entered the USAREUR High School Tennis Tournament in Stuttgart, October 8, 1959. The Eagles took second place in the Boy's Doubles, but unfortunately lost their USAREUR championship. The spring tennis team will enter the USAREUR Tournament in Wiesbaden, and another school tournament. Miss Wilson and the Eagle tennis players are hoping for a spring victory.

Frankfurt's 1959 golf team, under the direction of Mr. George Ausra, entered the All-School Tournament at Stuttgart, October 5. The Eagles tied for second place in team score.

Frankfurt's hopes for next year depend on Kurt Swanson, who was considered the best all-around player for Frankfurt in 1959, and his future teammates.

As the Eagle golfers look on, Kurt Swanson tees off.

Anchorman MacNaughton wins the 800-meter relay.

1959 TRACK CHAMPIONS

Frankfurt's 1959 track team, known all over Europe as one of the best, won the USAREUR track championship for the second consecutive year.

The Eagles broke three records at the Nürnberg finals. Mike McNaughton, three sport man, presently in college on an athletic scholarship, ran the 100-meter dash in a record time of 11.0 seconds. Jeff Lickteig, a junior now living in the States, threw the discus 145 feet 4 inches to shatter the old mark by 10 feet. Roosevelt Hill, still at Frankfurt, pole-vaulted 10 feet 934 inches to break the old record of 10 feet 9 inches set by another Frankfurt Eagle, Larry Richardson.

Not to be forgotten are the other members of the team, who, with the three mentioned above, took first at the Finals in the pole vault, discus, shot-put, 100-meter dash, 200-meter dash, 400-meter dash, 800-meter relay, and 1600-meter relay, and other places in every event.

The excellent spirit of the team and their outstanding sportmanship under the expert guidance of Mr. Jerome Buxkemper must be remembered.

A YEAR

September

The age of Heidelberg is found In the rushing river's sound Of life released in water's song As centuries passed along.

Time is marked in every street

By the passing of our feet.

Time is held in wood of Birch

And in the stone of ancient church.

The snow that fell from Winter's sky
Watched an hour, a day go by.
The golden sun of Summer's day
Watched a season pass away.

We have captured here, in part, Time recorded by the heart.

The Student Prints, under the direction of Miss Kay, worked hard this year to keep the up-to-date news in the public eye. One of the big events of the year was the printed issue of the Student Prints that came out in May as a tribute to the departing Seniors. To help finance this big issue, all the students paid a small amount for each newspaper during the year.

Winter came—I put summer away in my memory and watched Time gather the green and golden hues of nature. Now my pleasure was in seeing a cheek whipped red by the wind, dreaming before the multi-colors of a warm fire, or watching gentle flakes of snow blanket the ground. The gray sky was rarely blessed by the rays of the sun, and the frosty air settled over every living thing. The world of nature seems to sleep during this season.

The Choir, under the direction of Mr. Sanderson, has added much to our assemblies throughout the year. They presented the programs both at Thanksgiving and at Christmas. In the spring the Choir will participate in many German-American activities and in the annual Choir Festival.

BAND

Our assemblies, programs, and sports were made melodious by the stirring and spirited music of the school band and orchestra.

Miss Lentz and her band were kept continually busy during the football season with rehearsals of the music to be played at the pep assemblies and the football games.

Christmas would not have been Christmas without the annual senior formal. This year the Crystal Ball, fondly called the Zodiac Blast, was held December 6 at the Casino. The glamour and grandeur of the dance will long be remembered.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

It has been said of life that three things are necessary for personal

- 1. Can you entertain yourself?
- 2. Can you entertain others?
- 3. Can you entertain an idea?

The meaning goes beyond a surface attempt at popularity or superficial learning. What is needed is scholarship beyond that demanded by the school, leadership because others choose you to be their leader, interest because you are creatively using your talents, hence you will be interesting to know. The National Honor Society so honors those who achieve, those who show evidence of honest purpose.

Spring introduces the age-old traditional competition of track and field inherited from the Greek civilization. This gives the individual a chance to excel in special events, thus developing and testing his skill, endurance, speed and co-ordination.

The Heidelberg High Junior-Senior Prom, the Junior Class's annual sendoff for the Seniors, was held in the Heidelberg Schloss on the 21st of May.

Throughout history man's progress has been advanced by key discoveries — the arch, the compass, the potter's wheel to name but a few.
By today's education we benefit from the vast heritage of the past and prepare to make our

Time does not heal

We, as seniors, always look back on the memories of our high school days from our first hours as freshmen to our last and final steps as we march down the aisle to graduate.

These are never to be forgotten memories. The class of '60 has offered us much — our plans for senior privileges; the hard work and long hours spent on the senior play, Father of the Bride; the beautiful Christmas formal, Twilight and Tinsel; and our many plans for future events.

But our thoughts don't stop there. There are the plans for many years ahead of us. Varied as they may be and scattered as we may be, there is always the memory of a senior year.

Part of our memories are of the guidance of a wonderful teaching staff. The class of '60 has led the school with the aid of the finest senior sponsors — Mr. David Pickerill, Mr. Frank Mills, Miss Nell Bounds, Mr. Ray Chandler, and Miss Angela Frascona. Now, as we separate, we will always look back — and remember; for memory is one of our greatest powers.

Mr. David Pickerill, chief senior sponsor, expounds on government.

This year's junior class has had many key events. The first one was the election of class officers. We also played a key role during the football and basketball seasons by selling candy, cokes and pretzels during the games. Our efficient class secretary was soon busy with the task of collecting for our class rings. The juniors then began earning the needed money for the Prom, which everyone agreed was a perfect grand finale to the whole year.

The juniors have shown themselves in leadership, scholarship, and citizenship. Two varsity cheerleaders, one junior varsity cheerleader, and one majorette were juniors. A junior boy held the position of vice-president of the student council; a junior girl was a disc jockey on our school radio show.

To Miss Maluta Read, our chief sponsor, and to Mrs. Eileen Merchant, Miss Lois Day, Mr. Byron Nevilier, Mr. Donald Meyer, Miss Ruth Aucker, and Mr. Cornielius Domenick we owe thanks for making this junior year a memorable one.

FRESHMEN

After eight years of apprenticeship, members of the Freshman Class entered high school this year expecting almost any and every form of initiation. We were greatly relieved when informed that no initiations would be allowed. However, we have bowed respectfully before the "mighty seniors" and the other upper classmen in fourteen clubs.

We contributed a float as our part of the homecoming festivities and our efforts were rewarded with the second prize. For all the classes we planned a sock hop.

Mr. Root, our chief sponsor, and Miss Taylor, Mrs. Lukeman, Mr. Houghton, and Mr. Reimann spent many hours helping us to reach our goal — to be the best Freshman Class this school has ever seen!

We, the Freshman Class, respectfully salute the Seniors and wish them great success in the future.

A freshman grins and bears it under a staggering load of weighty text-books.

Mr. Root, chief sponsor of the Freshman class, introduces a student to the mysteries of an algebra equation.

Spell Erinnerungen, class.

The Junior High presents a modern facade.

On rising ground overlooking the Vogelweh Housing Area, stands Kaiserslautern Junior High School. Its commanding view of the surrounding countryside is symbolic of the widening vistas in education being offered its students as they progress from elementary school toward higher education.

Looking to the west is a wide horizon, and on it can be clearly seen the senior high school. The seventh and eighth grade years spent here are essential keys with which to unlock the meaningful experiences of senior high life.

LIFE

The day really gets under way as we show our art ability.

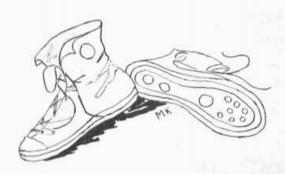

Do we or don't we dress, Miss Bond?

The day begins with, "Look out for falling books!" Clunk!

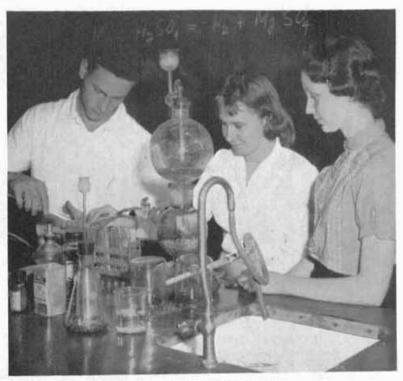

Beware of future games!

Hmmm, Playboy or Scientific American?

Tomorrow let's try splitting an atom.

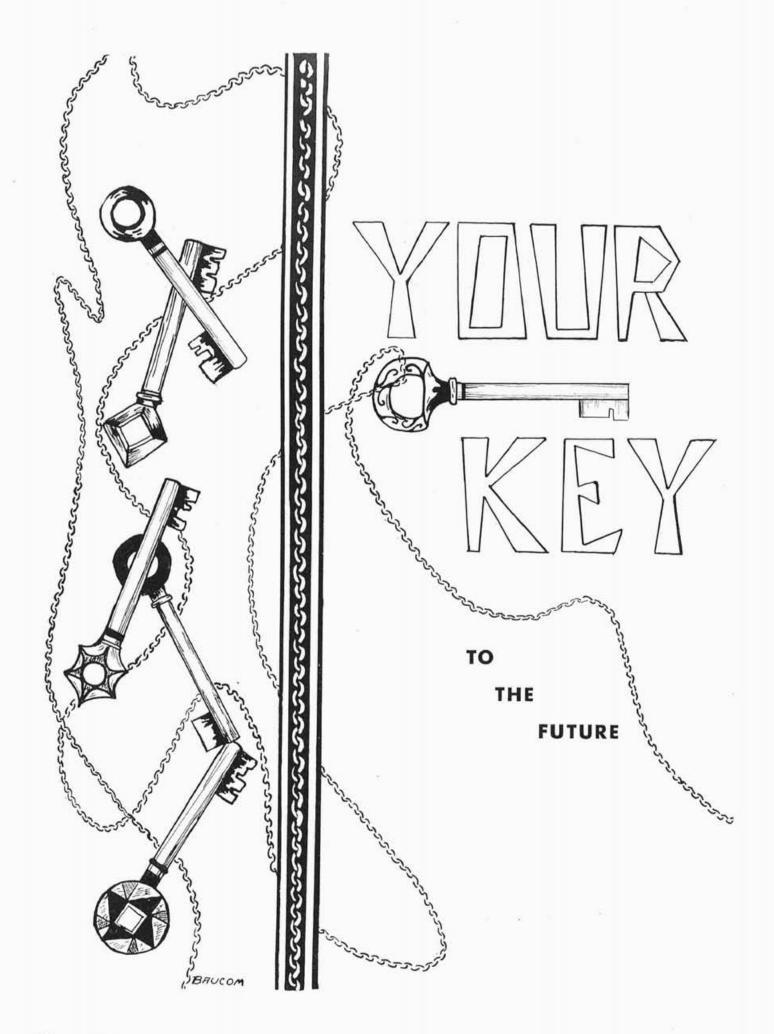

What other books should I take home?

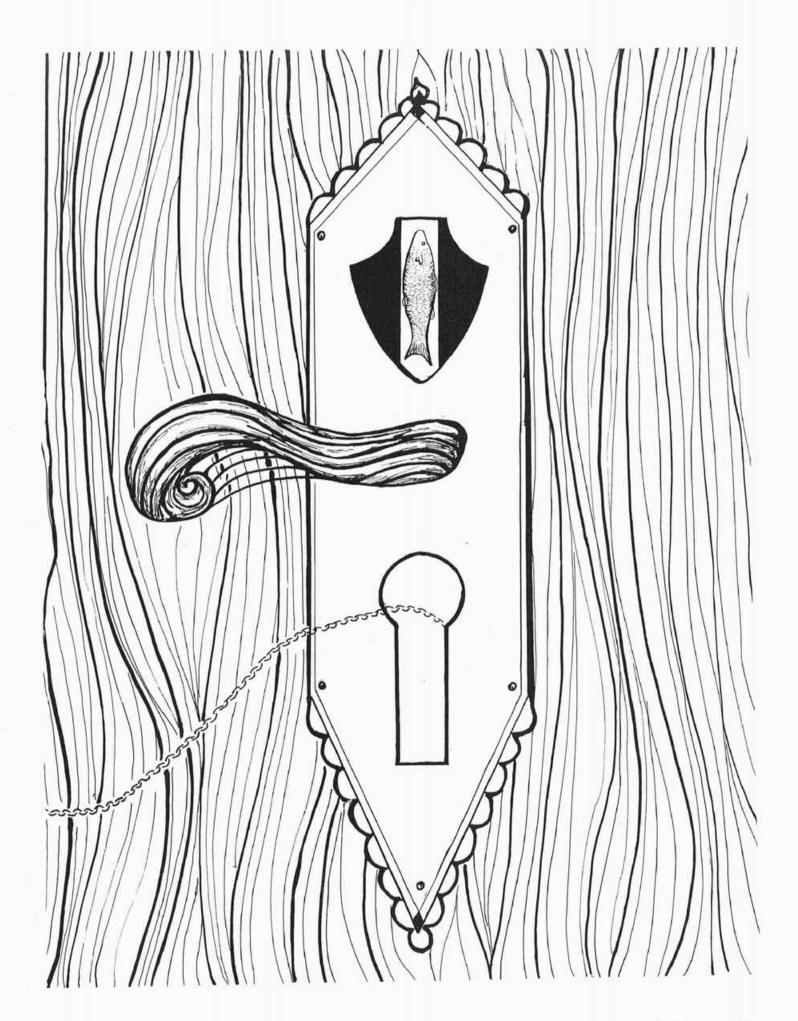

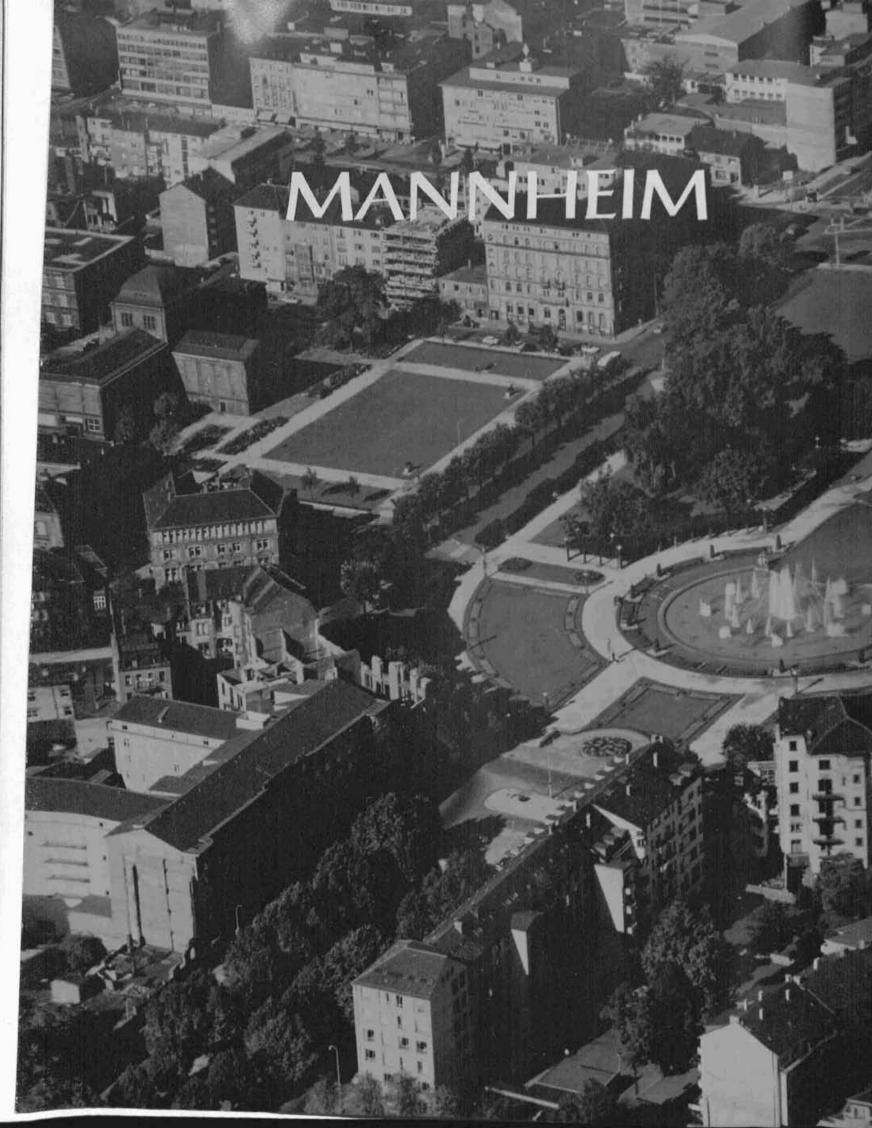

The future lies ahead.

Yes, the juture lied ahead, but it is a product of the past. School life in 1960 has offered a wide variety of activities. The classes elections, homework, clubs, games, and dances have all contributed keys of understanding with which to unlock the mysteries of the coming years. Our pages mirror this year's sum of experiences.

AND SO HERE IS...

SENIORS

As we stand on the threshold of maturity
Our hands are presented
With the challenge of life at its fullest
The results of tomorrow
Will soon be the efforts of yesterday
Realizing this
We look with high hopes and confidence

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the high ideals which keep the light shining from the blazing torch emblem of the National Honor Society. Juniors and seniors who displayed these qualities were inducted into the society in a candlelight ceremony held at the end of the first semester. Quarterly, the society recognized academic success by awarding ribbons of merit to the many students who attended a coke party given for them by the society. The hands which carried the torch of knowledge so that others could follow were always ready to uphold the high standards of the society, and to lend a helping hand to those who recognized the highest values in their hearts and minds. We would like to extend our thanks to our sponsor, Miss Smith.

SEVENTH GRADE

The newcomers "took a hand" and opened the doors of opportunity.

The boys and girls of Mannheim's seventh grade, who make up one-fourth of the total student body of the school, have been enthusiastic supporters of all school activities.

The best of them shall have their hands full.

These students are cheerful and show great potential which will aid them when they inherit the traditions and achievements past students have left behind.

Sponsored by the PTA, the Winter Ball was attended and enjoyed by members of every class.

By electing officers the preceding year our GERMAN-AMERICAN CLUB got off to a roaring start with the first dance of the school year. Working with our German friends and our sponsor, Mr. Rhodes, we learned more of each other's customs and ideas, which in turn led us to a fuller understanding of the German way of life. Picnics, dances, discussions, and finding new friends made the club one of the school's most popular activities.

Some reach hands across the sea; we have feet on foreign ground.

The staff of the 1959-1960 BISON BY-LINE and its sponsor, Mr. Evans, worked to provide a medium of journalistic and literary expression for the students of Mannheim. Energetically, the staff planned to give the student body nine issues of an interesting and informative paper, the last being dedicated to the seniors.

With the purpose of bringing joy to the underpriviledged well in mind, the JUNIOR RED CROSS CLUB made rag dolls and collected toys which were put into gift boxes and sent to the Mannheim Orphanage in time for Christmas. Ambitions of the club members turned into feelings of warm satisfaction as they saw their toys and Christmas party make some children very happy. Many thanks to our sponsor, Mr. Sanders.

The CHESS CLUB, organized under the supervision of Mr. Nieno, increased our understanding of the theory of chess. It provided us with good competition and fellowship. During the year, we had play-offs which challenged a player's standing each time he played. The year terminated with a series of tense and exciting tournaments.

Asmembers of the ART SERVICE CLUB, we answered requests for art submitted to Miss Ragovin, our sponsor. We beautified the appearance of the school, and made posters and signs which added greatly to school spirit. It was difficult but we did it!! This year Mannheim had three bands, ADVANCED BAND, DANCE BAND, and PREPARATORY BAND. Mr. West, our conductor, sponsor, and friend, formed these groups from enthusiastic but for the most part inexperienced musicians.

The dance band played popular music for enjoyment, self-improvement, and contributed to assemblies throughout the year. Beginners entered the preparatory band until they qualified for the advanced band, our booster of school spirit at assemblies and games. Late in the year, the bands' efforts were primarily concentrated on playing concert music and music for the All-European Band Festival.

Our DRAMA CLUB based its ideas around one important goal, the ability for each of us to develop self-confidence before an audience. This was accomplished through monologues, plays, and pantomimes which were performed for various school assemblies, and by delivering these programs before the club for criticisms. In the latter part of the year we presented a three-act play. With the help of Miss Craig, the members of our club felt as if they achieved much in developing the acting talent of Mannheim students.

Mr. Feare, Advisor; Bill Dunn, Roth Sittnick, President; Kent Mathis

Learning formal debating techniques - the ability to reason, investigate, summarize material, and then to express ourselves well - constituted the greater part of the program of our FORENSICS CLUB, Our skills were demonstrated in actual debates and were evaluated by interested and experienced observers. With the help of our sponsor, Mr. Feare, our year was most profitable.

The more it changes, the more it's the same thing . . . and after countless changes the yearbook finally went to press!

We, the staff of Mannheim's section of Erinnerungen 1960, planned ahead for our book by meeting in the summer to choose a staff and begin developing our theme. As the year progressed, so did our section. We became artists, writers, photographers, clowns in an assembly program, and sales promoters, all rolled into one hard-working staff. With the help of our wonderful advisor, Mr. Bates, we developed our talents as well as our ideas and created the Mannheim section of this yearbook.

TAKING ALL THINGS INTL CONSIDERATION, IT'S COMING ALONG O.K. !

School spirit served as the core around which the PEP CLUB was organized. With Miss Dutton's help, we sponsored bake sales, poll taxes and pompon sales which helped buy uniforms for our cheerleaders. Skits, pep assemblies, publicity for school functions and half-time activity at games were handled by the club.

During the year the GIRL'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION sponsored the idea of athletic competition in women's sports. We all participated in numerous games after school, such as field hockey, volley ball, soccer, and basketball. Guided by our sponsors, Miss Dutton and Miss Rader, we profited by group enjoyment of athletic achievement.

Touchdown for M. H. S.!

The victorious Bisons, sparked by the scoring of Bob White and John Bradley, romped over Nuernberg but were stopped by Stuttgart. They managed to defeat all other opposition and looked forward to avenging their only loss.

To the ever-whirling wheel of change

Which spins with a motion scarcely perceived

Continually through the annals of time;

To the hope that mankind will learn

Nothing is permanent except change

And because of it men become wise;

To the realization that we do not succeed

In changing things to our desire,

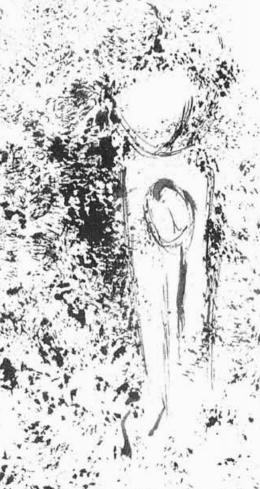

But gradually our desires change

Just as nature loves so well to change

All existing forms — so our hands

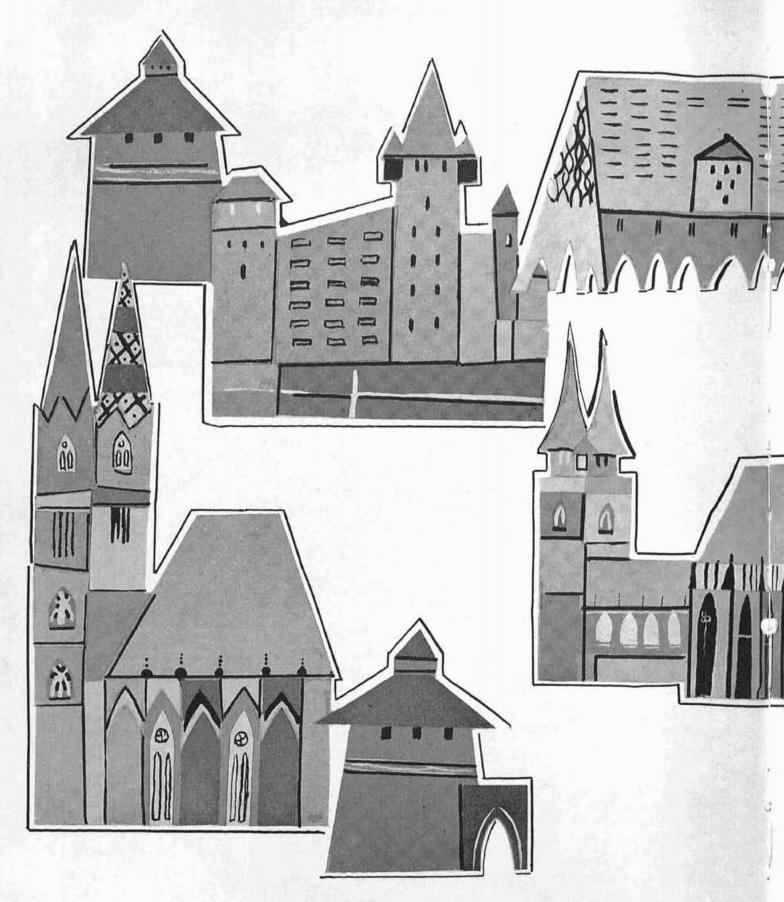

Have made the changes of our lives.

ADMINISTRATION

The ADMINISTRATION of Nürnberg High has made this year a pleasant and profitable one. They have given us a feeling of success. This we've gained from all our school experiences, from classroom sessions, from extra-curricular activities, from school social affairs. We have learned to understand our responsibilities and plan our future. With the help of our able administrators we have been inspired to perform at our best. As the school year ends, we feel deeply grateful for their untiring efforts.

FACULTY

NURNBERG has been the stage for the four acts of our high school drama. The scene-designers of our city's glorious past who set its stage, such as Albrecht Dürer and Hans Sachs, are immortal in history's pages. But perhaps more memorable to us are the stage designers of our great day, our faculty. They have given us worthy guidance, and have fulfilled their obligations with ability and a dedicated spirit. For their helpfulness and devotion, the Senior Class of 1960 would like to thank our principal and teachers.

CLASS OF 1960

This year we were faced with a unique challenge — finding a worthwhile use for the money collected last year. Several ideas advanced as worthy purposes for the money were a senior banquet, a gift to the school and a scholarship for a deserving senior.

In June when we don our caps and gowns, it will be with a feeling of nostalgia for our Alma Mater. We have enjoyed "our new life in an old world". We would like to say a fond farewell to N. H. S. and wish the best of luck to the Class of '61.

With Joe Gazzo, Rick Sutor, Nancy McLane, and Judy Harry guiding activities, we juniors were busy in the fall months with selling refreshments and programs at the football games and then sponsoring the Powder Puff Game. Early November produced the Sadie Hawkins Dance, but immediately after this affair we plunged into the selling of raffle tickets until the big drawing in mid-December. It was exciting to order class rings in January - and how proud we were that many of us were taken into the National Honor Society in February to add to our list of school honors. During the bustling spring months we made plans for a festive Junior-Senior Prom, and any available moment was used in preparing for this memorable climax to a most successful year.

We Sophomores of Nürnberg High entered our second high school year, hoping to strengthen our foundation in life, and become good citizens in school as well as in the world in future years. Working towards these goals, we chose Jack Neville to lead us in 59-60. Gisela Williams was elected vice-president, and Judy McLane and Toni Miller secretary and treasurer. In addition, Jim McKnight, Paul Harper, and Marie Ertl represented us on the NHS Student Council.

CLASS OF 1962

The class was outstanding in athletic competition, and many of us held important activity positions. Our dance, which was held in February, was one of the great events of the year.

Long after we have graduated, our sophomore year at Nürnberg High will remain with us as a cherished memory.

CLASS OF 1963

Though as Freshmen we entered the halls of NHS green and bewildered, we soon fell into line and became an integral part of our school. The class was led by president Ken Kish, vice-president Susan Worley, Jane Dyer, secretary and Julie Dozier, treasurer. We were represented in athletics by Carvin Guthrie, Joe Hebert, Ken Kish, and David Myers. Susan Worley and Susan Lakich were selected as cheerleaders.

The Christmas play was represented by two members of our class, Jim O'Connor and Lanny Eyre, who stole the show.

Now, with our first year behind us and a firm footing in high school, we move ahead to future leadership in our school.

EIGHTH GRADE

The most important thought in every eighth grader's mind this year was graduation: the passing from grade school to high. The class has been busy all year raising money for their graduation ceremonies by conducting cake and candy sales, as well as raffles.

This was the first year that the eighth-graders organized as a class and elected class officers. This marked a big event in eighth grade history. David Celani was chosen president with Gregg Sutor as vice-president, Nereida Colon as secretary, and John Odom as treasurer.

Good luck to all the eighth graders next year and may they enjoy high school as much as they have enjoyed grade school.

This is the class of 1965. As our largest class, the seventh grade has a membership of approximately 150 students. We are hopeful that most of these students will enter high school in 1962. Sparking its social program, the class held a jolly Christmas dance in December. The seventh grade has also been active in the junior high clubs.

In an endeavor to maintain the honor of NHS, we feel we have made several worthy achievements this year. With the idea of service as our goal, we began the year by forming five cohesive committees through which we could better serve the student body. Through the co-operation of these committees, Building and Grounds, Assemblies, Activities, Public Relations, Executive, and the fine supervision of Mr. Spurlock, our advisor, we started the year with as series of assemblies, a Home Coming Week, and the promotion of school spirit.

Mid-year ushered in such new ideas as a school store, a film on student life at Nürnberg, and a Student Council Newsletter. Further innovations, the election of a Student of the Week, and a Student Council bulletin board, helped to create a Council that functioned smoothly and democratically.

The above members of the National Honor Society are elected by the faculty on four basic qualifications: leadership, scholarship, character, and service.

The newly organized Junior High School Student Council has certainly had a busy first year. Its main achievements have been the adoption of a constitution and these popular social activities, a Christmas party and a colorful Valentine dance.

Dennis Morgan was the first Junior Council president, Mark Arn the vice-president, Judy Lovensheimer the secretary, and Gloria Gonzales the treasurer. The basic purpose of the Council, to aid the student in the elementary school in adjusting himself to high school, has certainly been achieved this year.

ANNUAL STAFF

With the choosing of our theme "Our New Life in an Old World," the staff was quickly stimulated into work that would make this year's ERINNERUNGEN the best annual Nürnberg has ever had. As our page allotment was considerably less than desired, we staged a furious subscription campaign and doubled last year's sales. At last the final copy, layouts, and pictures were completed and approved at the February conference.

The staff of Nürnberg ERINNERUNGEN sincerely hopes "Our New Life in an Old World," provides you a lasting memory of 1959-60.

The 1959-60 Trichter staff was composed of Mr. Robert McQuitty's journalism class and the newspaper activity group. Twelve issues were published, which is the largest annual production in the Trichter history. This year many new feature columns, as well as illustrations and cartoons, were added. Special issues came out at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

GERMAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS CLUB

The German-American Relations Club, sponsored by Mrs. Gutschmidt and Mr. Räke, has been very active throughout the past school year. Some of the major activities included the traditional Christmas ball, for which the sale of tickets had to be limited because of the large crowd; the student exchange program, which has brought many German students to visit our school; a Lenten charity drive; and a springtime dance.

This club, which was founded to increase friendly German and American student relationships, has certainly achieved its purpose this year.

Nürnberg opened the season with a 12-0 victory over Mannheim. Sophomore fullback Jack Neville bulled across for both touchdowns, and right halfback Curtis Tullie galloped 55 yards for a third, which was nullified by a penalty. Tullie, guard Cloyd Jacobs, center Tom Crawford and end Bill Ryan were outstanding on a defense that held Mannheim scoreless. Tackles Russell Hasis and Henry Babb starred on offense and Rick Sutor made an impressive debut at quarterback.

Neville and Tullie again bore the brunt of the Eagle attack at Augsburg, where Nürnberg pounded out a 19-0 win. Neville scored twice and Tullie streaked 65 yards through the Apache defense for a third. Henry Babb kicked an extra point, while Tom Crawford and Bill Ryan took the Eagle defense.

Numberg continued domination of the Conference with a 27-7 romp over Baumbolder. Tullie shot through the Buccaneer defense for touchdowns of 25 and 75 yards, and Neville kept his streak going by bucking over for another. End Bill Ryan pulled in a pass and went 70 yards to score his first touchdown of '59. Henry Babb kicked 4 extra points, but his fourth and record-breaking one was nullified by a penalty. Ronnie Elmore, Tom Crawford and Cloyd Jacobs consistently threw the Bucs for losses. Baumholder's lone score came in the final period.

Colonel Chandler, Tom Crawford, and Bill Ryan present the Nürnberg-Augsburg Friendship Trophy, awarded to the loser of this year's game: Augsburg.

Nürnberg lost its only game of the season at the hands of the Würzburg Wolves. Nürnberg's spread offense steamed up the field to push across Neville for the Eagle touchdown. Babb converted, but Würzburg came back to score. Bob Covington's extra point attempt was smothered by the Nürnberg line. Just before the half, the Wolves were able to score a safety, good for the one point victory margin. The remainder of the game was a hard-fought defensive battle with Tom Crawford and Curtis Tullie leading the way for the Bavarian Eagles, backed up by line-crashing Ronnie Elmore and Russell Hasis. Outstanding on offense were Henry Babb, Bill Ryan, Joe Tomblin, Tom Turnmire, and Loch Johnson.

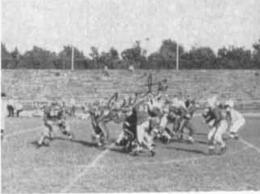

Nürnberg bounced back with a resounding 30-7 rout of Heidelberg. Neville scored again for his fifth consecutive game. His place was filled during most of the game by star center Tom Crawford, who hit the scoring column with a 9 yard spurt through the middle of the line, Bill Ryan scored on a pass play, and Curtis Tullie hauled in another for a TD. Henry Babb kicked three extra points and a 27 yard field goal. Russell Hasis and Clovd Jacobs headed an outstanding Nürnberg defense, while Tom Turnmire's three touchdown passes sparked the offense. Just before the gun sounded, a Heidelberg back went over for a touchThe Eagles closed out the season with a 19-13 victory over highly favored Munich. Halfback Gil Frisbie intercepted a pass and returned it for a touchdown; Tullie scored another, and Loch Johnson, whose running kept the Nürnberg offense going, made a third. Babb's extra point completed the Nürnberg scoring, Bill Ryan, Ronnie Elmore, Tom Crawford, and Cloyd Jacobs led the Nürnberg defense, and Hasis' crashing blocks cleared the way for Johnson's powerful slashes through the Mustang defense. Neville's scoring record was spoiled when his touchdown was called back.

The Eagles got unexpected help when Mannheim beat Würzburg 26-6 to deadlock the conference between Nürnberg and the Wolves. The Eagles showed vast improvement through the year.

Much credit goes to Coach Campbell, who brought Nürnberg from the depths of a season without a win to Conference Co-Champions in two years, and to the team and Coach Davis. Co-Captain Tom Crawford was selected "Most Valuable", and Seniors Bill Ryan and Curtis Tullie and Juniors Ronnie Elmore and Henry Babb made the ALL-USAREUR team.

BASKETBALL

With the season only half-finished at the Erinnerungen deadline, the Nürnberg Eagles stood in fourth place in the tough, 8-team Southern Conference.

Nürnberg's first two games were split between Mannheim and Karlsruhe on the road, Rick Sutor and Curtis Tullie were high scorers, each getting 14 in the respective games as Nürnberg lost to Mannheim, 46-34, and beat Karlsruhe 44-42.

After the holidays, the Eagles traveled to Würzburg where Sutor's 10 led the path to a 34-33 victory.

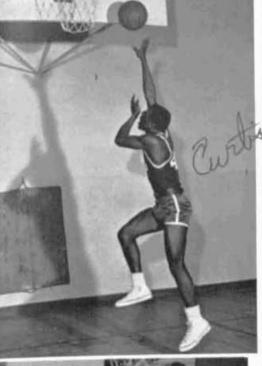

Mannheim came to town next, and took a close 39-38 edge, but the Eagles avenged themselves the next day, by way of a 51-39 rout of Karlsruhe with Mike Coppock's 20 points setting the pace.

Augsburg fell next, 49-37, and Sutor and Coppock divided 26 points for scoring honors. The next day, though, the Eagles just couldn't click, falling before Munich, 71-37.

Forward, Sutor; center, Coppock; and guard, Tullie all stood high in conference. Forwards, Joe Tomblin and Dave Williams, also contributed heavily to Nürnberg's successful season, along with guards Jack Neville and Dave Worland.

Backing up strongly were Rick Lamison, Alex Panhans, George Kimball and Walter Jones.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS

The 1959-60 Dorm Council is made up of Lyle Waddell, Terry Palmer, Dino Lucas, Preudent, Dave Harvey, Fred Farrish, Sue Fraser, Georgia Bilharz, Secretary-Treasurer, and Marry Michell, Vice-President Under Dino and Marry the council has strived to make the dorm as friendly and comfortable as possible.

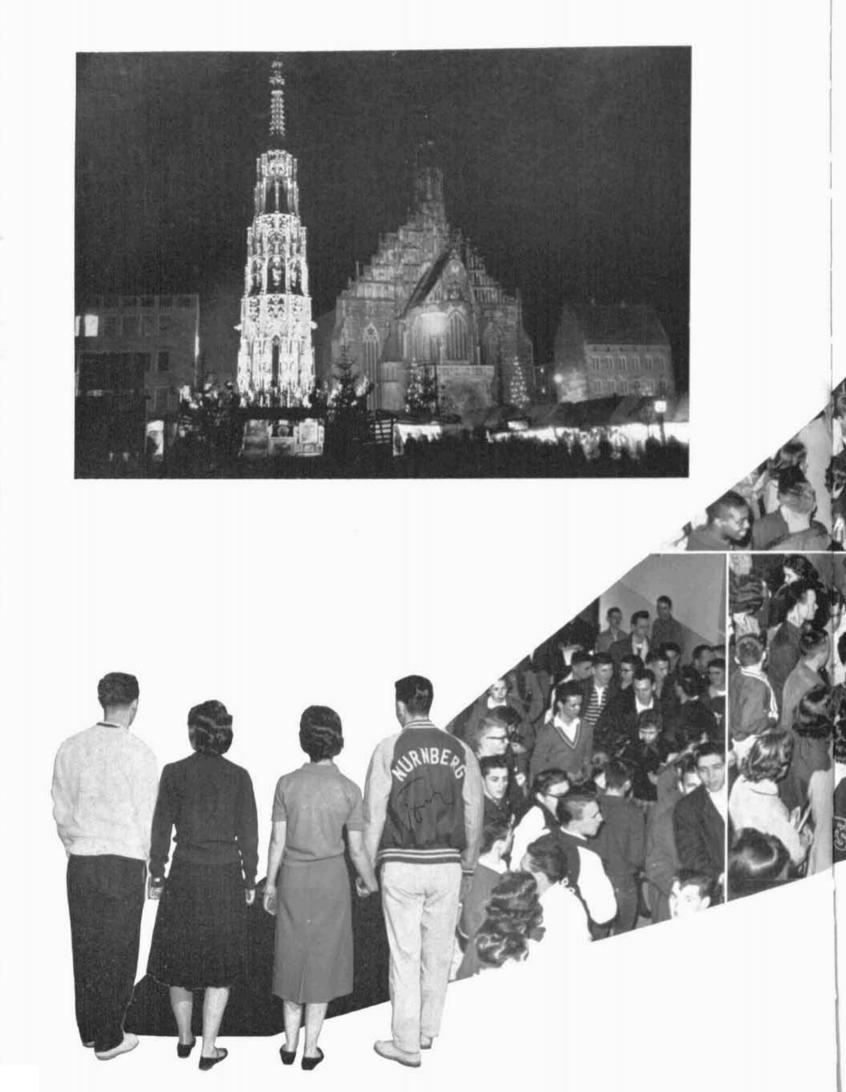

Hard at work are Dave Harvey, Don Hanes, Buddy Goins, Sue Fraser, Claudia Mack, Ann Weems, and Elva Harms.

THE DORM

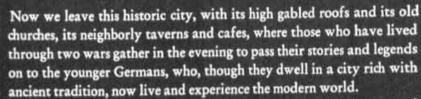

Activities in the and parties hadorm council, in Tschirhart, Mishave done must

Old friends and new faces greeted us on our return to the dorm this year when we all had to accustom ourselves to a lifemarked by ringing bells, signing in and out and, of course, suffering the inevitable restrictions. Our dorm students this year come from Amberg, Bamberg, Bindlach, Crailsheim, Grafenwöhr, Hof, Hohenfels, Illesheim, Schwäbisch Hall, and Vilseck.

Activities in the dorm such as ping pong, dancing, sports and parties have been enjoyed by all Dormites. Our dorm council, its officers and our dorm counselors, Miss Tschirhart, Miss Bonnet, Mr. Coffman and Mr. Cornell, have done much to contribute to our enjoyment of the dorm.

A STUDENT'S NÜRNBERG

We have seen the thriving business buildings, the mail-order houses, and the department stores. We've admired the quaint old-style Bavarian houses that now give way to multi-colored modern houses. We've been impressed by great fields and new restaurants.

Longest in our memory will remain the little piece of America that was set down in a great German city, not much more than a gathering of box-like apartment houses, all identical to each other, much as they must have appeared on the graph paper of the plans. In the midst of this stands our school, with its dormitories and gymnasium. Here we, the youth of America, residing in this land because of the need to defend a free world, have advanced our education and have done our small part to make the spirit of democratic living a reality.

SENIOR CLASS

Memories crowd thick and fast now, as we stand at the end for our high school days, some a little sad, most of them wonderful, but all of them important in making us what we are.

Very few of us can look back upon our freshman year at Stuttgart, but we do remember with pride the sophomore class we had, when most of us were new and learning together. Our wonderful class spirit began even then, and has been ours, as a class, ever since. With the same enthusiasm we showed at our terrific sophomore picnic, we returned as juniors and started working on the Prom. We worked and worked and soon had quite a reputation for money-raising. As part of it, we put on Stuttgart's first Bermuda Day, with a dance, which is on its way to becoming a tradition. Our Prom exceeded even our own expectations, and we spent the summer well-satisfied with ourselves, knowing we would make good as seniors.

JEFFERY PETER TASSANI Vice-President 4 Class Treasurer 3 Debate Club 2 Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4 Bridge Club 3

It did not take us long to prove to everyone that we not only make good as seniors, but also make good as the real leaders in our school. By the time school was three months old, we had quite a number of "firsts" to our credit. We sponsored a most successful back-to-school mixer the first week of school, and shortly after that we elected those who would lead our class during the coming school year. Chosen were Ernie Bretana, who served as our treasurer, Hope Stephens, secretary, Jeff Tassani, vice-president, and Grace Saefke, president. Then came the time to draw up our senior privileges, and they included another "first" — a senior lounge. How proudly we showed our red and white privilege cards, which advertised to all our important position.

Members of our class were active in nearly all other school activities, too. Vic Mote, Ron Odom, Nancy Miller and Joe Rice headed our Student Council, and we had fourteen boys playing varsity football and basketball. Bonnie Herzig was a varsity cheerleader, and Joe Rice and Chris Shaeffer edited our school paper with Kitty Price, Toni Herring and Nancy Miller heading the annual staff. Don Dean and Grace Saefke were chosen to compete for the National Merit Scholarship finals. Nearly every club and organization could boast of at least one senior among its members. We had our share of royalty, too, for Kay Wilson and Jackie Perry were Homecoming princesses, and Hope Stephens and Sandy Patterson reigned over the Christmas Formal. In November we held our most successful class play, Our Town. By holding it before Thanksgiving, we broke a long-established tradition of having a senior play in the spring, but the new time proved even better than the old.

Of course, no class can operate effectively without some help, and we are indebted to four very wonderful sponsors for ours. Our thanks go to

Mr. Nichols, Mr. Rogers, Mr. Reichler, and Mr. Feeler for their guidance throughout the year. Yes, our memories are warm ones, and it is a little sadly, and with full hearts, that we close the door on these past four years and look ahead to the brighter one which has been opened before us.

"Music came into the world to give us pleasure --;" these famous lines were uttered by Marvin Jones who played the town drunk in the Senior Class Play.

JUNIOR CLASS

The class, under the leadership of President Bruce Jones, Vice-President Johnny Swearingen, Secretary Peggy Shine and Treasurer Kathy Jannusch, began raising money for the Junior-Senior Prom. Our Prom Chairman was Ronni Raty, and under her direction the class put on the big activity of the year. Selling P. T. A. raffle tickets was one of the ways we earned the necessary money, and the proceeds from Bermuda Day and the concession stand swelled our treasury.

We had royalty in our class too, Debbie Chamberlin, Homecoming Queen, and two of her princesses, Kathy Jannusch and Ronni Raty, came from our class, as did a Christmas Formal Princess Peggy Shine.

We were active in many other organizations; Debbie Chamberlin, Peggy Shine, and Pat Fortier were Varsity Cheerleaders. The peppy junior majorettes, under the direction of Marianna Michener, were Betty Smith, Charla Calmes, Rae Cook, and Diane Matheny.

On the basketball court, Andy Woods and Wayne Sullivan were among the first five, backed up by Bob Ahrenholz, Woodrow Nelson, and Johnny Swearingen. Mike Hoover, Buddy Hilsabeck, Roger Melton, and Bill Matthews represented us on the Junior Varsity squad.

At the close of a wonderful year, we find ourselves with still another set of memories to cherish and the exciting promise of being MIGHTY Seniors.

THE RISING SOPHOMORES

Humor- determination- zeal- these are qualities which were characteristic of our class- the freshman class of 1959. In appearance we haven't changed a great deal, as a whole as sophomores we are very similar in appearance and number to our freshman predecessors.

We faced our year as sophomores with the same vigor and enthusiasm of our freshmen days but with a year of maturing and learning which separated us from the class which preceded us. We were introduced to the student body with a very colorful class election, highlighted by the many campaign posters and fiery speeches. It was a political contest of great worth. We elected for the year:

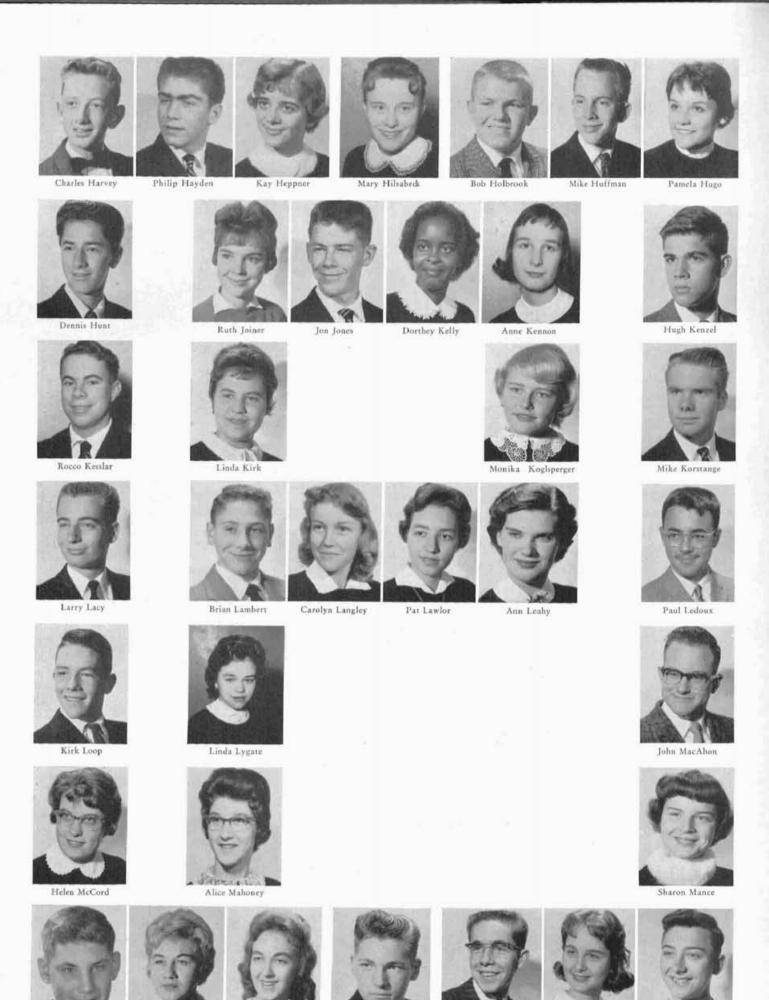

John Redmond — President Anne Meguiar — Vice-President Sharon Mote — Secretary Nivia Fraticelli — Treasurer

After organizing into committees we proposed to have a basketball dance, a spring semi-formal dance, and, outside of school, a class trip. We produced a class constitution which is an innovation at this school. Sophomores again having the largest class in the school, were well represented in almost every school activity. It was with great pride that we watched many sophomores excel in all of the sports offered at the school.

With renewed determination we shall face the year looming ahead on the horizon. In years ahead our sophomores experience in high school will become only a vague memory, but the intellectual and social impression upon our minds will never fade. We now look to the future with the knowledge of our past year to guide us.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Another year, another freshman class, not knowing just what to expect of high school life, but understanding that all of us must try a little harder this year. We have accepted this new experience happily, and with the realization that we are on our own now.

Our class is the smallest class in the school this year. Since there was not enough room in the high school for all of us, many of our fellow freshmen are attending junior high schools in Robinson Barracks or Heilbronn. Only the freshmen living here in Pattonville, Göppingen or Schwäbisch Gmünd were fortunate enough to be able to attend the high school.

Our president, Mike Day, is the "smart little tugboat" that has kept the freshman ship running along smoothly with the events at Stuttgart High this past year. As his crew we elected Judy Bretana, Paula Jones, and Carl Traeger, as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. Under their leadership we have made this year one of the best possible.

As they say in Germany, our class is "Klein aber Fein".

FOOTBALL 1959

The combination of lack of experience and balance is enough to hinder any football team and the case of the Stuttgart Stallions is no exception. However, an abundance of team spirit provided the spark that the Stallions needed, and these were the factors which were the cause of Stuttgart's split season: three wins and three losses. Leading the team in triumph and tragedy were co-captains John Swearingen and Vic Mote.

There were nine senior boys working out for the last time on high school soil: Vic Mote, Teddy Tunnel, Al Johnson, Steve Cantrall, John Allen, Jay Coles, Ray Chapman and Barrie Zais. They practiced hard and took a great part in this, their last season with the team.

Three boys who were not in uniform, but were always on hand to make things click. ... Ernie Bretana and Mike Korstange, Managers; and Jerry Tanno, our Statistician.

The fine passing of Vic Mote and the speed and quick hands of ends Andy Woods and Barrie Zais, fast running halfbacks Teddy Tunnel and Ron Williams, plus the big hard hitting fullback Al Johnson, led the Stallions to many of their yard gains and touchdowns. The tremendous holes made by tackles Roger Wein and Pete Moore enabled the backs to go for many of their gains, and jarring downfield blocks by Ron Odom, John Swearingen and center Dave Hanley, enabled the boys to go even further.

Five boys who came in on defense and saw a good part of the action were Bruce Jones, Mac McKinsey, Steve Cantrall, Bob Ahrenholz and Jim Vaughn.

Vic Mote and Andy Woods were named to this years ALL USAREUR Team.

Finishing third in the Class A League this year the Stallions have a bright season ahead of them next year with sixteen returning letterman. Coach Jack Larkin, through the co-operation of the team and coaching staff, hopes to improve the record during the 1960-61 season.

The Stallions stacked up the finest season in the recent history of SHS. Under the leadership of Coach Larkin, the team racked up an eleven and one record by literally trouncing its opponents.

son of high school ball, there were three among the regular starters. The opening tip off often found Andy Woods jumping center with Tom Truax, Barrie Zais, Lamar Surls, and Wayne

Sullivan around the circle.

The Stallions offered a sharpshooting offense with a high percentage coupled with a stingy defense which proved to be the best in the league. One of the brightest features of the team was their rebounding ability even though the team only averaged six feet in height. Andy Woods led with greatest number of rebounds followed closely by Sullivan, Zais and Truax. Lamar Surls and Bernie Gullickson proved to be two excellent ball handling guards who also caused a lot of confusion among the opponents who, in turn, would lose possession of the ball. This season was indeed a great year for Stuttgart High, one that will

MUSIC

For the first time in its history, Stuttgart's music department has had three sections. The new addition came in the form of a string orchestra, the first in USAREUR.

Both the orchestra and the chorus were directed by Mr. Robert Rue; they carried out a most successful year of musical presentations. Members in the orchestra ranged from those with no previous experience to those who had been playing for several years. The group performed first at the Christmas concert in December, and they finished the year by playing for the SPRING FESTIVAL. The chorus included in its program a wide selection of various types of music, including the music to some Broadway shows.

Stuttgart's wonderful concert band, under the baton of Mr. Donald Paul for the third year, distinguished itself at every one of its concerts and programs. Everything from folk music to symphonic works came in for a share of the group's work, and many of the members joined forces for a marching band, which played for three home football games and the local Fasching parade.

This year's annual staff consisted of eighteen members from the junior and senior classes. The entire staff worked diligently to meet constant deadlines and bore many trials and tribulations. Now that the job is completed, however, the hard work has been proven most worthwhile.

We'll remember always the moments of joy, strife, and triumph as we come to the close of another year. Some of us leave our alma mater with sorrow and some with great anticipation of years ahead at Stuttgart High School. Memories of Stuttgart are ours forever. The cool, crisp autumn air, the crackling football bonfire, homecoming, the dances, the excitement of the crowd at the first basketball game, Christmas carols ringing in the halls, the long hours of practice for plays and concerts, exams, the prom and finally graduation; the happy hours with our friends are cherished moments we'll remember always.

CREATIVE OPPORTUNITIES

This section of four pages is an experiment. For the first time in any volume of the ERINNERUNGEN a place has been set aside for student writings and art work. Pieces of student work that have been sent into the office of the Art and Crafts Specialist, Yearbook Coordinator, (who has made the selection of the efforts that appear here) may well provide an opening into the possibility of individual school efforts toward the publication of similar works within their own school. At the same time, these pages may well serve as the autograph pages for the 1960 ERINNERUNGEN.

THE CHALLENGE

Across the realms of moving time, Though many barriers marred the way, Men have fought and men have won, And what they did remains today.

Inventors sparked true days of hope. Their strange ideas were brought to life Though few found wealth or even gain, Today we're free from toil and strife.

In their great footsteps now we walk, We read again the deeds they've done, We try our best not to forget The progress that each conquest won.

It's up to you, you are the one—
With strong, set mind you will begin
To face the world and play your part—
Yours is the goal to lose or win.

Bernard Lee

THE CHALLENGE was written by Bernard Lee, 14 years, grade 9, student of Mrs. Laikind in the Nürnberg American High School. The ink drawing is the work of Marge Hayes, age 12, grade 7, student of Mr. Ed Johnson in the Paris American High School.

MACBETH IN VERSE

Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow I see the endless sight Days so steeped in sorrow Nights without respite

The dusty roads before us Obscure our feeble view As we struggle through the morass Of a life we never knew

Out! Out! Thou flickering phantom Thou ill-deceiving flame You toll our war-smeared anthem As treason romps again

Our lives are blackened shadows Paupers of what could be Omened at birth by coal crows Daggered by foul treachery

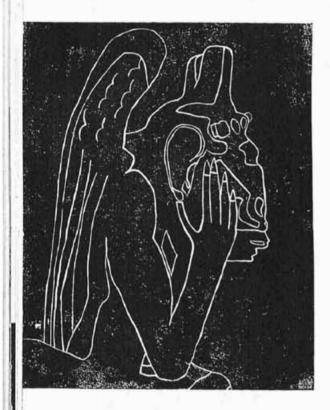

The Weird Ones gaily control Their hold on life's tragic play We gnash out our low, loathsome role Like creatures of muse and of clay

Words are so two-tongued in meaning Blank are their tales, yet so fair Out of this mire we are gleaning Nothing but bleak, black despair

To this golden crown shall I cling
It's mine thought tis sprinkled with blood
My death bells so gladly they'd ring
And drag my poor soul to the mud

I'll never exhalt in celestial day
But I'll torment them all till my death
When Lucifer's gravel-lined voice shall say
"Come with me my dear Macbeth."

Mary Sandra Campagna

MACBETH IN VERSE was written by Mary Sandra Campagna, 17 years, grade 12, student of Miss Fowlkes in the Heidelberg American High School. The block print was completed by Robert Troup, age 17, grade 11, student of Mr. Ed Johnson, Paris American High School.

Sobbi / Sos

Dare I ask of such a great
Writer as Shakespeare;
Where is Fleance?
Dost he live in another life,
Or did he too flee as the sons of Duncan? Can he be in
The line of Kings, or just a
Person needed by the witches
To torment Macbeth into killing?
Did his heart break
For his Fathers Death, or did
He flee in the sight of danger?
Can we judge; would we avenge or
Swallow in Our Fathers death?

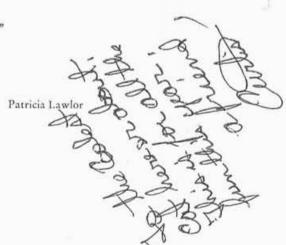

Florence Ann Catino

The writing on this page was created by Florence Ann Catino, age 16, grade 12, student of Miss Fowlkes in the Heidelberg American High School. The two block prints were completed by Peggy Neal, age 18, grade 12, student of Mr. Jerry Lyon in the Frankfurt American High School.

AMBER SEA

They floated, bubbles On an amber sea -Clinging, tossed high Never free. The first one spoke: "I dreamt of gold, Adventure bold and kingdoms Rich and old." The bubble broke ... The second spoke: "Romance was mine And beauty, fine Of song and line." Then he, too, burst ... "Mine was a thirst", The third one said, "On science dead And new I fed, My wine was wisdom And knowledge my bread." Then he was gone. The amber sea flowed on.

AMBER SEA was written by Patricia Lawlor, age 15, grade 10, student of Mr. Mc Clintock in the Stuttgart American High School. The pen and ink sketch was completed by Berndt Brown, age 18, grade 11, student of Mr. Nevilier in the Kaisers-lautern American High School.
