

GENOCIDE DENIAL

in NORTH AMERICAN
POPULAR CULTURE

A Yale-NYU-Columbia Teach-In and Off-Site Event for the United Nations World Conference on Indigenous Peoples

Monday September 22

6:00-8:00pm (6:00 Reception 6:45 Welcome/Program)

NYU CAMPUS, King Juan Carlos Center Theater, First Floor, 53 Washington Square South

Introduction Tiffany Hale (Yale Group for the Study of Native America)

Panel Moderator Aura Bogado (News Editor, Colorlines)

Ned Blackhawk (Yale University) "Genocide Denial in North America: Extending the UN Convention on the Prevention of Genocide to U.S. History and Popular Culture"

Audra Simpson (Columbia University) "The Disappeared Corporealities of Native Women: Femicide in Canadian Law and Policy"

Ellen Gabriel (Kanehsatà:ke Mohawk activist and former President of Québec Native Women's Association) "The Crown is Against Us: the so-called 'Phenomenon' of Murdered and Missing Indigenous Women and Girls in Canada"

Andrew Needham (NYU) "The Hidden History of American Carbon and Indigenous Environmental Degradation"

OPEN MIC Moderated by Jorge Cuéllar (News Editor, SalvaCultura.com)

With Generous Support from the Columbia Center for the Study of Ethnicity and Race, Columbia MA Program in Climate and Society, Barnard College Department of Anthropology, NYU Department of History, NYU Native People's Forum, Yale Group for the Study of Native America, the Yale Program in Ethnicity, Race, and Migration, and the Yale Native American Cultural Center.