

Teaching Goals

My goal is to create leaders of the future in the fields of applied science and technology. I would like to emulate the traditions fostered by our department when it was top rated in the sixties, emphasizing the basic scientific foundation of physical sciences and mathematics and exploring possible enhancements by employing modern computing tools. In my graduate level courses, I strive to encourage original thinking in the spirit of our identity as a research university.

—Gautam Dasgupta