THE DEPARTMENT OF GERMANIC LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES PRESENTS:

‘Modernity at Large’
AND ITS IMAGINARIES IN GERMANY AND BEYOND

10th annual Columbia University German Graduate Student Conference
March 4 & 5, 2011
Columbia University Deutsches Haus
420 West 116th Street

Conference Schedule:

Friday, March 4
2.30pm Welcome, registration, opening remarks
3pm Panel I: Voyages of German Modernity
5pm Coffee break
5.30pm Panel II: Cities, Contested Spaces, and Modernization
7.30pm Dinner

Saturday, March 5
9.30am Breakfast
10am Keynote lecture: ‘Portals of Modernity’
Stathis Gourgouris (Columbia)
11.30am Coffee break
11.45am Panel III: Rural Spaces, Gender, and the Nation
1.15pm Lunch
2.30pm Panel IV: Facets of Germany’s Socialist Modernity
4.30pm Coffee break
5pm Panel V: Race, Colonialism, and German Modernity
7pm Closing remarks
Dinner and reception to follow

For full program details, please visit:
www.columbia.edu/cu/german/modernity/

Credits:
Conference organizers: Sophie Alexander
Christopher Schaub
Yvonne Zivkovic
Poster & web design: Kari Driscoll
Image: Jeroen Diepenmaat, Pour des dents d’un blanc éclatant et saines (2005)

This conference has been made possible through the generous support of the Columbia University Graduate Student Advisory Council (GSAC), the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), the Institute for Comparative Literature and Society (ICLS), the Institute for Research on Women & Gender (IRWAG), and the Columbia University Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures.